MET HEAVY RESISTANCE.

Major Swigert Has a Skermish With the Filipinos.

YOUNG IS AT SANTA ANA.

Aguinaldo Believed to be With Native Forces at Pozorrubio.

Swollen Rivers Prevent General Lawton From Reaching General Wheaton—Wessels Scatters a Battalion of Natives—Slaven's Scouts Have Reached Paranique.

Manila, Nov. 21.—Reports received from General Lawton's columns say he is in the road between San Nicholas and San Manuel, west of the Agno River. Swollen rivers have prevented him from reaching General Wheaton.

Major Swigert, with two troops of the Third cavalry, met heavy resistance at Pozorrubio. He believes Aguinaldo is there. General Young is at Santa Ana.

Colonel Wessels scattered a battalion of Filipinos near Santa Ana. He killed four and captured fifteen Filipinos and thirty-six guns, without loss.

Ballance's battalion of the Twenty-second regiment has had a skirmish at Matabian Bridge, near Rosales. The inhabitants of Rosales welcomed the Americans.

Slaven's scouts have reached Paranique, north of Tariat. They found locomotives wrecked and thirteen cars in good condition.

Filipino Army Scattered.

Washington, Nov. 21.—With the native army scattered and Aguinaldo's secretary of the Interior and private secretary and a large amount of his munitions of war in the hands of the American troops, and with good weather in prospect, it is evident to the authorities that American arms are well on the road to the suppression of the Filipino insurrection.

General Otis reported in a despatch received here that it would appear that the main Filipino force had been driven northward off the road to Bayombong, and it is understood here that General Wheaton will try to drive it back where it can be crushed by Gen. Lawton's troops.

The rapidity with which General Lawton has been moving is a matter of considerable satisfaction to the authorities. His cavalry has occupied Aguinaldo's old capital of Bayambang, on the railroad line connecting Manila and Dagupan, and General MacArthur's advance force has reached Paranique, ten miles south of Bayambang.

It is apparent to the authorities that General Lawton is making a determined effort to destroy the natives reported as occupying Pozorrubio. General Young and Major Ballance are at Asingan and Rosales respectively, and the latter is expected to move on Urdaneta, where Filipino troops are reported. It is expected that General Wheaton will also bring some of his troops into action against Pozorrubio, and the authorities are hopeful that the movement will result in complete success.

Racing to Manila.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Splendid time is being made by the American men-of-war in their race to Manila. The cruiser Brooklyn, which left Port Tewfik on November 13th has arrived at Aden and is coaling, preparatory to sailing for Colombo, en route to Manila. The Brooklyn is averaging about eleven knots an hour.

The cruiser New Orleans left Port Said on November 15 for Aden, and considerable interest is being taken by the officials in the speed she is making. The Brooklyn left Hampton Roads on October 16, and the New Orleans sailed from New York five days later. The Brooklyn's lead has therefore been reduced two days.

The gunboats Nashville and Marietta are also engaged in a race. The Nashville left before the Marietta, sailing from San Juan on October 14, while the Marietta left Norfolk on October 17. The Nashville arrived at Port Said two days before the Marietta, and, after coaling, left ahead of her sister ship.

Must Go to Prison.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Judge McPherson of the United States District Court, before whom Ellery P. Ingham, former United States District Attorney, and Harvey K. Newitt were tried and convicted of the charges of conspiracy and bribing a Secret Service operative, has refused to grant a new trial. Ingham and Newitt will be sentenced this week. It is expected that the defense will carry the case to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

New Railway for Southwest.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 20.—Articles have been filed here incorporating the Denver and Southwestern Railroad; capital, $5,000,000. The company is authorized to build and operate railroad lines in Colorado and in the Southwestern part of the United States. The incorporators are: K. K. McLaren, William H. Brearley and Edwin T. Dudley, all of Jersey City.

Charged With Grand Larceny.

Long Island City, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Lawyer Guy C. Walters, of Far Rockaway, has been arraigned before County Judge Moore on an indictment charging him with grand larceny. He was represented by Lawyer Edward E. Jackson, of Wantagh. Walters pleaded not guilty and in $2,500 bail for trial. He was furnished bail and was locked up.

