If the germ was originally identical, he believes that it has been so modified in each case that it can live only in man, or only in cattle, as the case may be, and must die harmlessly when transferred from one to the other. Everybody must earnestly hope that this view will ultimately prevail. If it does, Dr. Moore will rank as the pioneer in correcting a wide spread and most injurious error.

SCALE INSECTS.

Prof. Johnston, Maryland's State Entomologist, Writes Concerning Them.

There is no group of insects of greater importance to horticulture today than that family which includes the creatures popularly known as coccids, bark lice or scale insects. They are to the horticulturist in many localities what the chinch bug is to the agriculturist in the Central West. There is scarcely a shrub or tree that is not subject to their attacks, and in many places extensive orchards have been ruined by them. The minute size of the creatures, the difficulty of destroying them, and their wonderful reproductive powers all combine to make them the most formidable of the pests of our orchards. Notwithstanding the great importance of these insects very little attention was given them until after the discovery of the San Jose scale in the East in 1893. It is not an uncommon occurrence to find oranges, lemons, pears, apples and other fruits in our local markets covered with scale insects.

The mere presence of these pests upon the fruit is ample evidence that the tree from which it came was attacked by the same insidious creatures, sapping its life and vigor, thus depriving the fruit of the elements so requisite for its development and perfection. Fruits of whatever kind from badly infested trees are always inferior in quality, stunted in growth and as a general rule unfit for the market.

Yet they are scraped, rubbed and polished by the sturdy old farmer, who honestly thinks he is restoring what insects and disease have destroyed, and takes them to market as the "best in the world." It is hard to tell who has committed the greater sin, the humble honest farmer, who so skillfully plied his fruits with gold, or the straightforward, upright silver-tongued tree agent who covered up insects and disease with the same precious metal when he sold his stock.

At the present time the nurserymen and the fruit growers are confronted by a condition of affairs far more serious than anything that has yet arisen in the development and extension of the horticultural interests of the United States and all on account of that notorious little creature the San Jose scale.

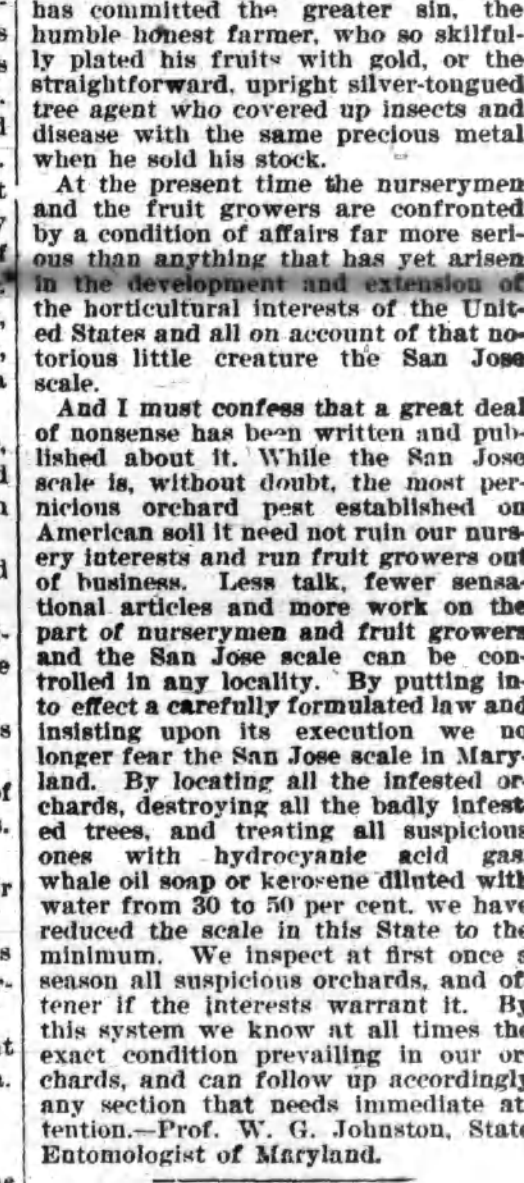

And I must confess that a great deal of nonsense has been written and published about it. While the San Jose scale is, without doubt, the most pernicious orchard pest established on American soil it need not ruin our nursery interests and run fruit growers out of business. Less talk, fewer sensational articles and more work on the part of nurserymen and fruit growers and the San Jose scale can be controlled in any locality. By putting into effect a carefully formulated law and insisting upon its execution we no longer fear the San Jose scale in Maryland. By locating all the infested orchards, destroying all the badly infested trees, and treating all suspicious ones with hydrocyanic acid gas, whale oil soap or kerosene diluted with water from 30 to 50 per cent, we have reduced the scale in this State to the minimum. We inspect at first once a season all suspicious orchards, and often if the interests warrant it. By this system we know at all times the exact condition prevailing in our orchards, and can follow up accordingly any section that needs immediate attention.—Prof. W. G. Johnston, State Entomologist of Maryland.

