Ludlowville.

MARCH 24—LeRoy Beckwith was in town for a few days last week. Theo. Brown and wife were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Fish Sunday. They attended services at the M. E. church in the morning. The shadow social held at the residence of C. D. Howell last Wednesday evening was a success; $9.20 was the sum realized. Mrs. Josephine Jacobs has sold her farm to parties in Steuben county. Regents' examinations were held in the High school building this week. The Easter vacation next week. School will open for the spring term April 7th. The maple sugar social held at the school building Friday evening was well attended and was much enjoyed. The receipts of the evening were $17. Easter exercises will be held in the M. E. church Sunday evening. A fine program is being prepared by the Sunday school. Easter exercises will be held in the Presbyterian church April 6th.

North Lansing.

MARCH 25—The highways are improving and will soon be good roads again, which will be pleasing to everybody. The social held at T. J. Winnie's last Friday night was a success financially as well as socially. A large crowd and a good time in general. Easter services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday evening. An interesting program is in progress for the occasion. Chas. Barger visited his sister, Mrs. Jane Mosher, at Auburn a few days last week. James Winnie and wife from East Homer were guests of T. J. Winnie and family a few days last week. Kittie Haight, sister of Mrs. Winnie, returned to her home at East Homer last week. Mrs. Addie Baker is under the care of Dr. Albon of Groton. Andrew Brink and wife visited at George Curtis's at Five Corners Saturday and Sunday, the latter day being the 86th birthday of Mr. Brink's mother. A shadow social will be held at Benton Brown's next week Thursday evening, April 3, for the benefit of the East Genoa and North Lansing Union baseball club. Everybody invited. The larger the person the larger the shadow. Daniel DeCamp and Belle DeCamp were Sunday guests at her brother's, Fred Sharpsteen at Groton. Andrew Brink and wife made a business trip to Ithaca Monday. Jay Bostwick has recovered from his severe illness and is again in the blacksmith shop. Will Ercanbrack returned to his home at Moravia last Saturday. M. D. Lobdell and wife visited his daughter, Mrs. Glen Morton, at Auburn last week, returning home on Monday of this week. The people all through this community will miss the smiling countenance of Will Ferris on Stevens' delivery wagon of West Groton this summer. He has a host of friends through here who were sorry to have him leave and wish him success wherever he may go. House cleaning is near at hand and it always makes the men look so happy and feel so delighted to assist in removing the stove, etc.

For Sale.

E. W. Conklin & Son's cleaned clover and timothy; 50 bu. seed barley; Crocker's Pastilles. 164pr East Lansing, Poplar Ridge.

Atwater.

MARCH 24—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Hall, a daughter. Mr. Abbey is moving on the W. H. King farm. Mr. King has bought a farm near Ludlowville. Mrs. Wm. Hall and Lawrence Hall were in Auburn the first of the week. George Rennyson and wife and Mrs. M. A. Wager went to Geneva Monday to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. J. Wyckoff. George DeCamp is moving to his former home at Goodyears. James Flinn will occupy the house vacated by Mr. DeCamp. Mr. Mulvaney is living in the D. W. King house and will work for Howard Shaw this season. Mrs. Frank Saxon who has been sick for a few days is improving. Adelbert Alexander and family who moved to Minnesota in February have returned.

Venice.

MARCH 25—The Unlucky social at C. D. Divine's proved to be a lucky one. The committee allowing no one present to do anything unlucky, all passed a very pleasant evening. The entertainment, "A Romance in Melody" was especially enjoyed by all. Little Miss Carrie Misner has recovered from her recent illness. George Wright of Moravia has moved in A. E. Hutchinson's tenant house and will work for him the coming year. Joseph Leeson will work C. H. Putnam's farm this year. Clarence Perry and family have moved on the Henry Jennings farm near Cascade. Dana Brong commenced work for Clarence Streeter Monday morning. Mrs. Carrie E. Fell and two little daughters of Auburn are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Baldwin. Miss Margaret Mattoon began the spring term of school Monday. Miss Mary Bennett has been engaged to teach the spring term in the Arnold district.

East Venice.

MARCH 25—The birds have returned but the warm spring zephyrs are rather late. L. A. Lester, Fay Teeter and some others have commenced plowing. George Freece is the only one in this vicinity who is making maple sugar. Miss Cora Osborne of Weedsport has returned home after spending a long time with her sister, Mrs. L. A. Lester. Mrs. S. A. Whitten is at Moravia caring for her daughter who is ailing. F. E. Young has a new boy who he has hired for the season. Our new egg man is harvesting lots of eggs from this vicinity as this corner is noted for that class of produce. All kinds of feed are scarce and high with the exception of hay and many farmers are compelled to buy.

Venice Center.

MARCH 24—Miss Maude Ferris was taken suddenly ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Kenyon one day last week. Mrs. Shults has returned to her home in this place after spending the winter with her son at Five Corners. She is in a feeble condition. week. She is now improving. Her mother of Savannah who was called here on account of her illness returned home Saturday. Her brother Washington remained a few days longer. Born, Monday, March 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood, a daughter. Thomas and Elizabeth Wood, 111 E. A.

Sherwood.

MARCH 24—There is usually a calm after a storm, so it is at Sherwood. Our storm was County Lodge although the weather and roads prevented a great many from raining down. We were glad to welcome visitors from Throopsville, Auburn and Scipio. The roads were scraped in one district today which will greatly improve bicycle riding. The pupils of S. S. S. are enjoying a two weeks' vacation. John Ryan has moved back into Will Searing's tenant house and will work for him. Ed Brewster has commenced moving into his new home. Miss Nellie Wheeler of Auburn and Miss Mae Bishop and Ray Bishop of Scipio spent several days with Annetta Ward. Wm. and Herbert Howland went last week to Charleston to attend the Exposition. Martha Carmen has returned to Ithaca. Miss Clara Allen is spending the week at her Grandfather Baker's at Dog Corner. Hetty Lyon is home from North Carolina where she spent the winter. Dr. Hoxsie, Jr., paid his friends a flying visit last week. Elsa Kind returned from King Ferry this morning, where she spent part of the vacation with her parents. Mrs. Tichnor is quite ill from a stroke of paralysis. Henry Nye is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. Several from this place have gone to Poplar Ridge tonight to attend a maple sugar social at Elmer Sprague's.

Venice Center—West Hill.

