Fourth of July

Day of glory! Welcome day!
Freedom's banners greet thy ray;
See! how cheerfully they play
With thy morning breeze,
On the rocks where pilgrims
kneeled,
On the heights where squadrons
wheeled,
When a tyrant's thunder pealed
O'er the trembling seas,
God of armies! did thy stars
On their courses smite his cars;
Blast his arm and wrest his bars!
From the heaving tide?
On our standard, lo! they burn,
And, when days like this return,
Sparkle o'er the soldier's urn
Who for freedom died.
God of peace, whose spirit fills
All the echoes of our hills,
All the murmur of our rills,
Now the storm is o'er,
O let freemen be our sons,
And let future Washingtons
Rise, to lead their valiant ones
Till there's war no more!
—JOHN PIERPONT.

GRAND MONUMENT IN DANGER

Obelisk That Marks Earliest Revolutionary Battle Must Not Be Allowed to Crumble.

The people of New England are much concerned over the report that the Bunker Hill monument is crumbling and is in danger of a fate like that of the Campanile in Venice which collapsed a dozen years ago.

The granite obelisk known as Bunker Hill monument, which commemorates the earliest real battle of the revolutionary war, is the most conspicuous object that catches the eye as one approaches Boston by sea. The shaft is 30 feet square at the base and is 220 feet in height. Inside is a hollow cone around which winds a spiral flight of stone steps by which ascent is made to the top, where there is an observatory. The monument was begun in 1825 when the cornerstone was laid by General Lafayette and Benjamin Webster delivered the famous oration that is familiar to every schoolboy. Because of a lack of funds it remained unfinished for nearly 20 years; it was largely through the efforts of American women, the necessary money was raised and the complete structure was dedicated in 1843.

Efforts are being made to re-erect the crumbling granite in hopes that the monument may remain a heritage for many generations of patriotic Americans.

Lafayette—"The Beechwood."
Linguists have discovered the origin of the famous name which during the recent years of war has become dearer than ever to Frenchmen and Americans alike. Lafayette came from the part of France known as "Auvergne." He was born at Chavagnac, in Auvergne, and his ancestral home was not far from the village of "Lafayette." In this part of the country the word "Lafayette" means a "Lafayette," and "Lafayette" comes from the Latin word "fagus," which means "beech" or "beechwood." Etymologically, then, the word "Lafayette" is the equivalent of "The Beechwood."

MEMORIAL AT VALLEY FORGE

Chapel Dedicated to Memory of Washington and the Revolution is Rapidly Nearing Completion.

Valley Forge, that historical center which will always be identified with the heroic efforts of the Colonial troops in their struggle for liberty, now has the distinction of possessing one of the most representative and expressive memorial buildings in the entire country. Taking the form of a chapel, it is dedicated to the memory of Washington, and at the same time typifies the entire period of the Revolution. It is intended to house a collection of mementos, almost every one of which is connected with some individual or event of the Revolutionary period.

The complete group will consist of a cloister, chapel and building, containing rooms in which patriotic societies may meet; a library of documents pertaining to the Revolution, and a tower overlooking the encampment.

The cloister is divided into 13 bays, each representing the officers and men from one of the thirteen original states. The interior of the chapel is rapidly approaching completion. Forty-eight panels represent all the states of the Union and symbolize the final achievement of the national group. The glass windows will constitute a national history in themselves. They tell the story of the discovery, settlement, and development of the nation.

Facade and Main Entrance of the Memorial Chapel.

In a progression leading up to the west window, which will represent the life of George Washington as told in 36 medallions. The various leaders of the Revolution, including Robert Morris, John Paul Jones, Thomas Jefferson, John Hancock, and others, will be depicted in other windows.

The choir stalls are of carved wood. The figures in the niches at the top of these stalls represent the uniforms of the Continental commands, and above them will be hung fac similes of the colors carried by the troops. The complete series will consist of 16 flags, including two of the French regiments that served in this country during the war.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

A TRIBUTE.

The years are but as moments, and your spirit, Lafayette, remembers, as you come to us, the mighty men you met in the epic days of yore when you stood, as we today, where the breezes fanned our faces from the bosom of the bay.

Joy was then within the soul of you, and youth was in your eyes, As the flag that conquered tyranny was flaunted to the skies; And there, mayhap, a vision for a moment came to you, And the Future told the wonder of the deeds we were to do.

Far across a sea of peril you, a knightly sword, had fared, And embalmed in song and story are the valiant feats you dared; You were Chivalry in action, with a splendor in your gaze, And our fathers, victor freemen, crowned your youthful brow with bays.

Did you see that year the faces of our heroes back from France, And the light of high endeavor that was shining in their glance? Did you see our bold crusaders who had crossed the sea you sailed To fight for freedom far afield, and by their might prevailed?

Ah, then, you saw your very soul in eyes that gleam today With dreams that led you, Lafayette, upon your splendid way; What they have done for stricken France, in that heroic past You did to save a nation that has paid its debt at last.

—Edward S. Van Zile.

A Pattern for the World.

The signing of the Declaration of Independence, on July 4, 1776, marked the birth of this nation, which stands today as the world's most potent factor in upholding the doctrine that all men are created free and equal.

TORNADO AGAIN BRINGS SALVATION ARMY DOUGHNUTS INTO ASCENDANCY

A force pressed into service in the wake of the southern tornado. (Below) Salvation Army workers amid the ruins of La Grange, Ga.

The achievement of the Salvation Army in being the first relief organization on the job in many of the Georgia and Alabama towns struck by the tornado March 28 was far from setting a precedent. In previous disasters it has often succeeded in reaching the smitten territory immediately and has assumed the leadership in rescue and relief work.

The Army had charge of the food supply in the tidal disaster at Corpus Christi, Tex., in 1919, and took the lead in all the work following the explosion at Halifax, Nova Scotia, during the war, while in the Dayton flood of 1913 Army workers in Columbus and other Ohio towns were among the first to get food to the marooned. Relief expeditions were sent to Galveston and San Francisco, while the workers stationed in both these places did yeoman service. One hundred and forty Salvationists lost their lives when the Empress of Ireland sank in the Gulf of St. Lawrence in 1914. Testimony of other passengers shows that this high mortality was caused by the officers voluntarily giving their life belts to others.

The work done after the March tornado in the South has received high praise from the authorities in the cities helped because of its promptness and effectiveness. The Salvationists' supplies of food, clothing and bedding filled a crying want. Forges were used for stoves, and the doughnut came into its own again amid such scenes of destruction as saw its ascendancy in France.

Work such as this is supported from the Home Service fund which makes possible all the Army's activities in America and for which the organization will make an appeal for $10,000,000 from May 10 to 20.

U.S. NAVY

Barber Shop.

Some hotel! Everything at cost, and done with the very finest equipment. Join the Navy, and forget the tips.

Can you imagine a first class shave for a nickel, a hair cut for a dime and a massage, shampoo, and all the trimmings in proportion?

It's almost luxurious, and now that the electric potato peelers have come in, Jack finds himself with a lot more time to improve himself. He doesn't need to wash his own clothes any more either, an electric laundry will take care of them at a price which is almost ridiculous.

This view of the busy harbor shop on board one of the U. S. dreadnoughts will give us all some idea of the way the men in the Navy live. Only the best is good enough for our sailors.