Supports for Climbing Vines.

Figs. 1 and 2 shows designs for two frames or supports for sweet peas, or any kind of vine. Such frames are suitable for the balloon vine, and also the cypress, and are made of willow wands or limbs, choosing those of good shape. The willow is especially adapted as it is extremely flexible and can be made to assume any shape required. A stout pole or rod forms the necessary support for No. 1. Plant the willows firmly in a circular form, a foot or more from the base of support, spacing evenly; then confine them at the top by a stout cord, or a ring of wire may be slipped over them so as to keep the wands in place. Such a frame will be found quite ornamental, and is substantial, and will stand the test of winds and storm, as found by actual experience.

FRAMES FOR VINES.

No. 2 shows another support for the sweet pea or other climbing plants. Three strong rods are firmly planted in the ground and circles formed of willow wand twisted or braided together, and afterward arranged as shown in design. Horizontal pieces of wood may be used to strengthen it if thought necessary, and should be placed at places marked A, A, and B, B. This design, if well made, will be found durable and very ornamental. These frames can occupy the centre of a circular flower bed, the outer edge being utilized for geraniums. This arrangement is very effective.

Nearly 58 Years Old!

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of their family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast to-day, with their faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of its youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century. It has lived on its merits, and on the cordial support of progressive Americans.

It is the New York Weekly Tribune, acknowledged the country over as the leading National Family Newspaper.

Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publishers of THE GENOA TRIBUNE (your own favorite home paper) have entered into an alliance with the New York Weekly Tribune which enables them to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.25 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself, to his family and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets and, in fact, a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide-awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both of these papers for only $1.25 a year. Send all subscriptions to THE TRIBUNE, Genoa, N. Y.

Paterson, N. J., June 25.—Cornelius J. Spear, a wheelwright, 66 years old, of No. 71 Cliffe street, died while riding on the side step of a trolley car, having been frightened by a large truck running up close to the car.

London, June 25.—D. E. Bourgeois of New Orleans, died last evening at Chester Terrace. He was a personal friend of United States Ambassador Choate, who arranged for the immediate shipment of his body to the United States.

Santiago de Cuba, June 23.—A native diver while getting metal from the wreck of the sunken Spanish cruiser Almirante Oquendo found a bag containing $8,000 half coin and the other half in Spanish paper money of little value.

Johannesburg, June 25.—There has been a considerable exodus during the last few weeks of people from this city to Cape Town on account of the fear of trouble between Great Britain and the Transvaal. During May and June 7,580 persons, chiefly women and children, left here.

Dover, Del., June 25.—A certificate of incorporation of the United States Vehicle Company with an authorized capital of $25,000,000 has been filed here at the office of the Secretary of State. The company was incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing with compressed air as a motive power.

Derby, Conn., June 25.—The Driggs-Seabury Gun and Ammunition Company, capitalized at $1,000,000 and which last week increased its capitalization to $2,000,000 has been relieved of a $250,000 contract for rapid-fire guns by order of Assistant Secretary Meiklejohn for failure to fulfill the terms of a previous contract.

Chicago, June 25.—Baron Edgar de Bara, recently convicted of carrying on a fraudulent business through the United States mails, has been taken to Detroit, Mich., to serve a term of three years in the House of Correction. The Baroness de Bara has already been taken to the Wheaton (Ill.) jail to serve her term of one year.

Pittsburg, June 25.—The boiler at Davis Island dam, owned by the Government, exploded with terrific force. Harry F. Welbush, assistant lock tender, was instantly killed. He was 34 years old, married, and had three children. No other person was hurt, although a tugboat was in the lock at the time. The boiler was blown over 100 feet.

White Plains, N. Y., June 24.—A jury in the Supreme Court, before Judge Jenks, returned a verdict of $3,650 against the Yonkers Trolley Company in favor of Robert Scott, a colored man. Jersey City, N. J., June 25.—With a steadiness of aim that resulted in the instant death of his victim, Antonio Macaerle fired a pistol shot at his wife, at the corner of Henderson and Ninth streets, this city. The murder was committed in the open street, within view of scores of persons. When the body of the woman lay at his feet, he turned the weapon upon himself. He also died instantly. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

Madison, Ind., June 25.—Every woman conductor employed on the street cars here has received a notice of discharge. Five of them have been employed ever since the electric line was started, in July, 1887.—Beatrice Earlinghouse, Ada Douglas, Lydia Martin, Rose Apfinger and Emma Meyer. While on duty they wear neat uniforms of a light tan colored skirt coming to the tops of the shoes, a light colored shirt waist and sailor hats. Patrons of the road have made a protest against the discharge of the women as they say that their service has been a model of pleasantness and courtesy.

