To Use Paper Twine.

At a meeting of the Cayuga County Wool Growers' association held in Auburn, Monday, officers were elected as follows:

H. W. Baker of Aurelius was elected president of the board; A. N. Close of King Ferry, vice-president; James Morse, Levanna, secretary and treasurer, while Harlow Mills of Weedsport and A. B. Stevens will be the other two members of the board.

Paper twine, which is expected to prove one of the biggest aids to wool growers in handling their product, will be used this year for the first time in Cayuga county, and this new twine will be made available to every grower. The farm bureau officials have been made special secretaries with power to distribute this twine. Under the old system, the twine used had to be dissolved by acid process which injured the wool. The paper twine, a new invention, will dissolve with the natural process of scouring the wool of grease, making the use of acid unnecessary.

With the shearing season about to start, the directors also designated the farm bureau to make arrangement for the annual wool sale, such as was conducted last year with great success and satisfaction to the growers. The sale will be held some time in June. Last year, through the co-operation of the bureau, more than 32,000 pounds of wool was sold at an increase of 10 cents a pound to the growers, it has been conservatively estimated.

Former Assemblyman Rounds.

Eugene B. Rounds, 77, prominent in Republican politics in Cayuga county for many years and a former assemblyman, died Sunday morning in Auburn where he had made his home during the past winter. Death resulted from pneumonia which developed from a cold and grip.

He was a lifelong resident of Niles, having continued the work of his father as the leading miller of the town. The milling business in Niles has been in the Rounds family for over 100 years and is now conducted by a son of the former assemblyman. He served ten terms as supervisor and one term as assemblyman. During the past winter Mr. Rounds had lived in Auburn to avoid the hardships of a winter in the country.

Surviving are his wife, Juliet Brown Rounds; two sons, Charles M. Rounds of Fulton and William E. Rounds of Niles and one daughter, Mrs. Minerva Johnson of Waukesha, Wisconsin.

The funeral services were held at 1 o'clock Tuesday in Auburn conducted by Rev. C. C. Roszell, followed by services at the home in New Hope at 1:30 o'clock Thursday, with burial at Kelloggsville. The Odd Fellows and members of the Pomona Grange took part in the services.

World's W. C. T. U.

During the week of April 18 the doors of Westminster Abbey in London will be opened for the first time to a convention of women—the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The women assembled will represent every country in the world. Miss Anna Gordon, National W. C. T. U. president, will head the group of American delegates. Sunday, April 18, will be observed as World's W. C. T. U. Convention Sunday all over the world, with special services in the churches on some phase of the temperance question.

Get Automobile Plates.

Albany, March 20—Automobilists should not wait until the first warm day of spring before applying for their plates. Thousands of cars are now tied up on account of weather conditions. It is expected that another rush will soon come and so Secretary of State Hugo is now asking motorists to apply for the necessary license plates and insure a quick delivery. Those who want their plates and who have not already sent in their applications should do so at once.

Central Syrup Station.

The directors of the Cortland County Maple Syrup Products Co-operative association have purchased the Clover Farms' Milk shipping station at Homer for use as a bottling and packing plant for the maple syrup industry of Central New York. The plant was used by the Clover Farms up until about a year ago and was at that time the largest grade A milk shipping station in the world.

Red Cross Meeting.

The annual meeting of the King Ferry Branch of the Red Cross will be held Wednesday, March 31, at 4 p. m., at King Ferry school building. Important business is to be transacted and it is hoped that every one interested will be on hand.

FLORENCE HAM DUCKETT

The Bonniest Bonnet by Dixie Wolcott

There's the bonny Scotman's bonnet
That he wears with greatest pride,
With a jaunty silver thistle
Fastened gaily at the side.
There's the little pink sunbonnet
Which the country lassie wears;
And the boudoir's frilled creation
That "My Lady" dons upstairs.

And stored within our attic
In a rosewood chest of yore,
Is the fetching wedding bonnet
That my great-grandmother wore.
There's a wreath of posies on it,
And a tiny spray within—
And some cherry-colored ribbons
That were tied beneath her chin.

But the hat most chic and charming
That has ever come my way
Is that one that Dorothea
Wore to church on Easter day.
I can't tell the shape or color,
I could never guess its worth
But beneath it glowed the beauty
Of the sweetest face on earth!
—Detroit Free Press.

HAILED GODDESS OF SPRING

Heathen Saxons Had Their Festival
When They Worshiped Eostre, Before Dawn of Christianity.

In ancient times the Saxons were worshippers of the heathen goddess Eostre whose festival fell in the spring. The feast of the Resurrection falling in the spring also, the flame was transformed to the Christian feast which, in the Saxon church, was regarded as the queen of festivals. It was termed the Day of Light, and from midnight of Easter eve until daylight the churches were brilliantly illuminated and decorated. On Easter morning the people flocked to the elaborate service, and especially to witness the symbolic resurrection from the sepulcher. This was represented by the priest's elevating in full view of the people the supposed body of the risen Christ.

