NEWS ABOUT THE STATE

Paragraphs of the Week's Happenings Clipped from the Tribune's Exchanges.

Ezek W. Hoff of Union Springs has been granted an increase of pension from $10 to $12.

While Moravia a few months ago had no hotels now three hostleries are running full blast.

Carpenters have begun work on L. H. Hewitt's new house at Locke, and it will be completed as soon as possible.

Dr. Day's next visit to Moravia will be on December 11, when he will be at the Goodrich House from 9 to 6 o'clock.

Dairy inspectors rounded up twelve farmers in the vicinity of Fulton who were milking their cows and pumps in the same pail.

A judgment for $537.38 in favor of Nina M. Culver in an action against George Culver was filed in the county clerk's office Saturday.

Olney P. Christler, motorman of the ill-fated Cortland and Homer trolley car, has been arrested charged with manslaughter in the second degree.

The Cortland Standard wants a load of horse hay on subscription. In contradistinction from timothy hay, or clover hay, just what is "horse hay" anyway?

The office of the Aiton Enterprise was partially destroyed by fire Friday morning. F. M. Spooner, formerly of the Brookfield Courier, is the owner of the plant.

It is rumored that Paul Whitmarsh of Cuyler, who is with the army in Manila, has been killed in battle. It seems to be impossible at this time to verify the report.

Milwaukee has offered $50,000 for the Democratic national convention. It would have to dispense something like an ocean of its most conspicuous product to recoup itself on that outlay.

In the opinion of former Senator Ingalls of Kansas, woman is man's natural enemy. If that be true, how faithfully does man obey the scriptural injunction to "love your enemy."

Sunday gunning is prohibited by law, but there are persons who are wholly indifferent to all restraints of this kind. They take the chances of arrest and punishment for violation of the law.

Postmaster F. J. Enz of Ithaca has sold his interest in the business of the large paper warehouse firm of Enz & Miller, to his partner, Thomas G. Miller. The change in the firm takes place January 1st.

A Joint Teachers' Association of Tompkins and Cayuga Counties will meet at Groton Dec. 16. Every teacher in these two districts is requested to prepare an exhibit consisting of the regular work of the school.

Jason H. Newkirk, who recently died at Canastota, was a hero of the civil war. He captured Gen. Fitzhugh Lee while on picket duty and conducted him to the Union camp where he was soon exchanged.

The Locke Times has greatly increased its proportions and astonishes its readers by appearing as a six column quarto. It beats all how the wave of prosperity rolls through that valley from Locke to Freeville.

The bann was read by Rev. J. F. Nelligan at St. Michael's church Sunday morning of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Kate B. Brennan and Michael McGrath, both of Union Springs.

Mallery Bros. of Worcester, Otsego Co., who are extensive dealers in honey, are shipping large quantities of the toothsome product. This has been an exceptionally poor year for honey, yet they gathered five tons for market purpose. Last year their output was about 15 tons.

Female ushers in churches are appointed in many of the New Jersey towns and it works very successfully. There is no good reason why a church should not secure the co-operation of its lady members as ushers. There are under ordinary circumstances four lady attendants at church to one man.

We notice in our exchanges that the Masonic Temple in New York City is likely to be sold and another built further up town. The present property, corner of 23d street and 6th avenue, is far more valuable than it was when the Temple was erected. It is located in the center of the heavy retail business of the city, and could be sold at a substantial advance over first cost. The money it would bring could be invested in a building which would yield a larger rental and still give ample room to all the Masonic bodies occupying it.

Editor Bird of Sidney has received a proposition from a party of Binghamtonians to accompany them to the Paris exposition in the capacity of interpreter and guide. The offer is an enviable one and doubtless will be accepted.

Howard Hardacre, a pressman employed in the printing department of the Mills seed house at Skaneateles was fatally injured Saturday afternoon by being drawn into the press between the rolls up to his hips and crushing his legs.

Joseph Agostine, a New York commission dealer who made a specialty of hops, failed last week, with liabilities amounting to half a million dollars or so. It is stated that a number of prominent farmers in the vicinity of Cooperstown are losers.

Edgar B. Mosher of Auburn, school commissioner and secretary of the Birdsall company, was robbed while he slept in a New York hotel on Wednesday night, last week. The thieves chloroformed him and secured about $100.

A large barn belonging to Henry Howes, situated near DeRuyter, was burned early Tuesday morning, the fire being caused by an explosion of a lantern. A large quantity of hay and wool was also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $6,000 with an insurance of $4,000.

In the recent fighting in South Africa the loss of officers was alarming. Their distinguishing uniforms making them a conspicuous mark for sharpshooters. Gen. Buller has ordered his officers to carry guns and dress like privates. If this had been done in the last fighting in Luzon many valuable lives would have been saved.

Charles H. Adams of Philadelphia, formerly of Union Springs, is organizing a personally conducted Paris exposition tour in 1900, sailing June 2 by the North-German Lloyd Express steamer, Kaiser Wilhelm II, via Mediterranean, the popular Southern route. Passing the Azores by Gibraltar to Naples. Apply to Adams & Sons, 14 South Broad street, Philadelphia.

When LaPearl's circus stranded at Geneva last summer a young man dropped into town and gave his name as Wm. Bannister, claiming to hail from Australia. He got work at the canning factory, won and married an 18-year-old girl against the wish of her father. Last Saturday he was arrested for bigamy. When confronted with wife No. 1, he swore he never saw her. She identified him as her husband and said both his arms were tattooed "W. L." When stripped the letters were found as she claimed, and now he boards in Canandaigua jail.

The members of the Auburn District Conference which convened in Ledyard recently are loud in their praise of the people of the Ledyard church. Entertainment for all the delegates was most generously afforded, and on Wednesday the ladies of the church served a chicken-pie dinner in the church parlors, and also at 5 p. m., a veritable wedding feast including all the delicacies common upon such occasions. Yellow legged chickens were very much in evidence and ministers are never known to turn away from such a spread until they are obliged to. A more hospitable people cannot be found, and all their kindnesses were duly appreciated by the delegates present.

NEIGHBORHOOD VILLAGES

The Happenings of the Week in Our Sister Villages.—News Correspondences.

Venice.

Nov. 26.—The cold weather makes us think that winter is coming.

Mansfield Hoagland and wife were in Auburn Friday.

Cards have been received announcing the wedding of Miss Alice Coffin to John Fish of Ithaca. Their many friends extend congratulations.

The unusual high price paid for hay keeps the hay presses busy. Robert Armstrong keeps his press humming.

Floyd Lisk and Miss Ethel Main of Ledyard were calling on friends here Sunday.

North Lansing.

Nov. 27.—Miss Matie Wheat of Moravia spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Edith Brooks.

Mrs. R. Havens of Ludlowville is visiting her son, W. S. Havens.

Wm. Gilfillan spent several days at North Rose last week.

A Ladies' Aid will be held with Mrs. P. J. Williams on Friday, Dec. 1.

A Christmas wheel to receive the presents will be the novelty to call the crowd at the Methodist church.

The highway to Locke is in a very bad condition, in fact, it is a disgrace to any civilized community. The people in the district are not to blame as they have faithfully worked their time, but the excessive amount of heavy travel upon it has put it and keeps it in a terrible condition. Our commissioner should see to this road, otherwise the town may have some heavy damages to pay.

King Ferry.

Miss Anna Bacon of Mt. Morris was a guest of Mrs. Woodworth and Mrs. Grinnell last week.

Our village school has closed for a vacation of one week.

Mrs. McLaughlin of Rochester is a guest of Mrs. J. Dickinson.

