NEWS ABOUT THE STATE

Paragraphs of the Week's Happenings Clipped from the Tribune's Exchanges.

Admiral Dewey will soon have about thirty war vessels in his fleet.

The Lehigh Valley will run an excursion to New York on the 25th of this month.

Eugene Cornell and mother will remove from Cross Roads to Bancroft farm in Scipio.

80,000 barrels of salt are stored in the storehouse of the Ithaca Salt works, awaiting the opening of canal navigation.

Irving Hort of Owego was arrested for forging his uncle's name to an order for $5 on J. H. Rease, proprietor of the Central House in Owego, last week.

The Christian Scientists maintain that bodily ailments are purely imaginary. We wonder if a Scientist really thinks so when he steps on a tack.

One farmer near Palmyra lost 1,500 bushels of potatoes by freezing and another 700. It is believed that 15,000 bushels were destroyed in that town.

The Cayuga Presbytery refused to sanction the request of Rev. Wallace B. Lucas, D. D., to be allowed to resign his pastorate of the Meridian church.

The DeRuyter gas company has been incorporated at Albany. The capital is $5,000 and the directors are M. E. Tallett, A. W. Francis, H. D. Preston, I. E. Smith and W. W. Ames.

Under the law just signed by Governor Roosevelt the American flag cannot be used in this state for advertising purposes. The only thing that the starry banner can be used to advertise is the United States of America.

The Cortland Democrat has been purchased by Fay C. Parsons who has been the editor and publisher since the death of its founder, the late Benj. B. Jones. Mr. Parsons has conducted a bright, newsy sheet and has the best wishes of the fraternity.

Superintendent Parsons of the Otsego glove factory, Richfield Springs, reports the receipt of several very large orders for gloves. One salesman has already sold half as many gloves as during the entire year of 1898.

There are only six "wet" towns in Cortland county as the result of the recent town meetings—Marathon, Preble, Scott, Truxton, Willet and Cuyler. The board stands 9 republican to 6 democrats, the latter gaining one over last year.

George S. Sadler, supervisor of the town of Lenox, one of the foremost business men of Canastota, died very suddenly in his office Thursday afternoon. Death was due to apoplexy. He was at one time superintendent of the E. C. & N. railroad. He leaves a wife and one brother.

W. H. Lally of Oxford was held up and robbed in Brooklyn one day last week. Five men attacked him. They took his gold watch valued at $150 and what cash he had on his person. He had just alighted from a Brooklyn elevated train. Mr. Lally is a brother of ex-Sheriff Lally of Chenango county.

Acts of vandalism have occurred of late in Friends' cemetery in Union Springs which should receive merited punishment. The caps of posts and tops of pickets of the expensive iron fence have been wantonly broken off and other malicious acts committed. A reward is offered for the detection of person or persons guilty of the crime.

Supervisor W. J. Greenfield of Moravia has been unearthing some relics of by gone days at the homestead on Oak Hill. Among the relics are a wooden mortar and pestle, 100 years old, and a satchel very nearly as antique. A book on Masonry, printed in 1797, was also found. Among old papers was a deed dated Sept. 15, 1800, of fifty acres, which now is a part of the Greenfield farm. A later deed of another fifty acres of the farm bears date of 1805. The documents are well preserved.

Daniel Ditmars of Trumansburg recently lost his valuable team of colts in a very peculiar manner. The team started to run from the stone grist mill and ran through Main st. which was filled with teams, past the Morse chain works, and ran up the creek towards the Witt's slaughter house. They ran into the creek, which they followed a few rods, when the horses slipped and became entangled in the harness and were unable to escape being strangled before help arrived. The horses were valued at $500.

The new Lehigh depot at Ithaca is nearly completed. It is a handsome structure.

William C. Elmendorf, Democrat, was elected mayor of Ithaca by a plurality of 276. Edward N. Jackson was elected alderman.

An exchange says that men who think a half mile too far to go to church, will walk five miles around a pool table and think nothing of it.

Miss May L. Holihan, a saleslady in A. M. Stevens' Auburn store, died at her home on Sunday evening from the effects of medicine which she had taken. She was 23 years old.

A bill authorizing the State to purchase Watkins Glen is now before the legislature. It provides that the governor appoint a commission of five to contract for the purchase, this contract to be ratified by the legislature, and an appropriation made within 2 years. The bill will probably pass.

The funeral of Frank Sheldon, who hung himself in the Auburn jail and thus brought his second trial to an abrupt end, saving the tax payers hundreds of dollars, was held on Sunday from the home of his brother in Sennett. Burial was at the family plot at Weedsport cemetery. All the relatives except Joseph Remington attended the funeral services.

The bulk of our farm-born population has migrated to the cities. The country is swarming with farm-bred agents. The railroads require another army of them and the manufacturers absorb the balance. Boys will not stay on the farms. The steady drudgery takes the damask off their cheeks and brings the callous on their hands. The smell of the stable nauseates and farm life narrows their boundaries. They yearn for the city and its hand organs, and close hunger, cold and long work hours among hustlers, to a life of placid content and three square meals a day with a mince pie on the side before going to bed.—Cato Citizen.

Concert at King Ferry.

There will be a concert at the King Ferry Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening March 22, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, readings and impersonations, tableaux etc., by the Adams Sisters of Boston. Sheep for sale—14 choice breeding ewes. G. W. Whitney, Genoa.

A Model Hen House.

Having heard about the model hen house on the farm of Joseph Titus, I made him a visit not long since and inspected the building. I met the proprietor just coming out with a basket of pure white eggs, and he kindly showed me around. The building is 18 x 90 feet and 7 high; it is sided and lined with the best of matched pine, with a roof of Washington cedar shingles. It is painted red with white trimmings. Inside there are five pens; an alley three feet wide extends the entire length; the floors are of Portland cement, and the partitions are of matched pine up to the plates, and above of lath for the purpose of ventilation. In the first pen were 50 white leghorn pullets, beauties, all just alike; in the second pen were 50 choice white leghorn hens which he is keeping for breeding purposes. The other pens contained about 200 white and brown leghorns, all apparently in fine condition. The nests were arranged under the roosts, saving space and making a dark place for the hens to lay in. The facilities for feeding and watering enable the fowls to secure what they desire without getting into it. Each pen is lighted with three or four windows 4 feet from the floor. It is a very fine building and conveniently arranged, and Mr. Titus says that a great many people have called to look it over. He is always ready to "talk hen."

THE FLOWER OF GALA WATER.

A LOVE STORY.

BY AMELIA E. BARN.

(Copyright, by Roscoe Borman's 5798.)

CHAPTER III.

CONTINUED.

"Mr. Mowbray will feel much obliged to you. Bolts and bars cannot keep out love. Do you imagine the 'Rules' of a ladies' school will be more successful?"

"You will see what I will do! Do you think I will permit a couple of silly women to break my plans to pieces?"

"There has been some excellent fooling done by silly women in all ages, Alexander. You had better not try your wit against them."

"My will is sufficient. I say that Katherine shall marry Jamie Wintoun."

"If she wills, not unless."

Then she went out of the room and left him alone with his will. And there was a smile on her face, not like unto the smile of an obedient woman. It was more like the smile of a woman who is anticipating a controversy and is certain of victory.

CHAPTER IV.

"I MUST SEE MY BROTHER."

"This earth whereon we dream
Is on all sides overshadowed by the high
Unreclaimed mountains of Necessity,
Sparing us narrower margin than we deem."

—Arnold.

"No joy so great but runneth to an end,
No hap so hard but may in time amend."
—Southwell.

