Wild ducks are plentiful along the lake front, between Silver Creek and Brocton. Hunters have bagged a large number. It is thought that the heavy north winds has driven the ducks over into this territory from the Canadian shores.

A movement to establish in Niagara county a home for aged persons has been started. Money donated for the project will be used in maintaining aged persons who may come before the notice of the organization or will be added to a fund for building a permanent home.

The plant of the Randolph Evaporating company will not be operated this fall, failure to procure coal of the requisite kind being given as the reason. Formerly when the apple crop was large the company has bought hundreds of tons and given employment to a large number of persons.

Highway Commissioner Greene has notified Gov. Smith that contracts for new highway construction which were suspended last April will be resumed on Oct. 25, when proposals will be received for 12 highways. An elaborate construction program for 1921 has been prepared, the commissioner stated.

For the first time this fall the demand for apple pickers is in excess of the supply. The farm bureau associations has received calls for more help than it can supply. Growers are paying from 25 cents to 30 cents per barrel in addition to board and lodging. Many good pickers are averaging from 40 to 50 barrels a day.

The farmers of Dean have bought the cheese factory there and will operate it. This action was due to the condenseries declining to take milk after Oct. 1. Milk from that section formerly was taken to the Mohawk plant at Mayville which has suspended operations. Until the factory at Dean is ready farmers will take care of their milk at home.

According to Indians, who are in Cattaraugus peddling in return for clothing, the coming winter is to be a hard one. The red men point to the busy bees as their weather prognosticators and say that the bees have sealed their combs so that not a particle of air can penetrate them. This is a sure sign of cold weather, according to the Indians.

The Western New York tomato harvest has reached its finish. It is the biggest and most profitable crop the growers ever knew. Yields have run from ten to twenty tons to the acre and one grower claims 25 tons to the acre. The weather has been so favorable that the vines have been practically picked clean, few green tomatoes being left.

McKinley Peibertje Beets and Johanna Ormsby Countess each won first prize and the grand championship in the bull and mature cow classes respectively at the New York state fair, 1920. They are both owned by the Campbell farm at Wilson. Mr. Campbell made only two entries and both were successful in carrying off the highest honors.

Employment in New York state factories continues to decline slowly but steadily. The preliminary analysis of 1,570 manufacturers' reports made by the bureau of statistics of the New York state industrial commission discloses a further decrease of 2 per cent in the number of workers employed in the state for the month of September. The present downward movement of employment started about six months ago.

The state of New York, through the attorney general and the public service commission, Second district, will begin its fight to block the attempt of the New York Central railroad to have the interstate commerce commission declare it has the power to regulate intra-state railroad rates. The fight is a link in the chain of efforts made by the New York Central company to secure permission to charge a rate of 3 cents a mile in this state.

The huge plant of the Gale-White Dairy Products Co., at Whitesville, which has been in course of construction for the past year or more has been opened. The plant represents an investment of half a million and is equipped to handle the milk from more than 10,000 cows. It is planned to manufacture all kinds of dairy products, including condensed and evaporated milk, butter and cheese. It is expected to make the locality one of the most important dairy centers in the state.

To the Voters of Cayuga County:

Two years ago Tammany Hall fooled you. We, (the voters up-state) were over-confident. We did not register a big enough majority up-state to overcome Tammany's majority in New York City.

Tammany is trying to do the same thing this year.

Nathan L. Miller, the Republican candidate for governor, is the best equipped of any man who has aspired to that office in many years.

Compare what he stands for with what his opponent, Governor "Al" Smith, stands for.

MILLER stands for

1. The enforcement of the Constitution of the United States including the 18th amendment and the passage of necessary enforcement legislation in harmony with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.
2. An immediate return to Standard time. The repeal of the so-called Daylight Saving Bill.
3. Free open market for milk and other farm products with an opportunity for co-operative marketing.
4. Strict economy. A genuine business administration. The use of the veto to curb the useless appropriations.
5. MILLER WILL HIMSELF BE GOVERNOR.

SMITH stands for

1. The 2.75 beer bill and a nullification of the 18th Amendment.
2. VETOED the bill passed by the Legislature repealing the so-called Daylight Saving Law.
3. Price fixing of milk and other products in accordance with the report of George Gordon Battle and the Thompson milk bill.
4. An increase of the annual State Tax budget from $84,000,000 to $140,000,000.
5. Smith will continue to take his orders from 14th Street and Tammany Hall against the interests of the people.

DON'T BE FOOLED THIS TIME.

Vote for Miller for Governor and the Entire Republican Ticket.

Only 14, But Is Very Busy Boosting Harding

Here is a picture of James Duncan MacGregor, Jr., age fourteen, who is the publisher of The Weekly Press of Stamford, Conn. In a recent issue of his newspaper he said:
"The editor of this paper wishes to say the object of The Weekly Press is to publish facts, and do my part in helping the United States get into office good, honest men, men who love their country first of all. As I am only fourteen years old, I cannot vote, but I appeal to all voters to cast their ballot for Senator Warren G. Harding and Governor Calvin Coolidge."

JAMES DUNCAN MAC GREGOR, Jr.

James numbers his ancestors among the signers of the Declaration of Independence and always has been a reader of biographies of great men. Roosevelt is his hero. Harding is his idea of the kind of a man the country should have for President.

BAKER'S ADVISOR OUT FOR HARDING.