True value in desks

The real worth of a desk is not entirely in its utility. A slab planed smooth on one side and set on legs will do to write on. The money value of a good desk depends on the design, the quality and kind of wood, the workmanship, its adaptability for preserving stationery and correspondence to the best advantage, etc. In all the above particulars our desk stock is in the front rank.

DEXTER RETURNS TO NYACK.

Minister Says His Mind Was Upset by Financial Troubles.

Nyack, N. Y., Nov. 21.—After an absence of two weeks, the Rev. William H. Dexter of the New York Naval Academy has returned. Stricken with remorse, and a shadow of his former self, Mr. Dexter avoided the crowd at the station, and, entering a carriage, was driven to his home. He arrived there to find that his wife and eldest daughter had gone to North Wales, Pa., where he had been staying for a few days, to see him, not knowing that he was coming home.

Mr. Dexter cried like a child when he found his wife absent. A reporter saw him and asked him to explain the mystery of his disappearance, and the finding of his Knight Templar charm in Water street, New York City. He said: "My mind is not clear as to all events. After I had engaged passage on the New Haven boat on the night of November 2, I was seized by a strange despair. My financial troubles preyed upon my mind, and I became almost insane. I was tempted to commit suicide. I left my valise in the stateroom and ran off the boat. By a supreme effort I overcame the desire to end it all.

"Then I thought I would go away where I would see no one I knew. I walked along Water street like a madman. To give the impression that I met with foul play and was dead, I tore the charm from my watch chain and threw it and the stateroom key into the street.

"I say I did that to give a false impression, yet I do not really know what I did it for. I was crazy, that is all.

"To make a long story short, I took a midnight train for Washington. I remained about the station in the capital some time, and then bought a ticket for Salisbury. From there I went to Ashville, N. C. I settled down in a boarding house, and on Sunday last I attended a Y. M. C. A. meeting. I heard the Rev. Mr. Bain make an address, which brought me to my senses. I got on the right track, hunted up an old friend, communicated with my wife, and now I am home.

"My mind is clearer, but I am still very nervous. I have no plans for the future, and do not know what to do. I am glad to be home."

Mr. Dexter's academy is no more and he is badly in debt here. The family probably will move to Springfield, Mass.

WERE EVENLY MATCHED.

Harvard's Blunders Are Offset by Yale's Superior Generalship.

Cambridge, Nov. 20.—Since the close of the great football game Saturday afternoon between Yale and Harvard, which was witnessed by a record-breaking crowd of enthusiasts, the admirers of both elevens have been trying to figure out how it happened that neither side was able to score. Those who claim to be properly versed in the up-to-date tactics of pig skin kicking are of the opinion that there is only one way to solve the mystery, and that is that the teams were pretty evenly matched or, rather, that the blunders made by Harvard were offset by Yale's superior generalship, thus causing the annual gridiron battle between these celebrated rivals to be declared a "draw." The game was witnessed by more than 35,000 people and the spectators—men and women alike, cheered themselves hoarse as the play proceeded.

Harvard's team was the favorite to such an extent that its failure to score is looked upon as a practical defeat in favor of Yale. The latter eleven is overjoyed at the result while Harvard and her sympathizers are still suffering from sore disappointment.

Will Teach the Chinese.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—Ella M. Clemmons, sister of Mrs. Howard Gould, has decided to devote her life to teaching the doctrines of the Catholic Church to the Chinese, and as soon as she can find a house in Chinatown she intends to open a Catholic mission at her own expense. She became a convert to the Catholic faith less than two years ago. There is no Catholic Chinese mission in this city, and the idea of founding one seemed to the young woman the right thing for her to do, so she began the study of the Chinese language.

Fleming Held for Murder.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—The Coroner's jury investigating the shooting of Clarence Snyder, have found that he was murdered by Oscar Fleming, with malice aforethought. Fleming, a Justice of the Peace of Princess Ann County, shot the boy, who was gunning near Fleming's house. It was believed last night that Fleming would be lynched, but those contemplating violence were dissuaded from attempting it. An attempt will probably be made to have a special Grand Jury convene to indict Fleming.