Two letters arrived at the manse very early next morning. One was from Mrs. Brathous to Jessy asking her to request Mr. Mowbray not to visit Levens-hope for two or three weeks. "She was," she said, "fully resolved to stand by the promise she had made him with regard to Katherine, but she must have time to consider the kindest and best way to manage the future." In truth, the lady was much troubled and perplexed. She had, perhaps, a more affectionate feeling toward the laird than she was really aware of; at any rate, she did recognize a certain loyalty to his interests as incumbent upon her. Also Jamie Wintoun had some claim to be considered. He had won a large share of her liking. She could not remember one instance in which he had been thoughtless of her feelings or neglectful of her wishes. To injure him both in his affections and his estate did seem a little too bad; but she was in hopes that if time was taken to look at the situation reasonably, some financial arrangement favorable to Wintoun could be made. Hence, she wished Mowbray to keep out of sight, since the laird would only be irritated by his presence.

The other letter was a very intemperate one from the laird to the minister.

"DEAR SIR: I hope you will use the power given you to get the man Mowbray away from Gala Water. He is an offense to my sight and to my ear, and he has been seeking Katherine's love without word or warrant from me. I think it is your duty as a minister to keep peace in families, and I expect you to get the man over the border to his own home, and also to look well after your daughter lest she make or meddle in matters beyond her judgment, and do more ill than either you or she wots of. Respectfully,
"ALEXANDER BRATHOUS."

The minister, who was a man of fiery spirit, answered his letter promptly with two words, which are better not printed, especially as Jessy pretended not to hear them. The second reply was more elaborate, but just as truthful.

"DEAR LAIRD: I have your letter, and I am sorry for it. There is no excuse for such a bit of ridiculous writing. Mr. Mowbray going up and down Gala Water is on the king's highway, and he has as much right there as you or any other man. As for my duty, if I fall in it, the Presbytery will ask me the reason 'why.' I am put under neither laird nor master. And I will beg leave to remind you of your own shortcomings, for if all good people who offended your eyes and your ears were to be banished from Gala Water, you would find yourself in a desert. You are ill to please, laird, and that is the truth; and if the truth hurts you, I am only doing part of that 'duty' you remind me of. As for the Flower of Gala Water, I see no harm in any good gentleman admiring her sweet beauty and trying to win her. Katherine Janfarie is a woman, and is, therefore, not beyond wooing and winning. I believe in love marriages, laird. I think the union of hearts is better than that of purses. And I will further ask you to remember that, though you may be laird of Levens, I am minister of Kirtie-hope; and that Levens lies within my parish and spiritual jurisdiction. You must give your own message to my daughter. I will carry ill words for no man. But I have no reasonable doubt that Katherine Janfarie and Jessy Telfair will continue to make and meddle with each other's joys and sorrows, your orders and my advice to the contrary notwithstanding. For we are neither of us men to make the women of this day pay much heed to our likings and dislikes. I hope to hear tell of you soon to a more wise-like and Christian-like spirit; and so, wishing you well, I am your faithful minister.
"JOHN CALVIN TELFAIR."

Having written this letter, Doctor Telfair went up the water toward Galashiels. He thought it likely he would meet Mowbray, who was staying at the Galashiels Hotel. He was not sure that he meant to interfere at all with the young man's love affairs; he was simply in that mental condition which seeks the guiding of circumstances. He might meet Mowbray and he might not. It they did meet he might speak of Katherine and he might think it best not to do so.

A mile up the water he did meet Mowbray. The young man was riding slowly and thoughtfully toward Levens-hope. He was very happy. He knew that Katherine loved him, and he did not spoil his joy by questioning and qualifying it. He was going to see her, and the sweet air, the bright sunshine and the spirit of summer were going with him. The prodigious disquietude of a selfish lover he knew nothing of. He was carrying his soft hat, and the fresh wind was blowing his hair. The bridle lay loosely in his grasp; he was humming softly to himself a little love song.

When the minister joined him he alighted from his horse, threw the bridle over his arm and walked by his side. There was a little brown wren singing on the whin bushes, and they stood still to watch its body incline toward the sun, its head thrown back, its breast swelling with ecstasy.

"He is singing to his love," said Mowbray. "The bird is enchanted! See how his wings flutter!"

"Wings! Wings!" cried the minister.

"Wings! that our hearts may rest in the radiant morning's breast!"

"Oh, that I had wings like a dove!" His face was sad; he was already sorry for the letter he had written.

"I have been angry this morning, Mr. Mowbray," he continued, "and I am out of favor with myself; for I can tell you that the moment a man feels angry he has ceased striving for the truth; and he has begun to strive for himself. I think you had better ride to the manse. Miss Telfair will have a word or two to say to you. As for me, I must talk with my own heart for an hour."

Then Mowbray understood that there was some annoyance, and the laird's behavior on the previous night gave him the key to it. So he thanked Doctor Telfair and rode rapidly forward, his joy having been suddenly turned into anxiety.

In the meantime the laird had been making every one at Levens as unhappy as possible. He was scolding about the strawberry beds before breakfast, and nothing at that meal satisfied him. The oatmeal was half boiled, the chops were burned, the rolls cold, the coffee muddy. He kept the footman on a trot between the breakfast parlor and the kitchen most of the time, and it gratified him to see the young man in a state of tears and trembling. For he was angry at the silent dignity of Mrs. Brathous and Katherine. He felt that his complaints ought to have been indorsed by them. Their non-interference was a tacit disapproval of his misconduct.

After the disagreeable meal was over, the ladies were leaving the room together. He recalled them in what he intended to be a very authoritative manner; but Mrs. Brathous detected in it that tone of bluster which is always the sign of cowardly timidity and she asked promptly:

"What do you want with us, Alexander?"

"I have something very important to say to Katherine. Come here, miss. You will be married on the 29th of September. It is Jamie's birthday, and he may as well make it his marriage-day."

"You are going beyond bounds on every side, laird," answered Mrs. Brathous for her daughter. "It is the right of the bride to choose her wedding-day, and her husband also. And I doubt if you have word or warrant from Jamie for what you say. You may be laird of Levens-hope, but Katherine Janfarie is beyond your ordering."

"It is high time that I took matters in hand. Girls that are as good as married playing shuttlecock with two men's hearts! It is not respectable. I am not able to bear it. I did not sleep well last night, and to lose my sleep is as much as my life is worth. I am so nervous this morning it is really pitiful! I will not suffer in this way for any girl's vanity. Flirt, flirt, flirting, morning, noon and night!"

"Alexander, take heed what you say. You are slandering my daughter."

"I say Katherine is a flirt! She is all the same as Jamie's wife, yet I saw her making eyes at that Englishman and whispering in corners with him. I saw her!"

"It is not the truth."
"Is she not betrothed to James Wintoun?"
"No."
"Helen Brathous!"
"I say 'No,' not unless she desires the marriage. A promise made at twelve years of age could hardly be binding on a woman of nineteen, even if it had been an unconditional promise. Katherine nor I ever regarded it as anything but provisional—If she liked, if Wintoun liked, if we were both in the same mind."
"Well, women beat all! I will have no more to say to either of you. But the wedding will take place. So you make ready for it or not, just as it pleases you. It is no longer a question of women's likes or dislikes. I will take the law to my side. Just understand that, will you? For behind Alexander Brathous stands the lord chancellor and the court, and if I cannot manage my lady Katherine I will even make her a ward of chancery and put Mr. Mowbray—or whatever the fellow's name is—under bonds for good behavior. Now you may go your ways—both of you—for I am just worn out with the care and worry of another man's daughter. I lost my good sleep all night, and I have a palpitation of the heart even now, that is like enough to get worse."
"I suppose Katherine has some rights, Alexander?"
"Rights! No! She has privileges and they are all and everything that a good girl wants. She has the privilege of as fine a home as there is in Tweedside. She has the privilege of a good mother and of a guardian wise and faithful beyond the common; she has the privilege of a marriage far better than she merits, for as a lot of fools have called her the Flower of Gala Water she has the very great privilege of owning many a bonnie brae and meadow by Gala Water, and of blooming her life away in them. And as sure as my name is Alexander Brathous, I will let no English body transplant the Flower of Gala Water. The man that tries it will never cross the border hame again!"
"That is all gasconading and bragadocio! You swagger like Pistol, and always eat the leek at the end of it."
"Madam! Madam! I will—"
"You do. You know you do. Come, Katherine;" and though the laird stood up and struck the table with his closed hand, and even mildly swore a little, the ladies went calmly out of his presence, leaving him without a single promise, and with a very positive sense of defeat.

