Poppy Memorial Flower.

The Shirley poppy has been chosen as the memorial flower by the American Legion, and its cultivation is urged, in memory of the soldier dead. Thousands of gardens will glow this year with the blazing scarlet, made imperishable by the author of "In Flanders' Fields." The poppy is easy to raise—the seeds merely scattered on the spaded earth and lightly pressed with a board to firm them into place. No cultivation is required.

Educating the homes, we evangelize the world.—J. G. Holland.

Perennials for Home Garden.

Amateur and professional flower growers are especially invited by the New York State College of Agriculture to attend its farmers' field days at Cornell held in Ithaca, June 30, July 1 and 2.

The department of floriculture works in close co-operation with the American Rose society, the American Peony society and the American Iris society. Its collections of plants in these three groups are said to be among the best in the country.

On Wednesday, June 30, there will be an outdoor demonstration of the value of perennial plants for the home flower garden. At 1 o'clock there will be a round table discussion on all phases of rose culture. This discussion will take place in the rose test garden which is conducted in co-operation with the American Rose society and is for the purpose of showing the hardiest and general adaptation of various types of roses for the general section of the country represented by the Ithaca test garden.

On Thursday at 1 o'clock there will be a similar discussion of peonies in the peony test gardens and on Friday the same program will be carried out in respect to irises.

Closely Contested Match.

In a closely contested spelling match, Nina Slater, a pupil of Central Grammar school of Auburn, took first honors Saturday afternoon with 60 champion spellers of the county as her competitors. She won only after giving absolutely perfect spelling of 150 words. Mildred Giblin of the St. Aloysius school, her nearest rival, spelling 49 of the extra 50 words correctly.

When the first 100 words had been given the students, it was found that the Slater and Giblin girls were tied for first honors, each having spelled correctly the entire list.

Interest in the contest took on a new enthusiasm as an extra list of 50 words were picked for the two girls. Miss Slater went through this list without a single mistake and Miss Giblin missed but one of the 50, a remarkable record in itself. The Slater girl will have all expenses paid to the state fair to compete in the state examination there. The prizes there will be $20 to the winner, $15 to second place, $10 to third and $5 to fourth.

Postmasters in Ithaca.

The annual convention of the New York State Presidential Postmasters will be held in Ithaca on June 14, 15 and 16. A. Raymond Cornwall of Watertown, chairman of the executive committee, expects the attendance at the convention to be the largest in the history of the association.

Six things which have helped make farming profitable: Proper use of fertilizer especially manure, proper tillage, good seed, crop rotation, drainage, liming.

Income Tax Distributed.

Smiles wreathed the county treasurer's face recently when he received a check for $55,881.28 as the county's share of the income tax collections.

State Comptroller Travis has beaten the law by a month in making this payment, as he had until July 1st to make the distribution. This comfortable sum which is the county's portion of $16,000,000, will not remain long in the county treasury because it must be allotted to the cities, villages and towns in the county. Altogether the comptroller's bank deposits totalled $32,000,000, one-half of which was paid to the state treasurer before the checks were sent to the counties. More money will later be secured from this source as tax payments hereafter received will be distributed at quarterly periods.

Payments for any cities in the county are to be made to the chief fiscal officer for city purposes. Amounts apportioned to the towns are paid to the supervisor for general town purposes, in towns not containing any part of a city or village.

If a town contains a part of an incorporated city or village, division is to be made between the town and the villages or cities on the basis of their assessed valuation of real property wholly within such town. After making such payments to the towns and villages, the county treasurer pays any balance to the supervisors for general town purposes.

Guernsey Club Outing.

The first summer picnic of the Cayuga County Guernsey breeders points to the largest gathering of cattlemen ever held in this part of the state. The picnic will be held on Saturday, June 19, at Edgemere farm, Moravia, the farm of W. P. Parker. Large delegations are expected from the Tompkins and Onondaga County Guernsey clubs.

H. E. Babcock, secretary of the farm bureau federation of New York and a leading cattleman of Tompkins county, will head the delegation from Ithaca and will be the principal speaker. To take care of the other necessary features of the picnic, a committee consisting of Ray Alexander of Union Springs, A. F. Stubbs of Auburn and E. C. Weatherly, manager of the farm bureau, was appointed. Mr. Parker, the host, will furnish coffee and Guernsey cream for the picnic throng, while all will take baskets.

