THE QUESTION
Is, Where can we get the most for our money? If you mean merchandise we answer, of the advertisers in this paper. If you mean publicity, try an ad in the column of THE TRIBUNE.

The Genoa Tribune.

A GOOD SIGN
Is the neatly printed stationery of a business man. It denotes careful, intelligent business methods, impresses your correspondents favorably and satisfies yourself. We make it.

Circulated Throughout the Towns of Genoa, Venice, Ledyard, Scipio and Lansing, and Devoted to the Best Interests of the People of These Vicinities.

VOL. XIII. No. 17. GENOA, N. Y., FRIDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 18, 1903. C. A. AMES.

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE

Letter from Supervisor.

To the Editor of the Genoa Tribune:

DEAR SIR—I take this means of communicating to the people of the town of Genoa, that all the suits which have for so many years been pending against the town and against Mr. John L. King, its former railroad commissioner, arising out of the bonds issued to the N. Y. & Oswego Midland R. R., have at last been finally dismissed. A large proportion of the bonds have been surrendered for cancellation

The expenses incurred since November, 1901, in conducting and winding up the litigation have not yet been paid and the [illegible] meeting to be held on [illegible] called for the purpose of enabling the town board to liquidate and pay these expenses.

I believe that the fund referred to in the notice of the meeting will pay all of these expenses and that, therefore, no tax or charge will have to be levied upon our towns people.

Very truly yours,
FREDERICK A. DUDLEY,
King Ferry, N. Y. Supervisor.
Sept. 15, 1903.

Lake Ridge.

SEPT. 15—David King and Fred Brown of New York City were the guests of Casper Fenner last week.

Arthur Slocum and family of King Ferry were guests of W. L. Davis over Sunday.

Miss Emma Bains of New York is the guest of Mrs. W. S. Buchanan.

Apple buyers are plenty in this vicinity. One dollar per barrel is the general price offered.

Seaman & Cook of Ithaca were in this place last week looking at fruit.

School was opened last Tuesday with Miss Jessie Wooley of Ithaca as teacher. About fifteen scholars reported for work.

L. A. Hakes and family are in Syracuse attending the reunion of the Wesley family, of which Mrs. Hakes is a member.

M. A. Bush and family are spending a few days in Syracuse.

Mrs. Luther Bower is visiting friends in Auburn.

Charles Johnson and wife of Auburn were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Heartt last week.

A large number of people from this place attended the State fair at Syracuse last week Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. McMaster of Summerhill are guests at the home of C. F. Whitcomb.

Jerome Cook of Ithaca visited at this place over Sunday.

J. W. Mitchell of Bainbridge is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Mary Bradford.

The advertising wagon for the Genoa fair went flying through town Saturday. Everybody talks of going to the fair.

MARRIED.

SHAW—BRADLEY—At the home of the bride's parents in King Ferry, N. Y., on Wednesday, Sept. 9, 1903, by Rev. W. Chase Hyde, Charles E. Shaw and Mabel E. Bradley.

King Ferry.

SEPT. 16—Mrs. Samuel Bradley died at her home Sunday, Sept. 13. The funeral was held on Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Our school opened on Monday with Miss Maude Drake and Miss Antoinette Bradley as teachers.

Mrs. Horace Goodyear of Auburn spent a few days in this place the first of the week.

Mrs. Charles Halstead and daughter have returned to their home at Amenia, N. Y.

Mrs. C. W. Garey is visiting her daughter at Buffalo.

Mrs. Alfred Avery and daughter are visiting her parents at Old Forge, Pa.

Miss Sara Lester of Rochester is visiting friends in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. John Whitbeck entertained friends from Cayuga over Sunday.

Fred Weyant and wife and Mrs. Frank Holland attended the State fair last Thursday.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Shaw on Sept. 8, 1903, a son.

School commences in Dist. No. 3 on Sept. 28. Miss Katherine Detrick is teacher.

F. B Buchanan of Moravia was in town on Monday.

Deforest Davis and Danny Herron attended the Dryden fair.

Dr. Miller, the expert optician, will be at the Kendall House, Sept. 26th.

Ledyard.

SEPT. 14—Miss Anna Lisk is visiting friends in Farmer.

School commenced Monday with Miss Thorpe of Fleming as teacher.

Mrs. B. J. Brightman is spending some time in Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs W. J. Haines spent Sunday at his mother's.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bradt of Cortland and Miss Maude Drake of Lake Ridge visited at Frank Maine's last week.

Frank Riggs of Huron is visiting his grandfather here.

Mrs. DeRemer of Five Corners spent Sunday at H. M. Purdy's.

Miss Florence Wilbur has taken a school in Chemung county and will commence next week.

G. N. Coon is attending the Dryden fair.

Mrs. Swazee of Auburn is visiting her niece, Mrs. E. L. Cobb.

Morgan J. Wilbur won the free scholarship at the Ithaca Conservatory of Music. He is studying violin music.

Rev. J. F. Beebee was in Auburn over Sunday. Rev. Sanford occupied the pulpit in his absence.

Venice Center.

SEPT. 14—The State fair was well attended from this vicinity.

Rev. B. A. Partridge, a former pastor in this place, but for the past few years a resident of Wolcott, Wayne Co., is spending some time with old friends in this place and vicinity.

H. H. Barber, wife and son Luman were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Beardsley.

Messrs. P. V. and A. W. Whitbeck of Savannah were calling on friends around town last week.

Quarterly meeting services were held Sunday afternoon last, Rev. W. H. Sanford of Auburn officiating. He was assisted by Rev. B. A. Partridge.

Samuel Housman of Alton visited Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Lewis recently.

Rev. H. W. Lewis spent a few days last week at his home in Alton.

The Sunday school from this place picnicked at Cascade last Friday. The weather and other conditions being favorable, it was a very enjoyable occasion.

Miss Alice Crawfoot is attending the Auburn High school.

What is a fair without a merry-go-round? A contract has been signed for a good one at the Genoa fair.

East Genoa.

SEPT. 14—Mrs. Mary Westmiller has been critically ill, but is now improving. Her daughter is with her and Miss Jane Louw is caring for her.

Mrs. Henry Strong is very ill at the home of Fitch Strong.

Mrs. Sarah Armstrong who has been ill has nearly recovered.

Miss Ida Haskell has gone to Auburn where she has been appointed as assistant matron of the woman's prison.

Miss Belle Bothwell has been visiting the Misses Clara and Ruby Bannister of Syracuse.

Mrs. Amorella Strong visited relatives at Syracuse last week.

Mrs. Chas. Storm and little son of New York spent Saturday with Mrs. D. Sharpsteen.

Mr. Albert Borthwick of New York has been visiting at F. Bothwell's.

Mrs. Minnie Willis of Ithaca spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Strong.

Stephen Sharpsteen and mother spent Sunday in Ludlowville.

Miss Mary Bothwell was home from Ithaca over Sunday.

Quite a number of the ladies attended the Aid society which was held with Mrs. Chas. Tupper last Thursday. All reported a very pleasant time. A bountiful supper was served and all pronounced Mrs. Tupper a very gracious hostess. The receipts were $10.

Mr. Ai Foster began his school here Monday also Belle Bothwell at the "eight square" and Miss Alice Haskell at Genoa academy.

North Lansing.

SEPT. 16—Mrs. Hannah Singer who has been suffering from a fall is comfortable at this writing. It is hard to tell whether she is really improved.

Presiding Elder Campbell attended quarterly conference at this place Friday evening, and at Ledyard and Venice Saturday, but an urgent call from another point, one that he felt must be heeded, compelled him to make other arrangements for the Sunday services. Rev. Mr. Sanford of Auburn was secured for Ledyard and Venice, Rev. Mr. Pasche for North Lansing, and Thomas Small for Ludlowville.

Miss Ida Haring will commence school at West Dryden next Monday.

School commences Monday with Mrs. Hattie Buck as teacher.

Miss Wolverton of Ithaca is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Lottie Boyles.

Jacob Osmun is improving.

Forks Creek.

School began in the Jacobs district on Monday.

Effingham Lane of Groton was calling on friends here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Holden visited his parents at East Venice on Sunday.

Mrs. B. Cook of Brookton and Mrs. F. Stoddard of Locke visited at C. Boyer's one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith spent a few days last week in Syracuse, visiting relatives and attending the State fair. Clara Searles returned to her home there with them.

Low Rates to Pacific Coast.

Sept. 15th to Nov. 30th, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. will make the following rates from Chicago:

To Helena, Mont. ..... Butte " ..... Anaconda "	$28.00
To Spokane, Wash.	30.50
To Seattle, Wash. ..... Tacoma " ..... Portland, Oregon ..... Vancouver, B. C.	33.00
To San Francisco, Cal. ..... Los Angeles, Cal.	33.00

For particulars and folders address or call on
T. A. WILSON, Com'l Agt.,
C., M. & St. P. Ry.,
200 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y.

A handsome nickeled parlor coal stove for sale cheap; also a top carriage that cost $150 a few years ago. Call at the Tribune office.

Locke.

SEPT. 15—Miss Jessie Warne of Auburn visited her aunt, Mrs. Lore, on Monday.

Fay Howard of Chicago is visiting in this place.

Mrs. John White has returned from Wellsboro where she has been spending the summer with her daughter.

Mrs. John Spaulding entertained friends from Moravia Tuesday.

Several from here are attending school at Moravia.

D. F. Ladd has finished his work at John Carroll's and has a position at Moravia.

Quite a few cement walks are being laid on Main St.

Miss Ruth Winters is the new clerk at Slocum & Miller's.

Mrs. May Fuller and children spent Saturday and Sunday at Mrs. Fritts', Quaker Church.

Eugene Powers of Cortland visited at R. D. Lung's Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Glover is visiting friends at Cortland.

Mrs. Curtis of New York City has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Anna Shaw and other relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cameron have been visiting at Newark Valley and attending the fair at that place.

Ralph Fowler of Moravia called in town Wednesday evening.

West Venice.

SEPT. 15—Mrs. Hulda Foster of New London, Conn., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. John Hazard.

A large number from this neighborhood attended the State fair last week.

Miss Martha Cook and Miss Agnes Goerke have returned to their school work in Brooklyn.

Robert Cahalan has gone to Auburn to work in a shop

Some of the hay that was put in barns too wet is spoiled, or as one hay packer said "it's rotten"

These warm days are making the corn grow finely. A good many potatoes are blighted and some report them rotting badly. There is also a blight on the buckwheat that will cause the crop to be light.

A good many are attending a social at A. Locke's this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blair entertained friends from Moravia Sunday.

The latest report is that the rural delivery routes are to be changed again and have all routes start from a railroad. Genoa will have to hurry and get that railroad or perhaps it will lose its mail route.

Groton.

SEPT. 14—Many from this place attended the State fair last week.

Mrs. Charles Brown and Miss Ella Brown were in Ithaca Monday.

Walter R. Hibbard expects to go to Bethlehem, Pa., Thursday, where he will enter Lehigh University.

Miss Agnes Avery has entered Syracuse University.

Eugene Woodruff and family of Cleveland, O., are visiting his father, William Woodruff.

Miss Ethel Metzgar is visiting in Aurora and Auburn.

Dr. B. F. Carpenter and family have moved to Whitehall, N. Y., where he has opened a dentist's office. Dr. W. E. Teller succeeds him here.

James McGrail who run a hitch barn and trucking business on Main St., died suddenly Monday afternoon in the store of Conger-Weaver Co.

H. B. Curtice and son Elwin were in Syracuse last week Thursday.

A Boy's Wild Ride For Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles, to get Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Colds and Grip prove its matchless merit for all Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. B. Clark's drug store, King Ferry, N. Y.

Your Money

is as good to you as to the other fellow. Why not protect and save it. You cannot save any more of it on shoe leather than by buying Douglas Shoes.