But the opportunity to explain and defend himself was an absolute necessity of his nature, and he was sorry now that he had written to the minister. It was above all things desirable that he should have his good word and support.

"However," he mentally concluded, "I will just ride over to the manse. I will go on my Barbary mare with my man in the Levens livery behind me. Telfair will give in a bit to that, and when I—the Laird of Levens-hope—say a few words with a ring of apology in them, the minister will be glad enough to put the offense away with a whiff of the hand or a polite word or the like of that. For it is true as Gospel that the minister is just a nobody without the laird behind him."

He put on his tightest-fitting riding-coat and his Dent saddle-gloves, called his Barbary mare and his man Archibald, and rode proudly down the main avenue. Before he reached the big gates he met the minister's man with the minister's letter. It was blow the second and rather harder to meet than his wife's defence.

"Such a like letter," he muttered when he had read it through. "The man writes to me as if I was a very sinner. The comely humility of a Presbyter! indeed! A more prelatish spirit could not be found in a High Episcopal. I am just distracted with the insult. Levens-hope in his parish and spiritual jurisdiction! Humph—m!—m!" and snorting out his defiance of this truth he turned his finely eparisoned animal to Wintoun House.

He found Jamie in precisely the mood he desired. The young man was feeling hurt and wronged, and his uncle's sympathy was sweet and his promises comforting.

"It is all in your own hands, Jamie," he said, "the woman you love and the estate which it would break both our hearts to see roused and sold."

"I will do anything reasonable, uncle, but I do not like to give Katherine pain or annoyance of any kind."

"Katherine does not know her own mind. She has no idea of what is good for her. No girl at her age has. Fathers and mothers and guardians have to watch them as if they had the death fever. At nineteen years of age the whole generations of women go demented about the man of their choice; they always have and they always will. It is a kind of crisis; get them over it and they take gratefully the sensible husband selected for them. You have been too kind with Katherine. Be more masterful. Make her take good fortune from your hands, and when she is married she will come to her senses and thank you. I have seen mastery with her mother to do so yet, Jamie. I have seen it this morning," he added, with mendacious self-complacency that did not impose upon his nephew.

"I was thinking of going to Switzerland for a few months. I have heard that climbing glaciers is a cure for love."

"And leave the ground to your rival? I wish I could give you some of my spirit. On the contrary, be at Levens-hope early and late. Keep every privilege you have gained with a tight grip. Tell Katherine you want to be married in September. Speak of Paris and Rome and St. Petersburg and the North Pole, if it suits her for a wedding trip. Send herrings and brooches of all kinds. Get the whole countryside talking of your marriage; most women would rather die than have people say their wedding was broken off. Man! Jamie! If you let that fellow, Mowbray, steal your wife, you may just as well give him your estate; and if you let Wintoun slip, I am not likely to trust you with Levens-hope."

"Do not threaten, uncle; I need neither threats nor promises where Katherine is concerned."

TROUBLES OF THE POOR.

Food and Clothes Are Possible but Bent Worries Them.

"If you own the roof over your head you don't know what real trouble is," said the factory hand to the New York Times man. "Of course folk have got to eat and they've got to have clothes to wear, but it isn't the thought of that that's always hanging over their heads, and making them work themselves to death when they've got work and fret themselves to death when they haven't. Every now and then we see something in the papers showing how easy it is for a poor widow (or worse than widow) to feed herself and a family of children on 25 cents a day, and if the woman has got good judgment and understands marketing such stories are not so far wide of the mark. Oatmeal and potatoes are cheap and there's odds and ends of meat and bones that may be had for next to nothing that will make good soup. As for clothes, all poor folk who try to keep themselves looking decently know how far contrivance will go in making them hold out. Skirts may be turned inside out or dyed when they are faded or spotted and there's a lot of wear in the second-hand shoes that the cobblers sell cheaply. Of course we'd all rather eat the best steaks and wear silk and velvet, but it is not having to do without them that keeps folk awake at night. It is the rent. That goes steadily on, no matter whether you are lying around idle, and it is a happy day for a tenant when the landlord can be talked into bringing down the rent by a dollar. Not that all landlords are hard-hearted, as some folk seem to think. Landlords are just like all other men, some being better and some worse. Now, there's a poor woman who works in the same place with me—a widow with two children—and she lives in one of the toughest neighborhoods in the city. Well, last fall, when that woman was too sick to go to work, she got $18 behindhand with her rent, and found out afterward that the man whose business it was to collect it had been paying it out of his own pocket right straight along. The house belonged to a family in which there were some minors, and so all expenses and revenues had to be accounted for to the family lawyers, and that was why the eldest son, who collected the rents in person, could not remit the widow's $6 a month, as his father might have done; but all the same he wasn't going to see her turned out on the street, knowing her to be a good tenant. Of course she began to pay the money back as soon as she got to work again, but it was a great help, his advancing it, for if it hadn't been for that she would have had to part with her sewing machine, which she had just finished paying for on the installment plan. As long as she can hold on to that machine there is no great danger of her starving unless she is too sick to hold her head up. There is a benevolent society that, when she is laid off from the shop on account of work being slack, gives her four wrappers a week to make at 50 cents apiece and pays for them in provisions."

Where Life Is Longest.

More people over 100 years old are found in mild climates than in the higher latitudes. According to the last census of the German empire, of a population of 55,000,000, only 78 have passed the 100th year. France, with a population of 40,000,000, has 213 centenarians. In England there are 146, in Ireland 578, and in Scotland 46. Sweden has 10, and Norway 23, Belgium 5, Denmark 2, Switzerland none, Spain, with a population of 18,000,000, has 401 persons over 100 years of age. Of the 2,250,000 inhabitants of Serbia, 575 persons have passed the century mark. It is said that the eldest person living whose age has been proven is Bruno Cotrim, born in Africa, and now living in Rio de Janeiro. He is 150 years old. A coachman in Moscow has lived for 140 years.

DAMAGE TO THE CROPS.

Recent Storms Cause a Loss Throughout the Country of $15,000,000.

ORANGES AND PEACHES SUFFER

The Small Fruit and Vegetable Producers of Florida Experience a Great Loss—Georgia Peach Crop Ruined—Crops Suffer in the Central Western States—Financial Loss Amounts to Millions.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—According to the information which has been received by the Agricultural Department from all parts of the country the report of a blight of the fruit crop seems to be correct, and fruit of all kinds apparently is going to bring high prices. The price of oranges has already increased twenty-five per cent., and other fruit probably will cost proportionately as much, as with a reduction of the stock on hand and the likelihood of a reduced supply a decided increase in prices is expected. The general effect of the two recent cold snaps on agricultural communities has been most disastrous. This is particularly true of Florida, where the blizzard of last month swept through the groves. The recent storm will probably bring ruin to the small fruit and vegetable producers of the State.

It will be remembered that in 1894 the production of Florida oranges had grown to the total of nearly five million boxes, resulting in an income to the State of about $10,000,000 annually. The severe cold which visited Florida in 1895 injured the trees to such an extent that some of the most valuable properties in the State were abandoned. The recent cold wave was a repetition of that of 1895, as far as its effects are concerned. Many trees will have to be cut within a foot of the ground, and the young trees have practically been killed. The promised crop of 1,000,000 boxes of oranges for next year is now improbable. Recent advices indicate a production in the southern part of Florida of not more than 50,000 or 100,000 boxes, which will be harvested in October, November and December. Pineapple culture, which is also extensive, and which has been a source of great remuneration to the State, has also been destroyed. The same thing is true of early vegetables, such as beans and potatoes. What is true of Florida is also true of other fruit-producing sections. The Central Western States particularly suffered severely in respect to apple and peach trees.