Cayuga ranks first among the counties of the state in breeding of Guernseys, and it is expected many important matters of interest to all breeders will come up for discussion.

State Leads in Maple Sugar.

New York state in 1920 produced just a third of the total United States crop of maple syrup and sugar. Vermont has lost another of its chief distinctions. Central and Northern New York took most of these laurels.

The average yield per tree this year was two pounds of sugar or one quart of syrup. The average price was 35 cents a pound for sugar and $2.70 a gallon for syrup.

The total crop of maple sugar in America this year was 7,500,000 pounds as against 10,000,000 pounds in 1919 and 13,000,000 in 1918. The syrup crop was 3,677,000 gallons as against 3,917,000 gallons in 1919 and 5,000,000 gallons in 1920.

Genoa Girl Wins Honor.

The Cortland Standard of June 2, in an extended account of Honor day at the Normal school, says in part:

"Under the beaming rays of a bright and cheerful June sun and with nature bedecked in its finest array, Honor day was observed by the members of the Cortland Normal senior class in a most successful manner. The class honors were announced by Principal H. DeWitt DeGroat at the regular chapel exercises which were held in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church at 8:45 o'clock this morning.

The present class is composed of sixty-eight members and they will leave their alma mater with the distinction of having among their midst honor students whose percentages are the highest of any class which has graduated from the school in the past eight years."

"Principal H. DeWitt DeGroat stated in his opening remarks that the honors of the class were computed and based on the averages and percentages of the individual students. The present class had a total of twenty of its members whose names were inscribed upon this honored list, and of this number eight of the students were Cortland residents."

"The principal's appointment for the senior class was awarded to Miss Esther Stephenson of Genoa, N. Y. Miss Stephenson is a graduate of the Central High school of this city in the class of 1918 and she is a member of the Clonian fraternity of the Normal school. The principal said prior to announcing the coveted honor that it was always a difficult matter to make this selection, and that in so doing, no advice or suggestions were sought from the other members of the faculty. The award is given in due recognition of faithful service to the school and its members by the individual, and is not based principally upon the scholastic standing of the person. The choice of the principal was a popular one, prolonged applause greeting Miss Stephenson as she arose to acknowledge the distinguished honors."

Sells-Floto Circus in Auburn.

When the Sells-Floto circus comes to Auburn Thursday, June 17, for afternoon and evening performances, great throngs of people from this section, will be in attendance for we are all, more or less—circus hungry.

The circus this season is the second largest in the world and has the pick of the circus performers on its roster. "The Birth of the Rainbow" opens the great performance, being followed by aerial acts that are thrilling; contortion acts, real features; ring acts that are marvelous; Indian, dog, posy, monkey, riding, animal, clown and scores of other acts. Three rings and two stages are used this season. And a band of 50 musicians adds its bit to the program making it the greatest performance under canvas that will visit this section this season.

Better mark the date in your calendar, get the kiddies in your neighborhood together and all come and spend the day with Sells-Floto. Be in time for the parade in the morning.

—The Summer School of Theology will open at Auburn Theological seminary on July 5 and continue until July 24. The largest attendance since the school was organized is expected this summer.

—Prof. Francis Marion Burdick, formerly of Cornell, and more recently of Columbia University, died suddenly at his summer home in DeRuyter Thursday morning, June 3. He apparently had been in good health, and his death came as a shock to those who knew him. He was 74 years of age.

—Rev. George Bowler, pastor of the church in Fabius, will return to Scotland with William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson in the fall. The arrangements were perfected during the visit of "Pussyfoot" and his party to Syracuse recently. Mr. Bowler was born in Scotland and when a mere lad he worked in a brewery in England. Mr. Bowler has prepared lectures to deliver in England and Scotland and has written a book about "The Bible and the Boose Business."

Genoa Wins Over King Ferry.

The results of the physical ability tests taken last month for the statewide contest show a score of 33.36 for Genoa, and 29.75 for King Ferry. Besides this, the average of the Genoa first year high school girls was 52.8, the highest in the two and a half counties (Tioga, Tompkins and the southern part of Cayuga) of the schools under a state supervisor, and as such was sent to Albany on the final score sheet.

The scores for the other two contesting schools of the county are: Fair Haven 51.6, and Union Springs 41.5. Freeville Union school took the lead in this territory with a score of 47.3. The Genoa pupils who made an honor score are Florence Holden 66.6, and Ruby Shaw 56.3.

