FROM THE FROZEN NORTH

Extracts from a Letter Written by Willard Wilcox, Now in the Klondyke.

RED MT., Alaska, Jan. 29, 1899.

I expect you will be getting some anxious to know how and where I am and what I am doing. I am feeling first-class and have a snap as far as work goes. I have so much to say that I hardly know how or when to begin. First, to-day the mail man came along with mail for several of the boys, but I did not get any, so I am going to make the best of it and send you a letter. It costs $1 to send or receive a letter. One poor fellow got 74 and it came very near breaking him. When I wrote you I thought that the bars here were in such shape that it would be possible for you to buy them of the government. Since I have studied the laws and talked with the old miners I know that it would be impossible to do so. There are five claims in this district that will pay from 3 1-3 to 8 1-2 cents to the pan. They will pay well to sluice, but they are all staked. Jude and I have one on which we have the privilege to run a rocker next summer. There is a district 15 miles up the river which prospects very well, but owing to warm springs they haven't been able to dig much yet. Jude has several claims there and the company in which I am has several. I worked on two holes up to Thanksgiving and then an accident happened which changed my work quite a little. Our men had been up to the district above and one of them was accidentally shot with a shotgun. Both barrels went off. One charge took off two of his fingers and the other cut his stomach muscles just above the hip bone, making an incision about 6 inches long and 2 inches wide. On the same trip one fellow froze his foot and lost two toes. I claimed that I knew quite a little about doctoring, so I was put in charge of the hospital and have brought them through in good shape. I took off the two fingers and dressed the wound and have taken off the two toes and had the care of them all the time. About four weeks ago the woman cook was taken sick and since then I have been cooking and baking for the crowd. I bake once a week and if it is good weather, the fellows come in Sunday to get bread and if the weather is bad I have to take bread out to the different claims where the fellows are working. We sent four men up the river and they have been up 300 miles, but the prospects in the upper country are not as good as they are here. Some people up above here have gone into a kind of a combination and secured all the ground they can get hold of and sent two men to the States to sell claims and boom the country. So if you hear any good reports don't think I have made a fortune. I think Jude and I can make $5 or $6 a day for three months next summer. We can get claims in all the country around here that is worth anything, so if there is anything struck we will be in it, and as we have a lay on one of the five that are worth anything, we have the best end of it. There are 500 or 600 people up this river and most of them are sick of the deal. There is no chance of making anything in the river except here and nothing much here. Jude and I will work here in the summer and I don't know what I will do then. There is some good talk about the Tanana river and I may go there next winter. We have a good cabin, good food and are both in good health. I have been out with the dog team several times and made 30 miles a day, running every step of the way. It seems as if you could stand most anything here. It has been 74 deg. below zero and all the thermometers froze up at that; some said it was 80, but I don't know myself. Your breath would crack like ice and when it came out of your mouth it sounded like steam from a safety-valve. I was not out much in that, but took a 15-mile trip in 60 weather. I didn't feel it as much as I have 20 at home. There are fourteen cases of scurvy on the river and some of them will die. An English party 20 miles below us have lost three men of spinal meningitis. There is a Chicago party here and there is one young fellow in the crowd who I like first rate. Christmas Jude prepared a dinner that was second, to none. We invited the Chicago fellow and an old California miner to dinner and we had a splendid time, considering our position. We didn't see the sun here for nearly a month, but it is beginning to shine a little now. The moonlight is the brightest I ever saw. One can read by it. The northern lights are not what I expected, but they are very fine, sometimes making it as light as moonlight. We have but little snow and the ice is 5 1-2 feet thick. The weather changes very rapidly, sometimes 20 deg. in seven or eight hours, and at such times the ice on the river cracks and can be heard for several miles. Our cabin is not as large as some, but as far as looks and comfort go it is the best one on the river. We have eight stools made of half a cut from a tree about 14 inches thro' with legs in the bark side; we have a floor made of poles about 6 inches through ripped in half and laid flat side up, two good tables made of box lumber and two good bunks, besides a lot of little conveniences. Our cabin stands on a nice little shelf on the hillside about 75 feet above high water mark. We have been able to carry our drinking water in a potato crate for three months. The thing that we dread most is doing our washing and that is a great job for us. Following are prices we have to pay for provision: Bacon, 50 cts. per pound; flour, $16 per hundred; rice, 25 cts. per pound; dried fruit, 35 to 45 cts. per pound; beans, 30 cts. per pound; baking powder, $2 per pound; quart can of pickles, $4; candles, $1 per doz.; pint can of corn or tomatoes, $1.50; pound can of corned beef, $2. I would like to give you a description of the different characters here, but it would take too much time and paper. After the river opens I expect we will get mail all right by boats.

Not caring about going to church, ministers will not be required only when they die or want to get married. Our town board trades with peddlers and allows men to travel the road, so that women are afraid of their lives when they come into their house. Whereby if peddlers were made to take out license, the amount acquired would pay the poor bills of our town, but the taxpayers must pay them. We want our goods bro't to us and we do not wish to be troubled by having to go to the store. When we go away from home we want our $4 per day. Is not this about as it is? If villages go down, churches go with them; if churches go down the community sinks to a low, degraded set. But everything has its day, so take your comfort. We will try to live.

FILIPINO TOWNS TAKEN.

San Tomas and San Fernando Captured by MacArthur's Troops.

AGUINALDO'S GENERAL WOUNDED

San Tomas Taken After a Fierce Resistance—Hale's and Wheaton's Brigades Engaged—General Funston Wounded—Many Supplies Captured—Filipino Fire Towns as They Retreat.

MANILA (By Cable).—Major-General MacArthur has carried San Tomas, after encountering a strong resistance.

Brigadier-General Hale moved on the enemy's right, and Brigadier-General Wheaton attacked the left in a daring charge, in which Brigadier-General Funston again distinguished himself. The Kansan was wounded in the hand, and several other officers and enlisted men were also wounded.

Colonel Summers, with a part of the Oregon and Minnesota regiments and a gun of the Utah Battery, took Massan, on the right, resting four miles from San Fernando.

GENERAL ANTONIO LUNA.

General MacArthur then advanced and occupied San Fernando, without loss. The small garrison left in the town burned the place and made their escape on trains.

General Lawton has established his headquarters at Baldung. He has sent Colonel Summers with two battalions each of the Oregon and Minnesota regiments, beyond Massan to capture the large stores which the enemy had near San Idefonso.

General Antonio Luna, commanding the Filipinos who have been opposing General MacArthur's advance, was wounded in the fighting which occurred in the vicinity of Santo Tomas.

General Wheaton's loss during the gallant charge on the enemy was one Montana volunteer killed and two wounded. Besides the wound received by Brigadier-General Funston, a lieutenant of the Kansas volunteers was killed and a captain and six men wounded.

The Filipinos left the town of Santo Tomas a complete ruin, nearly every house in the place having been destroyed by fire.

THE ARMY BEEF REPORT.

Some of General Miles's Allegations Found to Be True.

PRESIDENT APPROVES FINDINGS.

Canned Beef Undesirable For Use on Transports—Charge of Use of Chemicals Not Sustained—General Miles Censured—Sharp Criticism of Eagan—Recommendation of No Further Action.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The report of the Army Beef Court of Inquiry, appointed to investigate General Miles's charges regarding the food supply of the army in the war with Spain, is approved by the President in the following indorsement:

"The findings of the Court of Inquiry are approved. WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

The court finds that General Miles's allegations that the refrigerated beef was emalmed, or was unfit for issue to troops, were not sustained, and that he had not sufficient justification for these charges. With regard to the canned roast beef the court sustains so much of the allegations of the Major-General commanding as relate to its unsuitability for food, as actually used on the transports, and as to its extensive or long-continued use as a field ration. None of the other charges as to canned beef are sustained.

The court finds that certain individuals failed to perform their full duty, but the opinion is expressed that the mere statement in the official report of the facts developed meets the end of discipline and that the interests of the service will be best subserved if further proceedings be not taken. The court spares neither the Major-General commanding nor the Commissary-General in the criticism. It holds that both officials committed error. It finds that General Miles committed an error in that, having belief or knowledge, as claimed, that the food was unfit, that it caused sickness and distress, that some of it was supplied under the pretense of experiment, that other beef was emalmed, he did not immediately report such knowledge or belief to the Secretary of War, to the end that a proper remedy might be promptly applied.

Attention is called by the court to the fact that but little testimony was submitted by General Miles in support of his contention that the refrigerated beef had been treated with preservatives. It remarks that his failure to draw special attention to the report of Major Daly until his testimony before the War Investigating Commission is not explained, although one of not two of his staff officers knew of the beef which Major Daly said was positively "hurtful to health." The report refers to General Miles's suspicion regarding the refrigerated beef while at Ponce, and declares that it was his bounden duty instantly to take the most effective measure within control to ascertain the actual fact and to correct the wrong, if any should be found.