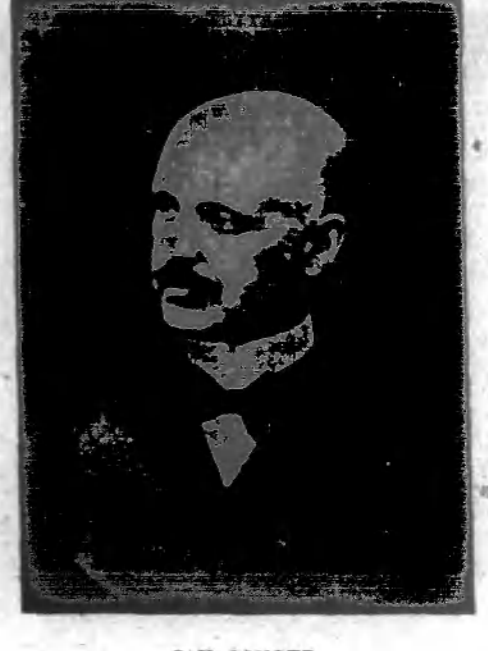

MARCH 24—The equinoctial came with a rush a little in advance of schedule time and it has snowed and blowed and "frizzed" horribly, ending with the wind in the cold corner. The western people are having their share of snow and blizzards now. They were enjoying their mild winter; "no use for an umbrella since last November" till now. Although the winter has been quite severe and the traveling bad most of the time, the social gatherings have not been diminished. On a recent trip to Auburn V. Andrews and daughter had the misfortune to break one of the wagon springs, but arrived home safely. Geo. S. Wood has been in town for a few days. His sons Fred and Frank will occupy the farm this season while Will Mosher operates the mill. The sudden decease of Mrs. Maria Jump caused sadness here where she was well and favorably known in former years. She was a cousin of Mrs. Sally Ann Wood. Sunday, the 23rd, was the only pleasant Sabbath in the month so far. Hope Easter will be full as fine. Every one knows about the bad roads. The only "good roads" we see or hear about are in the papers. Misses Lena and May Conklin have gone to Moravia to attend examinations. Mr. and Mrs. Smith Bacon of Ithaca are expected soon as guests at Samuel Wheat's. Mrs. W. B. Saxton who was reported seriously ill is recovering under Dr. Skinner's treatment. The premature death of Frank Conger is lamentable. It is a great loss to any community to have such men drop off. They seem to know everything but to care for their own health. A distinguished author says "The world belongs to those that come last." Is that rule observed in modern assemblies? Do the first arrivals surrender their seats to the late comers? Present prospects seem to be more favorable to a trolley than a steam railroad between Ithaca and Auburn. Well, anything but rolling in the mud. "The trolley and the steam road" are the two main roads to Genoa.

Atwater celebrated their 14th anniversary by entertaining a number of their friends. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all. Miss Katie Wood has returned from Sycamore, Ill., where she has been spending the last few months. Miss Mary Shaw is home from Moravia for a few weeks' vacation. J. A. Greenfield has sold his place to Mrs. Middleton and will move in part of Henry Chadwick's house.

Frank Close is making some needed repairs on his new home. Aaron Gillow has hired to C. H. Corwin for the coming season. Mrs. Nora Bush of Ithaca is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Albert Gillow. The annual meeting of the Maplewood cemetery society will be held on Saturday, March 29, in the session room of the church. Those interested in the grounds are requested to be present. G. L. Ferris had the misfortune to lose another horse last week.

Belltown.

Memorial.

DEAR SIR—Will you grant me space in your paper for a few memories of Elisha B. Cobb who died of typhoid pneumonia at his home at Ledyard, Feb. 19, 1902, aged 74 years. My acquaintance with him began in 1845 when he was about 18 years of age. At that time my father became pastor of the M. E. church in Varna, N. Y., near his childhood home. Elisha Cobb moved one load of our goods from Newark Valley to Varna, and I, a boy about 8 years of age, had the privilege of riding with him on the load. The acquaintance then pleasantly begun continued during his life. He had already embraced religion and was an active member of the church. In 1845 he was married to Jane Cotanch of Dryden, who with a son and daughter survives him. He removed from Varna to Ledyard in 1850 and united with the Ledyard M. E. church of which he remained a devoted member and most of the time an official member, until his death. I have never known a man who more thoroughly impressed me with the nobility of his Christian character and his devotion to the service of God than did he. Everybody knew where to find him on all moral questions, and his positions were taken intelligently and carefully. He was interested in everything which concerned the welfare of the community and was a safe counselor for those who were in trouble. He occupied the position of justice of the peace for many years. A large congregation gathered at his funeral to pay their tribute of respect to his memory, and an appropriate sermon was preached by his pastor, Rev. J. F. Beebe. WESLEY MASON.

Goodyears.

MARCH 24—Everything gives promise of an early spring. Roads are drying rapidly; if this weather continues plowing will soon begin. Harrison Smith started for Lima, O., Wednesday last to take D. Price's horse and carriage to him. Warren Council is working S. S. Goodyear's sugar bush. Wesley Coon is visiting at his brother's. Miss Lizzie West of Auburn who has been staying here a few days has returned to her work. G. S. Crouch has recently purchased a fine road horse. We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Lovain Goodyear is not slowly. If you are particular about your job printing, try THE TRIBUNE print.

AUBURN, March 25—The coroner has decided the blame for the N. Y. Central wreck at Aurelius recently should be placed on the engineer and conductor. It wont make much difference to the engineer—he's dead. Miss Caroline Webster of Geneva, the lady passenger who tore up her under skirts and bandaged the wounded and worked so heroically, has been granted an annual pass.

Washington, D. C. is to have a new Union railroad station of white marble which will cost upward of $5,000,000 and it is to be located two or three blocks northeast of the present Baltimore & Ohio station. The tracks will be brought through a tunnel under Capital hill and enter the station by a viaduct and elevated tracks thus abolishing all grade crossings.

The Court of Appeals at Albany has affirmed the judgment of conviction of murder in the first degree against John Truck, of Homer, Cortland county, for the murder of Frank Miller in the town of Virgil, that county, on March 14, 1899. Truck is one of the inmates of the cells for the condemned in Auburn prison and has been here about two years. As the central electrocution plant which Superintendent Collins has in mind is still an idea only, Truck will probably pay the penalty of his crime in the prison here on a day of a week set by the Court of Appeals.

Following closely upon the finding of the body of Frank Sherman near Myer's point at the southern end of Cayuga lake the remains of another victim have been surrendered by the waters near the northern extremity. The finding of a body Saturday near Cayuga solved the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Andrew Richter who left his home four months ago. Richter was well-known to lake boatmen and sailors. On the evening of November 7, 1901. Richter entered a boat at Balts' Grove to go home. Next morning the empty boat was found at the New York Central railroad bridge, and later the man's cap was found on the lake shore, south of Cayuga. Saturday afternoon Henry Hardy was pulling out some decoys near the junction, a mile and a half south of Cayuga, when he discovered Richter's body near the shore, where it had evidently been carried by the current or the ice. The body was removed to Cayuga, and Coroner Smith of Fleming held an inquest, deciding that Richter met an accidental death by drowning. Richter was about 57 years old and is survived by a wife, three sons and three daughters.

Grass Seed For Sowing

No matter how good your land may be, no matter how expert a farmer you may be, no matter how much sun and rain may unite to produce a good crop—if the seeds you plant are of inferior quality you're doomed to disappointment. Some parents who set intoxicating liquors upon their table wonder where their children learned to become drunkards.—National Advocate.

A vigorous crusade against liquor joints is in progress at Mount Vernon, Ill. Three local dealers have been fined $200 and costs for selling liquor on Sunday, the maximum fine under the law.

Chief O'Neill, of Chicago, has renewed the order that there must be no smoking on the public streets while officers are in uniform. Those officers violating the order will be suspended and fined by the trial board.