Mrs. Cranson of Groton is spending a few days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Weyant spent Sunday in Venice, the guests of W. D. Weyant and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ogden were in Syracuse the first of the week.

Miss Lena Scudder is spending the week in Moravia.

Mrs. C. W. Garey spent Thanksgiving in Auburn.

Perfume Atomizers. Trim, pretty effects combined with substantial construction, make the lot we are now showing particularly desirable. Pink, blue and green glass bottles, decorated with gold, silk netted bulb. A large variety at 50 cts. and more. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Venice Center—West Hill.

The German forecast of the weather for December is the same as for November. So we are to have another cloudy month.

The tidings of the death of Mrs. Eliza J. Willer at Vermillion, O., and of Mrs. Eunice Fish Doughty saddened the few who remembered them as former neighbors in this town.

Mrs. S. Stewart is busy with the bridal trosses of Miss Coffin who is to wed Mr. Fish of Ithaca on Wednesday next. Who ever heard of a "Coffin" catching a "Fish" before?

The death of Vice President Hobart caused sadness throughout the land. It is evident that overwork was the cause. So strange talented educated men do not heed nature's laws.

Mrs. Sarah Potter and sister, Mrs. Alice Parinton, left on Monday of last week to visit a relative near Geneva. In Auburn they received tidings of his death, but arrived in time for the funeral on Wednesday. They will remain over Thanksgiving.

A letter from a relative in Northwest Minnesota speaks of the fine sunshiny days there and roads as smooth as pavements. All the clouds and rain have come east.

Mrs. Naomi Parinton of Vermont, who is a charming visitor, spent Wednesday with Mrs. H. N. Wood.

One fruit grower accounts in part for the unusual decay in apples in their ripening earlier than usual.

Nov. 27.—It is something unusual to see the roads so dry and dusty at this time of year.

The "hum" of the "corn shredder" is distinctly heard now-a-days. Farmers now realize a profit from what was once almost a waste. Besides cornstalks being nutritious food for stock, the pith is used to pack war vessels, it being impervious to bullets.

Your correspondent was lulled to sleep recently by a charming serenade both vocal and instrumental by Miss Pearl Snyder.

The loss of health may be recovered, the loss of wealth may be regained, the loss of friendship be renewed, but the loss of time can never be recalled.

Sage.

Nov. 28.—Arthur Counsell spent Sunday with his parents at King Ferry.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Davis are at their home in this place for a few days.

Charley Cashman has returned to his home in Spencer.

Floyd DeMond of Cortland spent Sunday with his wife in this place.

Mrs. Jason Newman spends Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. A. R. Morton, of Auburn.

Dance at the North Lansing Grange hall Dec. 8.

Conference at Ledyard.

The session of Auburn District Conference held at the M. E. church at Ledyard, Nov. 14 and 15, was pronounced one of the best ever held. There were about twenty-five visiting ministers present and quite a number of other church officials and visitors from other charges. The session of Tuesday evening was notable for the fine sermon of Rev. Ezra Tinker, D. D., of Seneca Falls, and for the splendid leadership of the district love feast by the noted Dr. Ives of Auburn. The sessions held on Wednesday were equally fine, but space forbids mention of the special features of the program, except to note the excellence of the address of Rev. S. F. Sanford of Waterloo, with which the Conference closed. The people of the Ledyard church assisted by a committee from the West Genoa church did themselves proud in the entertaining of the guests, and many warm words of commendation were heard from the visitors in reference to this matter.

The only sad feature of the session was the sudden illness of the Rev. C. T. Moss of Weedsport, who was stricken on Tuesday at about midnight and who died at the home of Mr. Delos Aikin on Sunday morning. His funeral which occurred on Wednesday, Nov. 22, at Weedsport was attended by the pastor of the local church.

Expensive Ballots.

Opponents of the plan of having the town meetings in the fall conjointly with the general election, are having their innings now. The advocates of the change used as their principal argument the statement, very likely made in good faith, that it would save the expense of printing a separate ballot, and that the ballot printing would all fall on the county instead of the individual towns. The test of actual experience shows, however, that the ballot printing was more expensive than ever. It necessitated an unwieldy ballot, costly to produce, and with the attendant advertising of the nominations a printing bill that has run up to nearly three thousand dollars. This has been apportioned among the several towns according to the number of names on the ballots, and the small towns are getting decidedly the worst of the bargain. For instance, Lebanon, which has usually spent about $15 for ballots, finds her share over eighty, or within a dollar or two of Oneida's share, with her vastly larger population. Fenner, with a former ballot bill of $13.50, will also have to pay over eighty dollars this fall. Cazenovia used to get out of it for about $45. This time it will cost $88. In more ways than one it is evident that a mistake was made in changing.

STILL LOOKING FOR MILLER.

Officers and Depositors Would Like to Locate the "Financier."

Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Since William F. Miller, the "Napoleon" of questionable financiering, departed from the money mill of the Franklin Syndicate Friday afternoon the police and detectives have been trying to figure out what direction he took and those whom he had so successfully duped have been working equally as hard to figure out what he took besides the direction.

News has been received here since the warrant was issued for the arrest of Miller, that he had been seen in Boston, Philadelphia, and other points, but as a matter of fact his whereabouts is as deep a mystery now as it was on Saturday when hundreds of angry men and women who had their money deposited with the "syndicate" swarmed about Miller's late place of business on Floyd street, clamoring for a glimpse of the man who had promised them such enormous dividends. All of them had made up their minds that they could take care of their money fully as well as the Franklin Syndicate could, but they found the door locked, the business in the hands of an assignee, and the money—well, none of them were able to locate that, and it is pretty generally understood that the coming winter will be a hard one on those who were depending on the dividends accruing from their deposits with Miller to carry them through.

Since Saturday morning all mail for the Franklin Syndicate has been held at the postoffice and at the present time there are nearly 1,000 letters—registered and containing money orders in the postmaster's custody. Miller's receipts from out of town depositors ranged from $1,000 to $13,000 a day, aside from what came by express and that which was paid over the counter by people residing in the city.

It is claimed that since the establishment opened up for business there has been paid in over $1,000,000 and that Miller now has in his possession over $750,000 of the money.

The Strife Not Ended.

New York, Nov. 27.—Rear Admiral Schley's departure on a cruise with the South Atlantic Squadron, which is calculated would give relief from the incessant controversy that has waged since the destruction of Admiral Cervera's squadron, has, instead, only served to intensify the general conviction that the strife will not end without an investigation by Congress, a naval court of inquiry of a court-martial. Facts have become public since the flagship Chicago sailed which tend strongly to show that an official inquiry of some kind, at an early date, is inevitable.

Will Use Gatling Guns.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 27.—If the Republicans are sustained in the courts on the plurality given to W. S. Taylor for governor—and there is every reason to believe that such will be the case—they are determined to see that Taylor is seated. Governor Bradley is in sympathy with this move, and has taken steps to have the State Guard in the capital on inauguration day. For the last two weeks the work of reorganizing the State Guard has been going on. Objectionable men, officers and companies have been mustered out of the service, and men on whom the Governor can rely put in their places. New members have been sworn in until it is believed a force of 3,000 men will be mobilized in Frankfort on the day of inauguration. There will be three or more Gatling gun batteries. Young men all over the State are being selected to serve these pieces.

In Memory of Mr. Hobart.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 27.—Services in memory of Vice-President Hobart were observed in most of the churches here Sunday, and large congregations were attracted to the houses of worship where they had been arranged. The most impressive was that in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, where the Rev. D. Stewart Hamilton preached the sermon. He referred to the sterling worth of the dead Vice President and deplored his death, because he had been cut off in life at a time when he had reached the highest point of his usefulness.

