FROM NEARBY TOWNS

Interesting Items That Our Correspondents Have Gathered For TRIBUNE Readers.

Five Corners.

Aug. 4-Rev. E. L. Dresser occu-Jessie Morey of Lake Ridge, assisted Sunday, Aug. 9, a boy. in caring for her last week, and a sister from Ithaca is also with her Jay Smith spent a few days last week. week visiting relatives in Auburn, him home.

of Dr. Skinner of Genos.

he fast as his many friends wish he made a business trip to Moravia and He recently received a Genoa last Saturday. shower of 257 postcards from his Mrs. John Morrison and Mrs. numerous friends.

the guest of her niece, Mrs. Jay last Saturday. Smith.

Geo. Morrison and daughter, Mrs. Ida Smith, are visiting relatives in friends on Owasco lake.

Waverly and Dansville, N. Y. Miss Hattie Todd is spending the week at Culver, Blue's. J. D. Todd was elected trustee

Tuesday evening and Walter Hunt con, last week. clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Martin of Burdette visited at George Curtis' week. last week Thursday. Andrew Brink and wife of North Lansing also visited at the same place last week.

A good many attended the ice cream and cake social at the Belltown is at Jesse Otis' for a few weeks. church last Saturday eveding under the auspices of the L. A. S. of Belltown. It was a success financially. Alfred Ranney and wife of Sum merhill were last Saturday and Sunday guests of Frank Corwin and wife. Master Carl Goodyear visited relatives in Ithaca a few days this

Mrs. Brind and two children returned to their home in Newfield last week.

W. B. Walker returned to his home in Moravia last Saturday.

Jay Hunt of Groton has been laying a cement floor for George Curtis. care of Dr. Hatch of King Ferry.

E. B. Stewart is recovering slowly from his severe illness. S. S. Close visited friends at Van-urday.

Etten, a few days recently. Mr. and Mrs George Swan return- their old friends.

Ludlowville Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Barger and Miss Iva Barger made a business trip to Ithaca Tuesday of this week. Avg. 11-Mrs. Kate Smith, who has been very ill for many months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Hunt, passed away Monday

2 o'clock. The West Genos and Five Corners Sweazy next week Friday, Aug. 21, health for the digestive organs in a for another year will take place.

Shoulder Braces. 50c. An easy method of helping a person to straighten up. All sizes for children and adults. Sagar Drug Store, Au-

Sherwood.

Avo. 10-Two more visitations of pied his pulpit here last Sunday, Mr Stork; At the home of Mr and after having a three weeks' vacation. Mrs. Wesley C. Georgia, Thursday, Mrs. Kate Smith still remains Aug. 6, he left an eight pound boy, very poorly. Her daughter, Mrs and to Mr. and Mrs. John Kanaley,

> Mrs A. B. Comstock visited friends in Aurora and Newfield the past

Charles Koon and wife spent the returning home Tuesday. Mr. and past week with friends in Sodus, Mrs. Orrin Kneeshaw accompanied Fair Haven and Waterloo, returning Sunday night.

Mrs. M. A. Palmer is under the care | Miss Antoinette Ward is the guest of Mrs. Henry Morgan in Aurora.

Dr. A Rosecrans does not improve A. B. Comstock and W. G Ward

Charles Comstock were the guests of Mrs. Minturn of Binghamton is Mrs. Coleman at Sheldrake hotel Clarence Smith and Harry Brewster were over-Sunday guests of Mrs. Paul Ward and children spent Friday in Sherwood.

Joseph Morrison of Syracuse made a short visit to his uncle, John Morri-Miss Anna Gould of Auburn visited her friend, Elizabeth Otis, last Miss Lois Otis of Philadelphia is visiting at her brother's, Stephen Miss Rebeca Otis of Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Mary Delap of Venice and Mrs. Sarah Randall of Sterling are the guests of their niece, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster. Gaylord Baldwin is spending the week at I. N. Brewster's.

West Venice

Aug. 8-Fair weather the past few days for harvest work. Corn and weeds are growing finely.

Thomas Owens and J. G. Corey are each getting along nicely with their new barns.

Miss Mary W. Cook, accompanied by her brother, Dr. C. G. Cook and Mrs. Herman Ferris is under the family of Brooklyn, returned to her home near Darlington, Md., Friday. The many friends of Wm. King were very much shocked to hear of his sudden death last Tuesday. His family have the sympathy of all ed to their home in Auburn last Sat. J. C. Peckham, who was very sick a few days ago, is reported Mrs. S. S. Goodyear and daughters, better, Dr. Cuddeback of Aurora Mrs. Frank Young and little son reached him in 15 minutes in his Harold, and Miss Cora Goodyear, auto. With telephones and autos visited Henry Dean and wife near one can get a doctor very quickly now-a-days. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cook visited

Mrs. Martha Davis Sunday after

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general night. The funeral will be held at family remedy, for headache, bilious the place of death on Thursday at ness and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, O. T. U. will hold a business for the benefit of those seeking relief beeting at the home of Mrs. Myron from such afflictions. There is more at 2 o'clock. The election of officers bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of," Sold under guarantee at J. S. Banker's, Genoa and F. T. Atwater's, King Ferry drug stores. 50c nourishment from her food.

> Freckle Lotion. You can keep your complexion fair by using Rezall Tan Freckle Lotion. 25c. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

She took Scott's Emulsion.

She gained a pound a day in weight.

A New Orleans woman was thin.

Because she did not extract sufficient

&&&&&&&&&&

Try our Job Printing.

Result:

East Venice.

Aug, 4-R. T. Doty and wife spent Saturday and Sunday in Rochester. Mrs. Louis Lester and Mrs. Geo. Signor are spending some time with relatives at Westport.

Edgar Tift and Mrs. John Smith visited at F. E. Young's Wednesday. Frank Whitten and wife visited Ralph Teeter and family at Cascade Thursday.

Gilbert Dean and Fay Teeter have commenced threshing.

Frank Huff and wife and Bert Smith and family visited at Casper Nettleton's Sunday.

Miss Mildred Teeter has been spending a few days in Moravia this week.

Mrs. Chas. Fenner visited parents Tuesday. Aug 11-Simeon Signor and wife spent Sunday at Casper Nettleton's. Miss Lens Teeter is spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Clyde Conklin of Locke.

Miss Della Reynolds of Moravia has been engaged to teach the East

Venice school another year. Charles Horton has a new horse which he purchased in Auburn.

Frank Young and wite called at Reuben Doty's Sunday afternoon. Jesse Whisten and wife were in Auburn Saturday

Venice.

Aug. 11-Mrs. John Taylor of Auburn spent last week with Mrs. W. Boothe.

Robt. Armstrong was in Auburn on business Saturday.

Richard Thorpe and wife of Fleming visited at J. C. Misner's Sunday, also Wm Pope and family of Scipio and Wm Holcomb of Auburn.

Wm. Manchester and son visited the former's aunt, Mrs. Walter Divine, at Union Springs part of last week.

Chas. Coffin and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Parsons, Sunday, Mrs. Ada Decker and little granddaughter are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs Elias Beach.

Chas. Stevens returned to his home in Horseheads last week.

Miss Emma Aspel of Moravia visited Mrs. Henry Purdy recently.

The annual picnic of the Venice Baptist Sunday school will be held in the church grove next week Tuesday.

While Elias Beach was blackberrying, he had the misfortune to fall, injuring one hand so severely that a doctor had to be called to dress Lansingville.

Aug. 10-Miss Leona Smith of Ithaca is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Andrews of Buffalo has been engaged to teach the Lansingville school the coming year, and Miss Nellie Tucker in the German district, Gladys and Mabel Drake are spending the week with their cousin, Miss Lizzie Drake, at King Ferry.

Rev. Thomas Small of North Lansing preached at the church Sunday, as the pastor, Rev. K. F. Richardson, had not returned from his vacation. He expects to return before Sunday. Miss Hattie Smith, who has been spending the past few months at North Lausing has returned to her home here. Wilbur Boles visited at Ledyard Sunday.

Mrs. Martha Bunnell of King Ferry is visiting her son, Jay Bunnell and family.

Clarence Boles is spending several days at Ludlowville.

Mrs. Wilbur has returned to her home in King Ferry after spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Lester Boles.

The Bower reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Dean, Wednesday, Aug. 19.

for Sore Feet.

"I have found Bucklen's Arnica Salve to be the proper thing to use Aug. 27. for sore feet, as well as for healing burns, sores, suts, and all manner of abrasions," writes Mrs. W. Stone, of thing too for piles. Try it! Sold under guarantee at J. S. Banker's, Genoa and F. T. Atwater's, King Ferry drug stores, 25c.

Subscribe for THE TRIBUNE.

Venice Genter.

ravia is spending some time with her friend, Mrs. S. E. Beardsley. Miss Grace Butler of Moravia is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Horton. Miss Jennie Hutchison, who has been quite ill with a bronchial trouble, is improving.

Miss Alta Horton is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Butler of Moravia.

Lewellyn Gillett of Syracuse was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beardsley.

Frank Mosher and wife went to Belltown on Sunday last.

A number of young ladies from this place and vicinity are camping near Cascade for a week. Among them are Lena Mosher, Bessie Clark, Corena Clark, Gertrude Bennett, Emily Bennett, Clara Andrews, Effic and Ella Blair. Mrs. Will Kenyon at Venice the 18th and the M. E. is chaperone for the party and Mr | church social at Mr. and Mrs. Will Frank Tuttle is fisherman and gen- Weyant's the 14th. eral utilityman. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mosher and Mrs. David Beebee were also at the same cottage during the past week.

Mrs. R. C. Wyllie had the misfortune to fall down cellar recently, injuring her hip quite seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cully of Homer visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark, a few days recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Starkweather of their aunt, Mrs. Eli Dolton and family.

Mrs S. Pfusick and three children of Chicago are guests of W. B. Sax ton and wife.

There will be a lawn social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Weyant day. on Friday evening of this week for Wm. Grant and wife of Scipic the benefit of the church at this spent Sunday at Frank Holland's. place. It is expected that Thomas S Bates of Summerhill, who carried Geneva are spending a few weeks off the prize for oratory at Syracuse University at his graduation in June, will be present and entertain the company with some readings in elecution. Ice cream and other refreehmente will be served.

Miss Maxie Morey of Auburn is Ithaca hospital. visiting her sister, Mrs. Clarence Streeter, for a few days.

Mrs. S. Cranson is entertaining her aunt, Mrs. Seybolt and two diana are the guests of L. A. Gooddaughters from Syracuse.

Fred Clark is building an evaporator on his premises just north of this At the recent school meeting the following officers were elected: R. J. Coulson, trustee; Warren Beardsley, collector; R. C. Wyllie, clerk.

Poplar Ridge,

Aug. 10-Mrs. Ada Wheeler of Geneva is spending her vacation visiting relatives in this locality. Mrs. Wilson Mosher and Miss Lizzie Peckham were in Auburn Sat. Tully.

Allen Landon and family visited at Roy Holland's Sunday.

Jesse Jacobs and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Miss Sarah Carter of Albany is spending a few days at George Hus-Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosher are entertaining friends from Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Barnes and on spent a portion of last week with friends in Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. George Starkweather of New Jersey were guests at Edwin Mosher's last week.

Leland Landon visited a few days Clear View.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Mosher and son of Aurora and Mr. and Mrs. Carter Husted were Sunday guests at Geo. Husted's.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Landon spent Saturday and Sunday visiting friends at Farley's camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Mosher will entertain the relatives of the Nichols reunion at their home Thursday, an important matter. You are sure East Poland, Maine. It is the proper to find a comfortable and perfect Trues in our large assortment, Our stock covers Trusses for all forms of rupture, and an expert is in charge. No extra charge for fitting. Prices from $1.00 up. Sagar Drug Store, Trusses. The fitting of a Truss is Indian Field.

Aug 10-Mrs. R. H. Waldo of Mo Aug. 10-Carpenter Clarence Baker and assistant Charles Andrews commenced work on the P. C. Storm farm last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leader and child called on relatives in this vicinity Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Urwin Saxton and children of Geneva were Sunday guests of Arvid Bennett and wife. Miss June E. Cornell is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. Clay Schenck, at Union Springs. Fred Hart of Wood's Mill passed away Saturday. Mr. Bart had been a sufferer from cancer for a long time. Mrs. Elizabeth Collins is staying at Mrs. Elijah Eaton's.

No Extracting of Teeth afterdark This will be a busy week, as the Oakwood picnic at Oakwood, Springport, will be held the 18th, the Poplar Ridge basket picuic at Cascade the 11th, the Baptist social King Ferry.

Aug. 12-The sixth annual Shaw reunion will be held at the home of Mrs. Emeline and Frances Shaw on Tuesday, Aug. 25.

A retreat or mission will begin at St. Mary's of the Lake church on Sunday morning, Aug. 23. Services will be held morning and evening for a week. The sermons will be of Newark are visiting at the home delivered by Father Doran, assisted by priests from neighboring parishes.

Ruth Bradley has a tine new piano. Mrs. Effa Mead of Auburn, Mrs. Cornelia Stephenson of Aurora and Mrs. H A. Willets of Poplar Ridge were guests at G. W. Shaw's on Sun-

Mrs. Richard Bush and son of with her mother, Mrs. Jane Bower. Mrs. Pratt of New York City is visiting friends here. Miss Katherine Wood has recover ed from her operation so that she is able to return home from the

Mrs. F. T. Atwater and daughters were in Auburn on Tuesday. Stephen Thomas and wife of In-year and wife. Dr. Dommett, dentist, will be a King Ferry Friday afternoon, Aug

Ensenore Heights.

Aug. 11-Chas. J. Baldwin and wife are enjoying a ten days' stay at the Thousand Islands.

Mrs. Helen Daniells and Miss Mary Metlar of Port Byron were guests at R B. Eaker's last week. Mrs. H. E Woodward and daughter Frances are visiting relatives a of Auburn. George Pickens and wife, John Pickens and John Bassett and wife of Groton were Sunday guests of C.

Miss Gertrude A. Barnes is entertaining her friend, Miss Grace Chapin

Adelbert Pickens and wife Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E Chapin of Brooklyn, Aug. 6, a daughter-Dorothy Helen. Mrs. Chapin Fleming. was formerly Miss Grace Barnes of this place. Mrs. Alton E. Banks of Moravia 1908, at 3 o'clock. Burial at Fleming spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Wyant.

Frank C. Delano is under the care of Dr. F. C. Smith of Fleming. last week at Dayton Atwater's at and Mrs. Maria Tompkins of Union sense of smell and completely deand Miss Eliza Post.

> Floyd Wheat of Moravia visited John Eaker, last week.

Brooklyn.

the store, during Mr. Baldwin's ab-Weak women should read my these soothing, healing antiseptic suppositories, bring quick and certain help. The Book is free: Address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis.

Subscribe for THE TRIBUNE.

Dr. J. W. Whitbeck,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE,

Corner of Main and Maple Streets.

Dentistry done in all branches: best of materials used; satisfaction guaranteed. Teeth Extracted Without Pain.

Specialties-Filling and preserving the natural teeth; making of artificial sets of teeth.

Charges reasonable as elsewhere, consistent with good work.

> H. E. ANTHONY, M. D. MORAVIA, N. Y.

Office hours 7 to 8:30 a. m., I to 2 p. m. Bell 'Phone. Special attention given to Diseases of the Eye and FITTING OF GLASSES.

Hughes at Gortland Fair.

The ever popular Cortland fair will be held next week, Aug. 18-21. The fair will be larger and better this year than ever before. There will be more exhibits, more free attractions, more interesting sights and more amusements than were ever before gathered on a fair ground in this section. It will be made up of the best of everything.

Governor Hughes will give an address the second day, Wednesday, Aug. 19.

The races will be the best ever-Large strings of horses have already reached the grounds and are working out on the splendid track. The fast steppers will all be on hand. The running races will be exciting, and whipping finishes may be expected

A hospital tent, equipped with the best force of nurses and doctors that the Cortland hospital affords, will be a feature of the fair. An ambulance will be on the grounds all the time in readiness to respond in case of accidents or sickness. All these services will be entirely free.

The live stock exhibit will be the best ever seen in Central New York. Entries in this line have been received all the way from Maine to Ohio. Additional sheds for the accommodation of the large entry have been erected.

Extra cars will be placed on all Lehigh Valley trains during the fair, and good traveling accommodations will be furnished.

Died.

HART-In Venice, at Woods Crossing, Saturday, Aug. 8, 1908, Frederick R. Hart of Co. E. Seventy-fifth New York Veteran Volunteers, aged 75 years and 5 months. Funeral services at his late home Tuesday, the 11th inst., at 2 p. m. Burial at Scipio Rural cemetery.

Wise-At her late home in the town of Fleming, N. Y., Thursday morning, Aug. 6, 1908, Miss Mary A. Wise, only daughter of the late William G. and Dranna L. Wise of

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That

Funeral services were held at the house on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 9,

Contain Mercury Mrs. Phebe VanLiew of Fleming as mercury will surely destroy the Springs are spending the week with range the whole system when entertheir sisters, Mrs. Esther VanLiew ing it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputahis cousins, Miss Alma Redman and ble physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you Mrs. H. S. Barnes is with her can possibly derive from them. daughter, Mrs. J. E. Chapin, in Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., Miss Bernice White is assisting in contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. Book No 4 for Women." It tells of It is taken internally and made in Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. Tells how Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per

Take Hall's Family Pills for con-

FIRST OF THE NEW PERMANENT STRUCTURES, STATE FAIR GROUNDS, SYRACUSE.

Greatest Fair Building Belongs to Empire State.