In a recent case where proceedings were instituted to revoke the liquor tax certificate of a New York saloon-keeper for selling on Sunday, the first appellate court handed down a decision that the defendant had utterly failed to show facts constituting his place a hotel, and that the service of a sandwich with a drink is not serving a meal in good faith, but a mere pretext to evade the law.

HOME AND CHILD

Does your horse "feel his oats"? What a difference between the grain-fed and the grass-fed horse! The first strong and full of ginger, the second flabby, weak and tired out before he begins. The feeding makes the difference.

Children are not alike either. One is rosy, bright-eyed, full of life and laughter, another is pale, weak and dull. The feeding again is responsible.

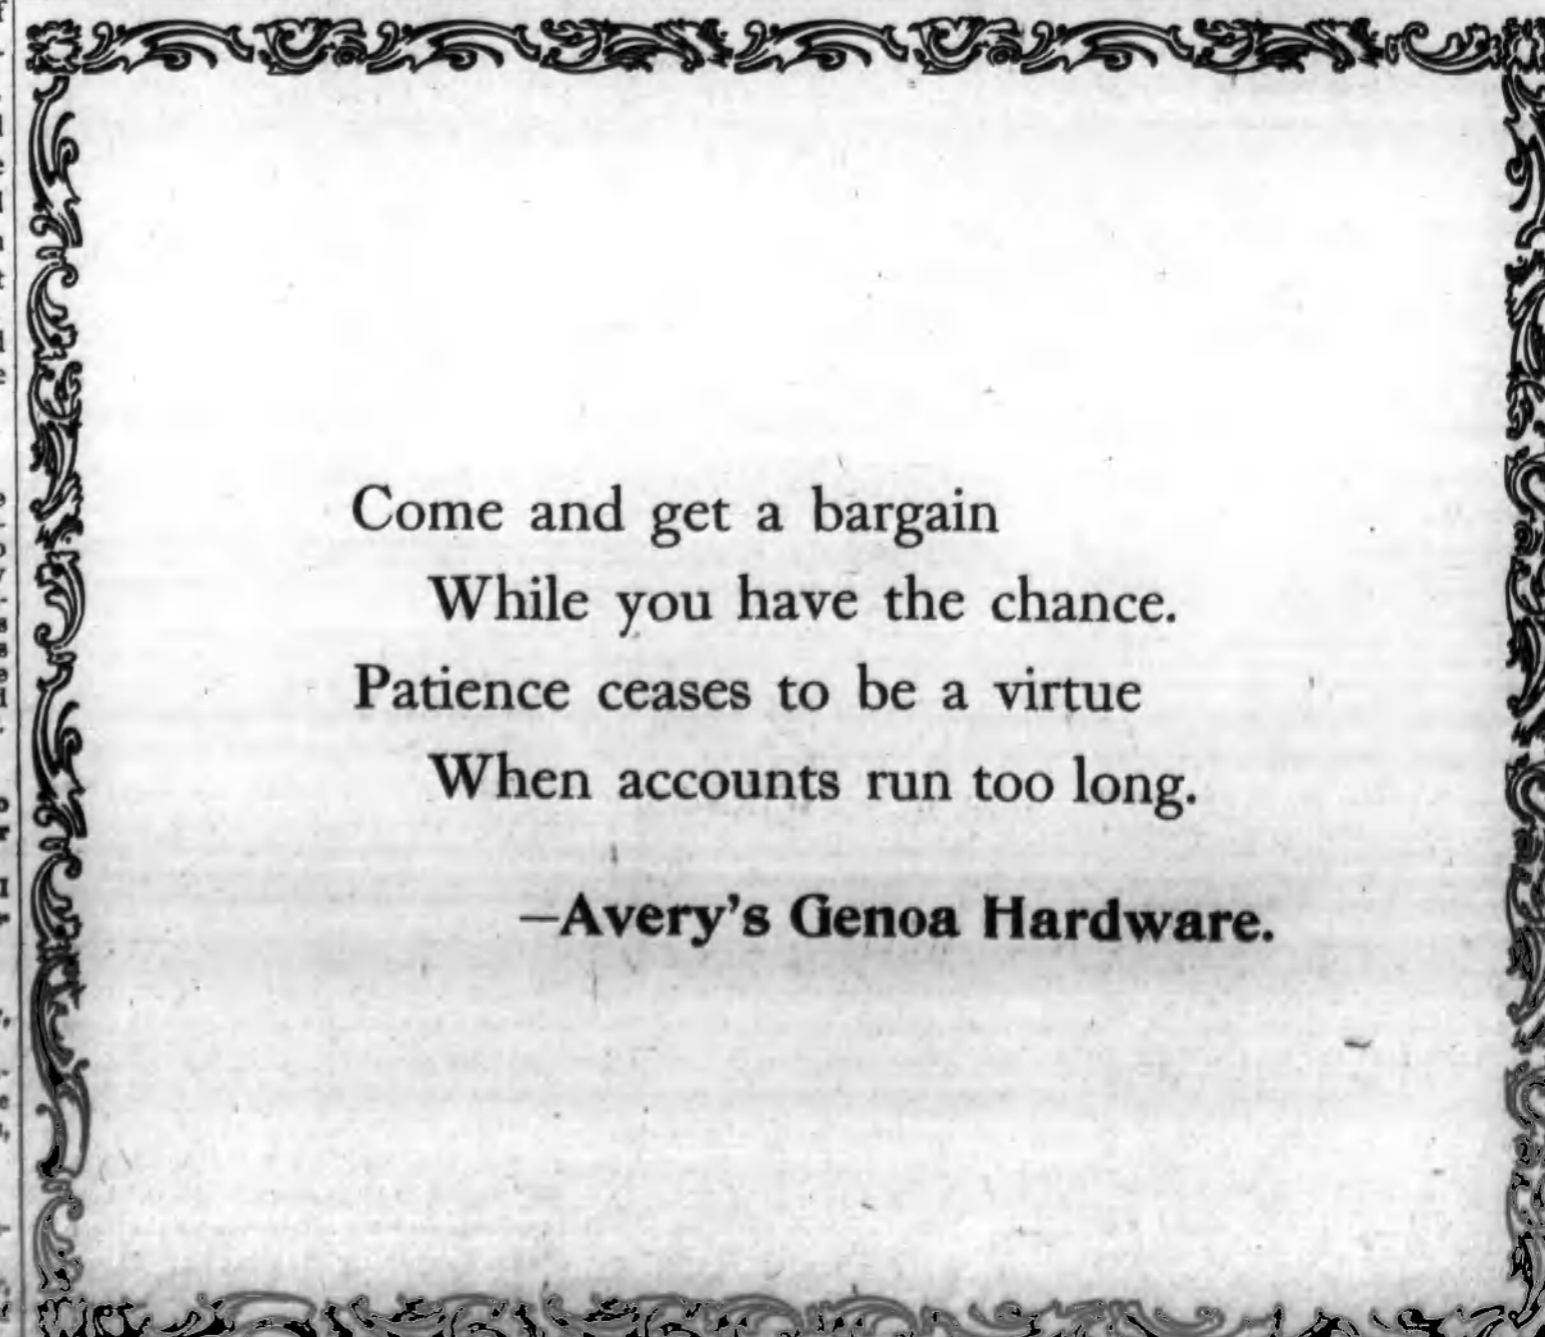

Sickly children need special feeding. They don't "feel their oats". Scott's Emulsion adds just the right richness to their diet. It is like grain to the horse. The child gets new appetite and strong digestion.