President's Message on China.

Washington, Nov. 27.—President McKinley's forthcoming message to Congress will deal in full with our foreign relations. It will relate to commercial advantages which seem to be within the grasp of this country and to the expansion of our trade. The President proposes to take up the Chinese question and handle it in a radical manner from the viewpoint of trade expansion. It is said that a special message, following communication to Congress, will deal with the

THE COUNTRY IN GENERAL

A Summary of Happenings at Home and Abroad.

THE NEWS CONDENSED

A Review of What Has Transpired of Public Interest.

Cape Town, Nov. 25.—Gen. Buller, the Commander-in-Chief of the British forces, has gone to Natal. He is expected to return here shortly.

Ashtabula, Ohio, Nov. 25.—Miss Verne Smith dropped dead Thursday night in the presence of a young man to whom she was soon to have been married.

Lagrange, Ky., Nov. 25.—J. N. Leet Thursday afternoon started hunting, when his gun was accidentally discharged. The entire load of shot hit his daughter in the temple, killing her instantly. She was 19 years of age.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25.—Jennie Bennett, the female highwayman, who robbed Lemon Brewer shortly after she reached this city from Cincinnati, has been found guilty in the Criminal Court, and she was committed under the indeterminate-sentence law to the female reformatory.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—The Election Board has certified the returns on Jefferson County and referred the contest of the Goebellites to the State Board of Election Commissioners. This gives Taylor a plurality of 2,321 in the entire State, and the State Board will be forced by law and precedent to issue Taylor his certificate.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Wealthy William R. Burdick, formerly owner of the Burdick House, and his adopted daughter, Bertha Killeen, have just announced that they were married on October 29. Burdick is sixty-four years old. His bride is twenty-four. She was adopted by Burdick and his first wife when she was eight years old.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Resolutions of sympathy with the Boers has been adopted by a mass meeting in this city. The attendance was large and much enthusiasm was manifested.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Twelve more army secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association will shortly be sent with the troops to Manila. Miss Helen M. Gould, of New York, has contributed the larger part of the money for the maintenance of this special work.

Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 27.—William Hummel, the murderer of his wife and three step-children has been arrested by Constable Meyers and a posse near Allenwood. Threats of lynching him when he is brought to jail here are being made, and his life is regarded as being in danger.

Elkton, Md., Nov. 27.—Rhoda Jackson, the only daughter of a leading citizen, has been murdered by Cyrus W. White, a jealous lover. White had attempted to force his attentions upon Miss Jackson, but they were not favorably received. He met her in the highway and, seizing her by the arm, sent three bullets into her head.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 27.—The Republican executive committee has indorsed unanimously George Clinton for the appointment of justice of the Supreme Court, to take the place of Justice White, recently elected Supreme Court justice of the Eighth Judicial District. The name of William H. Hotchkiss, referee in bankruptcy, is to be presented by his friends.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 27.—The United States transport Sherman has arrived, after a quick trip, of only twenty-five days, from Manila. Eighteen cabin passengers and 184 discharged and ill men were on board.

These eight men died on the voyage: Walter H. Guthrie, Twelfth Infantry; Peter Dougherty, Thirteenth Infantry; William Rainshaw, James F. McClanahan, James C. Harrington, Joseph B. Quinn, William L. Denwart and John Burnes. McClanahan died after the vessel passed into this harbor. The bodies of those who died on the voyage were brought to this city.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 28.—The firm of Stahl & Straub, bankers and brokers, No. 507 Chestnut street, have been forced to suspend business as a result, it is said, of a demand for a large call loan. Mr. Straub had no statement to make except that he believed the suspension would only be temporary. Mr. Stahl is in New York. It is stated, endeavoring to raise money to meet the demand on the firm. Street rumors of the firm's liabilities place the amount all the way from $100,000 to $1,000,000.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 28.—The cause of Patrick Harrington's insanity is said to be that he took the "Curley Bear degree" in the Order of Native Sons of California. He is in an asylum now. The degree is not sanctioned by the Grand Lodge and can only be taken at certain places. Harrington was strong and vigorous when he went to Colfax to take it, but returned a wreck. Physicians who examined him found his body covered with bruises and across the small of his back the skin was entirely rubbed off.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

Telegraphic Gleanings From All Parts of the World.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals decided in favor of the Republicans in the contest over the vote of Nelson County.

Henry H. Hall, Assistant United States Treasurer under President Lincoln, is dead at Santa Barbara, Cal.

Congressman H. Esch declared the whole Wisconsin delegation would oppose the seating of Roberts in the House.

William J. Youngs, secretary to Governor Roosevelt, denied he was a candidate for State Superintendent of Insurance.

The United States Circuit Court has awarded the Pennsylvania Railroad Company $25,000 damages on account of the Chicago riot of 1894.

The operators having agreed to send no more coal to the southwest, where miners are on strike, there will be no nabor trouble in Southern Illinois.

The latest dispatch from Mool River, Natal, says that a reconnoissance in force in the direction of Highlands Station discovered a big force of Boers, with guns. The British artillery and infantry were compelled to fall back.

Buenacmino, a former member of the so-called Cabinet of Aguinaldo, has been locked up at Manila. He had sought refuge in a village near San Fabian, with Aguinaldo's mother and son. The natives disclosed his identity to Major Cronin, who captured him.

President McKinley and hundreds of the foremost men of the Nation, attended Vice-President Hobart's funeral at Paterson, N. J. The city was garbed in mourning and the streets were thronged with people who had turned out to pay tribute to the Vice-President.

Gen. Wingate, commanding the Anglo-Egyptian forces, attacked and completely routed the dervishes southeast of Gaddi, in the Soudan. The Khalifa himself was killed and all the principal Emirs were slain or made prisoners. Thousands of the dervishes surrendered.

Wives and women relatives of striking miners rioted at Nanticoke, Pa., Friday.

Mrs. Sarah M. Todd, a leper about whom there has been much international discussion, probably will remain in the San Francisco pest house.

Daniel Callahan, a prisoner at the police station, Salem, Mass., committed suicide in his cell by hanging himself with a large handkerchief.

The city of Tucson, Ariz., has accepted Andrew Carnegie's offer of money for a library building on condition a site and maintenance is provided.

The dead body of Silas White, who murdered his sweetheart, Rhoda Jackson, near Alken, Md., Thursday night, has been found in a clump of bushes near the scene of the murder.

General Otis reports in an official dispatch that the Filipino government in Luzon could no longer claim to exist. Its troops and officials are scattered and Aguinaldo is in hiding.

The hearing of Robert J. Knox, the alleged swindler, arrested in New York city, which was set for Friday in Pittsburgh, has been postponed until the arrival of Knox's attorney from New York.

Ellery P. Ingham, former United States District Attorney, and Harvey K. Newitt, his law partner, have been sentenced at Philadelphia to two years and six months imprisonment for conspiracy.

Congressman-elect Roberts, of Utah, in an interview at Washington declared his belief that the House would sustain his right to a seat. He says that the compact of 1890 did not require him to give up the wives he had taken before that compact was made.

Bautista, President of the Tagal Congress in the Philippines, presented himself to General MacArthur and formally renounced all connection with the insurrection. He said the Tagal Congress and Cabinet were scattered, never to reassemble. He believed the Tagal soldiers would lay down their arms as soon as they learned the truth.

News received from Natal in South Africa is decidedly meagre and unsatisfactory. There is a renewal at Cape Town of the report that the Boers at Ladysmith had fallen into a trap set by General White, but they are not generally credited. A native runner arriving at Mool River said the besiegers at Ladysmith had been repulsed with loss in an attempt to carry the place by assault. The Governor of Natal reported the repulse of a small force of Boers at Tugela Drift.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others, Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—ADOLPH L. MILLER, Manchester, N. H. For sale by J. S. Banker.