Structure Which Marks Beginning of $2,000,000 of Improvements at State Exposition Grounds to Be Opened In September - What New York Is Doing Toward Equipment of Its Fair.

things, so is it to lead over other states of the Union in the equipment of exposition grounds. First in population and agriculture, New York is beginning to awake to a realization that it should enjoy the distinction of promoting the greatest fair. In asserting its rights in that direction New York has begun to dewelop a $2,000,000 ground plan with brick and concrete buildings arranged harmoniously and to meet the demands of all classes of exhibitors and containing striking landscape fea-

When New York decided to have the greatest state fair it took a double hitch and started with long strides. This fact will be appreciated by the thousands who attend the sixty-eighth main entrance. At the west of this annual exposition to be held during the week of Sept. 14-19, for looming magnificently within a hundred feet of the main entrance to the grounds is the new Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts building, pronounced the greatest structure of its kind in the world. The fact that it contains more ground space than Madison Square Garden gives an idea of its size. Built over a network of steel girders, it is free from pillars, and, well lighted by skylights extending its entire length of G(x) feet, it offers the greatest opportunities for exhibitors. It was not a bad investment New York state made when it appropriated money for this building, for every square foot of floor space will be in use. In fact, there have been heavy demands for space in the new building ever since a map of the floor space was made public, and the revenue will represent a very satisfactory income on the investment. If it appears that the state is to receive big returns on the investment in the "greater fair." legislators will probabl, favor having the development of the grounds on a permanent scale carried along with a rush.

The Manufacturers' and Liberal Arts building will furnish one of the points of interest for the thousands who visit this year's fair. The people of every county have heard of the movement Mor grounds in keeping with the agricultural and other interests of the state. It has become generally known that Governor Hughes would not favor an appropriation for the first work until a comprehensive scheme for adding, piece by piece, to the permanent construction as the state could afford the money had been adopted by the legis-Sature, and now there is naturally an interest in learning how the start was

That this year's fair will furnish a new record for attendance there can the no doubt. It unquestionably would had there been nothing in the way of new construction to attract the people, for the fair has been growing at a tremendous pace for the last four years. In fact, it has been the attendance in recent years and the turning back into the state treasury of surplus receipts that satisfied the governor and the legislators that the erection of suitable buildings should not be longer delayed. So, assured of an enormous attendance of people curious to know how the greater fair movement is working out, the commission was anxious to have the first building in presentable

The new building, an impressive structure, with its artistic effects and sultable in every way for the needs for which it was built, is the largest single structure called for in the state plan. It really represents the foundation for the work which it is hoped will give New York the finest and most complete grounds used annually for exposition purposes.

The estimates of the architects for all of the structures aggregate about

S the Empire State leads in many $1,600,000, but the entire work of beautifying the grounds will mean expenditures of close to $2,000,000. The new building will look out over a broad plaza which will hold about 60,000 people and which when completed will be closed to all but pedestrians. From this building will extend to the southwest a peristyle with an open air theater, flanked at the east with a building for state institutions and at the west a hall for an exhibit of domestic

In the semicircle to the west of the peristyle will be buildings devoted to tine arts, horticulture and the women's buildings. At the west will be the main entrance to the fair, an ornate structure reached directly from the boulevard which leads to Syracuse. A and telegraph buildings will adjoin the plaza will be the dairy and poultry buildings, connected with colonnades. and, adjoining the east to the south, the Administration building. To the west of the dairy and poultry buildings will be seven large live stock pavilions and still beyond space for the exhibit of farm implements and a has led Samuel Walter Taylor, superjudging ring, including 10,000 square of the fair. There has been a good a half mile track within and a horse trot under the watch with judges and show ring within that. This will ne timers in the stand. cessitate the removal of the present $50,000 grand stand.

All of these improvements will, of course, require time, just how long it remains for the people of New York state to say. It is a question of their advancing the agricultural and comsupport the fair has been receiving and the success now promised would make it appear that a few years hence of the ground as planned.

CHANCE FOR FARMERS.

State Fair Will Show Them New Horse Market,

A large percentage of the farmers of New York state engage to some extent in horse breeding, but nearly all seem to have overlooked one market where force of mounted men and pays good prices for them too.

Acting upon the suggestion of Major C. A. Benton, who, purely from personal interest in the success of Commissioner of Public Safety Bingham, has selected the horses for the mounted police, officers of the state fair horse show have decided to offer prizes for horses suitable to become police horses or military chargers. It is expected that Major Benton will judge this class.

Mayor McClellan of New York has decided to send a squad of twentyfive picked men from the mounted force to the fair. They will give exhibitions of horsemanship, and as they are the equal of the finest cavalry officers of any army in the world it is bound to be a highly interesting fenlesson for the farmers of the state and one which will be to their benefit, as the police horses bring an average restaurant and the express, telephone of $310 apiece, which is a good price for that class of horse.

A NOVEL RACE.

Four-in-hand Teams Drawing Coaches

Will Race on Mile Track. Talk of the speed that a four-in-hand team of trotting bred horses recently bought by a New York man can show model farm. Adjoining the live stock intendent of the horse show feature pavilions will be a large judging ring of the state fair, to offer a prize of for the judging of all live stock, cat $600 for a race for four-in-hands on tle, sheep, swine and horses. This the mile track at Syracuse on Tuesday feet of sheds, will be 180 by 350 teet deal of talk about the speed of Alfred When these improvements to the G. Vanderbilt's famous grays and varigrounds are made the present mile ous other teams, but nobody has yet track will be relocated at the extreme put four borses before a coach on the western section of the grounds, with track and driven them a mile on the

Under the rules of the novel race planned by Mr. Taylor the teams must The architects' plans also provide go to coaches and trot all the way, or for an expenditure, when the building if one or more horses break into a run shall be completed, of $175,000 in grad the coachman on the box must coming and beautifying the grounds ply with the trotting rules by pulling which include the planting of trees them back until all four are again and shrubbery and the building of going the prescribed galt. Three ensmall lakes and canals. New walks tries have been received, and the race and roadways will mean an added ex should be a notable feature of the state fair show.

Cheese Weighing a Ton.

One of the attractions in the Dairy building at the state fair will be a appreciating the value of the fair in single cheese weighing more than a ton. This will be made by Horaca mercial interests of the state. The Rees, the veteran state cheese instructor at Lowville. The cheese will require about 20,000 pounds of milk, or the product of one day from about will see the complete transformation 1,200 cows. It will be the largest cheese ever made.

For Her Karnival. Syracuse appears to be bubbling over with enthusiasm over the prospects of having the greatest karnival-it is always spelled with a "k" in Syracusegood prices can be obtained for a ever held anywhere. It really appears lar vote of the members of the krewe. type of saddle horse. It is the New, as though the city had gone karnival The name of the man elected is kept York police department, which buys a krazy. No man, woman or child is good many horses every year for its contented unless helping along the work of the annual festival, which is in finding out who the lucky individual called Ka-Noo-No karnival. Nearly every one you meet expects to ride on a float or a horse or take some part in years have been: 1905, D. M. Edwards, the great spectacle.

> well to tell just what the Indian fes- Stilwell, automobile manufacturer and tival is. Three years ago Syracuse lawyer. business men, taking their cues from the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, decided to have a similar event every year in connection with the New York state fair. Those were the days when cock. it was charged that Syracuse did nothing for the state fair and there was year, the fraternal float parade. The danger that it would be moved to some other location.

> The desire to help draw the crowds to the fair resulted in the organization of that unique and strange body of active young business and professional Elks, Turn Verein, various secret somen known as the Mystique Krewe of Ka-Noo-No, the main purpose of which is to conduct annually the karnival.

> Syracuse, located in the center of the renowned Iroquois federation, was for children will march through the tunate in having good material to work streets bearing garlands of flowers. up into karnival form. Every year there has been plenty of the Indian liantly lighted with electricity. feature intermingled with the other ideas, and that will be the case again

The Mystique Krewe, like its prototype, the Iroquois federation, is divided into five tribes, the Onondagas, Cayugas, Oneidas, Senecas and Mohawks, each having its chief.

The karnival consists of five nights of parades and spectacles. The central parade will come Wednesday night this year, although on every night there will be float parades and spectacles, any one of which it is well worth traveling hundreds of miles to partment of the state fair he considwith a water karnival in the Erie ca. represents an output of $60,000,000 annal and a great spectacle of dancing qually. He decided, therefore, that the girls in Clinton square. Hundreds of dairy industry department of the gayly decorated canoes, rowboats and state's exposition should be worthy of motor boats will be seen, and a silver the great interests represented. cup will go to the owner of the best decorated boat. In the spectacle will be 500 young ladies, all in costume, 150 appropriation for the department to

On Tuesday will occur the commercial float parade. Here will be seen are so arranged that every person who 100 floats, each drawn by four or eight can do dairy work of some kind will tries of the country.

On Wednesday night the "Historic Legends of the Hudson" will be represented by historical floats. The famous Washington Irving tales of the Catakills will be shown by the artist's skill. Each float will be preceded by a full band, and the entire line of ics, dairy photographs and dairy buildmarch will be illuminated with red ing plans. A liberal number of gold fire. Each float is drawn by four horses blanketed and led by a groom.

THE NORTHERN MARDI GRAS. On the floats will be prominent Syracuse business men and society ladies, Syracuse Making Great Preparations who deem it a great honor to have a position on the float.

The king and queen will be crowned on Monday night and will appear in the Tuesday and Wednesday night parades. It might be mentioned in passing that the king is elected by popusecret until the last minute, but the newspapers every year have succeeded was and announcing the fact to the public before it was even known to the krewe members. The kings of the past dry goods merchant; 1906, Donald Dey. By way of explanation it might be dry goods merchant; 1907, Giles H.

> The kings have always had the privflege of choosing their own queens, and the queens have been as follows: 1905, Mary Elizabeth Evans; 1906, Beulab Chase Dodge; 1907, Miss Reba Hitch-

A new parade will be put on this various organizations of the city, secret and nonsecret, will have floats in line. Over fifty labor unions will turn out a float representing their crafts. There will be floats of the Anglers. cleties and a number of women's organizations.

Friday night the brilliant floral parade will be held, and 10,000 school Thirty schools will have floats bril-

Last year the governor witnessed one of the parades and was greatly Impressed with its grandeur. He will attend the state fair again this year and will see the pageants.

THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

Fair Will Have Exhibit In Keeping With State's Position.

When State Commissioner of Agriculture Raymond A. Pearson was named to take charge of the dairy deered that the dairy industry of the The festivities begin Monday night state leads that of all other states and Commissioner Pearson's first act was to secure a substantial increase in the of whom will be members of the Turn permit of opening new classes, and the prize list, just announced, promises many innovations. The classes horses, symbolizing the various indus- have a fair chance to win a valuable prize, and every person who wants to learn some of the newest and best ideas in dairy industry can easily do so. There are many new features, including a demonstration and contest in buttermaking, exhibits of market milk and cream, short essays on timely topand silver medals will be awarded, besides the cash-premiums. Good exhibits of dairy machinery and supplies are promised. Commissioner Pearson says milking machines will be in operation daily, and other attractions will be included. Competent persons will be in attendance to give instructions when requested. Entries in the dairy department close on Sept. 5.

Concerts by Famous Band.

There has been no more popular form of entertainment in the larger cities of the country this summer than that furnished by band concerts. In public parks and at pleasure resorts the band concert has met with favor. In fact, so unmistakable has been the public desire for good music that municipalities have appropriated funds for free band concerts as they have for running departments of the govern-

Visitors to the state fair this year will have an opportunity of hearing Conway's famous band, an internationally known organization. It has been touring the country, delighting the music lovers of the larger cities, and is expected to provide one of the very mjoyable features of the fair, Patrick Conway ranks with the celebrated leaders. He is a good example of the; leader full of amiable, twinkling hemor, of # comprehensive taste in mude and always willing to please.

STARS OF THE TURF TO RACE AT FAIR.

Every Stable of Prominence Entered In Grand Circuit Stakes.

At no other trotting course in America, not excepting Lexington, Columbus or Boston, will the racing this year compare with that at the grand circuit meeting to be held in connection with the New York state his during the week of Sept. 14-19. The at least is the opinion of veterans of the turf who have studied the nominations for the early closing state fair stakes, the prize money for which amounts to $20,000. Every stable of prominence in the country is represented, which means that the state fair track, pronounced as perfect a racing course as there is in the world, will be the meeting place for trials of speed between the stars of the light harness borse kingdom. There is a total of 117 paid up nominations for the five races, a greater number than was ever secured for the same number of events. It means that the campaigners are headed for the fair, that they propose to enter in the class races and that the state fair, with its fast course and its facilities unsurpassed for accommodating large crowds and taking care of the horse men, will have by long odds the bar ner meeting of the year. Thirty-five trotters are eligible to start in the Empire State stake, one of the classics of the grand circuit, the prize money for which amounts to required from the owners of the

The state fair course has come to be regarded as the most important link in the chain of grand circuit tracks which, beginning at Detroit, touches the principal race centers in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut and after returning to the west winds up at Lexington. The mile track owned by New York represents the heaviest abutment in the foundation of the grand circuit. Backed by a state treasury and supported annually, by 150,000 people, it is beyond the effect of any temporary financial depression, and it will be supported by the horse owner regardless of the effect in other places of the passage of antibetting bills.

The entries include horses from the stables of Edward F. Geers, Memphis, Tenn., greatest of race drivers; Edward Benyon, Selma, Ala.; George H. Estabrook, Denver, Colo.; W. G. Dup fee, Los Angeles, Cal.; P. W. Hodges, Pleasanton, Cal.; Uplands stock farm, Greensburg, Pa.; James M. Massey, Chatham, Ont.; J. L. Druien, Bardstown, Ky.; R. B. Williams, Boston, Mass.; Bob Davis, Columbia, S. C.; W. L. Snow, Hornell, N. Y .; A. P. Mc-Donald, Albany, N. Y.; J. M. Klimer, Binghamton, N. Y.; H. M. Whitmer, Omaha, Neb.; C. W. Lasell, Whitinsville, Mass.; B. A. Bukley, Southport, Conn.; Cobb Bros., Wellsville, and a score of others who have been known for years wherever light harness horse racing has flourished.

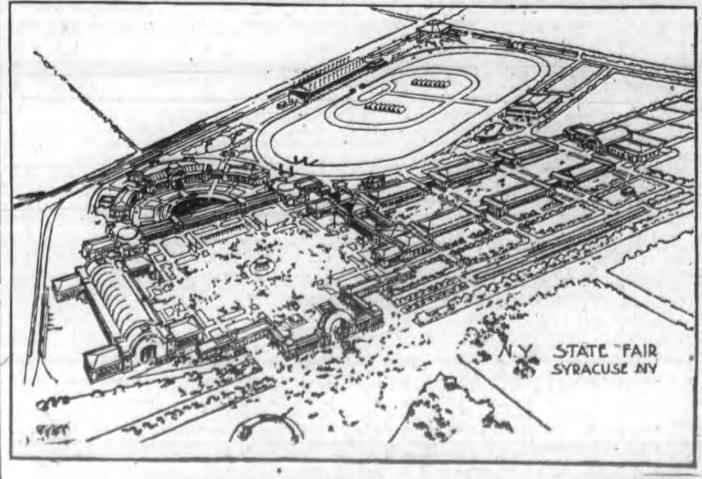

as large, it is possible to appreciate what a rare quality of sport is promised by the thirty-five nominated in the $10,000 race. Of course all of these horses will not be started, some may be thrown out of training or so outclassed that it would be for hardy to race them against the stars of the circuit, but Race Secretary H. S. Nealley is out with the prediction that more horses will score for the word in this race than ever started together at a grand circuit or at any other meeting. The race is for trotters which were eligible on May 1 we the 2:14 class.

When it is considered that a field of fifteen horses is ordinarily regarded

The Syracuse, open for pacers eligible to the 2:11 class, for a purse of $5,-000, has thirty-four possible starters. Of the thirty-eight original nominations but four were withdrawn. There are eighteen eligible to the Chamber of Commerce, for $2,000. This is open for 2:09 trotters.

There are thirteen pacers which before the opening of the present racing season had records better than 2:07 eligible to the Onondaga, which is for $2,000. I are are seventeen eligible to the Ka-Noo-No, for $1,000, open for three-year-old trotters which have not secured marks better than 2:25. This horsemen say, will prove one of the greatest colt races of the year. Of the 134 original nominations for the five stakes but seventsen were with-

Advertising.

Business notices with headings placed among squar reading matter, five cents per line, up to renty lines, over that four cents. Local readers and specials 3 cents per line for each insertion. No charge less than 10 cents. Rates for space advertising are reasonable, and the value of this publication as a medium through which the people of Southern Cayuga and Northern Tompkins may be reached, is unquestioned. Write for space rates.

inserted once free; for more than that a slight charge will be made.

Obtuaries, five cents results.

This office is well equipped to do first class printing of every description at moderate pr ces

FRIDAY MORNING, AUG. 14, 1908.

DR. J. W. SKINNER, Homeeopathist and Surgeon, Genoa, N. Y. Special attention given to diseases of women and children. Cancer removed without pain by escharotic. Office at residence.

FIRE!

E. C. HILLMAN, GENERAL FIRE INSURANCE.

Levanna, N. Y.

I place your risks in none but sound companies, at reasonable rates. Regular trip every thirty days. The Glens Falls Co. carries the majority of risks in this section; I also have other good companies.

HOMER Steam Marble and Granite Works

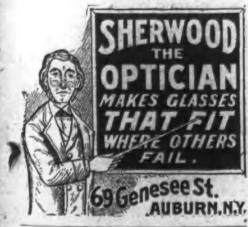

JOSEPH WATSON & CO., -Manufacturers of and Dealers in-

MONUMENTS, HEADSTONES and LOT INCLOSURES

In Foreign and American Granite and Marble.

In buying direct from the manufacturers ou save the middleman's profit. By giving our work personal attention we guaran-tee the best of work and material. We are practical workmen and designers, and furnish original and special designs with estimates on application.

JOSEPH WATSON CO. HOMER, N. Y.

Venice Town Insurance Co.

$1,000,000 in Farm Risks.

Office; Genoa, N. Y.

Average Assessment since Organizat on of Company, in 1879, $.78 1-2. Where can you do better?

m. H. Sharpsteen, Secy.