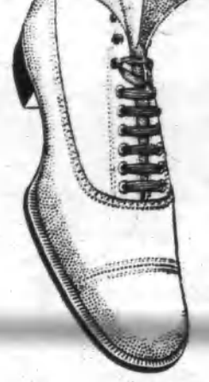
$2.50 & $3.00 $3.50 & $4.00



FOR MEN.

Over twenty-five years of steadily growing shoe business proves their money saving qualities.

The Specialty Shoe Co.
111 Genesee street,
AUBURN.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Advertisements under this heading are ½ cent per word for each issue. Count the words in your ad and send along the pay with the order. No ads will be inserted unless paid for in advance.

If you have something people want,
Stored away within your cellar,
And if you want to sell the stuff
Why don't you tell a feller?

LOST—Thursday evening, Sept. 10, between East Genoa and Genoa, a chamois skin bag containing a small purse, crochet work and a silver thimble marked "M. H. W." Finder please leave at TRIBUNE office.

LOST—On Sept. 12, a gold horseshoe stickpin with seven diamonds, between East Genoa and Venice Center. The finder will receive a liberal reward by returning the same to
A. M. SISSON, Venice Center, N. Y.

FOR SALE—A registered Shropshire ram, 3 years old, raised by G. L. Bower, Lake Ridge.
W. L. FRANKLIN, King Ferry.

Hitching room for fifty horses during the fair. GEORGE FULMER.

My stables will be ready to accommodate your horses during the fair.
FRED FULMER.

Bring your poultry to Hotel DeWitt Genoa, Monday evening, Sept. 28, or Tuesday morning, Sept. 29, and receive the highest market prices: Chicks, 9c; hens, 9c; turkeys, 11c; ducks, 8c. S. C. HOUGHTALING, w2 Throopsville, N. Y.

Large stock of paint and whitewash brushes just received. G. O. Whitcomb Co., Locke.

Don't forget that there will be a hop at the rink each night of the Genoa fair until 1 o'clock a. m. All hats and wraps will be carefully and safely checked, free of charge. Coffee, sandwiches, soft drinks and ice cream served during the entire evening in dining hall below. Music by Lanterman & Smith. Bill 25 cts. Also during fair stabling and feed for 100 horses can be had in basement of rink. Cool ground floor and plenty of good water and good attention. Few box stalls for those who speak in season. L. B. NORMAN.

Blank property notes at this office.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

Send for free sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists,
409-415 Pearl Street, New York.
50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

LOYAL TO LOST CAUSE.

Sample Teachings in Country Schools in the South Just After the War.

"The country school-teacher in the south at the close of the civil war was still loyal to the lost cause," said a professor in one of the leading universities of the south who was a guest in this city, says the New York Sun. "It is little wonder that the sectional lines disappeared so slowly when one remembers some of the instructions given in the backwoods schoolhouses the first year after the war.

"In one of the border states such instructions as these were given by the teacher orally, for there were no school books for quite awhile after the war.

"'Who was the first president?' If the pupil answered 'George Washington,' the teacher replied rather sadly: 'Yes; he was the first president at the time you speak of, but the first president of the south was Jefferson Davis.'

"Then he would ask: 'Who was the greatest soldier in the world?' and he would answer himself: 'Gen. Lee.'

"When the class in geography was called and the question was asked: 'Name the greatest cities in the country,' the class was instructed to say: 'New Orleans, Richmond and Charleston.' The longest river in the United States was given as the 'Lower Mississippi,' and the class was further instructed that the capital of the country was Richmond.

"The greatest product of the country was, so the class was instructed, cotton, and the teacher that I knew always added that sugar and New Orleans molasses came next.

"The teacher in those days set the texts in the old copy books for his pupils. All had some connection with some event in the south.

"In all these instructions there was never any reference to the north. No harsh words were spoken of Lincoln, or Grant, or Sherman, or of any of the great events in which they participated. They were simply ignored. If at that time some one had come along with a proposition to build a Chinese wall along Mason and Dixon's line, I think the people in some parts of the south would readily have given their time and labor to the work free.

"It is not strange, I repeat, that sectional feeling in some regions died out slowly."

The Citizens Bank of Locke loans money on real estate.

☞Plenty of tile at the Genoa tile yard.

Ayer's

Sometimes the hair is not properly nourished. It suffers for food, starves. Then it falls out, turns prematurely gray. Ayer's Hair Vigor is a hair food. It feeds, nourishes. The hair stops falling, grows long and heavy, and all dandruff disappears.

Hair Vigor

"My hair was coming out terribly. I was almost afraid to comb it. But Ayer's Hair Vigor promptly stopped the falling, and also restored the natural color."
MRS. E. G. K. WARD, Landing, N. J.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

for

Poor Hair

The Country Fair.

"From a bowl of stainless blue the midday sun shone down on thousands of fairgoers."

From a bowl of stainless blue,
Tra le loo;
From a bowl of stainless blue,
On a thousand folks or two,
Or three, or four, or forty, more or less,
The midday sun shines down
On the fair grounds near the town,
And the rural soul is filled with blessedness.

From a bowl of stainless blue,
Tra le loo;
Falls a cheery "How d'y do?"
That is scattered far and wide from tongue to tongue.
And the lassies meet the lads
With their mothers and their dads;
And the matrons and the men
Are so glad to meet again;
And the lobster and the shark
Wander, waiting, through the park;
And the country meets the town,
And they lay their troubles down
As they drink the soft, sweet cider from the bung.

From a bowl of stainless blue,
Tra le loo;
From a bowl of stainless blue
Drop the peanuts, tried and true,
For which the rural bosom always throbs:
And the warm red lemonade
Made entirely in the shade;
And the popcorn, pink and white,
Just a dream of dear delight;
And the side show near the gate,
With its wondrous wheel of fate;
And the merry-go-round
With its wheezy welcome sound;
And the colored toy balloons,
And the throwing balls at coons,
And the shooting galleries which
Make the winning shooter rich;
And the rings, whose lucky toss
Always covers every loss;
And the greasy eating booths
Feeding hungry, happy youths;
And a million other sights
That are chock full of delights
For the roystering rural rooster from the Knobs.

From a bowl of stainless blue,
Tra le loo;
From a bowl of stainless blue,
Other wonders came to view
That will make the fair this year the greatest yet—
The horses on the track,
Every one a crackajack;
And the fine stock in the ring
Where the premium ribbons swing;
And the grandstand loaded down
With the prettiest girls in town
And for miles and miles around;
And the glorious Floral Hall,
Grandest feature of them all,
With its jellies and its jams,
And its plants and pillow shams,
And its patchwork quilts and cakes,
And its bread of various makes,
And its needlework and lace,
And its wax flowers full of grace,
And its pumpkins big and round,
And its apples red and sound,
And its Art and homemade pies—
Each thing fit to take the prize—
Oh, say, there is nothing like a country fair, you bet.

From a bowl of stainless blue,
Tra le loo;
Whatever other thing you do,
Get you to a country fair,
To breathe the breath of nature there;
And you will feel it comes to you
From a bowl of stainless blue.

—W. J. L., Syracuse.

Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies. "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms Stomach and Bowel Complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by A. E. Clark, druggist, King Ferry, N. Y.

Nickel Plate New Station.

Nickle Plate trains are now running into their elegant new passenger station in the heart of Chicago, convenient to theatres, principal hotels, etc., and located on elevated loop of all city and suburban electric lines. Nickle Plate passenger trains are finest run, carrying new high back seat coaches, latest Pullmans and dining cars serving club meals 35c to $1.00, also meals "a la carte." Also afford a tri-weekly Trans-Continental Tourist sleeping car service to Pacific Coast points. See local agents or write R. E. Payne, Genl. Agt., Buffalo, N. Y. 78

Printed Envelopes.

Every farmer and business man should use envelopes with his name printed on the corner. It insures the return of the letter if not delivered. One hundred fine envelopes printed for 75 cents. Order by mail or call at THE TRIBUNE office.

Big Sale

—OF—

CAMERAS

at cost now going on at

MOSER'S

BUSY DRUG STORE
65 Genesee St., Auburn.

Society Notes.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Preaching next Sabbath morning at 11 and in the evening at 7:30; Sunday school at 12; C. E. at 3:30. The usual prayer meeting next week. The meeting of the Ladies' Aid society at the home of Mrs. Chas. Tupper last week was largely attended, more than seventy persons being present. A goodly sum was secured toward reducing the debt on the church sheds. The church choir was most pleasantly entertained by Miss Luella Smith last Monday evening

DIED.

In Dalhart, Tex., May 26, 1903, occurred the death of Margaret Celesta, daughter of Florence and Asa J. Atwater, aged 8 months and 11 days, and in Denver, Col., Sept. 4, 1903, Florence Moore, wife of Asa J. Atwater, aged 21 years. The funeral services were held in Topeka, Kan., Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6. The uncle brought the baby's remains from Dalhart, and now mother and daughter are resting side by side in the Topeka cemetery. Mr. Atwater is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Atwater and his many friends in the East will sympathize with him in his sorrow.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Has world-wide fame for marvellous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Boils, Sores, Felons, Ulcers, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Chapped Hands, Skin Eruptions; infallible for Piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at A. E. Clark's drug store, King Ferry, N. Y.

The Citizens Bank of Locke pays 3 per cent on deposits.

Blank property notes at this office.

Coal! Coal!

Chestnut, Stove and Steam Coal and phosphate at ATWATER STATION.

Top Buggies

and farm wagons, manure spreaders for top dressing wheat ground and meadows. A full supply of timothy seed.

Dearing Corn Harvesters.

A good horse, 2nd hand top buggy, two new fanning mills at a bargain. Also extra seives for buckwheat and other grain.

"A full blooded natural muley Durham bull for service."

S. S. Goodyear,
Goodyears, N. Y.

We Know You're Not Ready to buy your winter outfit, but now is the time to think about it. Early last May we began to plan our Fall Campaign; to select the fabrics; figure out the styles; and improve the defects of former seasons. We have worked hard and earnestly to produce for your inspection the most complete and carefully made line of suits and overcoats we have ever offered. When we cannot make improvements we're going out of the clothing business. Perfection has never been attained, but improvement is the order of the age. We are obeying the order and now we invite your criticism of the Fall and Winter offerings for 1903 and 1904 season. They're ready; come in and look them over; try them on, compare the prices and give us your honest opinion of what we have to offer. That's all we ask at this time.

C. R. EGBERT,

The People's Clothier, Hatter & Furnisher,
75 Genesee St., Auburn.

Corn! Corn! Corn!

Carload just received, place your orders promptly. Prices reasonable.

J. G. Atwater & Son,
King Ferry Station.

Clean Teeth.
Use Walley's Dentifoam, cleanses without injury.

Clean Head.
Perfection Hair Tonic drives away dandruff, starts new hair growth.

Clear Skin.
Creme Lotus makes that; makes the skin smooth and soft.

WALLEY'S,
AUBURN, N. Y.
Headquarters for out-of-town folks.

Dr. Ranlovf's Remedy For RHEUMATISM

Easy to take (tablets)--Quick to relieve--Has cured thousands--Will cure you. Money back if it does not. $1 per box. Write today if not at druggists.
RUSSIAN REMEDY CO., Geneva, N. Y.

☞Plenty of tile at the Genoa tile yard.

Just One Minute, Please!

Remember these prices if you should think of buying elsewhere.
4 in flower pots, 1 1-2c
Full cream June cheese, lb 12c
1 qt fancy milk pitchers, 10c
4 lb pkg gold dust, 15c
Lunch boxes, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c
Fine Rio & Santos coffee, lb 12c
3 rolls best quality toilet paper, 10c
3 crown seeded raisins, lb 8c
All sizes in enameled kettles and dish pans for canning fruit
Big master soap, 4c
Lamp chimneys, 3c and 5c
Large yellow baking pie plates, 5c
All kinds tinware, baskets, jelly glasses, burners, hand lamps, shelf groceries, &c
Pure old cider vinegar, gal 15c

—At—

C. G. Hayden's
Bargain Store,
139 W. Genesee St., Auburn,

The Tribune Clubbing Rates for 1903-04 will surprise you.