Kansas City, Mo., June 25.—Grant G. Gillett, the Kansas City plunger, whose failure last winter for nearly $2,000,000 caused a sharp flurry in financial circles, is reported to have suddenly left Chihuahua, Mexico, where he has been in the hotel business, since his flight from creditors. The Kansas City Star states that Gillett has taken his family to the City of Mexico, whence they will go into Central America, where the plunger hopes to engage in business and be safe from the creditors and others who have hounded him in Chihuahua. According to the Star, Gillett has been a victim of blackmailers, who have repeatedly threatened to kidnap him and bring him back to the United States.

Spring Valley, N. Y., June 25.—Casper Zorn is lying critically wounded at his home in Mount Ivy, four miles from here, having been shot in the spinal column by his fourteen-year-old son John. It was the old case of the pistol and a boy who thought it wasn't loaded.

Auburn Begins to See Light.

In a recent address before the business men's association of the city of Auburn, Wm. P. Robinson, who is a well-known and thoroughly informed resident of that city, made some startling and interesting disclosures in regard to the loss of trade from the south part of Cayuga county, since the Genoa railroad was purchased and abandoned by the Lehigh company. To us it is a remarkable fact that this distressing state of affairs has not before been discovered, or at least brought to the attention of the business men of Auburn. If Auburn has lost the trade that Ithaca and Moravia have gained, Auburn's business men have no one to blame but themselves. Their association, which has done much for Auburn, has completely ignored this important question, and when Mr. Robinson stated the facts as he did, the members present were both astonished and ashamed. Farmers tell us that Ithaca is a better market for all produce than Auburn. If this be true, is it any wonder that Auburn's business men miss the trade of southern Cayuga, both wholesale and retail? Mr. Robinson advocates a railroad to Genoa. He is the first Auburn man who has dared to advance that idea in public in the past ten years, so far as we know. He is a far-seeing man, and he feels certain, as we all do, that the most beautiful and fertile valley in the Empire state is not to be forever without a means of rapid transit. He is a public-spirited man, and desires that his fellow citizens and his city shall reap the benefits that a road to Genoa would give. Mr. Robinson gives these figures in regard to the amount of business the Genoa railroad did during the last year of its existence:

Genoa station, 24 miles south of Auburn.
 Freight forwarded, 10,545,260 lbs.
 Gross tons received, 1,500.
 Number of full carloads forwarded, 403
 Cash received for freight, not including coal, $5,314.44.
 Cash received for passenger tickets, $1,401.98
 Freight received, aside from coal, $470,240 lbs. or say 115 carloads at 14 tons per car.
 Mileage tickets were sold in Auburn.
 Venice Center station, 16 miles south of Auburn.
 Total number of full carloads, going beyond this road, of hay, grain, apples and livestock, 407.
 Weight of freight, 10,874,297 lbs.
 Local freight charges, $9,591.42.
 Weight of freight received, 2,383,280 lbs.
 Local freight charges, this road, earnings, $1,729.46.
 Cash receipts for passengers, $410.47.
 Gross tons local received, 1,920 tons.
 Mileage tickets were sold at Auburn.
 Merrifield station business, 12 miles south of Auburn.
 Business done between January 1, 1890, and January 1, 1891:
 Total number of full carloads going beyond this road of hay, grain, apples and live stock, 441.
 Cash received for telegraph, $105.20.
 Cash received for passengers, this road, $1,021.43.
 Gross tons coal received, 1,605.
 Cash on freight received of this road's earnings, $4,994.52.
 Full carloads of timber and shingles received 76.
 Carloads fertilizers received 26.

While all the newspapers of Auburn are fully aware of the great impetus to trade a railroad to Genoa would give, not one of them has dared to give the project any encouragement, and until within a month nothing whatever has been said. We are glad that the business men's association has taken hold of the matter, and hope for something to be accomplished.

Well Said.

Our board of trade and business men's association have vainly sought to secure a concession of accommodating trains over the Lehigh Valley line in order to enable visitors to reach the city at such early hour as might give them time to trade and transact business so as to return home at the close of the day; also to attend amusement places in town and take a return home train at an hour to make the trip convenient and timely. But no such arrangement could be secured from the autocratic railway managers.

The Lehigh Valley railway trains are scheduled in such a manner as to take trade away from Auburn and divert it to other business places.

Those trains do not accommodate Auburn business travel, Auburn pleasure seekers nor Auburn summer sojourners along the lakes. Build up the trolley system over the Genoa line.—So says the Auburn Journal.

Our Genoa Newspaper.