In connection with the celebration in the churches the people indulged in feasting and rejoicing in their own homes. This was but a natural reaction from the rigorous fast of Lent imposed by the church, during which no meat whatever was eaten and on Good Friday no food at all was permitted.

The custom of using eggs is supposed to have originated with the ancient Greeks and Romans, who colored them to use in their pagan festival. Marvelous stories may be found of bewitched eggs, said to be able to fly straight toward the sun, and one famous variety was said to have been laid by a rabbit. The story of the origin of the Easter egg seems to be a mixture of the Christian and Pagan legend, and is as follows:

"There fell from the heavens, long, long ago, an egg of immense size; it rested on the Euphrates, when a dove descended and hatched it, and out of it arose a splendid beauty of Venus."

Song of Easter.

Sing that the winter is over,
Sing for the coming of spring,
—For the showers and flowers
and beautiful hours,
And the flash of the robin's wing.
Sing for the gladness of Easter
Lift up your voices and sing.

The Thrice-A-Week Edition
OF THE
New York World
IN 1919.

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price. The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. We have been forced to enter the great world war, and a mighty army of ours is already in France fighting great battles and winning magnificent victories. You will want to have all the news from our troops on European battlefields, and 1919 promises to be the most momentous year in the history of our universe. No other newspaper at so small a price will furnish such prompt and accurate news of these world-shaking events. It is not necessary to say more. THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Genoa Tribune together for one year for $2.25. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

Each employee whose pay is not fixed by statute will ask for an increase of 32 per cent.

Legislation intended to authorize town boards in towns of 20,000 or upwards to adopt and enforce a building code, has been introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Thomas A. McWhinney of Nassau.

Willett H. Vary, of Watertown, aged about 65, former master of the New York state grange and former overseer of the national grange, is dead at Southern Pines, N. C., where he had gone for his health.

That practically all peach buds in Monroe county orchards were frozen and killed by the severe winter weather was indicated by tests made in the town of Greece by experts of the Monroe county farm bureau.

A daylight saving ordinance, affecting municipal courts, public offices, legal and official proceedings has been unanimously adopted by the common council of Syracuse. It becomes effective the last Sunday in April.

Hotels and apartment houses do not have the right to fix rates for telephone service, the use of such systems being a public utility and not a private facility, the public service commission, Second district, has ruled.

At least 40,000 mental defectives in New York state are outside of institutions, while the state is caring for only about 4,000, according to the first annual report of the state commission for mental defectives submitted to the legislature.

The home of John H. Gillett of Clyde proved to be a hive when the family found 150 pounds of honey. While a workman was boring a hole in the ceiling to put in electric wires bees followed the augur cut and further exploration resulted in the find.

Tonawanda farmers are predicting a bumper crop of winter wheat. It was stated that the crops look better at this season than it has in a number of years and weather conditions are more promising for continued growth than they have been in some time.

Lee Gross, a Cuba dairyman, has begun selling milk at 10 cents a quart. This is a drop of 5 cents a quart. At this price, Mr. Gross states, he is making a living profit. He also claims that milk can be sold in the cities at 12 cents, instead of 15 cents a quart.

While the heavy snows this winter have been the source of much annoyance and trouble to the farming communities of Chautauqua, making travel difficult and at times almost impossible, farmers realize that they have been a godsend. The great amount of snow increases fertility.

Five thousand dollars for an investigation by the New York agricultural experimental stations of methods for controlling disease and insect pests in orchards, including efficacy of insecticides and fungicides, is requested in a bill introduced in the legislature by Assemblyman Tyler of Ontario.

The state conservation commission is now making its annual offering of trees for reforesting the lands within the state. Applications for trees to be delivered this spring should be filed with the commission at Albany before April 1. The species offered are white pine, Scotch pine, red pine, Norway spruce and Carolina-popular cuttings.

State commissioners of education, conferring in New York on the teacher shortage, adopted a resolution urging state board "to increase existing salary schedules to a point that will meet the present cost of living, and serve to attract to the teaching profession as a life work, capable men and women who are contemplating or are now entering more remunerative positions."

The Sheffield Farms Co. whose notices urging dairymen not to increase their production are under investigation by District Attorney Swann of New York, made profits in 1918, of $774,000 or 51 1/2 per cent, according to statistics compiled by Frank J. Wilson, deputy federal fair price commissioner for this state, made public by Mr. Swann. These alleged profits were, said Mr. Swann, three and one-half times those made in 1917.

If the senate concurs in the assembly and Gov. Smith signs the bill, women hereafter will not have to give their exact ages when they appear in a polling place to register or vote. The assembly has passed the bill introduced by Assemblyman McLaughlin of New York amending the election law to permit a woman when giving her age to say "above 21." The only vote cast against the bill came from Assemblyman Rowe of Buffalo.

The volume of business transacted by the 141 savings banks in this state in 1919 was not only unprecedented, but astounding, according to a report made public by State Superintendent of Banks Skinner. Resources at the end of the year totaled $2,456,993,719, representing a gain of $225,531,711. Deposits increased from $2,042,011,104 to $2,267,395,799, while the number of open accounts at the end of the year was 3,658,435, an increase of 40,791.