As to the character of the refrigerated beef the report says that its use on shore after the troops had secured convenient harbors and landing facilities was wise and desirable. It was the meat of commerce, and was received by the troops at first with great satisfaction. The arrangements for issuing it and transporting it to the camps were neither adequate nor efficient. As a consequence a considerable portion of the beef became tainted before it reached the regimental camps, and was either rejected altogether or trimmed down before being cooked. "It does not appear," says the report, "that the troops were insuflciently fed as a consequence of such rejections. The court holds that the refrigerated beef is a suitable ration for troops when it can be issued to them in good condition. It would not have been prudent to have made the expeditions to Santiago and Porto Rico without the refrigerated beef and until the availability of native beef had been established. There was no better food than refrigerated beef that was practicable, and no reliance should have been placed on the cattle in Cuba and Porto Rico as a certain means of subsistence."

As to the canned roast beef it is the opinion of the court that it was fresh, was not of old date, was the meat of commerce, and inspected by the Government inspectors as provided by law. Some injury was doubtless caused by rough handling in transportation, or was due to exposure to the climatic influences of the tropics. The court holds, however, that it was not suitable as a travel ration on transports, considering the absence of cooking facilities and the absence from that ration of fresh vegetables and condiments. For use on shore as a field ration it is suitable for issue two days in ten, but not for two days in succession. With respect to its being a necessary article for use on the expeditions to Cuba and Porto Rico the court believes that it would not have been imprudent to have left it behind. In this connection the court finds that the allegations of General Miles, so far as they relate to the unsuitability of the canned fresh beef for food as actually used on the transports, and as to its extensive or long-continued use as a field ration, are sustained.

The Commissary-General is criticized for having purchased such large quantities of this article, considering the little use that had been made of it in the regular army, the probability that the volunteers were entirely ignorant of it, and that its use as a part of the field ration had never been sanctioned by the President or Secretary of War. Regarding this, the court says: "The court can but characterize the action of the Commissary-General as unwarranted and reckless, in that he ordered the purchase of such enormous quantities of a food that was practically untried and unknown, and the court so finds. The court also finds that there is no ground for any imputation of any other actuating motive on the part of the Commissary-General than the earnest desire to procure the best possible food for the troops. The court pronounces this act of the Commissary-General of Subsistence a colossal error, for which there is no palliation."

One of the most important findings of the court is contained in the concluding paragraph of the report, which recommends that no further proceedings be taken, the best interests of the service, in the opinion of the court, being best subserved by such a course. The report is signed by General James F. Wade, President of the Court, and by Colonel George B. Davis, the Recorder. The only comment by President McKinley is his approval of their findings, quoted above. Attached to the report is an order by the Secretary of War dissolving the court.

IDAHO OFFICIALS JAILED.

Sheriff Charged With Aiding and Abetting the Wardner Rioters.

MINE OWNERS FORBIDDEN BY OFFICIALS TO EMPLOY MEMBERS OF THE SHOSHONE COUNTY UNION.

WARDNER, Idaho (Special).—James D. Young, Sheriff of Shoshone County, was arrested upon an order of State Auditor Sinclair, who is acting as the personal representative of Governor Steunenberg.

The arrest was made by United States troops, and the Sheriff is now confined in a barn with 300 other prisoners, charged with aiding and abetting a riot. Proceedings will be commenced immediately by Attorney-General Hayes to remove him from office. In the meantime, Coroner France will act as Sheriff. After the Sheriff had been placed in custody the Attorney-General asked for the resignation of County Commissioner William Boyle. Boyle asked for time in which to consider the matter, but this was refused and a squad of troops placed him under arrest.

SPOKANE, Wash. (Special).—Mine owners of Shoshone County, Idaho, that propose to operate during the reign of martial law may do so only on condition that they do not employ members of the Coeur d'Alene Miners' Union. This is the rule as laid down by General Merriam and Attorney-General Hayes of Idaho. At a meeting of the mine owners in this city, Mr. Hayes presented this mandate. The owners cheerfully promised to obey.

"We are going to clear up the Coeur d'Alenes," said Attorney-General Hayes, prior to his departure for Boise. "I have seen some of the mine owners, and they have been informed by the proper authorities that they cannot employ any one connected with a criminal organization in the county. The Miners' Union in Shoshone County contains many desperadoes and criminals, who have, under the protection of the union, perpetrated crimes and outrages. Twice has it been necessary, because of these men and their organization, to put the county under martial law. We want to stop that sort of thing."

"We have undertaken as large a job of original prosecution as ever commenced in the history of the country. Trying between 700 and 800 men is a task of enormous magnitude. We propose to push the prosecution vigorously, however. I am obliged to go back to Boise for a few days on official business, but will be back in about a week, and expect to spend the entire summer in the Coeur d'Alenes. Prisoners will be tried in both the State and Federal courts. Murder and arson are some of the charges the State will bring against these men, and we hope to inflict the extreme penalty."

RUSH INTO THE UTE STRIP.

Over 1000 Persons Lay Stakes and Start to Form Towns.

DURANGO, Col. (Special).—The famous Ute Reservation was thrown open by the President's proclamation, which forever removed the barriers that for more than twenty years have barred out enterprising homeseekers. The start was made from many different points. Among the most important of these were Arboles, Lumberton, Ignacio and immediately north of the agency. In fact, the whole border was marked by impatient applicants. It is estimated that 1000 landseekers formed in the rush.

The rush for homesteads was much greater than was expected. It had been thought that the majority would depend on filing claims at the Land Office here rather than subject themselves to the hardships incidental to actual location. On the contrary, the greater number apparently preferred to sit around and wait just over the boundary line until the long-expected moment arrived and then quickly get over and stake locations rather than hazard their chances at the Land Office.

Quite a surprise was sprung when "Buffalo" Jones suddenly appeared near Ignacio with 300 followers from Guthrie, Oklahoma, and was met by Dr. E. D. Allen, who was prominent in the opening of the famous Cherokee Strip. The latter has been in and around Durango with some United States marshals and half-breed Cherokeees for the past week. He started to join forces with "Buffalo" Jones with the determination of starting and booming a town site, their objective point being near Ignacio.

The newly incorporated Ute Town Company, comprised of Denver and Boulder men, located a town site forty miles south of here. It is to be called Tabor. The railroad companies have their representatives on the ground and will select the most promising sections and immediately begin extensions to those points. Serious conflicts are expected between those who filed claims at the Land Office and those who staked the same claims.

ESCAPED UP A CHIMNEY.

How Five Small Men Fled From the Toledo Jail.

TOLEDO, Ohio (Special).—As the result of a daring jail delivery from the County Jail five Federal prisoners—William Miller, George Jones and William White, the Leipsic Postoffice robbers, and Thomas Burnes and Fred Williams—are at large. The men climbed up the brick chimney at the rear end of the jail. A sixth man, Cox, was noticed by a young colored lad, George Hightower, who held him there with a revolver and summoned help. Cox said that during the night one of the men secured a key, went to the cells and took out the smaller men. The smallest man went in the chimney first, carrying a rope made of sheets and a bar, with which he knocked off the bars at the top of the chimney. He then put one bar across the top and tied the ropes of sheets to it and slid down on the roof. He was quickly followed by the others.

TORNADOES SWEEP OKLAHOMA.

Some Lives Lost and Property Destroyed in Various Parts of the Territory.

PEARL, Oklahoma (Special).—A tornado struck Chickasha a few days ago, wrecked sixteen residences and seriously injured fourteen persons. At Medford, on the Rock Island, three small tornadoes appeared in less than twenty minutes. Several houses were blown down, and many narrow escapes occurred. Near Okarche a tornado destroyed the home of John Teufel. At Tongway great damage was done by a tornado. The family of J. H. Ware took refuge in a storm cave, which became so heavy from the constant rain that it fell in, killing three members of the family.

MR. CARNEGIE SELLS OUT.

He Disposes of All His Interests in the Steel Company.

DEVOTES LIFE TO PHILANTHROPY

Andrew Carnegie Ends His Business Career by Retiring From His Steel Company—It is Said That He Will Receive Over $150,000,000 For His Interests—A Great Steel Combine Formed.

NEW YORK CITY (Special).—The announcement of the purchase by H. C. Frick and the other co-partners in the Carnegie Steel Company of the entire interest in that company of Andrew Carnegie forms the subject of much discussion in commercial and financial circles. It is now announced that within two weeks a little less than one-half of the stock of the new company will be placed upon the market and offered for sale in six of the leading cities of the country. These cities are New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. The other shares will be kept by the original purchasers.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

The newly formed company will have a capital of $600,000,000, of which $100,000,000 will be in first mortgage five per cent. gold bonds, $250,000,000 in preferred stock, and $250,000,000 in common stock.

It is said that the price to be paid to Mr. Carnegie for his interests is over $150,000,000, and is entirely satisfactory to Mr. Carnegie. It is understood that one of the stipulations of the sale is that the new company shall retain the name of the present concern.

The controlling genius of the new concern is H. C. Frick, and it is he who will be its first President. He and Judge W. H. Moore, of Chicago, practically arranged and perfected all the details of the consolidation.