Scott's Emulsion is more than food. It is a strong medicine. It rouses up dull children, puts new flesh on thin ones and red blood into pale ones. It makes children grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes ordinary food do its duty.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

TALK WITH PRESIDENT

Conference With Republican Opponents of Reciprocity.

Call Was at the Request of the President — Talk Covered Conditions In Cuba and Means of Harmonizing Conflicting Interests—Unanimity of Action Desired.

Washington, March 25.—A conference was held at the White House between the president and seven of the Republican members of the house who have been foremost in opposing the plan of Cuban reciprocity urged by the ways and means committee, which plan it is understood has the support of the administration.

The members were Representatives Tawney and Morris of Minnesota, Dick of Ohio, W. T. Smith of Michigan, Minor of Wisconsin, Metcalf of California and Dayton of West Virginia. The call was at the request of the president. He desired an exchange of views to the end that harmonious action may be secured in such steps as shall be taken in behalf of Cuba. A report gained circulation that Secretary Root and General Wood were present during the conference, but this was not the case. Only the president and the congressmen were in the cabinet room. The talk covered the conditions in Cuba, what should be done to meet these conditions and the question of harmonizing conflicting interests so that there may be unanimity of action on the part of the Republicans in congress. It was said afterwards by those who participated in the conference that it was of the most agreeable character.

The callers were frank to concede that they found the president desirous of extending effective relief to Cuba by the reciprocity plan.

At the conclusion of the conference the general understanding was reached that any statements made to the public were to the general effect that no conclusions were reached and that the conference was confined to a general interchange of views. It is understood that the president will see some of the members of the ways and means committee today, thus familiarizing himself with both sides of the issue.

AGAINST CUBA COMPANY.

Mr. McLaurin Obtains Big Verdict Against Railway Company.

New York, March 25.—Peter F. McLaurin of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., obtained a verdict of $50,000 against the Cuba company in the supreme court of Westchester county Monday. The corporation has a capital of $8,000,000. The stock is said to be wholly held by William C. Whitney, Oliver Harriman, J. P. Morgan, Levi P. Morton and Sir William Vap Horne of Montreal, Canada. A jury heard the case.

McLaurin's allegation was that, through Sir William Van Horne, the company engaged him to further its business in Cuba, for which he was to receive $8,000 a year and one share of stock and that when he had finished this work the company discharged him, paying him what salary was due him but refusing his demand for the share of stock.

To save the appearance of the various stockholders in the company in court it was admitted by them that the share of stock in dispute was worth $50,000. Beyond this they could not throw light upon the matter. Sir William Van Horne was the only witness for the defense. He admitted the truth of Mr. McLaurin's story except as to the share of stock. He denied any agreement to transfer it to McLaurin.

Recognizes Guden.

New York, March 25.—In the supreme court, Brooklyn, yesterday, Judge Gaynor formally recognized Charles Guden as sheriff of Kings county by discharging Jacob W. Falk and Samuel Holdfarb from the custody of Norman S. Dike and remanding them to the custody of Guden. Both men were arrested, through civil process, by Dike.

To Enlarge Military Academy.

Washington, March 25.—The United States military academy bill was taken up by the house committee on military affairs and Colonel Mills, commandant of the academy, was heard on the regular estimates and also on the plans which contemplated material extension and enlargement of the facilities of the academy.

Theater Burned.

Sydney, N. S. W., March 24.—His Majesty's theater was much damaged by fire Saturday night, the interior being destroyed. The properties and scenery of "Ben Hur," valued at $14,000, were lost. There was practically no insurance on the property destroyed.

Drank Carboic Acid.

Macon, N. Y., March 24.—John McCann, aged 35, who was seriously injured by a New York Central train last winter, drank carboic acid which he had been using in treatment of his wounds, mistaking it for cough medicine. He died soon afterwards.

Wellknown Musician Drowned.

Detroit, March 25.—Word was received here that J. H. Hahn, director of the Detroit conservatory of music and a musician widely known throughout the country, had been drowned at Englewood, his country home at Carey Lake, near Constantine.

PROVISIONAL RESOLUTIONS.

An Appeal Will Be Made to National Civic Federation.

Shamokin, Pa., March 25.—The resolution presented at Sunday's session of the convention of the United Mine Workers' of America by the special committee appointed on Saturday contained a provisional strike declaration and was unanimously adopted.

After its adoption President Mitchell made a statement explanatory of the resolution. It recites the grievances of anthracite mine workers; calls attention to the wage scale unanimously adopted by the convention, the main features of which are: A shorter work day and uniform increase in wages; declares mine workers cannot continue at work during the coming year, under the present low wages and indefinite conditions of employment, and provides for a general suspension of work to take effect upon a date to be designated by the executive boards of districts 1, 7 and 9.

It provides, however, that before resorting to a strike an appeal be made to the executive committee of the industrial department of the National Civic Federation. Should this action fail prior to April 1 and after that date negotiations are still pending, all anthracite mine workers, except those necessary to keep the mines in repair, are to remain away from the mines, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week.

Commenting on the action of the convention President Mitchell said: "I am free to confess a strike is imminent."

Unless the efforts of the Civic Federation are effective with the coal operators it is more than likely that a repetition of the struggle of 1900 will occur in the anthracite region. In that year 140,000 employes of the anthracite mines were on strike for six weeks. Before the completion of the draft of the resolution, President Mitchell telegraphed the presidents of the coal carrying roads making a last appeal for a conference. He received several replies all of which refused to meet the representatives of the union. The other presidents made no response. The purpose of the suspending of work at the mines three days in each week after April 1, if negotiations are then pending, is to prevent storage of coal by the companies by producing an amount sufficient only to supply the existing needs of the market.

WAS AUTHORIZED.

Believed Boer Delegates in Europe Ordered Schalk-Burger to Act.

Amsterdam, March 25.—It is believed in Boer circles here that the move of acting President Schalk-Burger is the result of a communication from the Boer representatives in Europe. A former member of the Transvaal government said:

"After the exchange of the Dutch-English notes, a conference was called for February. This conference was attended by Mr. Kruger, Dr. Leyds and the delegation, and it was decided to send six emissaries to South Africa by different routes with dispatches for Steyn and Schalk-Burger, giving them a detailed account of the situation. One of these agents ought to have arrived about this time. Documents lately received from Schalk-Burger indicated that peace terms had been recently discussed by the leaders in South Africa, but the leaders declared they could not accept anything less than the terms demanded at Middleburg by General Botha, February 28, 1901, and especially the point of complete amnesty for Cape rebels, because the greater part of the commandoes actually in arms are composed of Cape insurgents.

"The fact that the Boers in the field are inclined to compromise their demands for absolute independence," continued the speaker, "seems to be indicated by the plan Schalk-Burger has outlined, for the government of industrial centers. This consists of a British board of administration with proportional Boer representation."