In Georgia where the famous peaches of last year resulted in bringing into the State about $5,000,000, it is probable that the loss of the crop is complete. In Mississippi early vegetables have been injured, and the damage has been extended to North and South Carolina. Early vegetables are likely to be scarce and high. Producers in some of the States mentioned will not be able to buy seed for the planting of a second crop. In general, the loss by the cold wave to the producers of the country may be estimated as follows: In Florida the immediate loss, without regard to the possible effect in the future, can be put at $4,000,000; in Georgia not less than $5,000,000, and in the Western States an estimate of $5,000,000 is a conservative one. In Delaware another $1,000,000 may be added to the losses.

DR. TALMAGE RESIGNS.

Retires From the Pulpit to Devote Himself to Literary Work.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, who for nearly four years has been the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, has sent a letter to the Session of that church tendering his resignation.

REV. DR. T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

It is the intention of Dr. Talmage to continue his residence in this city. He will devote most of his time to literary pursuits.

POSTMASTER RIFLED MAIL:

Edward F. Bogart, of Wilkesbarre Caught Opening Letters and Arrested.

SCRANTON, Penn. (Special).—Edward F. Bogart, Postmaster of Wilkesbarre, was arrested just before midnight a few nights ago charged with tampering with the mails. Hugh Gorman and two assistant Secret Service men from Washington made the arrest. Several months ago complaints were lodged with the Postoffice Department at Washington that letters received in the Wilkesbarre Postoffice had been opened apparently by a steaming process. The complaints were so numerous that the authorities at Washington detailed three Secret Service men upon the case. The detective found great difficulty in obtaining any information, as they were obliged to work carefully.

The evening on which the arrest was made after the Washington and Baltimore mail had arrived and been sorted Bogart was seen to enter the office, take several letters from the pigeon-holed boxes, go into his private office and then carefully draw down a curtain. In a few moments Gorman turned out an electric light in the rear of the office, which was the signal to the assistants on the outside. They were admitted by Gorman and then the three went to the private office of the Postmaster. They roused in and found Bogart at his desk with three letters addressed to business men of the city. All the letters had been opened.

GEN. GOMEZ IMPEACHED.

Removed From His Command by the Cuban Military Assembly.

HIS STATEMENT TO THE PEOPLE.

The Deposed Leader Accused of Being a Traitor—$3,000,000 Appropriation Not Sufficient—Action of the Assembly Condemned in Havana—Gomez Says He is Glad to Be Free—Retires Contented.

HAVANA, Cuba (By Cable).—The Cuban Military Assembly in public session Saturday afternoon impeached General Maximo Gomez, and removed him from his command as General-in-Chief of the Cuban Army, the first ballot taken resulting in twenty-six votes being cast in support of the motion to impeach and remove General Gomez against four in opposition.

General Gomez's only supporters were General Cespedes and General Nunez. The original motion, which was introduced by Manuel Sanguily, provided for the abolition of the grade of General-in-Chief, but an amendment was offered to this by Senor Aguerro which read "to abolish the grade of General-in-Chief and to remove General Gomez for failure in his military duties and disobedience to the Assembly." Senor Aguerro declared that Gomez was insubordinate and should be punished, and Senor Sanguily intimated that the General was a traitor to Cuba.

Much passion was evident in the speeches, in some of which Gomez was declared to have been delinquent in his duties and disobedient because he had accepted the proposition of Robert P. Porter, President McKinley's special emissary, without consulting the Assembly; because he had taken upon himself the arrangements for the payment and disarming of the Cuban troops independent of the As-

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR A HERO.

Badly Injured Man Sends a Warning Over the Wire and Saves Lives.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (Special).—Peters, a small station on the Clover Leaf Road south of here, has a hero in the person of John F. Dickman, telegraph operator at the station. The lives of two train crews were saved a few nights ago by his performance of duty.

Dickman received a message to hold a train at the siding near Peters. He started across the yards to deliver the dispatch to the engineer, when he was struck by an approaching freight. He was thrown about forty feet from the track. His skull was fractured and he was otherwise bruised. He lay unconscious for some minutes, and when he came to his senses the through and local freight had moved on and he was left alone. None of the crew had witnessed the accident.

The operator remembered that a train was scheduled to leave Madison, and that this would collide with the local if an order to hold it was not sent. He dragged himself inch by inch to the station house, almost fainting as he reached the operator's desk. He would probably have lost consciousness again had not his brother William entered and caught him. With his brother holding him in his arms the operator opened the key and "sent" the through freight and notified the chief dispatcher at Charleston of the departure of the local. A catastrophe was averted. Dickman's injuries are serious.

CHICAGO AGAIN IN SERVICE.

The Cruiser is Now the Flagship of Rear-Admiral Howison.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The Chicago has been detached from the squadron of Rear-Admiral Sampson and has sailed from Havana for Hampton Roads. The Chicago is to become the flagship of Rear-Admiral Henry L. Howison, who has been assigned to command the South Atlantic station in South America.

This station was abandoned at the beginning of the Spanish war, the flagship at that time being the Newark. She and two gunboats were brought North to take part in the war.

The last duty of the Chicago was as flagsembly, and because he had declared to the Assembly that he would observe its rulings in so far as he considered them beneficial to Cuba.

The Assembly again declared that the $3,000,000 was insufficient. Senor Gonzalez de Quesada, who accompanied Mr. Porter in Cuba, was attacked by Senors Gualbert Gomez, Sanguily and Aguerro, who declared that he had acted in bad faith and deceived them.

General Maximo Gomez has issued a statement to the Cuban people and army, part of which is as follows:

"By the use of the supreme faculties with which I am endowed the Assembly, representing the army only, has deposed me as Commander-in-Chief of the Cuban army, which grade it conferred upon me during the last war. As Commander-in-Chief I always followed the dictates of my best conscience and the call of great national needs. I endeavored in all circumstances to fulfill my duty.

"As a sincere man I confess I thank them because they relieve me of great political obligations, and also leave me free to return to my abandoned home, which, during thirty years of continual strife for the good of this country that I love so much, has been my one aspiration. Foreigner as I am, I did not come to serve this country by helping it to defend its just cause as a mercenary soldier; and, consequently, since the oppressive power of Spain has withdrawn from this land and left Cuba in freedom, I had sheathed my sword, thinking I had finished the mission which I had voluntarily imposed upon myself. I am owed nothing. I retire contented and satisfied at having done all I could for the benefit of my brothers. Wherever destiny rules that I make my home there can the Cubans depend upon a friend."

The Assembly is being strongly censured by Cubans on all sides, and there were popular demonstrations Sunday afternoon in favor of the deposed Commander-in-Chief, the crowds shouting "Long live Gomez!" and "Death to the Assembly!" General Gomez received numerous visitors, all of whom assured him of their affection and loyalty. There is no doubt that a majority of the people support him as against the Assembly.

General Gomez, it is said, enjoys the full confidence of the American military authorities, and, although he says that he is glad of his new-found liberty, since it will enable him to return home, it is not believed that he will leave Cuba at present. He has always insisted that an active share in distributing the money would fall to him, and there seems no good reason why he cannot continue to act as General Brooke's adviser and helper.

ship of the White Squadron, under command of Rear-Admiral Walker. She was one of the first vessels of the new navy, but was not fitted for modern sea service, and for several years past has been undergoing repairs which have practically made her a new ship.

TROOPS TO RESCUE A TRAIN.