The new company, under the name of the Carnegie Steel Company, at Trenton, N. J., has filed with the Secretary of State, its articles of incorporation. The incorporation at this time appears to be for the purpose of record only, as the capitalization is for the sum of $200,000.

The new company includes not only all the Carnegie steel plants, but also the H. C. Frick Coke Company, with its 40,000 acres of coal land in the Connelville district; the Oliver Mining Company, with its large ore interests in the Lake Superior district; the Pittsburgh-Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad; the Union Railroad, which connects at Homestead with all the trunk lines East and West, and all the interests in several hundred miles of gas land. It is intended to increase the output of all the various departments of the joint company so that the present famine in the steel market may be relieved and the continued export demand supplied.

The former co-partners of Mr. Carnegie, thirty-two in all, purpose to retain the interests which they had, individually, as members of the original Carnegie Steel Company, and to offer for sale to the public the shares which they have acquired from Mr. Carnegie. This intention, in the event of the purchase from Mr. Carnegie, had been intimated for some time, and long before the present sale was effected an enormous demand for these shares had come from almost every part of the country.

Mr. Carnegie's retirement from business—for it is practically that—marks an epoch in one of the most important industrial interests in America. And it does more than that. It marks the entering of a new field by a man of tremendous energy, who, if he gives half the attention to the sole pursuit of philanthropic work that he has given to the prosecution of his business enterprises, will excel the record of Stephen Girard or George Peabody, both of whom gratified a similar ambition, after exceptionally successful business careers. Andrew Carnegie is a strong, well-preserved man of sixty-two. Mr. Carnegie started his business career in Pittsburgh, Penn., in 1847, as a messenger for the Atlantic and Ohio Telegraph Company.

MEDALS FOR HEROISM AT SEA.

President Rewards Rescuers of American Citizens in Distress.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The President has presented gold medals to a number of persons in recognition of their heroic services in effecting the rescue of American citizens from disabled vessels.

The following persons of the British steamship Piners Point, for rescuing the master and crew of the American schooner Angie L. Green, December 7, 1893, were thus rewarded: John Davies, first officer; Carl Hurlst, boatswain; Albert Simmons, seaman; G. Mackay, seaman; George Smith, seaman; Christian Petersen, carpenter.

The following members of the crew of the British steamship Eric, concerned in the rescue of the Captain and crew of the American schooner Bertram N. White, December 22, 1898, received medals: Thoms Thiggle, Daniel Hughes, boatswain; Charles W. Levrick, seaman; Frederick Westfield, seaman; John Nik.

The same recognition was tendered to the following members of the crew of the British steamship Orithia, who participated in the rescue of the Captain and crew of the American bark St. Lucie, wrecked at sea November 29, 1898: Andrew Malmgren Bell, chief officer; Hugh Gray, carpenter; James Halden, boatswain; Harry Gordon, seaman; Joseph Arwoodson, seaman; H. Hansen, seaman.

HORTICULTURE

How to Secure Humus. Green manuring increases the store of humus (partially decayed vegetable matter) in the soil, and humus is necessary to the best conditions of fertility and productivity, for it increases the capacity of the soil to retain and conduct water.

Experiments With Grapes. In my experiments with grapes, I have adopted a new system of training, or, rather, have utilized a very old Italian method. This is to grow the end of the vine to a stake and then cut back to three or four buds in the fall of the first year.

This cutting back every year will soon form a head that will furnish all the canes necessary for all the fruit the vine ought to carry. This method, when well established, gives the vine the appearance of a weeping willow. It has many advantages over other methods, among which are the following: It makes pruning very simple; the fruit is grown where the sap pressure is the greatest, which occurs at the top, hence we secure better and larger fruit; the fruit is more easily gathered and less subject to damage from wind storms, because the canes which hang down on the windward side form a buffer that protects the other side, and hence more vines can be planted on the same ground.

Some growers may think that such training as is outlined above would not furnish as much fruit; but, in my experience, it will enable as much fruit to grow as any vine ought to carry if expected to ripen well. Last fall I gathered twenty pounds of grapes from a four-year-old vine. Another advantage of this method of training I might mention is that, in a few years, the main stock will have become so strong that it will support itself, and such vines are much more conveniently sprayed.—N. B. White, in American Cultivator.

The Plan of Double Crops. When one has a large garden it will save much hand labor to have the vegetables in rows, which will admit of working among them with the horse and horse hoe. But there are those who have to be economical of space, and find the problem to be, how can we grow as many varieties as we want, in quantities sufficient for family use? Here is opportunity for a little planning. We have seen tomato plants set between or in the rows of early peas so that they occupied the ground when the pea vines came off. We have seen lettuce growing between rows of beans, and removed before the beans are picked. It is a common thing to grow from three to five rows of onions or early beets between two rows of the large late celery, and squashes or pumpkins in the corn or potato field are often productive without seeming to reduce the yield of the main crop. Tomatoes staked or trained to a trellis require much less room than when allowed to sprawl about, and appear to yield abundantly if on the south side of a fence or wall.

In short, there are many of these methods tried by those who economize land, and some of them claim to save labor by it, or although they must be all worked clean by hand labor, they think it does not cost more than horse labor would if the crops covered as much more ground as they would in rows three feet apart. Where squashes are grown in hills eight feet apart there is much ground to work over for the one crop, and often other crops are grown between the rows. The method of double cropping requires heavy manuring, but where it is systematically done they strive to put the manure and labor required for two acres under the spread-out plan into one acre, and strive to grow on that one acre as much as others would grow upon two acres. Certainly the second crop does not draw any more fertility from the soil, or rob the first crop of manure or moisture needed for its growth, any more than the crop of weeds that we too often see in some gardens, while it looks much better and seems to be more profitable. Try this plan in your little garden.—American Cultivator.

More than 2,000,000 trees have planted along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad in Dakota to serve as protection from snowdrifts.

CYCLING NOTES.

Last year acetylene gas was first used to any extent in bicycle lamps. The National Cycling Association has secured control of the cycle track at Flushing, L. I.

Bicycle dealers place the sum expended by wheelmen in the German Empire at $156,000,000.

The law prohibiting the six-day bicycle contests in Chicago has virtually been decided unconstitutional.

In Vienna, Austria, the municipal authorities are constructing a system of paths for cyclists only.

The amateur riders in England can compete for long distance honors this season, an open twenty-four-hour race having been scheduled for July 22 and 23 on a track near London.

It is estimated that there are thousands of wheelmen who every year spend a portion of their time, at least, in making tours from one city to another or between different sections of the country.

After months of weary waiting on the part of the dealers in bicycles the long-expected reaction has set in, and the demand for wheels is sufficient to meet the desire of the most eager tradesman.

W. A. Elkes, the father of Harry Elkes, who is without doubt the peer of all middle-distance riders, now that Michael has retired, is prepared to match his son against any rider in the world for a race of from twenty-five to fifty miles.

According to an alleged expert, a tire shows its greatest resiliency at an inflation of twenty-seven and a half pounds of air pressure to the square inch. The rebounding qualities are practically the same at forty pounds as they are at twenty pounds pressure.

Acetylene gas is employed by almost every lamp manufacturer who previously produced only oil lamps. The demand for the gas light is increasing steadily and it is only a matter of time, the lamp concern declare, when the new invention will have entirely replaced the old pattern.

A plan similar to the one used by political organizations is being perfected by the L. A. W. in some of the large cities. It will result in dividing the riders into districts and precincts. It is also expected to increase the membership, as a systematic campaign can be made in pursuit of new members.

THE LABOR WORLD.

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor meets in St. Paul June 12 and continues in session four days.

Ten thousand textile workers went on strike at Brunn, Austria, to enforce their demand for a ten-hour day.

The composing-room of the De Vinne press, New York City, lost in the printers' strike of 1887, has been unionized.

There are 541 divisions attached to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and they cover every State and Territory of the nation.

The painters of Omaha, Neb., have succeeded in having their scale of wages signed by all but one shop. A substantial increase in wages was secured.

The T. J. Day & Eagan Company, manufacturer of wood-working machinery, at Cincinnati, Ohio, has advanced the wages of its employees about six per cent.

During 1898 the Labor Commissioner of Seattle, Wash., found employment for 18,154 people, in addition to a large number sent to the hop-fields to pick hops.

Coal miners of the Boonesboro (Iowa) district have signed an agreement with the operators making eight hours a day's work and their pay to be the same as now under the nine-hour day.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen now has a membership of over 29,615. Grand Secretary-Treasurer Arnold expects the membership to pass the 30,000 mark before the end of the year.

In accordance with the instructions of the Kansas City convention, President Gompers will take a trip to the intermountain country of the West for the purpose of addressing and organizing the workers.

More than 1000 bituminous coal machine miners in the Cambria and Clearfield region, Penn., have struck for a raise in wages. Operators are paying 22½ cents a ton and the miners demand twenty-seven cents a ton. The big coal corporations involved are preparing for a struggle.

The workmen's insurance laws have had a very good effect in German cities in diminishing tuberculosis by compelling the wage-earning classes to join sick-clubs, and thereby putting them in the way of taking better care of their health, and providing them with medical attendance and nursing at an early stage when tuberculosis is not yet incurable.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Daly is playing a fine game at second for Brooklyn.