ONE LESSON which the people of Madison county probably have learned from the election just past is that the sooner we go back to the old system of having town meetings at a different time from the general election the better it will be. This first trial has been anything but a success. It has rendered necessary a great unwieldy ballot and incurred upon the inspectors and clerks an enormous amount of work. In some towns the ballot was not counted and proper records made out until the next morning and even then some were not complete. The town election should be entirely separate and the sooner the board of Supervisors change back to the old system the better pleased will be the voters of the county.—Hamilton Republican.

THE BRITISH evidently have a press agent in their war department who is making stupendous attempts to gain public sympathy. After reporting the death of the Boer general, Joubert, they now announce that Kruger desires to sue for peace. In the face of so many Boer successes and British losses it seems that the peace offer should come from the other side. At last accounts the Boers were masters of the situation.

IT IS a long lane that has no turn. George Dewey, our admiral has certainly put his foot in it now. He has transferred the deed of his house, purchased for him by the people, to Mrs. Dewey, and all the newspapers are mad. The hissing at his picture by the same crowd that a day before wildly cheered him shows the fickleness of human nature.

BUTTER CULTURE

A Summary of the Results of an Experiment Conducted in Pennsylvania.

The object of an experiment recently conducted at the Pennsylvania Experiment Station with commercial butter cultures was to determine the effect of Hansen's Lactic Acid Ferment, Bacillus 41, Boston Butter Culture and a skimmilk starter upon the flavor in butter made from both pasteurized and unpasteurized cream. The work was conducted in the College creamery, the butter made and a sample of each lot sent to expert butter men in Philadelphia, New York and Boston who scored each sample by number.

Fifty-five churnings were made so that the results obtained can be considered as very fairly representing the value of these various butter cultures in practical butter making.

A summary of the results of this experiment is as follows:

1. In the light of these experiments butter cultures may be divided into two classes, the acid forming and the non-acid forming.

2. In pasteurized cream the non-acid forming cultures gave results slightly inferior to those obtained with the unpasteurized cream which was ripened naturally with no culture.

3. In unpasteurized cream the non-acid forming cultures gave results slightly if any better than those obtained with the unpasteurized cream ripened naturally, with no culture.

4. In pasteurized cream the acid forming cultures gave results slightly better than those obtained with the unpasteurized cream ripened naturally, with no culture.

5. In unpasteurized cream the acid forming cultures gave results but slightly if at all better than those obtained with the unpasteurized cream ripened naturally.

6. The use of an acid forming culture seemed to result in a greater uniformity in flavor in butter made from pasteurized cream.

7. Of the acid forming cultures (Hansen's Lactic Acid Ferment and the skimmilk starter) the skimmilk starter gave results practically as good as did the more expensive commercial cultures, although not so conveniently prepared.

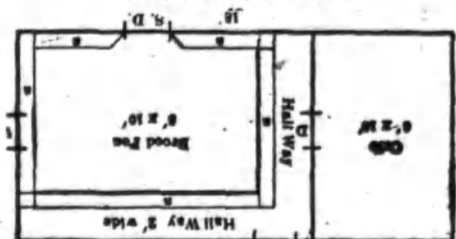

8. As good if not better flavored butter was made from unpasteurized cream ripened with a skimmilk starter as from pasteurized cream ripened with a commercial starter.

9. The amount of acid developed in the cream had a very important bearing upon the flavor of the butter. As a rule the best flavored butter was made from cream in which the development of acid had exceeded 55 per cent.

10. Close attention to details, cleanliness and the careful selection of milk at the weigh room promise more in improving the flavor of the butter than pasteurizing and the use of pure cultures.