The tests for the girls were the 50 yard dash, the basket ball throw for distance, and running and catching a basket ball thrown over a horizontal pole ten feet above the ground. The last named event was judged both for speed and accuracy. The tests for the boys were the 100 yard dash, the standing broad jump, and chinning the bar.

WHY Men of the Negrito Tribe Shave Their Heads

Though the Philippines have made marked strides in culture, industry and civilization in recent years, as set forth in their recent pleas for independence, some natives of the islands, as do a few Indian tribes in the United States, still present striking subjects for study by ethnologists, according to a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

"The Negritos are generally considered to be the true aborigines of the Philippines, and are racially sharply distinct from most other numerous tribes of the islands," says the bulletin, which is based on a communication to the society from Dean C. Worcester. "They are of low, sometimes even dwarfish, stature, with very dark brown, or black, skins. Their heads are covered with closely curling hair, and many of them have abundant woolly beards. They often have so-called 'peppercorn' hairs distributed very abundantly over their bodies. Their noses are broad and flat, their lips thick, their arms disproportionately long.

"They do not tattoo their bodies, but ornament them with scar patterns, produced by cutting through the skin with sharp pieces of bamboo and rubbing dirt into the wounds thus formed in order to infect them and make good big scars. The men wear small cloths, and the women short skirts reaching from the waist to the knee. They are very fond of brightly colored cloth, scarlet being preferred, but individuals who cannot get cloth, and there are many such, use instead the so-called 'bark cloth,' so widely employed by inhabitants of the islands of the Pacific. Men frequently shave the crowns of their heads in order to let the heat out."

BIG PART OF TREE WASTED

Why Turning the Forests of the Country into Lumber Involves Great Loss of Material.

How many of us realize the appalling wastefulness which is practiced in our broads upon our timber lands? It is authoritatively declared that in turning the forest tree into lumber and then into the finished products, the original wood is subjected to greater losses than any other important raw material. R. G. Skerrett writes in the Scientific American. Remember, we cut down every year now fully 40,000,000 feet of timber, and the wastage is such that only 320 feet of marketable lumber is obtained on an average from each 1,000 feet cut in the forest.

Take the long-leaf pine for example. Instead of sacrificing two-thirds of the tree, as is now done, that particular branch of the lumber industry could be made to furnish us daily from the discarded material quite 40,000 tons of paper, 3,000 tons of resin, 600,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol and 300,000 gallons of turpentine.

Why Weeping Aids Eyes.

Tears are provided for washing the ball of your eyes. Every time you wink a little tear is released from under the eyelid, and the wink spreads it all over the eyeball. This washes down the front of the eyeball and cleanses it of all dust and other things that fly at the eye from the air. Then the tear runs along a little channel, much like a trough, at the lower part of the eye, and out through a little hole in the eye, and in this case the tear is really only an eyewash. Many things, but more often sadness or injured feelings, start the tears coming so fast from under the eyelid that the little trough at the bottom and the hole in the corner of the eye are too small to hold them or carry them off, so they roll over the edge of the lower eyelid and down the face. Among other things that will stimulate tear glands and cause an oversupply of eyewash to come down are onions. What they give off is very trying to the eyes, and so, just as soon as the something which an onion throws off hits the eyeball the nerves of the eye telegraph the brain to turn on the tears quickly, and they come in a little deluge and counteract the bad effect of the onion.

Why Leisure is Important.

The fellow who takes time to get a grip on life is the fellow who will forge ahead. To do this he must be master of his spare time. The hours of leisure are the hours that make or break a man. In them he forms habits of thrift or prodigality. Time well used means a brain well stored. This becomes the ready asset of needy hours and the unexpected. He meets exceptional situations with confidence, and men learn to trust him in times of stress. And he learns to believe in his own strength. It is no wonder that a little detour in life's morning has made such beautiful going in life's afternoon.

Named From Saint's Day.

On the tenth of April, 1534, Jacques Cartier sailed from France with two small ships and 122 men to found a colony in North America. In May he arrived in Newfoundland. Cartier entered the Newfoundland waters in the fete day of St. Lawrence, and called the Gulf St. Lawrence in honor of the patron saint of that day.

Why Living Cost Increased.