All kinds of Mill Work furnished.

Doors, Windows, Frames, Blinds, Mouldings, Cisterns, Tanks, etc.

The celebrated Lucas Paints, Oils, Dryer, Turpentine, Varnish.

The best Asphalt Roofing on the market; investigate it.

(The Red Shop.) Both Phones.
R. L. TEETER, - MORAVIA.

THE GENOA TRIBUNE,

Issued every Friday at

GENOA, CAYUGA COUNTY, N. Y.,

Clarence A. Ames, Editor and Publisher.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18t 1903.

SHOW ME A VILLAGE WITHOUT PUBLIC SPIRIT AND I'LL SHOW YOU A COMMUNITY WHOSE HISTORY IS ALREADY WRITTEN.

ALL KINDS OF PRINTING.

THE TRIBUNE has facilities for doing job work which are excelled by few. Fine presses, the latest faces of type, experienced workmen and promptness of execution are our inducements for a share of your patronage.

Advertising rates furnished upon application. Local business notices, Etc. 4c. per line. Cards of thanks 25 cents. Obituaries 50 cents. Cash must accompany the copy.

SUBSCRIPTION AGENTS.

Any newspaper or periodical published secured at publisher's price or less. Orders taken for book binding of all kinds. Good work.

HOTEL DEWITT,

Genoa, N. Y. Charles Carson, Proprietor. First class accommodations, Rate $1.50.

THE SELLEN HOUSE,

Genoa, N. Y. F. Sellen, Proprietor. New hotel—everything first class—Rates reasonable. Choice wines and liquors.

GOODRICH HOUSE,

A. N. Green, Proprietor, (Successor to P. Grover,) Main street, Moravia. Electric lights, steam heat, livery in connection, free 'bus to trains.

GEORGE SLOCUM,

Genoa, N. Y. Office hours: until 9 a. m.; 6 to 8 p. m.

DR. J. W. SKINNER,

Homœopathist and Surgeon, Genoa, N. Y. Special attention given to diseases of women and children. Cancer removed without pain by escharotic. Office at residence.

DR. WILLIAM FROST,

Surgeon Dentist. Preserving the natural teeth a specialty. Teeth extracted without pain, using liquid gas. Perfectly harmless. Office over postoffice, Moravia, N. Y.

C. A. Ames, Notary Public,

Genoa, N. Y.

Legal Papers Drawn: Blanks Furnished.

Office in Tribune Building.

Registered in Tompkins County.

THE KENDALL HOUSE,

U. A. SPAFFORD, Proprietor,

KING FERRY, N. Y.

Rates reasonable; accommodations first class.

Painless DENTISTRY.

Teeth without plates a specialty. Old roots and discolored teeth restored to beauty and usefulness, by my new system of Crown and Bridge work. Teeth extracted without pain. Also the making of artifical teeth Specialties.

H. M. Dommett, Dentist,

Union Springs, N. Y.

At Poplar Ridge every Monday.

At King Ferry on Friday, Sept. 4th and 18th.

FOUR MILLS.

Wishing to devote more time to the telephone business I offer my mill property for sale or exchange for village or farm property. It is situated 2 miles south of North Lansing and one mile from the new Ithaca, Genoa and Auburn Electric R. R. It consists of four complete mills, a saw mill, planing, feed and cider mill. Good house and barn, 4 acres of land. The feed mill is a 5½ ft. buhr stone with a capacity 40 bu. per hour. The cider mill will make 100 barrels per day. Each mill is the best of its kind and run by 1 20 H. P. and 1 50 H. P. water wheels and a 30 H. P. engine with a 50 H. P. boiler.

EVERYTHING IN GOOD REPAIR.

Will be sold cheap A party with a house to trade could get a business of his own and have house to live in also. For more particulars write or call on [illegible]iller,

R. F. D. No. 11, Groton.

PURE DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Perfumes and fine Toilet Soap. Also choice groceries.

A. E. Clark, King Ferry.

Large stock of poultry and stock foods. Whitcomb's drug store, Locke.

HAUNTED BY SQUAW'S GHOST.

Wraith of Indian Woman Paddles Canoe About Lake Manitou in Indiana.

One of the romantic spots of Indiana is Lake Manitou, about a mile east of Rochester, Ind., and on its shores in the early history of Fulton county the Pottawatomie Indians camped and fished. A squaw's ghost is said to haunt the place.

One of the chiefs of the tribe, who has more than a local history, was Aub-Bee-Naub-Bee. He was a famous warrior and under the influence of liquor was very friendly to the whites.

One day, about 1830, while he and a few of his warriors, with their squaws, were camped at the lake, Aub-Bee-Naub-Bee went to the trading post and became intoxicated.

On his return to the camp he quarreled with his squaw and brained her with his tomahawk. A short time afterward he killed a brother of the woman he had murdered and the other members of his dead squaw's family swore vengeance.

Legends differ as to how Aub-Bee-Naub-Bee met his death. Some have it that his wife's relatives killed him, but the most authentic account is that about 1837 the chief was killed by his own son.

Be this as it may, the story is that several times a year the spirit of the murdered squaw was seen on the shores of the lake or paddling her canoe from island to island.

BIRDS' GARDEN OF EDEN.

Enthusiatic Admirer Sets Apart an Acre Forbidden to Cats and Small Boys.

A bird garden is rather a novel idea, but one which if faithfully exploited will prove as real a delight as any garden of blossoms. An enthusiast on the subject has set apart a spot of perhaps an acre's extent as forbidden ground for cats and small boys, and the birds have become very tame, says the New York Tribune. Bermuda grass, whose matted tangles are a harbor for bugs and worms, covers the ground. Hydrants are left dripping where the many kinds of feathered folk that this garden has attracted may drink and bathe to their hearts' content. There is an abundance of seeds and fruit, which mature at different seasons, and old logs under which congregate the fat grubs that are a bird's delight. If these natural stores seem to run short at any time, sunflower seed and crisp lettuce hearts are spread on a stand called the "birds' banquet board," that none may want. Strings, threads and fluffy cotton are spread about for nesting time, and as many as twenty different species have been counted building or rearing their young at one time. Thirty-four varieties frequent this garden of Eden, and their sweet notes and bright plumage make it as charming as any conservatory of rare blossoms.

CHILDREN OF THE STAGE.

Many of Them Come from Prosperous Homes, Through the Mother's Ambition.

It is an odd fact, says Alexander H. Ford, in Everybody's Magazine, that poverty drives few children to the stage door, and, invariably, the successful juvenile actor is the child of comparative wealth. Lores Grimm, star at the Children's theater last season, may be said to have a fortune in his own right, and even brain enough to manage it; for, during his summer vacation from stage work, it is his delight to buy out a news store, build up a large custom, then sell out at a great advance in the fall. In fact, he secures all his theatrical engagements, and makes his own terms. Anita Heckler has a prosperous father, yet this little maid is the fourth of a family of girls to grace the stage, and so it goes, through the list of the successful ones, at least. I do not recall an instance, however, where a father capable of earning a living has wished to place his children on the stage; it is invariably the mother who is ambitious that her youngsters pursue a histrionic career.

WHAT THIEVES THINK.

They Are Held in Check at Weddings and Funerals by Superstitious Fears.

The pickpocket is superstitious. He will rarely rob a person who squints, this being accounted a certain sign of disaster, and if it happens that the purse he steals contains foreign as well as British money, it is believed to augur that he will travel a good deal in the immediate future; but whether in the company of a couple of police officers or not there is nothing to show.

Weddings and funerals are significant events for the professional thief, says an exchange. To pick a pocket at a funeral would be to court immediate disaster, but many of them think if a purse stolen at a wedding contains gold it portends the best of luck for the thief during the ensuing six months.

Some pickpockets have a favorite pair of boots that they wear as long as they can keep them on their feet, and if they are not arrested while they are wearing them they cut the boots into little square pieces and give them away as "lucky tokens" to their friends.

Antique Anesthesia.

"The use of anaesthetics in surgery," said a physician, "is regarded by the general public as a new thing, but anaesthetics, as a matter of fact, were known and used 2,000 years ago. Pliny tells about a stone of Memphis that they crushed and mixed with vinegar. This poultice produced a local anaesthesia where it was applied."

DRAFTED A DONKEY.

Clever Joke Played Upon Enrolling Officers by a Southern Farmer's Daughter.

During the last two years of the war, when the draft was being enforced, the provost marshal was not a very popular person anywhere, but more particularly obnoxious in the border states of Maryland and Kentucky, where many of the people were in sympathy with the south and had near relatives in the confederate army. One of these civil or semi-military officers, in making up a list of men liable to draft, called at a farmer's door in Anne Arundel county, Maryland, and a young lady gave him very prompt answers to the usual set of questions, relates the American Tribune. Then came the last query: "Will you make oath that you have given the names of all males between 20 and 45 residing here?" "There is one more," she answered very demurely—"Billy Button; he is 22, but he sleeps in the barn."

The name was enrolled. The officer passed on. On the day of the drawing William Button was drawn as a conscript, and, not reporting for muster, a detail was sent to the farmer's place to arrest him. The young lady, on learning their errand, escorted them to the barn and pointed to the venerable donkey whose name was Billy Button.

That squad did not wait for orders, but retreated double-quick, their steps hastened by shouts of laughter from the innocent and demure guide.

By Our Daily Deeds.

All through life we write our own epitaphs.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

FIRE ABOVE THE CLOUDS.

How Danger of Destruction to Great Snowsheds in the Sierras Is Subverted.

In his article on "Fighting Fire Above the Clouds," in Pearson's, Mr. Robert Wells Ritchie describes the precautions taken by the railroad company as follows:

"Two and one-half miles in an air line, north of Cisco, a little town on the line of road, about 14 miles from the summit of the range, the bald granite peak of Red mountain lifts its serrated front to the winds, 7,860 feet above the level of the sea. From the top of this peak, which is one of the loftiest in the vicinity, with a field glass one can see the stretch of the mountains for miles below, until they broaden out into the Sacramento valley, 75 miles away; over 30 lakes may be counted, dotting the mountains of two counties. It was on this desolate, wind-swept island in the clouds that the Southern Pacific established its fire alarm station, probably the highest in the world.

"Upon the highest point of the summit, known now as Signal Peak, a little cabin was built. It was 12 by 12 feet, solidly constructed and with a roof calculated to stand the strain of winter snows. Telephone communication with Cisco was established and the minature observatory fitted with powerful telescopes, maps, and a surveyor's transit. Then a man and his wife were established as alternate watchers by night and day, and this alarm station was complete."

CAT ACTS AS PLUMBER.

Shrewd Device of Pennsylvania Woman to Find Leak in Water Pipe.

Making her cat act as her plumber was the ingenious feat that a woman of Manayunk accomplished the other day, reports the Philadelphia Record. This woman had noticed that one of the pipes connected with the washstand in her bathroom leaked, and she wished to locate the leak precisely without tearing out any more of her wall than was needful. Accordingly she shut her cat up in the parlor—the parlor is directly below the bathroom—and into the basin of the defective washstand she poured a vial of the oil of valerian.

Cats are excessively fond of the odor of valerian; a cat would rather inhale this odor than eat fish. The Manayunk woman's cat, after it had been in the parlor a few minutes, began to purr. Purring, it crossed the room; it settled itself on the floor with its face to one spot on the wall, and here its mistress found it when she came down stairs, its nose glued to the spot, sniffing and purring ecstatically. The wall was opened at this point, and here, sure enough, the leak was found. Here the valerian had trickled through, imparting its intoxicating odor to the cat.