In one of the fruit growers' headquarters at Geneva it was learned that contracts are being made for cherry crops that are recork-breakers in price, it being said that several contracts were made at 14 1/2 cents per pound for sour cherries. It was said that several crops had been contracted for at 12 cents a pound, but on account of the recent reports from the Monroe county district to the effect that the greater part of the buds have been killed by the frost, the price has gone up and many are refusing to contract at the prices mentioned.

April Milk not yet Sold.

The Dairymen's League has so far been unable to contract with the dealers for the sale of its members' milk for April.

During the past year the milk has been sold on a plan which took market conditions and quotations into consideration, and the price was computed and announced on the twentieth of each month. That arrangement expires April 1 and the dealers have announced that they are no longer willing to continue with the same plan.

At a meeting of the League Board of Directors held on March 11 and 12, it was thought best to continue to sell the milk on this same plan. After the meeting of the Board of Directors, conferences between League officers and milk dealers were held, and the League proposed that the plan be continued. The dealers refused to do this and came forward a few days later at another conference with a plan revising the original plan and attaching so many conditions that it was absolutely impossible for the farmers to accept it.

The plan as proposed to the farmers would sell the milk for April for about $2.24 a hundred for 3 per cent milk. This would be 56 cents lower than the price paid for April milk last year, while the prices of feed and labor and all other of the farmers' costs are very materially higher. Even with these low prices there were no assurances from the dealers that they would take all of the milk. More conferences are to be held with the dealers in an effort to work out a solution for the very serious situation.

Mrs. Ella P. Sears.

Mrs. Ella Powers Sears, 61, died suddenly at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at her home in Groton, from heart disease. Mrs. Sears and her son Walter, moved from their farm to the Groton home, which they recently purchased just a few days before her death. Mrs. Sears was mopping the kitchen floor when she was stricken. She apparently was in good health up to a few minutes before her death.

She leaves three sons, Frank Sears of Cortland and Lee and Walter Sears of Groton, and a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Bishop of Venice.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the home of Rev. W. W. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the deceased.

The person who said that the upbringing of a child is more important than the raising of poultry probably didn't like poultry any less but children more.

Fine Grinding Sure!

LETZ FEED MILL

excels all other mills in fine grinding. Why? Because of the wonderful Letz Hires-Kross Plate. You should come in and take a look at that plate. You never saw anything like it to get results. The Letz will grind wild oats, wheat screenings, millet seed, grass seed, rye, barley, corn on the cob with or without husks, Kafir corn in the head, Milo maize, alfalfa hay—fine as dust—practically as fine as flour without injuring the plates. One customer says he can grind shelled corn and oats into flour, for hog feed, in one grinding. With other mills he would have to grind it twice.

Letz Self-Aligning Plates are quickly changeable, silent running and sharpen themselves when run together empty. One set of tubs grinds 1000 to 1500 bushels of grain—outlasts three to five sets of ordinary plates.

We sell the Letz because when one is sold it gives satisfaction and calls another. C. J. WHEELER, Genoa

GENOA GEM THEATER

...SATURDAY EVE., MAR. 27...
Louis Bennison, a Lariat Thrower, in "High Pocket"

THE PLOT
"High Pocket" Henderson, U. S. Marshal, (Louis Bennison) is riding his "best" near the town of Farewell, when he comes upon the dead body of Bud Blythe, the brother of John Blythe, (Katharine McDonald) with whom she had come west to start a ranch. In looking over the dead man's effects, the marshal came upon a photograph of a girl, and unknowingly left the impression of his finger upon it. The marshal roused the sheriff and other townsfolk, who took care of the body. Jim Stute (William Black) and Bull Bellows (Frank Evans) cattle thieves, declare that the man who committed the crime was the one whose finger print appeared on the photograph. Shortly thereafter Joy packs up her belongings to return to the East, where her home is entered by one of the gang, Manon, who she drives away at the point of a gun. Manon then informs the gang that they can do a little cattle rustling. Joy comes to town, and is met by Stute and Bellows, who try to force her to drink with them. Her "High Pockets" recognizes her from her photograph and takes her to a respectable hotel across the street. But when she is alone in her room Manon tries to reach her by jumping from an upper porch to her window ledge. He is seen by "High Pockets," who throws a lariat about him and brings him down to earth. "High Pockets" then believes he knows who the murders are and asks Joy to remain in town awhile, securing a position for her at the general store Jim Stute and his followers, seeing "High Pockets" interfering with their plans, claim that he is Blythe's murderer and try to arrest him. But the marshal gets the drop on the sheriff and his aids, and marches the bunch to the sheriff's office and imprisons them.
Tony, a half-wit musician, informs "High Pockets" of the gang's plans. The marshal then rides out to Joy's ranch and discovers some of the gang changing the brand on her cattle. Under cover of his guns, he drives them to the Judge's home, where he compels them to purchase Joy's ranch for $10,000.
At this time, the murdered man's twin brother arrives in town, and "High Pockets" resolves upon a scheme to make the murders confess. He takes the twin brother to the saloon in which the cattle thieves meet. Immediately upon his entrance, Manon's sweetheart believes she sees the murdered man's ghost and cries out that Manon was the murderer. The latter tries to jump through the window but as he does so, a dagger thrown by "High Pockets" pins his hand against the window frame. Then he roused up the others at the point of a gun and delivers them to the county judge.
Joy has been waiting at the store for the result of "High Pockets'" scheme; and when he returns, sells him a ring which she archly permits him to place on her finger.