Does Not Mention Interview.

London, March 25.—In a dispatch from Pretoria, Lord Kitchener gives his usual weekly total captures, etc., but does not mention the Schalk-Burger incident.

Brooks Inquest Postponed.

New York, March 25.—Coroner Brown announced that the inquest to determine the cause of the death of Walter Brooks, who was found dying in the Glen Island hotel on Feb. 13 with a bullet wound in his head, had been postponed until April 2. It is not known whether Miss Florence Burns will be called upon to testify at the inquest. District Attorney Jerome said that he would not present the case to the grand jury unless he obtained more evidence.

Mrs. Nation's Pupil.

Topeka, Kan., March 25.—Miss Blanche Boise, a protegee of Mrs. Nation, horsewhipped Mayor Parker in his office at the City building yesterday. Three times she lashed the mayor and then he sprang at her, tore the rawhide out of her hand and pushed her into the hall. Before beginning her horsewhipping Miss Boise gave the mayor a severe scolding and accused him of being responsible for the fact that the joints are running openly in Topeka.

Has Recovered His Voice.

New York, March 24.—David Bishop, who lost his voice while singing at Worcester, Mass., a few days since has fully recovered and resumed his work in opera and concert. He will sail on May 10 to take part in the coronation season of grand opera at Covent Garden, London.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE-FARMER

A NEW OLD PAPER

For sixty years the NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE-FARMER has been a national weekly newspaper, read almost entirely by farmers, and has enjoyed the confidence and support of the American people to a degree never attained by any similar publication.

It is made absolutely for farmers and their families. The first number was issued November 7th, 1831.

Every department of agricultural industry is covered by special contributions who are leaders in their respective lines, and the TRIBUNE-FARMER will be in every sense a high class up-to-date, authoritative agricultural paper, profusely illustrated with the latest and best stock, model farm buildings and homes, agricultural machinery, etc.

Farmers, wives, sons and daughters will find special pages for their entertainment.

Regular price, $1.00 per year, but you can buy it with your favorite weekly newspaper, the Genoa Tribune, one year for $1.25. Send your subscriptions and money to The Tribune, Genoa, N. Y.

Send your name and address to the N. Y. Tribune-Farmer, New York City and a free sample copy will be mailed to you.

Let's Have a Tile Yard.

During the past few days the subject of establishing a manufacturing plant for drain tile has been discussed among our business men and we are pleased to say that indications point to a successful start in the enterprise. Charles J. Foster who is an expert in the making of drain tile and brick announces that he has a fine bed of the best clay for that purpose, and if a reasonable amount of money could be secured there is no reason why a business of generous proportions could not be built up in Genoa. All who have expressed their mind on the subject seem to be ready to give the project material aid, and the only thing lacking now is the formation of the company and the building of the works. It is reported that the Venice Tile Works is out of the business, but even if this is not true there is a large area of country which would naturally be supplied from Genoa and after the business was fully organized and working, the territory could be gradually increased to an unlimited extent. Get together gentlemen; let's have this business going within ten days.

Rural Free Delivery.

The subject of rural free mail delivery is being well agitated throughout the country and routes are being established from many postoffices in this vicinity. The free delivery system is destined to become general in time but it seems to us that there are places and occasions when it is valueless if not detrimental to business interests. For instance the people residing along the stage routes leading from Genoa have free delivery now and it is more satisfactory than it could be by carriers as they ordinarily cover their routes. Now any who desire may receive a morning paper when it would not be possible under the other system. In our judgment the people residing on or near these stage routes now receive more satisfactory service than could be secured in any other way. However, if the farmers residing north and west of this village desire free delivery they should lose no time in conferring with the postmaster at Genoa on that matter.

Pleasant Home Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Olive Moe and Mr. Robert Bush took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. F. Gillespie, on Wednesday evening, March 26. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Brass of King Ferry and was witnessed by about forty of the immediate relatives and friends. The bride and groom had no attendants. The bride was attired in a handsome cloth gown with white applique and silk trimmings. After congratulations a fine wedding supper was served, and the young couple soon left for a short wedding trip. Both the bride and groom have many friends in this place and vicinity who unite in wishing them a happy and prosperous future. Mr. and Mrs. Bush will soon occupy the rooms in the east part of Mrs. M. Nichols' house where they will be at home to their friends.

Society Notes.

The Resourceful Editor.

Scene—Editor's sanctum. Printer (rushing in excitedly)—Here's a gol Johnson, the murderer, has just been found innocent, and the government has telegraphed a pardon! We've got the whole account of the hanging set up, with illustrations, and the form is in the press.

Editor (Coolly)—Don't get excited man. Put over the account, in large capitals: "Johnson Pardoned—Full Account of What He Escaped!"—Tit-Bits.

After the Consultation.

In describing his early struggles to establish a practice, the doctor had just said:

"I used to sit in my office day after day waiting for patients. In fact, I used to sit like 'Patience on a Monument.'"

"And now," remarked his associate. "I suppose you are accustomed to have monuments sit on your patients."—N. Y. Times.

The Healing Touch of Time.

Mrs. Dash—The idea of Mrs. Rash having society aspirations; why, her father was a huckster.

Mr. Dash—Yes; she's entirely too forward. She ought to hang back until people have forgotten it. Now, in our case, my dear, it was your grandfather who was a huckster.—Detroit Free Press.

One Method.

"I don't see what you all has to git so proud about," said Miss Sadie Cottonball.

"Cohse you doesn'," answered Miss Miami Brown. "I've been studyin' de white folks. What you wants to do is jes' put on de airs yohse' an' let de yuthah folks do de guessin' 'bout whut de reason is."—Washington Star.

The Drawback to Originality.

"Why do you keep repeating quotations?" asked the irritable man. "Why don't you say something original?"

"My dear sir, there's no use of that. Every time I thing of anything god enough to be original I find that somebody said it years ago."—Washington Star.

The Honest Borrower.

Boy—Say, Mr. Smith, here's that snow shovel pa borrowed of you last winter.

Mr. Smith (sarcastically)—What made him send it back so soon?
Boy—He noticed that you'd got a new one, and he wants to borrow that. This one's most worn out.—N. Y. Herald.

"I have noticed," said the Original Philosopher, "that the person who tells his trouble most is the one who has had the least of it. The person who has sounded the depths of distress knows how inexpressible it all is."—Los Angeles Herald.

—Send the TRIBUNE to absent friends. It gives the news more abundantly and fresher than in any other way.

—B. B. Riley and John Riley were at Cortland on Tuesday, in attendance at the funeral of the former's sister.

—It is reported that the New York Central will double track the Auburn road. And here's hoping they will single-track the Genoa road.

—Once more, what is to be the future of the old church? If anything is to be done about it now is the best time in the world to get at it.

—The creamery is starting in with a large amount of milk. Upwards of 3000 pounds are now received, and Mr. Baker thinks that amount may be doubled as the season advances.

—If some one would arrange to go about and spray apple orchards, this spring, no doubt they would find considerable business. Who will undertake this work?