The new balk rule to date has not materially improved the base running.

The St. Louis Club has transferred Catcher Zimmer to the Cleveland Club.

Chris Von der Ahe has opened a saloon in St. Louis. Thus he ends as he began.

Jays considers Seymour, Willis and Powell the best of the younger generation of pitchers.

Callahan, of the Chicagos, says Dahlen can cover more ground than any infielder in the world.

Nichols, of Boston, seems to have more speed and more pronounced curves this year than ever before.

McGraw thinks that Washington, Baltimore and Cleveland won't be in the National League next year.

The Baltimore have a good fielding team and some clever pitchers, but collectively they are weak at the bat.

Slagle has now taken Gettman's place on the Washington team, and has proven himself a superior player, especially on the bases.

It has been many, many years since the name St. Louis appeared at or near the top in a championship table. Must seem sort of strange to the St. Louis public!

The New York Club is entitled to a suspension of judgment, as aside from a weak pitching department it is grievously handicapped by the disability of such indispensable players as Doyle, Davis and Warner.

NEW YORK STATE NEWS.

The Property of Pensioners.

An important decision has been rendered at Malone by Judge Beman affecting property owned by pensioners which has been purchased with pension money. It appears that in the winter Christopher Walton, a school tax collector at Saranac Lake, seized a quantity of coal belonging to John A. Strong, an old pensioner, for non-payment of taxes. Strong brought an action, but was defeated. He appealed the case, and Judge Beman reversed the decision.

In his opinion he says: "In cases like this, if courts or juries were justified in disregarding and ignoring the undisputed and uncontradicted evidence of a party seeking protection of his legal rights, whose such have been invaded, and in such event no soldier could have and enjoy that which a generous Government has granted to him as a reward for his patriotism and bravery in risking his life in the service of our common country. I believe that the soldier should be protected by every legal safeguard that may be thrown around him in the enjoyment of his pension and his bounty from the United States Government, and that no attempt should be made to wrest such from him by any mandate of the court. Such was not the intention of the Congress of the United States, nor of the Legislature of the State of New York."

Executive Clemency Refused.

Governor Roosevelt has denied an application for the pardon of Henry Hendricks, of Allegany County, who is serving a life sentence in Auburn prison for wife murder. Hendricks has served twenty-two years. He is a veteran about sixty years old. Those who appeared in behalf of the application, upon which Governor Roosevelt gave a hearing, were Senator Wilcox, former Chaplain Sears, of Auburn prison; former Department Commander A. D. Shaw, of the State G. A. R., and Judge Vreeland, of Allegany County.

Governor Roosevelt, in denying the application, said that he believed that a pardon or commutation of sentence would be a miscarriage of justice. The circumstances attending the conviction of Hendricks showed that he had evidently shot his wife because he was in love with another woman, and that he had shot himself twice in the leg to advance the theory that the murder had been the result of an act of burglars. The jury, because of a question of unanimity on the question of murder in the first degree, compromised, finding him guilty of murder in the second degree. The Governor said that the man should have been sentenced to die and that he was very lucky to have received life imprisonment.

Pure Food For Live Stock.

Governor Roosevelt has signed Assemblyman Witter's bill, regulating the sale and analysis of concentrated feeding stuffs. The bill provides that any one who shall expose for sale in this State any concentrated commercial feeding stuff used for feeding farm live stock shall furnish with each can or other amount shipped in bulk and each bag, in so many packages of such feeding stuff, in a conspicuous place on the outside thereof, a plainly printed statement, clearly and truly certifying the number of net pounds in the package sold or offered for sale, the name or trademark under which the article is sold, the name of the manufacturer or shipper, the place of manufacture, the place of business, and a chemical analysis stating the percentages it contains of crude protein, allowing one per centum of nitrogen to equal six and one-fourth per centum of protein and of crude fat, both constituents to be determined by the methods prescribed by the director of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station. Whenever any feeding stuff is sold at retail in bulk or in packages belonging to the purchaser the agent or dealer, upon request of the purchaser, shall furnish to him the certified statement mentioned.

Arrested For Attempted Lynching.

The attempted lynching of Richard Bayless, a negro, at Tallmans, has been followed by the arrest of two of the alleged leaders of the mob and the death of another. Martin Kelly and his son Garret were arrested at their home in Monsey, ten miles from Tallmans. They are charged with assault in the first degree. A warrant was issued for Lawrence, the eldest son, but he got out of the reach of the law. Lawrence Kelly died in the Hudson Street Hospital, New York City. He was found unconscious in a lodging house on Park Row. The room was filled with gas. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict that death was accidental. Martin Kelly had just buried his eldest son when he and his son Garret were arrested and taken back to Nyack. Before Justice Bannister they were held in $10,000 bail for examination. Bayless has made an ante-mortem statement. He says that when he confessed to the mob that he had stolen $61 he did so to save his life. He now retracts the confession, and intimates that Lawrence Kelly took the money. District-Attorney George A. Wyrs says that the negro will receive justice.

Shot His Wife and Himself.

James Williams, aged sixty-five years, murdered his wife and then killed himself at Mechanicsville. Williams's family included his wife and several daughters. He had not for several years lived with his wife. Mrs. Williams owned handsome property, and Williams, it is said, wished to have her transfer the ownership to him. He called upon her on the day of the tragedy and made his demand. She refused and ordered him off the premises. He threatened her life and she rushed into the garden to avoid him. Williams followed and caught his wife by the neck and then fired two shots at close range, one shattering her hand and the other entering her temple. She died almost instantly. The man attempted to escape, and as the officers were closing in upon him he shot himself in the stomach.

State Civil Service Examination.

The State Civil Service Commission has adopted a resolution providing that "merit lists for appointment in the State service, existing at the time of the passage of the White Civil Service law, shall be continued as the eligible lists from which appointments are to be made until an examination for similar positions shall be held and reported by the commission under the new rules, and all eligible lists prepared as the results of fitness examinations are hereby abolished." The Governor has approved the above resolution.

Death of a Japanese Student.

Marsuro Wetta, a Japanese, was found dead a few days ago in one of the cottages attached to the sanitarium at Clifton Springs. Wetta was twenty-seven years old and had been pursuing a course of studies at Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, Lima and Syracuse University. He had secured employment in different places and in this way was earning money to pay his way through college. It is thought that Wetta was suffocated by illuminating gas, as the key of the burner in the room was found open.

Society Notes.

Rev. George Laughton will occupy the Baptist church pulpit next Sunday. In the evening there will be extra singing and music; also special preacher for the occasion.

The ladies' aid society of the East Genoa church will be held at the home of Adelbert Young, Wednesday May 17. All are invited.

East Genoa W. C. T. U. held their first public meeting on Sunday evening. The church was tastefully decorated with flowers, potted plants, mottoes and a large picture of Miss Willard. Mrs. Small led in devotions, singing and speaking by the children led by Mrs. Nellie Tupper, and a fine report of the convention at Sennett by Miss Ada Bower, made a pleasing program to which the large audience gave good attention. A rising vote of thanks was given to Miss Bower for her excellent report. A collection was taken for the work, and two new members added.

Obituary.

At the regular communication of Cayuga lodge, No. 221, F. & A. M., held at Scipio March 1, 1899, the following sketch of Brother Frank Earle Wallace was reported and adopted:

Brother Frank Earle Wallace was the only child of Hiram and Mary Wilson Wallace of Venice. His maternal grandmother was Patience Gallup Wilson. Two of her brothers, Philip S. Gallup and Wayne Gallup, were members of Cayuga lodge, and another brother, Silas Gallup, is a member of the lodge at Macedon. Their father, Nathan Gallup, who was Frank's great-grandfather, was a member of the old Morning Star lodge. His great-grandmother was sister to John B. Strong, also a member of Morning Star lodge, and so we may justly say that Frank had plenty of Masonic blood in his veins. Frank was born on the farm in Venice, where his parents now live, on the 17th day of December, 1877. His boyhood was not eventful, and not unlike that of other boys, except that he always manifested a preference for the company of persons older than himself. He attended the common school at Venice Center, and afterward the Friends' Select school at Sherwood. As soon as he attained his majority, he applied for the degrees in Freemasonry. His application was accepted and he was initiated as an Entered Apprentice on the 4th day of January, 1899. On the 18th day of January, he received the degree of Fellow Craft, and on the 1st day of February he was raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason by D. D. G. M., R. W., James W. Hart of Auburn. He was especially earnest and apt in learning the lectures, and gave wonderfully good promise of becoming a bright Mason. Before our next meeting, before he ever had an opportunity to attend a regular communication of this lodge, he was taken sick, on the 12th day of February, and he died on the 19th day of February, 1899. He was buried on the 22d day of February in the Scipio Rural cemetery. The members of Cayuga lodge, No. 221, attended his funeral and conducted the usual Masonic ceremonies. The scholars of the Sherwood Select school also were present at the funeral and placed a garland of one hundred full-blown roses on his coffin. His funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Harry M. Wright, the pastor of the Universalist church at Scipio, from the text II Cor. iv:17: "For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." He was assisted by Rev. Brother Welles of Genoa lodge, No. 421, who also assisted in the burial services at the grave. The seeming untimely death of our brother is very sorrowful. He was the only child of his parents, the one on whom their hopes, their cares, their fondest anticipations were centered. It was for him that they had toiled and planned, through all of the vicissitudes of his life, from his earliest infancy to his dawning manhood, and so far their untiring efforts had seemed to be crowned with all of the success that could be desired. He had an excellent physique, and was the scion of a long-lived race, and so had inherited a vigorous constitution; he had reached the period of manhood in apparently the best of physical health and strength, and with every reasonable prospect of a long life. He had a good business education, and an uncommonly bright prospect of success in any line of lifework that he might undertake. His parents looked upon his attainments with justifiable pride, and his many friends rejoiced at his good prospects, and when he looked forward his own heart was filled with bright hopes of the future. But in one short week it has been all swept away, and we are dismayed because his sun has gone down while it was yet day. But we are cheered by the ever green and ever-living symbol of faith in the merits of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, and although sooner or later we must each go down into the valley and shadow of death, and the difference of a day, a year, or a lifetime, in the order of our going really matters but little, for each message that takes from our side another associate, another friend or brother, only snaps another fibre in the ties that bind us to earth, and adds another link to the chain that is drawing us toward the life that is beyond the grave.