WEDNESDAY EVE., MAR. 31

See Mary MacLaren at her best in
"The Pointing Finger"

A Universal Photodrama with a laugh and a tear in every scene.

Every police officer in the country was looking for her. She was alone in a big city, penniless and without a day's experience to help her in getting a job. She had run away from an orphanage. They say that she had stolen ten thousand dollars of the institution's funds from a safe and that she had "borrowed" a fussy dress and a frilly hat from the old matron who wanted to be kittenish in the eyes of the eagle-beaked superintendent. That was the condition in which Mary Murphy of the Brotherly Love Orphanage, found herself when she saw an advertisement that a rich old collector of bugs wanted an assistant; no experience required. She got the job, but only when she drew back her beautiful hair into a spinster's knot and veiled her lovely eyes with murky horn-rimmed spectacles, denoting excessive learning. How she handled the job, although frightened out of her wits by the professor's collection of bugs, how she cleared herself of the reputation of a thief and eventually married into a million is the theme of "The Pointing Finger," a photoplay with a punch. Mary MacLaren is the beautiful Mary of the story which will be shown on Wednesday evening next at this theater.

 —A. P. Bradley returned Saturday last from a trip to Lima and Dayton, Ohio.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Alson Karn of North Lansing spent Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Jane Bower.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hurley and Mrs. Cornelius Keefe of New York spent Monday at A. J. Bothwell's.
 —Egg stove and chestnut coal on hand.
 —Miss Blood of Jamesville, a former teacher in Genoa High school, spent the week-end with Genoa friends.
 —Miss Anna R. Lisk of Aurora High school is attending the musical conference at Philadelphia, Pa., this week.
 —Mrs. A. B. Fox returned to Ithaca Wednesday after spending the past two months with her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Norman.
 —Mrs. A. L. Loomis and children returned Wednesday from Groton where they were guests for a week of Mrs. A. W. Janorsky and family.
 —Snowboy Washing Powder, large pkg. 22c at Ellison's, King Ferry.
 —Mrs. L. Allen returned Saturday last from Veneta, Center, where she has been spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. B. C. Wattles.
 —Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Banker went to Syracuse Sunday last. Mr. Banker returned Tuesday afternoon, and Mrs. Banker remained to spend some time with F. R. VanBrocklin and family.
 —The warm, sunny days since Saturday last have caused the snowbanks to disappear very fast. However, there are deep banks in many places in the roads yet. West hill was shoveled out the first of the week.
 —Our Own Blend coffee 50c at Ellison's, King Ferry.
 —P. S. Or some more I didn't say last week. Yes, I am still in the same place two doors east of the Gem Theater. Yes, I have found a house, but that has nothing to do with knockers. Beware of a knocker; if he is a business competitor chances are ten to one that he will help your business and hurt his own, so give him rope. If he is a social knocker your only salvation is "walk the straight and narrow path." But if he is in your motor, then look out for troubles and take him out. It may be caused by carbon, which if allowed to accumulate too long will affect your power and loosen the bearings. It may be connecting rods, or worse yet it may be your crank shaft trying to shimmy where a shim should be taken out. What ever it is don't neglect it for the longer it goes the more it will cost. Nuf Sed. Did you read my ad. in this issue?
 —D. E. Singer is having the remaining portion of the old south mill enclosed and a roof added for use in his undertaking business. When the old mill was taken down, a part of the first floor, extending back about 20 feet, was left, and this Mr. Singer is making into a storage building.
 —The address given by Mrs. R. E. Ransier of Manlius, N. Y., in the Baptist church Sunday evening, on her experiences among the Hopi Indians, was very interesting and held the attention of the audience from start to finish. The speaker was a missionary to these Indians in the northern part of Arizona for several years, and her talk concerning the customs and rites of these people who are (the most of them) pagans, and still living in an uncivilized state, was instructive as well as entertaining. The work among these people, requiring an interpreter until one learns their language, is slow of result. Mrs. Ransier was given a collection to be used in this work.

