Our Course in China is Right.
 So far as the original causes of the Chinese imbroglio are concerned, the situation in the Far East has been simplified. The clouds have lifted sufficiently to enable one to see the close of the first act in this drama. Henceforth, the chief interest will center about the diplomatic phase of the Chinese question. As to the military side of it, enough has already happened to show that it is still "the man behind the gun" who really counts, and that three or four years of training cannot make over a Mongolian into "a first-class fighting man." What will be the penalty for the violation of the traditional sanctity which surrounds ambassadors? Had the envoys been slain, Peking must have been razed, and the ancestral tombs of the reigning dynasty turned into dog kennels. In no other way could the allies have stamped, into the consciousness of the Chinese, an everlasting impression of what it means to outrage one of the most sacred of human institutions. Americans have reason to feel abundant satisfaction with the part which our country has played throughout this suddenly precipitated crisis. Both in diplomacy and on the battlefield American prestige has been enhanced. In Europe this conduct of affairs was at first stigmatized as "sentimental diplomacy," but a few weeks' time sufficed to justify it most convincingly.—Lew Wallace in November "Success."

George--Fish.
 A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Wm. H. George, Clay street, on Wednesday, Oct. 17, when Miss Bertha Fish was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. William H. George.
 Early in the afternoon the guests began to arrive, being received by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Thompson and Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Lester, relatives of the bride and groom.
 At exactly 2:30 the master of ceremonies, Dr. W. H. Lester, after stretching the inevitable white ribbon across one corner of the parlor, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, was seen descending the stairs with the ladies in waiting of the bride, Miss Mildred Merritt and Miss Grace Oliver. After stationing them at the entrance of the parlor, he returned and, preceding bride and groom, conducted them, by the music of the wedding march, played by Miss Mildred Merritt, to their appointed place, where Rev. Dr. A. B. Curtis of this city made them husband and wife.
 The bride was dressed in a robe of Lansdown silk, trimmed with lace, and carried a large bouquet of white roses; the groom was in the usual black.
 After the ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of their numerous friends and then were conducted by the master of ceremonies to the refreshment room where all were served by members of the M. W. A. degree team, under the superintendence of Mr. J. H. Serviss.
 At 4:48 Mr. and Mrs. George started for Chicago and Roseville, Ill., followed by the usual quantity of rice, old shoes, etc., and more, perhaps, than usual, of loving farewells and happy wishes, as they left behind a large circle of friends who fully appreciate both.
 The wedding presents were beautiful and numerous, showing plainly the loving thought of the donors.
 Mr. and Mrs. George will be at home to all friends after Nov. 8.—Greenville (Mich.) Independent.

The Result.

The result of Tuesday's election must have been a surprise to the American people so far as the majorities are concerned. At this early day the figures given below may not be absolutely correct, but doubtless are within a small margin. The states as follows:

Idaho, with three electoral votes, is reported to be in doubt. Total votes in Electoral College, 447; necessary to elect, 224.

Cayuga county gave McKinley 10,327 and Bryan 6,332; Odell 10,257, Stanchfield 6,456; Payne 10,199, Drummond 6,488; Wilcox 9,860, Odell 6,183; in the Second Assembly district, Forlyce received 4,902, Barger 3,339. In Genoa town, 344 votes were cast for McKinley and 210 for Bryan. Twenty straight Prohibition ballots were cast. One person voted three straight tickets, another simply for two electors on the Democratic ticket, and another for two state officers only—evidences that some people are still in ignorance concerning the blanket ballot.

Literary Note.

The November issue of "Success" reflects the international scope of the success idea; and, incidentally, its own growing constituency. A representative group of foreigners, including Joseph Chamberlain, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, Emile Zola, William T. Stead, Count von Walderssee, and the late Lord Russell, contribute their critical views of American success. The French premier declares that the heaviest American crop is millionaires, as nearly as he can determine, while Joseph Chamberlain expressed his fondness for everything American—including American wives. The serious criticisms of several others regarding our deficiency in matters of art are refreshingly interesting, if not altogether complimentary.

This issue of "Success" is crowded with good features, particularly relating to the home Thanksgiving, and is by far the largest and handsomest number ever sent out.

North Lansing.