DIED.

BARNES—In Auburn, Monday evening, May 8, 1899, Gerritt S. Barnes, aged 57 years. Burial at Owasco.

MAIN—At his home in Genoa, Tuesday, May 9, 1899, James I. Main, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Main, aged 20 years.

This young man never spoke an unkind word to his mother. What better can be said? The parents and sister have the tender sympathy of all in their great affliction.

Funeral services will be held at the house Friday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. Interment at King Ferry.

WHY SHE WAS CAUGHT.

Pursuer and Pursued Meet and the Colon's Capture Explained.

There was a dramatic little incident in Annapolis just before the captive Spanish officials sailed for their homes in Spain. Chief Engineer Milligan, late of the Oregon, was living in Annapolis. He had gone there to visit his family.

"I want to introduce you to Senor Bonet," said a fellow officer, as they approached a dark-visaged Spaniard, who was lolling comfortably across the gate separating his quarters from the road.

Then the Chief Engineer of the Oregon clasped hands over the wooden gate with the chief engineer of the Cristobal Colon. Pursuer and pursued were face to face. The man whose energies had made our great battleship leap after her prey like a hound after a rabbit was soon chatting amiably with the officer who had driven his engines in the vain race to escape after every other ship of the squadron had been lost.

"How did it happen that we overhauled you so easily?" asked the American engineer. "The Oregon is a sixteen-knot ship at best, while yours was commonly credited with a speed of twenty-two knots."

"Alas," said the Spaniard, "she never made that speed, even at her trial trip. She was rated at 20.2 knots at her best. It is an error to suppose that she ever made twenty-two knots." "But, even so," said Mr. Milligan, "you should have escaped us. You were driving her hard."

"Yes," for the first hour we did

"IT WAS NOT COAL, IT WAS DIRT."

well," Bonet replied; "but after that, bad, bad. I'll tell you, Senor, we had just enough good coal in our bunkers to last us for one hour under forced draught. That was the last of the coal we brought with us from Spain. After that we had to use the poor, miserable stuff we took aboard at Santiago. Ah, maledicto! It was not coal; it was dirt. We might as well have put this on our fires," and the disgusted Spaniard kicked contemptuously at the yellow dust in the road. "You did not gain on us during that first hour, Senor. 'After that, pou! we were all but standing still!'"

Chief Engineer Bonet thinks America has a white elephant on its hands in the capture of Cuba and Porto Rico. In parting with Chief Engineer Milligan the Spaniard said most solemnly, "I congratulate the American Navy, Senor, but I cannot congratulate the American nation."

Bullets Fired at San Juan.

"Have you any idea of the hailstorm of bullets we went through on San Juan hill?" said one of the officers of the Sixth who had been in the battle. This started a discussion, and Capt. Kennon figured out approximately how many bullets were fired at the Sixth on that eventful day.

Gathered up on the top of the hill were 1,500 Spaniards, and with their Mausers they could fire 10 shots per minute with the greatest ease, and this makes 15,000 bullets which were rained on the Sixth every minute.

The battle lasted for an hour and a half, which is 90 minutes, and there were 90 times 15,000 bullets fired, for the firing was steady and did not slack up at any time. This makes 1,350,000 bullets which were fired at the Sixth during the engagement, and with these figures before one it is easy to understand why only some 80 of the brave boys who marched away returned.

The estimate of the number of bullets fired given above is conservative, as the Mausers can easily fire 20 shots per minute, and it is probable that nearly 2,000,000 bullets were in the storm of lead which the Sixth withstood.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

We have selected our line of clothing this season with the greatest of care. It comprises everything that one can wish. We have blue and black serges, chevots, fancy worsteds and those handsome checks suits which are so popular, and the make and cut of them is right. They are gotten up by the best houses in the country—by houses that are always after the latest that the market affords. Our prices of course are right. We quote but a few:

$6.00

This gets a handsome light check suit, something stylishly gotten up. All wool. Last season it was $10.00.

$9.00

Gets a black or blue serge, something smart, an elegant appearing garment, a suit worth $14. While they last $9.00.

$10.50

This is going to be the hit of the season. It is one of those Adler suits and is a winner. It's a pretty light check and looks like custom made.

$12.00

This is a remarkable value for the money. It is an all wool worsted in black, grey and brown checks. Also an Adler garment. Custom made it would cost $35.

A bird in the hat is worth two in the cage.

Never contradict a woman. Give her time and she'll contradict herself.

When she promises to be a sister to you you may safely claim a brother's osculatory rights.

Don't kiss and tell. If you do your friends may fancy the experience is so unique that you can't keep it to yourself.

A great rule for winning a girl's heart is: Don't talk about yourself or your personal affairs, and never make yourself or her appear ridiculous.

A poor man who marries a rich girl is a fortune-hunter. A poor girl who marries a rich man simply follows the sweet dictates of her maiden heart.

Don't keep on consoling yourself after each rejection with the old maxim that "there are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught." The bait might be getting stale.

Don't think because a man writes verses, do you that he is hopelessly in love. Verses are cheaper than flowers, and are far easier to evolve than the price of theatre seats.

When a man swears you are the first girl he ever loved don't doubt his word. Simply retort that he is the first man that ever kissed you. One good lie deserves another.

MODERN PROVERBS.

A man's best capital is his industry—if he can sell it.

A society woman is one who has learned to smile like a politician.

Friends are those people who act surprised when we tell them how old we are.

A girl never gets over the shock of encountering a man who proposes but once.

Every woman thinks she can make better coffee than any other woman she knows.

When a widow remembers how much sugar a bachelor takes in his tea he had better look out.

Some women put money in the bank just to have that important feeling when she draws it out.

Being admired by the wrong man always makes a woman mad at him for not being the other one.

A woman selects a husband by herself, but she takes three other women with her to help her pick out a hat—Exchange.

THE VILLAGE MIRROR

What Has Happened in Genoa During the Past Seven Days—An Interesting Page.

—Test the fire hose and see how it works.

—R. K. Baker of Aurora was in town on Sunday.

—Howard Perkins is sick and said to be threatened with pneumonia.

—Rothschild Brothers quote some interesting figures in their space this week.

—Mrs. E. M. White of Syracuse is spending a few days with Genoa relatives.

—M. T. Underwood and family visited at George Bower's, Ludlowville, on Sunday.

—John Boyce of the Little Salmon Creek is suffering from muscular rheumatism.

—Read what H. P. Mastin says in regard to business at Genoa's big store in this issue.

—Some of the road districts in this town haven't felt the stroke of the overseer's hoe this spring.

—The business men's association will hold a regular meeting next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

—Jay Morton, who is employed at the printing business at Coudersport Penn., is in Genoa for a few days.

—E. H. Bennett, who is doing a large business at Venice Center, has a few words of interest in another column.

—A. Cannon and J. W. Lewis are doing a large amount of painting and papering in the west part of the town this spring.

—$25 cash will buy our wheel. It is in first class repair and a far better wheel than any new one to be had at the price.

—Don't fail to read Bennett's new ady. this week. He has been making more room in his store and putting in new goods.

—We are informed that there will be a ball game on the Genoa grounds tomorrow afternoon, providing that the Ludlowville ball tossers appear on the scene.

—Wouldn't it be a good idea for Genoa to organize rattling good 4th of July celebration and invite all the people of this vicinity to participate? If not, why not?

—"Come on, ye base ball fiends from near-by places, let us hear from you. We have a nine here and want you all to know it." That's what a Dresserville fellow says.

—The polyphone, advertised elsewhere in this issue, was exhibited here a short time Tuesday, and it delighted all who heard it. It is far superior to the graphophone.