JAS. K. BUST, Carriage Store, 6 Dill St., AUBURN, N. Y.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

Woman Grows Intemperate.

it is with deep humiliation that one is obliged to admit that intemperance among women is, seemingly. on the increase

Certain it is that no self-respecting woman of the olden time would have publicly indulged in any form of dissipation. Cocktalis and the various enticing drinks were probably not in vogue, but the time-honored mint juleps have always been in fashion for men.

it is now no uncommon thing to see women go into a restaurant, hotel or club dining room, unaccompanied by gentlemen, and order brandy and soda, Manhattan cocktails or any other alcoholic concoction which happens to strike their fancy, and drink them with all the nonchalance of a connoisseur.

Many consider a luncheon or after-theatre supper incomplete without champagne, finishing generally by joining their escorts in smoking cigarettes with all the abandon of men of the world.

Women who refuse wine seem to be exceptions. Some young women especially seem 'to think that it is all right to drink on all occasions, apparently unconscious of the unfortunate influence they are exerting over their companions.

It is quite the thing for ladies to present gentlemen, and gentlemen to present ladies with gem-studed cigarette cases which both are wont to display with great pride.

Solid silver flasks with elaborate monograms, are also popular as gifts, which are frequently exchanged. It comes, mayhap, from very old-fashioned notions,, but nevertheless there is something revolting in seeing women drinking and smoking.

It is for women to maintain the highest standard of morality in society, and if they fail to appreciate their responsibility they fall short of their mission and can lay no claim to being the better part of creation.

Almost all the ills in the catalogue can be traced to intemperance; hence, if women countenance indulgence in spirituous liquors they are tampering with the most dangerous enemy of virtue.

In many instances the social glass with lady friends the beginning of a regular debauch on the part of men who are not otherwise given to dissipation.

ing liquor on the sideboard does not tempt persons to drink; that young people, especially, who are accustomed to seeing liquors about them care nothing for them; that if drink is banished from the home they are all the more anxious to have it and to drink moderately. This is assuredly a wrong hypothesis, as it goes without saying that unseen temptations are the more easily re-

A glance at the census reports vill convince any fair-minded persen that the nation is in peril from the intemperance of men and women, a majority of whom represent the highest society of the country. -By Mrs. John A, Logan.

A Remarkable Resolution,

That a Woman's Christian Temperance Union should present the following resolutions would not be

"We agree with all decent men upon these points:

"1. That the saloon should not e used to foster the social evil and should be divorced from it. "2. That the saloon should not be used for gambling purposes. "3 .- That the saloon should not be open to minors, and that the sale of intoxicants to children should be proscribed."

The sentiments are not new, but they are unique from the fact that they were the words of President Liebmann of the United States Brewers' Association, prescribing the views of the Brewers at their convention in Milwaukee, Ten years ago such sentiments in such a body would not have been possible. Ten years ago, though, they might have made a vast difference in the business of the brewers today. Too great greed and too great carelessness on the part of the liquor-maker and liquor-seller 'astened, if they did not create, the temperance crusade, and they now must pay the cost. Their thought of "reforming" the trade has probably come too late to "save their bacon." As the New York World says: "Had the brewers a decade or two ago perceived as clearly as they now do the consequences to their business of the course they have aided and abetted, a doubting public would not now be inclined to scoff at such utterances as those of President Liebmann as 'a death-red repentance.' -Waverly N. Y. Press

The Horn of Plenty,

A whiskey manufacturer had among his brands one called the "Horn of Plenty," on which a temperance poet w.ote the following

'Flenty of poverty, plenty of pain, Plenty of sorrow, plenty of shame, Flenty of broken hearts, hopes doomed and scaled, Plenty of graves for the potter's

THE FOUR-DAY BOAT.

Its Advent May Soon Be Expected Say Steamship Men.

In her latest run from New York to Queenstown, the Mauretania made the distance between Sandy Hook light house and Daunt's Rock in five *sys and five minutes, traversing what is known as the long route, or about 2,932 knots. The best previous record for the eastward voyage made by the same vessel, was beaten by two and one-half hours. It is within the recollection of men yet young, that 12 days was considered a remarkable record for the voyage from New York to Queenstown, and a prediction that a steamship would make the trip in approximately five days, would have been considered preposterous. The 500-foot boat was, at the time of its advent considered practically the limit, observes the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. It reduced the time of the voyage nearly to one-half of that occupied by the earlier steamships, which were approximately only one-half the size. The introduction of steel construction was doubtless the most important advance in the art of ocean-going vessel construction, and ushered in a new The enormous increase in ocean travel also stimulated competition, and the evolution from the oldstyle packet, with its auxiliary sail power, to the great modern flyer, is the production of the fast express

The introduction of the modern steam turbine has been a potent factor in the increase in speed and the advent of the five-day boat. While the economical 'eatures of the steam turbine have not been fully worked out, and its comparative commercial v.·lue settled, it is in present favor, its efficiency in enabling high speeds, with large vessels, having been apparently established.

In view of the accomplishment by the Mauretania, marine constructors are now confidently predicting the advent of a four day ocean terry. Arrangements have already been made for the construction of two turbinedriven express steamers, each 1,000 feet long, and it is considered not unlikely that within the next three of four years a New Yorker can voyage to London, tr. nsact a day's business, and return home again within the time occupied but a few years ago in the voyage from Sandy Hook light to Queenstown.

Strong Room Perils.

Before now people have been shut In strong rooms and had narrow escapes. On one occasion a locksmith was repairing an interior safe in the strong room of a New York bank, when the cashier closed the vault door. At it was worked by a time lock it meant that the door would remain closed until the following morning. Fortunately, the man knew the secrets of the stronghold, and by opening a manhole was able to obtain a sufficient supply of air. He then made a pillow of a bag of jollar bills and composed himself to sleep until the door was opened next morning.

The Quietest City.

Berlin is said to be the most quiet city in Europe. Railway engines are not allowed to blow their whistles within the city limits. There is no loud bawling of hucksters and a man whose wagon gearing is loose and rattling is subject to a fine. The courts have large discretion as to fines for noise making. Strangest of all, plano playing is regulated in Berlin. Before a certain hour in the day and after a certain hour in the night the piano must be silent in that musical city. Even during the playing hours a fine is imposed for mere pounding on the piano .-London Tit-Bits.

Meals and Brains.

We give too much thought to our meals, for instance; they need contriving, and it is pleasant to have them set temptingly upon a table on which fresh flowers are arranged and to eat them in a room wherein there is not a speck of dust; but it is not right that our bodies should be fed at 'the expense of our souls, or that the dust should be taken from every ledge in our house and left to gather thickly in our brains. -Reader.

A Razorless Race, The only known race of hairy human beings reside on the Island of Yezzo, aljoining Japan. They are about 100,000 in number and are known to the Japanese as the Mosinos or 'all hairy people." They have the entire body covered with a profuse and remarkable growth of hair, the only exception being that the faces of the women are bare, but usually stained with a kind of juice so as to resemble, the beards of the males .- Brooklyn Eagle,

Why Moths Fly to Flames. Moths fly against the candle flame because their eyes can bear only a small amount of light. When, of a candle, their sight is overpowered and their vision confused, and, as they cannot distinguish objects. they pursue the light itself and fly against the flame,

A Wonderful Instrument,

One of the latest ore-prospecting devices placed before the public is an electrical instrument which will togate free metals at almost any depth, map out the course and width of the vein and ascertain its exact position below the surface.

POLISH IMMIGRANTS.

They Have Spread Over the Great Cities of the West.

The Polish immigrants have spread over our great West, and the cities of Buffalo, Chicago, Milwaukee, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Detroit and Toledo are the main centers in which they congregate.

In Chicago alone there are more than 250,000 of them, forming the largest Polish city in the world after Warsaw and Lodz. They come from all sections of the former commonwealth, but principally from Galica-They are, in general industrials, frugal and soon amass a competency.

Comparatively few professional men or members of the upper social classes have come to this country except for political reasons, as the love for the fatherland is so strong in the Polish heart, although a few such spirits as Modjeska and her husband have lived here.

With all their national love for ceremony and social intercourse, the American Poles have many organizations through which they satisfy their social list is the largest in Auburn. and military instincts.

The Polish National Alliance, educational and benevolent, with a membership of over 50,000 is the strongest of these organizations, but there are many others with more limited fields.

In the United States the Polish national government is conducted under the auspices of this Polish National Alliance (Zwianzek Narouowy Polski). The membership of this organization is increasing at the rate of from 6,000 to 7,000 a year.

The alliance has nothing to do with party politics, but aims primarily to make the Polish residents of the United States good citizens of the land of their adoption without forgetting their Polish tongue and traditions.

It endeavors to perpetuate the knowledge of the Polish language, literature and history, and to lend organized assistance to the cause of Polish independence in Europe.

In the Alliance building in Chicago is published the "Zgoda," the official organ of the Alliance, a well-edited weekly magazine with a circulation of 50.000 .- "Poland, a Knight Among Nations."

No More Kowtowing. The Chinese censor has memoralial-ized the throne on the necessity of abolishing the degrading custom of high native ministers of the crown kowtowing and addressing or replying to their majesties on benued knees. Kowtowing has been a fruitful scheme for discussion and controversy ever since the nations of the west first invaded the shores of the great central kingdom. Hitherto the question con cerned only those who came from foreign lands on diplomatic or other missions. No one for a moment thought of suggesting that the kowtow was a degrading custom so far as the Chinese high officials themselves were concerned. The kowtow before the throne consisted in kneeling three times and touching the ground with the head thrice at each genuflexion. Western diplomats and others in China have not been in the past unanimous in their oposition to the performance of the kowtow, but the British representatives from the first have consistently refused to submit to it. Lord Macartney, who arrived in China in 1793 as the head of the first British Embassy, when presenting his credentials would only consent to bend one knee in the presence of the emperor. Over twenty years elapsed before the second British mission arrived in China. The question of the kowtow was again raised, and as a result of his refusal to perform the ceremony Lord Amherst was never officially received by the emperor, who issued an imperial edict to the effect that the British ambassador had not observed the rules of politieness in vogue in the Celestial Empire.-Washington Herald.

The Navajo Indians' Dead. The Navajo Indians do not inter their dead, their religious superstition preventing them from ever touching a dead body. Before life has entirely left the body it is wrapped in a new blanket and carred to some convenient secluded spot, where it is deposited on top of the ground, together with all the personal effects of the deceased, and if it be an infant, the cradle, trinkets, etc., are carefully deposited beside the body. When there are no longer any signs of life in the body, stones are piled up around and over it, in order, they say, to keep the coyotes from carrying it off. If the deceased be a grown person his favorite saddle pony is led up to the grave, where it is knocked in the head with an axe. Here it lies, with the bridle, saddle, and blanket, ready for the journey to the spirit world. The Navajos never dig a grave themselves, though they like very much to have the white people bury their dead, and if they are anywhere near where white people live they will ask them, in case they have a death in the family, to take charge of the body and bury it. If by chance therefore, they come within the light one of their number dies in the house before they have time to remove him they immediately set fire to the bocan and hern it up with its contents thus cremating the body.-Washingfon Herald.

> Good results are soldom accidental. They are usually thef ruits of a proble

In many a man's life the turning point is reached just after a protty girl pauses,

1849

1907

Auburn Savings Bank,

Established Fifty-Seven Years Corner Genesee and South Sts., AUBURN, N. Y.

3 1-2 Per Cent. Paid on Deposits Compounded Every Six Months.

Deposits $5,142,455

urplus $333,548.

OFFICERS: Edwin R. Fay, Pres., David M. Dunning First Vice-Pres., Nelson B. Eldred, Second Vice Pres., George Underwood, Attorney, E. H. Townsend, Sec. and Treas., Wm. S. Downer Assistant

One Moment of Your Time!

$2,000 will buy a nice ten-room house on a fine street in Moravia. Several nice pieces of property near Owasco Lake for sale. Your choice of nice residences in Auburn in prices from $1,000 up. Our

A fine paying grocery business in Auburn for sale. Can be bought at a low price. If you are looking for a business in postal. We have a good paying hitch for sale If you are looking for a business in any line in Auburn, drop us a

If you want to raise money on mortgage, let us hear from you. If you want to invest your money in good six per cent. mortgages on Auburn property, we can accomodate you. We have an excellent $2,500 farm mortgage for sale. Interest six per cent. We can recommend this in every way.

THE PEOPLE'S AGENCY, J. N. ROSS.

93 Genesee St.,

AUBURN, N. Y.

When In Need

Get our prices on Hemlock, Yellow and White Pine, Shingles, Fence Posts, Buckwheat Fertilizer, Salt, Cement, Hominy, Bran, Etc. We will strive to satisfy you in quality and price.

J. G. ATWATER & SON.

Clear View, N. Y.

C. J. Wheeler, M'g'r, Genoa branch.

PORCH AND STAIR WORK

Cisterns

Tanks

Mouldings Doors, Windows

CAPITOL WHITE LEAD

The most durable white paint known, Oils, etc.

VERIBEST RUBBER ROOFING R. L. TEETER, MORAVIA.

New Market in Genoa.

Gillespie's Market can supply you with all kinds of choice meats.

Home Dressed Beef, Pork, Hams, Fresh Fish, etc., at moderate prices.

Frank Gillespie,

Banker Building.

Genoa, N. Y.

Highest market price paid for Hides.

Paid your Subscription Yet?

Frederick J. Meyer, DEALER IN PIANOS AND ORGANS

Musical Instruments taken in exchange.

-- AUBURN, N. Y. Warerooms, 12 John St., TUNER--REPAIRER

Empire Phone 1246,

27m3

INTERESTS PAID ON DEPOSIT Loans Made on Approved Mortgages

All Business Strictly Confidential.

THE GENOA TRIBUNE.

Published every Friday, and entered at the postoffice at Genos, N. Y., as second-class mail matter.

Fiday Morning, Aug. 14, 1908.

Our Answer to the Dreadnought. The American battleship Michigan recently launched, is the first applica tion in the American navy of the prin ciple of construction embodied in the English Dreadnought. It is a revolu tion in the method of securing gui power. When it was disclosed to the world that the Dreadnought was armed with twelve inch guns only, our nava board decided to delay the construction of the two battleships which had been begun-namely, the Michigan and the South Carolina-and secure extra appropriations to permit of ships equaling if not exceeding the Dreadnought in displacement and for adding extra high caliber guns. No appropriation was secured, but the battery was changed to conform as far as possible with the battery of the Dreadnought. The English monster carries ten guns of twelve inch caliber and the Michigan eight twelve-inch guns.

The increase of gun power in the Michigan is not secured by the imposition of one turret above another, as in the original design for this ship, but an alignment of turrets, so that the guns in the rear turret may fire over the roof of the turret in front. The turrets are independent, and damage to one does not necessarily disable another. Powerful as the Michigan is, she is yet below the standard aimed at by the navy department in the two new battleships recently provided for by congress. These ships will exceed the Dreadnought in displacement, will keep to the one caliber idea and carry only twelve inch guns and will in general follow the type created by the British admiralty in the construction of the Dreadnought. It should be noted in comparing the Michigan and her sister ship, the South Carolina, now un der construction, with the Dreadnought that their broadside power is the same as that of the English ship. Although carrying ten guns, the Dreadnought can fire but eight in broadside, and the Michigan type can fire the full battery of eight in broadside.

The Fighting Man's Pay.

After years of appeal congress has at last increased the pay of the men on guard. Perhaps some of the arguments put up as to the need of a substantial increase for the officers and men of the army and navy could be applied with equal force to other branches of public service; but, sifted to the bottom, the case is that if we are to maintain a navy it should be a good one, and if we are to have a large standing army it should be first class. 'And in the long run conditions depend largely upon pay. Men are not supposed in this service to forego all else at the call of patriotism. At least the nation should be as patriotic in supporting its picked men as the picked men are asked to be in facing duty.

The enlisted man benefits substantially by the new rates of pay fixed by congress. It is deserved, and it still leaves the service below the level of civil life in the matter of compensation. And it is a singular thing that men enlisted from the ranks of the people prefer to have the officers above them well paid. Soldiers and sailors do not like to be commanded by an officer who is niggardly with himself. Yet when the officer's pay is low and his expenses heavy he may be forced in spite of inclinations to appear stingy. The rough and ready officer who can hardly be distinguished from his men is all right in a hot campaign. But for camp and parade and most formal military occasions the men want to see their immediate leaders equipped as well as the best. It is a matter of pride, perhaps, but pride has much to do with discipline among fighting men. Courage and esprit de corps are built up by high thought and feeling as well as by blood and muscle,

The Chinese government "commands all viceroys and governors to encourage the people to cultivate cotton." This is because the demand for cotton goods increases in China every year, and the people must buy from the hated foreigner. As an imperial wish has all the force of a command in China, it goes without saying that this blunt "command" will be made to work. Already the law has been changed to discriminate in favor of the Chinese cotton product in transportation and in the markets, and if that is not enough other products will be discriminated against, and the farmer will either have to grow cotton or starve.

Twenty-seven thousand paintings atributed to Corot bave been entered at he port of New York alone. Either is noted French landscape artist was marvel of industry or fakirs found style easy to imitate.

cojection whether the north pole feels exped or happy or just doesn't "care Titinental" either way when Exall Peary gets another $10,000 to the search.

City Playgrounds.

The general movement for the estab lishment of playgrounds for children in the congested districts of large cities means as much for the morals as for the health and pleasure of the young who are to find recreation there. Every playground equipped and controlled by the authorities or by associations acting independently is under the constant supervision of some competent person, taking the place of parent and teacher for the time being. But a due measure of restraint is not the whole of the problem on the moral side. Every opportunity possible under the limits of space is given for healthy exercise. The children may ride seesaws, roll in sand, swing and play ball. Where no suitable space can be found in the public parks and squares vacant lots are utilized.

A real playground opens up a new world to the growing city child. The public park may be seen once or twice in a season, but even there play is necessarily restricted. To the average of doors has is the street, a barren level of pavement flanked by brick walls. Life can be had only by being boisterous, and play usually consists of rough games and races, for ball playing is generally prohibited. There is little wonder that the boy and girl brought up in this way doesn't know how to act and to behave when turned loose out of doors in the country. Flowers, vines, trees and even fences seem merely things to batter and destroy. In their own homes and in school doubtless they behave well, for that is part of their training from the cradle up. But all out of doors is the enemy's country to the city youngsters, and they abuse privileges and blessings they have never been taught to use. In the playground authority will precede them, and they will learn that out of doors belongs to the crowd and that no end of fun may be had by respecting the rights and wishes of others. Then when they come to reach the lara blessing for all concerned.