Nov. 8.—The popular baby contest held at our hall last week proved very interesting. It started with several contestants, but finally all dropped out but the Sharpteen baby and the Spangler baby, who went in in real earnest to win. At first Mr. Spangler had no thought of entering his baby in the list for the prize, and gave away several votes or tickets, but after the evaporator people and the ball team insisted upon his entering his baby, Ivan, he consented and there was a very earnest canvass, which resulted finally in Ivan winning the prize. The other parties ken of Mr. Spangler, for in the community at large and in the church he is always ready and willing to assist.

Little Hollow.

Society Notes.

The East Genoa W. C. T. U. will hold a public meeting on Sunday evening next, beginning at 7 o'clock. A report of the County convention will be given by the delegate, singing by L. T. L., and address by Rev. H. R. Shoemaker. All are cordially invited.

Sanitary authorities everywhere have learned to look to the water and milk supply in outbreaks of typhoid fever. An epidemic in Forestville, Conn., puzzled the authorities until it was discovered that the pipe conveying spring water across a small stream was leaky and that the supply came from the stream, not from the spring.

An interesting calculation has recently been made by an English statistician, in which he shows that when the electric light has entirely displaced gas, oil lamps and candles in the United Kingdom there will be 40,000 less deaths annually, these illuminants being so much more unhealthful than electricity.

A congressman tells a story that, being selected to deliver a eulogy on a deceased colleague whom he had not known, he consulted Mr. Reed, then the speaker, upon what to say. "Say anything except the truth," was the reply; "it's customary."

It is said that a colony of 400 Missouri farmers will settle in the valley of the Concho river, state of Chihuahua, Mexico, this spring.

Are obliged to get up in the night to rest. One third of your life is spent in bed; don't sleep on a rack of torture. If some good people could realize what luxurious restfulness can be derived from a properly made bed they would go without bread to obtain one. We make our own hair and fibre mattresses and know just how to do it.

Then there are springs and springs; some require one kind of a mattress and some another. Then we make pillows, and have live geese feathers of which to make them. We replek your old mattresses, add a little more hair, if needed, making them as good as new.

WALL PAPERS are more and more recognized as the proper decoration for walls and ceilings, in the finest houses. No such artistic effects can be obtained by the kalsominer's patterns nor the brush of the decorator. Many treatments are now used, and we are carrying all the newest papers for each of the several methods. Our wall paper rooms have been greatly improved; we really do not know how our stock in the same can be bettered.

White, who has been a member of the firm of Gill, Stillwell & White of Syracuse for the past four or five years, retired from the firm on Nov. 1st, and opened an office for the practice of law at No. 822 University block. Mr. White has many friends in this place who join in wishing him much success.

—A terrible fire occurred near Groton Saturday night. W. H. Burnham whose home was a mile north of the village, went to town, leaving his wife and her mother home. When he returned he was astonished to find his house in flames. The neighbors gathered and rendered assistance, but nothing could be saved. The two women were burned to death, having retired, and doubtless suffocated or were cut off from escape before they realized the danger.

—The Syracuse Post-Standard says: "A further appeal has been taken by the plaintiff in the railroad bond case of the Oswego County Savings Bank against the town of Genoa. The case grew out of the refusal of the town to pay interest and principal on certain bonds which had been issued to a railroad company running through Genoa. The bonds had been disposed of to the Savings Bank. On the part of the town of Genoa it was claimed that the road was not constructed in accordance with the agreement on which the town gave the bonds. Brooke's Band Concert.

Every seat in Tremont Temple—and there are 2,700 of them—was occupied last evening by the people who wished to hear Brooke's Chicago Marine Band, and for two hours they were admirably entertained. The concert was the first of the Temple Lyceum series. The program was well diversified. The entertainment opened with an organ prologue of four selections, after which the band played. Mr. Brooke has been in this city several times with his band and has a host of friends. He gained many more at the concert given last evening. The audience was appreciative, and encores were numerous. One of the responses was a paraphrase of "Potatoes They Grow Small in Kansas," a catchy little thing almost in the freak class, but it made a great hit with the audience.—Boston Herald, Oct. 16, 1900.

The above company will play at Groton Saturday afternoon, Nov. 10th, at 2 o'clock sharp. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats on sale at Rhodes' Drug Store.

James Greenfield, auctioneer.