Ever since THE TRIBUNE was established, May 15, 1891, a part of the printed pages have been furnished by the New York Newspaper union of New York City, and these pages are known as "patent prints." Of all things in the printing business, we have the most contempt for a "patent inside," and business men and the public generally share this feeling. When the new Babcock press was added to our establishment we determined to do away with "patent" news entirely, and have since been printing THE TRIBUNE entirely at home. Our foreign news service is equal to any in the world, and the stories and other matter usually found on the inside pages are the best to be had. We had reason to believe that this change was not fully understood by our patrons, and to be appreciated such things must be understood. Hence this item. As we have before remarked, we desire to receive all the work in our line that we can handle, and the harder we are rushed the better we like it. When you come to Genoa, call and see us.

Took His Own Life.

Henry Miner, formerly of Locke, killed himself yesterday about 6 p. m., by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. Miner has not lived with his wife for some time. Yesterday afternoon Miner went to the home of Wm. Wilcox where his wife works, saying if he could not have his wife he would kill her. She secured a warrant for his arrest and it was placed in the hands of Constable F. Gillespie. The constable got Miner in the wagon with him and started for Genoa. Miner jumped from the wagon and drew a revolver. The constable followed him, when Miner pulled a gun and they exchanged shots without effect. Gillespie deemed his life worth saving and accordingly went after Miner's son who was said to be able to handle him. Meantime Miner came on to East Genoa and when the officer again came up with him, he ran over into a plowed field and shot himself through the head. Miner died about 8:30. The coroner was notified. An autopsy was held Thursday at 10 a. m. by Coroner Knapp and Drs. Atwood of Groton and Slocum of Genoa. Inquest tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

TALK ABOUT BANTAMS.

A Short History of the Origin of Two of the Most Popular Strains.

Rose Comb Blacks, sometimes called Black Africans, are one of the oldest and still most popular bantams. These, like the Seabrights, originated in England, and are bred in their highest degree of fineness in that country.

They are one of the most beautiful of our fancy varieties of poultry and are highly rated as egg producers, especially in view of the small outlay of feed; most of them being almost incessant layers of good-sized eggs.

BLACK ROSE COMBS.

They are generally ordinary setters and excellent mothers, defending their chickens against all comers. The chicks are rather delicate until after attaining their adult plumage, but after that are exceedingly hardy.

Rose Comb Blacks should have a nice, neat rose comb terminating in a spike inclining upward, same as Seabrights. The ear lobe should be pure white, round, smooth and flat, and almost the size of a quarter. In cocks, in general outline they should follow the Hamburg for style, shape and carriage, with wings a little more drooping, neck arched and full of feathers, generally being termed bull-necked, with a good broad chest and plenty of long saddle hackle, sickles and saddle hangers long and whole tail rather drooping.

Japanese bantams were first introduced into England from Japan, and from there to this country. Since this introduction there have been many importations direct from Japan to America, as well as to England. They are one of the many striking breeds imported from the Orient and are a popular variety to-day.

Originally they were black tailed whites, but they are now bred in solid blacks, solid whites, grays and buffs. The solid whites are at present the most popular of the varieties, as they are better in general Japanese characteristics than the others. Of late, however, the solid blacks are following close on the heels of the whites in both popularity and characteristics. Japs gain in favor every season and always are shown in splendid numbers and quality at our large shows.

Buff Color.

Probably no variety of fowls ever became so universally popular as have the new buff breeds. Certainly not in so short a time. Especially is this true of the Buff Plymouth Rock. Buff Wyandottes and Buff Leghorns, while they were both admitted to the Standard some time before the Rock, have neither of them become so widely popular. Why this is may be due to one or several reasons, and in no wise proves that they are less deserving of attention. The Leghorn embodies qualities distinctly its own; and so far as beauty is concerned, where can we find the superior of their proud, graceful carriage, their beautifully rounded bodies and alertness of movement, while for the egg farmer I do not believe they have an equal.

The Wyandotte need fear no present competition in the race for first honors as a general purpose fowl; and those who have bred them alongside others in this class have found them the equals, and in some respects the superiors of their rivals.

White buff color in poultry is perhaps the most difficult to produce, it is also causing breeders no little thought and experiment as to how to retain the desired shade after once we get it.

According to the dictionary, buff is a medium between light pink and light yellow; and this seems to be the preferred shade throughout the East. The West has catered to a darker shade, much the color of yellow ochre, or deep orange. But in any of the shades, from lemon buff to ochreous, especially those bordering on the former, the product of matings composed of specimens, all of which were of the shades referred to, will show more or less white in plumage; wings and tails especially. The tendency of all buff fowls is to throw lighter chicks than parent stock. Hence it follows that either the male or female side of the pen must be of a darker shade in order to counteract this tendency and retain the color. Preferably the male, as he is largely responsible for the color of his offspring.

Diseases—Remedy and Prevention.