Colored Heroes of San Juan to Dig Out Snowbound Passengers in the West.

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (Special).—The colored troops at Fort Russell, four companies of the Twenty-four Infantry, volunteered on Saturday to go out as shovellers in the attempt to bring the Cheyenne and Northern train, which, with forty-two passengers, has been snowbound at Iron Mountain, fifty miles from here, for two weeks. One hundred were accepted, and formed a relief party under Mayor Schnitzer and Attorney Brooks, and took out a train loaded with provisions.

The snow-bound passengers have been living the past week on a steer killed Sunday by Superintendent Rasbach, who is in charge of the train. Two relief trains which have gone out are in the drifts, between here and Iron Mountain, a fierce blizzard of snow and wind which prevailed for twelve hours a few days ago having snowed them in. The troops going out are the ones who first reached the crest of San Juan Hill last July, and it believe they will break the blockade.

NATIVE TROOPS TO BE ENLISTED.

Administration Decides to Try the Experiment in Cuba and the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—As an experiment the Administration has decided to enlist some native troops in Cuba and the Philippines, and perhaps in Porto Rico. To ascertain how native troops will conform to the restrictions of an American soldier's life, Secretary Alger has authorized General Otis at Manila and General Brooke at Havana to each organize a battalion, one of Cubans and the other of Filipinos. He has sent also a telegram to General Henry, commanding the Department of Porto Rico, requesting his views on the subject of enlisting natives of that island. His reply was favorable.

On Wednesday, March 15, 1899, at the pleasant home of Mrs. S. J. Hand, occurred the marriage of Mr. Grant H. Halsey of West Groton to Miss Mary Catharine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hand of Genoa. Relatives and friends to the number of one hundred and fifty were present, and promptly at 5 o'clock the wedding party descended the stairs, and accompanied by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march from the orchestra, took their places in the spacious parlor. The ceremony was performed in a pleasing, impressive manner by the Rev. John Cunningham of West Groton, after which, in the usual order came the congratulations and good wishes. Miss Luella Smith wore the bridesmaid's roses and Mr. Clayton Halsey, brother of the groom, officiated as best man. The ceremonies ended, the guests were served with an elaborate collation, while a few selections by the orchestra tended to mollify the occasion.

The large number of costly and useful tokens left by the guests speak of the high regard and esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Halsey are held by their many friends. Aside from the relatives and friends present from this immediate vicinity, there were Mrs. Lou Kinney of Cortland, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bartlett of Groton, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Starner of Weedsport, Prof. Bigelow and Commissioner E. S. Manchester of Moravia, and Lee W. Atwater of DeRuyter, also friends from Auburn and Ithaca.

About 8 o'clock the bridal party left for a trip to Albany and Lebanon Springs.

What Has Happened in Genoa During the Past Seven Days—An Interesting Page.

—“A trifling kindness here and there is but a simple, small affair; Yet, if your life has sown them free Wide shall your happy harvest be Of friends, of love, of sweet goodwill, That still renews, and gladdens still.”

—The muskrat season has opened. —“He that is down needs fear no fall.”

—A first class 1899 bicycle for $25 at this office.

—H. M. Roe was in Wayne county a day or two recently.

—A. C. Dearman is just recovering from an attack of the grip.

—Mastin & Hagin have a new letter in their space this week.

—H. M. Head has been in Owego on business two or three days this week.

—Mrs. E. M. White recently returned to her home at Syracuse after an enjoyable visit here.

—Bernet Riley and family moved to Auburn Monday, where Mr. Riley has plenty of work at his trade.

—An exchange says one man who carries a dinner pail daily is worth more to a town than ten loafers.

—First come, first served; so march up and pay back dues on the TRIBUNE and a year ahead. Shall we hear from you soon?

—Several piles of old side walk material have marred the beauty of Maple avenue for the better part of six months past.

—John Hutchinson, John Welty, E. H. Bennett and D. W. Smith with their families were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Wright Sunday.

—Mrs. Lowell Mason and two children started Tuesday for a visit with her brother, Dr. Andrews, at Pitcher, Chenango county.

—Matthew Brink will remain on Mrs. Lucia Tupper's place for the coming year and George Main will remain on Amos Main's farm.

—Charles Upson of Locke was in town Saturday, and while here called at THE TRIBUNE office and availed himself of some of the club rates.

—Joe McBride, the jeweler, has returned to his work, but still shows effects of the grip. He will not open his store evenings for the present.

—Cards announce another social party at the East Venice hall on Tuesday evening, March 28. We bespeak an enjoyable time for all who attend.

—Says an Ohio subscriber: “I forward $1.65 for the World and GENOA TRIBUNE for the coming year. Can't do without either, if the price of fruit is low.”

—Auction printing at THE TRIBUNE office while you wait. If you want bills on short notice bring them here any time. We can turn out 50 first-class bills in two hours if you are in a hurry.

—Some writer has admirably defined character in this way: “Character is bounded on the north by sobriety, on the east by integrity, on the west by industry, and on the south by morality.”

—Rev. George Laughton gave an excellent sermon at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. He expects to preach there next Sunday morning and in the evening he hopes to give a religious lecture upon the late Wm. E. Gladstone.

There seems to be a kindly fate Attending saint and sinner; For spring and warmer days approach As underwear grows thinner.

—The price of eggs is declining. —W. D. Mastin had business in Auburn the first of the week.

—One would naturally suppose that basket picnics were a little out of season.

—N. Rundell of East Genoa is seriously ill with grip and threatened pneumonia.

—When business is allowed to run itself it always exhibits the force of gravitation.

—A change in adv. from Mastin's mammoth store this week. Special prices on shoes are quoted.

—Ray, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brogan is seriously ill with pneumonia. Their little daughter is also very sick.

—School closed in the Little Hollow district Friday with an appropriate and well executed program in the evening.

—There will be a social party at the Lansingville hotel on Thursday evening, March 23. Jacobs' orchestra will furnish music. A cordial invitation is extended by Mr. Benson.

—J. G. Whitten is recovering from the grip. He reports an extensive sale of his automac poultry feeder, having received orders from Mexico as well as all parts of the United States.

—The figures quoted in the space of the Manhattan Life Insurance Co. on page 8 should interest all who are not satisfied with the policy now carried, or who contemplate taking out any insurance.

—The Inter Urban company has filed another notice of extension with the county clerk, stating the Auburn-Syracuse route. It is understood by many that this company will extend their system to Genoa this year.

—Supervisor Greenfield of Moravia has secured the publication of his “pictor” in the Moravia Register and Locke Times. His constituents as a member of the lower house at Albany are thus able to see how he will look as a law maker.—Argus.

—Easter is always the first Sunday after the full moon which happens on or next after the 21st of March, and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter is the Sunday after. It may occur as early as March 23d, or as late as April 25th. This year it falls on April 2d.

—The man who advertises carefully and judiciously is always sure to benefit thereby. The profits on an increase of trade amounting to $200 per year would pay the cost of a half column advertisement for fifty-two successive weeks. Any merchant might easily get this amount of trade from one new customer secured through his advertisement.

—The winter term of the Maple Grove school of Little Salmon Creek closed Friday, March 10, Viella Selten teacher. The following was the honor roll for the term: Leslie Mason, Lillian Riley, Leah King, Louie Mason, Lucy Dean, Florence Mosher, Marten Sheils, Thomas Driscoll, Hattie Mosher, Alonzo Mason, Clara Cook Albert Driscoll, Agnes McDonald, Margaret McDonald and Clarence Sheils.

—Last week Thursday evening about eighty people gathered at the home of Wm. Dutton, it being his 56th birthday. At about nine o'clock the orchestra struck up and a social hop as well as games were indulged in until about 3 o'clock when the company dispersed for their many homes, all thanking Mr. and Mrs. Dutton for their evening's enjoyment.—Locke Times.