—A strict rule of the postoffice department is that the names of the following states and territories shall never be abbreviated in directing a letter! Alaska, Hawaii, Idaho, Ohio, Oregon, Samoa and Utah. The rule is obvious as Ala., might be taken for Alabama; Id. for Indiana; O. for either Ohio, Oregon or Oklahoma; Io. for Idaho, etc.

—Charles Stanton of East Venice was in town on business Tuesday.

—J. B. Liberman of Moravia was in Genoa on business Wednesday and Thursday.

—Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of.—Franklin.

—The Empire State adv. is on this page this week. Did you notice the Rothschild adv. on the 8th page?

—Every farmer should use envelopes with his name and address printed in the corner. You can get them at this office.

—H. P. Mastin has completed a new drain to his store cellar, which, while requiring a large amount of labor, will be a great improvement to the property.

—M. Kalvrisky has returned from the city, after purchasing a nice line of spring and summer clothing. He also has a fine line of samples for suits made to order.

—Commissioner Mead has been doing considerable work on the highways of the town the past week. The roads are drying up very fast now and should be scraped.

—“Cum, gentle Spring: ethereal mildness, cum! Cum quick and suddint; you'll find us right to hum. Our clo's air gittin' shiny, our hat has got a hole. Besides, we say it sadly, we're almost out of coal.”

—Gilbert Dean who has taken the Doty farm at East Venice, was in town on business Wednesday. He added his name to the long list of TRIBUNES which is scattered around that prosperous neighborhood.

—During the past two months THE TRIBUNE has failed to reach many of our subscribers on the schedule time, particularly at Five Corners, Atwaters, King Ferry, Lansingville and the stations along the Ithaca-Auburn branch of the Lehigh. This has been partially due to the floods and snow blockades of the railroads, and otherwise to the large amount of extra work which came with the preparations to move our business. However, from now on THE TRIBUNE will be printed and mailed on time and we hope any subscriber failing to receive his paper in proper time will promptly report the fact to this office.

—A new invention that is being discussed favorably in our town is an automatic stove damper and room ventilator invented by Harlow Taber of Auburn. Mr. Taber is a former resident of Scipio and is testing his damper here upon some of the most difficult stoves to regulate that he can find. The damper consists of a circular valve inside the pipe supported by a curved iron rod counterpoised by a weight at its lower extremity and fitted with a sliding weight to regulate the damper and working freely upon bearings attached to the outside of the pipe. The valve shuts against a circular opening in the side of the pipe and regulates the draft by opening automatically and checking the draft by letting in a current of air from the room when less draft is required and vice versa when more draft is required to keep the stove burning evenly. The pipe will never become hot above the damper. Mr. Taber expects to place his invention on the market.—Scipio correspondent.

Chemist Hamilton Is Strictly It.

The family medicines prepared and sold by him has caused one of the most remarkable stampedes in the drug business known for many years. People from every section of the country now insist upon having his remedies and nothing else, and he persistently refuses other stores to handle them.

Every Saturday night people stand in line waiting their turn at his store to buy his medicines. They are affecting cures where all other medicines have failed.

Hamilton's Autumn Flower is the queen of female tonics; women say so, and they know that it is the best medicine for period pains, backache, bearing down, bloating, nervous dyspepsia, constipation, loss of appetite and strength, weakness, fainting spells, hot flushes, pain low down on sides, inflammation and ovarian pains, and every ailment peculiar to women.

More and more from every direction comes this advice, "You go to Chemist Hamilton; his medicine cured me, it will you." It is significant.

THE ADAMS DIRECT DRAFT BARN FLOOR HORSE POWER

Which the above cut represents, is just the power every farmer needs who has feed to cut or grind, wood to saw, corn to shell, grain to clean or any work where 1 or 2 horse power is desirable. It is simple, durable and low priced. The 2-horse power can be set up and used on a barn floor 12 feet wide and the 4-horse power on a floor 14 feet wide, and a boy can set it up and get it ready to work as quickly as he can harness a horse and hitch it to a buggy, and can as quickly take it down and set it one side out of the way. It requires no mechanical skill to run it and farmers need not fear their boys or hired men will injure a horse running this power. One horse is all that would ordinarily be required. This power will sell on its merits.

DESCRIPTION. This power consists of a wooden wheel hinged thro' the middle, suspended horizontally upon an upright shaft about 3 ft. 8 in. from the floor by means of jointed guys. The wheel is made very light as the belt acts as a tire upon it, and the draft is applied upon the rim, the horse working inside the wheel. The shaft turns with the wheel, its upper end running through a plank in the scaffold and a pin in the lower end working in a box on the floor. As the shaft only makes one revolution while the horse travels 30 feet, there can be but little friction and but little effort to do on any part of the power. This power is made for 1, 2, 3 and 4 horses as desired, and requires but 12 to 14 feet of room. For sale by

CHAPTER XVIII.

ON THE BOSOM OF THE DEEP.
The ark was rudderless, oarless and machineless, and could travel only where the high gods chose. The inside was dark, and full of an ancient smell, and crowded with groanings and noise. I could not find the fire-box to relight the fallen lamp, and so we had to endure blindly what was dealt out to us. The waves tossed us in merciless sport, and I clung on by the side of Nais, holding her to the bed. We did not speak much, but there was full companionship in our bereavement and our silence.

When Atlantis sank to form new ocean-bed, she left great whirlpools and spoutings from her drowned fires as a fleeting legacy to the gods of the sea. And then, I think (though in the black belly of the ark we could not see these things), a vast hurricane of wind must have come on next so as to leave no piece of the desolation incomplete. For seven nights and seven days did this dreadful turmoil continue, as counted for us afterwards by the reckoner of hours which hung within the ark, and then the howling of the wind departed, and only the roll of a long still swell remained. It was regular and it was oily, as I could tell by the difference of the motion, and then for the first time I dared to go up the stair and open and found the gate they bit against was deserted.

The sweet salt air came gushing down to freshen the foulness within, and as the ark rode dryly over the seas, I went below and brought up Nais to gain refreshment from the curing rays of our Lord the Sun. Duly the pair of us adored him, and gave thanks for his great mercy in coming to light another day, and then we laid ourselves down where we were to doze, and take that easy rest which we so urgently needed.

Yet, though I was tired beyond words, for long enough sleep would not visit me. Warily I stared out over the oily sun-lit waters. No blur of land met the eye. The ring of ocean was unbroken on every side, and overhead the vault of heaven remained unchanged. The bosom of the deep was littered with the poor wreckage of Atlantis, to remind one, if there had been a need, that what had come about was fact, and not some horrid dream. Trees, squared timber, a smashed and upturned boat of hides, and here and there the rounded corpse of a man or beast shouldered over the swells, and kept convoy with our ark as she drifted on in charge of the gods and the current.

But sleep came to me at last, and I dropped off into unconsciousness, holding the hand of Nais in mine, and when next I woke I found her open-eyed also and watching me tenderly. We were finely rested, both of us, and rest and strength bring one complacency. We were more ready now to accept the station which the high gods had made for us without repining, and so we went below again into the belly of the ark to eat and drink and maintain strength for the new life which lay before us.