THE SUBMARINE torpedo boat Holland, which was officially inspected some months ago by the Naval officials, is unreservedly endorsed by the examining board, and its adoption as an offensive weapon of warfare is urged. The recommendation goes so far as to ask that twenty of the boats be constructed at once for the defense of Long Island sound and New York harbor. With them, it is considered that the city of New York could not possibly be menaced by a foreign foe. This type of boat has proved to be entirely manageable under water as well as on the surface. It is perfectly feasible with one of them to skim along the surface until within range of the guns of an enemy's battle ship, then sink out of sight and continue the run just under the surface until within striking distance of the vessel, discharge a torpedo, and return to a safe place before coming to the top. Rapid firing guns, search lights, torpedo nets and all the protective paraphernalia of a modern war vessel would avail nothing against such an engine of warfare.

Society Notes.

East Genoa W. C. T. U., ever mindful of the best interests of all classes, held a parlor meeting on Friday last at the home of H. J. Pierson, more especially for elderly people. The fine day, the cheery welcome of the aged host and hostess and the joyful meeting of old friends prepared all for the enjoyment of the occasion. The singing of Theo. Miller, Mrs. Jessie and Miss Ida Mastin was a rare treat. A delicious lunch was served, some stirring speeches made by members and the petition against the seating of Congressman-elect Roberts passed for signatures. Several signed the pledge and four new members gained. A free-will offering for the work was taken and all agreed that this was the most enthusiastic meeting yet held.

A "measuring party" will be held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Northway Tuesday evening, Dec. 5, for the benefit of the L. A. S. of the Venice Baptist church. It is hoped there will be a large attendance as there will be a sale of comfortables, also secretary's and treasurer's report of the past year, and the annual election of officers. Refreshments will be served.

Topics at the Baptist church Sunday: Morning, "Self Binders." Evening, "Would Jesus Join a Club or Lodge?" Prayer-meeting Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the church.

Don't fail to attend the bee at the Baptist church to-morrow (Saturday) at 2 p. m. Bring a shovel.

Lansing lodge, No. 774, F. & A. M., will entertain District Deputy Springer of Ithaca on Friday evening, Dec. 8. The fellowcraft degree will be conferred. All Masons are invited to be in attendance.

"When London Sleeps" will occupy the stage of the Bastable at Syracuse, December 7, 8 and 9. The reputation of this play has preceded it, and there is already a lively interest manifested in the coming. It was one of last season's big money makers. J. H. Wallick, under whose direction it is staged, has engaged the strongest cast possible to procure, and it will be presented there with the same superb scenery which electrified the patrons of the Fourteenth Street Theater, New York.

Double Grime at Auburn.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Lyman Johnson, who lived at No. 5 Green street, Auburn, killed his wife with an axe and then ran down cellar and cut his throat with a razor. He was 45 years old and she was 40, and they had not lived in harmony for several years.

Chapped hands cured at once. Rough, chapped hands made soft and smooth as velvet by Violet Marshmallow, or money refunded. 25 cts. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Tooth Powder. A healthy mouth sweetens the good system. Without healthy teeth, good health is impossible. Pearl Tooth Powder makes the teeth healthy, keeps them from decaying, makes them white. 25 cts. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Cameras. Photography is a delightful pastime, with a constant fascination that can be scarcely realized by the uninitiated. The views of home and friends and scenes that can be taken will be treasured for a lifetime. The work is simple and easy with the convenient cameras now made; but we do the finishing and mounting of the pictures for you, at very reasonable prices, if you prefer to merely snap the pictures. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Perfumery fragrance that is crisp, clean, refreshing. Delicate perfumes, luxurious toilet waters in full variety. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

The hands of a lady of leisure could not be fairer than the hands of a working woman when treated with Violet Marshmallow. 25 cts. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Sagar's Quinine Hair Tonic cures dandruff, keeps the hair from coming out, makes it grow. 50 cts. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Trianglo.

Nov. 22.—Wheat is getting a fine top and ought to stand a hard winter. Harry Bush has lately returned from a visit to Buffalo.

The two weeks' meetings which have just closed at the Baptist church have been of much interest and profit to all who were present.

The King's Daughters will give an entertainment and turkey supper at Smith's hall in the near future.

Miss Martha Tracy who is teaching in Camden has been home for a short visit to her parents, Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Tracy.

It is rumored that there is to be a saloon started on the hill. We trust that it will end in rumor.

Miss Belle Pease has lately had a visit from two cousins, from Seneca Falls and Boston respectively.

The friends of D. J. Munn will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from his recent illness, although his case was considered very critical at one time.

Michael Burns, a respected citizen, was lately taken to Willard asylum, having become subject to fits of madness, during which the life of his wife was in danger. His trouble was no doubt caused from brooding over his condition, as he has a bad cancer on the lip, which must soon cause his death.

HER EYEBROWS

How a Man Can Choose a Wife Successfully.

"It's all very well for a girl to plume herself upon her pretty eyebrows," said an expert physiognomist to the Boston Globe man, "but I, who have been studying character for years, have perhaps a rather different point of view. Eyebrows show character, and the wise man will take note of them when choosing his friends. Eyebrows, for instance, that are wide apart denote frank, generous, unsuspecting and impulsive nature.

"When they meet one may be pretty sure that their owner's temperament is ardent, but jealous and suspicious. Eyebrows which are elevated at starting and continue in long, sweeping lines over the eyes, with a downward tendency, indicate artistic feeling.

"Straight eyebrows, forming a firmly defined line close to the eyes, denote great determination and will power. Those which begin rather strongly and terminate abruptly without passing beyond the eyes show an impatient and irascible nature.

"Sensitiveness and tenderness are indicated by slightly arched eyebrows, and firmness of purpose and kindness of heart by those which are straight at the beginning and are rather arched at the temples. The eyebrows of people utterly devoid of mathematical power are raised at the termination, leaving a wide space between them and the corners of the eyes. On the other hand, if they are close to the eyes at the end, mathematical talent may generally be safely assumed.

"Eyebrows of the same color as the hair show constancy, firmness and resolution; if lighter than the hair they denote indecision and weakness; while if darker we may probably be right in our surmise that their owner is of an ardent, passionate and inconstant disposition.

"An energetic and easily irritated nature is shown by the hair growing in different directions; while short, closely-lying hair, growing in one direction, indicates a firm mind and good perceptions. An ardent but tender nature is shown by the hair being soft and fine.

"When the hair of the eyebrows has a downward droop so that it almost meets the lashes when the eyes widely opened, tenderness and melancholy are betrayed. The nearer the eyebrows are to the eyes, the firmer and the more earnest the character, while the more remote the more volatile and flighty is the nature of their owner."

It is feared that the Sac and Foxes will rise. Five hundred of them are threatening a massacre in Tama County, Neb.

Adolph Schaefer, a New York elevated railway oiler, while crossing the track at Rector street, was run down and probably fatally hurt.

Alonso J. Whiteman, who is wanted in Chicago on a charge of having swindled the Grand Pacific Hotel out of $250, will not fight his extradition.

John H. Peyton has resigned as army secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and the army committee has been instructed to discontinue its work in the Philippines.

While hunting for a pitchfork in a haymow, Daniel Webster, twelve years old, in the employ of Edward Groves, of Cranbury, N. J., upset a lamp and was burned to death.

Indiana officers have arrived at Kalamazoo, Mich., with extradition papers issued by Governor Pingree for the removal of Charles H. Svanston, alias Russell, to Goshen, Ind., where he is charged with a diamond robbery.