—What a lot of anguish would be saved if some of the mouths in this town had a button on the lower lip, and a buttonhole on the other one, with a law to compel the owner to keep it buttoned except at meal time. Many a headache would be saved.—Dansville Breeze. It would take more than a button to keep some mouths closed. There are some lips in this town that would snap a button the first crack. An old fashioned padlock would be better.—Livingston Democrat. And there are other villages just as sorely afflicted as either Dansville or Geneseo.—Farmer Review. It will be noticed that while Genoa is well supplied with the species mentioned, there are others.

—Send in the news items. —The man with potatoes to sell begins to smile.

—F. Parinton was housed a few days this week, suffering from a lame back.

—G. P. Lester caught 40 rats in a trap in three days this week. They were shipped to China.

—Frank Parinton has “tapped” his sugar orchard and is turning out an excellent quality of maple syrup.

—There was a large attendance at the sociable at Mrs. Nichols' last evening, and it proved to be a most pleasant occasion.

—What about a baseball club, the coming season? Can one be organized here? Now is the time to look after such matters.

—DeRuyter Gleaner: L. W. Atwater, who recently opened a cigar factory in the Annas building, has exchanged his stock and business for the right to handle the Oneonta Grinder in ten counties.

—While engaged in making a hot bed last Monday, Will Strong had the good fortune to find a pocket book containing $2.50 he lost a year ago. The pocket book had rotted but the money being in silver pieces was all right.—Locke Times. If the finder had used a dollar's worth of his “luck” to wipe out a bill of long standing, the last clause would not have appeared in this item.

Society Notes.

The ladies of the M. E. church and Lansingville Grange will give a rag social at Grange Hall, Lansingville, on Saturday evening, March 25. Supper will be served.

Tuesday evening, February 28, '99, a public meeting was held in Sherwood Select School building, under the auspices of the Sherwood W. C. T. U., to commemorate memorial day February 17, Frances E. Willard's heavenly birthday and Neal Dow's birthday, which occurs on March 20. Mrs. P. J. Adams, county president, gave the address. She spoke of the departed life of our dear departed leader, of the principles she upheld, pure lives, total abstinence and Prohibition. Jane Scaring gave a fine recitation which was well received, it being a part of John G. Wooley's oration on Neal Dow's 93d birthday. This meeting did not take the form of a sad memorial, but rather to emulate the life and example of these two philanthropic and gifted persons, and inspire the young to follow in their footsteps. We are delighted to hear that Illinois will erect a statue of Frances E. Willard in the rotunda of the capitol at Washington. She will have been the first woman so honored. Sherwood, March 6. M.C.H.

Concert at Venice.

“Out of Sight Out of Mind.”

In other months we forget the harsh winds of Spring. But they have their use, as some say, to blow out the bad air accumulated after Winter storms and Spring thaws. There is far more important accumulation of badness in the veins and arteries of humanity, which needs Hood's Sarsaparilla.

This great Spring Medicine clarifies the blood as nothing else can. It cures scrofula, kidney disease, liver troubles, rheumatism and kindred ailments. Thus it gives perfect health, strength and appetite for months to come.

Kidneys—“My kidneys troubled me, and on advice took Hood's Sarsaparilla which gave prompt relief, better appetite, My sleep is refreshing. It cured my wife also.” MICHAEL BOYLE, 3473 Denny Street, Pittsburg, Pa.

Dyspepsia—“Complicated with liver and kidney trouble, I suffered for years with dyspepsia, with severe pains. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me strong and hearty.” B. E. EMERTON, Main Street, Auburn, Me.

Hip Disease—“Five running sores on my hip caused me to use crutches. Was confined to bed every winter. Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life, as it cured me perfectly. Am strong and well.” ANNIE ROBERT, 49 Fourth St., Fall River, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints. Hood's Pills cure liver bile, the non-irritating and the only cathartic to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

SAMPSON TO THE PRESIDENT

Requests That the Promotions of His Officers, Which the Senate Failed to Confirm, Be Renewed.

HE WANTS HIS NAME LEFT OUT.

The Rear-Admiral Does Not Want to Stand in the Way of the Promotion of Others.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—Secretary Long has received from Rear-Admiral Sampson a letter directed to the President in which the Admiral, after referring to the allegations that the list of officers recommended for promotion for gallantry off Santiago had failed of confirmation because it included his name, asks the President to again immediately nominate these officers for promotion.

When the late war was threatening, I was placed in command of the North Atlantic fleet, and, after the declaration of war, was appointed by the President a Rear-Admiral and confirmed in my command. This duty and responsibility came to me entirely unsought, nor had I any special wish for it, though recognizing the great honor then conferred upon me.

It is not necessary to dwell upon the incidents of the war, which are all now well known. Based upon these incidents certain officers, distinguished for faithful service, were named by me, in the exercise of my natural duty as Commander-in-Chief, for promotion or such other reward as you, Sir, might deem desirable.

Now appears that the Senate, though well disposed to most of the names on that list, has, for reasons not necessary to be here discussed, objected to my promotion, and has similarly failed to confirm the deserving officers about whose merits there has been no doubt or discussion.

TWELVE LIVES LOST AT SEA.

The Tug James Bowen Goes Down Off the Virginia Capes—A Sharp Fight With Burglars—Work of Missouri Whitecaps—Chinaman Foreman of a Kansas Jury—Omaha's Mayor Not Eligible.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (Special).—The German steamship Albano, Captain Koch, arrived in Hampton Roads Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock from New York to Newport News, and reported the loss of the tug James Bowen on Monday night with all on board, numbering twelve persons, the loss of her own second mate and a hard struggle to save the crew of the mud barge Admiral, which was being towed by the Bowen from Norfolk to Philadelphia.

The Bowen and her tow were caught in a gale outside the Virginia Capes on Monday night, when the tug sprung a leak and sank with every one on her, including the Superintendent of the American Towing Company, which owned the Bowen.

SHARP FIGHT WITH BURGLARS.

One of a Gang Who Entered a Station Mortally Wounded.

BERTON, Penn. (Special).—A gang of burglars who were plundering the Delaware and Hudson station at Peckville, near here, were surprised by the police authorities early Wednesday morning, and one of them, who gave his name as John Shannon, of Shamokin, was fatally wounded.

The station is connected with the residence of the agent by an electric burglar alarm. Shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning the alarm sounded and Agent Broad dressed and summoned Chief of Police Craig and an officer. Together the three men hurried to the station, about a quarter of a mile distant.

OUR TROOPS TAKE PASIG.

Filipinos Flee Before the Determined Advance of Wheaton's Men.

BATTERY SHELLS THE TOWN.

Jungle Cleared by a Gunboat Following the River's Course—A Combined Attack by Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery—Thirty Filipinos Killed and Some Taken Prisoners—Our Loss Small.

MANILA, Philippine Islands (By Cable).—Pasig, a stronghold of the Filipinos, east of Manila, was captured by the American forces under General Wheaton Monday afternoon, a gunboat constantly shelling the jungle while the advance was made.

The loss of the Filipinos were thirty killed and sixteen prisoners. Of the United States forces several were wounded. Brigadier-General Lloyd Wheaton's divisional brigade, consisting of the Twentieth United States Infantry, the Twenty-second Infantry, eight companies of the Washington volunteers, seven companies of the Oregon volunteers, three troops of the Fourth United States Cavalry and a mounted battery of the Sixth Infantry, at daylight was drawn up on a ridge behind San Pedro Macati, a mile south of the town.

The advance was sounded at 6:30 a. m., the cavalry leading the column at a smart trot across the open to the right, eventually reached a hill commanding the rear of Guadalupe.

Supported by the Oregon troops, the advance force opened a heavy fire on the rebels. The response was feeble and desultory, apparently coming from handfuls of men in every covert.