—"I have always wondered," said the aged philosopher—the others at the table grew attentive. "I have always wondered which came into the world first, the hen or the egg."

—The residence of Samuel C. Fessenden at King Ferry is being newly painted. The work is being done by Wm. A. R. Lyon, who has had much experience in that line, and it is a very creditable job.

—The Ludlowville Union Free School has organized a local base ball team and are open for arrangements for games for the coming season. All communications should be addressed to J. H. Phalen, manager.

—Dennis Conklin, who works John Fell's farm on the Indian field road, was badly injured Wednesday evening in a runaway accident. While going into Venice Center on a load of hay, the neckyoke broke while descending the west hill, and the team became unmanageable.

—While returning from church on Sunday evening Mrs. E. P. Waldo stumbled on a broken board in the sidewalk and fell, cutting her face severely and inflicting numerous painful bruises. The piece of walk in question fronts the property of a man who is well able to keep it in good repair. In this town as well as any other, the best walks are always in front of the premises of widows and people of moderate circumstances. WHY don't you fix up your broken side walks?

—If every citizen would make a point of thinking well of his or her neighbor or friend, the village where they live and the people whom they meet, what a delightful community we would have. Don't gossip. Any gossip is idle, evil gossip is criminal.

Drop the miserable, cowardly "they say." If what you say is going to harm some one, keep still. We are all open to criticism. Scarcely two persons look at a situation from the same point of view. There is some good in every body, and that is what we should be looking for.

—Messrs. Foster, Rosa & Baucus of Auburn's big store, fill a half-page in telling the thousands who read THE TRIBUNE about their great sale which begins tomorrow. Who Wants a Cistern?

I am prepared to build cisterns at reasonable prices and in first class shape at my shop near the depot. A. J. MERRITT, Genoa.

The ancients believed that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the affliction is demonic enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

It is pronounced by every one who has heard it as being the finest of the kind they ever heard. The machine is guaranteed to be three times louder and many times more musical than any other made. It makes it possible for people to hear selections rendered by the greatest artists in the world with lifelike accuracy.

Wonderful Achievements With Telephone

The telephone is a very handy thing to have in the house when such storms prevail as have swept over our country during the past weeks, and I hear that more people than ever before used it to call up the butcher and the baker, or talk to their snowbound friends. But there are other uses. The other week I saw the news that a young couple in New York State got married by telephone, with witnesses at each end of the line and a clergyman "on the wire." When our troops landed in Porto Rico, a sorry young officer went to the telephone in a lighthouse and called up the military governor of the nearest city, telling him to surrender. The governor obeyed meekly. Now a change has been effected by telephone in the government of Salvador, the Central American republic. A revolutionary general went to the telephone, called up the president, and told him that as all the troops were in rebellion, the only thing left was for him to resign. The president resigned at once—over the telephone—and the new dictator took office without a blow.—The Great Round World.

Two Good Reasons.

"She's only marrying him for his money," said one of her dear friends. "Oh, that's where you are wrong," answered the other dear friend. "She told me herself she had two reasons for marrying him." "What are they?" "One is his money and the other is the fact that he is too old to live very long."—Chicago Post.

SALESWOMEN understand what torture is.

Constantly on their feet whether well or ill. Compelled to smile and be agreeable to customers while dragged down with some feminine weakness. Backaches and headaches count for little. They must keep going or lose their place.

To these Mrs. Pinkham's help is offered. A letter to her at Lynn, Mass., will bring her advice free of all charge.

MISS NANCIE SHOE, Florence, Col., writes a letter to Mrs. Pinkham from which we quote:

"I had been in poor health for some time, my troubles having been brought on by standing, so my physician said, causing serious womb trouble. I had to give up my work. I was just a bundle of nerves and would have fainting spells at monthly periods. I doctored and took various medicines, but got no relief, and when I wrote to you I could not walk more than four blocks at a time. I followed your advice, taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier in connection with the Vegetable Compound and began to gain in strength from the first. I am getting to be a stranger to pain and I owe it all to your medicine. There is none equal to it, for I have tried many others before using yours. Words cannot be said too strong in praise of it."

MISS POLLY FRAME, Meade, Kan., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel it my duty to write you in regard to what your medicine has done for me. I cannot praise it enough. Since my girlhood I had been troubled with irregular and painful periods and for nearly five years had suffered with falling of the womb, and whites. Also had ovarian trouble, the left ovary being so swollen and sore that I could not move without pain. Now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, that tired feeling is all gone, and I am healthy and strong."

Cause and Effect With the Indian.

It should be said in the first place that cause and effect, as we use the term and apply it to natural phenomena, are absolutely incomprehensible to the Indian mind. He can form no conception of medicine, for example, which even remotely resembles ours. To his mind all diseases and disorders are the work of evil spirits, and the remedy is to exorcise those spirits and, if possible, induce them to pass into some substance, such as a magic stone, where they will be under the control of the medicine man, who is, in fact, the priest, for he merely sings over his patient and never thinks of giving him anything but prayers. Even in the case of a person bitten by a rattlesnake the palpable cause of injury is entirely overlooked, and resort is had to songs and prayers until the patient dies. In that case, death is attributed to his own evil spirit or to the lack of skill on the part of the priest-singers, never to the poison of the serpent.—New York Post.

WOMEN WHO EARN THEIR LIVING

TROUBLE IN NICARAGUA.

Persecutions of American Citizens by the Government Must Stop.

FORCE TO BE USED, IF NEEDED.

State Department Holds That Merchants Are Right in Refusing to Pay Duties Twice—Nicaragua Must Do Justice to American Citizens or She Will Be Made To—Cruiser Detroit There.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The State Department holds that American citizens in Nicaragua are justified in refusing to pay again customs dues to General Torres, the Nicaraguan commander at Bluefields, or goods on which they have already paid duty to General Reyes when he was the representative of the de facto government. The attitude of General Torres in demanding that they pay again to the Yelaya Government customs dues paid once in full to General Reyes is held by the State Department to represent not the attitude of an individual, but of the Government.

Therefore, it is not within the range of diplomacy for the United States to demand the removal of General Torres, for that would not abate the obnoxious tax demands or remove the cause of the threatened clash. The demands of Torres are inspired by official orders of the Government of Nicaragua. Having affirmed the correctness of the position maintained by American citizens at Bluefields, and shown that the Government of Nicaragua is officially involved, the State Department is prepared to sustain its citizens, even if the result means war with Nicaragua.

The statement that Minister Merry and Captain Dayton have ample discretion to use force if necessary in protecting American interests was made by high department authority, but this was coupled with the general order that until drastic measures shall become necessary the matter will be left to the State Departments of the respective Governments to settle.

The outcome depends entirely upon the American merchants, who are threatened with imprisonment and confiscation of their goods unless they pay the double duty demanded by Nicaragua. If they refuse to pay, all the force of the American Government will be exerted to protect them, to prevent the seizure of their property and their imprisonment by Nicaraguan officials. Additional ships will be sent unless the atmosphere clears. The Administration has reason to believe that there will be trouble in both Nicaragua and Honduras unless these little Governments are given a convincing instance of the fact that the United States will not tolerate violations of the rights of its citizens.

BLOW TO LEAD TRUST.

Court Declares It Cannot Collect For Goods Sold in Missouri.

St. Louis, Mo. (Special).—Judges of the Court of Appeals have unanimously decided that Trusts, even if operating as corporations duly chartered, cannot collect for goods sold within the borders of the State. The Missouri Anti-Trust law, passed in 1891, is sustained as an opinion by Judge Henry Bond.

The case in point was that of the National Lead Company, known as the Lead Trust, against the S. F. Grote Patent Company, of this city, for $1800 for goods furnished to the company by the corporation. The company refused to pay on the ground that the lead company was a Trust, and, therefore, illegal under the Missouri law. In the St. Louis County Court the lead company won and Grote appealed.

Judge Bond held that the corporation was lawfully organized to acquire the assets of its predecessor, the National Lead Trust, an unlawful combination, and it therefore had every facility possessed by the Trust for controlling the entire business of the country in the commodities in which it dealt. Therefore, the corporation was equally amenable with the Trust to the provisions of the Anti-Trust law. The debt is declared to be non-collectible. This decision means that any Missouri merchant who buys from a Trust—and there are hundreds of them operating here—need not pay for his goods unless he wants to.

MURDERED A MILLIONAIRE.

Slayer Prepared His Reasons For the Crime Before He Shot His Enemy.

NEW YORK CITY (Special).—James Neale Plumb, formerly a well-known man about town, shot and killed Alexander Masterton, a retired banker of Bronxville, at the Burlington apartment house, in Thirtieth street. Plumb, who is fifty-five years old, went to meet Masterton, who is seventy-two years of age, with the deliberate intention of killing him. He took with him a small handbag containing several rolls of typewritten documents in which he told why he was going to kill Masterton. All of these papers were turned over to the police, who made the contents public. Briefly, Plumb accuses the dead man of separating him from his children, inducing one daughter to sue him for an accounting of her mother's estate and another to sue for his removal as her guardian, and of conspiring in other ways to ruin him. Plumb had regarded Mr. Masterton as his enemy for thirty-five years.