Washington.—Major Benedict Crowell, Mr. Baker's former Assistant Secretary of War, warm admirer of President Wilson, is the latest distinguished man to declare in an interview that he is in favor of the election of Harding and Coolidge and a Republican Congress at the polls in November. Major Crowell goes so far as to say that he is in favor of the league of nations but he prefers to take his chances on getting the league with Senator Harding rather than with Governor Cox.
"Now that President Wilson is retiring from active political life," said Major Crowell, "it is wise for his supporters to pause and take stock of the situation. I have always favored a league of nations but the Democratic party has no monopoly on the league. Indeed, the present Democratic administration has fallen on this subject in spite of the fact that 75 per cent of the Senate were in favor of some kind of a league.
"It seems evident that Governor Cox is making many promises regarding the league which he may not be able to fulfill."

LIVELY NEW YORK HOUSE

Wonderfully Accomplished Parrots and Cockatoos, Temperamental
Canaries and Brilliant Black and - Yellow Tropicals
That Imitate Musical Instruments.

New York.—Quite the most popular boarding house in New York city this summer is Virginia Pope's Bird club, at 130 West Sixty-fifth street. They counted up to the 700th bird that had arrived the other day, and then it took so much time to serve bird seed, meal worms, boiled eggs and baked apples for the little guests that they stopped counting, and no one knows how many birds there are now—three floors and a basement of them, including a bird comic opera troupe.

It is a very chatty place, this bird club, and when a reporter dropped in a gay voice said "Hello!" cheerfully and then began in a clear voice to sing:

Yankee Doodle came to town riding on a pony.

Stuck a feather in his hat and called it Macaroni.

The nonchalant reception of a guest was in keeping with the character of the singer, who is one of the aristocrats of the club. He is a Mexican yellow head parrot, a wonderful bird, one in 10,000, worth many thousands of dollars; there have never been a dozen so valuable in the country, and his mistress would not take any price for him. Polly is patriotic in his musical selections; he sings "Marching Through Georgia" and shouts "Vive la France," and if you knew his mistress you would know where he learned the sentiments, for he speaks exactly in her voice. Polly also knows his primer and if he happens to be in a showing-off mood he will ask: "Can you spell cat? I can spell cat—c-a-t, cat." He will do the same with the word dog and wind up with: "What does the canary do?" and with twitter and trills he will show how the canary sings.

An Acrobatic Cockatoo.

But the talented Mexican is not the greatest bird socially in the club if he is worth in cold cash at least $5,000. There is a big white Malacca cockatoo, "Coco," with a rose-tinted crest, who is in the $1,000 class and who trots around the floor, does a side tracking dance when in a frisky mood, and nips at visitors' feet and really does the honors of the place. If a visitor puts an inviting hand down to him he is likely to take a bite in earnest, though he rubs his head gently against Miss Pope when she appears, nips her ears and fingers, but ever so gently. He is a conceited creature and poses for admiration openly. He does gymnastic stunts on a chair, and to attract your attention and show you how he does it he calls "Hello" now and again in a voice that is astonishingly human. He can converse fluently in both French and Spanish.

While the club has its greatest number of visitors in summer. It is an all-the-year-round affair and takes in not only boarders, but hospital patients, birds that have bad manners, and others for one reason or another. Miss Virginia Pope was the first woman to put the bird club and hospital on the map. She has a wonderful fondness for the little creatures, birds having been her favorite pets from the time she was a little girl, and she has remarkable control over them and they seem to have absolute confidence in her. When she has taken in a sick bird that needs constant care and warmth she has been known to take it to bed with her and with it lying up close to her throat she has cared for it all night, ready to attend to its slightest need.

Birds Are Temperamental.
"Give the birds something to amuse them," says Miss Pope, "especially the parrots; clothes pins, a buckle with a strap, a key on a ring, or a little bell, and one parrot has been known to go to sleep with a little china doll in its paw, like a child. Toys keep them from pulling out their plunage."
"Birds are very temperamental. I had one canary that I could not persuade to take a bath. It fluttered its wings and appeared very angry and unhappy every time the bath was brought until one day by chance I brought the water in a very gay-colored little dish. I was surprised to see it hop down to it quickly and there was never again trouble with that little bird's baths. The little tramp, as I had called it, became a clean little gentleman."

Birds go to the club sometimes to learn good table manners. Some of them are very naughty about scattering seed out of the dishes onto the floor. It is a bad habit which can be broken. Parrots sometimes have not the bath habit because in their native climates there are heavy dews and they are not accustomed to the baths taken by smaller birds. A spray bath with an atomizer or plant sprayer twice a week keeps them clean and happy.
Birds are subject to all sorts of ills which affect human beings. They have indigestion if they have poor seed; they are sure to get rheumatism if their perches are left damp, they have a variety of typhoid fever, and it is bad for any of them to hang in drafts or out of doors, and they may have different affections of the lungs. Very ill birds are sometimes given a Turkish bath by being fastened to a hot-water bag and a cloth placed over them to induce perspiration.

From Canaries to Crows.

Canaries, of course, predominate in numbers in the clubhouse, but there are birds of all kinds, including the various-talented parrots. Aside from those already mentioned, Polly Shapard talks and also sings "Yankee Doodle." There is a Panama parrot whose accomplishment is singing "Tipperary"; one parrot crows like a cock, and of two others, mates, Polly and Abe, one whistles the "Merry Widow Waltz," and the other dances the waltz on his perch.
There is a big black crow who used to speak German, but cannot now be induced to say a word in the language. Little white love birds with red bills have big round empty coconut shells for nests, and very cunning they look in them when they go to sleep at night with little heads out at the round opening. Miss Pope has reason to love cockatoos, for one of them, Bob, saved her life at one time, pecking her cheek early one morning, awakening her to the smell of smoke and a fire.