Ventilate without drafts. The sitting fowl is the poor layer. Exposure to cold rains is injurious. The healthy fowl is always hungry. The ergot on the wheat is rank poison. Fowls cannot stand heavy wind-storms.

The Muscovy Duck.
 The name is derived from the "musky" odor which exudes from the skin, but which entirely disappears in cooking. It seems probable that its earlier name was Musk duck, and that this has been gradually changed into Muscovy. The latter name has now become well fixed in poultry nomenclature, and it would be difficult, even if it were desirable, to restore the earlier.

The Muscovy is a distinct species from our other domestic ducks. It has not the curled feathers in the tail of the drake, which are prominent characteristics of the descendants of the wild Mallard. It is found in the wild state roosting in trees and sometimes making its nest among their branches, and in the domesticated state it preserves its powers of flight and the ridge-board of a barn or the topmost limb of a tree are not to it inaccessible objects. When crossed with other domesticated breeds, the progeny is sterile when bred inter se, though it is said that instances have been known where the hybrids would breed with either parent. Such instances are rare, and their existence, if well attested, would add only one more proof that hybrids are not always sterile. Mules have been known to have colts, and it would not be beyond belief that a "mule" of the duck race should produce a fertile egg.

The appearance of the Muscovy is very striking. The drake has on top of the head long feathers which can be elevated or depressed at will. The sides of the head and face are covered with red caruncles. These characteristics, together with its arched neck, long and rather flat beak and broad breast, make up a tout ensemble quite different from that of other breeds.

Among the Poultry.

The Embden is the best breed of geese.

Even ducks cannot stand dampness in their quarters.

Cornmeal can hardly be excelled for fattening.

Young ducks begin to lay earlier in the season than old ones.

Do not mix bone meal with soft feed; give them separately.

Short-legged fowls usually make the best roosters.

Old hens almost invariably lay larger eggs than pullets.

In the second year a hen is more profitable than at any other time.

Early hatched chickens fetch the best prices and bring in money when most needed.

Overfed fowls do not lay well and in the larger breeds especially, are more liable to apoplexy.

For poultry a dry, gravelly spot is necessary to healthful conditions.

The Spanish white Leghorns and Minorcas all lay large, white eggs and are nonsetters.

In feeding all kinds of small grain at noon scatter it among litter and let the hens scratch it out.

Guineas are good layers, and their flesh is a combination of the turkey and the pheasant.

Neatfoot oil is said to be better than kerosene for many of the ills of fowls because it is less irritating.

If the hens get too fat feeding with oats for a few days will soon reduce them.

Leghorns, Minorcas, Spanish, Andalusians and Hamburgs, are the fowls with the big egg-producing record; but they are not the best table fowls.

—A. E. Trea has returned to Groton after several weeks spent in New York city and southern points. While in New York he completed his studies in optics and received a diploma. He can now fit your eyes correctly.

—The Genoa business men's association, which has the celebration in charge, requests that each and every resident display the national colors on Tuesday next. Let the eagle soar and "old glory" wave!

—B. L. Avery who suffered a slight shock on Wednesday, last week, is so much improved that he is able to attend to most of his daily duties. He feels as well as usual, and his many friends hope for his permanent recovery.

—The ball game on Saturday was a picnic for the Ludlowville boys—a regular course dinner with pie. The game was stopped by rain when the score stood 17 to 5. James Gifford was the only lad the Ludlowville twirler could not strike out. They play here again the 4th, and we look for a different result.

—Mrs. Hepsie Stone, widow of the late John R. Stone, died June 18 at the home of her son George, at Moravia, aged 84 years. The deceased is survived by two sons; she also leaves a brother, Harvey Pierson of Genoa, and six sisters, Mrs. Mary Carpenter of Ithaca, Mrs. Eulalia Morse, Mrs. Betsey Myers, Mrs. Lucinda Phillips, Mrs. Adaline Vandemark and Mrs. Eliza Mastin, all of Genoa.

Dr. H. M. Dommett, the dentist of Union Springs, will be at the Genoa photo rooms on Wednesday, July 5, where he will be glad to see all who wish dental work. Satisfaction guaranteed and prices reasonable; hours, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

I am glad to inform my friends that I am improving in health very much, so much that I will be able to attend to my office work in a few days if nothing happens. And to those who were so anxious for my shoes, I will give them some valuable information if they will call at my office.

—Mastin & Hagin, who are carrying one of the finest stocks of hardware in this country, have a new letter elsewhere.

—B. Rich, Ithaca's well-known clothier, quotes some remarkable prices in his column space elsewhere. Don't fail to read them.

—Rev. Charles McKensie who supplied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here last summer was installed as pastor of the Sixth church of Albany on June 13.

—Read the new advertisements in this paper. Bush & Dean, dry goods, of Ithaca say something of interest. The large space on the 8th page is surely worth looking over.