It will be seen from these trials that the producer of the milk, the man who milks and the cow, is responsible to a very great degree for the flavor of our dairy products. If milk is delivered to the buttermaker in a sour, tainted condition no amount of pasteurizing or pure culture can produce a first-class article from it. But if the milk is properly cared for from the time it is drawn from the cow until it is delivered to the butter or cheesemaker a good product is assured with reasonable care and skill on the part of the maker. H. HAYWARD.

Jerusalem: Artichokes for Pigs.

Much has been written on the subject of the food value of artichokes, but very few careful experiments have been made to determine just what proportion of rations for farm animals can be profitably made up of these tubers. To throw light on this point the Oregon Station fed six thrifty Berkshire pigs—which had been running on wheat stubble and which weighed from 117 to 215 pounds at the beginning of the experiment—from October 22 to December 11 on artichokes, supplemented by a small ration of equal parts of chopped wheat and oats.

An effort was made at the outset to compel the pigs to subsist on a diet of artichokes alone; but in the absence of grain there was very little gain, and the pigs were not contented. They were vigorous in their demands for something more substantial.

The artichokes were grown near the pen, so that the pigs could have access to them whenever they desired. The tubers were left in the ground for the pigs to root out as they needed.

A portion of the plot was measured and the artichokes dug to determine the yield, which was found to be 740 bushels per acre.

During the experiment the six pigs consumed the artichokes grown on one-eighth acre, and made a total gain in live weight of 244 pounds, or an average daily gain per pig of 0.81 pounds. The pigs consumed during the period 756 pounds of grain, or at the rate of 3.1 pounds of grain for each pound of gain in live weight. In other experiments it has been found that it requires about five pounds of mixed grain for each pound of gain in live weight. The pigs were healthy and vigorous throughout the experiment.

The artichokes used in this experiment "we planted the last of April on ground plowed deeply and prepared as we would prepare ground for potatoes. The tubers were planted in furrows, which were three feet apart. The seed was dropped 18 inches apart in the row and covered with a hoe. The plants were cultivated a few times, but after the tops were a few feet high no further cultivation was necessary."

BOERS AGAIN REPULSED.

Long Range Volleys From Naval Gun Does Successful Work.

The British Astonish the Boers and Check Their Rush at Estcourt—Had to Withdraw Their Guns—General White's Forces Able to Withstand Attack.

Durban, Natal, Nov. 21.—The Times of Natal publishes the following, dated Wednesday, November 15, from its special correspondent in Ladysmith:

"The enemy made a determined attack on Thursday, November 9. Apparently all the Boer forces participated. Their artillery opened at 4 a. m., pouring in shell thick and fast upon the British positions, although with no great effect. They adopted the unusual tactics advancing under cover of their guns to positions on the ridges and kopjes adjacent to those occupied by the British troops, on the left of our camp.

"Continuing their advance, the Boers crept up, using every available bit of cover. Our infantry opened with a steady, warm and accurate fire, which beat back the enemy, notwithstanding a display of tenacity of purpose equal to their desperate stands on previous occasions. The Boer attack was most elaborate on all sides of the town.

"They had made a deep trench in front of the British lines, and, while withdrawing for their horses, they left this unguarded, whereupon the King's Rifles, advancing at double-quick, occupied the trench.

It is further reported that the fight lasted seven hours and that 800 Boers were killed and wounded.

Britons Are Encouraged.

London, Nov. 21.—The passing of another week without any material change in the status of the beleaguered British forces at Ladysmith is responsible for a much more hopeful feeling in Great Britain regarding the fate of General White's men. On all sides the opinion is now expressed that they will be able to withstand attack until relief arrives.

The diversions of Boer units from Ladysmith toward Estcourt cannot, it is claimed, be taken as any indication that the Boers have given up hope of capturing Ladysmith. Many signs point to the quick relief of Kimberley or the defeat of the British attempt to achieve it, and it has apparently been decided that Mafeking must take its chances.

The latest news from the seat of war in South Africa is, from one viewpoint, favorable to the British, showing that Kimberley is able to hold its own easily against the Boer bombardment, and that Estcourt is also in a position to beat back an attack by the Boer force now facing it. But on the other hand the advices pay testimony to the ceaseless activity of the burghers on the Free State frontier, and their determination to cut off relief for Ladysmith, and, if possible, to isolate or capture Estcourt, which is the nearest town to Ladysmith still held by the British.