At a meeting of the Grain Shovelers' Union, held in Buffalo Wednesday, a committee was appointed to select a responsible man to represent the scoopers' organization at the annual meeting of the Lake Carriers' Association, which is to be held in January.

Jellico, Tenn., Nov. 26.—Granville Neil and John Sprouls, who were arrested and placed in the town calaboose here for drunkenness, have been cremated in a fire which destroyed the jail and several buildings near it.

Five Corners.

Nov. 27.—F. E. Corwin and wife spent Sunday with Mrs. Corwin's parents at Groton City.

Mrs. Harriet Knapp has recovered from her illness sufficiently to return to her daughter's at Auburn.

Irving Snushall has begun his labors in the blacksmith shop.

Nelson Parr is spending the winter with Dr. Rosecrans.

Theodore Kratzer is spending some time with his niece at Newark Valley.

John Beardsley and Claude Palmer made a business trip to Ithaca on Saturday last.

We understand C. M. Parr of Good-years has taken the agency for the smokeless stoves. Chris is a hustler for an agent and will doubtless do well at his new calling.

Mr. and Mrs. Knapp of Dakota are visiting Mrs. Eugene Morey.

Some of our farmers are improving the fine weather by plowing. There is some corn to husk yet, too.

What Has Happened in Genoa During the Past Seven Days—An Interesting Page.

—George Culver of Locke was in Genoa Sunday.
—Get rid of your old iron. The price is going down.
—Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Storm visited Moravia friends Tuesday.
—Mrs. Will Holden, who has been quite seriously sick, is improving.
—Mrs. Fred Wood of Venice Center is renewing acquaintances in Genoa.
—C. S. Hill, the jeweler, was in Ithaca on business Tuesday and Wednesday.
—F. W. Ames came home from DeRuyter yesterday to stop over the week.
—Mrs. E. S. Miller of Groton has been visiting friends here the past few days.
—Chas. F. Waldo of Cortland is spending a few days at the home of his mother.
—D. G. Ellison of Five Corners made a pleasant call at this office on Saturday.
—Miss Elma L. Mastin is home from Cornell to spend the Thanksgiving vacation.
—E. h. Bennett, the hustling Venice Center merchant, quotes felt boot prices this week.
—L. B. Norman as agent purchased nearly 4,000 barrels of apples for a buyer at Farmer.
—O. M. Avery is occupying E. S. Heaton's store with a display of carriages, stoves, etc.
—It's all right to travel on the downward path providing you are going the other way.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Van Marter of Auburn are guests of relatives in Genoa and vicinity.
—Mrs. Hattie Sherman has gone to Wm. Boyer's near Five Corners, to nurse a fever patient.
—Mrs. Helen Hall, who is spending the winter with her son George, was home a few days last week.
—Dorcas Gardner of Poplar Ridge has recently been the guest of her sister, Sarah G. Haight, at Barker, Niagara Co.
—The wedding of Erwin Escritt and Miss Lizzie Main was solemnized at St. Mary's church, King Ferry, on Thursday, Nov. 30, 1899, at noon.
—Supt. Jos. Roberts of Newark Valley was in town recently to make arrangements for building new ice houses at the milk station at this place.
—H. P. Mastin is still further improving his store building by ceiling the interior of the store with matched pine. It makes a change for the better.

—The next entertainment in the lecture course will be given on Monday evening, Dec. 11, being a lecture by Dr. Nacy D. Waters of Binghamton.

—Don't forget our advertisers at this time. They are making their winter and holiday announcements merit your attention. Be sure and read what they say.

—Call upon a man of business during the hours of business, attend to your business, and go about your business, in order to give him time to attend to his business.

—Christmas is less than a month away, and the holiday trade has already begun, and while you have heard it before, we rise to remark that Genoa is the place to trade. Read the advertisements of the Genoa merchants, and profit by the hints therein contained.

—We are under obligations to Editor George E. Foster of the Ithaca Democrat for a copy of his book, "The Story of the Cherokee Bible." It is a well written and highly interesting little book. Mr. Foster has spent several years in studying the history of the Cherokee nation.

If you want photos for Xmas presents, don't wait for the rush, come before. E. A. HANKEY, Photographer, Genoa.

—D. W. Smith has still further enlarged his business by filling the west side of the Young block with a large assortment of new goods which continue to arrive. It seems to recall "railroad times" to see the stores nearly all open and doing business. Verily Genoa is THE place to trade.

—E. H. Stow of Binghamton was in town yesterday, explaining the working and advantages of acetylene gas, the new light. A sample machine was put in operation in the store of H. P. Mastin, and all were surprised and delighted with the light. It is cheaper than kerosene and much better. Mr. Stow made partial arrangements with several business men here in regard to installing the gas in their places of business.

Brilliant Church Wedding.

The pioneer village of Old Forge was last evening the scene of a society event in which Pittston people were much interested, the marriage of Miss Jennie Cornelia Drake, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Drake, and Alfred Avery of King Ferry, N. Y. The Drake family have been associated with Old Forge since its inception in the early years of the century, and the daughter who has now entered upon the marital state has been throughout her life identified with the school and social life of this community. She was graduated from the West Pittston High school, and has always continued her school day association with our young people, who have been impressed by her sweet disposition and lovely character.

The marriage ceremony was performed at 6:30 o'clock in the Old Forge M. E. church, amid the most attractive surroundings ever seen in the village. The floral display, designed and arranged by an artist friend of the bride, was beautiful beyond description. A bank of palms, dotted with cut flowers, screened Bauer's orchestra, which played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Over the altar railing was a beautiful triple arch of evergreens and chrysanthemums, beneath which the wedding couple stood while the marriage vows were taken. The bridal party was made up as follows: George Langford, Dunham Lamb, Jr., and Frank Duncklee of West Pittston, and Harry P. Decker of Scranton as ushers; Miss Clara Langford and Miss Jennie Hitchner of West Pittston, Miss Grace Thayer of Scranton, and Miss Nora Wood of Wilkesbarre, the bridesmaids; Miss Helen Thayer of Scranton, the maid of honor; the bride accompanied by her father. At the altar, the party were met by the groom and his best man, George Cooper of West Pittston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Reidy of Madison, N. J., formerly of Wyoming, assisted by Rev. Sylvanus Davis of Wilkesbarre, pastor of the Old Forge church. The bride's gown was of poplin, trimmed with liberty silk and lace, and her bouquet was of violets. The bridesmaids wore costumes of white organdie over pink taffeta and carried bouquets of pink and white chrysanthemums. The maid of honor wore dotted silk over white taffeta and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums.

About 150 people witnessed the ceremony and afterward attended a reception at the Drake homestead on Main street. Here also the floral decorations were most beautiful, being composed of laurel, ground pine and chrysanthemums. The orchestra rendered a choice program of music while the guests tendered good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Avery, enjoyed the dainty collation served by Mrs. Dora Lee Cook, and admired the magnificent array of gifts with which the bride was remembered.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Boynton, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Beasley, Philadelphia; Edwin A. Avery and Miss Avery, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Alkin, King Ferry; Miss Stark and Miss Frances Avery, Ledyard, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tiffany, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Loomis, Mrs. Ira Tiffany and Miss Harriet Sanford, Brooklyn; Miss Olive Newall, Binghamton; Mrs. J. C. Wright, Carbondale; Captain L. T. Safford, U. S. N.; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Gardner, Factoryville; Mr. and Mrs. Safford, Meshoppen; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Safford, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. George Kneps and Miss Bunting, Wilkesbarre; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henwood and Miss Henwood, Skinner's Eddy; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fleher, Hackettstown; Mrs. J. C. Wright, Rochester, and Mrs. Anna Atherton, Plymouth.—Pittston Gazette.