One of the explanations of the high cost of living in the Philippines, as given by a complaining native, is that the tribesmen who were formerly content to appear in a breech cloth are now compelled to wear trousers by order of the Spaniards.

ITS EARLY DAYS WERE TRYING ONES

But Those Days Have Passed. Salvation Army Now Given Just Due.

Hectic days and trying ones were those which marked the early period of the Salvation Army in America. The first band of Salvationists landed in this country in 1880. Its members were scoffed at and abused. Hoodlums broke up street meetings and more often than not the law was against them instead of with them. Blood was shed on more than one occasion.

In 1884 in Buffalo an attempt was made to asphyxiate the workers by cutting the gaspipe in the cellar of the Salvation Army Hall. Later in Charlotte, Mich., ruffians placed a dynamite bomb in the hall. The danger was sensed and the occupants fled just a minute or two before the bomb exploded and shattered the building. One of the perpetrators of the outrages, who was hiding in a building nearby, was killed by the explosion.

But the time came when these persecutions ceased and the people realized what a wonderful work the army was doing. Today its work of charity is generally admired.

The Salvation Army's campaign for ten million dollars, money needed to conduct its work during the present year, now is going full swing throughout the nation. It will end on May 20th.

LASSIES ARE AGAIN ON FIRING LINE.

Dispensing Doughnuts and Coffee During Salvation Army Home Service Fund Drive.

The lassies who braved the shell fire of the enemy to bring cheer and comfort to the boys in the trenches are on the job again, but this time the bombardment is under more favorable auspices. Uniformed workers of the Salvation Army, assisting the Home Service Fund drive now on and lasting until May 20, have established themselves in army huts on the main thoroughfares of many of the larger cities of the nation and are dispensing doughnuts and hot coffee to the weary wayfarer who plods up and down the street on business bent.

"Seems like old times," said one of the workers who saw service in France, "but it is much more enjoyable. Many of the boys who relished our doughnuts and coffee 'Over There' are again patronizing us, or are stopping to reminisce."

In addition to the Salvation Army workers uniformed members of the United States Army also are serving at these booths or huts as they were termed. In Buffalo, Col. Baroll of the Army recruiting station assigned 12 regulars to duty at the huts and when the rush becomes too pressing they jump into the breach and serve doughnuts.

"We do this cheerfully," said Col. Baroll. "We haven't forgotten the service of the Salvation Army."

The drive, nation-wide, is for ten million dollars to carry on the work the army is doing.

HIGH PRAISE FROM PROMINENT PERSONS

Big men have been generous in their praise of the work of the Salvation Army.

From each of the last five presidents of the United States has come tributes to the Salvation Army. President Wilson recently declared that it makes bad citizens into good ones and was right.

Col. Roosevelt lauded it for its influence "in those dark regions where, save for its forces, only evil is powerful," while President Taft lauded its "practical methods of charity."

The Army now is conducting its Home Service Fund drive throughout the nation, seeking $10,000,000. The campaign closes May 20th.

PROUD TO WORK WITH SALVATION ARMY.

Franklin K. Lane, former member of the cabinet, who has linked himself with the Salvation Army and is taking an active part in the Ten Million Dollar Drive now being conducted by the Army throughout the nation, recently commenting on the oft repeated statement about the poor always being with us said: "I am proud to face the problem of the poor with the Salvation Army."

Mr. Lane, just at this time, is devoting much of his energy and time to making the Home Service Fund Drive a success. And he feels sure that it will be. The campaign ends on May 20th.

RICH CREATION FOR SUMMER

This is a charming afternoon frock of peach georgette, embroidered with crystal beads. Simplicity in design and trimming do not detract from the beauty of this winsome American fashion.

GRACEFUL CAPES FOR SPRING

Garment, More Enchanting Than Ever, is Designed for Every Place and Every Occasion.

The French are a tenacious people and once having plumbed the depths of a fashion and found it practical and beautiful, they are loath to discard it and oftentimes renew it from year to year by a few superficial changes. Thus it is that capes are with us still more graceful, more supple and of different fabrics, but as enchanting as ever. For every occasion and place, from golf course to dancing veranda, new versions of silk, velvet and wool will be worn through the coming seasons.

Of very newest design, which a letter from Paris describes, is a cape of heaviest silk crepe tightly accorion plaited hanging from a narrow throatband of moleskin. It is unlined and unfitted, taking its form from the shoulders of the wearer. The wonderful silks in changeable effect, plaids and tinselled embroideries shown here now could be utilized with stunning effect in one of those plaited wraps.