That Arbitration Court.

At the two peace conferences recently held in this country-one in Phila delphia and the other at Lake Mohonk -there were the usual high peace talk ed, especially as these meetings were London in July. The second Hague peace conference did not turn out as was hoped for the "peace at any price" advocates. Nevertheless the eyes of the world are still fixed upon The Hague as the destined cradle of universal peace.

One important and highly practical as well as semiofficial announcement was made at Lake Mohonk, relating to the permanent court of arbitral justice as recommended at the second Hague conference. The nations are now making arbitration treaties agreeing to refer certain classes of international disputes to "The Hague court," but there is really no such court in existence. The powers have not yet established the court, and it is expected that the initiative lies with our secretary of state. By-his permission evidently it was declared at Lake Mobonk that the court will be created very shortly. This is a very substantial progress, for it shows that the great peace principle of arbitration to which nations are willing to agree is not long to be left "in the air." The disputes and the judges must get together or the dream of peace through arbitration is a mockery.

Fighting Forest Fires.

One of the most important economic movements of the day about which the general public has yet learned little is the concerted action of owners of timber in different parts of the country in organizing associations to protect their holdings from fire. The Washington Forest Fire association began work for the year with 3,000,000 acres under its care. The plans include a system of patrol by rangers resembling the work done by the United States forest service in guarding against and extinguishing fires. Organizations of similar kind and for a like purpose are at work in Idaho-where a portion of the expense is borne by taxation and paid from the state treasury-and in Oregon. Forest owners in Maine have gone to work in the same systematic way to control the forests' great enemy, fire. Like organizations are found in other parts of the country, showing how fully it is now realized that protection against fire is of the greatest importance.

It is safe to say that fires in this country have destroyed more timber than lumbermen have cut. When timber was abundant the waste passed almost unnoticed, but now that a scarcity is at hand and an actual wood famine threatens in the near future the owners of forest lands are waking up and taking action to save what is left.

Twice within a year the kaiser has interfered in the love affairs of his relatives. After all, the real autocrat is born and not elected.

A dollar lost is often a dollar madein experience.

SHORT SERMON SUNDAY HALF-HOUR By Canon Scott Holland.

Self-Examination.

Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.—Hebrew xiii.,

Who are the godly? And who are the ungodly. We do not know. So strangely mixed is good with bad that we cannot say of anything. This i: all good; this is all bad. Oh, the startling surprises that meet us as the one shifts into the other; the metamorphosis, the shifting drama, little one the only meaning which out the interchanging motives going swiftly to and fro! What sudden changes we often see of what we thought was hopelessly bad into an angel of light; and angels of light suddenly become satanic; there are uprushes of good hat break through the blackest tht; there are invasions of strange nd horrible evil that darken and acken the best. Or again rk places are unearthed, and bend what is seemingly fair, we are nown all the evil and all the crueles that lurk there. There are the dindnesses of good people; the inolerable wrong-headedness of the eligious-how we know it all! And he sins they commit. Or again we go down into the world of moral iseases, into the hospitals and asyums, all showing the problem in some new form. This dim tumult of confused and swarming life, what does it all mean? Where are we? Where are our sharp judgments? ger out of doors of the country they Where are the ungodly and the will carry decent manners with them, wicked? Nobody to-day sets out deliberately to be bad. People do not propose deliberately to murder somebody else, to kill the innocent, to oppress the widow, because she is a widow. They do it, but they do not mean to do it. People do not deliberately hate the good because they and prophecy which were to be expect- are good; they only hate them because they are not what they prein a sense preliminary to the universal tend to be, because they are not peace congress called to convene in what they profess. Nobody defies God, believing him to be God; they only doubt that he exists.

> What strangely disguised motives build up our life; they are insinuating, so self-excusing, so natural, so hidden! . . They are motives that you can so easily pass over, so easily forget. Ignorance, just ignorance. for instance, that is enough; it is ignorance that is doing it. Ignorance murders the babies; kills the women; treads under the weak-sheer, unmitigated ignorance on the part of thousands and thousands of people, who choose to live in ignorancethat is all. A little moral laziness. he refusal to face facts, that is quite errugh. A touch of indifference, a sense of boredom; we have been told about these horrors so often; we are tired of it all. A little carelessness: a little forgetfulness; a slack habit, which is not only your habit, but the habit of those with whom you live; strong vested interests which hold us in; all these things have their effect. There is all the accumulated weight of "low tone" about these things of cheap judgments; the accumulated force of a bad spirit behind us, and in us, and about us; there are quite enough to create all he sorrow and misery of our streets to-day. There are the sins against good citizenship, sins against the public welfare.

Well, we are learning at last the wickedness of such sins, and their awful results. We are really plundering people, are we? We are really murdering people, are we? We are really treading under those who are weak, are we? and riding rough shod over the widow and the stranger? And all through a little slackness of mind! We are not in earnest about the remedies; we dread them because they are troublesome and perilous. As if any great wrongs could be remedied except by action that was troublesome and perilous! And each of us contributes just a little something, so small, so unnoticed to the dead weight of indifference; and these contributions are swept up into the rest. And you say, Oh, it is all so vague and intangible, how can it be so wicked? Yet it is just because it is so vague and intangible that it is so wicked.

If only we could revive the sense of vengeance, and recover the conscience of the prophets, and look out and see wickedness as it is, so strong and powerful, and not be afraid to lift up our voice and call down veng ance, even though the vengeance may fall on us. To call down 29t6 engeance on this social idleness, this social indifference, this habit of slotnful ease with which we have excused time after time our acquiesence in old habits, our carelessness of what is going on.

is known by the way it makes you look-the distinctiveness which it gives you-that well dressed air, which speaks volumes when success and social worth are a factor.

Don't you know that the man who wears an INTERNATIO-NAL SUIT has always a good chance to become "The Man of the Hour" in his vicinity.

> THE STYLES THE FIT THE FINISH THE PRICES all together make that barmonious, whole which has made the name "INTERNA-TIONAL the standard for high class made to measure tak-G loring.

THE GOODS

> Don't waste money experimenting, when this magnificent, reliable, line is now on view at

Smith's Bisy Store, Genoa, N. Y.

TRUST

COMPANY.

All Moneys Deposited

the First Six Days in August Draw inter-

President.

Sec'y and Treas.

est from the First.

John M. Brainard,

Ralph R. Keeler,

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Meals furnished all who wish at my residence during the fair; will also have 12 good horse stalls, day or night. Persons wishing one or more stalls notify me and I will save them for you. Harness, robes, etc. safety checked.

Peaches are ripe at the Rhodes farm H. C. Powers, Atwater, N. Y.

in all harness and sound,

10,000 ft. hard and soft wood lumber, also some timbers. All $20 per thousand if taken soon.

FOR SALE Scotch collie pupe.

E. H. SHANGLE, Atwater, N. Y.

1w8 W. P. Shaw, Genoa, N. Y. FOR SALE—Bay gelding 5 years old, broke single and double. Kind

B. J. BRIGHTMAN, Genos. FOR SALE-5 year old Jersey cow, giving nice mess milk, due to freshen Oct, 1. 1tf B. J. BRIGHTMAN, Genoa.

FOR SALE-Bay horse 12 years old, weight 1,200, sound, kind and true. B. J. BRIGHTMAN, Genoa.

All persons wishing to take the train at our station can obtain horse care at my stables at reasonable prices. FRANK H. WOOD, Woods Mill, N. Y.

When you have hens, turkeys. ducks or chickens, to sell, write or phone S. C. Houghtaling, Throopsville, N. Y. I will be at Carson's hotel, Genos, Monday night, Aug. 17 and Tuesday morning, Aug. 18, until 9 o'clock. S. C. HOUGH TALING.

FOR SALE-House and lot in Genos village, known as the Keefe place, about 1; acres of land. Enquire of Mrs. Eva M. Hrwitt, 23 Easterly Ave., Auburn, N. Y. 48tf

Flies and Lice on Cattle. Kreso Dip is one of the best preparations for ridding Cattle and Horses of flies and lice. One part of Kreso Dip to 75 parts of water and used about once a week will destroy all vermin, price, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1 00 and $1.25. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

FARM FOR SALE-115 acres on Indian Field road, town of Venice, near railroad, school and creamery; P. C. STORM, Owosso, Mich.

Bexall Kidney Cure. Helps weak and sore kidneys, relieves backache. A remarkable remedy. Quick to act and with permanent results. Two sizes, 45c and 89c. Sagar Drug Stoer, Auburn.

* Nearly 2000 Thrifty People AUBURN have accounts with this Company, with total deposits to their credit

$730,000,00

All of which is earning Three and One-Half per cent. Interest, compounded semi-annually, Among these accounts are many that began with only a dollar but now amount to several hundred or even more.

What Others Have Done You Can Do. We welcome small accounts and loan small banks to facilitate saving.

Yours very truly AUBURN TRUST COMPANY.

Successor to SMITH & LEONARD. Established 1878.

For everything in the line of

Hats, Caps and Men's Furnishing Goods. We keep the largest assortment to select from In the city.

Low prices prevail in every department.

VILLAGE AND VICINITY NEWS.

-Venice picnic, Aug. 20.

-Early peaches are ripe and quite plentiful.

-Mrs. Eliza Willis is ill with sciatic rheumatism.

-The Carpenter's band of Auburn will turnish music at the Genoa tair.

-Chas. K. Gibson is having a vacation this week, while entertaining the grip.

-East Venice Grange meets at Wm. McAllaster's in this village to-morrow evening.

-Mrs. Richard Bush and son of Geneva are visiting her mother daughter of Poplar Ridge are and other relatives here.

-Supervisor and Mrs. F. Sulli-Owego Saturday and Sunday.

-Delos Adams and wife of Moravia recently spent a tew days day evening from a two weeks' at the home Clarence Lewis and visit with her daughter in Auburn. family.

time with her nephew, Theodore public. Willer.

-Mrs. Jennie Harris, son and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Swytzworth of Aubrun spent Sunday at Alvah Karn's.

-Miss Mary E. Sellen of Genoa has a position for next year in the preparatory department of the Union Springs High school.

-Mrs. Jennie Peck returned recently after spending nearly two months with friends on the lake road, at Scipio and Fleming.

Shea's ice cream speaks for itself. Served every day at Mrs. D. E. Singer's, Genoa.

assisting in caring for her.

is being erected by T. M. Osborne, Monor of the late Joseph Jefferson.

-Mrs. Freeman and Miss Clyde effects from it. Freeman of Buffalo have been guests during the past week of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Robert Mastin.

arrive.

-The Venice Town Insurance Co. now holds $1,000,000 in farm patrons. Wm. H. Sharpsteen of company.

-A unanimous call to the pastorate of the Congregational church of Moravia has been extended to Rev. W. B. Jorris of Scipioville. Mr. Jorris has occupied the pulpit of the Moravia church several has been asked to accept the charge.

-Deputy Sheriff Fay Teeter of East Venice suffered a serious and painful injury Monday afternoon, while driving a threshing engine. In going south from Earl McAllaster's, the engine broke through a sluiceway near M. T. Under-Wood's. The covering of the sluice was a heavy flag stone, and while trying to raise the engine, the stone broke the second time, pinning Mr. Teeter's left hand under the engine. It was some time before the engine could be raised and the injured hand loosen-The third finger, on which was a heavy ring, was cut off and the middle finger was badly crushed. Mr. Teeter was taken to East Venice and his injuries were cared for by Drs. Skinner of Genoa and Brandow of Morayla.

-Last call to cut those unsight-

-Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Peck spent Sunday in Moravia.

-There will be a hop at the rink Saturday evening, Aug. 15.

-Daniel-Bacon has been quite sick with rheumatism this week. -L. M. Smith, wife and son of Syracuse have been spending the Hoyt Block, week at A. T. Smith's. -Four teams have been out this week distributing advertising matter for the Genoa fair. -Mrs. Anna Armstead and guests of Mrs. Fred Fulmer. -Mrs. Benn Conger and daughvan were guests of friends in ter Dorothy of Groton were guests of Mrs. Lucian Mead last week. -Mrs. E. Alling returned Fri-

-Will D. Norman of Genoa was -Mrs. Fannie Robinson of last Saturday sworn in at the Union Springs is spending some county clerk's office as notary

> A new lot of shirt waists in white and colors at Mrs. Singer's.

-The annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., will be held in New York beginning Tuesday, Aug. 18.

-Moravia item: Mrs. Charlotte Green, Misses Minnie and Florence Green have been guests of Mrs. M. H. Clark in Cortland.

-- Mrs. J. M. Burt and son Howard of Erie, Pa., have arrived at the home of her parents, Frank Purinton and wife, to spend a few

-The Tompkins county Pomona -- Mrs. Benedict, who was very Grange will hold their annual ill for several days last week, is basket picuic at the Agricultural some better. Miss Jane Louw is grounds at Cornell on Saturday, Aug. 29, and all Cayuga county -Auburn's new theater, which Grangers are invited to attend.

-Mrs. S S. Muth, a sister of mill be known as The Jefferson, in Mrs. Chas. Carson, who was taken ill in June while on a visit here, -Miss Iva Loomis of Moravia was able to return to her home in who has been visiting her grand- Syracuse, on Monday of this week. mother, Mrs. Jane Loomis, a few She was accompanied by her nurse, days the past week, returned home and by Chas. Carson. She endured the trip well and felt no ill

-On account of the small attendance, the annual school meeting in Dist, No. 6 was postponed until Tuesday evening of this week, -Let's spend a little time in when the old officers were all repicking up and cleaning up our elected. They are as follows: premises for fair week. We should Herbert Gay, trustee; Chas. J. all be desirous of looking our best Foster, clerk; Theodore A. Miller, when the big crowd of visitors collector; J. S. Banker, treasurer.

-A man addicted to walking in hissleep went to bed all right, one night but when he awoke he found risks, and is constantly gaining himself on the street in the grasp of a policeman."Hold on,"he cried, Genoa is the secretary of this "you mustn't arrest me. I'm a somnambulist." To which the policeman replied: "I don't care what yer religion is-yer can't walk the streets in yer night shirt."-Everybody's Magazine.

Dr. J. W. Whitbeck, dentist, Genoa, of the Moravia church several times and made so favorable an impression upon his hearers that he has been asked to accept the charge which can be had at his office admin-Readers of this paper suffering with any disease of the kidneys or blader can get a free trial bottle of Tabesee Remedy, prepaid by mail on request to the J. A Crayton Co., Auburn, N. Y. Send to-day and give it a trial.

which can be had at his office administered by a physician. He also has for extracting the best preparation for extracting children's plication for extracting children's teeth, perfectly harmless. In fact, ris, of Locke, and R. W. Holyoke, everything in the dental line can be found at his office. Charges as reamonths as in the city or also have. sonable as in the city or elsewhere, consistent with first-class work.

> -Henry Sutton, aged 68, died very suddenly from Beart trouble year. at his home in East Ave., Ithaca, about 24 years, and was the father of Prof. L. H. Bailey, dean of the afternoon, the Rev. W. E. Brown tacking orchards will also be shown, Inlet Valley cemetery.

Our patients are our best advertisement.

Every pair of glasses fitted YOU by us, sells others.

To fit you is to fit your friends in the future.

Defects of vision never disappear of their own accord and in most cases grow worse.

A. T. HOYT, Eyesight Specialist, Moravia, N. Y.

-Notice of Republican conventions on page 8.

-Mrs. John Mastin has recovered from her recent illness.

-Cayuga county Pomona Grange meets at Cato on Saturday, Sept. 5.

-E. C. Hillman, the insurance man of Levanna, made a trip to Genoa and vicinity this week.

-The Sellen family will hold the annual reunion at the home of Frank Sellen in this village, Wednesday, Aug. 19. Relatives are cordially invited.

-Mrs. Marion Mosher of Poplar Ridge was a guest at the home of her cousin, Clarence Lewis, and also at Wm. McAllaster's, for a week, returning home Tuesday.

-Secretary Loomis of the Genoa Agricultural society attended the Whitney Point fair yesterday to secure attractions for Genoa fair. He will also visit Cortland fair next week for the same purpose.

-James J. Hosmer of the Cayuga County Independent has returned to Auburn after a month's stay at Point Vivian, Thousand Islands, where he has been recuperating after his siege of typhoid

-The nineteenth annual reunion of the Ozmun family will be held at the home of David Francis and wife, two miles west of Groton, on Saturday, Aug. 15. Red kidney beans All relatives of the family are cordially invited to attend.

-After spending 18 years at the stamp window of the Auburn postoffice, James A. Hennessy, at his own request, has been assigned to floor clerk duty. Postmaster Paul R. Clark has appointed Lynton G. Kelley to the position of stamp

-Miss Flora Alling and Miss Emma Waldo returned recently from a pleasant visit with Judge and Mrs. H. N. Crosby at their home at Falconer, N. Y., and at their summer camp on Chautauqua lake. They also spent several days at Chantauqua.

-H. P. Mastin's valuable English Pointer was taken very sick Tuesday and as the remedies administered afforded no relief, Mr. Mastin had him chloroformed to end his suffering. It is thought that the dog was poisoned in some way. He was highly valued by his owner who deeply regrets his successful fair is anticipated.

-The officers elected at the convention of the Central New York Volunteer Firemen's Association at Owego were W. T. Parker, of Moravia, president; Frank M. Baker, of Owego, F. G. Cole, of Murphy, Ithaca, secretary; Thos. Knoble, Homer, treasurer. The association meets at Hornell next

-The New York State Fruit Thursday night, July 30. Mr. Growers' Association will hold its Sutton had just returned from a summer meeting at the Agriculvisit to the farm of his son George tural college at Cornell university, near Forest Home, where he had on Wednesday and Thursday, spent the day, when the summons Aug: 19 and 20. The meeting will came. He had resided in Ithaca be under the immediate direction of Mr. Clarence Sutton, at one Agricultural college. A visit to time principal of Genoa school, now the orchard of T. H. King of of Cleveland, Ohio. The surviv- Trumansburg and to the farm of ors are a widow, two daughters Director Bailey will be one of the held in the State St. . M. E. church to the members of the association. at Ithaca the following Sunday Valuable exhibits of the pests atofficiating. The burial was in the and demonstrations given of all the best types of spraying machinery.