5-Reasons-5

REASON NO ONE We sell so much larger quantities than any other house in Ithaca or Tompkins Co. that we are able to buy IN LARGER BULK, and at greater discounts and at lower prices.

REASON NO TWO Ten 50-cent profits are greater than two $1.50 profits, with profits so small that our competitors can't meet our prices and live. We make good profits because of the large number of sales. Because the combined and consecrated methods of a large business make expenses a small factor. The interest on our daily cash receipts are themselves a good profit.

REASON NO THREE We can sell you better qualities, better made, because the largest and best manufacturers sell cheap because they save expense by selling in large bulk their entire stock to a few large dealers. Smaller manufacturers seek smaller dealers for larger profits and disposal of inferior goods.

REASON NO 4 Our large outlet enables us to give you greater variety. We can give you newer styles because we are constantly in the market looking for the newest.

Whether a suit to order at $16 to $20, a ready made suit for men $1.90 to $3.00, for boys 1.50 to $10, for children 80c to $10, or a hat for 75c up, working clothes or dress, we can save you in price and most particularly quality.

This is a handsome, up-to-date store, but mind you, we are not proud; we are as glad to serve you with a celluloid collar at 5c (others charge 15c) as with the best suit you may want, and we are always glad to see you. Come in; look as much as you want; try on. Price and buy if you like and when you like. All sales here exchanged for other goods or your money.

OUR TROOPS ACTIVE.

Repeated Failure of Filipinos Causes a Reaction.

AMERICAN PRISONERS RECAPTURED.

Former Insurgents Send Expressions of Loyalty to Washington—Excitement Over Presidential Election.

MANILA, Nov. 5.—Last week was devoted to active scouting. The insurgents, having failed to crush a single garrison, are now experiencing a reaction.

Lieutenants Wilson and Dority of the Forty-fifth volunteer infantry destroyed large stores of rice, four granaries and a barracks near Bato.

Captain Atkinson, with 34 men of the Thirty-seventh volunteer infantry, attacked 150 insurgents under Colonel Valencia, recovering two American prisoners and capturing a considerable quantity of ammunition and supplies.

A native orchestra lured the United States troops from their quarters near Dagupan while the insurgents attacked the rear, killing two Americans and wounding three.

Yesterday Senor Buencamino, representing the principal ex-insurgents in Manila, requested Judge Taft to forward to Washington a signed expression of their loyalty.

There is considerable excitement over the approaching presidential election, with a good deal of betting on the result.

Aguinaldo Really Shot.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 5.—James C. Hussey of National City has received a letter from James Thompson, a private of Company C, Twenty-seventh United States infantry, written while he was in the hospital at Manila and dated Sept. 1, in which the writer says that a young Filipino occupying a bed next to him at the hospital stated that Aguinaldo was really shot dead as reported some time ago, but that it was to be kept quiet for political reasons.

ANCIENT LIBRARY FOUND.

Records Discovered Supposed to Be Nine Thousand Years Old.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Professor Herman N. Hilprecht, who has been digging up the ruins of Nineveh for the University of Pennsylvania, arrived on the Friedrich der Grosse yesterday.

He said that as the result of his discoveries and translations of inscriptions on vases, tablets and utensils Bible history is shown to be quite recent. The tablets are histories of times before Adam and Eve are supposed to have lived in the Garden of Eden.

"We have found the first Babylonian temple library ever discovered," said he. "It was uncovered at Nippur. Some of the documents go back as far before Abraham as Abraham is before our time."

"Not a document discovered is less than 2,200 years before the Christian era. That is about the period at which Nippur's civilization was nipped in the blossom by the Elamites, and Babylon succeeded Nippur as the capital of Babylonia. Some of the documents are supposed to be at least 9,000 years old."

"Nearly 18,000 documents were rescued this year."

"The documents are clay tablets from two inches by one inch to a foot and a half in length by one foot in width. They cover every branch of literature known to the early Semitic peoples. There are lists of words written in both the Sumerian and Babylonian languages, exercises in grammar, dates, hymns, proverbs, astronomical works, astrological texts, inventories of the temple, lists of gods and cash books giving the income of the temple from all sources. They will increase our vocabulary of the two most ancient tongues."

"Nippur was built on successive platforms, generations constructing a platform upon the ruins of previous generations."