Plaid silk is also plaited, but diagonally in a sunburst effect, and is hung from a deep pointed yoke with a soft crush collar. For sports-wear or for use in the country is a smart knee-length cape of striped taffeta with the lower part of the skirt criss-crossed with narrow stitched bands in a bewildering design. For windy days a hood disguising itself as a large loose collar may be pulled up over the head.

BRIEF FASHION NOTES

Hats of natural leghorn with fringed brim edge are an interesting item of millinery fashions.

Transparent foliage in brilliant coloring is a recent Parisian conceit in millinery trimming.

An effective and practical lingerie set suggested for a trousseau is of orchid georgette, devoid of lace, but trimmed pleasingly with tiny ruffles of self-material and narrow ribbon in orchid and yellow.

Some bolero suits are being shown and are suggested as being particularly smart and becoming for the young, slender woman, for these are made only in misses' sizes.

The ripple suit of French origin has been copied by American manufacturers, but on decidedly modified lines, to meet the approval of conservative women who want smart lines, but not radical or extreme lines.

Smart modes in dresses are in evidence on all sides, until it is difficult to pick out any one mode for word portrayal, but frocks of tricotine are decidedly interesting when developed with plaited skirts and tailored surplice bodices that wrap about the waist and finish with sash effect, the entire bodice being almost completely covered with Japanese embroidery.

Novelties in Wraps.

There are many novelties in the hip-length sport and semi-formal wrap, made with unique sleeves which show the dolman influence. Three-quarter coats for practical tailored wear are shown with belts encircling the figure, or only in front, leaving the back loose and full. The dolman and cape influences are strong in the high-priced coats, says Dry Goods Economist. Waist-length cape effects, which follow the lines of the postilion cape so highly favored by French designers, are among the novelties for the coming season.

U. S. NAVY

Tinsmith School.

Some U. S. sailors are shown here making plain and fancy stovepipes at a Navy training school.

The gentle art of tinsmithing as taught in the U. S. Navy schools fits a man for a rating aboard a man o' war. There his work is confined to his specialty and his ability should increase throughout his enlistment.

There is no excuse for a man not becoming an expert by the end of his third or fourth year. He may then return to civil life entirely qualified in a profitable trade or continue in the service at the advanced pay allowed for re-enlistments.

Besides the tinsmith school there are schools for every other trade used in the Navy. Carpenters, blacksmiths, plumbers, electricians, bakers, pharmacists, and a dozen other specialties are taught to the young recruits. If a young man has a hobby and wishes to perfect himself in some trade that he is fitted for, he may receive expert training by joining the Navy and applying for entrance to some trade school.

SALVATION ARMY "A TOWER OF STRENGTH," SAYS HELEN KELLER

Salvation Army officers in Pittsburgh were amazed and pleased recently to learn from Helen Keller herself that, despite her handicaps, she is almost as familiar with the work of the organization as any doughboy who fought in France.

In perfectly enunciated English this girl, who in childhood was dumb as well as blind and deaf, told Brigadier Josephine Albright, in charge of the Army's work in Pittsburgh, how highly she esteems the organization.

"I feel that all the afflicted of mankind have a tower of strength in the Salvation Army," she stated.

"I honor the women of the organization for their courage and efficiency."

"The Salvation Army is an organization of lives showing forth the spirit of Him who raises those that fall and holds up those that are bowed down."

Miss Keller's tribute to the Salvationists came in the course of a theatrical trip which she is now making.

LOVE HOLDS THESE CLUB MEMBERS TOGETHER

In a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, where thousands of nameless babies first see the light of day. (Insert) Play time in the nursery of a Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital.

Out-of-Love Club members, whose little nameless babies first saw the light of day in a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, meet once a month in each of the twenty-three cities in this country in which there is a Salvation Army Rescue Home. They discuss their problems, their work, their gratitude to the organization that sheltered them when they were friendless, their plans for the future.

The members of the club, which is one of the biggest women's organizations in the country, numbering more than 30,000, were all at one time inmates of a Salvation Army Rescue Home for unfortunate women.

They are all employed now in positions which the Salvation Army has provided for them, and they are all making good. They come back from time to time to the meetings of their club to help the girls who are still inmates of the institutions, to bring a little sunshine into their lives and give them new hope for the future.