Hagin's Up=to=date GROCERY.

Our Special for Saturday, Aug. 15 will be one 7-inch Baking Dish (may also be used for cooking) 'which will be given Free for One Dollar's worth of trade or over.

(Sugar Excepted)

BRING YOUR TICKETS --- GIVEN ON ALL TRADE.

People Always Come for More Who Buy Their Goods at Hagin's Store

Heinz pickles, olives, Sauces, relishes, ketchup and Pickling vinegar.

Mandalay sauce trial bottle India relish, mixed pickles Tomato chutney, chow chow Mixed pickle, chili sauce Sweet pickles in bulk 10c dozen Stuffed olives in bulk Heinz white pickling vinegar

Baked beans with tomato sauce

Van camps soups Durkees challenge sauce Royal salad dressing 5c Imported French olive oil

Roosevelt clams and oysters

Clam chowder

Try our coffees and our teas We can you'ns surely please.

Juno coffee 32c lb Crescent coffee 25c lb Favorite coffee

Chase & Sanborn's famous teas Fresh roasted pea-nuts and coffees Our 50c green Jap tea is a dream "Anything that's Heinz is good." of luxury-new crop, 1908 pick

Bulk macaroni 8c lb Full cream cheese Spices for pickling White wine and pure cider vinegar

Don't forget our sodas Orange-ade Moxie and grape juice Cooling beverages for summer

20, 30 and 35c Nuts, Fruit, Candy.

Fine New Mackeral Only 10c Pound.

a great good in certain directions there can be no question. They have stimulated the farmers and brought about a better feeling between town and country. They are receiving the encouragement and help of all business men, as well as practically all the farmers. The value of a firstclass agricultural fair is being recognized not only by farmers, but by residents of towns as well.

Several years ago an Agricultural society was formed and commenced holding fairs in Genoa. The society has not always had the best encouragement, having had bad weather, and many other things to hinder the success of its fairs, but this year the society feels that the people are with them for a first class fair and, with the benefits of a railroad, a very

The idea is to make the fair an educational institution, as well as the coming together of the people for enjoyment and pleasure. The country from which the Genoa fair will draw its patronage constitutes, as is well known, the best farming section in this part of the state.

The fair will be held August 26, 27 and 28, and all the help and encouragement that can be given, is

The attractions will be varied, high-class and clean. The management will encourage all kinds of legitimate amusement features, but will put a ban on all strong games of chance and obscene shows. The racing events will be better than ever and every effort is being made to have some of the best.

Encourage the fair by your attendance and exhibits.

LOST - A grey coat, between Genoa tile yard and C. W. Bennett's, creek TERENCE CONAUGHTY, King Ferry.

Pain anywhere stopped in 20 min-utes sure with one of Dr. Shoop's and two sons. The funeral was features of great practical benefit Pink Pain Tablets. The formula is on the 25-cent box. Ask your Doctor or Druggist about this formula! Stops womanly pains, headache, pains any-where. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., for free trial, to prove value of his Headache, or Plnk Pain Tablets. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

That these institutions are doing NEW YORK, AUBURN & LANSING, R.R.

Time Table of Trains Between Auburn and Genoa In Effect July 1, 1908.

WEEK DAY TRAINS. Leave Auburn 5:00 p m Arrive Genoa 8:32 a m 6:02 p m Leave Genoa 8;45 a m 6:15 p m Arrive Auburn 9:47 a m 4:30 p m 7:17 p m

Train leaving Auburn at 11:00 a m and leaving Genoa at 3:00 m is mixed freight and passenger train.

Trains arrive and depart in Auburn from station at Wright Avenue, west of Division Street.

SUNDAY TRAINS. Leave Auburn 9:00 a m 2:00 p m 7:00 p m Arrive Genoa 10:02 a m 3:02 p m 8:02 p m Leave Genoa 10:15 a m 8:15 p m Arrive Auburn 11:17 am 4:32 p m 9:17 p m

The Telegraph Key is starting on the road to success many a young man today, because it places him in touch with a business in which the opportunities for advancement are unlimited.

COLBY'S TELEGRAPH SCHOOL, 106 Genesee Street, Auburn, N. Y. has Railroad Main Line Wires and all modern equipment. Four or five months will place you in a good position. Write for booklet. It tells the story

Paid your Subscription Yet?

Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Hats and Caps, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots, Shoes. A full and complete line of Douglas Shoes for Men and Boys 1.50 to 4.00.

"Get the Habit."

Trade with the store where style, quality, low prices and honest dealings reigns supreme.

Maks G. Shapero & Son.

Outfitters for Man and Boy. Remember-We can clothe you from head to foot, Nat Sure of One of the Two.

A district visitor once went to see an old Scotchwoman who was dying. Noticing that her talk was all about herself and the minister, he said:

"Well, really, Jeannie, I believe you think there will be nobody in heaven but yourself and the minister."

"Ah, weel," said the old woman, "an' I'm no' sae sure aboot the minis-

THE ROLL CALL. "Corporal Green!" the orderly cried. "Here!" was the answer, loud and clear, From the lips of a soldier who stood

And "Here!" was the word the next re-"Cyrus Drew!" Then a silence fell.

This time no answer followed the call. Only his rear man had seen him fall-Killed or wounded, he could not tell.

There they stood in the falling light, These men of battle, with grave, dark looks. As plain to be read as open books, While slowly gathered the shades of night.

Twas a victory-yes, but it cost us dear, For the company's roll, when called at night.

Of a hundred men that went into the Numbered but twenty that answered "Here!"

-Nathaniel G. Shepherd.

A Slight Difference. "I suppose you went to bed with the chickens while you were in the country," said the caller. "No, indeed," replied the lady of the house, somewhat shocked. "We had the best apartments in the house, second floor, front, The chickens had rooms way back in the rear somewhere. We never saw them after sunset."-Judge's Library.

Had a Name Ready.

The late Andrew J. Dam, a well known hotel man of New York, was at the time of the civil war proprietor of a hotel in New Bedford, Mass. A number of colored citizens interested in the formation of a military company called upon Mr. Dam and informed him that they would be glad to form the company and allow him to suggest the name provided he would pay for the equipments.

"Congressman T. D. Eliot has fitted out a company of white men, and throughout the war they will be known as the Ellot Light guards," said the spokesman of the colored men.

"Well," said Mr. Dam, "if I am to equip this colored company I shall insist that they be known as the Dam | ment," was the answer. Black guards."

The military records do not show that such a company was ever organized.

Belated Mourning.

O'Flannagan came home one night with a deep band of crape around his "Why, Mike," exclaimed his wife.

"what are ye wearin' that mournful thing for?" "I'm wearin' it for yer first husband.

I'm sorry he's dead."-Everybody's.

Wanted Part of a Sure Thing.

On a train bound for Kansas City was an old gentleman who, it appeared, was proceeding to the city named on certain legal business. The journey was nearly completed when the ellerly person became possessed of the notion that certain important papers had been left behind. After a hurried investigation of his bag he observed: "If I left those papers behind, I'm a

A little later he resumed his examination of the bag's contents. "I bet It'll turn out I'm a fool," he murmured madly. "Would you obliged me, sir, by laying a little money that same way for me?" asked a testy individual occupyover the edge of his newspaper.

Strenuous First Aid.

A physician was one day summoned post baste to the home of a lady. He found her in a shocking condition.

"What has happened to you? Have you been run over by an automobile?" The lady shook her head on the pil-

"No," she answered in a weak voice; "I fainted, and a member of the first sid to the injured club brought me to."

Wounds In Front.

A New Englander recently had occasion to engage a gardener. One morning two applicants appeared, one a decidedly decent looking man and the other of much less prepossessing appearance and manner.

After very little hesitation the man of the house chose the latter applicant. A friend who was present evinced surprise at the selection, asking:

"Has that man ever worked for you before?"

"No," replied the other. "In fact, I never saw either of them before today."

"Then why did you choose the shorter man? The other had a much better that when you pick out a gardener you if the paich is on the seat of the trousers, you don't, process, Fatherry Dissipline.

She faltered. He was looking at her for your grandmother," with a strange fixed expression. understand. Leave him to me. I shall wait up until he comes in." "Don't be harsh with him," she said pleadingly. "Oh, I am so sorry I told you! Remember, he has always been such a good boy."

"My dear, you have nothing further to do with this, I must deal with my son in my own way. I request you not to interfere. You had better go quietly to your room. I ask you to do so. I want him to find me here when he sees fit to return to his home."

She retired, with her mother heart anxiously beating, and waited until the click of a latchkey sounded in the street door. She listened, tremblingready to rush out-a penitent peacemaker. She heard:

"Dick, is that you?" "Yes, sir." "Is the dog in the hall?"

"Yes. sir."

"Well, turn out the gas. Good night." -Woman's Home Companion.

Not Opaque, but O'Brien.

At a political meeting an excited man had risen to yell his satisfaction. "Sit down!" called the man behind him, twitching his coattails. "Don't you know you're opaque?"

"And that I'm not!" cried the other. "I'm O'Brien!"

The Polite Stranger.

Some years ago while the late Bishop Clark of Rhode Island was attending a lecture in Boston he observed a man sitting three seats in front whom he thought he knew. He requested the person sitting next to him to "punch" the other individual with his umbrella. The polite stranger did so, and, the disturbed person turning his head a little, Bishop Clark discovered it was not the person he supposed. Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting unconsciousness of the whole affair, he left the man with the umbrella to settle with the other. There was a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during all of which Bishop Clark was profoundly interested in the lecture. At last the man with the umbrella asked indignantly, "Didn't you tell me to punch that person with my umbrella?" "Yes." "And what did you want?" "I wanted to see whether you would punch him or not."

Taking Exercise.

An American lady at the court of Vienna with whom an imperial highness danced three times on the same evening, flattered by his attention, ex- when Leonidas and his 300 martyrs pressed her gratification at the compli-

"I did not intend it as a complifond of dancing."

"I detest dancing." imperial highness' motive for danc-

"Madam," was the exalted personage's curt reply, "my medical attendant advises me to perspire!"

Two Readings.

A young farmer who had great conceit, little discretion and scarcely any education presented himself once at a Presbyterian conference and said be wished to be ordained as a preacher. "I ain't had any great learnin'," he said frankly, "but I reckon I'm called to preach. I've had a vision three nights runnin'. That's why I'm here." 'What was your vision?" inquired one of the elders. "Well, I dreamt I see a big, round ring in the sky, an' in the middle of it was two great letters-P. C. I knew that meant Presbyterian Conference, an' here I am.' There was an uncomfortable pause, which was broken by an elder who knew the young man and was well acquainted with the poverty of his family and the neglected conditions of their farm. "I haven't any gift ating the adjoining seat as he looked reading visions," said the old man gravely as he rose from his seat, "but

I'd like to put it to my young friend

whether he doesn't think it's possible those two letters may have stood for

'Plant Corn?' "

Just One More Kiss. A dear old citizen went to the railroad station to see his daughter off on a journey. Securing her a seat, he passed out of the car and went around to the car window to say a last parting word. While he was leaving the car the daughter crossed the aisle to speak to a friend, and at the same time a grim old maid took the seat and moved up to the window.

Unaware of the change, the old gentleman hurriedly put his head up to the window and said, "One more kiss,

In another instant the point of a cotton umbrella was thrust from the window, followed by the wrathful injunction, "Scat, you gray headed wretch!" -Ladies' Home Journal.

A Reserved Chair.

His grandmother told him almost every day that he was a naughty boy and that the devil would get him and throw him into his take of brimstone. One "Face" explained the proprietor of morning the little fellow came down to the place in disgust. "Let me tell you breakfast looking pale, "I had a bad drenn," he said, "and I thought I went want to go by his overalis. If they're to that place that grandma tells me putched on the knees, you want him; every day I am surely going to. When I reached there the old devil was throwing the children in the fire, just as grandma told me he would do, and there were rows and rows of chairs She came into his sindy gently. "I and people all siffing on them taking thate to disturb you dear" he looked their turns. I spied a big one on the up "but it is after it, and Dick has buck row, and I not down on my knees not come home you and it is the see, and legan to crawl under the other and time this week he has stayed our chairs to reach this seat in the last I did not wish to speak to you, but a row when the old devil saw me and said. Come back here, That chair is

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband. James Lee, firmly be ieves he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery. His jungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose g ves relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at J. S. Banker's, Genoa and F. T. Atwater's, King Ferry drug stores. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle

August time, tells on the nerves But that spiritless, no ambition feel ing can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, im provement will be noticed Of course, full health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow. And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, Heart, and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

Rat's Strange Death. A cocoanut was recently brought to me just as picked up in a Colombo garden, with the head of a big rat fixed into the nut, the rat being not long dead. Clearly the rat was up a tree nibbling at, or, rather, being well into, the nut, nearly full size, when the nut tumbled, and before the rat could withdraw it was crushed to death between the nut and the ground.-Ceylon Ob-

A Kodak on the Outing is almost a necessity They are in constant demand making pictures or people, places and things. Our stock is complete, from the little $1.00 Brownie up as far as you wish to go. Let us show you. Sagar Drug Store,

Scene and Circumstance. When a noble act is done, perchance in a scene of great natural beauty; consume one day in dying and the sun and moon come each and look at them once in the steep defile of Thermopylae; when Arnold Winkelried, in the "Then your highness must be very high Alps, under the shadow of the avalanche, gathers in his side a sheaf of Austrian spears to break the line "What, then, may I ask, can be your for his comrades-are not these heroes entitled to add the beauty of the scene to the beauty of the deed?-Ralph Waldo Emerson.

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city. Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank.

Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you, may in-

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your in-terests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company Main St. West, Corner Exchange St. Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

INSTRUCTIVE - INTERESTING

A MONTHLY MAGAZINE DEVOTED TO THE USE OF ENGLISH JOSEPHINE TURCK BAKER,

Editor

PARTIAL CONTENTS Queries and Answers

Shall and Will; Should and Would: How to Use them. Pronunciations (Century Dictionary)

Correct English in the Home. Correct English in the School. What to Say and What Not to Say.

Course in Grammar. Course in Letter Writing and Punc-

Business English for the Business

Studies in English Literature. AGENTS WANTED 31 00 a Year Send 10c for sample copy

"The Art of Conversation Twelve Golden Rules. Price 15 cents.

CORRECT ENGLISH,

AN ART OF SMILING

And a Lost Art at That to the Woman with a Smirk.

What charm there is in a smile, yet

A smile to be worth anything must not be a continuous performance. The habitual smile of society is totally devoid of charm from its unchanging Best Set Teeth on Red Rubber $8.00 more meaning than a mask, like which it may be removed at will.

What do society maids know, those who are called bright, animated, sparkling, of the genuine, the unconstrained smile? When the sun Vitalized Air for Extracting 50c breaks out of a cloudy sky, then the heavens brighten. So the sudden light, eraditing a grave and tender face is the glow that counts, the flash that is irresistible.

Many a demure little mouse of a woman receives love where the brilliant society favorite must be satisfied with admiration, all because some man has been caught by the thrill of the soul-smile. It is a gift of the gods just as beauty is or pleasing voice.

There are features which do not lend themselves readily to smiles, yet a plain face at a momentary lighting up may become irresistible. Expression can change the countenance almost beyond recognition. Nothing is more difficult to pain than a smile. A grin may be photographed but rarely a smile; for instead there appears a smug expression which irritates while it amuses,

The rainbow smile belongs to poetry. "With a smile on her lip and a tear in her eye," says Scott. This brings to mind the sort of heroine he loved-brave, tender, sympathetic and exquisite. Sweeter than all is the smile of sympathy; a word is said, a meaning grasped, a shade of feeling understood, and instantly comes the answering glow. It may flash from the face of a stranger, yet is always welcome and fascinating. Often it sows the seeds of love.

How exquisite is the book that passes between mother and child, or between man and woman who live only for each other! The genuine smile is a sure passport. Coming from the heart it fascinates man and woman alike.

It coaxes the most unrelenting, Il softens ill-temper and goes twice as far as servile tip or lordly command. This is the heaven-sent smile. It cannot be achieved by art; it is the outcome of a sweet, sunny nature.

A Directoire Gown,

So much has been written of the Directoire dresses that have scandalized even Paris that one shies at the name, but a dainty and highly approved type of the present French rage is typified in this dainty toilette. The skirt is divided, but after the lires of a tunic, there being an underskirt of soft mousseline de soie instead or the tights used in the French Directoire dress. It is smooth fitting about the hips and trimmed with graduated tucks at the

The bodice is made of mousseline de soie, matching the petticoat. It is trimmed with tucks and meda

A DIRECTOIRE GOWN. tions of bebe crochet lace, arranged about the square cut neck, down the front and along the centre edges of the sleeves. And, by the way, the sleeves though much smaller than Japanese effects, are cut in one with the bodice fitting into the shoulders without a suspicion of fulness.

The overskirt of thin figured pongee and the mousseline is in a delicate shade of ecru. No other color is introduced into the decorative scheme of the collette, even the net reflecting the same tones.

Candle Stains.

Candle grease stains are easily removed.. Scrape off as much of the Compound Words; How to Write grease as possible, then place the material between blotting paper and press with a hot iron. Change the paper requently.

If the material is very fine, sprinkle French chalk over the grease spots, cover with blotting paper and let it remain for a couple of days. If you cannot let the material st; nd that long press with a warm

Yate wood of Australia has the Evanston, III. tensile strength of good cast Iron.

Don't Neglect Your Teeth

what a rarity these days! Many of us, especially women, have lost the art. We have smiled so much and so often to order, from a sense of duty, that now the charming spontaneity of the act has entirely disappeared.