—E. C. Hillman of Levanna has been in town this week.
 —Harold Sullivan of Auburn spent Sunday with Genoa relatives.
 —J. W. Scott and Hobart M. Hagin spent Sunday with Auburn friends.
 —A very wonderful display of aurora borealis was witnessed Monday evening.
 —Mrs. W. R. Mosher spent a day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Divine in Venice.
 —W. F. Reas and Son are having a cement wall constructed on the west side of the pond, near the dam.
 —Mrs. Sarah Sill has come to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Curtis, to remain for some time.
 —Lawrence Smith will assist Clarence Hollister at Five Corners this season and has commenced his work.
 —Watch for our special announcement on shoes. Ellison's, King Ferry.
 —Misses Myra and Bessie Reynolds are having the Easter vacations in their schools, and are at their home in Genoa.
 —In a recent report of the honor roll of Central High school of Syracuse, we notice the name of Blair Knapp of Genoa.
 —Owing to a rush of advertising this week, incident to spring weather and the Easter season, we are obliged to omit some late copy.
 —Mrs. Lena Fulmer is assisting in Mastin's store for a few days. W. B. Holden has completed his engagement in this store, we understand.
 —The lake trout season opens April 1 and on the Saturday following it will be legal to catch brook, speckled, brown and rainbow trout.
 —Miss Luella Steele, who has been ill for several weeks, was so much improved that she was able to be about the house, but has been quite ill again for several days.
 —Double header basket ball at the Genoa rink to-night. Genoa Ramblers vs. King Ferry High school and Genoa Independent Five vs. King Ferry Pirates. Admission 30 cts.
 —Sleep is the most perfect rest and sleep will "cure" most diseases. That is, the person who sleeps is going to recover, as a rule, for he is going to secure the rest that is essential to recovery.
 —Egg stove and chestnut coal on hand.
 —Rev. F. C. Schorge, who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church of Union Springs for the past five years, has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church in Skaneateles, it is reported.
 —Mrs. Ella Albert has received news this week from her nephew, Dr. W. C. Groom, of Willard, of the very serious illness of their little son, Kenneth. The latest report, Thursday, was that the child was no better.
 —At the parsonage in Summerhill, Wednesday, March 10, Rev. M. L. Dalton united in marriage Miss Mildred Pearl Robinson of Summerhill and Carlton Fulmer Briggs of Moravia. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Moravia.
 —Veteran Flour, the guaranteed kind at Ellison's, King Ferry.
 —Cornelius Nugent has purchased the Holden house, near the fair ground, and is making some repairs on the same. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, who have been living in the house, expect to move soon to the Wheeler house on east hill, which is now occupied by John Keefe, Jr., and family.
 —The assembly on Tuesday defeated the Betts bill, designed to repeal the daylight saving law. The present state law provides that the clocks shall be turned ahead one hour next Sunday morning. New York and many other cities of the state have adopted daylight saving, regardless of the law.
 —Fels Naptha and Export Borax soap, 10 bars for 75c at Ellison's, King Ferry.
 —A meeting in the interests of the Interechurch World movement was held Friday last in Auburn, having been called by Rev. L. K. Painter of Poplar Ridge, county convener. Plans for organizing the movement in Cayuga county were discussed, and it was planned that a big county meeting should be held in the Central Presbyterian church on April 6, when prominent speakers will be selected to give an inspiring program. This meeting is deemed by the committee in charge to be one of the most important ever held in the county. The members of the Executive Committee are Rev. F. W. Palmer, Rev. K. B. Bowen and Rev. C. C. Rossell.

—Hay is selling in the mow on farms in Cazenovia at $28 and $30 a ton.
 —Twelve Schoharie men have put up $500 each for the purchase of the Schoharie hotel property for a community house.
 —Last year we exported a billion pounds of sugar and went without ourselves. How sweet of us, says an exchange.
 —The Hornell Grange will build a home during the coming summer of brick and concrete to cost from $15,000 to $20,000.
 —An excellent spring tonic, after several months of hovering around the fireside, is a good sawbuck, a sharp saw and pile of hardwood.
 —Jack Douglass has closed his barber shop after a business career of fifty years in Cazenovia. He was the oldest business man in town.
 —The world has more than 1,000 missionary doctors, one-third of whom are women; 300 missionary hospitals and more than 1,200 dispensaries. It is estimated that about one missionary in 25 is a doctor.
 —John W. Norris, who is in his 90th year, is to be Dundee's village president for the tenth term. It is doubtless if any village in the State can boast of as old an official who is active and keen of mind in spite of his great age.
 —The peppermint oil industry in Wayne county is being revived, the price now being $8.30 a pound. Several hundred farmers expect to raise mint in the spring and two distilleries will be erected in the town of Lyons.
 —Keene, Essex county, has been entirely cut off from neighboring towns. This village had 350 cases of flu out of a total population of 425 souls. People have been dying off so fast that one man had to bury his own wife.
 —The employees of the International Harvester plant in Auburn are in favor of daylight saving. It is expected that the plan may be put into effect for the city employees, without discommoding the country people in the least.
 —The McCombe-Clase evangelistic party has recently completed a campaign in the First Methodist church in Ithaca and was given a free will offering at the close of the meetings of $1,251.20. The party went from Ithaca to Kenosha, Wis.