A Second Army Corps Likely to Be Sent to South Africa at an Early Date—General Methuen Will March on to Kimberley—Heavy Fighting For Both Sides.

London, Nov. 28.—It will not be exaggerating to say that it is the confident public belief that the tide has now turned in South Africa, that General Methuen will march almost unopposed to Kimberley, that Gen. Gatacre will soon drive the Orange Free Staters across the Orange River toward Bloemfontein, and that General Buller will start within a few days with an invincible force to the speedy relief of Estcourt and Ladysmith. Opposed to this optimism is the most sanguine military view of the situation, namely, that Gen. Methuen must fight a far heavier battle at Modder River than he fought at Belmont, and even then the relief of Kimberley will not be assured; that General Gatacre, after being heavily re-enforced, must successfully prosecute a difficult campaign against Stormberg and other Boer strongholds before he can force the enemy back, and he must employ a large portion of his force to subdue the rebellious Cape Colonists. But Gens. Methuen's and Gatacre's tasks are easy compared with the ordeal before the British army in Natal. Even the patriotic English masses understand in a vague way that bloody work is ahead in the difficult Natal passes.

No account is made in this general survey of the problem of serious complications threatened by a Basuto rising and the urgent necessity for the relief of Col. Baden-Powell's gallant little force at Mafeking. The natural popular demand for the latter action is unjustified and impracticable from the point of view of cold, military science. The progress of an expeditionary force to Kimberley and Mafeking through a hostile country of more than 200 miles, where the enemy is in great force must necessarily be slow.

In the light of all these hard facts it is generally admitted by all whose opinion is valuable that Great Britain must prepare herself for some trying hours and sad sacrifices before the final triumph of her arms.

A second full army corps should be sent out at the earliest moment. There is no official announcement to this effect, but there is some reason to believe that such is now the Government's intention. Two-thirds of the transports which carried the first corps to South Africa will be back in English ports before the fresh troops are ready to sail, and these, with the important additions to the fleet, like the Majestic, will probably start off for South Africa within two or three weeks.

A prominent German general and staff officer, in friendly criticism, has been telling the British authorities in the Times how grave is the necessity for sending large re-enforcements to South Africa. He affirms from positive knowledge that the Boers are able to put 60,000 men in the field. Against this force the English have 30,000 men. From these, he points out, must be deducted those needed to keep open the requisite base lines as well as the forces necessary for checking risings in Cape Colony and for garrison duty in the chief centres. He adds: "I hold the opinion, one which is freely shared by brother staff officers, that not less than 40,000 to 45,000 men will be absorbed by such necessities, leaving 35,000 to 40,000 for active military operations. It must be further taken into account that a majority of the men are unused to the climate and an unusual percentage of sickness must be expected. The local geography is a sealed book to most of the British and an unusual number of reserve men must be pressed into use before the English are in a military condition necessary for such a campaign. I do not consider that our German view is justified, viz: How can England expect to crush a force of at least 50,000 Boers with an army of 40,000 available for offence, when we consider that these 50,000 Boers are acclimatized and know every yard of the country and its capacities for traps for the bravest European troops? They shoot admirably and they are manoeuvred with an astonishing strategical ability.

An experienced war correspondent, in a despatch mailed to escape the censor, predicts that by the beginning of December 30,000 British Dutchmen will have joined the invading Boers. He adds that every Boer commando that has come on British soil has been like a rolling snowball, increasing as it moves. The same correspondent says that all the staff officers with whom he has discussed the situation agree in fixing the middle of March for the end of the campaign.

Methuen Defeats Boers.

London, Nov. 28.—Late Sunday afternoon the War Office posted the following despatch, dated Cape Town, Nov. 26, from General Forester-Walker:

"Lord Methuen reports that he moved yesterday (Saturday) at 2.30 a. m., with the Ninth Brigade, the Mounted Corps, the Naval Brigade and two batteries, the Guards following with the baggage. Near Gras Pan (about ten miles north of Belmont, on the railway line to Kimberley) 2,500 Boers, with six guns and two machine guns, opposed him.

The fighting was desperate until 10 a. m., when the heights were carried. The enemy showed the greatest stubbornness, and must have suffered greatly. Twenty were buried. It is known that thirty-one were killed and forty-eight wounded. More than fifty horses were found dead in one place. One battery fired 500 rounds."

LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS.

Several Filipino Leaders Are Tired of Fighting.

AGUINALDO ON THE RUN.

The Native Chief's Army Badly Scattered With Young Hot on Their Trail—Many Filipinos Applying to General Otis For Permission to Enjoy Luxuries of Manila.

Manila, Nov. 23.—News which the steamship Brutus brings from Dagupan dispels all doubts that the so-called Filipino Republic is crumbling like a house of cards. Aguinaldo is deserting or being abandoned by the politicians, and the army which a fortnight ago was entrenched at Tarlac and exercised a de facto government over nine-tenths of the inhabitants of Luzon is fugitive in the mountains, with small hope of re-establishing the machine. The army is scattered in the hills on both sides of the railroad, and widely separated detachments are within the cordon which Generals Lawton and Wheaton have completed.

The ruling spirit of the Cabinet is a prisoner in Manila—a white elephant in the hands of the authorities—and the small fry are tumbling over one another to get to Manila. Three provincial Governors have arrived here to request General Otis to install them in their old offices under the new regime. Dr. Luna, a brother of General Luna, and a prominent Filipino, has arrived, and his friends and many others are applying to General Otis for permission to enjoy the luxuries of Manila after months of separation from civilization.

Parties of Filipinos made feeble attacks upon Imus and the Zapote bridge Saturday night. The only large organized forces of natives known to remain are those in the Cavite province, at San Mateo, and in the Zambeles Mountains, though several seaports have large garrisons.

Aguinaldo began his retreat with two thousand men under General Gregorio del Pilar. That force was probably reduced to its present proportion by desertion. The last definite news as to Aguinaldo's whereabouts is that he passed through Trinidad, east of Aringay, toward Bayombong, escorted by two hundred men of the Bulacan battalion, which had dwindled from six hundred within a week.

General Tino, who fought the Thirty-third at San Jacinto, is supposed to have joined him. A letter from General Tino has been intercepted in which the writer says two hundred of his men were killed or wounded, and that he had had enough and was going to the mountains.

General Young left Tayug on Nov. 13 to connect with General Wheaton, with the Macabebes and three troops of cavalry. Two troops, commanded by Captain Hunter and Lieutenant Thayer, pushed through to Aringay. From that point Lieutenant Thayer, with twelve men, started for San Fabian, taking the chances of getting through the lines of the enemy, supposed to be between Aringay and San Fabian.

After a daring ride by way of Magaldan and San Jacinto, he arrived at San Fabian on November 14, dashing through a considerable force of the enemy at Magaldan. His undertaking was reported at Manila by courier from General Young to San Jose. The fate of Lieutenant Thayer and his companions was unknown until now, and fear prevailed here that they had either been killed or captured.

Cronin's battalion marched to Pozorublo, there finding General Young's force, which had just learned that Aguinaldo had passed through Aringay on his way to Binalonan the night before. General Young started to head off the party at Pozorublo, and might have succeeded but that he took the wrong road, reaching Manaog, where he struck the rear guard of the Filipino chief.

Aguinaldo is on the mountain trails, with twenty-five horses in the party, and has a good chance of eluding the Americans unless he gets among hostile natives.