Hamilton's Drug Store

Moves this week to the new and large quarters at 39 Genesee street, Auburn, five doors east of the present location and next to the Cayuga County National Bank. The increasing demand for the Hamilton medicines requires larger facilities both for their manufacture and sale. The name Hamilton has become a household word in connection with his line of family medicines. That significant advice is often heard, "You buy the Hamilton medicines; they cured me, they will you" No remedies have ever caused so many heartfelt expressions of gratitude as Hamilton's. Every Saturday he has a special sale at his new store as follows: Colegate's 40 and 50 cent perfumes at 19c. per ounce. Superior 30 and 35 cent candy at 10c. a pound. Other days 15c. per pound. These goods are fresh from the factory each week. Fridays, special sale of 5 and 6 cent flavoring extracts lemon, peppermint and wintergreen only 3c. per ounce. Best 19c orange, vanilla and almond only 6c per ounce. You will know the store by the big golden yel low sign over the door which reads, "Hamilton's Drug Store."

Daily Tourist Sleeping Car

Chicago to Denver via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry, Union Pacific Line. The C. M. & St. P. Ry, Union Pacific "Omaha Short Line" now operate from Chicago at 10:25 p m. daily a tourist car for Denver, arriving in Denver, Colo. at 7:55 a. m. second morning. For reservations and rates apply to

T. A. WILSON, Com. Agt., C. M. & St P. Ry 200 Ellicott Square Building, Buffalo, N. Y. 31 aug

If you wish to borrow money on desirable real property, go to the Citizens Bank of Locke.

Send the Name of your Farm.

If you have given your farm a name and wish it to be generally known by that name, send it in at once to Mohr's County Directory, 219 Metcalf Bldg. By no other method can you make the name permanent. We will gladly insert it free of expense to you.

Then There Was Trouble.

Young Miss Blank, to try her young man's fidelity, asked her intimate friend to beg him to kiss her as he was taking her home one night. A few days later Miss Blank met her friend, and the following conversation occurred:

"Did you ask John?"

"No; I didn't get a chance. He asked me first."—Tit-Bits.

Unjust.

Faultfinding Customer—Those eggs are a week old, to my certain knowledge and yet you've kept that sign "Fresh Eggs" sticking up in the basket all that time.

Grocer's Clerk (righteously indignant)—You're mistaken, ma'am. I change that sign every morning.—Chicago Tribune.

On the Sabbath.

"Tommy! stop that noise, and come here to me," said Mrs. Phamley. "Do you know whose day this is?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied Tommy promptly.

"Whose is it?"

"Bridget's. Mary Ann was out last Sunday."—Philadelphia Press.

WANTED—Several Industrious Persons in each state to travel for house established eleven years and with a large capital, to call upon merchants and agents for successful and profitable line. Permanent engagement. Weekly cash salary of $18 and all traveling expenses and hotel bills advanced in cash each week. Experience not essential. Mention reference and enclose self-addressed envelope.
THE NATIONAL, 334 Dearborn St., Chicago.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

The Prize Winner

and now wears the Blue Ribbon of The United States of America. Testimonials by the hundred that works easier than other makes, picks up corn better, and binds and discharges its bundles better That its broad faced steel wheel is a great advantage in soft ground.

THE OSBORNE CORN BINDER

Remember I not only sell the best Corn Binder but also the Armour Fertilizer and pay market price for grain. Come and see me.

Fay Teeter,

EAST VENICE, N. Y.

C. F. Budd, Jeweler.

Fifteen years experience in wholesale watch and diamond trade at 182 Broadway and 14 Maiden Lane New York City,

Budd The Jeweler,

82 Genesee st. Auburn,

Bulbs for Fall Planting.

Our Dutch Bulbs, like Tulips, Hyacinths, Lilies, Narcissus, etc., are the product of one Holland grower, and consequently are far more even and reliable in quality than usual. If you wish effective displays of spring flowering bulbs which will not disappoint you, send us your list of bulbs for fall planting, and get our prices for the same. Don't send away for we can save you money.

The Floral Store,

34 Genesee St., Auburn.

3 doors west of D. M. Osborne & Co.

The Summer Season 1903.

Will be a season when the light shades of Suits will be the correct thing. We have a large assortment of shades, and the prices are very low,

$7 to $10.

Our showing of summer Shirts for outing wear is complete. Prices, 50c, 75c, $1, 1.50.

All the latest fads and fancys to be found in our Furnishing Department.

Barker, Griswold & Co., Auburn.

87 & 89 Genesee Street.

WAGONS.

I have the largest and most complete line of wagons ever shown in the city of Auburn.

Consisting of top buggies, surries, road wagons, democrat wagons and lumber wagons, with a fine line of the best harness that was ever made in the state and prices that cannot be beat. Come and give me a call and be convinced.

JAMES K. BUST,

36 Clark St., Auburn.

Oh; miserable man or woman, crippled and useless, why don't you try

Babcock's Rheumatism Cure?

It has helped hundreds; it never fails, and costs but 50c at all druggist's.

THE GENOA TRIBUNE

MEMBER N. Y. STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 18, 1903.

GENOA POST OFFICE—Mails close at 6:50 a. m. and 3:35 p. m.; Mails arrive at 11:45 a. m. and 8:10 p. m.; Office open Sundays from 12 to 12:15. C. A. AMES, P. M.

Grange Notes.

McGrawville and Cortlandville Granges held a public debate recently, the former winning.

Wolcott Grange is preparing to hold an indoor fair this fall, beginning Oct. 8 and lasting three days.

Stedman Grange, Chautauqua county, has bought a lot in the village of Stedman and will put on it a fine building for the use of the Grange.

Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of delegates at the next State Grange meeting to be held at Cortland, N. Y., next February. The sessions will be held in the Opera House. The following hotels have made a reduced rate of $1.75 a day, viz.: The Cortland House and the York hotel. The Dexter House is $1.25, and board in private families will range from $1.00 to $1.25 a day. N. F. Webb of Cortland is chairman of the local entertainment committee.

The National Stockman says: "New York is boasting of a member who has never missed a meeting of his subordinate Grange for eleven years--Brother H.L. Smith of Hammond Grange. But we know of a sister in West Virginia who hasn't missed a meeting in twenty-five years--"Aunt May" Skinner, wife of D. W. Skinner, overseer West Virginia State Grange. Pass the medal over!" West Virginia is entitled to the palm, sure enough. It is an incomparable record that Mrs. Skinner has made.

The dedication of the new Grange headquarters building at Chautauqua took place Aug. 22, and a large attendance of Grangers celebrated the event. An address of welcome was made by Dr. Geo. E. Vincent, the response being by Mrs. B. B. Lord, lecturer of the State Grange. The donor of the building, Mr. Cyrus E. Jones of Jamestown, made some appropriate remarks in presenting the structure and Master E. B. Norris of the State Grange responded. The dedicatory address was given by Aaron Jones, Master of the National Grange, who also delivered the main address at the afternoon meeting. A Grange home at Chautauqua has become a fact.

Shaw--Bradley.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bradley at King Ferry on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 9, at 4 o'clock, when their daughter, Mabel Emily, was united in marriage to Charles Edmund Shaw. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Walter C. Bradley. Rev. W. C. Brass was the officiating clergyman. The bride was attired in sage green Louisene silk, en train, and carried a bouquet of white roses and pinks. She was attended by three little flower girls, nieces of the bride, Violet Bradley, Luella May Halsted and Ruth Elizabeth Bradley, all dressed in white and each carried a basket of pink sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw received the congratulations of their friends under an arch from the center of which suspended a white floral bell. The house was prettily decorated with flowers. The presents were numerous, comprising the useful and ornamental. After a substantial collation was served, the newly wedded pair left by the evening train amid a shower of rice.

Lynch Law and the Principles of Justice

In an article under this title, the Christian Statesman argues that the right to inflict the death penalty can come only from God, who is the author of human life. This right, as men in general solemnly believe, God has reposed in civil society. The principles of social order which lead men to establish and maintain governments are principles divinely implanted in human nature. Their operation lies in the sphere of the reason and the conscience, and their manifestations are naturally calm, sober, reverent, and merciful even when constrained to be severe. A mob has nothing in common with this divine institution of which the Scriptures say, "it is the minister of God." The mob comes into being in an hour, and as suddenly dissolves. Having no permanent existence, it is irresponsible and cannot, as a mob, be called to account. It is hasty, wrathful, swayed by passion, deaf to reason, cruel. It is not concerned for the honor and authority of the law which has been violated, for it is itself trampling on the law. It is not thinking of justice, for it sets justice at defiance. It is actuated solely by blind anger and the instinct of cruelty, demanding immediate and lawless gratification. Its acts are not far removed from the crimes which it pretends to avenge. The act of the mob has in it, therefore, not one element of public justice. It knows no law and asks no warrant but its own angry will. The mob spirit is, therefore, essentially godless and atheistic. Its very essence is the denial of God's rights and authority in human society and in the sphere of government. It is substantially the same, therefore, with the spirit of anarchy. It is anarchy. The same spirit that struck at all government in the person of President McKinley actuates every mob which wrests a criminal from the hand of the law and usurps in his case the functions of the government.

For these reasons lynch law affords no real protection to any interest of human society. The only safety for these interests lies in the sheltering arm of the law. Cruel and unusual and lawless punishments do not deter from crime; rather, they invest it with a morbid fascination. They provoke the dare-devil spirit. They incite to the repetition of the offense as a form of retaliation. They open before the community a dark vista of crime and lawless retribution and hideous reprisals of which no man can see the outcome. No more urgent duty presses on our authorities than the duty to defend their prisoners against mob violence, and so uphold the foundations of government.

Kind to the Dead and Living.

The news columns of the Post-Standard chronicled the fact that the body of Edward C. Richter formerly of this city and a private in Company L, Twenty-eighth infantry, U. S. A., had arrived from the Philippines on board the transport Kilpatrick. On board the same ship were the remains of 301 other men who went to the archipelago to fight for the flag and for the spread of liberty and free government. A few days hence the transport Sumner will arrive with about as many more bodies of unfortunate soldiers, all brought back to their homeland for final burial. The incident calls attention to an unprecedented practice inaugurated by the American government with the closing of the war in Cuba. No other modern country, not even this one, ever before brought home its dead warriors in any number for burial.

Many of the men who fell in Mexico fighting under General Scott rest in the American cemetery near the city of Mexico, while thousands of boys in blue are taking their final sleep south of the Mason and Dixon line, where rebel bullets found them. A single generation has brought a wonderful change. Lincoln's heart was large and the death of the 280,000 brave fellows in uniform who delighted to call him "Father Abraham" caused him intense pain. Had he lived he might have had many of them buried in cemeteries near home. But it was never done to any extent. It was not because William McKinley was more keenly sympathetic than Lincoln that he arranged to have bodies of soldiers who were killed or who died from disease in Cuba returned to this country at the expense of the government, but rather because conditions which did not prevail in the sixties made it possible.

It is an unspeakable comfort to sorrowing parents to have their soldier boys buried at home. Yet this governmental practice of transporting bodies great distances is much criticised. So good a man as Rev. Oliver C. Miller, chaplain of the Thirteenth cavalry, declares that in his opinion it is unwise. The return of the body of a loved one who died months ago only causes fresh sorrow and reopens wounds partly healed. Such opinion, however, will probably not serve to interrupt the practice which, though it may have brought fresh sorrow to hundreds of homes, has also brought satisfaction and comfort that otherwise would never come.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Lively Times in Genoa.

Next week will be a busy time for Genoa. Sept. 22, 23 and 24 are the dates of the fair and if the weather is at all favorable there will be an immense crowd. The managers are working day and night to give their patrons a bang-up good time and their money's worth.

Liberal premiums are offered in every department and are worthy of a large showing. In addition there are one hundred valuable special premiums. The racing program offers good attractions for each day and there will also be ball games every day.

The Miller Silver band with new instruments and uniforms will furnish music during the fair.

A family ticket costs $1 and admits five persons each day. Come and see all your friends.