 If the Sonora has not the finest tone of all the phonographs made why did the only jury that tested all the talking machines at the Panama-Pacific Exposition award first prize over all other makes to the SONORA? Surely that settles the matter as to tone. It is certainly the most beautiful talking machine made, just see it beside any other phonograph and you will be struck at once by its superiority, and as to durability, nothing ever happens to put the SONORA out of business except an accident, and it can be immediately repaired. Now why look further when purchasing a phonograph? All the above is strictly true and can be proven. Come and see the several designs which I have recently received. I have also the Edison, Victor and Portophone in stock and both disc and amberola records.

"HOLY WEEK" IN JERUSALEM

Particularly Impressive Are the Easter Services in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

An interesting account of Holy Week in Jerusalem was written some years ago by Robert Hichens, author of "The Garden of Allah," for the Century Magazine. He described the ceremonies in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher. "My first impression in the church," he says, "was that I had suddenly come into a barbaric castle of magic connected with innumerable caves of Aladdin. About me were caves lined with silver and gold and immense jewels unknown to me; caves across which miraculous spiders had spun webs of silver and gold. Stars gleamed in them; footsteps echoed, voices murmured, eery lights twinkled. Marvelous fabrics shone softly among great pictures, carved wood, marble, bronzes and gilded ironwork."

And in the courtyard—"a roar of voices went up. The pavement echoed with the ceaseless tramping of feet and the grounding of muskets. The walls flung back exclamations and cries; the whining and shrieking of beggars, the loud calling of sellers determined to compel attention to their wares, the vehement discussions of those that bought, and—I almost said the silence of the Russian pilgrims. For mystic Russia was there, mute at the threshold of Calvary."

Altar in Church of the Holy Sepulcher at Jerusalem.

He describes the "Miracle of the Holy Fire"—the church packed with thousands eager to light their candles at the fire sent down from heaven once a year, according to the teachings of the Greek church, to the priests within the marble sanctuary, which is supposed to mark the sepulcher.

"And then, after the wonderful midnight mass on the eve of Easter... came the Easter morning ceremony in the court of the Holy Sepulcher. Ah, how gentle, how tender, how touching it was, that simple greeting of the wonderful morning after the delirium and frenzy of the holy fire. All hearts were excited to frenzy by the holy fire. The Easter morning procession moved hundreds to tears, held them tensely silent. Instead of the blue, dome spangled with artificial stars, a faint blue sky was over our heads. Instead of the glare of the torches the sunbeams fell mildly upon us. Instead of the yelling multitudes we heard the sound of the wonderful bells—bells never to be forgotten. They sounded like strange, emotional voices of living things, proclaiming a great, a superb truth. Down below me I saw tears streaming over the seamed faces of many Russians as they signed themselves, kissed one another, told one another, 'Christ is risen.'"

Easter Day.

It is a beautiful conception, the day and its significance. Our finite minds are accustomed to conceive of death as the end; we are often prone to stop there and not go beyond the resurrection. The physical world is emblematic of the change that must ever take place before the springing up of new life. So with the life of the spirit. He that loses his life shall find it. Something of this thought is in the mind of him who is to find the real meaning of Easter. It is the beginning of a new year, not in the formal calendar of days and months, but of the world of nature which is open all the world of reality to us. The season speaks of abundance of life with all its wonderful hopes and possibilities. To the Christian world Easter is the apotheosis of everything that is beautiful and awe-inspiring. It means the emergence of the spiritual, the message to humanity that the good and true and beautiful can never die. It is the inspiration of the poet, the essence of hope to the man of faith.

Oldest Christian Festival.

Easter is the oldest festival of the Christian church. The celebration of it is really continued from Sunday to Sunday, and will be till at last the dawn of the Eternal Sabbath breaks, and the everlasting Easter morning shall rise on a new heaven and a new earth. The Resurrection was an announcement of the greatest victory which has ever been won, a victory over bondage and over death. Many victories have been celebrated since, but none can compare with this. There have been many results of it.

A Staggering People

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Dept.,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—They are drunken, but no with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.—Isa. 29:3.

In the text and context we read of a condition in the days of Isaiah or shortly there after. Most of those who were guiding public opinion were speaking words of confidence, assuring the people that nothing direful was ahead while a very few faithful prophets such as Isaiah were truthfully telling the people of coming trouble. There were confusion, uncertainty, fear taking hold of the masses. Is there any indication that there is similar staggering in our day?

What is stable nowadays? Witness the uncertainty, unrest, agitation, social confusion. The holiday season that has just passed has been one of the most remarkable in the history of the country—a period of wild extravagance, indeed, of delirium, with an utter disregard to God and religion, and to even the commonplaces of morality. The contentions in industrial life are more bitter than ever. One strike follows another in rapid succession. In the moral sphere we find that there is an increase in profanity, desecration of the Lord's day and sensuality—all of this notwithstanding the formal destruction of the liquor traffic. As a rule churches are empty or sparsely attended, or where the congregations are large, the people are attracted to them for the same reason that they attend the "movies"—entertainment; there being, of course, some exceptions. Orthodox churches fraternize freely with liberal and skeptical churches, because they are not sufficiently consecrated to maintain the truth at sacrifice to themselves, yet fear to give up all forms of religion. The world is staggering—and why?