—Remember the celebration begins promptly at 9 o'clock July 4. Come in the morning, prepared to stay all day and the evening. Genoa won the bond suit, and all dancers should certainly feel like dancing next Tuesday evening.

NOTICES ARE POSTED.

The Mines Where Trouble is Looked for, Operated by Mine Workers and Knights of Labor.

Striking Smelters in Colorado May Build an Independent Smelter—Funds to Be Raised by Individual Assessments—The Strike at Rochester Finally Settled.

Colorado, Springs, Col., June 27.—The striking smelter employes of Colorado, in closed session at the leading centres, have under advisement the project of an independent smelter. The proposition is to be carried to the National Federation of Labor, in which the Smelter's Union has its membership through its connection with the Western Federation of Miners.

Each member of the National order will be asked to contribute $1. By this method $800,000 may be raised. The movement may be completed and the funds be in the treasury within thirty days. The men now on strike propose to operate the smelter for 75 cents a day until it shall reach a profitable standing, when the present scale is to go into effect. All profits are to go into the general fund of the Federation of Labor. At Elyria, Col., ground has been surveyed and plans perfected for the smelter. Work is to begin as soon as the money is secured. Within sixty days the smelter will be in operation. The smelter capacity of Colorado is unequal to the output of smelter ore by about one-fourth. The strikers may make a success of their undertaking without affecting the strike situation.

Bitter Feeling at Cleveland

Cleveland, Ohio, June 27.—Only one outbreak of violence attended the resumption of traffic on all the lines of the Big-Consolidated Street Railway. There was objection in some parts of the city to the retention of the non-union men who were kept by the company. A party of twenty-five men assembled near the bridge, just south of the city, and whenever a car came along with a non-union crew the passengers were asked to disembark and wait for a car manned by a union crew. In most cases the passengers did as requested. Finally a non-union conductor undertook to argue with the crowd, and he was promptly struck over the head with a club, and he and the motorman driven away. The mob refused to permit the car to move until a union crew came along and pushed it to the barn.

Big Mining Strike Threatens.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 27.—Notices have been posted in all the mines of the Jellico and Brayerville districts that unless the demand of the miners for a ten per cent. advance is complied with before July 1 the miners will strike. The mines are operated by the United Mine Workers and the Knights of Labor. The strike will involve about ten thousand men. Mine operators hope to compromise with the miners at a 5 per cent. raise. The operators cannot now afford to close down, owing to urgent contracts and the great rush of business, especially in steam coal. The miners are in an ugly mood, and will not listen to compromise. Inquiries have been made in the Adjutant General's office as to whether or not several companies of militia could be secured in case they were needed to protect property. Not an organized body of militia now exists in the State.

Rochester Strike Settled.

Rochester, June 27.—The street laborers' strike is over. The men will receive $1.50 a day for eight hours, and all have returned to work. The difficulties were settled at a conference. Commissioners Gilbert and Webster, of the State Board of Mediation and Arbitration, were present. The contractors agreed to the wages that the men asked. The agreement is subject to review by the courts. If the courts decide that under the eight-hour law the employers are not required to pay the old wages for ten hours, then the contractors will have the right to reduce the wages to $1.20 a day, or 15 cents an hour. The contractors originally offered $1.40 a day, with a promise not to reduce wages even if the courts should decide against the men.

Strike of Car Works Employees.

Jeffersonville, Ind., June 27.—The Ohio Falls Car Works, a branch of the American Car and Foundry Company, is wrestling with a strike in which one thousand moulders are taking part. The men struck because they wanted their wages paid weekly, while the State Loan Commission gives the company the privilege of paying every two weeks. The other workmen will probably join them. The works employ 2,500 men and are unusually busy.

Mrs. Field Her Husband's Guardian. San Francisco, June 26.—Mrs. Minnie Field has been appointed guardian of her husband, Major Edward Field, of the United States Army, who broke down physically and mentally several weeks ago. As he is not competent to transact business, his wife applied for letters of guardianship so that his personal matters might be attended to by her in a legal manner.

States Marshal Woolman has advices from Beaver Head County that the two suspects captured here on Tuesday are the men implicated in the Union Pacific train robbery, for whose capture a reward of $3,000 each is offered.

McDuffie Broke the Record.

Fall River, Mass., June 26.—Eddie McDuffie, of Boston, broke the quarter and half-mile records in a mile-exhibition ride at Buttonwood Park, cutting the quarter two-fifths of a second and the half four-fifths of a second. His time for the mile was 1:34 3-5.

CHEERS FOR ROOSEVELT

Wild West Welcome for the "Rough Rider" in Las Vegas.

Las Vegas, N. M., June 27.—Governor Roosevelt of New York, former Colonel of the Rough Riders, accompanied by many members of his old command, took Las Vegas by storm.