Some of the most valuable birds in the club at present are the brilliant black-and-yellow tropicals, which can learn the sound of musical instruments and to sound a bugle call. One of these in a big roomy cage was being prepared the other day for a trip to England. Part of his food was being sent with him, seed and meal worms, and there were full directions for a further diet of egg, chicken, apples, etc., that could be served to him from the ship's table. He went off with a messenger, his future owner being a little English girl. An unusual bird of distinguished appearance which is a permanent guest is a corolla which once belonged to Margaret Anglin, the actress. If you are selecting parrots they will tell you at the club that the South African is the best imitator and the Mexican and South American have the biggest repertoires.
Ambulance for the Hospital.
The club hospital has had its own ambulance, a pretty thing that a child would like for a plaything, a little covered affair similar to a regular ambulance and drawn by a tiny horse. It was a feature in some of the animal league parades. There is a surgical department to the hospital and birds' wings and legs when broken can often be set satisfactorily. There is also a little bird burying ground out in Buffalo, where they are sure of an undisturbed resting place. Two little love birds shared one of these little coffins. The first had been ill and died and was brought to the club to be prepared for burial, and in the meantime its mate died of grief and loneliness and they were buried together.
New York does not stand first in the cities of the country in its love and care for birds, Miss Pope says. Boston has that honor; Philadelphia is second and this city third. New York birds have their manures, however. Well-cared-for birds have their bills and claws trimmed every so often.

Kansas City Man Says Even That Didn't Make His Wife Behave.
Kansas City.—"I've done my best for her, judge. I've got a car and some money to make it comfortable for her, and I've beaten her every day since I married her seven years ago, but I can't make her behave," complained Frank Grochocki to Judge A. J. Herrod.
"How can I love him when he treats me so? Last night he refused to keep me any longer, and kicked me out into the street and cut me with a knife," said his wife, Emma, who had him arrested for assault.
"Why don't you try kindness?" asked the judge.
"I did once, and she threw a telephone at me," replied the man.
"I threw the telephone at him when he tried to choke me," broke in his wife.
"Anyway," said Grochocki, "she always gets the best of the fights."
"That's true, at least," the wife admitted.
Judge Herrod gave up in despair and turned the case over to the welfare board.

Catches 12-Pound Fish and Then Catches Afire

Waukegan, Ill.—Albert Gerry of Waukegan caught a 12-pound pickerel at Fox Lake on Labor day, the record catch of the season. WILL HAVE CITY MANAGER

Montreal's Experiment in Government Will Be Interesting to Many Communities in the United States.

That American cities have no monopoly in political misgovernment is shown by the record of Montreal, remarks the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Twelve years ago the old-style council of two members from each of the 31 wards provoked a scandal and investigation that led to a recasting of the form of municipal government. Ever since the ward politicians have been trying to get back and to restore their discredited system, which was at first supplanted by a smaller council of one member per ward without authority over money matters and a body of four appointed commissioners with the mayor as the fifth. Two of the new commissioners and the mayor were soon charged with practices akin to those of the old system and the commissioners were removed and the mayor reduced to a mere figurehead, while charge of the city was given to four newly appointed commissioners, their chairman being empowered with managerial authority. The politicians naturally made the most of this imposition of an appointed city administration by the provincial government and recently the prime minister named a committee of leading Montreal citizens to draft a new charter on a representative basis. This body has now received the report from its sub-committee favoring a council of nine members elected at large, the election of a mayor by council and the appointment of a genuine expert city manager.

DETROIT VALUES ITS TREES

Newspaper Pays Tribute to Thoughtfulness of the Early Settlers Who Planted Them.

If a woman's crowning glory is her hair, a city's is its trees. Detroit is particularly fortunate in the preservation of its splendid tree-lined corridors, and it is a proof of the thoroughness of earlier citizens that they saw the beauty which nature had provided, and carefully preserved it for the glory of the metropolis to come.

Imagine, for one minute, Second boulevard, or any other prominent thoroughfare of your acquaintance, stripped of its curtain of leaves and boughs! It is too harsh even to contemplate.

If you could view the city from the top of one of its tallest buildings, you would obtain an even more impressive lesson in just how much of Detroit is sheltered and enhanced by its trees.

The department of parks and boulevards declares rescue work is imperative to save the elms; it is a matter on which every citizen can unite. The work should be done, and doubtless will be done, with the indorsement and eager co-operation of every citizen.

For Detroit to permit her handsome trees to perish would be nothing less than a crime against the bounty of nature.—Detroit News.

Keep on Planting Trees.

As an asset to any piece of property, a tree or trees can not be overestimated. The moment a tree is planted the value of a piece of property is increased. As Mr. Kennedy says to the boys, "time goes on just the same," so why not plant some trees. The tree-planting campaign that is occupying the attention of the country right now has taken on many phases, and in each of these phases the value of the property is being increased whether it be a school yard or a "Road of Remembrance," such as is being planted with memorial trees in many parts of the country. A properly planted road means better transportation to or from or between towns. That all means better business, better living conditions, and a better country.—Sheldon Ridsdale in National Property Owner.

Preparation of Annual Lawn.

The annual lawn, which is necessary in some cases preparatory to the making of the permanent lawn, may be made by seeding with Italian rye sown either in fall or spring at the rate of two bushels per acre. When properly cared for this will make a beautiful green sward to eight weeks from seeding. It is imperative that this grass be cut when it has reached a height of three to four inches; otherwise the lawn will be unattractive.

Find Old Roman Tombs.