A smile to be worth anything must prices are within the reach of the charming spontant of the control of t prices are within the reach of

> Broken Plates Repaired 1.00 Filled, Gold.....$1.00 up Filled, Silver......75c up Cleaned 75c

> Crown and Bridge Work $5 per Tooth Red Cross Dentists,

> > 67 Genesee St., (Cor North)

AUBURN, N. Y

If you can't play by note, we will teach you in one hour to play your favorite piece of mesic by the "Easy Form" method. You will then be ready to play at once any and all music written in the new method, which is so simple that an eight year old child can learn to play the piano or organ in an hour without a teacher. Don't have a silent organ or piano in the house any longer. Try this method at our expense.

OUR OFFER: We will send you, express charges prepaid by us, a bound portfolio of 100 pieces of popular and sacred music in the "Easy Form" method, and our Guide to the keyboard and complete simple instructions, all you will need to begin your favorite pieces at once. Try the music seven days. If you want it send us $1.50 within the seven days, and $1.00 a month for five months thereafter. If you don't want it send it back to us in the seven days at our expense. Simply write us to day and say: "I accept your free trial offer in THE GENOA TRIBUNE, Genoa, N.Y.

My piano or organ has-white keys. IMPORTANT: Be sure to say how many white keys your instrument has. Address, Easy Method Music Co.,

338 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

BULBS BUCKBEE'S BULBS SUCCEED! SPECIAL OFFER: money retuned.

Souvenir Collection #0 Choice Bulls in spi
Souvenir Collection did mixture, comprise following beautiful sertis: Grape Hyacisch, Feather inth, Spring Showdays, Isla, Spanies Hira, Sellies, Spainsumonus, Smowdays, Orocus, Chloudora, Amenca, Date Sys Marchesus, Darwin Tullp, Parot Tullp, Varilage Tullp, Ozalis, Premeh, Reman and Dutch Hyacisch Little, Springer Little, Little, Springer Little, Springer Little, Springer Little, Little late Tulips, etc., etc.

GUARANTEED TO PLEASE

Mention this SEND 25 CENTS

H. W. Buckbee 410 BUCKBEE ST.

...EGGS...

Water Glass is now the recognized standard for preserving eggs, its solution will keep them fresh indefinitely. Ask us about it.

Pints Quarte -Gallons - 75c

Headquarters for Paris Green and Blue Vitrol, get our prices before buying.

McGovern Drug Co.

123 Genesee Street,

AUBURN, N. Y.

PATENTS. HARRY DEWALLACE, PATENT ATTORNEY AND MECHANICAL ENGINEER. 510 KIRK BLOCK, SYRACUSE, N. Y

15 years' experience; prompt and skilled service at reasonable charges. MELL PHONE 8171.

Elmhurst Sanitarium Private Hospital for general nursing old people and chronic cases, and maternity cases a specialty. Address

MRS. C. A. GRANT,

630 PARK AVE., SYRACUSE, N. 1 high quality powders we especially recommend. Rexall, 10c. Rexall

Violet 15c., Colgate's Violet 15c.,

Hudnut's Violet Sec. 25c, Hudnut's

Extreme Violet 50c. Sagar Drug Store, Aubarn.

Don't be fat. Take off the surplus fat with Rexall Obesity Treat ment. It quickly reduces your weight to normal, which enables the heart and lungs to expand and perform their work naturally. It is a safe remedy. 75c. Sagar Drug Store.

BRING YOUR LEGAL PRINTING TO THIS OFFICE--WE CAN SAVE

Notice to Creditors.

Dated Aug. 6, 1908.

JOHN A. KING, Administrator.

Benjamin C. Mead,

Attorney for Administrator,

Auburn, N. Y.

Notice to Creditors. * By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, N. Y., Notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against the estate of Elijab C. Eaton, late of the town of Venice, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same, with vouchers is support thereof, to the undersigned, the administratrix of, etc., of said deceased, at her place of residence in the town of Venice, County of Cayuga, N. Y., on or before the 7th day of February, 1903.

MINNIE M. EATON.

Administratrix.

Dated August 7, 1908.

Dated Feb. 28, 1906, B. C. Mead,

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Lucian B. Mead. late of Genoa, Cayuga County. N. Y. deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the administrator of, etc., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 21st day of August, 1908.

ERNEST B. MEAD.

ERNEST B. MEAD, Administrator,

Attorney for Administrator, Auburn, N. Y.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an Order granted by the Sungate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby that all persons having claims against estate of John H. Algard, late of the town of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vonchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executor of, &c., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 7th day of September, 1908.

Dated February 25, 1908.

JOHN H. GARD, Executor, Vansickle & Allen.

Vansickle & Allen, Avorneys for Executor, Office and P. U. Address, 140 Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Clara A. Mather, late of the town of Venice, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vonchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executor of, etc., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Venice, County of Cayuga, on or before the 2d day of November. 1908.

FENTON C. MATHER,

Executor

Dated April 9,1908. Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an Order granted by the Sorro-By virtue of an Order granted by the sorrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims such that all persons having claims such the estate of William C. Meader, late of the town of Venice, Cayuga 4 ounty, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the Recutors of, &c., of said deceased, at the office of Elisha Cook in Poplar Riage, Town of Venice, County of Cayuga, N. Y., on or before the lat day of November, 1908.

Dated April 17, 1908.

LYDIA D. MEADER,

John W. Hume, Plaintiff, against Elizabeth C. Hume, Mary F. Campbell, Harry P. Campbell, Frederic T. Lewis, Elizabeth Lewis, Howard H. Lewis, Katherine Lewis, Lula Wadsworth, Daniel E. Wadsworth, Alida Wilson, George, Wilson, J. Gridley Quick, Thomas W. Warren,

John W. Hume, as Executor of the estate

SUPREME COURT, CAYUGA COUNTY,

of Thomas C. Hume, deceased, and Kate C. Hume, defendants. To the above named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint. Trial to be had in the County of Cayuga. Dated, this 29th day of May, 1908. JOHN L. HUNTER, Plaintiff's Attorney, Office No. 141 Genesee Street,

P. O. address, Auburn, Cayuga Co., N. Y. To Mary F. Campbell, Harry P. Campbell, Howard Lewis, Katherine Lewis, Alida Wilson and George Wilson, defendants: The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Hull Greenfield, Cayuga County Judge, dated the 9th day of July, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of the County of Cayuga, State of New York, at Auburn, N. Y., on said last named day, JOHN L. HUNTER, Plaintiff's Attorney, Office and P. O. Address, No. 141 Genesee St., Auburn, N. V.

The Thrice-A-Week World In The Presidential Campaign Year More Alert, More Thorough and

More Fearless Than ever.

Read in every English-Speaking Country A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will beat? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-a-Week World long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the Talcum Powder. The following news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sanday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly. THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD regular subscription price is only; 100 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together for one year for $1.65;

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2 00.

A Majority

of country banks pay their stockholders Six Per Cent dividends, and their depositors Two Per Cent on their de-

We pay our stockholders Five Per Cent. and our depositors Three Per Cent.

If you are a depositor instead of a stockholder, this may interest you.

The Citizens Bank, Locke, N. Y.

That your headache, dizziness, &c., are not caused by your eyes have them thoroughly examined. I guarantee all lenses fitted by me to relieve the trouble they are adapted idge. He had already succeeded for. Best Equipped Optical Parlors once and his original demand had in Auburn. I grind all my own lenses and can replace broken lenses while you wait.

Fred L. Swart.

The Eye Fitter. Cor. Genesee and Green Sts., next to postoffice. AUBURN.

J. WILL TREE, BOOK BINDING ITHACA.

Orders taken at THE GENOA TRI BUNE office.

Drugs and Medicines

Pure

Banker's

Book and Drug Store, GENOA, N. Y.

.. Harness Shop ..

-NEW-

Having engaged in the harness business at Locke I am now prepared to furnish both hand and achine made harness. Special attention given to repairing.

> A. H. BANTA. Locke, N. Y.

The Retribution

Coogan opened the letter which the letter carrier had just handed him and produced a check which made him smile. The check was made out for $200 and the name signed to it, John T. Coolidge, was a guarantee that the check was good for that amount at any time.

It was very pleasant to receive a check once a month from another man just because you happened to know something about him which would make it very unpleasant for nim if his wife and family heard about it. For this was really much easier than Mr. Coogan's regular profession, for he was a burglar, and, occasionally, did not hesitate to hold up a man at any time if he thought he could get away. It was also far less risky, for Mr. Coogan was a carefu. man. The state had once given him free lodging for a considerable length of time while he was younger and less smart. He did not desire the hospitality of the state again and, was therefore very much pleased. with the regular checks from his friend. It occurred to him, however, that he ought to get more money out of Coolidge. Mr. Coogan had once been rather extravagant. He loved to dress well and live well, and sesides he was an inveterate poker player and fully convinced of his own ability to pick the winning horse on any track. Mr. Coogan was no ordinary criminal. He had a certain education and was known among the people of the under world as "Gentleman George." Now he sat and smoked an excellent cigar and thinking of how much money it would be possible for him to get out of Coolbeen for only one hundred dollars a month. He had the man in his power, of that he was sure. Coolidge would no doubt pay money to any amount. The question was how much he was able to pay. He was no millionaire but quite well off. He had a good business and could surely stand for more than two hundred

Coolidge looked at Coogan with an expression of hatred, fear and disgust as he entered his office. His face was by no means weak and most people would have hesitated to try olackmail on him. Coogan had hesitated himself, but not very long. That was at the time when he didn't know the strength of his own posi-

"Good morning Mr. Coolidge," Coogan, said cordially. "A beautiful morning, isn't it? May I have your kind attention for a few minutes?"

Coolidge sent his stenographer away and turned around in his chair. He knew very well what was coming.

"I regret to say, Mr. Coolidge that my expenses have increased rather alarmingly of late. I don't want to seem immodest, but I think it would be a wise thing for you to raise my monthly salary to three hundred dollars. If it woulan't be an inconventence to you, I would appreciate it it you would make out a check now for next month's, and besides give me another check for five hundred dollars which would come in very handy

Coolidge turned pale. He felt like catching the man by the throat and squeezing the life out of him, but he thought of the result and he didn't dare move.

"How is this going to end, Coogan? How long do you think I'm going to stand for this? I'm not a rich man and I cannot raise your salary as you call it a hundred dollars a month every time you feel like it."

"Oh, I think you may be able to raise it at least this time," Coogan replied. "Three hundred dollars a month will not break you. People in your position ought to have regular amounts set aside for this purpose. You ought to provide for expenses of money to pay your rent and taxes. The privilege of being rich and having a good reputation is worth something.

"I will not allow you to ruin me. Get out of this office and do your worst, you scoundrel.' 'Certainly, my dear friend, I will do that," Coogan replied calmly, walking toward the door. "If I can't have three hundred dollars a month I shall rather have nothing at

His hand was already on the lock when Coolidge called him back. Coogan sat down with a smile while his victim made out a check for three hundred and handed it to him.

"Then there is still that little extra amount of five hundred," Coogan whispered.

Coolidge made out another check and gave it to the man. "Good morning, Mr. Coolidge," Coogan said, almost amiably, and

Coolidge did not reply, but when the door had closed behind the backmaller he sat for a few moments a picture of helpless despair. Then ne opened a drawer of his desk and took out a revolver. He looked into the barrel and placed it against his temple. Then he put it back into his drawer. "No, I'm not as big a coward as this," he mumbied.

Two weeks later James Flyns, known to the police as "Red Neck "lynn," invited Coogan to take part in a nightly excursion, and found him very willing to do so. He had nad bad luck at poser and the right horse had not won. Coogan was again in need of money. He didn't want to go to Coolidge right away, and was, therefore, ready for any kind of a job.

It was thus that it happened that the two men crawled through a win-LCW into a house which Flynn had kept his eye on during the pravious days. They went through the dining room, where they examined the silver, but suddenly Flynn gave a low whistle, which meant that he heard somebody coming.

The two men stood perfectly still tor a moment and both heard somebody coming.

"I don't want any shooting done," Flynn vhispered as he an through the next room and jumped out of the window. Coogan had also made a start, but in the darkness he ran against a chair and dropped his revolver. He was trying to find the eapon when suddenly the electric light was turned on and Coogan oosed into the mazzle of another revolver. And behind the revolver tood John T. Coolidge.

Coogan breathed eas.er for surely Coolidge would not give him up to the pot.ce.

"Well, Mr. Coolinge," he said jokingly, "I did not know that this was our house. It is rather fortunate for me, and perhaps you too, that it happened to be yours. Otherwise I should probably have been sent up." Coolidge smiled pleasantly,

"Sit down piease," ne said, and let use tal.: matters over."

"There's nothing to talk over," Coogan replied; 'you can't give me up to the police, for if you do I would tell them everything I know about you."

Coolidge sat down opposite Coogan, still covering 'tim with his revolver. It was an entirely different Coolidge from the man Coogan had

"No, I will not give you up to the police," Coolidge replied; "that might make it unpleasant for me, as you say, I will turn you ever to a different authority."

"What do you mean?" "A public undertaker."

Coogan turned pale, but showed no sign of fear.

"So you are going to kill me. That would be murder and you know unpleasant things happen to murderers, too, sometimes." Coolidge laughed.

"Do you really know as little as Don't you know that every citizen has a perfect right to shoot down a man who breaks into his house. It will take a jury fifteen minutes at the utmost to acquit me

"It would be a moral murder, even if it would be according to the law, and if you wouldn't be punished in this world you would surely have to suffer for it in the next."

"I don't believe in Hell," Coolidge said calmly. "You have caused me to believe that Hell exists in this lite, and you made it exceedingly hot for me during the last year. In a minute it will be all over and I will once more be a free man. Are you ready to die, Coogan?"

instead of replying Coogan made a rush for Coolidge, who fired, and the purglar fell to the ground. Stooping over him he fired three more bullets into the body. Then he went to the telephone and called up the police headquarters.

Effect of Vegetables on Human Race. The recent Pathological congress held in Paris has given us some curious facts about vege: ables and their effect upon the human race. The members of the congress after numerous experiments, have agreed that, although some vegetables are a preventitive against diseases of one sort or another, there are many others which have the opposite effect. They declare, for instance, that potatoes should be eaten by judges, magistrates, editors and those engaged in similar occupations, because they develop the reasoning faculties and give great mental balance and calmness of reflection. Overindulgence, however, produces apathy, indifference, and laziness. Confirmed potato eaters are likely to possess more reasoning powers than warmth of Carrots are especially recommended for curing bad tempers, besides being good for billous and peevish tolk. Persistent eating of boiled carrots will cure jealousy, me'ancholy, feelings of wrath and revenge, In fact, the nature of the carrot eater, in course of time, will undergo a complete change and make him easygoing, good natured, and placidly affectionate.

Spinach is good for men of action. All great generals have devoured it in large quantities. It develops will power, decision, ambition, energy, and it is the ideal food for fickle and hestating people. proper diet of spinach will put an end to dawdling in any household, Those who yearn for poetic thoughts and artistic ideas should feed largely or French beans. They create poets. Sorrel, on the other and, tends to sadness and discouragement, and those who persist in eating it be come victims of the dream habit, or

Why, Of Course.

nightmares and delusions .- Tit-Bits

"Is the detached cuff in good taste?" asks an exchange. Sure. it it is detached long enough to go to the laundry occasionally.

THE HIGHER LIFE

Guiding Our Way.

You may have a box of candles but if they are not lighted the room is dark. You must lift the taper to the candle, and then it glows. And your intellect and memory, imagination and conscience are candles, and it is God who lights them. The greatness of man is the greatness of God in him, as the ripeness of the fruit is the power of the dwelling in the seed .- Rev. John Hunt, Bat-

Priceless Men in History.

Providential men are priceless. They turn the trend of history. They become the beacons of human progress, kindled upon the dome of the centuries. They illuminate the mental and moral atmosphere of the world. History is the story of their epochal deeds. Civilization is the lengthened shadow of their exalted souls. They come at great intervals representing vast issues, opening new doors, founding new institutions, and framing new civilizations.-Rev. Wm. Bancroft, Methodist Episcopal.

Our Original Gifts.

Man, in his original state, as he came forth from the hands of the Creator, was possessed of three gifts -innocence, peace and immortality. Disobedience to God's laws destroyed the state of innocence in man. Tainted by sin and unable any longe to control passion, man was deprived of that precious gift of peace of heart and mind; as a consequence and a just punishment, that which was intended to be immortal became mortal. Christ came upon earth to restore mankind to His original position .- Rev. Frank Case, Methodist.

Our Teachers And Friends.

The evasion of the authority placed in fathers and mothers is a prolific source of crime and misery. It is the untrained boy who becomes the lawless man. It is the undisciplined girl who wastes her life and makes the tragic mistake of supposing that the doing of one's own will is the road to happiness. We are not in this world to be made happy, but to be made strong. We are not here, to be at ease, primarlly, any more than a boy's first duty in school is to waste his time. This that about our laws, Mr. Coogan? is the meaning of pain and sorrow and death.

Man's Soul an Exile.

Man's soul is in exile. Like the files back to God. The race is homesick. Man is not forever satisfied with humanity-divinity is planted within him. With Victor Hugo, every true man, the nearer he approaches the end, the plainer he hears around him the symphonies of the world which invite him. Man knows death does not end all, because when he approaches the grave he feels, with Hugo that he has not said the thousandth part of what there is in him. The soul intuitively reaches for life, and the God who gave man this reach will see to it that it comes to his grasp.

Fruits of Labor.

Many years ago a humble pastor labored for a whole year, with only one person added to the church, and that a boy. But years afterwards that boy, whose name was Robert Moffat, was laboring as a missionary in Africa, and when he returned to England Princes uncovered their heads before him and noblemen invited him to their homes, because he added another kingdom to the church of Christ and brought under the power of the gospel the most savage of African chiefs, given a translated Bible to savages and bestowed upon the world a better geographical knowledge of Africa. In the Crib of Luxury.

Real life with its hardships and battle its scars and wounds, its give and take, its surprises and growing revelations is too big to be contained in the baby crib of luxury. The attempt to make luxury the measuring rod of life is as foolish as for Simple Simon to go whaling in his mother's water pail! The appeal to luxury as the interpretation of life is the beginning of sorrows for an immortal spirit. The reality, the true reign of life, is subtracted and a painted ship upon a painted ocean is made to do duty in place of an actual greyhound of the sea, cleaving the furrowed billows with its adventurous prow.-Rev. Frank Willits, Reformed.