Some small Boer commandoes from the east and west are converging on Estcourt and the railroad just south of that place. They already aggregate at least twenty thousand, with a few guns, which, from the intrenchments they are throwing up, they evidently mean to mount on hills dominating any advance north of Estcourt.

Even with the strong relief column now hurrying up from Durban the British will have a hard job to pierce the Boer forces thrown across the roads to Ladysmith, while crossing the Tuge River on pontoon bridges in the face of the Boer artillery and rifle fires from the northern ridges commanding the river will probably prove one of the stiffest enterprises of the war.

Much criticism has been expended on the apparent lack of a proper reconnaissance by cavalry in connection with the armored train disaster near Estcourt. This fact, it is asserted, goes to prove that the reinforcements, especially of cavalry, although landed at Durban, have not yet arrived at Estcourt. It is believed the transport difficulties may be greater than generally imagined, in which case the relief of Ladysmith may be delayed. The censorship in such matters is very strict.

The Admiralty has quietly bought ten thousand suits and equipments for the men of the Naval Reserve. Though these men are scarcely likely to be used in the immediate future, the purchase is one more indication of what thorough preparations Great Britain is making for any eventualities. A correspondent with the British Channel squadron says the crews are practically under war discipline.

Drove the Boers Back.
London, Nov. 21.—An Estcourt despatch says:

"The Boers have attempted to rush Estcourt, but one shot from our naval gun and several long range volleys fired by the Dublin Fusiliers sent them back precipitately.

"The Boers had several guns posted on surrounding kopjes, but our naval men apparently astonished them, and their guns were withdrawn.

Henderson Took a Swift Ride.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The prospective Speaker, Mr. Henderson, was in a runaway Saturday afternoon, but suffered no injury. He was in a cab descending a steep hill on Thirteenth street, when the driver lost control of his horse. The animal ran at a full gallop down the decline, but was brought under control after running only a block or two.

Godfrey Says We Like Rag-Time.
London, Nov. 20.—"Dan" Godfrey, who has returned with his band from a tour of the United States, is quoted as saying: "We played lots of good music, but what Americans really want is some catchy tune, with a swing. We would give 'Georgia Camp Meeting' or a 'rag-time cakewalk,' and they would nearly tear down the place."

Will Work to Unseat Roberts
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 20.—Four members of Congress from Kansas have pledged their votes against Roberts of Utah. They are Messrs. Bailey, Curtis, Miller and Bowersock. They say there is no way by which Congress can prevent Roberts from taking the oath of office, but that they will lead the fight to unseat him as soon as Congress convenes.

THE COUNTRY IN GENERAL

A Summary of Happenings at Home and Abroad.

THE NEWS CONDENSED

A Review of What Has Transpired of Public Interest.

Boston, Nov. 18.—A further advance in boots and shoes has taken place, following the advances in both sole and upper leather. The advance is absolute. In certain quarters manufacturers have advanced prices 15 cents, 20 cents and even 25 cents per pair since the season opened.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 18.—William A. Rogers, of Buffalo, N. Y., has presented $5,000 to Yale for the scientific department of the University. Professor Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific School, says it will be devoted to the foundation of a scholarship in biological chemistry.

Gainesville, Fla., Nov. 18.—A. G. Cooper, of Newberry, has a pet trick pony which he has taught to kiss him and perform many funny tricks. Thursday while showing his accomplishments the pony accidentally bit off his master's lip and top of his nose, disfiguring him for life. The pony is for sale.

Springfield, O., Nov. 18.—The Dayton, Springfield and Urbana Electric Railway Company is experiencing considerable trouble erecting a pole in front of Albert Thiem's residence, on West Main street. Mr. Thiem objects and holds the fort with a loaded revolver. He has been on picket duty for three days, and says that he proposes to use the gun if it is necessary.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The intimate friends of Secretary Long say that they expect he will soon retire from the Cabinet. If he goes it will be for purely personal reasons and on account of his family cares. Two members of his household have had serious illnesses, and he had to go to Colorado with Miss Helen Long on account of her critical state of health.