Four Roman tombs, built in the third century and containing golden objects, urns, glass work, pottery and bones, have been found in a gravel pit near Iwerien in Dutch Limburg. Many of the things are of great scientific value and further excavations are being made.

Killing Flies With Formaldehyde.

To kill flies with a solution of formalin or formaldehyde in water the method is: Put a teaspoonful of formaldehyde into a quarter of a pint of water and expose in the room. This quantity is enough to kill all the flies in one room.

Exton Leonard.

The wedding of Ruth Curtis Leonard, daughter of the late William E. and Virginia Bowman Leonard of Genoa, to Herman Halliday Exton of West Groton, took place at the Leonard home north of this village, on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 27. For the occasion the house had been prettily decorated with a variety of fall flowers, roses and evergreens.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, by Rev. Stanley C. Page of King Ferry, the beautiful double ring service being used. The bride was becomingly attired in white chiffon over white silk and wore a veil of net and duchesse lace and carried a bouquet of white bride roses. She also wore a necklace of seed pearls. As attendants, she was preceded by her little cousins, Frederica Mesmer of Syracuse, wearing point d'esprit over blue satin, and Jane Leonard of Auburn wearing point d'esprit over pink satin. Leonard Strang, the little nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer. The bride was given in marriage by her older brother, Lawrence Leonard. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played by Arthur T. Clark of Auburn seminary and Genoa.

Following the ceremony, congratulations were extended, after which a wedding luncheon was served, the guests being seated at tables. Several friends of the bride acted as waitresses.

The guests included only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, about thirty in number, from West Groton, Leominster, Mass., Syracuse and Auburn. Many valuable gifts were received, among them being a complete set of table silver, dining room set, $100 in checks, two twenty-dollar gold pieces, and other articles.

The young couple left amid showers of confetti for a short wedding trip to parts unknown and will be at home after Nov. 1, at the groom's home at West Groton. They have the best wishes of many friends in this vicinity.

A variety shower was given for Miss Leonard on Thursday evening of last week, from 8 to 11 o'clock, in the Baptist church parlors by friends in that society and in the Presbyterian congregation. The bride-to-be received a large number of gifts, including linen, pyrex, pictures, and other articles. About forty ladies were present. Supper was served at tables and the occasion was a pleasant one for all.

Miss Sarah Exton and her sister, Mrs. Alice House, gave an announcement party and linen shower from 3 to 7 p. m. Saturday at the Exton home at West Groton, for Miss Leonard who became the bride of their brother, Herman Exton, on Wednesday.

Cornell—Rutgers Game.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 25—One of the most interesting games on Cornell's home schedule will be played here next Saturday with Rutgers as the opposing team. This will be the first time in a great many years that a Rutgers team has come up-state and the first game between the two elevens in a long time.

Rutgers in recent years has proved a stubborn opponent as several of the big teams of the East can testify. Cornellians are looking forward to a close and interesting contest and the management anticipates that the football loving public of Central, Southern, and Western New York including the people of Genoa will be well represented.

VILLAGE AND VICINITY NEWS

Election day Tuesday next, Nov. 2. Vote early.

Mrs. W. R. Mosher is suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

Miss Eleanor Sharp spent Monday and Tuesday in Syracuse.

B. D. Banker of Pittsburgh, Pa., visited his parents the first of the week.

Miss Irene Mulvaney spent Saturday night and Sunday at her home in Auburn.

Mrs. Myer of Interlaken visited her son, J. W. Myer and family the first of the week.

Tuesday next, Election day, being a holiday, the First National bank of Genoa will be closed.

Mrs. S. J. Longstreet of King Ferry is spending the week at the home of Mrs. B. F. Samson.

Miss Mabel Young of Auburn was a Sunday guest at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Ernest Mead.

Mrs. Frances Smith of Auburn has been a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McDermott.

Remember the donation benefit for the Genoa hospital to-night. Contributions can be left at any time.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Tupper of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tupper at East Genoa.

Mrs. Mary Clifford and little son of Auburn are spending a week at the home of her mother, Mrs. T. Tyrell.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Smith left Sunday with Frank J. Brock, on a motor trip to New York via the Delaware Water Gap.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wackenhut and Mrs. Jennie Darrow of Auburn spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huff and daughter of Auburn were visitors at the home of the former's brother, Frank Huff, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reas, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bronson and Mr. and Mrs. Claud Reas of Cortland were Sunday guests at the home of W. F. Reas.

Misses Louise and Alice Montgomery of Auburn, with Miss Anderson of Endicott, were recent callers at the home of their sister, Mrs. Morell Wilson.

Rev. R. A. Fargo went to Cortland Tuesday to attend the State Baptist Missionary convention, Oct. 26 to 28. Mrs. W. F. Reas also attended the convention.

News has been received of the death of Henry Mead, a native of the town of Genoa, at his home in Greeley, Colo., on Tuesday. He leaves a wife and a brother, Arthur S. Mead of Moravia who has been seriously ill for several months.

Mrs. Robert Strang and two children of Leominster, Mass., have been spending the past week at the home of her brothers and sister, north of the village. Mrs. Strang was formerly Miss Elizabeth Leonard of Genoa.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Warren and Miss Elizabeth Tedre of Syracuse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamkin of Poplar Ridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Boyer and little son of Ithaca were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riley.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Taber of Genoa, in Auburn City hospital, Oct. 23, 1920. The death of the little one quickly followed birth and the burial took place on Monday at Moravia. Mrs. Taber, who was critically ill for a few days, is reported as improving nicely.