"The Nippur library was lost about the time Abraham went out of Ur. Many Hebrew customs find here their first explanation. One old historical character who, critics had decided, was a myth is found to have been a real character."

"Most of the Jewish exiles transported by Nebuchadnezzar after the destruction of Jerusalem were located at Nippur and along the canals near there."

The records from the Nippur library are on their way from Bassora to Philadelphia.

Hunting Fatalities.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—While a party of young men from Clearfield were hunting on the mountain near that place yesterday Paul McCooole was accidentally shot and killed by Jerry Heckman. The body was brought here, and Heckman was placed in custody, pending the coroner's inquiry, which will be held today. Near Reading, Pa., while four Polish boys were gunning Stanislaus Strzelecki, aged 13 years, discharged a gun full in the face of Rudolph Frankowiak, aged 14 years, killing him instantly. The other boys say that Strzelecki seemed annoyed because his companion talked too much while they were chasing game.

Marcconi's Repeated Success.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Successful experiments with Marcconi's system of wireless telegraphy were made on Saturday night from the mail boat Princess Clementine while she was steaming from Ostend to Dover. The first demonstration was made while the steamer was actually passing the mast erected on the land at La Panne, between Ostend and Dunkirk. Constant messages were sent to and fro at the rate of 20 words a minute until Dover, which is 61 miles distant, was reached.

Repairs For Galveston Harbor.

GALVESTON, Nov. 5.—It is learned from an unofficial source that the board of army engineers which recently sat repairing and raising of the jetties. The jetties cost about $7,000,000 and the fortifications about $500,000. The total damage by the storm was about $1,750,000. The work which the engineers will recommend will cost about $3,500,000.

Moose Killed In Adirondacks.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Charles Martin, an Adirondack guide, brought to Saranac Lake yesterday a bull moose shot at Grasspond. The animal weighed about 800 pounds. This is the first moose killed in the Adirondack mountains, outside of private parks, in 25 years.

THE GIFT OF CONSCIENCE.

That Little Hidden Monitor Befriends and Counsels in All Perplexities of Life.

Gen. Washington is spoken of as a great president, and his name has been handed down from sire to son as one of the world's greatest statesmen. George Washington was also a Christian philosopher and as a cautious, a commanding moralist he uttered important and inspiring truths. Washington once wrote: "Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience." It has been well and wisely said: "God's crowning gift to man is the gift of conscience." Reason is indeed a wonderful gift to man; by its musings have been turned into eloquence and conversations into volumes that have made the world wise. Imagination is also a great gift to man, as by this divine agency colors have been wrought into an enchanting scene upon the canvas. Memory is a divine gift to man, by which the past is brought into the present, the bad with its reproof and the good with its reward. But there is no gift comparable to the rightly ruled conscience, that friend, counselor and judge within the breast of mankind. It is true, and none knew its truthfulness better than Lord Byron, who wrote:

"Whatever creed be taught or land be trod, Man's conscience is the oracle of God."

Those of you who have read Leslie Stephen's "Life of Samuel Johnson" will recall that event in the great scholar's life where conscience speaks so loud. In his old and honored age he goes back to the little town of Litchfield that he might stand with uncovered head from morning until night on the very spot in the public highway where 15 years before he had wickedly refused to look after his old father's book stall. Though his action made him a grotesque figure, exposed to the sneers of the passers-by and endangered him, as an old man, to the storms, yet his conscience compelled him thus to expiate the guilt of a disobedient son. You have heard of the famous English judge whose duty it was to sentence an employe for the murder of his employe. Suddenly the judge took his place in the dock beside the prisoner. He confessed that 20 years before he had taken the life and property of his master, and thereby rose to his present position and influence. He urged the judges to condemn to the death to which his conscience had so long forced him. If Samuel Johnson had listened to his conscience in the first place he would have been saved from a deep humiliation, and the famous English judge would have been saved from a death on the gallows. Listen to conscience. It is your best teacher. Conscience will befriend and counsel with you in all the perplexities of life. Conscience is God within you. Listen to Him when He speaks! —Baptist Union.

A KNIGHT IN OLD CLOTHES.

The Man Who Was a Hero and Did Not Know It—Ideal of Fidelity.