Your appreciation of THE TRIBUNE as a local newspaper may be best expressed by a cash-in-advance subscription. Three months 25c.; $1.00 per year.

Abe Lincoln said

"Follow the people and you can't be far from right." Such things as are listed below keep the people coming our way:

Laces We have a large lot of new laces of all kinds that are worth twice the price we are asking for them. 5c yd.

Lawns We are showing a lot of pretty patterns in these also Challies, at 5c yd.

Hienz Pckles and Vinegar
(no better on earth)

SMITH'S GENOA STORE
(where the Soda Fountain is)

Next Week
is the fair, you know;
after that
bring on your grist.
Sullivan & Mulvaney.

Coming to the Fair?
Stop and examine the world-famous
STERLING
STOVES AND RANGES
Ask, also, to see our fine
New Agate Ware.
Hagin's Genoa Hardware.

Horse Blankets.

The time is at hand when you will need a good warm blanket for the stable or for hitching out. Our stock is new and up-to-date. We solicit your inspection.

G. S. Aikin, King Ferry

What's Wrong?
Your Eyes?
Why?

Probably you need glasses. Step in and let us examine your eyes. They may be the cause of your headaches.

A. T. HOYT,
Jewelry and Optician,
MORAVIA, N. Y

Watch this space

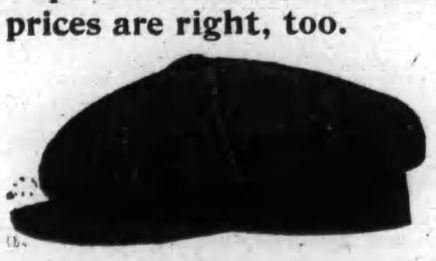
For further

Announcement.

Miss Clara Lanterman,

King Ferry.

New line of Hats and Caps—the latest, and the prices are right, too.



M. KALVRISKY,
Genoa, N. Y.

Graham's Shoe Store
Moravia.

New Fall and Winter
Styles now Coming in.

M.D. Graham,
Moravia.

THE VILLAGE NOTES.

☛Notice the change in prices for the special notices.

—Genoa fair next week. Spoke to her about it yet, young feller?

—D. N. Raynor and wife went to Cortland Wednesday.

—Mrs. Lottie Bush and son Howard visited Ithaca on business Monday.

—Robert Mastin returned Wednesday from a visit to the New York markets.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Avery of Earlville are visiting relatives in town this week.

—Notice the stem of ripe red raspberries in our window. They were found by D. F. Smith.

—C. P. Hunter is visiting relatives in Seneca county for a week or two.

—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Rose of East Homer were visitors at Hotel DeWitt the fore part of the week.

—Mrs. Alice Carmen of Adrian, Michigan, is a guest of S. E. Cole and family.

—Little Irene Holden took a bad fall one day last week and broke both bones of the right forearm.

—L. B. Norman is buying apples for Mr. Wager of Farmer, and has several men packing in various orchards.

–Misses Rena Case and Florence Wilcox returned Saturday evening from their visit to Syracuse and the State fair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Emmons of Groton spent a few days with their aunt, Mrs. Chas. Carson, at Hotel DeWitt this week.

—John Stickle and family have moved into D. L. Mead's house near the rink, and Rev. C. T. Lewis and family have moved into the Baptist parsonage.

—We are informed that more than $4,000 has been pledged in the interest of the railroad. This brings the total along the line, including Auburn, up to $15,000, more or less.

—J. H. Reas went to Troy Wednesday morning where he will officiate as starter in a race meet there. Mrs. Reas is spending a few days at Cortland and Ithaca.

–The remains of E. R. Newman, who died in Honolulu, arrived in Ithaca September third, accompanied by Mrs. Newman and the children. The remains were placed in the vault in the city cemetery.

—Our house cat is of an inquiring turn of mind. He evidently desired to study the difference between adhesion and cohesion and so sat down on a sheet of fly paper. He is very much stuck up over his discovery.

—Not in years, in this vicinity, has work been so plenty and help so scarce as at present. But for all that, there is seldom a day when there isn't one or more loafers sitting on the shady side of easy street.

—The TRIBUNE subscription list was again corrected this week. See if the date of expiration on your paper is correct. It you are in arrears, bring along a dollar for the printer next week when you come to the fair.

—C. J. Wheeler has started work at the evaporator. He has remodeled the kiln and enlarged the capacity and is prepared to supply his market with a first class article. He has purchased several thousand bushels of choice apples which are now being delivered.

—Rev. A. C. Smith and wife of Locke were guests of friends in Genoa and vicinity Tuesday and Wednesday. During Mr. Smith's pastorate at Locke, the M. E. church has been cleared of all indebtedness, a state of affairs much appreciated by the society there.

—Additional local on 8th page.

—Several days of July weather this week.

—No school will be held next week as the teachers will be in attendance at the Teachers' Institute which is to be held at Moravia.

—The cement walks now begin to materialize. Landlord Sellen has built one of which everybody is proud and another one is located alongside Hotel Dewitt. Two more are contracted for and others will soon follow. Let the good work proceed.

—A prominent town official said the other day: "In the matter of village improvements, editor, we are away ahead of you folks." We acknowledged the fact, said we were ashamed and asked him to look again next spring.

—Many a farmer's son or daughter is struggling miserably and hopelessly in the city as an underpaid, over-worked nobody, who might be and ought to be enjoying the broader, cleaner, better, saner and more healthy life on the old home farm. When the farm boy or girl gets the "city fever" only the drastic medicine of experience will check or cure it. Foolish pride, false ideals, laziness and ignorance mislead hundreds of young men and women.

—A. B. VanMarter drove into the village Monday evening and hitched his horse in one of the sheds in the rear of the Presbyterian church. When he went for the horse later it was gone and the new halter showed evidence of having been cut. He made an all-night search and next day about noon found the rig near James Mallison's residence, north and east of this village, and apparently had been used all night.

Family tickets for the Genoa fair are now on sale by the treasurer, F. C. Hagin. Get one now, and then you will have it.

Dr. Miller, the eye specialist and optician, will be on his monthly visit at the Carson House the last day of the fair and the day following.

Special Town Meeting.

To the electors of the town of Genoa authorized to vote upon an appropriation of money:

Notice is hereby given that at the request of the supervisor of said town a special town meeting will be held on the 29th day of September, 1903, for the purpose of determining the disposition of the fund turned over to said supervisor by the late John L. King, former so-called railroad commissioner of said town for the use of said town; and that, at such meeting, a vote by ballot will be taken upon the following proposition in reference to said fund:

Whereas, the supervisor of this town holds a certain fund of seven thousand five hundred and ninety-two dollars and thirty-one cents ($7,592.31) turned over to him by John L. King, former so-called railroad commissioner of the town, which fund with interest accumulated thereon, is available for the use and benefit of said town in such manner as its voters, in town meeting assembled, may deem advisable

Resolved, that the town board be authorized to use said fund and any interest accrued thereon, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in payment of charges and expenses incurred on behalf of said town in defense of the suits brought against it to recover upon certain bonds alleged to have been issued by it in aid of the New York & Oswego Midland Railroad, and in defense of the suits, brought against said King in respect of said fund and in acquiring for cancellation and destruction the said alleged bonds and coupons.

Such special town meeting will be held in the first election district at the Masonic Hall, King Ferry, and in the second election district at the store of F. C. Hagin in Genoa village.

By virtue of the provisions of Section 31 of the Town Law, no elector will be entitled to vote upon said proposition unless he or his wife is the owner of property in the town, assessed upon the last preceding assessment roll thereof.

Dated Sept. 18th, 1903.

F. C. HAGIN, Town Clerk.

Come One, Come All.

Now is your chance to secure for TEN DAYS

Bran per ton, $20.

Perfection Flour, best on the market today, $4 bbl.

Midds, Yellow Corn Meal, Hominy, Gluten, Oil Meal and Chicken Grit at correspondingly low prices.

CUSTOM GRINDING

done on one minute's notice. Satisfaction guaranteed. Buy before prices advance.

Genoa Roller Mills.

H. L. Bronson, Prop. J. H. Reas, Mgr.

Mastin's Big Store, Genoa

Our buyer Robert Mastin has just returned from New York City, after having purchased a choice line of Dry Goods, and up-to-date novelties; much larger stock in fine dress goods and trimmings to match. Big line of robes and blankets, carpets, lace curtains, oil cloth, draperies, underwear, and bake stuff. New stock of eight-day and alarm Clocks and Selverware.

While in town for the fair next week make our store your headquarters and also look for our exhibit at the fair grounds. Special prices during the fair.

Yours for a good time,

H. P. MASTIN

15 PER CENT.
THIS MEANS SOMETHING.

I have now on hand the largest stock of finished monuments ever brought together in this State. More than 2500 tons of fine marble and granite, purchased at a low price. As an inducement to dispose of a part of this stock, I offer ending October 15th, a discount of 15 per cent from regular prices. If you want anything in my line this is the opportunity to contract for it.

FOR THIRTY DAYS,

B. F. BUCHANAN,
Moravia, N. Y.

The Andes STOVES

A stove that has all the modern improvements, the best draught, an equal amount of cast iron, put together by first-class workmen, may be considered as good a stove as any. Why not?

We claim there is none better than the Andes Stoves and have a stock of them on hand to prove it; we also sell the Acorn—a good stove. Headquarters for Paints, Oils, all kinds of Hardware, and every tool the farmer needs.

☛NOBODY UNDERSELLS US.☚

F. W. MILLER, - GENOA.
AVERY'S OLD STAND.

THE FLY.

A fly,
To my eye,
Is a wonderful thing.
He buzzes about all the day on his wing—
A gossamer, flibberty, gibberty thing.
You wouldn't surmise
A thing of his size
Had strength for all of the tasks that he tries.
For instance, to-day
I was reading away
Of fairies and gnomes and the pranks that they play,
When a fly
Came by,
And then he began
On a horrible plan
Of worrying
Flurrying,
Scurrying in,
And flicking the ends of my nose and my chin,
Until I'd Like to died
With wrath and chagrin,
Now I'm a big thing—
The fly was small.
He'd flap and he'd fling,
He'd buzz and he'd sing,
While I would do nothing at all
But whack at that fly
Each time he came by,
Deep wrath in my eye;
I never could hit him however I'd try.
I whacked for two hours
With all of my powers;
And when I was done
I sat weary
And teary—
While he was as fresh as when he had begun.

—John Kendrick Bangs, in St. Nicholas.

Middle Age Station

"IT HAS only recently been dawning upon me what's the matter with me—I'm hiking along toward middle age," remarked a rotund man of 45 or so, who accomplished a great deal of roaming up and down the world before he dropped anchor and settled down about a decade and a half ago. "I hate to believe it, but it's a fact.

"The other afternoon I went into a store to buy a hat.

"'Show me some straws,' I said to the salesman.

"The salesman brought out a lot of those narrow-brimmed, soft, high-crowned straw hats that the sedate old codgers wear, for comfort more than looks.

"'Not that kind,' I said, rather impatiently to the salesman—I didn't enjoy the imputation he suggested by fetching out hats of that kind. "Wide-brimmed sailor straws, you know—something stylish—not necessarily jaunty, but—er—stylish and effective.'

"The salesman looked at me rather doubtfully.

"'Very well,' he replied, 'but the kind I've shown you are the sort that are mostly worn by settled men.'

"'Settled men!' Me a settled man! That came as a sort of shock to me, I'm bound to admit.

"'Say, how old d'ye think I am—a hundred and fourteen?' I asked the salesman.

"'Oh, no,' he replied, smiling, 'but, you know, those wide-brimmed sailor straws are generally worn by—they're more suitable for the young fellows, y'know.'

"I hadn't entirely got into the habit of classing myself as anything else but one of the young fellows, but of course I had to accept the polite salesman's verdict that I was in the fogy class—I can't say that I enjoyed it.