Mary Pickford will be the special attraction at Genoa Gem theater on Monday next. At her fourteenth birthday, Mavis Hawn, a Kentucky mountain girl, decides that books and not bullets are essential to her life's success. So thinking, she mounts the family donkey and sets out for the lowland school to find the strangest thing she has ever seen—a railroad train, which she thinks is a threshing machine. This is one of the unusual situations in "Heart O' the Hills," adapted from the story by John Fox, Jr., in which Mary Pickford will be seen at the Gem theatre, Monday, Nov. 1, afternoon at 2:30 and evening at 7:30.

Mrs. Robert Armstrong is in quite poor health.

Geo. W. Ford has been in Ithaca and South Lansing for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spafford and son were in Auburn recently to attend a funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt, Jr., and family of Marcellus were guests at the home of Dr. J. F. Mosher, Sunday and Monday.

Wiatt Wilson spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morell Wilson. He was accompanied by Billy Eider of Auburn.

A meeting of the East Genoa Cornell Study club and the Genoa branch of the Home Bureau at the home of Mrs. Frank Huff this (Friday) evening.

A number from Genoa and vicinity attended the operas by the Creator Grand Opera Co., at the Auditorium in Auburn, last Saturday afternoon and evening.

C. A. Smith has opened the Genoa Garage until sold, and has secured Carl Hanson to manage it for him. All repair work will be skillfully attended to.

Mrs. A. L. Hagin of Ithaca was a guest of Mrs. A. Lanterman Saturday last. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Davis of Lake Ridge were also her guests on Tuesday.

Another dancing party will be given in Venice Center hall on Friday evening, Nov. 5. Extra good music has been secured—the Jazz orchestra of Syracuse. Dancing and supper $1.50, tax included.

Dr. Hollis E. Dann, head of the music department in Cornell university, has resigned to become director of the state school system of music in Pennsylvania, with headquarters in the capitol in Harrisburg. The resignation will take effect at the close of the summer session in 1921. Mr. Dann will assume his new duties Sept. 1, next year.

W. E. Davis, manager of the County Farm Bureau, attended the annual conference of county Farm Bureau agents held this week at Geneva and Ithaca. The first two days were spent in Geneva at the State Experimental Station and the remaining part of the week at Ithaca. Miss Esther Royce, manager of the Home Bureau, also attended the conference.

An enthusiastic Republican rally was held in the Gem theater on Thursday evening of last week, which was attended by a large audience. Dr. J. W. Gard acted as chairman, introducing the several speakers in an able manner. Good selections were rendered by a male quartet from Auburn. The speakers were Congressman Norman J. Gould, County Judge Mosher and Mrs. Burton of Rochester, all of whom discussed issues of the campaign.

Saving is a practical subject and most of your success depends not upon how much you make, but how much you save. Each individual must adopt such measures as will achieve success in his individual case. Successful saving requires great will power and you must prove your ability to be master of yourself, in not spending all you earn nor deny yourself all pleasure, but choosing a road somewhere between and sticking to it, using good American common sense.

At the session of the Presbyterian Synod of New York in Binghamton last week all present were allowed to speak one minute on their choice for president of the United States and other officers in the coming election. For president, Senator Harding received 27 votes; Governor Cox, 3; Watkins, 3, and Debs 1. For United States Senator from New York, Mrs. Ella Boole received 24 votes and Senator Wadsworth, 4; Judge Miller received 23 votes for governor of New York, Governor Smith 3, and Thompson 2.

Genoa Presbyterian Church Notes.

Theme for Sunday morning's sermon by the pastor will be "Christian Mastery." All are invited to attend this service and remain to the Sunday school immediately following.

Choir rehearsal to-night (Friday) at 7 o'clock and the mid-week service at 8 o'clock. Please note that next week, these meetings will be held on Thursday evening, instead of Friday.

Last Sunday evening the delegates to the State Sunday school convention gave their reports. Excellent accounts of the different departments of work were presented by Miss Lillian Bower, primary; Miss Frances Cope, young people; Mrs. A. Burgman, adult; A. P. Bradley, general.

The concert given in the church on Wednesday evening by the choir of the First Presbyterian church of Auburn was a pleasing success, notwithstanding the delay in commencing, as the result of their car getting in the ditch about half a mile from town. The program, consisting of quartet numbers by the choir, solos by the individual members, and several violin selections by Arthur T. Clark, was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Mason, the organist, was the accompanist. The attendance was not as large as the entertainment merited. The silver collection amounted to about $15. The church appreciates the coming of these musicians and regret the difficulties experienced in getting here.

GALEN REPUBLICAN Will Vote for Capt. Shuler

Daniel E. Jenison, of Lock Berlin, says every man, woman and child owes a debt of gratitude to Democratic Candidate for Congressman from the 36th District, made up of Wayne, Ontario, Yates, Seneca and Cayuga Counties.

Capt. G. K. Shuler

Mr. Jenison says: "I want to help Capt. Shuler because of the help he gave to America in France. I feel that every man, woman and child owes him a debt of gratitude. I have nothing against Congressman Gould. I have voted for him each time and feel I have done as much for him as he has done for me. Capt. Shuler has done more for me than I can ever repay.

I can't see how Mr. Gould can expect more than a handful of votes from Wayne this year. I expect every voter to accept Capt. Shuler's candidacy as an opportunity to express their loyalty to America. Lyons is proud of Shuler. Wayne County is proud of him. New York State is proud of him. America is proud of him. I look for a Shuler landslide in this the home county. I am sure that the Wayne County men and women are big enough to forget politics in this matter and vote for a man who faced death many times for us in France."

THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD SHOWS that Congressman Gould, of 437 Roll Calls in the 66th Session voted only 137 times. In other words, did not vote 300 times.

A Prayer for Christians

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL

Assistant Dean, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT.—And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment; that ye may approve things that are excellent; that ye may be sincere and without offense till the day of Christ; being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.—Philippians 1:9-11.

Many Christians plead inability to pray in public. This is true not only of some whose spiritual life may be cold, but of some whose devotion to God is manifest. We have a suggestion to offer which we trust may be of service to all who would like to take part in public prayer meetings but feel they cannot. It is this: If you have no words or thoughts of your own to present to God, take the thoughts and words which he himself has given in his book. Such prayers are better than any we can formulate, and have the assurance of an answer because they are inspired of the Holy Spirit.

In the verses quoted above we have an excellent example of a scripture prayer.

Abounding Love.

To begin with, Paul prays that "your love may abound." There was some dissension among the Philippian Christians to whom he was writing, and he was greatly desirous that it might be healed. The cure for it would be a new access of love. But how we need this same heavenly blessing! It is true that to be a Christian at all means to love, but the apostle prays that love may abound, overflow, and that it may abound more and more. As an old writer has put it: "The fire in the apostle never says, Enough."

Paul goes on to pray that love may abound "in knowledge." The knowledge referred to is spiritual knowledge, and at once we see that such knowledge is the fruit of love. In the spiritual realm it is love that knows, rather than intellect, although, of course, intellect has its place. But it is suggested that, as Jesus said, "Except a man be born again he cannot see." This explains why some old man or woman who scarcely knows how to spell may be able to teach the learned the ways of God.

"Judgment," also, is included in this prayer. It may be said that "knowledge" deals with general principles and "judgment" with their practical application. Such insight leads us to distinguish things that differ so that we not only discern between the good and the bad, but between the good and the better, the excellent and the best. What great need there is of such "judgment" today! And let us not forget it is the fruit of love, for only those who have an affection for the best things are keen to discern them. The result of love which abounds in knowledge and all judgment will be that they will be "sincere and without offense." The word for sincere conveys the thought of clearness, freedom from complications, transparency. To be void of offense implies that we have no stumbling block within us in the sway of the gospel, and that we offer no stumbling block by our life before men.

A Lost Hope.

It is especially to be noted that we are to be sincere and void of offense "till the day of Christ," so that we may pass under the eye of the Judge unashamed. What an incentive to believers is thus furnished by the coming of the Lord! Well may we reiterate the words of Prof. A. T. Robertson: "It is a pity that so many modern Christians have lost any real joy in this blessed hope and no longer look for the coming of Jesus to claim his own."

Finally, Paul prays they may be "filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ." Note that all are to be good, not only in a negative sense, but also in a positive one.

The end of it all will be "the glory and praise of God." This is the true goal and end of all our blessings and labors. And it will be brought about as men see realized in us such a prayer as that of Paul.

May we offer this prayer, both in private and public!

Benevolence.

A vigorous, outdoor, breezy moral culture lives in the active present, and, having done its best, dismisses the past without regret. The best curative for spiritual morbidity is a little unselfish benevolence. Perhaps because doing good to others implies less thought of ourselves, does it seem the most perfect kind of happiness. We are in a position for high spiritual aspirations when we get farthest away from self.—Humphrey J. Desmond.

Our Progress and Devotions.

If we esteem our progress in religious life to consist only in some exterior observances our devotions will be quickly at an end.—Thomas a Kempis.

The Soul's Languor.

Self-indulgence is the soul's languor, which numbs it and deprives it of all energy for doing good.—Fenelon.

LAUDS HARDING'S WELFARE PROGRAM

Marion, O.—Mrs. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, was the spokeswoman for thousands of women industrial workers and women interested in problems of public welfare who gathered here to listen to Senator Harding's speech on "Social Justice."

Mrs. Robins, who is president of the National Women's Trades Union League, said:

"We have come knowing well that we represent but one of many groups of citizens in America, with necessarily divergent interests, and we understand we must find the way so to relate our various needs and hopes and aspirations that out of such inter-relationship may come the realization of America's ideals, for first and above all we want to serve our country."

"We have always known," said Mrs. Robins, "that certain groups of women are vitally interested in social and industrial questions—but we did not know that the great mass of women, all sorts of women, young and old, from the farms and from the cities—are also interested."