Never before in the Territory of New Mexico was there such a scene as greeted the New Yorker when his train, all covered with yellow bunting, steamed into the station here. Cheers followed cheers as the Rough Riders, who were here waiting, caught sight of their old commander. Nor was the cheering confined to Rough Riders, for fully 5,000 persons surrounded the little station and blended their voices in the mighty welcome, which brought tears of joy to the object of all this mighty demonstration.

The Reception Committee of citizens and Rough Riders, headed by Governor Otero, Chairman Whitmore, Mayor Coors, Colonel Brodie and Captain Llewellyn, met Governor Roosevelt at Wagon Mound.

The meeting at Wagon Mound between Governor Roosevelt and his old comrades in arms was most cordial. To Colonel Brodie he said:

"I am delighted to see you; glad to be here." To other Rough Riders who pressed around him to shake his hand and whom he recognized immediately, his greetings were: "How are you, old man; mighty glad to see you; where's Jack Greenway?" "Does me good to see you." "Delighted to be with you." "How do you do," etc.

The citizens of New Mexico procured a handsome gold and diamond medal, which the presented to Gov. Roosevelt at the close of the regimental review of Rough Riders. The speech of presentation was made by Frank Springer, a well-known attorney and President of the Maxwell Land Grant Company, and the badge was pinned on Roosevelt's breast by Miss Eva, the handsome young daughter of Mr. Springer. Governor Roosevelt exhibited much emotion, and he spoke rapidly and feelingly in response to the compliment.

Governor Roosevelt is being lionized to the highest degree here, and says he should have attended the Rough Riders' reunion if he had been compelled to walk to Las Vegas.

To Strike Trusts Through Railroads

Chicago, June 26.—Ex-Governor Altgeld declares that the railroads will be placed under fire by the Democratic convention next year. "It is my belief," he said, "that if the convention were held within thirty days, it would almost unanimously adopt a tentative plan declaring for governmental ownership of the railroads. Without the continuous assistance from the railroads the trusts would not survive a year."

Twenty Died in the Desert.

San Diego, Cal., June 26.—Word has been received here that a party of twenty miners, bound for the Sierra Pintada placers, lost their way in the desert and wandered a long time, finally dying of thirst. The information came in a letter received by J. P. Catlin, one of the characters of the schooner Thomas S. Negus, which took a party of forty prospectors to San Rogue Landing.

Artillery Ordered Home.

Washington, June 26.—Orders have been issued by the War Department for the return from Porto Rico of three batteries of artillery. Battery B, Fifth Artillery, was ordered several days ago to proceed to New York for assignment. Since then Batteries C and M of the Seventh Artillery have received similar orders and left San Juan for the United States.

Extradition for Alleged Thieves.

Washington, June 26.—The State Department has granted extradition papers to the British Embassy in the case of Elizabeth Annable and William Johnson, who were arrested in New York. They are charged with larceny of about $1,000 in Nottingham, England. The money, it is said, belonged to the husband of the woman, who eloped to this country with Johnson.

Klondike Yield Summed Up.

Seattle, Wash., June 26.—Purser Carroll, of the steamer Humboldt, just arrived from Alaskan points, says he has in his custody $280,000 in gold dust, and estimates that there was $300,000 more on board not turned over to him. Returning Klondikers estimate the clean-up for the last season as from $12,000,000 to $16,000,000.

Ruhlin Lost to Kennedy.

San Francisco, June 26.—Joe Kennedy, of San Francisco, was given the decision over Gus Ruhlin, of Ohio, at the end of a twenty-round fight in Woodward's Pavilion under the auspices of the Excelsior Athletic Club. Ruhlin was favorite in the betting at odds of 2 to 1. The Ohio man weighed 180 pounds and Kennedy weighed 195.

WILL RAISE NEW TROOPS.

Plans Being Formulated For Sending More Men to General Otis.

MAY BE TEN REGIMENTS.

War Department Officials Collecting Data to Enable the President to Act in the Matter Promptly.

The Department Not Yet Officially Informed as to How Many More Troops Are Needed—How the Volunteers Are to be Designated—Immediate Action to be Taken.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—That the President may make prompt determination of the number of volunteers to be sent to reinforce General Otis at Manila the War Department is collecting data regarding former officers and the method of securing men for submission to him immediately upon his return.

Acting Secretary Melklejohn says that Gen. Otis has not yet furnished the Department a statement of the additional men he desired, but he will certainly be consulted before the President takes action.

The Department is continuing its work apparently with the idea in view that ten regiments will be organized in addition to the three volunteer organizations which General Otis has been directed to form from the men desiring to re-enlist. Officers having the matter in charge are figuring on the advisability of forming the proposed regiments of ten companies of 150 men each or twelve companies of 128 men each, the former idea being suggested by the desire of the department to minimize the number of officers to be appointed.