Business men of Dagupan and many

J. E. T. Bell and Col. William Barber, of Paterson, N. J.; George Wurts, Secretary of State of New Jersey, and Col. Joseph W. Congdon, of the staff of Gov. Voorhees, of New Jersey.

Rev. Dr. Daniel McGee, who conducted the services at the Church of the Holy Redeemer, paid a magnificent tribute to Mr. Hobart's personal worth, and was so impressive in his eulogy that there was scarcely a dry eye in the vast assemblage when he closed his remarks.

One of the most touching incidents of the service was the rendering of "Nearer My God to Thee," by a local singing society of sixty voices.

Rev. Dr. Milbourne, Chaplain of the Senate and Rev. Dr. Shaw, of this city, assisted Dr. McGee at the services.

Out of respect to Mr. Hobart's memory and the proclamation issued by the mayor, all business places in the city were closed, flags were at half mast and stores, factories and private residences were draped in deepest mourning.

The President and Cabinet and others from Washington who attended the services, returned to the capital after the interment at Cedar Lawn.

Will Help New York's Trade.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27.—The committee of the New York State Commerce Commission spent Saturday in St. Paul. A conference with President Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, took up the greater part of the time. Chairman Schleren said: "We will return to the East with much valuable information. Mr. Hill is of the opinion that nothing but improved terminals and elevator facilities can improve our trade. He has made many recommendations of extreme value." The committee is now in Duluth to study the terminal facilities and the methods of handling shipments routed via the lakes. Another session will be held in Chicago.

Strike Settled in Indiana.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 27.—The coal miners' strike in southern Indiana has been practically settled by the signing of the Chicago scale by the John E. Ingie Coal Company and First Avenue Mine, employing 175 men. Both sides made concessions, and the mines will not discharge non-union men now at work, but will pay the union scale. About 1,000 miners have gained an increase of wages to the Chicago scale of 66 cents a ton.

Ingham and Newitt Sentenced.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 27.—Ellery P. Ingham, ex-United States district attorney and his law partner and former assistant, Harvey K. Newitt, have been sentenced by Justice McPherson to imprisonment for two years and six months and to pay a fine of $1 and the costs of their trial for conspiracy in attempting to bribe a secret service operative in connection with the recent Lancaster revenue stamp counterfeiting conspiracy.

foreigners sent word to General Wheaton that the Filipinos had evacuated the place and requested that he garrison it.

Captain Howland took a battalion of the Thirteenth regiment and proceeded to Dagupan. He found two thousand and five hundred persons in the town, the population of which is fifty thousand, the rest having fled to the surrounding swamps. Captain Howland reinstated in office the local authorities of Aguinaldo's government, all of whom took the oath of allegiance.

The Third cavalry had one man killed and several wounded in the fight at Santo Tomas.

The movement against the natives in the Island of Panay has resulted in driving them to the mountains, over twenty miles inland. The troops engaged were two battalions of the Nineteenth regiment, a battalion of the Twenty-sixth regiment, the Eighteenth regiment, Gordon's mounted scouts and Bridgman's battery of the Sixth artillery. The Americans lost five men killed and had thirty-eight men wounded.

General Hughes, Colonel Carpenter and Colonel Edmund Rice commanded during the various fights. Thirty-two natives were killed in the engagements and the natives reported that nineteen cart loads of wounded were taken away.

Among the Americans killed was a lieutenant of the Eighteenth regiment and a sergeant of artillery. Twelve obsolete cannons were captured.

Will Follow Guerilla Methods.

Manila, Nov. 27.—The last Filipino council of war was held by the retreating leaders at Bayambang on Nov. 13, in the house now occupied by General MacArthur. It was attended by Aguinaldo, Pio del Pilar, Garcia, Alejandro, and some members of the so-called Cabinet. Information has reached Gen. MacArthur from several sources to the effect that the council recognized the futility of attempting further resistance to the Americans with united forces and agreed that the Filipino troops should scatter and should hereafter follow guerilla methods.

LAST HONORS TO HOBART.

Vice President's Remains Laid to Rest in Cedar Lawn.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 27.—Funeral services over the remains of the late Vice-President Garret A. Hobart took place in this city Saturday, and were carried out practically according to the program decided upon by the family and immediate friends of the deceased on the day following Mr. Hobart's death.

The ceremonies were sad and impressive to the highest degree and a befitting finale to the earthy career of a public man who commanded the respect of all in his lifetime, and who was elected to and held the next highest office in the gift of the American people. There was an immense outpouring of sympathizing friends at the services and a local committee looked after the comfort of the five hundred visiting Senators, Representatives and Washington officials who were present.

The first services were at Carroll Hall, the Paterson home of the Hobarts, and consisted simply of the reading of the Scriptures and prayer. The church services lasted an hour.

There were thirty-two pall-bearers, eight representing the United States Senate, eight representing the House of Representatives, eight personal pall-bearers selected by Mr. Hobart two months before his death and eight sergeants-at-arms of the Senate, known as the Senate police, who acted as quarter bearers.

The President and the Cabinet went to the church in carriages, but the pall-bearers followed the funeral car on foot. Two companies of regulars from Governor's Island acted as escort to President McKinley and also accompanied the body from the house to the church.

Following the close of services at the Church of the Redeemer the sad cortege moved to Cedar Lawn Cemetery, where all that was mortal of a loving husband and father, a respected public servant and an honored citizen, was laid to rest beside the body of the daughter he loved so well, while those who were nearest and dearest to him in life stood silently by bathing their cheeks with a flow of tears.

LOVE, THE CAPTAIN.

Love became a captain—
Marching with the men;
But a whippoorwill was singing—
A thrush-song thrilled the glen;
And "Halt!" cried Love, the captain
"And rest ye, merry men!"
And lost in hills and daffodils
He vanished down the glen.
His weary soldiers rested
Beneath the stars that night.
With sunflowers tall for sentinels
By lily-tents of white.
And wild the war-notes ringing
Called Love to lead the men;
But a whippoorwill was singing—
A thrush-song thrilled the glen.

THE WONDER BOAT.

Across the bay from the village is the farm of old Peter Hogeson. From the water it extends up a steep slope that a little further north becomes a cliff, but Peter and his wife are from the highlands of Norway and a perpendicular farm is their choice. A rotten little pier juts into the bay and on the little plot of level ground they have built after the fashion of their fathers in the old country. It looks like a small village, for, beside the main house there is a sleeping house of two stories, a cook house, a dairy, a cow barn and the shed where Peter builds his boats. The two main houses are painted white, with pale green trimmings and they are surrounded by a curiously carved fence of black walnut tortured into strange devices. At the pier a fleet of skiffs always rides; some are old and half full of water and some are glistening with fresh paint and gilding, for Peter loves to build boats, and in the winter he hews and shapes all day in his shop, making a strange build of boat that has a high prow, carrying an emblem and a curious keel of intricate curves that is braced with ribs of bent wood.

Peter's wife is a sour old woman, who is forever nagging her husband to leave his boat-building, that he loves, to work on the farm—labor that he hates. They live a lonely life, rowing over to the village only to buy their necessities or to sell the scanty produce of their stony acres. They have no neighbors, for behind their farm is a forest of hemlock and spruce and to the right the cliff raises its rocky shoulders.

One day when Peter was trading at the village store he heard some Norwegian sailors talking of the World's Fair. The crew of the schooner Arrow had seen the buildings as they were trying to beat into the harbor, and even their rude hearts had been thrilled by the beauty of the domes and gleaming facades as seen against the red evening sky. "It was de new Jerusalem w'at de Bible tole about," big Olaf Hanson said, relapsing into English—he was proud of his command over it. "I am going to dat fair if I haf to schwim dere!"