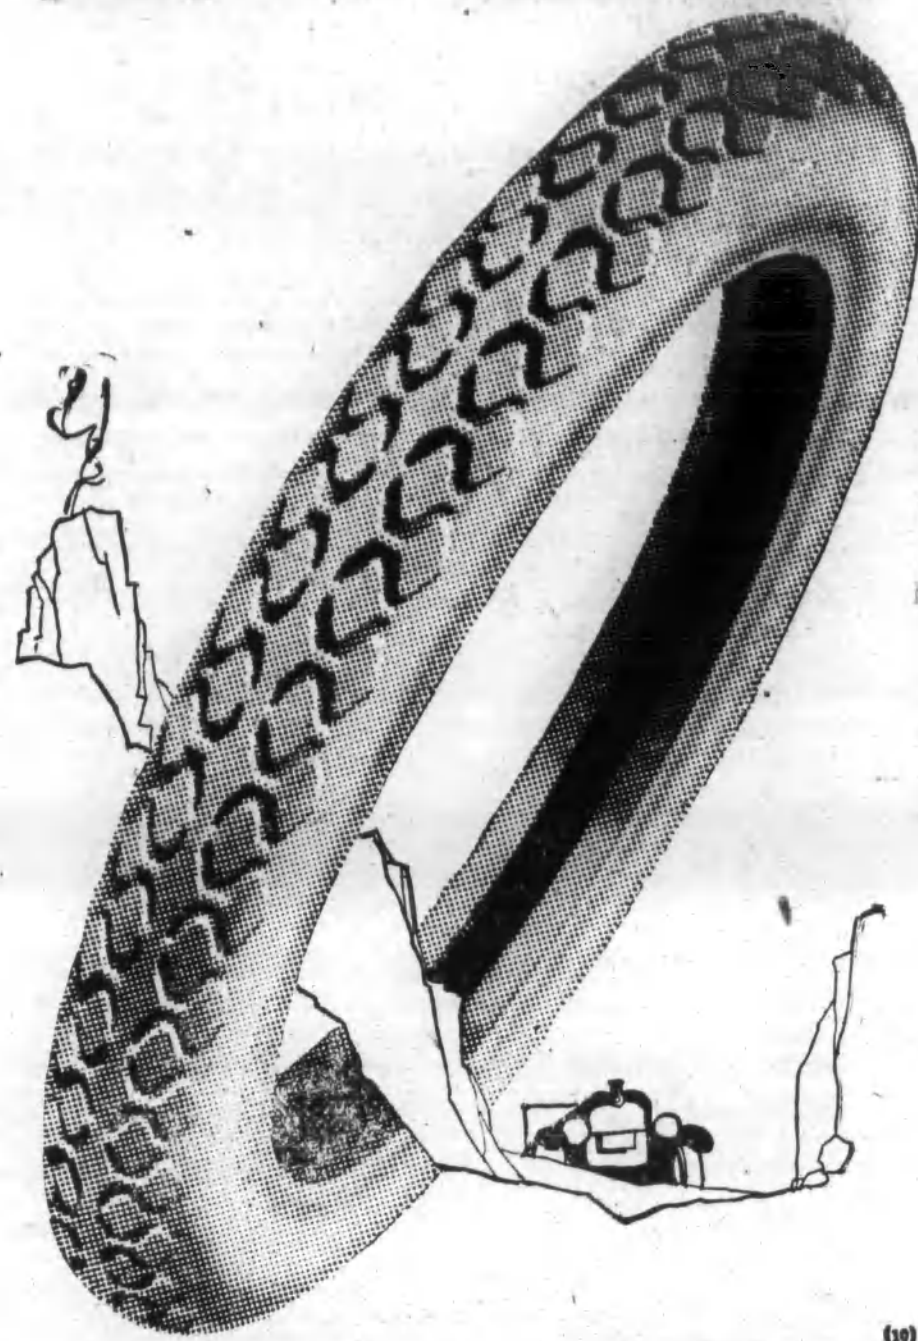

"What is it they see in the call to social justice? They see their opportunity to serve the nation in and through a program dealing with the vital issues with which they are at home, the protection of childhood, the care of mothers and babies, the safeguarding of women workers, the conservation of health and the needs of women on the farms."

"We have listened to a great speech, one of the few great speeches of a decade, and its effect will be far reaching."

Many are for Cox, says George Harvey, because they are convinced that he will not keep his word. It is hard to conceive a harsher criticism of a Presidential candidate.—Wheeling (W. Va.) Intelligencer.

WIDOW OF ROOSEVELT URGES ELECTION OF WARREN G. HARDING

In Statement Declares Country's Vital Need Is Victory for Republican Candidates.

FIRST BACK OWN COUNTRY.

Says Opportunity Has Come to Women to "Make Her Influence Mighty in Behalf of Nation."

Oyster Bay, N. Y.—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, is evincing keen interest in the Republican campaign. She recently gave to the press the following statement urging the election of Harding and Coolidge:
"The country's vital need is the election of the Republican candidates.

MRS. EDITH KERMIT ROOSEVELT.

Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge. Only will the full measure of Americanism in the next Administration be attained, if the people shall declare for the party which holds true nationalism as its high ideal. It is not necessary to forget our duty to our neighbor in doing our duty at home.

"The time appeals most strongly to the manhood and the womanhood of America. To woman more than ever before because to her has come the perfected opportunity to make her influence weighty in behalf of the nation.

"This year as never before, with world conditions as they are, steadiness and staunchness of American purpose are obligator: if we would first bring back our country to its stable place and then by strong endeavor do all that can be done for peace and the general welfare in all lands."

REPUBLICANS INSURE ECONOMICAL CONDUCT

Washington.—Not one man in ten thousand realizes the enormous expenses run up by the present Government. The disbursements are roughly $15,000,000 a day, more than a year after the war. In 1914 the people expostulated because the daily disbursements by the Treasury had reached $2,000,000. How gladly would the people groaning under the impositions of profiteers and the burden of taxes welcome a return to those halcyon days! Congress and the new Administration will have to deal with the reduction of Government expenditures.

The same party that has swelled them returned to power will never reduce them, because it claims the government is being economically administered. The Republican party will delight in reducing these enlarged expenses for clerk hire, and the insatiable bureaus that have been built up into money spending machines. By holding in their hands all lines of expenditures the new Congress and new Executive working together will cut down excessive items and eliminate others to an aggregate of hundreds of millions of dollars.

NATION DEMANDS THOROUGH CHANGE.

Chicago, Oct. —If one were required to name a single factor which is doing more than any other to work toward Republican success in November, he would probably have to say:

Determination of the public to have a change and to get away from Wilsonism.

Reports from all quarters tell of this feeling, at once a desire for a change and a determination to bring it about at the polls November 2.