Men Are Blind.

The first of the reasons for similar conditions in Israel assigned in our context is that the people were blind. They did not see. They had so persistently declined to see, that God had taken away from them the power to see. The blindness of today is chiefly spiritual. Men will not look at the truth. Many in Christian churches today are not informed on what is in the Bible, simply because they will not open their eyes to see. They have been taught to believe certain things, and when anything different is presented, their prejudice prevents investigation. While declining to go over to the ranks of the rejectors of the truth openly, they withdraw from active Christian work and sink into the mass of the non-churchgoing world.

Man says, "I am not learned." Is it true that today we have a condition of ignorance as to religious truth? Investigate the so-called purveyors of truth of today. They are either ignorant of the truth, or, being informed of the truth, are false to it. Do the preachers know the truth? Or, if they know the truth, are they so degenerate as to conceal it? Ignorance of the truths of the Christian religion is the underlying cause of the success of religious fads of the day. The knowledge of the truth is a bulwark against error. It is not sufficient for a man to say, "I am not learned;" he ought to be learned.

The prophet says that it is because the leaders of the people are blind and ignorant. "The prophets and your rulers and seers hath he covered." The true prophet, the good leader, God has taken away; but unfortunately there are those who pose in their places, and they are blind leaders of the blind. The seers of today are mere guessers at the truth, giving out but the "precepts of men."

What is the Remedy?

Let the leaders and the people open their eyes to the truth. "But where are we to find the truth?" one asks. There is just one answer: We are to find that truth in the Bible. We do not have any hesitation in saying that we should stand on the old Book.

The Catholic church broke down after many centuries of trial, and Protestantism came to the front; but now Protestantism is breaking down. The church has lost its grip, and its present movement to rehabilitate itself by such efforts as the raising of vast sums of money and by scientific investigation and organization is doomed to failure. God in these movements is largely forgotten, whatever may be the protestations to the contrary.

Christianity.

Christianity did not come from heaven to be the amusement of an idle hour, or the food of mere imagination; to be "as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and playeth well upon an instrument." It is intended to be the guide and companion of all our hours—the serious occupation of our whole existence.—Bishop Jobb.

GLORIOUS LILIES OF EASTER

Beautiful Flowers Epitomize the Blooming and Exquisite Beauty and Gladness of Spring.

Redolent and abounding lilies are seen every where. They are marching along the highways of hope; they are merged in the glory of the Easter morning; they are painted by the tints of the stained glass that falls through the cathedral windows; they are in the thought of all and in the words of many, in the sentiments and traditions of the day. There they are in great banks and piles about the altar steps, and where the sacred desk stands before the congregation. Lilies stand forth in the wonderful alle-ories that have been theirs—the lily of the valley, whose sheen is more wonderful than the glory of the great Solomon, the annunciation lily, with its folded petals like the clasped hands of a virgin, the lily of the resurrection, with its star-flared petals that stand out with a show of the golden heart of hope; the calla lily, with its stately presence and exquisite perfume, the very essence of the aesthetic sentiments of the day; the lily of faith, with its golden hands of faith, hope and of love; the tiger lily, that shows forth the passions of men held check upon Easter day; the yellow lily that stands for the home- aspirations of men on the day of the blossoming and exquisite beauty of spring opening and of heart gladness!

Triumphant Christian Faith.

Easter marks the Resurrection day, the man of deep faith it is the latest day of all the year. The good news parade that crowds him out of usual seat has no appeal for him, he is concerned with worship. He goes to the sacred meeting to contemplate the greatest of earth's miracles. There is much about it reason not compass. Every failure to solve the mystery drives him back to the faith that has never failed to bring light when cold reason suggested perplexity. When tempted to doubt he remembers that a critical analysis with antagonistic leaders tried to up the story when it was first reported. He remembers the dismal failure they made of it. Though contrary to all experience and knowledge great things have been brought to pass by the power of this miracle. Is it any wonder that in meditation and worship?

Awake to Spirit of Easter.

In the tragedy of many a life that awakes at an empty tomb. It thinks there all its hopes are buried, all its possibilities of joy, all its future, empty and joyless in the life that met the risen Christ! On the Easter morning two disciples were sleeping down to Emmaus. Their hearts were dead, their lives were hopeless because they had lost their Lord, and had no faith in certain rumors of resurrection which had come to their ears. They joined them on the way, but were held so they knew not who they were. May the Spirit open our eyes on Easter day to the joy of the Risen Lord.—Ex-

A Staggering People

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D.
Secretary of Correspondence Dept.,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—They are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink.—Isa. 29:9.

In the text and context we read of a condition in the days of Isaiah or shortly thereafter. Most of those who were guiding public opinion were speaking words of confidence, assuring the people that nothing direful was ahead while a very few faithful prophets such as Isaiah were truthfully telling the people of coming trouble. There were confusion, uncertainty, fear taking hold of the masses. Is there any indication that there is similar staggering in our day?