His name never appeared in print but once, and few who read it then remembered it. If it is graven upon a monument, it will be in small letters, on a stone erected out of a widow's penury. The world did not know that he was a hero, and he did not know it. He was a crossing tender in a suburb of Chicago, and he did his monotonous work for years without one heroic incident apart from the performance of simple duty. Yet all the time, and perhaps unconsciously, there was growing more clear in his mind an ideal of duty, and what that duty might one day require.

A few days ago the lightning express was coming down the track. It was his duty to see that the crossing was clear, and to signal that fact to the train with his white flag. He did it, and was slowly backing from the track, still waving his flag, for the day was dark, and the engineer might not see till the train was near. From the other side of the track a little girl came toddling down, right in front of the swiftly approaching train. The train was almost upon her when the watchman saw her. He shouted, but she did not hear, or it was too late for her to heed. Even as he shouted, he ran. He knew what it meant. To save her life was to lose his life. Yet right before the train he rushed, caught her, threw her with all his might beyond the rails, and in that instant met his death.

This is no tale from the days of chivalry and the reign of chieftains.

this deed, but a knight in old clothes. It is not the glory of our common manhood that such qualities lie often unrecognized, and not infrequently latent, in the humblest lives. When they appear now and then, brought into visible shape by some emergency, they glorify not only the one exceptional deed which he performs, but all men who so labor with fidelity that may become heroic to the sight of men as it ever is to the sight of God, and all duties performed in that spirit, even those that are commonplace.

The opportunities for acts of signal heroism are exceptional. But the opportunities for fidelity that is essentially heroic are constant. The hero in uniform or in armor will ever be an attractive figure to the imagination, and will give color to the popular thought of the heroic; but the truest, most knightly heroism, and that which challenges the best in us all, is the heroism of men whose daily performance of simple duty makes clear in their own souls an ideal of fidelity which sometimes even to the sight of men, and always to the eye of God, becomes true heroism.—N. Y. Independent.

ENVOYS MEET DAILY.

Trying to Agree Upon a Basis For Action.

SEPARATE NEGOTIATIONS IMPOSSIBLE

Severe Judgments Against Pao-ting-fu Officials Generally Approved In Germany—Another War Loan Is Likely.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—Regarding the present status of affairs in Peking an official of the German foreign office makes the following statement: "Conferences are occurring daily between the different ministers representing the powers in Peking, with a view of gaining a basis upon which they can proceed jointly and harmoniously. For this purpose lively telegraphic communications are just now passing between Peking and the different home governments."

"As yet the complete accord has not been obtained which is required to take away from Li Hung Chang every vestige of hope that he can achieve successes by negotiating separately with any particular power. Only after such a thorough accord has been obtained will the representatives of the powers be ready to enter into actual peace negotiations with the Chinese plenipotentiaries."

"Whether the note of the powers to China will be a joint one or whether each power will hand in a note identical in form has not yet been decided."

The press dispatches from China regarding the various anti-foreign appointments have been corroborated by official advices from the German minister to China, Dr. Mumm von Schwartzstein. The severe punishments adjudged against the Pao-ting-fu officials responsible for the massacres are unanimously approved by Germany.

It is ascertained from a source apparently reliable that another and even larger imperial loan is forthcoming. Leading financiers in Berlin and Frankfurt corroborate this statement. The cost of the China expedition, which is much more considerable already than has hitherto been admitted, must be covered by such a loan.

Moreover, the expenses of the empire in various departments are much larger than was anticipated when the budget was passed.

Vice Admiral Alexioff has addressed a communication to Li Hung Chang asking China's intentions regarding Manchuria and inviting her to resume the government of that territory under Russian protection, which, he says, will be of mutual advantage to China and Russia.

Envoys Have Agreed.

PEKING, Nov. 6.—The foreign envoys met again yesterday morning and virtually agreed as to the points of chief importance. It was decided to leave minor differences for future discussion.