"But that salesman's opinion wasn't the first to nudge me along to the somewhat unpleasant realization that I'm really not one of the young fellows any more. Last winter I went into a shoe store and said, sort of off-hand, to the salesman: 'Show me some shoes, size eight,' and blamed if he didn't look me over and then fetch out four or five square-toed, very sort leather congress gaiters—those shoes with the elastic tabs at the side, you know, that old codgers wear so that they can clip 'em on and off easily. I was foolish enough to depart from that shoe store in a sort of huff, but when I thought it over and cooled out, I perceived that the shoe salesman wasn't really to blame—it was myself that was to blame for getting into the middle-age class and taking on that congress gaitery look! So I went back to the shoe store and bought my shoes there. Congress gaiters? Not much! I bought a pair of buttoned patent leathers—d'ye think I'm going to permit them to naturally force me to be middle-aged by their implications that I have reached that stage?

"I began to notice, too, awhile back, that a great many of the young fellows with whom I came into business or social contact—chaps of from 25 to 30—were falling into the habit of calling me 'sir.' I hate to own up how much that distressed me when I noticed it. I knew that I held no exalted station that would entitle me to the 'sir' business from anybody, and then I was reluctantly—great scott! how reluctantly—forced to the conclusion—beyond all doubt the correct conclusion—that the only reason why these fellows of 25 and 30 were addressing me as 'sir' was that they wanted to evince proper respect toward me as a middle-aged man! After 'sir-ring' me these same fellows would, right in my presence, rollickingly address fellows of their own age by their first names. It makes me feel like one out of the picture—like one dished. I had passed that queerly indefinable line of demarcation between the 'young fellow' and the 'settled man,' without knowing it or appreciating the significance of the change — and then, when I was forced to think it over, the knowledge of it came swooping in upon me like an avalanche—I had reached the middle age and joined the 'settled' crowd all unawares! I'll get used to it in time, no doubt—I'll have to—but it's an uncanny, measley sort of feeling at first. I fell to wondering whether, in my utter unappreciation of the fact that I had attained or was verging upon middle age, I had gone on acting too much the part of the young fellow, thus giving people the chance to criticise me for trying to keep up the bluff that I still possessed the youth that had slipped away from me without my knowing it. The thought of that chagrined me. I hate to see a middle-aged man making the foolish effort to trot along in the young fellow class—there's something humiliating to me in such a spectacle. And so, next summer, I suppose that, after all, I shall have to go one of those straw hats that are devised for the 'settled men,' and after that, mayhap, even the congress gaiters, if only to keep people from poking further fun at me under their impression that I am making frantic efforts to act and look like a young fellow after my genuine youngfellowhood had glided helplessly far behind me.

"But this forced realization of the fact that your youth has gone and that you've been thrust into the middle-aged class, takes a good many wistful little ambitions out of your life. I was a great wanderer over the face of the earth in my young manhood—did a lot of sailing before the mast to out-of-the-way corners of the world when there was no other necessity for it except that I longed to have a good, square look at the world and all parts of it. Well, since I've settled down the thing that the Germans call the 'wander-lust' has often seized me, and I have hankered to be on the move up and down the world again. The fact that I had taken a wife and had a family of children, of course, rendered any such a thing as my yielding to these impulses out of the question, but I always had a sort of hold-out in this connection.

"When I'd take my clothes off I'd get to looking at the tattooed figures on my arms, and fall to dreaming of the strange little corners of the orient that I was running into when I had those tattoo marks made with the youth's pride in such fooiish things—and then the old longing to up-anchor and get under steam again would seize me. Whereupon, of course, I'd be brought up with a round turn with the thought of my settled-down condition and my wife and children. But, even then, I'd say to myself: 'Oh, well, I'll see all of those old places again one of these days—I'll have one more good old rattling cruise in the South seas, anyhow, before I'm piped out—plenty of time, plenty of time—I'm young yet.'

"And I was still giving entertainment to these vague dreams when the realization was forced upon me that I was a middle-aged man, that middle-aged men are not for the wandering game; that the old reckless years had long gone and were worse than hull down on the horizon—and then it was borne in upon me that that little wistful hold-out of mine as to again seeing the strange, out-of-the-way corners of the earth was the merest fantasy—that, as a matter of fact, there wasn't 'plenty of time,' as I had been so fondly imagining—no time for anything except to make up my mind that I was a fogy, and, as a fogy, shelved and settled down for good and all!

"Middle age has its compensations, you say? Yes. Uh-huh. So I've heard. But give me just one week out of one of those old, wild, untrammeled years, and I'll give you five years of the middle age that's upon me in exchange!"—Washington Star.

HERMIT IN CROWDED CITY.

Resident of Syracuse, N. Y., Has Not Been Downtown in Thirty Years.

A veritable Rip Van Winkle has been discovered in Syracuse, N. Y., who, although living but a short walk from the business center, has not been downtown in 30 years, and has seen none of the new sky scrapers and business blocks which adorn Syracuse. His name is Paul Hesley. He is a well man, and has not taken any vow to thus seclude himself. Moreover, he has possession of all his faculties, is well read and intelligent. A few days ago he was "dug up" by an automobilist and taken for a spin through the city. He has lived here 55 years, and was in lower South Salina street but a very few times during all this time.

The reason Mr. Hesley gives for this strange, secluded life is this: "When I was young I had to work so steadily that I didn't have time to go around and see things, and now that I am old, I don't care much about it." After his trip he said:

"Syracuse is certainly a growing town. This seems like going thousands of miles away from home."

The old man spends all his time clock-making and hoeing in the garden. He is perfectly contented to stay at home. Living almost around the corner from the magnificent new high school which the city has just erected, he never saw the building, either completed or in process of erection, until he took his automobile trip. Another strange feature of the case is that he keeps in touch with the progress of the city by means of the newspapers, but he never has any curiosity to see things for himself.

Especially Forbidden.

Commenting on the fact that the khedive of Egypt, on his recent trip to Europe, rode from Calais to Paris on a locomotive in preference to the special car provided for him, the Frankfurter Zeitung remarks that since Ferdinand of Bulgaria made such a trip from Salzburg to Munich, locomotive rides by royal personages have been officially forbidden on German railways because of the danger of distracting the engineer's attention.

Florida's orange and pineapple crop is estimated at $2,500,000.

What is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c at A. E. Clark's drug store, King Ferry, N. Y.

THEY WERE EXTRAVAGANT.

Wasted Too Much Ammunition to Accomplish an Object That Was Easy.

"There will never be war without flying artillery," said an ex-member of the famous Loomis battery of this state, relates the Detroit Free Press, "but you can take my word for it that the moral effect is a heap greater than the practical. I have seen grape and cannister used with terrible effect, but as an offset let me tell you a little story. In one of the fights preceding the battle of Murfresboro we were ordered to shell a force of confederates out of a certain piece of woods. I don't know who discovered them there, but our six pieces went into action and made things hot. We fired 20 rounds to a piece, and the shells burst beautifully. When it was apparent that we had slaughtered a regiment or two, the infantry advanced to hold the position. They expected to come across hundreds of dead men, but they didn't find one. A hundred trees had been rent and riven, and a hundred tons of soil had been thrown sky-high, but there was not even a wounded man. They did find one living one, however. He had been left behind to keep watch of us, and he had not deserted his post. As our infantry came up he crawled out from a hole under the roots of a stump and asked:

"'Now, then, what do you'uns want?'

"'We want to make you prisoner,' replied an officer.

"'Is that what all the shootin' has bin fur?'

"'Yes.'

"'Then let me tell yo' that yo' pesky Yankees ar' so mighty extravagant that yo' won't have a dratted cent left when this yere wah is half over.'"

Starting in Time.

"Shall I have to get married when I grow up?" asked little Flossie one day of her mother.

"Just as you please, dear," answered her mother, with a smile. "Most women do, however."

"Yes, I suppose so," continued the little girl, musingly, "and I think I'd better start and look out for a husband now. They say that Aunt Jane has been at it for 20 years, and hasn't caught one yet."—Tit-Bits.

THE GENOA GRADED SCHOOL,

J. J. O'Neil, Principal.
Alice T. Haskell, Assistant.
Flora Alling, Primary.

Fall Term Begins Sept. 14th.

The people of all of this section of country are coming more and more to realize and appreciate the fact that the Genoa School is

A First-Class School.

That it is fully equipped for efficient work, and that the faculty is alive to all which tends to make a good school. Adequate reference library; rooms renovated and building thoroughly repaired this season. Apply for tuition rates, etc.

Dr. J. W. Skinner,
President Board of Trustees.

"1847 Rogers Bros."
"Silver Plate that Wears."

MAKE SURE OF THE "1847" IF YOU WISH THE GENUINE AND ORIGINAL

Rogers Knives, Forks, Spoons, etc.

They can be purchased of leading dealers. For catalogue No. 162 address the makers
INTERNATIONAL SILVER CO.,
Meriden, Conn.

HOMER
Steam Marble and Granite Works
JOSEPH WATSON & CO.,

—Manufacturers of and Dealers in—

MONUMENTS, HEADSTONES and LOT INCLOSURES

In Foreign and American Granite and Marble.

In buying direct from the manufacturers you save the middleman's profit. By giving our work personal attention we guarantee the best of work and material. We are practical workmen and designers, and furnish original and special designs with estimates on application.

JOSEPH WATSON CO.
HOMER, N. Y.

EYE TALK.
The scientific Examination of the Eye by artificial light is the latest up-to-date method. If you want perfect-fitting glasses consult me about your eye sight. Established 1873.
Clarence Sherwood
The Jeweler and Optician, has moved to No. 69½ Genesee Street, Auburn,

Glasses for Reading or Sewing should not be worn more than THREE YEARS

without a change of lenses.

If you have worn yours longe than that you should have Fred L. Swart, our eyesight specialist fit your eyes with a new pair.

Cossman & Swart,
The Eye-Fitters
92 Genesee-St., Auburn, N.Y.

We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign
PATENTS
send model, sketch or photo of invention for free report on patentability. For free book How to Secure Patents and TRADE-MARKS write to CASNOW & Co.
Opposite U. S. Patent Office
WASHINGTON D. C.

J. WILL TREE,
BOOK BINDING
ITHACA.

Orders taken at THE GENOA TRIBUNE office.

E. C. HILLMAN, Levanna,
Agent for the Old and Tried Glens Falls Insurance Company, will be in Genoa and vicinity each month to look after his patrons' interests. Represents five good companies.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

☞ Bring your legal printing to this office; we can save you money on it.

Notice to Creditors.

BY virtue of an Order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is Hereby Given that all persons having claims against the estate of William E. Miller, late of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executrices, &c. of said deceased, at the residence of Jessie Hoskins, in town of Scipio, County of Cayuga, on or before the 17th day of October, 1903.

Dated April 3, 1901.

ADDIE L. MILLER,
JESSIE M. HOSKINS,
Executrices,

Joel S. Jennings Attorney, Moravia.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Thomas Gormon, late of Genoa, Cayuga county, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, administratrices, &c., of said deceased, at the Citizens Bank of Locke, town of Locke, county of Cayuga, on or before the 5th day of October, 1903.

Dated April 1, 1903.

ANNIE J. GORMON,
SARA L. GORMON, } Administratrices

S. Edwin Day, Attorney, Moravia.

A Pointer to Our Readers.

To secure special attention when you trade with our advertisers, tell them you read their advertisement in THE TRIBUNE.

Here It Is! What?

A line of Dr. Daniels' Horse Remedies that are convenient, safe and reliable. Pure Drugs and Medicines of all kinds. Fine Stationery, choice Confectionery and Tobacco.

Banker's Pharmacy,
GENOA.

Nothing has ever equalled it.
Nothing can ever surpass it.

Dr. King's New Discovery
For CONSUMPTION COUGHS and COLDS Price 50c & $1.00

A Perfect Cure: For All Throat and Lung Troubles.