It is proposed to designate the volunteer regiments organized in the order of their enlistment—Eleventh Volunteers, Twelfth, Thirteenth, etc.—so in future they cannot be confused with the ten regiments which served during the war and have been mustered out of service.

It has been suggested that the department, as it did in the organization of the immune regiments, designate their officers, to be appointed by the President, to enlist men. By such means, it is pointed out, there would be no difficulty in promptly securing the necessary number.

Applications have been received from regiments in all parts of the country which desire to see service under General Otis. A reading of the law shows, however, that the President is not required to "call" for troops, but is authorized to "raise" them, and he will take advantage of the authority by recruiting, or by pursuing the same course he did in the case of the immune regiments.

As seventeen thousand volunteers will be mustered out in consequence of the return of the Western regiments from the Philippines, and only about twenty thousand volunteers will be enlisted to take their places, it is apparent that few additional general officers can be appointed.

Chicago, June 27.—Gen. Alger, in an interview discussed the Philippine situation. He said that on his return to Washington he would recommend to the President an increase of the army now under Gen. Otis's command. Asked whether there was any intention to send Gen. Miles to Manila he said:

"Not that I know of. All I know about it is what I have read in the newspapers. The matter never has been discussed so far as I am aware Gen. Otis is doing good work. He is conservative, level-headed, and aggressive. His conduct of the war in the Philippines has been satisfactory. But there's no doubt he needs more men. We intend to give them to him. I cannot say how many. After I return to Washington and the President gets back there I will make recommendations to him."

"I'm not prepared to say there will be a call for volunteers. Gen. Otis's fighting force has been reduced because a large number of men have been stationed at different points to hold them. But I do not apprehend any new regiment will be sent before Oct. 1 or in-time to arrive there when the rainy season is over."

Drowned at a Regatta.

New York, June 26.—Two lives were lost at the twenty-ninth annual regatta of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club in Long Island Sound. The men were lost off C. T. Pierce's catboat, the Dot, in a squall which came out of the northeast, forcing all the fliers to take down their sails. One of the men was a Mr. Lockwood, of Englewood, N. J., a friend of Mr. Pierce, and the other a sailor named Mitchell.

Good Increase of Wages.

Lebanon, Penn., June 26.—Notices of an increase of wages of laborers and factory operators have been posted at the Pennsylvania Bolt and Nut Works. The increase takes effect July 1, and laborers now receiving ten cents an hour, under the new schedule will receive 12½ cents an hour. The increase for factory operators is from 10 to 15 per cent. Over one thousand employes are affected.

Restraining Order Granted.

Evansville, Ind., June 26.—A temporary restraining order has been granted by Judge Mattison in the Circuit Court on behalf of the Ingle Coal Company against the officers of the United Mine Workers and striking miners forbidding them to visit the Ingle mine or attempt to induce the workers to quit. A motion to make the injunction permanent will be heard on September 4.

The Khalifa Penned In.

Cairo, Egypt, June 26.—Deserters who have reached the British lines say the Khalifa is confined in a narrow valley by the Tagalas, a friendly body of tribesmen. The latter say they killed 500 of the Khalifa's followers during the recent engagement. It is not thought likely the Tagallas will be able to secure the Khalifa.

What will it do? It will do so much that it is impossible to tell it in a short space. It will brighten and freshen the rooms you have been living in and destroy all germs of disease. It will make the inside of the house attractive and cheerful, and if the house is not cheerful the family can hardly expect to be. It will protect the outside of the house and preserve it from decay, besides making it good to look upon. It will "stick closer than a brother," and it will make a place for itself in the corner of your heart, so that when the name "Chilton Paint" is mentioned you will "rise up and call it blessed."

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Expectorant. I tried it and in half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

Kearny, N. J., June 26.—A big public meeting was held here in the Town Hall to protest against the dismissal of Miss Mary Greenfield from her position as a teacher in the High School. Fatal Fire at Jamestown.

Washington, June 27.—The combination between Secretary Alger and Gov. Pingree of Michigan to bring about Secretary Alger's election to the United States Senate, can hardly go into effect without causing Secretary Alger's retirement from the Cabinet. This is the opinion both of his critics and his friends.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The assignees of the defunct Chestnut Street Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of which the late William M. Singerly was President, and which failed on Dec. 22, 1897, have announced that they are ready to pay first dividend of 21 per cent. to the depositors. There are about 3,200 claims to be met.

Towanda, Ill., June 27.—James W. Rankin, operating a portable sawmill in Money Creek Township, was instantly killed during a storm. Bridgeport, Conn., June 27.—John Falls, of Southport, is in the hospital here in delirium of fear lest he go mad from a dog bite. Last October he was bitten while attempting to separate fighting dogs.