OUR PARIS EXPOSITION SITE.

Commissioner Peck Takes Possession and Raises the Stars and Stripes.

PARIS (By Cable).—Mr. Ferdinand W. Peck, United States Commissioner-General to the Paris Exposition, took formal possession a few days ago of the American site in the exposition grounds, which is close to the Invalides bridge. M. Picard, the French Commissioner-General of the exposition, formally made over the site. Commissioner Peck was accompanied by his associate Commissioner, Professor Woodward. A staff of French and American architects examined the plans, after which the minutes were read and the transfer was completed. The site is an excellent one, and extends 25x22 metres. British Commissioner Spearman was present at the transfer.

Four American flags are flying from the corners of the American site, which is flanked by the Turkish and Austrian sites.

COURTS HELP STRIKERS.

Arkansas Judges Restrain the Railroads From Importing Miners.

Governor Jones Takes Action Which May Result in a Clash With Federal Authority.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (Special).—Governor Jones keeps in close communication with Prosecuting Attorney Johnson, of Fort Smith, on the situation in the coal mines of Western Arkansas, and the entire power of the State will be invoked by the Governor if necessary to enforce the injunction issued by Circuit Judge Rowe, restraining the railroads from bringing into this State men intended to take the place of the locked-out coal miners. The Governor has instructed the Sebastian County authorities to spare no efforts in enforcing Judge Rowe's injunction.

The Governor has been informed of suspected movements to send armed men into the mining districts to take the strikers' places, and he has given instructions to Sheriff Harrell, of Sebastian, to meet all such persons at the State line and promptly place them under arrest. He tells Sheriff Harrell to summon every able-bodied man in Sebastian County, if necessary, to enforce the order of Judge Rowe. Governor Jones says if the situation warrants it he will go to the scene in person and direct the carrying out of the court's order, which, he believes, is the only way by which riot and bloodshed can be avoided.

The Governor's present advice is that the situation is well in hand, but that the authorities are keeping a sharp lookout in order to checkmate any movement to defeat Judge Rowe's order. As yet there has been no direct conflict between the Federal and State authorities, though there appears to be a full supply of Deputy United States Marshals on hand ready to carry out the orders of Federal Judge Rogers, which are in conflict with the injunction granted by Judge Rowe, of the State court.

Governor Jones's plan is to arrest not only those who come into the State in violation of Judge Rowe's order, but also those who furnish arms to the invading men. The Governor told one of the largest mine operators that he, too, would be arrested if he attempted to defy the authority of the State by bringing into the State men to take the places of the miners.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION.

New York Judges Hold That Surplus Funds Belong to the Insured.

NEW YORK CITY (Special).—Judge Woodward, in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the Second Department, has handed down a decision in favor of Emil Greff, who brought suit against the Equitable Life Assurance Society. This decision, if it stands, will result in almost a revolution in the conduct of life insurance business in this State. It is not the unanimous opinion of the court, for Justice Goodrich filed a dissenting opinion.

The decision maintains that the holder of an endowment policy must receive his pro rata share of all the net earnings of the company in which he is insured; that the directors cannot, at will, hoard large surpluses, although they may set aside a proper part of the profits for the protection of policy holders. The surplus profits must be paid over to the policy holders.

Greff took out a policy in the Equitable Company in 1892. The policy was what is known as an endowment policy, to mature in fifteen years. It matured in May, 1897. Greff's policy was for $20,000. When it became due in 1897 the company paid the face of the policy, together with $3932 as Greff's share of the surplus.

Greff demanded $7087.38 additional, which he holds is due him under the provisions of his contract that he should participate in the net surplus of the company. He says that the amounts of the surplus announced by the company from 1892 to 1896 inclusive showed a net surplus of $43,277,179, of which his share should have been $7087.38 more than he received, or $11,011.38 in all. He was awarded the full amount demanded.

The company has 40,000 policy holders, and if Greff's judgment is sustained, all of the other policy holders may demand their share of the company's surplus to an amount in proportion to their policies and the premiums they have paid.

FOLLOWED HIS FRIEND IN SUICIDE.

Bates Heard That Harty Had Killed Himself and Did Likewise.

ERIE, Penn. (Special).—Edmund Harty and Norman Bates, friends and fellow office men at the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern offices, are dead as the result of shooting with suicidal intent. Harty had been suffering from stomach troubles for some time. After eating his dinner a few days ago he had an attack of pain. Seizing his baby boys he caressed them and then rushing to the basement shot himself to death. When the news reached his friend Bates the latter expressed great sympathy for the suicide. He himself had recently returned from an insane asylum, and in discussing Harty's death with his mother expressed the wish that he was with his friend. A few moments later he went to his room and killed himself.

FIERCE FIGHT WITH BANDITS.

Four Cuban Outlaws Killed While Seeking to Release Their Chief.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA (By Cable).—At Mayari, in this province, between Holguin and Sagua de Tanamo, an attempt was made by four outlaws to rescue the bandit chief Miguel Gonzales and five other bandits in the custody of the rural guards. The sentinel who detected the attempt fired, wounding one of the outlaws. The guards rushed to the assistance of the sentinel and a sharp fight ensued, all the would-be rescuers being killed. Two of the guards were wounded. The prisoners have since been removed to Baracoa.

The efficient arrival of the gendarmes is rapidly restoring serenity in this province.

ITALIAN MINISTRY RESIGNS.

Opposition to the Seizure of a Chinese Port Leads to a Crisis.

ROME (By Cable).—Immediately after the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies was called to order a few days ago Premier Pelloux announced the resignation of the Cabinet. The members of the Extreme Left received the announcement with yells. The Premier, amid great uproar, explained that the Cabinet found itself unequal to the responsibility of withdrawing the Italian warships from China, hence the resignation of the Ministry, which, he said, had been accepted by the King.

The Indian and Water.

The American Indian, by his tribe what it may, has no great fondness for water taken internally, and no use at all for it as an external application. One or two quarts of water will carry a family through a day, and even in the arid regions of New Mexico and Arizona, where the atmosphere takes up moisture from the body before it reaches the surface of the skin, the per capita of water used is small. Perhaps the scarcity of that fluid has something to do with the wonderful economy in its use which prevails, for it is almost never applied to the body, with the single exception that no Indian will lose an opportunity to wash his long, glossy black hair. Of their hair they are as proud as any woman, and devote much time and attention to its proper care, even sacrificing a small quantity of the precious water now and then for that purpose. Two quarts, with the bruised roots of the yucca, or soap weed, are all that is necessary for this purpose. As might be expected under these conditions the tribes are periodically visited by dreadful epidemics of smallpox, which often decimate them.—New York Post.

Bore His Loss in Silence.

The following episode happened at the recent brilliant charge of the Twenty-first Lancers, at the fall of Omdurman:

One of the men got his thumb cut off, and turning to his chum, an Irishman, ejaculated:

"Whatever shall I do? I'm done for life."

Pat, taking things somewhat coolly and thinking his chum was making a fuss over a mere trifle, responded, solemnly:

"Begorra, that's nothin' to make a fuss about; here's poor Jones wid his head cut off, an' not a word is he sayin'."

BARRIED FROM THE MAILS

Edward Atkinson's Anti-Expansion Pamphlets For Manila to Be Seized.

DOMESTIC MAILS STILL OPEN.

Atkinson's Writings Denouncing the War to Be Taken From the Mail at San Francisco by Order of the Postmaster-General.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The Postmaster-General has directed the Postmaster at San Francisco to take out of the mails for Manila three pamphlets issued by Edward Atkinson, of Boston, vice-president of the Anti-Imperialists League.

This order does not apply to the circulation of the pamphlets by mail in this country, but bars their despatch from this country to the Philippines, it being stated by the Department that promotion of discontent and even mutiny among the soldiers is the design of these publications. The three pamphlets are specifically described, and in no circumstances are they to be forwarded by mail to the Philippines. The pamphlets have the following titles: "Criminal Aggression by Whom?" "The Cost of a National Crime," and "The Hell of War and Its Penalties." According to Mr. Atkinson's own statement, as reported, a large number of the pamphlets have been sent out.

The matter was carefully considered by the Cabinet. From information in the possession of the authorities it was evident that many of the communications which have been sent to the volunteers around Manila, and which have been interrupted by General Otis, were clearly of a character to incite mutiny among the troops, and evidently sent with that intent.

In the future this matter will be considered in the light of the provisions of the law. The manner of dealing with those publications has been placed in the hands of Postmaster-General Smith, with instructions to take immediate action. The Postmaster-General has issued an order forbidding the passage of such literature through the mails. Special attention will be given to the literature which is delivered to the troops in the Philippines in the future.

The Attorney-General Griggs in speaking of the matter said that Edward Atkinson, of Boston, who is believed to have been largely instrumental in the preparation and sending out of these circulars, was unquestionably guilty of assisting an insurrection against the authority of the United States, and was subject to a term of imprisonment or a heavy fine, or both. The law, which, it is said, has been violated is section 5334 of the Revised Statutes which is as follows:

"Every person who incites, sets on foot, assists or engages in any rebellion or insurrection against the authority of the United States, or the laws thereof, or gives aid or comfort thereto, shall be punished by imprisonment not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both of such punishments; and shall, moreover, be incapable of holding any office under the United States."