A wonderful vessel was this ark, now we were able to see it at leisure and intimately. Although for the first time now in all its centuries of life it swam upon the waters, it showed no leak or sun-crack. Inside, even its floor was bone-dry. That it was built from some wood, one could see by the grainings, but nowhere could one find a suture or joint. The living timbers had been put in place and then grown together by an art which we have lost to-day, but which the ancients knew with much perfection; and afterwards some treatment, which is also a secret of those forgotten builders, had made the wood as hard as metal and impervious to all attacks of the weather.

In the gloomy cave of its belly were stored many matters. At one end, in great tanks on either side of a central alley, was a prodigious store of grain. Sweet water was in other tanks at the other end. In another place were drugs, and simples, and essences of the life of beasts; all these things being for use while the ark roamed under the guidance of the gods on the bosom of the deep. On all the walls of the ark, and on all the partitions of the tanks and the other wood-work, there were carved in the rude art of bygone times representations of all the beasts which lived in Atlantis; and on these I looked with a hunter's interest, as some of them were strange to me, and had died out with the men who had perpetrated them in these sculptures. There was a good store of weapons, and the tools for handicrafts.

Now for many weeks our life endured in this ark as the gods drove it about here and there across the face of the waters. We had no government over direction; we could not by so much as a hair's-breadth of day increase her speed. The high gods that had chosen the two of us to be the only ones saved out of all Atlantis, had sole control of our fate, and into their hands we cheerfully resigned our future direction.

Of that land which we reached in due time, and where we made our abiding-place, and where our children were born, I shall tell of in its place; but since this chronicle has proceeded so far in an exact order of the events as they came to pass, it is necessary first to narrate how we came by the sheets on which it is written.

In a great coffer, in the center of the ark's floor, the whole of the mysteries learned during the study of ages were set down in accurate writing. I read through some of them during the days which passed, and the awfulness of the powers over which they gave control appalled me. I had seen some of these powers let loose in Atlantis, and was a witness of her destruction. But here were powers far higher than those; here was the great secret of life and death which Phoenice also had found, and for which she had been destroyed; and there were other things also of which I cannot even bring my style to scribe.

The thought of being custodian of these writings was more than I could endure, and the more the matter rested in my mind, the more intolerable became the burden. And at last I took hot irons, and with them seared the wax on the sheets till every letter of the old writings was obliterated. If I did wrong, the high gods in their infinite justice will give me punishment; if it is well that these great secrets should endure on earth, they in their infinite power will dictate them afresh to some fitting scribes; but I destroyed them there as the ark swayed with us over the waves; and later, when we came to land, I rewrote upon the sheets the matters which led to great Atlantis being dragged to her death-throes.

Nais, that I love so tenderly—
[Translator's Note.—The remaining sheets are too broken to be legible.]

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. S. Banker.

PRINCE REACHES HOME

Steamer Deutschland Arrives At Cuxhaven.

Two Important Bills — Encouraging Trade Reports—Judge Gaynor Decides For Guden — General Miles. Florence Burns Free—Good Roads. Aurelius Wreck—Honey Statistics.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Deutschland arrived at Cuxhaven at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening from Cherbourg, France, having on board Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia and his suite.

The return of Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia to German soil was safely accomplished amid all the pomp and circumstance with which the prince's imperial brother has seen fit to mark the successful ending of Prince Henry's American mission.

The Hamburg-American line steamer Deutschland, from Cherbourg, having on board the prince and his suite, was first sighted at 5:30 in the afternoon. The German battleship Kaiser Wilhelm II steamed down the roadstead to meet the Deutschland and returned escorting the big liner. The Deutschland tied up to the new stone quay and was the first ship to dock there.

Emperor William stood upon the quay surrounded by high naval and municipal officials. As representative of the American embassy at Berlin Commander William H. Beehler, the naval attache to the embassy, stood at the emperor's side.

The quay was decorated with the flags of all the states of the empire and thousands of spectators who covered the roofs of the great warehouses and the wide slopes overlooking the scene cheered wildly as Prince Henry walked down the gangway from the steamer. Emperor William kissed his brother upon both cheeks and shook hands with the members of his suite, saying a few cheerful sentences to each. In the meantime the guns of the squadron saluted.

Side by side his majesty and Prince Henry then passed down in front of the marine guard which stood at salute. After this the marine guard passed in review while the band of the imperial yacht Hohenzollern played the national anthem.

After the inspection of the guard of honor and the veterans by Emperor William, his majesty and his party, Prince Henry and his staff and Commander Beehler boarded a tender and amid fresh salutes, music and cheering proceeded to the battleship Kaiser Wilhelm II. Upon arriving there the crew of that vessel manned their ship to receive the royal personages.

The Kaiser Wilhelm II weighed anchor at a quarter past 7 and started toward Kiel through the canal.

Judge Gaynor Decides For Guden.

Supreme Court Justice Gaynor of Brooklyn handed down his decision in the King's shrievalty controversy late Saturday afternoon. He finds that the removal of Charles Guden from the office of sheriff is unconstitutional and void. He grants Guden's application that Colonel Dike be required to show cause why he should not turn over to Guden the books, papers and records of the sheriff's office.

Justice Gaynor holds that Governor Odell exceeded his constitutional rights in removing Guden from an act alleged to have been committed before Guden was elected to office, and that the ground the governor takes in the case is opposed to the nation's theory of government and a menace alike to the rights of officials and of voters.

The court also declares that the certificate signed by the governor, setting forth that Guden had been charged with malfeasance and misfeasance in office, was false. Colonel Dike is sharply rebuked in the decision for his "lawlessness" and "violence" in taking possession of the disputed office while the case was before the court, but Justice Gaynor adds that it is only "fair to say of Mr. Dike, who has a fine character in this community, that it was stated that he acted, and he presumably did act, under what he deemed controlling advice or authority."

Governor Odell intimated at Albany that the case would doubtless be carried to the court of appeals. He wouldn't say anything more.

Two Important Bills.

Two important measures were passed by the senate during the past week—the bill for the repeal of the war revenue taxes and that for the protection of the president of the United States. The revenue bill was passed without division and after only one short speech. Mr. Tillman protested against the repeal of the duty of 10 cents a pound upon tea.

The bill provides that any person within the United States who shall wilfully kill the president or any officer on whom the duties of president may devolve, or say coverage of a foreign country, or shall attempt to kill any of the persons named, shall suffer death; that any person who shall aid, abet, advise or counsel the killing of any of the persons named, or shall conspire to accomplish their death, shall be imprisoned not exceeding 20 years; that any person who shall threaten to kill or advise or counsel another to kill the president or any official on whom the duties of president may devolve, shall be imprisoned not exceeding 10 years; that any person who shall wilfully aid in the escape of any person guilty of any of the offences mentioned shall be deemed an accomplice and shall be punished as a principal.

Encouraging Trade Reports.

Price changes for the week are few of them important. Stocks remain steady, while exceptional activity and strength are noted in bonds. Wheat, after failing to respond to cold weather crop damage talk, weakened on reports and predictions of further rains in the winter wheat belt, but at the decline struck large export orders which turned the market upward. Liquidation has been the feature in this cereal and in corn and oats, which latter are lower on the week.