Who Are the Successful?

What is to become of the vast majorty of the world, if only those win who succeed in overcoming life's handicap? Are there few that will be saved? And if few are saved why was man created only to fall? Jesus answered that question by saying: "Strive to enter in at the straight gate." No man knows how many fail. Perhaps some of the seeming failures may succeed the best, but whether we succeed or fail, we know the rules of the game. We know the laws of life, and we know that hinderances are not meant, in the economy of God, to overwhelm men, but to be conquered and to make men strong. This is not only the law of life, but when we come to look at it more clearly it is the soul's necessity.—Rev. Frank Boyn-

WE HAVE ON HAND

a full stock of yellow corn, yellow corn meal,

hominy, bran, wheat mids, buckwheat mids, etc.

CUSTOM GRINDING A SPECIALTY.

GENOA FULL ROLLER MILLS, F. SULLIVAN, Prop.

THIS IS NO IDLE TALK.

No rents to pay I can save you money on your Farm Machinery, Farm Wagons, Carriages, Light and Heavy Harness. In fact anything pertaining to Farm Implements. When in town call and look over the Bettendorf, Columbus, Flint and Webber Farm Wagons.

Swift's Animal Bone Fertilizers always on hand. Buckwheat Fertilizers a specialty,

R. W. Armstrong, Genoa, N. Y.

Lightning! Lightning!

Protect your lives and property with National Copper Cable Lightning Rods.

We put them on your buildings in a scientific manner and give a strong and liberal guarantee that they will protect you. Write or call on the phone for estimates,

S. S. GOODYEAR.

Miller 'Phone.

Atwater, N. Y.

Agent for Deering Machinery.

The Highest Award

at the World's fair at St. Louis was granted to the Dodd & Struthers pure copper cable lightning rods to the exclusion of all others. I am prepared to put them on your buildings atia reasonable price. Once on, always protected.

G. N. COON, Ledyard, N. Y. Cayuga Southern 'Phone.

We sell the Kemp's 20th Century Manure Spreader,

REMEMBER

we are in shape to do anything in

Tinwork and Repairing.

Several kinds of roofings always in stock. Also having tools, binder twine, paint, oil stoves and in fact anything in the hardwaae line; we are always ready to get you anything we do not carry in stock such as stove extras, etc. All orders will have our careful attention.

Peck Hardware Co., Genoa

MILLER 'PHONE,

Not Bure of One of the Two.

A district visitor once went to see an old Scotchwoman who was dying. Noticing that her talk was all about herself and the minister, he said:

"Well, really, Jeannie, I believe you think there will be nobody in heaven but yourself and the minister."

"Ah, weel," said the old woman, "an' I'm no' sae sure aboot the minister."

THE ROLL CALL . "Corporal Green!" the orderly cried, "Here!" was the answer, loud and clear, From the lips of a soldier who stood

And "Here!" was the word the next replied. "Cyrus Drew!" Then a silence fell. This time no answer followed the call.

Only his rear man had seen him fall-Killed or wounded, he could not tell. There they stood in the falling light, These men of battle, with grave, dark

As plain to be read as open books

While slowly gathered the shades of night. Twas a victory-yes, but it cost us dear,

For the company's roll, when called at Of a hundred men that went into the Numbered but twenty that answered "Here!"

A Slight Difference.

"I suppose you went to bed with the chickens while you were in the country," said the caller.

-Nathaniel G. Shepherd.

"No, indeed," replied the lady of the house, somewhat shocked. "We had the best apartments in the house, second floor, front. The chickens had rooms way back in the rear somewhere. We never saw them after sunset."-Judge's Library.

Had a Name Ready.

The late Andrew J. Dam, a well known hotel man of New York, was at the time of the civil war proprietor of a hotel in New Bedford, Mass. A number of colored citizens interested in the formation of a military company called upon Mr. Dam and informed him that they would be glad to form the company and allow him to suggest the name provided he would pay for the equipments.

"Congressman T. D. Eliot has fitted as the Eliot Light guards," said the spokesman of the colored men.

'Well," said Mr. Dam, "if I am to equip this colored company I shall insist that they be known as the Dam | ment," was the answer. Black guards."

The military records do not show that | fond of dancing such a company was ever organized.

Belated Mourning.

O'Flannagan came home one night with a deep band of crape around his

"Why, Mike," exclaimed his wife. "what are ye wearin' that mournful thing for?"

"I'm wearin' it for yer first husband. I'm sorry he's dead."-Everybody's.

Wanted Part of a Sure Thing.

On a train bound for Kansas City was an old gentleman who, it appeared, was proceeding to the city named on certain legal business. The journey was nearly completed when the citlerly person became possessed of the notion that certain important papers had been left behind. After a hurried in-

"If I left those papers behind, I'm a fool!" A little later he resumed his examination of the bag's contents. "I bet st'll turn out I'm a fool," he murmured vestigation of his bag he observed:

"Would you obliged me, sir, by laying a little money that same way for me?" asked a testy individual occupying the adjoining seat as he looked over the edge of his newspaper.

Strenuous First Aid.

A physician was one day summoned post haste to the home of a lady. He found her in a shocking condition. "What has happened to you? Have you been run over by an automobile?" The lady shook her head on the pillow.

"No," she answered in a weak voice; "I fainted, and a member of the first Ald to the injured club brought me to."

Wounds In Front.

A New Englander recently had occasion to engage a gardener. One morning two applicants appeared, one a decidedly decent looking man and the other of much less prepossessing appearance and manner, After very little hesitation the man of the house chose the latter applicant, A friend who was present evinced surprise at the selection, asking:

"Has that man ever worked for you before?" "No," replied the other. "In fact, I never saw either of them before today." "Then why did you choose the shorter man? The other had a much better face."

want to go by his overalis. If they're patched on the knees you want bim; if the inteh is on the sext of the fronsers, you that I " Surress, Fatherly Discipline.

up "but it is after 11, and frick has not come home yet, and it is the secoud time this week he has stayed min. boy of seventees"-

She faltered. He was looking at her for your grandmother," with a strange fixed expression. understand. Leave him to me. I shall wait up until he comes in."

"Don't be harsh with him," she said pleadingly. "Oh, I am so sorry I told you! Remember, he has always been such a good boy."

"My dear, you have nothing further to do with this. I must deal with my son in my own way. I request you not to luterfere. You had better go quietly to your room. I ask you to do so. I want him to find me here when he sees fit to return to his home."

She retired, with her mother heart anxiously beating, and waited until the click of a latchkey sounded in the street door. She listened, tremblingready to rush out-a penitent peacemaker. She heard:

"Dick, is that you?" "Yes, sir."

"Is the dog in the hall?" "Yes. sir."

"Well, turn out the gas. Good night. -Woman's Home Companion,

Not Opaque, but O'Brien.

At a political meeting an excited man had risen to yell his satisfaction. "Sit down!" called the man behind him, twitching his coattails. "Don't you know you're opaque?"

"And that I'm not!" cried the other. "I'm O'Brien!"

The Polite Stranger.

Some yearswago while the late Bishop Clark of Rhode Island was attending a lecture in Boston he observed a man sitting three seats in front whom he thought he knew. He requested the person sitting next to him to "punch" the other individual with his umbrella. The polite stranger did so, and, the disturbed person turning his head a little, Bishop Clark discovered it was not the person he supposed. Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting unconsciousness of the whole affair, he left the man with the umbrella to settle with the other. There was a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during all of which Bishop Clark was profoundly interested in the lecture. At last the man with the umbrella asked indignantly, 'Didn't you tell me to punch that person with my umbrella?" "Yes."
"And what did you want?" "I wanted to see whether you would punch him or not."

Taking Exercise. An American lady at the court of out a company of white men, and Vienna with whom an imperial highthroughout the war they will be known ness danced three times on the same evening, flattered by his attention, ex-

"I did not intend it as a compli-

"I detest dancing." imperial highness' motive for danc- entitled to add the beauty of the scene

"Madam," was the exalted person- do Emerson. age's curt reply, "my medical attendant advises me to perspire!"

Two Readings.

A young farmer who had great conceit, little discretion and scarcely any education presented himself once at a Presbyterian conference and said he wished to be ordained as a preacher. "I aln't had any great learnin'." he said frankly, "but I reckon I'm called to preach. I've had a vision three nights runnin'. That's why I'm here." "What was your vision?" inquired one of the elders. "Well, I dreamt I see a big, round ring in the sky, an' in the middle of it was two greaf letters-P. C. I knew that meant Presbyterian Conference, an' here I am' There was an uncomfortable pause, which was broken by an elder who knew the young man and was well acquainted with the poverty of his family and the neglected conditions of their farm. "I haven't any gift atreading visions," said the old man gravely as he rose from his seat, "but I'd like to put it to my young friend whether he doesn't think it's possible those two letters may have stood for

Just One More Kiss.

'Plant Corn?'"

A dear old citizen went to the railroad station to see his daughter off on a journey. Securing her a seat, he passed out of the car and went around to the car window to say a last parting word. While he was leaving the car the daughter crossed the aisle to speak to a friend, and at the same time a grim old maid took the seat and moved up to the window.

Unaware of the change, the old gentleman hurriedly put his bead up to the window and said, "One more kiss,

In another instant the point of a cotton umbrella was thrust from the window, followed by the wrathful injunction, "Scat, you gray headed wretch!" -Ladies' Home Journal.

A Reserved Chair.

His grandmother told him almost every day that he was a naughty boy and that the devil would get him and throw him into his lake of brimstone. One "Face," explained the proprietor of morning the little fellow came down to the place in disgust. "Let me tell you | breakfast looking pale. "I had a had that when you pick out a cardener you | dream," he said, "and I thought I went to that place that grandma tells me every day I am surely going to. When I reached there the old devil was throwing the children in the fire, just as granding told inc he would do, and there were rows and rows of chairs She came into his study gently, "I and people all sitting on them taking hate to disturb you dear" be looked their turns. I spied a big one on the back row, and I not down on my knees and legan to crawl under the other chairs to reach this sent in the last I did not wish to speak be you, but a row when the old devil saw me and sald: Come back here. That chair is

Why James Lee Got Well.

Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs. Mary Lee, of rural route 8. She writes: "My husband. James Lee, firmly be leves he owes his life to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it, and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For coughs and colds it has no equal. The first dose g ves relief. Try it! Sold under guarantee at J. S. Banker's, Genoa and F. T. Atwater's, King Ferry drug stores. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle

August time, tells on the nerves But that spiritless, no ambition feel ing can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Within 48 hours after beginning to use the Restorative, im provement will be noticed Of course, fall health will not immediately return. The gain, however, will surely follow And best of all, you will realize and feel your strength and ambition as it is returning Outside influences depress first the "inside nerves" then the stomach, Heart, and Kidneys will usually fail. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly health will be yours again. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

Rat's Strange Leath. A cocoanut was recently brought to me just as picked up in a Colombo garden, with the head of a big rat fixed into the nut, the rat being not long dead. Clearly the rat was up a tree nibbling at, or, rather, being well into, the nut, nearly full size, when the nut tumbled, and before the rat could withdraw it was crushed to death between the nut and the ground.-Ceylon Ob-

A Kodak on the Outing is almost a necessity They are in constant demand making pictures of people, places and things. Our stock is complete, from the little $1.00 Brownie up as far as you wish to go. Let us show you. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn Scene and Circumstance.

When a noble act is done, perchance in a scene of great natural beauty; when Leonidas and his 300 martyrs pressed her gratification at the compli- consume one day in dying and the sun and moon come each and look at them once in the steep defile of Thermopylae; when Arnold Winkelried, in the "Then your highness must be very high Alps, under the shadow of the avalanche, gathers in his side a sheaf of Austrian spears to break the line "What, then, may I ask, can be your for his comrades-are not these heroes to the beauty of the deed?-Ralph Wal-

DEPOSITS BY MAIL

You can have the full benefit of the great strength and complete equipment of the Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company in Rochester, N. Y. without the necessity of frequent personal visits to the city. Banking by mail is simple, and is perfectly safe. It is of special advantage to persons living in the country or smaller towns who want the satisfaction of dealing with an absolutely safe bank. Upon receipt of a deposit which can be remitted by Post Office, Express orders, or a New York draft, a written acknowledgment will be promptly made and a book issued under whatever title you may in-

This bank pays 4 PER CENT interest on deposits and its officers pledge themselves to serve your interests faithfully when you entrust your business to it.

The Rochester Trust & Safe Deposit Company Main St. West, Corner Exchange St. Rochester, N. Y.

Resources over $21,000,000.00

INSTRUCTIVE - INTERESTING 'CORRECT ENGLISH-

A MONTHLY MAGAZINE DEVOTED TO THE USE OF ENGLISH JOSEPHINE TURCK BAKER,

Editor

PARTIAL CONTENTS

Queries and Answers Shall and Will: Should and Would: How to Use them.

Pronunciations (Century Dictionary) Correct English in the Home. Correct English in the School, What to Say and What Not to Say. Course in Grammar.

Course in Letter Writing and Punctuation.

Business English for the Business Them.

Studies in English Literature. AGENTS WANTED $1 00 a Year. Send 10c for sample copy

"The Art of Conversation Twelve Golden Rules. Price 15 cents.

> CORRECT ENGLISH, Evanston, III.

AN ART OF SMILING.

And a Lost Art at That to the Woman with a Smirk.

What charm there is in a smile, yet what a rarity these days! Many of us, especially women, have lost the We have smiled so much and so often to order, from a sense of duty, that now the charming spontaneity of the act has entirely disappeared.

A smile to be worth anything must nct be a continuous performance. The habitual smile of society is totally and unbroken quality. It has no more meaning than a mask, like which it may be removed at will.

What do society maids know, those who are called bright, animated, sparkling, of the genuine, the unconstrained smile? When the sun breaks out of a cloudy sky, then the heavens brighten. So the sudden light, eraditing a grave and tender face is the glow that counts, the flash that is irresistible.

Many a demure little mouse of a woman receives love where the brilliant society favorite must be satisfied with admiration, all because some man has been caught by the thrill of the soul-smile. It is a gift of the gods just as beauty is or pleasing voice.

There are features which do not lend themselves readily to smiles, vet a plain face at a momentary lighting up may become irresistible. Expression can change the countenance almost beyond recognition. Nothing is more difficult to pain than a smile. A grin may be photographed but rarely a smile; for instead there appears a smug expression silent organ or piano in the house any long-which irritates while it amuses. The rainbow smile belongs to poetry. "With a smile on her lip and a tear in her eye," says Scott. This brings to mind the sort of heroine he loved-brave, tender, sympathetic and exquisite. Sweeter than all is the smile of sympathy; a word is said, a meaning grasped, a shade of feeling understood, and instantly comes the answering glow. It may flash from the face of a stranger, yet is always welcome and fascinating. Often it sows the seeds of love.

How exquisite is the book that passes between mother and child, or between man and woman who live only for each other! The genuine smile is a sure passport. Coming from the heart it fascinates man and woman alike.

It coaxes the most unrelenting, it softens ill-temper and goes twice as far as servile tip or lordly command. This is the heaven-sent smile. It cannot be achie ed by art; it is the outcome of a sweet, sunny nature.

A Directoire Gown,

'So much has been written of the Directoire dresses that have scandalized even Paris that one shies at the name, but a dainty and highly approved type of the present French rage is typified in this dainty toilette. The skirt is divided, but after the lires of a tunic, there being an underskirt of soft mousseline de soie instead or the tights used in the French Directoire dress. It is smooth fitting about the hips and tr mmed with graduated tucks at the

The bodice is made of mousseline de soie, matching the petticoat. It is trimmed with cucks and meda

A DIRECTOIRE GOWN. lions of bebe crochet lace, arranged about the square cut neck, down the front and along the centre edges of the sleeves. And, by the way, the sleeves though much smaller than Japanese effects, are cut in one with the bodice fitting into the shoulders without a suspicion of fulness.

The overskirt of thin figured pongee and the mousseline is in a delicate shade of ecru. No other color is introduced into the decorative scheme of the collette, even the net reflecting the same tones.

Candle Stains.

Candle grease stsins are easily removed .. Scrape off as much of the Compound Words: How to Write grease as possible, then place the material between blotting paper and press with a hot iron. Change the paper frequently.

> If the material is very fine, sprinkle French chalk over the grease spots, cover with blotting paper and let it remain for a couple of days. If you cannot let the material stend that long press with a warm

Yate wood of Australia has the tensile strength of good cast iron.

Don't Neglect Your Teeth

Come to us; we guarantee our work to be the best; we make no charge for consultation and examination and our prices are within the reach of all.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an Order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of William A. Hing, late of the town of Ledyard, Cayuga County, N. T., deceased, are required to present the same with vonchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the Administrator of, etc., of said deceased, whose postome address is R. F. D. W. Ring Ferry, N. Y., at his place of residence in the Town of Ledyard, County of Cayuga, on or before the 14th day of March, 1998.

Dated Aug. 6, 1998.

devoid of charm from its unchanging Best Set Teeth on Red Rubber $8.00

Vitalized Air for Extracting 50c Red Cross Dentists,

67 Genesee St., (Cor North)

AUBURN, N. Y

If you can't play by note, we will teach you in one hour to play your favorite piece of mesic by the "Easy Form" method. You will then be ready to play at once any and all music written in the new method, which is so simple that an eight year old child can learn to play the piano or organ in an hour without a teacher. Don't have a

er. Try this method at our expense. OUR OFFER: We will send you, exress charges prepaid by us, a bound portfolio of 100 pieces of popular and sacred music in the "Easy Form" method, and our Guide to the keyboard and complete simple instructions, all you will need to begin your favorite pieces at once. Try the music seven days. If you want it send us $1.50 within the seven days, and $1.00 a month for five months thereafter. If you don't want it send it back to us in the seven days at our expense. Simply write us to day and say: "I accept your free trial offer in THE GENOA TRIBUNE, Genoa, N. Y.