Peter listened to the talk and asked when this great fair was to begin. When he had heard he went out and stowed his groceries in the stern of his boat. The glories of the fair had stirred his sluggish old fancy, and as he rowed home in his high-prowed, green skiff a flash of inspiration came to him. He would build a viking boat and take it to Chicago—the idea was all his own, for he had not heard of that other ship which was to come from Norway.

When he had tied the painter to the pier he ran to the house to tell his wife what he had heard. She was seated by the window knitting a coarse gray sock. The living room was so clean that it reeked with the odor of yellow soap and whitewash. "Take off your shoes!" the old woman screamed as her husband came in, his boot soles leaving their print on the white floor.

He went out and returned in his stocking feet. "Everina," he said, "have you heard of the great fair in the South—in Chicago?"

"I read something about it in our paper," she grunted—they took the Scandinavian Gazette, for they spoke little English and read none. "But what is that to you, old fool?"

The old man moved about the room in his excitement; his faded brown eyes were bright and his wrinkled cheek showed a touch of color. "I am going to build a beautiful boat," he cried, "a viking boat, and I am going to take it to the fair. There I can sell it for much money," he added cunningly, knowing that the hope of money would interest his wife—for himself the joy of planning and building would be enough.

"You are a dreamer," she retorted scornfully. "You will build a wonder boat—you are always building boats that fall to pieces or rot on shore."

For a moment Peter was abashed. It was true that heretofore there had always been grave defects in his boats that made them safe only in smooth weather, but he was ever dreaming of the perfect boat that could ride out any storm. He had not been born a builder—he had picked it up after he was grown, but he came from a family who had been shipwrights as far back as their annals ran. In a minute he was cheerful again. "I will build a wonder boat," he said stoutly. "I will make a viking galley, for I remember well the model that used to be in my grandfather's house at Aardal. He has told me that it was very old and was exactly like the long ships of the sea kings—and my grandfather was a wise man and a builder of stanch ships."

"Ay—your grandfather was, but you are but a land grabber. If you make it how will you get to Chicago? Will you hire men to row it, as in the old days, or have a silken sail as did Eric the Red?" the old woman sneered. "I will sew a square sail, as my grandfather said the later vikings used. I must have my boat ready by the time the ice is off," Peter said, unmindful of his wife's sarcasm. "I will paint it white with blue trimmings and have a golden prow and it will ride like a gull on the waves." He fell to dreaming of his wonder ship, and his wife knitted in silence until the fading light obliged her to lay down her needles.

Through the long Wisconsin winter Peter was busy in his shop. He set up a small wood stove that kept out the bitterest of the cold, though the wind came in at the cracks and pinched his lean old body. He had seasoned timber laid by, and before the snow fell he had hewn his first rough model of the viking ship. A thousand stories came back to him, and when he closed his eyes he could see his boat filled with yellow-haired giants whose great strokes sent it shooting across the water like an arrow. When he went to the store he talked so much of his viking ship that his hearers shook their heads and said among themselves that his brain was quite turned by this boat building.

On March 1 he walked across the ice to the village to buy his paints. His wife had cried out at this extravagance, but he paid no heed and carried home his buckets of color and his brushes. He painted the body of the boat white. The wooden shields that hung alongside the sides as the vikings had hung theirs were blue, as was the prow and the rudder post. He had to be content without the gilding. He looked at in an ecstasy of admiration. He touched it tenderly and sat for hour gazing at the graceful curve of the keel and the bold upward sweep of the prow. To his simple mind it seemed the most beautiful thing he had ever seen—and he had made it. He longed for the day when the ice would break up and he could launch his boat.

When the bay was yet filled with floating cakes of ice he slid it down the runway that sloped from his shop into the water, then he tied it to the pier while he set the square squat sail that he had sewed laboriously in the evenings. He loosened the ropes, the sail flapped, then filled, the sharp bow cut the water like a knife and the boat flew away from shore. He guided with the rudder placed at at one side the stern and made a long tack toward the village pier, for he wished to beat out into the main water of Green Bay. His heart exulted. He felt as if he had created some beautiful living thing and he had vague magnificent dreams of the fair as he glided along—no need of rowers straining at the oars when his sail carried so gaily. He avoided the ice cakes and went on past the village, flying before the wind like a witchboat.

He shifted the sail and beat toward the passage between the cliff and the island. Suddenly the wind changed and the boat refused to obey the awkward side rudder and drove straight toward the rocks under the cliff. The old man tried to lower his sail, but it pulled away from him and fluttered and snapped in the wind. The boat went on toward the rocks which showed in rough points above the surface. The keel grated and the boat listed far on its side.

Peter fell into the water, but it was not more than thigh deep, and he waded to the beach. Then he looked back and his heart grew like lead—his beautiful boat was being ground to bits by the sharp-toothed rocks. The mast snapped and the square sail lay spread on the water; the gay wooden shields were loosened and floated on the waves. He shook his fist and cursed in wild oaths the rocks that were beating apart the work of his hands. Once he waded out and snatched one of the shields and held it to his breast; then he sat down in despair and watched the breaking up of his wonder boat. Now and then the waves flung a bit of wreckage at his feet, but when he put out his hands it floated from his reach. He sat there until it was dusk, forgetful of his wet clothes and all save his loss. Finally he arose and walked along the cliff's base until he came to a path which led to the top. He went up slowly, and when he reached the top paused. His farm was to the left, but he turned into the deep woods, where the pale birches shone faintly in the dusk.

Searchers found him the next evening in the deep woods, wandering with stumbling and feeble steps. He had not eaten or slept and was likely to drop from fatigue. He went with them willingly enough, and when they took him home bore the reproaches and complaints of his wife without reply. When he spoke it was sensibly and without any of the violence of the demented, but when his beloved boat was torn to pieces on the rocks the light of reason had been forever extinguished in his mind.

He spent his long days in his shop building boats that have always some fatal defect that renders them unseaworthy, for the defective brain makes boats that are like unto himself. But the old man toils on, dreaming of the day when he shall finish another wonder boat and sail away to the White City, for he has never learned that the World's Fair is a dream come true and vanished.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

WHEREAS: Default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a certain mortgage dated the 1st day of April, 1889, and executed by Bernet Riley of the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, and State of New York, and Maggie, his wife, mortgagors, to Emma S. Whitten of the same town county and state, mortgagee, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the Clerk's office of Cayuga County, N. Y., in Liber 118 of mortgages at page 471 on the 2nd day of April, 1889, at 4 o'clock p. m., and WHEREAS, the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is the sum of $271.46, to wit, the sum of $250 of principal and $21.46 of interest, which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid upon said mortgage, and WHEREAS, no suit or proceeding at law or in equity having been had for the recovery of said sum of money or any part thereof, Now therefore, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and duly recorded as aforesaid and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises herein described at public auction at the front steps of the Genoa postoffice in the said town of Genoa, N. Y., on the 28th day of February, 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day. The said premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, and State of New York, being part of Lot 3 in said town and bounded on the north by lands formerly owned by Isaac Smith, on the east by east line of Lot 5, on the south by lands formerly owned by Daniel Whitman and on the west by the center of the highway known as North Fairview street, containing twelve acres and fifty six square rods of land more or less. This being the same premises conveyed to the said Bernet Riley by David D. Putnam and Teresa M., his wife, and to said Putnam by Simon Parks and Fannie F., his wife, and to said Parks by Charles Davis and Hannah, his wife. Herby reserving from the operation of this indenture a strip of land about four rods in width heretofore conveyed to the Railroad Co., and now occupied by them.

Dated Genoa, N. Y., the 24th day of November, 1899. EMMA S. WHITTEN, Mortgagee.