Whether it be from the central west, the far west, the east or the south, the reports tell of this seeking for a change. The desire for a change is born of dissatisfaction, dislike and disgust felt by the voters toward the Wilson administration and the things it has done and left undone.

Mr. Cox is looked on as a man who if he were elected would follow the track of Mr. Wilson. In fact, he has declared himself in "complete accord" with Mr. Wilson.

The public, by all accounts, is not looking for a man who will go along with Mr. Wilson or the Wilson policies.

Why Vote for Miller?

Concrete Facts:

Nathan L. Miller, the Republican candidate for governor, understands the problems of the farmer.

Nathan L. Miller was born on a farm. His sympathies are with the farmer.

He stands on the Republican platform, which is committed to solve the problems of the farmers.

Nathan L. Miller favors terminal markets and better transportation facilities so as to remove the opportunity of middlemen to profit unduly from the necessities of both producer and consumer.

Nathan L. Miller says: "I do not and shall not favor any attempts at price fixing."

Nathan L. Miller favors an amendment to the Daylight Saving Law so that it shall not apply to rural districts.

Nathan L. Miller favors stimulation in the production of milk, reducing the cost of production and distribution.

Governor Alfred E. Smith views the farmer with the eyes of Tammany Hall.

Governor Smith favors the creation of a milk commission composed of Tammany politicians WHO WILL FIX THE PRICE OF MILK THAT THE PRODUCER CAN CHARGE. The distributor is not to be disturbed by the milk commission.

Governor Smith vetoed the daylight saving repeal and is in favor of daylight saving.

Governor Smith favors the creation of more commissions to increase the cost of government and provide jobs for Tammany politicians.

Daylight Saving Resolution.

At 2 o'clock Sunday morning, Oct. 31, the clocks in this state, and in places where daylight saving holds, will be turned back one hour and standard time will again prevail. The National Daylight Saving association, of which Marcus M. Marks of New York is president, Saturday adopted a resolution for the introduction of a bill in Congress making daylight saving uniformly operative next summer throughout the territory from Cleveland to the Atlantic Ocean.

The proposed bill will be a compromise to the extent that one month will be cut off at each end of the daylight saving term, making the changed time period extend from May 1 to Oct. 1, instead of from April 1 to Nov. 1, as now holds.

Fell from Apple Tree.

Charles Lane of South Lansing met with quite a serious accident last week Wednesday, while picking apples at the home of his brother-in-law, Jay Sharpsteen at East Genoa. He was standing on a large limb which broke and he fell to the ground, a distance of about 15 feet, striking on his back. A physician was called to attend him. He was removed to his home on the Lake road Friday. No bones were broken but he is suffering from shock and bruises.

Aurora.

Oct. 23—There will be a class in Home Nursing beginning Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Miss Messenger's.

Miss Margaret Cromwell of Philadelphia is spending some time with her parents.

Mrs. Jennie Shields has recently accepted a position at the Wallcourt school.

The students at Wallcourt had a birthday tea in their honor on Thursday, Oct. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wineart and family of Ithaca were Sunday guests at the home of W. H. Brown.

Clothing Prices Down

I have put all my Fall and Winter Suits and Overcoats at the old prices. I have bought my entire line of winter clothing at the very lowest possible prices for the season and have marked them at lowest living profit. No doubt others will offer clothing at lower prices, but considering quality and tailoring of my clothing, and the prices I am offering, I am not afraid of any competition. All I ask of my friends and customers is to come and examine my merchandise and you will be convinced you can save from $5 to $10 on a Suit or Overcoat.

A big line of sweaters and underwear at much lower prices.

To Make Good Farmers.

Cayuga is one of the 44 counties in New York state in which it is realized that the way to make better farmers and better homemakers is to start with the boys and girls.

Figures just given out by the state leader of junior extension work at Ithaca show that 12,000 boys and girls in 44 counties are now engaged in some of the projects, by means of which they learn the fundamentals of scientific handling of livestock, growing of crops, garment making, cooking, or similar work.

Not only are 44 counties carrying on this work with boys and girls, but 22 of these counties have regularly-organized county boards of junior extension, and seventeen of these, among which this county is included, have leaders who are devoting their full time to the work. The junior project plan, it would seem, might run its big brother, the farm bureau, a race for popularity. Ten counties made junior project exhibits at the state fair this year—and ten farm bureaus were likewise represented by exhibits.

—Supreme court came to an unexpected close Monday morning, when, upon learning that none of the cases upon the calendar was ready for trial, Justice Adelbert P. Rich recessed the jurors from further attendance at the October term.

Eat an Apple Every Day.

As a part of its campaign to promote greater use of New York apples, the division of Foods and Markets has published an attractive pamphlet entitled "Eat More New York State Apples" describing the various kinds of apples grown in the State, and the uses for which they are best adapted. It includes several pages of recipes.

These and button-hole tags with a life sized picture of a big red apple on the side, and "Eat a New York State Apple Every Day," on the other are to be distributed through schools and civic organizations throughout the state.

Trial Term of Surrogate's Court.

One case comprises the calendar for the trial term of Surrogate's Court which will convene at the County Court House on Nov. 8, with Surrogate Walter E. Woodin presiding. Owing to the small calendar, it is anticipated that the court will not be in session more than a few days at the most.

The following jurors have been drawn from this part of the county: Genoa—Carmil Chaffee, Frank Starner.
Niles—Timothy Hartnett.
Owasco—Smith Selover, David Stone.
Springport—Harold Johnson, Eben Beebe, Harry Stock, Hanssychill—Archie Hampton.