While the right column was swinging toward the town of Pasig, the left advanced, pouring volleys into the bush. A small body of rebels made a determined stand at Guadalupe Church, but the enemy was unable to withstand the assault.

At 7:30 a. m. a river gunboat started to encounter Pasig. The rebels were first encountered by this vessel in the jungle near Guadalupe. Steaming slowly, the gunboat poured a terrific fire from her Gatling guns into the brush.

The enemy's loss was believed to be severe; but only eight Americans were wounded. Scott's Battery, supported by two companies of the Twentieth Regiment, advanced on Guadalupe by the road along the river bank, the remainder of the Twentieth Regiment and the Twenty-second Regiment following with the reserve of the Oregon volunteers.

The column at 11:30 a. m. came in contact with the enemy, and a gunboat steamed to the firing line and cleared the jungle on both sides while the battery took up a position on a bluff at the right.

The gunboat then moved into a bend opposite, and a hot fire on the rebel position was maintained along the whole American line until 2:30 p. m., when preparations were made for the attack.

At 3:30 p. m. a large body of the enemy was discovered working around the American right flank and the Twentieth Regiment was moved to a commanding ridge. The rebels were met opposite Pateros, but the enemy boated.

MARINES FOR CAVITE.

One Thousand Men to Be Sent There to Care For Our Naval Interests.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—It is the intention of the Navy Department to send 1000 marines to Cavite to take care of the navy's interests there. It is the purpose to send a colonel in command of these men, although until the fall regiment is on the scene the marines will remain under the command of Major Atway C. Berryman, the senior officer of the corps now in the Philippines.

This seems to be a very large number of marines to station at one navy yard, but the explanation is that the Cavite station is the largest in the possession of the United States, including about seventy square miles of land with thirteen miles of water front.

THE PRESIDENT GOES SOUTH.

He Will Spend a Short Vacation at Thomasville, Ga.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—President and Mrs. McKinley and a party of friends left Washington at 6:40 o'clock Monday afternoon for a vacation of ten days or two weeks at Thomasville, Ga., where the train arrived at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The government inquiry regarding the explosion of the navy powder magazine at La Coubrou, near Toulon, France, has shown that it was not of accidental origin, and much credence is now given to the rumor that it was an Anarchist outrage.

NEW YORK STATE NEWS.

The Schools of the State. The report for the last year of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles R. Skinner shows that the number of children attending school some portions of the year was in the towns 447,451, and in the cities 691,543, making a total of 1,138,994 for the State. This shows a decrease, in the towns of 39,945, and an increase in the cities of 5740. The average daily attendance in the towns was 319,240, and in the cities 508,412, showing an average attendance for the entire State of 827,652. The number of licensed teachers employed was 20,330, an increase of 740 over the previous year. The amount paid for teachers' salaries was $15,156,278, an increase of $996,218 over the previous year. The average annual salary paid during the last year was $514.75, an increase of $21.32 over the previous year. The sum of $1,057,979 was expended for buildings, sites and repairs in the towns and $7,553,563 in the cities, making a total in the State of $8,611,542. This shows an increase in the total expenditures in the State over the previous year of $212,872. The total value of schoolhouses and sites in the State as reported last year was $71,892,511, an increase of $5,754,911 over the previous year. The total expenditures for all purposes connected with the public schools of the State were $23,475,871.88, an increase over the previous year of $1,785,015.17. Regarding the dual supervision of schools by the Regents and Department of Public Instruction, Superintendent Skinner says: "I have earnestly urged that a line of demarcation be established between the work performed by the Department of Public Instruction and the university as follows: "First, that every school maintained by general taxation be supervised by and placed under the control of the State Department of Public Instruction, which should issue licenses to all teachers employed therein, apportion and distribute according to statute all public funds raised by State taxation in support thereof, and have charge of all professional schools for the training of teachers therein. Second, that the university shall assume the care of all the school libraries as a part of the general library system of the State, of all private schools and every other department of educational work not maintained by public taxation, also of all examinations in the interest of the citizen for entrance to the professions." Superintendent Skinner urges the passage of the revision of the educational law prepared by the State Revision Commission as well as the enactment of the bill pending in the Legislature increasing the pay and qualifications of School Commissioners.

The Pan-American Exposition. The actual work of building the "White City" of the Pan-American Exposition, which is to be opened in Buffalo in 1901, will soon begin. The Exposition is an assured fact. The bill appropriating $300,000 for the New York State building and exhibit has passed both Houses of the Legislature and was signed by Governor Roosevelt immediately. Congress has also appropriated $500,000 for the national exhibit. There is now the sum of $2,200,000 behind the Exposition. The city of Buffalo and western New York have raised by popular subscription $1,400,000 and Congress has appropriated $600,000 and the State $300,000. During the next few weeks other States will appropriate large sums for their exhibits, and the work of preparing the exhibits in other countries of the Western Hemisphere has already begun. The 300 incorporators of the Exposition have elected the following named men to be directors: Mayor Conrad Diehl, Charles W. Goodyear, Joseph T. Jones, John N. Seaton, George K. Birge, George L. William, J. J. Albright, Thomas W. Symons, William H. Hotchkiss, George Urban, Jr., Captain John M. Einker, W. Cary Ely, Colonel John B. Weber, John G. Milburn, Harry Hamlin, Frank B. Baird, Carlton Sprague, William Hengeler, Henry J. Pierce, George Bleistein, F. C. M. Lautz, H. M. Gerrans, Herbert P. Bissell, E. G. S. Miller and Robert F. Schelling.

State Engineer Adams' Report. The report of former State Engineer Adams, showing the canal work done in the department over which he presided during the year 1898, has been transmitted to the Legislature. Among other things, he says: "In the execution of the canal improvements, which have involved an expenditure of $9,000,000, but which has sufficed for the completion of only 200 of the 454 miles which it was hoped to have improved with this sum, probably some mistakes were made. I think it unfair, however, that those charged with the investigation so far made should have conceived it to be their duty to entirely overlook the arduous duties which the State Engineer had to perform, and to hold him singly and personally responsible, even to a criminal extent, for every error, either of omission or commission, whether committed by himself or his assistants."

Lammerts is Indicted. Sixteen indictments have been reported by the Niagara County Grand Jury against Ex-County Treasurer J. C. Lammerts. All charge the misappropriation of funds of the county, each indictment dealing with a specific transaction. Nine of the indictments are for grand larceny in the first degree and the balance for forgery and felonies. The felonies charged are for keeping a false journal and making false entries therein. The forgery charged is in the third degree. The Grand Jury recommends that in the future the incumbent in the County Treasurer's office be made to make monthly reports.

Fish Law Declared Unconstitutional. Justice Lambert, in the Supreme Court, Buffalo, has rendered a decision declaring the New York State law prohibiting the handling of pike and pickerel caught or purchased outside the State of New York during the "closed" season of February, March and April to be unconstitutional. The decision is of great importance to fish dealers of the State, who import large quantities of the fish mentioned from Canada almost daily.

Fatal Fright While Reading the Bible. Mrs. Dennis Tabor, of Hilton, died under peculiar circumstances a few days ago. She opened a meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the Baptist Church in the village. While reading from the Bible she was seized with stage fright and became unconscious, in which state she remained till she died.

Curfew Ordinance at Geneva. The Common Council of Geneva has passed a curfew ordinance. It requires children under sixteen years of age to keep off the streets after 9 p. m. between April and November, and after 8 p. m. between November and April, unless accompanied by parent or guardian or having proper credentials.

A Farmer Killed by a Passenger Train. Francois Dupret, a farmer, seventy-nine years old, was struck by a passenger train on the Ponds, Johnston and Gloversville Railroad, at Dennis Crossing, a mile and a half north of Gloversville, a few days ago. He was instantly killed. He leaves a wife and five children.