Money back if it fails. Trial Bottles free.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

DR. DAY,
Graduated Specialist.

Specialties:
Catarrh and Diseases of the Lungs & Throat,
Liver and Sexual Organs. Also Positive Cure of the Liquor, Morphine or Opium Habit.
Cured at Your Own Homes.

EXAMINATIONS FREE AT THE Osborne House, Auburn,
MONDAY, Sept. 14, 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.
Goodrich House, Moravia,
TUESDAY, Sept. 15, 9 a m to 5 p m
Clinton House, Ithaca,
WEDNESDAY, Sept. 16, 9 a m to 8 p m
And every four weeks thereafter. At his home office, 211 Powers block, Rochester, every Saturday & Sunday. Treatment if desired, not to exceed $2 per week. Special instruments for examining the lungs heart, liver and kidneys.

CURED HIMSELF.
Pronounced by his medical brethren an incurable consumptive, he was led to experiment with certain drugs and chemicals to save his own life. That he succeeded in doing and since then has cured hundreds of cases that were pronounced incurable.

WEAKNESS OF MEN AND WOMEN treated with a prescription procured while in Paris from one of the ablest French specialists, that has proven a sure cure for all weaknesses from whatever cause, of the sexual organs of male or female patients. A sure remedy at an expense not to exceed $8 per week.

TESTIMONIALS.
While we have hundreds of them of the highest character, we seldom publish one. But few responsible parties desire them published. We invite all call and read references and testimonials of the best you can refer to or are known to you in your town. Consultation free and private.
J. W. DAY, M. D., L. L. D.

A Manager Wanted.

A Business Opportunity

We want a bright business man to take the management of our Newspaper Subscription Agency. This work can be conducted in connection with any office work. Many people have made a handsome fortune out of the Newspaper Subscription Business. WHY NOT YOU? We propose to establish branches of our Agency all over the United States and Canada.

Write To-day for Particulars

We have a valuable business now established in every County throughout EVERY State; all this business will be turned over to our manager. Our catalogue will be printed with your name and address on the front cover as manager. Our offers will be your offers and you will be allowed a liberal commission. Only think of the people in your own town and County taking papers and magazines by mail. All this business would bring you in a handsome profit. It is yours, with our assistance. Write us to-day and we will tell you all about our plan and you can start work at once. Now is the time, so do not delay. Our business will pay from $800.200 to $1,00.00 per year. OTHERS ARE MAKING IT, WHY NOT YOU.

You are requested to answer the following questions by letter;

Application For Agency.

State of................County.............Town of ....

Full name.......................................Married or single?............Age?........

Present occupation?..............How long have you been in this business? ....

What was your former occupation?....................How long engaged?..........

Have you ever failed?........What education have you had?......................

Name your references?...

Are you willing to give bonds?.........What is your financial worth? $............

SIGNED ....

The Grumiaux News and Subscription Co.,

LE ROY, N. Y., U. S. A.

If you are not interested or do not happen to have a son who would take up this work, you may know of someone who has.

TILE! TILE!

All sizes of tile now on hand. Come any time and get what you want.

GENOA BRICK & TILE CO.

..OUR BIG FAIR..

will be held at

...GENOA, N. Y...

September, 22, 23, 24, 1903.

Purses and Premiums, $2000

100 Valuable Specials--

Nearly $400 in value.

Fast Racing Daily-$800 in Purses.

The Miller Silver Band plays every day at the fair.

Ball Game Each Day at 10 a. m.

Don't Miss the Baby Show on Thursday at 11:00 a. m.

Liberal Ticket System. Send for Premium List.

J. H. Reas, Pres. F. Sullivan, Secy.

Didn't Worry Her.

"Doesn't it make you angry when folks twit you about your failure to acquire a husband?" asked the girl who was doing her first season.

"Not me," replied the philosophical spinster. "It is better to be laughed at because you are not married than not to be able to laugh because you are."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Unreasonable.

Doctor—Walker is the most unreasonable man I ever saw.

Friend—Yes?

Doctor—I set his little boy's broken arm, and now Walker refuses to pay me merely because it happened to be my automobile than ran over the boy.—Judge.

Tender One Preferred.

Brannigan—The doctor told me to get a porous plasther for me stomach.

Druggist—Yes, sir; what sort do you want?

Brannigan—'Tis little I care what sort it is so long as 'tis aisily digested.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Not Qualified.

Southern—I've been thinking seriously of employing a female bill collector.

Nixon—Take my advice and don't.

Southern—Because why?

Nixon—Because according to the old adage "a woman's work is never dun."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Ought to Beat Sandow.

Madison—Do you believe that in union there is strength?

Dearborn—I certainly do.

"Well, Wabash ought to be a pretty powerful man. I understand he's been married six times."—Yonkers Statesman.

No Chance to Spoon.

Bride—What is the brakeman lighting the lamps for?

Bridegroom—We are coming to a tunnel, my dear.

Bride—But what's the use of tunnels if they light the lamps?—Judge.

The Usual Way.

"A man gets very little credit for what he does in this world," sighed the Mount Auburn citizen.

"Yes," rejoined the Norwood philosopher, "but he gets a lot of blame for what he doesn't."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Professional Knowledge.

"Dr. Wise calls his new yacht 'Paregoric,'" said the commodore.

"Odd name. Why?" asked the captain.

"Says it is so good in squalls," answered the commodore.—Judge.

Just So.

Little Elmer (who has an inquiring mind)—Papa, which bone was it that was taken from Adam to make a woman of?

Prof. Broadhead—The bone of contention, my son.—Town Topics.

Good Neighbors.

"Do you think those new people will make good neighbors?"

"Oh, delightful. Why, I can see already that they're going to do enough scandalous things to keep us in gossip all winter."—Chicago Post.

Ambiguities of Parrot Talk.

Ida—That parrot is always saying "Sit close."

May—Yes. It's hard to say whether his former owner was a street car conductor or a young lady keeping regular company.—St. Louis Star.

An Ice Cream Vacuum.

Oh, women are queer; in the hot evening dark,
Sat Judy and Jane on a bench in the park;
Long sat there and chatted, with joy incomplete,
For each was expecting the other to treat.
—Detroit Free Press.

THE ROMANTIC FEMININE.

"Ah, Eddurd, could we but fly, fly away!"

"Gee, I wisht we wuz turkey buzzards!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Man from Chicago.

"Yes, he told me he was not a marrying man."

"Why, he's been married three times."

"But they don't call that anything in Chicago."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Two Opinions.

She—No matter how smart a man is he is sure to meet some other man who is smarter.

He—Yes; and about 10,000 women who think they are.—Chicago Daily News.

What Did She Mean?

Mrs. Auger—I can't see why my husband should be jealous of me.

Her Friend—No one can, my dear.—Judge.

A Future Millionaire.

Teacher—How much is eight times 40?

Boy—Three dollars and 20 cents.—Judge.

BOOL'S BEDS

A Long Look

will not be necessary in order to see the value of those metal beds that we are selling at $4.00.

Likewise the springs and mattresses that we are selling at undervalue.

You may spend more money elsewhere, but you cannot find better values. They are not to be had.

H. J. BOOL CO. Housefurnishers.

Opposite Tompkins Co. Bank, Ithaca, N Y.

ROTHSCHILD BROS. DEPARTMENT STORES

Popular Department Stores of 25 Different Departments, where you can trade under one roof, making it convenient.

Our past ten days' sale has illustrated to those that have taken advantage of it, that it pays to shop where the values are the best and service the best. It's the liberal patronage that has made our store what it is today? Our success we attribute to the principles we have adhered to from the beginning, carrying as large and carefully selected stock of merchandise as may be found in any city of even much larger size, charging lower prices for same goods than other cities of larger size, prompt willingness to refund and make exchanges when goods are not satisfactory, liberal and truthful advertising, a constant effort to please our patrons, study their wants and perfect our services, the introduction of the most modern and simple methods of transacting business, small profits and many sales, rather than large profits and few sales.

We extend our invitation to you where you will find inducements to your liking—to our liberal offerings.

New arrivals daily of Dress Goods, Domestics, Linens, Carpets, Rugs, Draperies, Lace Curtains, Cloaks, Suits, etc. It pays others to trade at our stores. It will pay you.

Rothschild Brothers, Ithaca

THE GENOA FAIR
SEPTEMBER 22, 23, 24, 1903

PEARSON'S MAGAZINE For 1903

Here are a few of the features now running or soon to appear. Their titles and authors speak for themselves and insure interesting reading:

The Picaroons—A Romance of Roguery, by GELETT BURGESS and WILL IRWIN.

Sir Henry Morgan—Buccaneer, by CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY.

True Political Stories—include The Plot to Kidnap Lincoln and Jackson's Quarrel with Calhoun, by EDWARD VALLANDIGHAM.

People You Know—Roosevelt in College, by EVERT JANSEN WENDELL; My First Graduate—Theodore Roosevelt, by ARTHUR H. CUTLER; Tom Nast—Cartoonist, by ALBERT BIGELOW PAINE.

Startling Disclosures of European Courts—These sensational revelations of an international spy throw light on the Dreyfus Mystery; The Peace Rescript of the Czar; Who Really Killed King Humbert; The Late Greek-Turkish War.

Mainly About Women—Reviewing each month what woman has accomplished individually and by organized effort.

Jerome vs. Crime—The thrilling story of how District Attorney William Travers Jerome has undertaken, single handed, the desperate task of ridding New York City of its vice and crime, will create a far-reaching sensation. It is not possible for this story to be told in its entirety at once. The first portion will appear in April PEARSON'S, out March 15th, while the two remaining installments will appear in the issues of May and June.

BOOK BARGAINS

Every PEARSON subscriber enjoys a special privilege of buying standard books at exceptionally low prices. This plan includes practically the entire fiction product of every American book publisher. Special bargains, the following being specimens, will be offered each month.

Special Offer Subscribe now and get any volume of the following HISTORICAL CELEBRITIES FREE

1. Alfred the Great	9. Genghis Khan	17. Charles I.	25. Madame Roland
2. Margaret of Anjou	10. Peter the Great	18. Charles II.	26. Marie Antoinette
3. Richard I.	11. Xerxes	19. Mary Queen of Scots	27. Henry IV.
4. Richard II.	12. Hannibal	20. Queen Elizabeth	28. Hernando Cortez
5. William the Conqueror	13. Julius Cæsar	21. Richard III.	29. Joseph Bonaparte
6. Alexander the Great	14. Nero	22. Cleopatra	30. King Philip
7. Cyrus the Great	15. Pyrrhus	23. Hortense	31. Louis XIV.
8. Darius the Great	16. Romulus	24. Josephine	32. Louis Philippe

Order by number. Sets are broken only for PEARSON'S subscribers.

These histories have heretofore been sold only in complete sets—regular price, $16.00. PEARSON'S subscribers may secure single volumes at 35 cents, postage prepaid by us, and by ordering in this way may very conveniently complete the set.

Abraham Lincoln's opinion of these Historical Celebrities: "I want to thank you and your brother for Abbott's Series of Histories. I have not education enough to appreciate the profound works of voluminous historians; and if I had I have no time to read them. But your Series of Histories gives me, in brief compass, just that knowledge of past men and events which I need. I have read them with the greatest interest. To them I am indebted for about all the historical knowledge I have."