Cotton prices appear to have struck a dead center, receipts having been smaller, while exports, though lessened, are still liberal, but speculatively the situation appears to have been overbought. Print cloths are higher on the week. Wool is firmer, largely owing to the small supplies available and the feeling that higher prices will be obtained for the new clip.

Business failures for the week number 197, as against 224 last week, 231 in this week last year, 192 in 1900, 182 in 1899 and 215 in 1898.

Angel of the Wreck.

Coroner Laird has announced his verdict in the Aurelius wreck on the New York Central, near Auburn, N. Y., in which six lives were sacrificed. He finds that the accident was due to the recklessness and carelessness of Engineer Durand and Conductor Butler of the wrecking crew, which was running without orders and had no right of way.

The train should never have left Cayuga until the passenger train had passed. He recommends that the New York Central double track the Auburn branch. District Attorney Dayton intimated that Conductor Butler would be arrested and held for manslaughter.

Miss Caroline Webster of Geneva, the angel of the wreck who tore up her skirt to make bandages for the wounded, has been rewarded with an annual pass on the New York Central.

Testimony of General Miles.

The printed testimony of General Miles before the military affairs committee has not yet been made public and it will be submitted to him for approval. It is well understood that a great deal of what the general said will not appear in the record. Members of the committee say the report published was correct in substance in every particular. At the same time these senators do not agree that General Miles can be punished for his utterances before the committee, whether they appear in the record or not. Of course the committee could take no action to prevent the retirement of General Miles. That under the law, is purely an executive act and needs no confirmation or approval by the senate.

Production of Honey.

The census bureau has issued a report showing that for the country as a whole on June 1, 1900, there were 707,261 farms keeping bees. These farms reported 4,109,626 swarms, valued at $10,186,513.

During the year 1899 there were produced 61,196,160 pounds of honey and 1,765,315 pounds of wax of an aggregate value of $6,664,904.

Of the states reporting honey, Texas is first and California second, New York third, reporting 3,422,497 pounds. The counties showing the heaviest production are Fresno, San Diego and Tulare in California, and Tompkins, Cayuga and Seneca in New York.

Steamship Burned at Pier.

The pier of the Phoenix steamship line in Hoboken, N. J., was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. Steamship British Queen was totally destroyed, several lighters were burned, the fire threatened the Campbell stores, and for a time it looked as if the flames would reach the Holland-America line docks. The Maasdam of the latter line was towed safely into the stream.

The loss is estimated to be: Piers, $300,000; British Queen $400,000; cotton and lighters, $200,000. Seven lighters are more or less damaged.

Lake Erie Open.

The steamer City of Detroit arrived at Cleveland, O., at 4:30 p. m., Tuesday, having made the run from Detroit in a little less than seven hours. Her officers reported having encountered bitterly cold weather and snow squalls, but very little ice was seen. Owing to an accident to the receiving apparatus, the wireless telegraph did not work satisfactorily although a message is said to have been received from Detroit shortly before the vessel entered the Cleveland harbor.

Business Place Collapsed.

A three-story brick building on Fall street at Seneca Falls, N. Y., owned by Isaac Denby of Elmira, collapsed Sunday night, about midnight and was completely wrecked. The building was occupied by L. E. Nelson with a stock of crockery and by the Hotel Manlin. Anna Wilson, who was in the building at the time, was badly injured. The loss on the building and contents were $25,000.

$20,000,000 For Roads.
A delegation representing the executive committee of the supervisors' highway convention of the state of New York appeared before the senate judiciary committee Thursday afternoon and urged that the concurrent resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution authorizing an appropriation of $20,000,000 for the construction of good roads under the Higbie-Armstrong bill, be reported.

Florence Burns Free.
Florence Burns, who for five weeks has been under arrest, accused of the murder of her lover, Walter T. Brooks, in the Glen Island hotel, on the night of Feb. 14, was discharged from custody by Justice Mayer of special sessions in New York. The justice decided that the prosecution had not made out a case against the girl.

SUMMING UP FOR PATRICK.
Mr. Moore Asked Jury to Believe Dr. Curry and Others Rather Than Jones.
New York, March 25.—Mr. Moore called the jury's attention to that part of the testimony of Dr. Curry wherein it disagreed with that of Jones. He asked the jurymen if they preferred the word of Jones to that of a man who had practiced medicine in New York city for 45 years.

Counsel then took up the testimony of the medical experts called by the prosecution, saying:

"The doctors to whom the chemical history of the case was given have given to you their opinion as to the cause of death. Eight of them have given different opinions. None of them attributed the condition shown by the autopsy to chloroform poisoning. Will you say that you believe Jones, that you disbelieve these eminent medical men and that you have no doubt as to what caused the death of Mr. Rice?"

LOUBET'S VISIT TO RUSSIA.

French Chambers Provide 500,000 Francs to Defray Expense of Visit.
Paris, March 25.—The chamber of deputies, and afterwards the senate, adopted a bill providing a credit of 500,000 francs to defray the expense of President Loubet's visit to Russia.

The foreign minister M. Delcasse introduced the bill in the chamber and amid repeated and hearty applause read the preamble, in which appears the following extract from the letter of invitation sent by Czar Nicholas to M. Loubet:

Under the sweet and deep impression of our never to be forgotten stay in France last year, the empress and I like to hope that the highly esteemed president of the republic will shortly procure us the real pleasure of seeing him again, by coming to stay a few days with us. It will be pleasant to you, I think, to receive in person on this occasion the unanimous testimony of the warm and sincere sentiments uniting Russia to friendly and allied France."

Fast Time on the Pennsylvania.
New York, March 25.—A train over the Pennsylvania railroad Monday afternoon made the fastest run ever accomplished between Philadelphia and this city. With President A. J. Cassatt on board the train left the Broad street station in Philadelphia at 12:19 o'clock. It arrived in Jersey City 77 minutes later. This beats by three minutes the record made by Mr. Cassatt's special train Sunday over the same route.

Charleston Wants the Fight.
Savannah, Ga., March 24.—Al McMurray, matchmaker for the Southern Athletic club of Charleston, will leave for New York to make a bid and post a forfeit for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest to be pulled off in Charleston. In this instance McMurray acts as the direct representative of the exposition corporation. It is proposed that the contest shall be held in the exposition grounds which are beyond the corporate limits of Charleston.

Grip Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called La Grippe," says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grip." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by J. S. Baker.

"Opportunities" is the name of a little book published by the emigration department of the Northern Pacific, which gives a list of openings in the different professions and lines of business in the various towns traversed by this road. Each town which needs any industry not at present located there is fully described therein. Persons who are anxious to engage in any particular line of business can readily see, not only where there is an opening for them, but just how promising that opening is. Along a system as large as the Northern Pacific there are bound to be a great many points where stores of various kinds, mills, brick yards, banks, creameries, factories, etc., are needed. Any one with a little money to invest who wishes to embark in any of these lines will do well to write for a copy of this book to Mr. O. W. Mott, General Emigration Agent, Northern Pacific R'y, St. Paul, Minn. For rates and other information address W. G. Mason, D. P. A., N. P. R., Buffalo, N. Y., or Chas. S. Fee, G. P. & T. A., N. P.