What is stable nowadays? Witness the uncertainty, unrest, agitation, social confusion. The holiday season that has just passed has been one of the most remarkable in the history of the country—a period of wild extravagance, indeed, of delirium, with an utter disregard to God and religion, and to even the commonplaces of morality. The contentions in industrial life are more bitter than ever. One strike follows another in rapid succession. In the moral sphere we find that there is an increase in profanity, desecration of the Lord's day and sensuality—all of this notwithstanding the formal destruction of the liquor traffic. As a rule churches are empty or sparsely attended, or where the congregations are large, the people are attracted to them for the same reason that they attend the "movies"—entertainment; there being, of course, some exceptions. Orthodox churches fraternize freely with liberal and skeptical churches, because they are not sufficiently consecrated to maintain the truth at sacrifice to themselves, yet fear to give up all forms of religion. The world is staggering—and why?

Men Are Blind.

The first of the reasons for similar conditions in Israel assigned in our context is that the people were blind. They did not see. They had so persistently declined to see, that God had taken away from them the power to see. The blindness of today is chiefly spiritual. Men will not look at the truth. Many in Christian churches today are not informed on what is in the Bible, simply because they will not open their eyes to see. They have been taught to believe certain things, and when anything different is presented, their prejudice prevents investigation. While declining to go over to the ranks of the rejectors of the truth openly, they withdraw from active Christian work and sink into the mass of the non-churchgoing world.

Man says, "I am not learned." Is it true that today we have a condition of ignorance as to religious truth? Investigate the so-called purveyors of truth of today. They are either ignorant of the truth, or, being informed of the truth, are false to it. Do the preachers know the truth? Or, if they know the truth, are they so degenerate as to conceal it? Ignorance of the truths of the Christian religion is the underlying cause of the success of religious fads of the day. The knowledge of the truth is a bulwark against error. It is not sufficient for a man to say, "I am not learned;" he ought to be learned. The prophet says that it is because the leaders of the people are blind and ignorant. "The prophets and your rulers and seers hath he covered." The true prophet, the good leader, God has taken away; but unfortunately there are those who pose in their places, and they are blind leaders of the blind. The seers of today are mere guessers at the truth, giving out but the "precepts of men."

What is the Remedy?

Let the leaders and the people open their eyes to the truth. "But where are we to find the truth?" one asks. There is just one answer: We are to find that truth in the Bible. We do not have any hesitation in saying that we should stand on the old Book.

The Catholic church broke down after many centuries of trial, and Protestantism came to the front; but now Protestantism is breaking down. The church has lost its grip, and its present movement to rehabilitate itself by such efforts as the raising of vast sums of money and by scientific investigation and organization is doomed to failure. God in these movements is largely forgotten, whatever may be the protestations to the contrary.

Christianity.

Christianity did not come from heaven to be the amusement of an idle hour, or the food of mere imagination; to be "as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and playeth well upon an instrument." It is intended to be the guide and companion of all our hours—the serious occupation of our whole existence.—Bishop Jebb.

Auditorium Attractions.

The Burlesque attraction at the Auditorium next Thursday, Apr. 1, matinee and night, will be the 1920 edition of the "Lid Lifters." The principal comedian is Harry Lang supported by a company of comedians and comedienne who will keep the fun going at a furious rate. The whole production is full of catchy music, lively dancing and good singing numbers. The sale of seats opens at the Auditorium Tuesday, Mar. 30. The usual scale of burlesque prices will prevail.

Saturday, Apr. 3, matinee and night, we will have with us the ever popular "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This is Wm. H. Kibble's original production and this year it is bigger and better than ever. Without doubt "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the best play ever written and the public never tires of seeing it. A carload of scenery and effects are carried and also a band and orchestra. A free street parade will be given at noon. The sale of seats opens at the Auditorium Thursday, April 1, and a remarkable low scale of prices has been made.

Early Rhubarb Possible.

Rhubarb can be had in the garden a week to ten days earlier than ordinarily, provided provisions are made for protecting a few of the plants from cold nights and bad weather.

An inexpensive and simple method, suggested by the gardeners at the state college of agriculture, is to place one-half of an old barrel, a box with the bottom and top removed, or a small coldframe over each of a few plants about the time they are coming through the ground. This will protect the plant from cold winds, snow, and, to a large extent, keep the ground from alternately freezing and thawing in early spring. As simple as it is, this will enable the gardener to harvest half of his crop very early. As an added aid to early growth a few forks of stable manure around the barrel or frame will be found to be good as a stimulant.

Aurora to Have Union School.

Aurora will have a Union Free school as a result of a special school meeting held last week. It was decided by vote to sell the old school property, the offer of Miss Edith Morgan of $10,000 for it being accepted unanimously. It was then decided to buy the old Academy property for $4,000 as offered by N. Lansing Zabriskie, chairman of the trustees. With the Academy the school district will receive a sum of over $7,000 endowment and a legacy to help needy children to obtain an education. It was voted to have the Academy building remodelled to meet the requirements of the State Board of Education.