These World Famous Novels originally issued at delivered, carriage free, to PEARSON'S Subscribers at

$1.50

49 CENTS EACH

ALL CLOTH BOUND

The Maid of Maiden Lane, A. E. Barr
The Making of a Marchioness, Frances Hodgson Burnett
The Methods of Lady Walderhurst, Frances Hodgson Burnett
Tristram of Blent, Anthony Hope
Wolfville Days, Alfred Henry Lewis
In the Midst of Alarms, Robert Barr
Janice Meredith, Paul Leicester Ford
Blennerhassett, Chas. Felton Pidgin
Quincy Adams Sawyer, " "
Via Crucis, F. Marion Crawford
Saracinesca, " "
In the Palace of the King, " "
Second Thoughts of an Idle Fellow, J. K. Jerome
King Noanett, F. J. Stimson
The Nerve of Foley, F. H. Spearman
The Fowler, Beatrice Harraden
Manders, Elwyn Barron
The Bath Comedy, A. and E. Castle
Graustark, G. B. McCutcheon
Col. Carter of Cartersville, F. H. Smith
Wolfville, A. H. Lewis
Forty Modern Fables, George Ade
Mr. Dooley's Philosophy, F. P. Dunne
The Wages of Sin, Lucas Malet
Marcella, Mrs. Humphry Ward
In the Name of a Woman, A. W. Marchmont
The Castle Inn, Stanley J. Weyman
The New Rector, " "
Sentimental Tommy, J. M. Barrie
The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, Doyle
A Gentleman of France, Stanley J. Weyman

A War Time Wooing, Capt. Chas. King
The Soul of Lilith, Marie Corelli
The Sorrows of Satan, " "
Ziska, " "
The Prisoner of Zenda, Anthony Hope
A Lady of Quality, Frances Hodgson Burnett
In Connection with the De Willoughby Claim, Frances Hodgson Burnett
Dross, Henry Seton Merriman
With Edged Tools, " "
The Sowers, " "
The Damnation of Theron Ware, Harold Frederic
Agatha Webb, Anna Katharine Green
Jessamy Bride, F. Frankfort Moore
The Greatest Gift, A. W. Marchmont
A Dash for a Throne, " "
By Right of Sword, " "
Soldier Stories, Rudyard Kipling
The Gadfly, E. L. Voynich

For the Freedom of the Sea, Brady
A Man's Woman, Frank Norris
The Lion's Brood, Duffield Osborne
In the Forest, Maximilian Foster
Doom Castle, Neil Munro
The Worldlings, Leonard Merrick
In Hostile Red, J. A. Altsheler
McTeague, Frank Norris
Elder Boise, Everett Tomlinson
A King's Pawn, Hamilton Drummond
Masters of Men, Morgan Robertson
The Autocrats, Chas. K. Lush
Captain Dieppe, Anthony Hope
Heart's Highway, Mary E. Wilkins
On the Wing of Occasions, Joel Chandler Harris
Dracula, Bram Stoker
Arms and the Woman, H. MacGrath
The Isle of the Winds, S. R. Crockett
The Lady of Castell March, Owen Rhoscomyl
The Professor's Daughter, Anna Farquhar
A Modern Mercenary, K. and Hesketh Pritchard
The Black Douglas, S. R. Crockett
The Good Red Earth, Eden Phillpotts
The Backwoodsman, H. A. Stanley
Road to Frontenac, Samuel Merwin
Joscelyn Cheshire, Sarah B. Kennedy
The Black Wolf's Breed, [illegible]
The Choir Invisible, James L. Allen
The Landlord at Lion's Head, W. D. Howells
The Road to Paris, R. N. Stephens
An Enemy to the King, " "
A Gentleman Player, " "

PEARSON'S costs 10 cents a copy or $1.00 a year. [illegible] We will mail you a prospectus free upon application. Subscribe now and enjoy all these good things.

PEARSON PUBLISHING COMPANY, 30 Astor Place, New York City

THE VILLAGE NOTES

—The Democratic caucus is called for next Tuesday at two o'clock at Hotel DeWitt.

—Landlord Carson has some men engaged in repairing the steam heating apparatus at the hotel.

—There is no law to compel a man to patronize home industry, but common sense ought to show him it is far better for him in more ways than one.

—A first class game of ball will be one of the interesting features of the fair next week. The Moravia boys come over the first day, Ithaca the second and Aurora the third day. These teams are all playing good ball this season and all lovers of this great game should arrange to see the whole series. Remember also there will be dancing each evening at the rink for all who care to indulge.

—The carpenter work at the fair grounds is completed. Soon the tents, etc., will be in position and things begin to look like business. All who desire to lend a hand in hustling the work along should not hesitate to apply to the secretary or president. There is plenty to do and only a few to do it, and any person interested in the fair and the village should feel free to take hold and help. The grandstand is a model and should be well filled each day. Indications point to a large exhibit of live stock as well as other wares and goods. Let all who can join in the work the next few days and make the fair a success in every way.

—There was a small attendance at the Republican caucus Tuesday afternoon. C. A. Ames was made chairman and F. C. Hagin and J. H. Reas inspectors. The following delegates were elected to the county convention: Edwin A. Avery, Willis Atwater, Francis Hollister, Alfred Lanterman, D. W. Smith, C. A. Ames and Arthur S. Mead. Assembly convention: F. A. Dudley, James I. Young, George W. Atwater, Bert R. Smith, LaMott Close, Will McAllister and Frank Gillispie; general committeeman, Lee Hewitt; town committee, E. A. Avery, John A. Mead and F. C. Hagin.

—The Citizens Bank of Locke buys and sells mortgages on real property.

DR. MILLER,

Eye Specialist and Optician,

Graduate of two colleges of opthalmology, three years' experience in New York eye clinics and 11 years' practice, will be on his regular visit at the Kendall House,

King Ferry, Sept. 26,

from 8 a. m. to 12, and Carson House,

Genoa, Sept. 24 and 25th and every month thereafter. Eyes scientifically examined; glasses accurately fitted; necessary changes made without further charge; satisfactory results assured. We have succeeded in fitting glasses where others have tried it and failed Many people suffer from chronic headache, not realizing it is a reflex action of eye strain though the vision is normal.

Call at the hotel parlor; or if it is not convenient to do so, upon notification he will call at your residence Home office: Miller Optical Co., 903 Almond street, Syracuse.

SOUVENIR DAY,

SATURDAY SEPT. 19th.

On the above date we will present to every purchaser to the amount of twenty-five (25c) or more a pretty

BLUE AND WHITE JAPANESE BOWL.

This is given absolutely free of charge and in addition to the tickets usually given.

On the above date to each purchaser of 1 lb. of baking powder we will give a COMBINATION STEAM COOKER.

This cooker comes in three parts, is 10½ inches high when the parts are together, and 8¾ inches in diameter. All up-to-date cooks use them. Be sure toget this cooker and a souvenir next Saturday.

Grand Union Tea Co.

95 Genesee St., Auburn, N.Y.

Bilious?

Dizzy? Headache? Pain back of your eyes? It's your liver! Use Ayer's Pills.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Use

Buckingham's Dye

50 cts. of druggists or from R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N.H.

HAD ARRANGED WITH HIM.

Messenger Boy Speedily ... Rival Who Was a ... ment to Progress

Owing to the illness of his regular office boy a Wall street broker recently engaged a new lad named Tommy. Tommy was a jewel and when Joe, the former incumbent, was convalescent the broker was loath to send Tommy away. But the other boy wanted to come back and pleaded hard for reinstatement, relates the New York Press.

"Well," said the former employer, "you can have the position again if you can arrange with Tommy."

"Very well, sir. I think I can do that," was the joyous reply.

When the broker went to his office next morning he met a sight he had not bargained for. The glass in the door of his private room was smashed, ink was spilled on the handsome carpet and chairs were overturned everywhere. Evidently there had been a tremendous struggle. But Joe came forward blithely, one eye blackened and his cheek swollen.

"Tommy's gone, sir," he remarked. "I've arranged with him."

UNITEDSTATES HORSES.

A Few Years Ago They Were Valued at Eleven Hundred Million Dollars.

The United States is the greatest horse producing country in the world. At this time, therefore, when other agencies are coming into competition with horses for many purposes, and are being substituted for horses in many others, it is proper for us to consider what it is wise to do in order that there shall not be too serious losses in an industry as great as it is widespread and interesting, writes John Gilmer Speed, in Century. A few years ago the horses in the United Stats were valued at $1,100,000,000. Business depression, together with the competition and substitutions referred to, depreciated this stock more than one-half. But there has been an appreciation within a few years, owing to business revival and ensuing prosperity, so that the value of the horses in the country had risen more than $200,000,000 at the end of the last fiscal year, June, 1902, from what the value was at the low water mark referred to.

Stenographers on Steamships.

Business men going across the Atlantic often take with them scores of unanswered letters. For the convenience of such hurried travelers one steamship company has engaged young women stenographers, who take replies to such letters and then typewrite them, thus giving the busy man much more time for real enjoyment on the voyage.

Many Envying the Few.

There are 70,000 children in New York who cannot go to school because there are not sufficient rooms, and, remarks the Detroit Free Press, about 700,000 more who are deliriously envious of ...

The Spiteful Girl Again.

May—Blanche says she had four proposals last season.

Bess—What a blissful thing day dreams are to some people!—Brooklyn Life.

Unsatisfactory Assurance.

He—There seems to be quite a coolness between them.

She—Oh, yes. He told her she was the only girl he ever loved platonically. —Judge.

The Modern Way.

Mrs. Knicker—Aren't you glad your children are all settled?

Mrs. Bocker—Yes, indeed; they're all happily divorced now.—Puck.

Getting Him Classed.

"Pa, who was Napoleon?"

"He was the J. Pierpont Morgan of his time."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The New York World,

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION. THE MOST WIDELY READ NEWSPAPER IN AMERICA.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a-Week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is in fact almost a daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it.

Republican and Democrat alike can read the Thrice-a Week World with absolute confidence in its truth.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fireside.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together one year for $1.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

Will also send both papers on trial subscriptions, 6 months for 90 cents or 3 months for 50 cents.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes

one size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. It makes tight or new shoes easy; gives instant relief to corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Cures and prevents swollen feet, blisters, callous and sore spots. Allen's Foot-Ease is a certain cure for sweating, hot, aching feet. At all druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

WANTED—Capable young men and women for responsible, paying business positions. Address

ROCHESTER BUSINESS INSTITUTE,

Rochester, N. Y.

G. W. RICHARDSON & SON.

Leading Furniture Merchants,
Dealers in Draperies, Carpets and Artistic Wall Decorations.

The name is familiar throughout the Country, made so by the wonderful Achievement in the House Furnishing Line, which is the result of over nine decades of experience.

Prices are reasonable as is consistent with the best workmanship and a quality worthy of the house.

On advice as to requirements and limits of price; we will send to responsible parties Photographs, Cuts or other descriptions in detail.

Dealers in all kinds of Furniture.

Latest Designs in Draperies, Lace Curtains and Decorative Novelties.

Carpets in all grades, at all prices.

There are few stocks of Wall Paper which excel ours.

SOUTH AND EXCHANGE STS., AUBURN, N. Y.

My Closing Out Sale

continues and the goods are going at greatly reduced prices. There are plenty of bargains in ladies' and misses' footwear and a nice assortment of dry goods and furnishings. The sooner you call, the better bargains you will find, because the goods have got to go.

A Stock of New Fall Millinery.

has just been received and the assortment is fine as usual. All wants in the millinery line will be promptly and satisfactorily met until the sale closes. For the correct fall styles call on

Mrs. G. W. Davis, Genoa.

☞A six octave Ithaca organ in good condition for sale very cheap.

To Cure a Cold in One Day Cures Grip in Two Days.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. E. W. Grove on every box. 25c.

Seven Million boxes sold in past 12 months. This signature,

STAND BYS.

Nothing that we can't stand by comes into our repository, or goes out of it. Our reputation stands behind everything we sell, we have in stock every type of vehicle for which there could possibly be a demand. They are all from the best factories and we know them so well that we are willing to to take all the chances of pleasing and satisfying you. We are gaining new customers every day—Better investigate the reason.

W. Harvey Kelley,

"Right All Wrongs." (Our Motto.) 26 E. Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

THE GENOA FAIR

SEPTEMBER 22, 23, 24, 1903

The Tribune Clubbing Rates for 1903-04 will surprise you.