What action if any will be taken in the matter has not been determined, but it is said that the Government is disposed to regard the acts of Mr. Atkinson as those of a person without any proper conception of the gravity of the offenses committed and the Government may not at this time take action against Mr. Atkinson and the assistant. Members of the administration regard Mr. Atkinson's alleged action as sedition and disgraceful, and it is not improbable that, if reported, prompt and energetic action will be taken.

Postmaster-General Smith says that it matters little how much of their literature the anti-expansionists circulate in this country, but that no more of it must go to the volunteer troops at the front.

The order of the Postoffice Department relative to the treatment of this literature is intended also to be a warning to the politicians and others who are endeavoring to defeat the aims of the Government by seeking to influence the troops. It is not known whether any steps are contemplated against individuals or not. That rests with the Attorney-General. But it is not considered probable that any criminal proceedings will be entered upon except in case of another attempt by these persons to circulate their literature among the troops.

THE SITUATION IN SAMOA.

Rebels Control the Food Supply and Are Threatening Apia.

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (By Cable).—Advice from Samoa indicate that the instructions received from the Powers to cease hostilities make the situation in the islands very serious. The rebels hold the main food supplies, and are again in force near Apia. Germans and rebels are jubilant and claim a victory over the British and American forces. A correspondent says that unless the rebels are made to submit the difficulties will remain unsolved. The white people in the outskirts of the city are at the mercy of the rebels.

The American Vice-Consul's store at Fala was looted, while a German store adjoining it was untouched. British and American residents strongly condemn the action of the Powers in ordering a cessation of hostilities.

There was a rumor when the steamer sailed that thirteen boats filled with armed rebels were approaching from the East. The town appeared to be safe.

FUNSTON A BRIGADIER-GENERAL.

The Kansas Volunteer Promoted For Bravery and Skill at Calumpit.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—On the recommendation of General Otis and General MacArthur, President McKinley has appointed Colonel Funston of the Twentieth Kansas Volunteers to be a Brigadier-General of Volunteers. This reward was given to Colonel Funston for his bravery and skill in leading his men across the Rio Grande de Pampanga and storming the defenses of the Philippines near Calumpit.

In his telegram to the War Department recommending the promotion, General Otis said: "MacArthur strongly recommends Colonel Funston's appointment Brigadier-General for signal skill and gallantry crossing Rio Grande River, and most gallant service since commencement of war. I urge appointment. Funston able as leader of men and has earned recognition."

The appointment continues General Funston in the service with his new rank for six months under the Army Reorganization act.

THE WAR'S COST TO DATE.

It is Estimated by Treasury Officials to Amount to About $275,000,000.

On Account of the Philippine Insurrection the Total Expenses of the War Will Aggregate Over $300,000,000.

WHAT THE WAR HAS COST.

|--------------------------------|--------------|
| Expended before July 1, 1898.. | $25,000,000 |
| Expended since that date.... | 200,000,000 |
| Paid for the Philippines..... | 20,000,000 |
| Estimated war expenses for | |
| May and June..... | 25,000,000 |
| Total number of deaths in | |
| American army..... | 6190 men |

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—Treasury officials say it is impossible to state exactly the cost of the war with Spain, but a study of the Government's expenditures during the last year gives an approximation of the amount. Many items charged in the Treasury statements as "civil and miscellaneous" are really, directly or indirectly, caused by the war. This is conspicuously true of the $20,000,000 indemnity paid to Spain, and it is quite as true of largely increased expenditures for clerks employed on the bond issue, and for employes required in several bureaus of the War and Navy Departments.

An approximate calculation places the expenditures of the Treasury thus far on account of the war with Spain at $275,000,000.

Increased expenses on account of the war before the beginning of the fiscal year amounted to about $55,000,000. Since July 1, 1898, the increase has been about $220,000,000. This includes the payment of $20,000,000 to Spain and the expenses incurred in suppressing the Philippine insurrection. It is expected that the war expenditures for the remaining two months of the fiscal year will bring the total up to about $300,000,000.

Expenses of the navy are rapidly being reduced to a normal basis, but the Philippine campaign is keeping up the War Department expenditures. The Navy Department expenses in April were $4,525,000, which is not largely in excess of the normal. The War Department expenses are, of course, very heavy and they will probably never again be anywhere nearly so small as they were before the Spanish war.

The aggregate strength of troops employed during the war was approximately 275,000 covering the period from May, 1898, to April, 1899, inclusive. During this time the deaths from all causes were 6190, or two and a quarter per cent.

LAWTON TAKES BALINAC.

American Loss Only Two Wounded, While the Filipinos Suffer Severely.

WASHINGTON, D. C. (Special).—The following cable dispatch has been received by the War Department:

"MANILA. Adjutant-General, Washington: 'General Lawton's column, passing westward from Norzagaray, captured Balinac and villages in vicinity, scattering and pursuing sixteen hundred insurgent troops. His only casualties, two wounded; insurgent loss several killed, large number wounded and captured.'

"Have opened communication with Lawton via Malolos by means of Hale's troops and detachments from city. Oris. The following dispatch was also received:

"MANILA, May 3. Adjutant-General, Washington: 'List of prisoners in hands of insurgents just received shows Lieutenant Gilmore and seven enlisted men, Navy, lost from Yorktown and six enlisted men, Army, three of the six wrongfully arrested in January before hostilities began, all reported to be doing well. Besides the above two men in hands of insurgents, South and Captain Boeckfeller, still unaccounted for.' Oris."

TWO WOMEN FRIENDS FOUND DEAD.

Strange Murder and Suicide at Stockton Which Recalls the Freda Ward Case.

STOCKTON, Cal. (Special).—A tragedy which recalls the Freda Ward case in Tennessee occurred a few days ago in a local lodging house when Mrs. Virginia Hassel, a beautiful woman and the wife of a once wealthy Englishman, killed her friend, Mrs. William Hickman, and then placing the pistol to her own forehead shot herself. Both bodies were discovered by the father of Mrs. Hickman. The pistol lay on the bed between them, where it had fallen from Mrs. Hassel's hand.

The police have only theories to work on, but the most plausible is that Mrs. Hassel, who had frequently declared that she would die before being separated from her friend, shot Mrs. Hickman while she slept and then killed herself.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN BALTIMORE.

Thomas G. Hayes Elected Mayor by a Majority of Nearly 9000.

BALTIMORE, Md. (Special).—One of the most exciting campaigns in the history of Baltimore city resulted in a Democratic landslide. Thomas G. Hayes was elected Mayor by nearly 9000 majority over William T. Malster, Republican, the present incumbent.

His running mate, Skipwith Wilmer, for President of the second branch of the City Council, and James H. Smith, for Comptroller, were chosen by practically the same figures. In addition to these candidates at large the Democrats elected all of their candidates for the second branch of the City Council and eighteen out of the twenty-four members of the first branch.

CENTURY'S GREATEST MURDERER.

Sentenced to Fifteen Years Imprisonment For Killing Fifteen Persons.

BRESLAU (By Cable).—The trial of Herrmann, the wholesale murderer, who walked up the bodies of his three wives in a cellar and boasted of having poisoned his twelve children, ended in a verdict of "killing without premeditation," and he was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment and ten years' loss of civil rights.

Confused by pseudo-scientific theories of heredity and degeneracy, the jury evidently decided to regard this monstrous criminal as an irresponsible person whose acts were the result of uncontrollable impulses. Hence the failure to find a verdict of guilty of murder.

A severe epidemic of influenza is prevailing in many parts of India.

A Family Disagreement.

In a home out in the country, not far from town, we are informed, there may be seen quite a pile of sewing lying on the floor, nearly in the middle of the room, that has been lying there undisturbed for more than six months. At that time the head of the house wanted a chair, and, seeing but one handy, he dumped to the floor the sewing which lay upon it. His wife asked him to pick it up. He said he wouldn't do it. She told him as he threw it there it could remain until he got ready to pick it up. She would never touch it. And there it remains a memorial to an incompatibility of disposition.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Moravia's Ball Team.

Manager Fitch has announced the Moravia base ball team as follows for the season of '99: Wm. Elger catcher, Charles Folger and George Arnold pitchers, Millard Crane 1st base, P. McElroy (our Pat) 2d base, Charles Gunnell 3d base, Lewis Carr short stop, Jack Wright left field, Homer Alger center field, Fred Roe center field, H. Stillman, substitute.

A story comes from Moravia that is out of the ordinary but is vouched for by a well known attorney. There is in the village a family named Baker, composed of a man and wife and 11 children. On Easter Sunday the children gathered at the family home and as was the custom on that day, day, eggs were served. According to the story it is said that the family disposed of 40 dozens of eggs during the day and the most that one single member of the family consumed at one meal was 19. The children are all large and the youngest, a boy of nine years, weighs about 200 pounds.