The St. Paul Limpes Into Port.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The American line steamer St. Paul limped into port yesterday under the port engine after having incurred the most serious experience of her career. On Oct. 31 at 8:06 p. m., in latitude 46.13, longitude 48.03, the St. Paul struck a supposed submerged wreck, causing the engines to race so fiercely that the shaft broke, and all connections snapped. The starboard engines were so severely wrecked that they are useless, and it will take six months to replace them with a new set. The after outboard shaft tubing was carried away. The ship is leaking considerably. When the accident occurred, the cabin passengers were quite excited, but they were soon restored to quiet by the prompt report that the steamer was in no danger. The wind was blowing heavily from the northeast, with a high cross sea. The engineers examined the breaks and disconnected the starboard engines, and the St. Paul proceeded on her voyage under the port engine at a reduced speed.

Pensions For Railway Employees.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Official notices have been posted of the inauguration of a pension system for the employees of the Pennsylvania lines. The new system will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1901. Employees aged 70 years or more will be given option of retiring from service on half pay. Another provision also stipulates that if an employee has been crippled in the service of the road he can retire at the age of 65 years. The system has been in vogue on the Pennsylvania railroad for some time, and as it has met with the approval of the employees it has been decided to extend it over the entire Pennsylvania lines.

The Cost of Postal Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The annual report of W. S. Shallenburger, second assistant postmaster general, has been made public. It shows that on June 30 last the annual rate of expenditure for inland mail service was $55,146,060, for foreign service $2,014,538; total expenditures, $57,160,598. There were 22,834 star routes, with a total mileage of 289,858, involving an annual rate of expenditure of $5,133,378; 1,943 special office routes, 182 steamboat routes, 2,668 railroad routes (annual expense $33,424,782), 228 railway postoffice car routes (annual expense $4,369,000).

Cecil Rhodes' Brother Arrives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Cecil Rhodes' younger brother, F. J. M. Rhodes of China, has just arrived in New York. He is stopping at the Hotel Victoria. "I left China seven or eight weeks ago after being hurt," said Mr. Rhodes. "Things there were far from satisfactory at that time. I shall leave this city on Thursday for California, where I intend to remain until something like order is restored in the Celestial Empire. This will probably be accomplished by spring, and then I shall return to China and resume prospecting."

A soldier of the Twentieth Kansas tells this story at the expense of a fellow-soldier: "When we were sent out on the firing-line, Pete Hogan was lying behind a tree, out of the way of bullets. All at once he yelled out like a wild man: 'Captain, I cannot stand these darned ants biting me all the time!' Zip! A bullet passed close to his body. 'On second thoughts, captain,' he yelled, 'I can't stand them!'"

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and find it to be a great medicine," says Mr. E. S. Phipps of Poteau, Ark. "It cured me of bloody flux. I cannot speak too highly of it." This remedy always wins the good opinion, if not praise, of those who use it. The quick cures which it effects even in the most severe cases make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by Banker.

OLD HOUSE; AN OLDER TRAIL.

Two Peaceful Things of Which the People of Kentucky Feel Proud.

Within a half mile of Gethsemane is an old brick house, which is without doubt the oldest brick house in Kentucky. It was erected in 1788 by Capt. Samuel Pottinger, says the Boston Transcript. Capt. Pottinger came from Maryland and built the above-mentioned house where it now stands, near what was known then as Pottinger's fork. The lumber for the interior is made of solid walnut, worked up by hand. The doors and frames are made of solid walnut and are very heavy. The locks, nails and hinges came from Virginia and were made by hand and brought on horseback over the old Wilderness road. The plastering was mixed with buffalo hair. The old house is still in the possession of the Pottinger family and it stands just as it did over a hundred years ago, without any change whatever.

But few persons are aware of the fact that near Balltown is a path which was the old buffalo track leading from Louisville to Nashville and was the old trail followed by the first pioneers into the unbroken wilds of Kentucky. This old trail was used as a road to Louisville until the building of the turnpike. The old trail is now a rough, unused path.

Text for a Swiss Guide.

The examinations for the guide's diploma have just been held at Chamounix. Each candidate has to produce certificates stating that he has made ten ascents recognized as "dangerous." These include Mont Blanc, the complete tour of Mont Blanc, the Col du Geant, the Buet with the descent to Six, the Jardin and five others chosen by the candidate himself.

Theaters in India.

In India the native theaters are all free. The curtain rolls up at nine o'clock at night, and never comes down until five the next morning. It usually requires seven nights to present a drama. People generally take their beds with them and go to sleep between the acts. The favorite play in India is the presentation of the exploits of some god.

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anemic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anemia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.