This is the system that the Salvation Army uses to keep in touch with the girls who have passed out of the Rescue Homes. This is one of the reasons why more than 85 per cent of all the women who are graduates of the Army's twenty-six institutions for erring girls are now supporting themselves and their children and leading self-respecting lives.

The Salvation Army Rescue Homes are one of the many activities to be supported by the Salvation Army's $10,000,000 Home Service Fund, for which an appeal will be made from March 10 to 20.

HAVE NO BUSINESS SCRUPLES

Why Firms That Have Dealings With the Wily Jap Must Be Keenly Alert and Watchful.

A British firm once contracted to deliver a piece of machinery in Tokyo, but because of some unavoidable delay was unable to live up to its contract. Fearing lest the Japanese consignees should make efforts to collect the money indemnity due them for nondelivery, according to the Living Age, the Japanese agent of the British firm sent to the home office a suggestion for avoiding payment. Mr. E— is the English agent of the same firm, also stationed in Japan:

"Regarding the matter of escaping penalty for nondelivery of machine, there is a way to creep around same by diplomat. We must make a statement of big strike occur in our factory (of course big untrue). Please address my firm in inclosed form of letter and believe this will avoid penalty of case. As Mr. E— is a most religious and competent man and also heavily upright and godly, it fears me that useless apply for his signature. Please attach name by Yokohama office making forge, but no cause to fear prison happening, as this is often operated by other merchants of highest integrity.

"It is highest unfortunate Mr. E— so godlike and excessive awkward for business purpose. I think much better add little serpentine wisdom to upright manhood and so found a good business edifice."

In these few sentences, concludes the Living Age, lies all the wisdom of the East applied to all the wisdom of the West.

Why Few Travel in Afghanistan.

Even in recent years there have never averaged annually more than five to ten Europeans in Afghanistan. A European or American who wishes to enter the country must have a permit, or firman, signed by the army, asserting that the bearer be allowed to proceed through the country unmolested, and that a bodyguard, pack animals and tents will be supplied for the road. Upon the presentation of this firman to the secretary of state for India, a permit is granted allowing the bearer to pass the frontier, but at the same time the recipient is required to sign a paper stating that he understands that the British Indian government takes no responsibility either for him or his business. A British subject receives no more protection than any other national. A. C. Jewett writes in Asia.

Prosperity is watching around the corner. A bouquet of War Savings Stamps will make her smile on you.

Rolling stones gather no moss, but War Savings Stamps gather interest.

It seems as though the good people who surround our stores are more than pulling for our interests. Our business this spring has been the best ever and the trade is constantly growing.

Of course you know that we aim to carry huge stocks of everything and it makes little difference what you want—we generally have it in stock. It is our ambition to make our house just the one that you desire it to be and believe us we appreciate every little move that you make in our behalf.

Grains and feeds of all descriptions are stocked and we can fill any sized order so don't be afraid that the order that you require will be too small or too large—your old friend NICHT will execute any order placed.

Don't sit there and think this over—get busy and slip that very next requirement in seeds, feed, flour or poultry supplies to us.

Biggest, Busiest and Best Millinery Store in Auburn

Newspaper Century Old.

A valuable keepsake in the form of a newspaper—the Cayuga Republican of July 8, 1829—has recently been brought to this office by D. Bradley of King Ferry. The publisher was T. M. Skinner of Auburn. Although nearly a century old the paper is in a fine state of preservation and quite legible except where it has been folded. The paper itself is discolored by age, but is not many shades darker than much of the newsprint which is used to-day. There are many interesting items and advertisements. The latter are mostly set in reading matter type and the last page is almost entirely given up to patent medicine ads. A "For Sale" ad. is signed by Adonijah Tillotson, Genoa, May 30, 1829. The farm of 200 acres in the town of Genoa, "one mile east of Cayuga lake and half a mile south of the Homer Turnpike" is offered for sale.

Among the marriage notices was the following: "On the 1st inst., at Friends Meeting House, Ledyard, Mr. John Fish of Springport, to Miss Lydia Sisson of the former place."

On the first page is some poetry written by the father of Mr. Bradley, at Northville, and signed "W. G. B."

It takes twenty pages to list the publications which the state college has prepared to be of service to you. Better send for the list. A postal card addressed to Rhaca, N. Y., will bring it.