Belvidere, N. J., Nov. 18.—The old homestead of Samuel Hiles, below this place, has been destroyed by fire. The residence was an old-fashioned stone structure, and was one of the landmarks of this part of New Jersey. It had been standing for over a hundred years. The residence was occupied by a family named Wagner. They escaped in safety.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 18.—Mail advices from Asia say that Japanese newspapers give details of the Shidzouka tidal wave of Oct. 8. The wave swept up the River Suzukawa, and swept down the coast of Honshu, and other houses were submerged. The wave attained a height of about thirty feet.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 20.—Prof. F. P. Anderson, under the auspices of the mechanical department of the State College, has given the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy a preliminary test and found it satisfactory in every detail.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—Advices received from Honolulu by the Nippon Maru tell that several heavy earthquake shocks were felt on the island of Hawaii recently. They were the most severe experienced since the recent outbreak of the volcano.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 20.—A passenger train on the Alabama Great Southern, has been in collision with a double-header freight train near Ribbville, thirty miles west of here. Paterson, the engineer of the freight train, was killed.

Denver, Col., Nov. 20.—The directors of the University of Denver have elected Dr. Henry A. Buchtel, of East Orange, N. J., chancellor of the university to succeed Chancellor William McDowell, who resigned in June last. Dr. Buchtel will begin work here January 1, 1900.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, who has been preaching here to thousands nightly, was stricken with heart trouble Friday. His engagement was cut short and he is on the way home to Northfield, Mass., in the care of Dr. Schauffter and C. M. Vining, teller of the Union National Bank.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Parson, Leach & Co. of this city, who were the best bidders for the $4,765,000 3 1/2 per cent. corporate stock of the city of New York, have been notified that it would be awarded to them on Monday. Their bid was 106.10, or $5,055,655, for the entire issue. This is on an interest basis of 3.158 per cent. and a premium of $61 for each $1,000 bond.

Buffalo, Nov. 20.—The News publishes a letter from Ansley Wilcox, a member of the board of managers of the Elmira Reformatory, with respect to reports that "padding" was to be resumed at that reformatory, in which Mr. Wilcox says that contrary to newspaper reports, the superintendent, Mr. Brockway, has not asked for anything of the kind, and has no intention of suggesting it.

Hamburg, Nov. 20.—The officials of the Hamburg-American line have received a despatch from Cuxhaven announcing that the company's steamer Athesia has arrived there with the crew of the Hamburg-American line steamer the Patria. The despatch said that the Patria had been abandoned in the North Sea, enveloped in flames, and that there were no hopes of saving the vessel.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 21.—Earl, Pearl and Guy Grady, the former twins, aged 17, and the latter 16, were detected stealing from the Mishawaka Woolen Company. They were valued employees, but their minds were poisoned by reading cheap novels. Their employers talked to the lads, and a novel attempt at reformation was decided upon. The boys thought it impossible to reform at home, and willingly accepted an indeterminate sentence at the State Reformatory. The woolen mill proprietors will watch over the boys, and on the expiration of their sentence will re-employ them and arrange for saving their earnings. It is an interesting experiment in reformation, the outcome of which is eagerly awaited.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Cornelius Corcoran shot and killed three of his children and fatally wounded the fourth child. Corcoran then killed himself. The dead are: Cornelius Corcoran, aged fifty-five years; Katie fourteen years; John, eight years; Margaret E., six years. Fatally wounded: Ella M. Corcoran, four years.

Corcoran a few days ago administered laudanum to his five children, the oldest of whom was fourteen years old. He claimed the poison was given them by mistake, and was not molested by the authorities.

Thursday one of the children, Cornelius, Jr., five years old, died. The others were convalescent.

LaGrippe, with its after effects, annually destroys thousands of people. It may be quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure, the only remedy that produces immediate results in coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, and throat and lung troubles. It will prevent consumption. J. S. Banker.