Elizabeth's Gift to Essex. A ring of surpassing great historical interest is the celebrated hoop presented by Queen Elizabeth to the Earl of Essex, at the time when he was her favorite; she told him, should he ever come into trouble, no matter what, he should send her the ring. The occurrence when Essex was condemned to death and sent her the ring which she did not receive, is one of the most tragical on the pages of history. The ring was by Essex sent to his cousin, Lady Scrope, but the messenger handed it by mistake to the Countess of Nottingham, whose husband was one of the enemies of Essex, and the ring was never handed to the Queen. Years afterward, when the Countess was dying, she sent for the Queen, confessed her guilt and asked forgiveness. But Elizabeth was so enraged that she violently shook the dying woman, cursed her, etc., and refused her forgiveness. The ring itself is enameled blue and has a small portrait of the Queen.

The few remedies which have attained to wide-world fame, as truly beneficial in effect and giving satisfaction to millions of people everywhere, are the products of the knowledge of the most eminent physicians, and presented in the form most acceptable to the human system by the skill of the world's great chemists; and one of the most successful examples is the Syrup of Figs manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Unlike a host of imitations and cheap substitutes, Syrup of Figs is permanently beneficial in its effects, and therefore lives and promotes good health, while inferior preparations are being cast aside and forgotten. In olden times if a remedy gave temporary relief to individuals here and there, it was thought good, but now-a-days a laxative remedy must give satisfaction to all. If you have never used Syrup of Figs, give it a trial; you will be pleased with it, and recommend it to your friends or to any who suffer from constipation, over-feeding, colds, headaches, biliousness, or other ills resulting from an inactive condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels. In the process of manufacturing the pleasant family laxative made by the California Fig Syrup Co. and named Syrup of Figs, figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste; but the medicinal properties of the remedy are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinal laxative and to act most beneficially. As the true and original remedy, named Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The Company has selected for years past the leading publications of the United States through which to inform the public of the merits of its remedy.

PERFECT womanhood depends on perfect health. Nature's rarest gifts of physical beauty vanish before pain.

Sweet dispositions turn morbid and fretful. The possessions that win good husbands and keep their love should be guarded by women every moment of their lives.

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their beauty, barely in time to save their lives. Many other thousands have availed of the generous invitation of Mrs. Pinkham to counsel all suffering women free of charge.

Mrs. H. J. GARRETON, Bound Brook, N. J., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the best results and can say from my heart that your medicines are wonderful. My physician called my trouble chronic inflammation of the left ovary. For years I suffered very much, but thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kind advice, I am today a well woman. I would say to all suffering women, take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and your sufferings will vanish."

Mrs. MAGGIE PHILLIPPE, of Ladoga, Ind., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—For four years I suffered from ulceration of the womb. I became so weak I could not walk across the room without help. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and wrote for special information. I began to improve from the first bottle, and am now fully restored to health."

Skilled in the Deadly Arts. The Tinney family of Kirwin, Kan., are pretty near the whole deadly thing. One son is a doctor, another an undertaker and another a tombstone maker. And the other week the tombstone maker married Miss Grace Greenwood of Seneca, who is a registered pharmacist.—Kansas City Journal.

Creeping Consumption. Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way. It creeps its way along. First, you think it is a little cold; nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats. The suddenness comes when you have a hemorrhage. Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping. You can do it with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. You first notice that you cough less. The pressure on the chest is lifted. That feeling of suffocation is removed. A cure is hastened by placing one of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster over the Chest. A Book Free. Write us freely. If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly receive, write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost. Address: Lowell, Mass.

Shears Made Famous by Salisbury. One of Lord Salisbury's pet anecdotes is the story of a barber whom he once patronized. This tonsorial artist did not fail to recognize his patron, for the latter, on passing the shop a few days later, was gratified to observe a placard in the window bearing this inscription: "Hair cut, 3d. With the same scissors as I cut Lord Salisbury's hair, 6d."

Counties in Indiana have been authorized to use voting machines. Saving the Nation Needless Expense. A new postoffice was established in a small village way out West, and a native of the soil was appointed postmaster. After a while complaints were made that no mail was sent out from the new office, and an inspector was sent to inquire into the matter. He called upon the postmaster and asked why no mail had been sent out. The postmaster pointed to a big and nearly empty mail-bag hanging up in a corner and said: "Well, I ain't sent it, 'cause the bag ain't nowhere full yet!"—Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Modern Science Recognizes RHEUMATISM as a Disease of the Blood. There is a popular idea that this disease is caused by exposure to cold, and that some localities are infected with it more than others. Such conditions frequently promote the development of the disease, but from the fact that this ailment runs in certain families, it is shown to be hereditary, and consequently a disease of the blood. Among the oldest and best known residents of Bluffs, Ill., is Adam Vangundy. He has always been prominently identified with the interests of that place. He was the first President of the Board of Trustees, and for a long time has been a Justice of the Peace. He says: "I had been a sufferer of rheumatism for a number of years and the pain at times was very intense. I tried all the proprietary medicines I could think or hear of, but received no relief. "I finally placed my case with several physicians and doctored with them for some time, but they failed to do me any good. Finally, with my hopes of relief nearly exhausted I read an article regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which induced me to try them. I was anxious to get rid of the terrible disease and bought two boxes of the pills, I began using them about March, 1897. After I had taken two boxes I was completely cured, and the pain has never returned. I think it is the best medicine I have ever taken, and am willing at any time to testify to its good merits."—Bluffs (Ill.) Times. The genuine sold only in packages like this. 50¢ per box. Sale of Real Estate.
 The undersigned will sell at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, March 22, 1899, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the house and lot situated in the village of King Ferry, Cayuga Co. N. Y., owned and occupied by Harriet L. Goodyear at the time of her decease. The house is new, commodious and modern with good sized lot. Also a lot consisting of about seven acres of land situate in said village upon which is a carriage house and a large number of fine growing fruit trees of different varieties. These sales are for the purpose of closing out an estate and are positive. Terms of sale: upon the house and lot, fifteen per cent. of the purchase price will be required to be paid down by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, for which the receipt of the undersigned will be given. The residue of the purchase money will be required to be paid on the 1st day of April '99. Upon the lot of seven acres, the same as the above except that twenty-five per cent. of the purchase price will be required to be paid down at the time and place of sale. A portion of the purchase price, in each instance, can, at the option of the purchaser, be left upon the premises, secured by bond and mortgage thereon.

 WHEREAS, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated February 28, 1895, executed by Michael Burton, of Genoa, N. Y., to Levi Starnes, of the same place, recorded in Cayuga County Clerk's office, on March 9, 1895, at 9 o'clock, a. m., in Liber 125 of Mortgages, page 232, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover said money, or any part thereof, and the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the first publication of this notice being $375 72, which is the whole amount unpaid thereon; now, therefore, notice is hereby given, according to the state in such order, articles and provisions, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and therewith recorded, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described, by the subscriber, at public auction, on the 15th day of March, 1899, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the front door of the First National Bank in Moravia, Cayuga Co., N. Y.
 Said premises are described in said mortgage as follows: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Genoa, N. Y., and being a part of lot No. 21, in said town, bounded and described as follows: Beginning in the southwest corner of lands now (1886) owned by James Lowe and in the center of the highway, thence west along the center of said highway, thence north along the center of the highway running north from the first three corners west of the place of beginning, and to lands owned (1895) by Lucian and John Meads; thence east along the south line of said Meads' land about twenty rods; thence north along the east line of said Meads' land to land of John C. Lehigh; thence east along the south line of said Lehigh's land to lands owned by said James Lowe; thence south along the west line of said Lowe's land to the place of beginning, containing fifty-six acres of land more or less and being the same premises conveyed to said party of the first part by Cornelius Root and wife by deed dated August 6, 1875, and recorded in Cayuga County in Liber 1st of deeds, page 95.