My piano or organ has-white keys. IMPORTANT: Be sure to say how many white keys your instrument has. Address, Easy Method Music Co.,

338 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

BUCKBEE'S BULBS SUCCEED! SPECIAL OFFER: Made to build New Business A rial will make you a permanent cus-omer. Satisfaction guaranteed or your oney refunded. Souvenir Collection of Choles Bulbs in splen-s fellowing beautiful sorts: Grape Hyadisth, Feshber Hya th, Spring Snowdaks, Isla, Spanish Irla, Scillas, Sparsa unusculus, Snowden, Crossuc, Chiosodors, Asemena, Daffod pring Soowslaks, Izia, Spinus aris, in the principle of the provided from the principle of the principle of

SEND 25 CENTS

H. W. Buckbee 410 BUCKBEE ST.

...EGGS...

Water Glass is now the recognized standard for preserving eggs, its solution will keep them fresh indefinitely. Ask us about it.

Pints 15c Quarte -25c Gallons -75c

Headquarters for Paris Green and Blue Vitrol, get our prices before buying.

McGovern Drug Co. 123 Genesee Street, AUBURN, N. Y.

PATENTS. HARRY DEWALLACE, PATENT ATTORNEY AND MECHANICAL ENGINEER.

510 KIRK BLOCK, SYRACUSE, N. Y. 15 years' experience; prompt and skilled service at reasonable charges. BELL PHONE 517

Elmhurst Sanitarium! Private Hospital for general nursing old people and chronic cases, and maternity cases a specialty. Address

MRS. C. A. GRANT,

630 PARK AVE., SYRACUSE, N. Y Talgum Powder. The following high quality powders we especially recommend. Rexall, 10c, Rexall Violet 15c., Colgate's Violet 15c.,

Hudnut's Violet Sec. 25c , Hudnut's

Extreme Violet 50e. Bagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Don't be fat. Take off the surplus fat with Rexall Obesity Treat per year, and this pays for 15 spapers ment. It quickly reduces your weight to normal, which enables the and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together heart and lungs to expand and perform their work naturally. It is a safe remedy. 75c. Sagar Drug Store,

BRING YOUR LEGAL PRINTING TO THIS OFFICE-- WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON IT.

Notice to Creditora.

Dated Aug. 6, 1908, JOHN A. KING, Administrator, Benjamin C. Mead, Attorney for Administrator, Aubarn, N. Y.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, N. Y., Notice is hereby given, that all persons having claims against the estate of Elijah C. Eaton, late of the town of Venice, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same, with vouchers in support thereof, to the undersigned, the administratrix of, etc., of said deceased, at her place of residence in the town of Venice, County of Cayuga, N. Y., on or before the 7th day of February, 1903.

MINNIE M. BATON.

Administratrix,

Dated August 7, 1908.

Dated August 7, 1908.

Notice to Creditors. By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Lucian B. Mead, late of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y. deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the administrator of, etc., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 21st day of August, 1908.

ERNEST B. MEAD,

Dated Feb. 98, 1908. B. C. Mead, Attorney for Administrator, Auburn, N. Y. Notice to Creditors. By virtue of an Order granted by the surregate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against estate of John H. Algard, late of the town of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y. decessed, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executor of, &c., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 7th day of September, 1908.

Dated February 25, 1908.

JOHN H. GARD, Executor, Vansickle & Allen,

Vansickle & Allen, Attorneys for Executor, Office and P. O. Address,

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, Notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Clara A. Mather, late of the town of Venice, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executor of, etc., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Venice, County of Cayuga, on or before the 2d day of November. 1908.

Fenton C. Mather,

Executor

Dated April 9,1908. Notice to Creditors.

140 Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

By virtue of an Order granted by the Surrogate of Cayinga County, Notice is hereby given that all perrops having claims against the estate of William C. Meader, late of the town of Venice, Cayinga County, N. T. deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the Excu-tors of, &c., of said deceased, at the office of Elisha Cook in Poplar Ridge, Town of Venice, County of Cayuga, N. Y., on or before the 1st day of November, 1908. Dated April 17, 1908.

LYDIA D. MEADER, ELISHA COOK, Executors. SUPREME COURT, LAYUGA COUNTY, John W. Hume, Plaintiff, against Elizabeth C. Hume, Mary F. Campbell, Harry P. Campbell, Frederic T. Lewis, Elizabeth Lewis, Howard H. Lewis, Katherine Lewis, Lula Wadsworth, Daniel E. Wadsworth, Alida Wilson, George Wilson, Gridley Quick, Thomas W. Warren, ohn W. Hume, as Executor of the estate

of Thomas C. Hume, deceased, and Kate C. Hume, defendants. To the above named defendants: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the

of Cayuga. Dated, this 29th day of May, 1908. JOHN L. HUNTER, Plaintiff's Attorney, complaint. Trial to be had in the County

Office No. 141 Genesee Street, P. O. address, Auburn, Cayuga Co., N. Y. To Mary F. Campbell, Harry P. Campbell, Howard Lewis, Katherine Lewis, Alida Wilson and George Wilson, defendants; The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Hull Greenfield, Cayuga County Judge, dated the 9th day of July, 1908, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of the County of Cayuga, State of New York, at Auburn, N. Y., on said last named day.

No. 141 Genesee St., Auburn, N. V. The Thrice-A-Week World In The Presidential Campaign Year

Office and P. O. Address,

JOHN L. HUNTER, Plaintiff's Attorney,

More Alert, More Thorough and More Fearless Than ever. Read in every English-Speaking Country

A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will best? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-s-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-a-Week World long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly. THE THRICE-A WEEK WORLD regular subscription price is only, 11 We offer this unequalied newstaped for one year for $1.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2 00.

A Majority

of country banks pay their stockholders Six Per Cent dividends, and their depositors Two Per Cent on their de-

We pay our stockholders Five Per Cent. and our depositors Three Per Cent.

If you are a depositor instead of a stockholder, this may interest vou. -

The Citizens Bank, Locke, N. Y.

That your headache, dizziness, &c., are not caused by your eyes have them thoroughly examined. I guarantee all lenses fitted by me to relieve the trouble they are adapted for. Best Equipped Optical Parlors in Auburn. I grind all my own while you wait.

Fred L. Swart,

The Eye Fitter. Cor. Genesee and Green Sts., next to postoffice. AUBURN.

J. WILL TREE. BOOK BINDING ITHACA.

Orders taken at THE GENOA TRI

Pure Drugs and Medicines Banker's At

Book and Drug Store, GENOA, N. Y.

.. Harness Shop ..

-NEW-

Having engaged in the harness business at Locke I am now prepared tol furnish both hand and achine made harness. Special attention given to repairing.

A. H. BANTA.

Retribution

Coogan opened the letter which the letter carrier had just handed him and produced a check which made him smile. The check was made out for $200 and the name signed to it, John T. Coolidge. was a guarantee that the check was good for that amount at any time.

it was very pleasant to receive a check once a month from another man just because you happened to know something about him which would make it very unpleasant for him if his wife and family heard about it. For this was really much easier than Mr. Coogan's regular profession, for he was a burglar, and, occasionally, did not hesitate to hold up a man at any time if he thought he could get away. It was also far less risky, for Mr. Coogan was a carefu. man. The state had once given him free lodging for a considerable length of time while he was younger and less smart. He did not desire the hospitality of the state again and was therefore very much pleased. with the regular checks from his friend. It occurred to him, however, that he ought to get more money out of Coolidge. Mr. Coogan had once been rather extravagant. He loved to dress well and live well, and Jesides he was an inveterate poker player and fully convinced of his own ability to pick the winning horse on any track. Mr. Coogan was no ordinary criminal. He had a certain education and was known among the people of the under world as "Gentleman George." Now he sat and smokeu an excellent cigar and thinking of how much money it would be possible for him to get out of Coolidge. He had already succeeded once and his original demand had been for only one hundred dollars a lenses and can replace broken lenses wonth. He had the man in his power, of that he was sure. Coolidge would no doubt pay money to any amount. The question was how much he was able to pay. He was no millionaire but quite well off. He had a good business and could surely stand for more than two hundred

Coolidge looked at Coogan with an expression of hatred, fear and disgust as he entered his office. His face was by no means weak and most seople would have hesitated to try olsckmall on him. Coogan had hesitated himself, but not very long. That was at the time when he didn't know the strength of his own posi-

Coogan, said cordially. "A beautiful morning, isn't it? May I have your kind attention for a few minutes?"

Coolidge sent his stenographer away and turned around in his chair, He knew very well what was coming.

"I regret to say, Mr. Coolidge that my expenses have increased rather alarmingly of late. I don't want to seem immodest, but I think it would be a wise thing for you to raise my monthly salary to three hundred dollars. If it woulan't be an inconventence to you, I would appreciate it it you would make out a check now for nex+ month's, and besides give me another check for five hundred dollars which would come in very handy

Coolidge turned pale. He felt like catching the man by the throat and squeezing the life out of him, but he thought of the result and he didn't dare move.

"How is this going to end, Coogan? How long do you think I'm going to stand for this? I'm not a rich man and I cannot raise your salary as you call it a hundred dollars a month every time you feel like it."

"Oh, I think you may be able to raise it at least this time," Coogan replied. "Three hundred dollars a month will not break you. People in your position ought to have regular amounts set aside for this purpose. You ought to provide for expenses of money to pay your rent and taxes. The privilege of being rich and having a good reputation is worth some-

"I will not allow you to ruin me. Get out of this office and do your worst, you scoundrel.

"Certainly, my dear friend, I will do that," Coogan replied calmly, walking toward the door. "If I can't have three hundred dollars a month I shall rather have nothing at

His hand was already on the lock when Coolidge called him back, Coogan sat down with a smile while his victim made out a check for three hundred and handed it to him.

"Then there is still that little extra amount of five hundred," Coogan whispered.

Coolidge made out another check and gave it to the man. "Good morning, Mr. Coolidge,"

Coogan said, almost amiably, and Coolidge did not reply, but when the door had closed behind the backmailer he sat for a few moments a picture of helpless despair. Then he opened a drawer of his desk and took out a revolver. He looked into the barrel and placed it against his temple. Then he put it back into his drawer.

"No. I'm not as big a coward as this," he mumbled.

Two weeks later James Flynn, known to the police as "Red Neck b'lynn," invited Coogan to take part him very willing to do so. He had nad bad luck at power and the right horse had not won. Coogan was again in need of money. He didn't want to go to Coolidge right away, and was, therefore, ready for any kind of a job.

It was thus that it happened that the two men crawled through a winccw into a house which Flynn had kept his eye on during the pravious days. They went through the daning room, where they examined the silver, but suddenly Flynn gave a low whistie, which meant that he heard somebody coming.

The two men stood perfectly still tor a moment and both heard somebody coming.

"I don't want any shooting done," rlynn vhispered as ne an through the next room and jumped out of the window. Cooga, had also made a start, but in ta darkness he ran against a chair and dropped his revolver. He was trying to find the eapon when suddenly the electric light was turned on and Coogan loored into the muzzle of another revolver. And behind the revolver tood John T. Cooliage.

Coogan breathed eas.er for surely Coolidge would not give him up to

"Well, Mr. Coolinge," he said jokingly, "I did not know that this was your house. It is rather fortunate tor me, and perhaps you too, that it happened to be yours. Otherwise I should probably have been sent up." Coolidge smiled pleasantly.

"Sit down please," he said, and let use tal.: matters over."

"There's nothing to talk over," Coogan replied; "you can't give me up to the police, for if you do I would tell them everything I know

Coolidge sat down opposite Coogan, still covering him with his revolver. It was an entirely different Coolidge from the man Coogan had seen oefore.

"No, I will not give you up to the police," Coolidge replied; "that might make it unpleasant for me, as you say, I will turn you ever to a dinerent authority.'

"What do you mean?" "A public undertaker."

Coogan turned pale, but showed no sign of fear

"So you are going to kill me. That would be murder and you know unpleasant things happen to murderers, too, sometimes."

Coolidge laughed.

"Do you really know as little as that about our laws, Mr. Coogan? Don't you know that every citizen has a perfect right to shoot down a man who breaks into his house. It will take a jury fifteen minutes at ne utmost to acquit me.

"It would be a moral murder, even if it would be according to the law, and if you wouldn't be punished in this world you would surely have to suffer for it in the next."

"I don't believe in Hell," Coolidge said calmiy. "You have caused me to believe that Hell exists in this lite, and you made it exceedingly hot for me during the last year. In a minute it will be all over and I will once more be a free man. Are you ready to die, Coogan?"

Instead of replying Coogan made a rush for Coolidge, who fired, and the ourglar fell to the ground. Stooping over him he fired three more bullets into the body. Then he went to the telephone and called up the police headquarters.

Effect of Vegetables on Human Race.

The recent Pathological congress held in Paris has given us some curious facts about vegetables and their effect upon the human race. The members of the congress after numerous experiments, have agreed that, although some vegetables are a preventitive against diseases of one sort or another, there are many others which have the opposite effect. They declare, for instance, that potatoes should be eaten by judges, magistrates, editors and those engaged in similar occupations, because they develop the reasoning faculties and give great mental balance and calmness of reflection. Overindulgence, however, produces apathy, indifference, and laziness. Confirmed potato eaters are likely to possess more reasoning powers than warmth of Carrots are especially recommended for curing bad tempers, besides being good for bilious and peevish tolk. Persistent eating of boiled carrots will cure jealousy, me'ancholy, feelings of wrath and revenge, in fact, the nature of the carrot eater, in course of time, will undergo a complete change and make him easygoing, good natured, and placidly affectionate.

Spinach is good for men of action. All great generals have devoured it in large quantities. It develops will power, decision, amb: tion, energy, and it is the ideal food for fickle and hestating people. A proper diet of spinach will put an end to dawdling in any household. Those who yearn for poetic thoughts and artistic ideas should feed largely or French beans. They create poets Sorrel, on the other and, tends to sadness and discouragement, and those who persist in eating it be come victims of the dream habit, or nightmares and delusions,-'rit-Birs

Why, Of Course.

"Is the detached cuff in good taste?" asks an exchange. Sure, ii it is detached long enough to go to the laundry occasionally.

THE HIGHER LIFE

Guiding Our Way. You may have a box of candles but if they are not lighted the room is dark. You must lift the taper to the candle, and then it glows. And your intellect and memory, imagination and conscience are candles, and it is God who lights them. The greatness of man is the greatness of God in him, as the ripeness of the fruit is the power of the dwelling in the seed .- Rev. John Hunt, Bat-

Priceless Men in History.

Providential men are priceless. They turn the trend of history. They become the beacons of human progress, kindled upon the dome of the centuries. They illuminate the mental and moral atmosphere of the world. History is the story of their epochal deeds. Civilization is the lengthened shadow of their exalted souls. They come at great intervals representing vast issues, opening new doors, founding new institutions, and framing new civilizations.-Rev. Wm. Bancroft, Methodist Episcopal.

Our Original Gifts.

Man, in his original state, as he came forth from the hands of the Creator, was possessed of three gifts -innocence, peace and immortality. Disobedience to God's laws destroyed the state of innocence in man. Tainted by sin and unable any longe to control passion, man was deprived of that precious gift of peace of heart and mind; as a consequence and a just punishment, that which was intended to be immortal became mortal. Christ came upon earth to restore mankind to His original position .- Rev. Frank Case,

Our Teachers And Friends.

The evasion of the authority placed in fathers and mothers is prolific source of crime and misery. It is the untrained boy who becomes the lawless man. It is the undisciplined girl who wastes her life and makes the tragic mistake of supposing that the doing of one's own will is the road to happiness. We are not in this world to be made happy, but to be made strong. We are not here, to be at ease, primarily, any more than a boy's first duty in school is to waste his time. This is the meaning of pain and sorrow

Man's Soul an Exile.

Man's soul is in exile. Like the homing pigeon, when he is releas flies back to God. The race is homesick. Man is not forever satisfied with humanity-divinity is planted within him. With Victor Hugo, every true man, the nearer he approaches the end, the plainer he hears around him the symphonies of the world which invite him. Man knows death does not end all, because when he approaches the grave he feels, with Hugo that he has not said the thousandth part of what there is in him. The soul intuitively reaches for life, and the God who gave man this reach will see to it that it comes to his grasp.

Fruits of Labor.

Many years ago a humble pastor labored for a whole year, with only one person added to the church, and that a boy. But years afterwards that boy, whose name was Robert Moffat, was laboring as a missionary in Africa, and when he returned to England Princes uncovered their heads before him and noblemen invited him to their homes, because he added another kingdom to the church of Christ and brought under the power of the gospel the most savage of African chiefs, given a translated Bible to savages and bestowed upon the world a better geographical knowledge of Africa.

" In the Crib of Luxury. Real life with its hardships and battle its scars and wounds, its give and take, its surprises and growing revelations is too big to be contained in the baby crib of luxury. The attempt to make luxury the measuring rod of life is as foolish as for Simple Simon to go whaling in his mother's water pail! The appeal to luxury as the interpretation of life is the beginning of sorrows for an immortal spirit. The reality, the true reign of life, is subtracted and a painted ship upon a painted ocean is made to do duty in place of an actual greyhound of the sea, cleaving the furrowed billows with its adventurous prow .- Rev. Frank Willits, Reformed.

Who Are the Successful? What is to become of the vast majorty of the world, if only those win who succeed in overcoming life's handicap? Are there few that will be saved? And if few are saved why was man created only to fall? Jesus answered that question by saying: "Strive to enter in at the straight gate." No man knows how many fail. Perhaps some of the seeming fallures may succeed the best, but whether we succeed or fail, we know the rules of the game. We know the laws of life, and we know that hinderances are not meant, in the economy of God, to overwhelm men, but to be conquered and to make men strong. This is not only the law of life, but when we come to look at it more clearly it is the soul's accessity.—Rev. Frank Boyn-

WE HAVE ON HAND

a full stock of yellow corn, yellow corn meal,

hominy, bran, wheat mids, buckwheat mids, etc.

CUSTOM GRINDING A SPECIALTY.

GENOA FULL ROLLER MILLS, SULLIVAN, Prop.

THIS IS NO IDLE TALK.

No rents to pay I can save you money on your Farm Machinery, Farm Wagons, Carriages, Light and Heavy Harness. In fact anything pertaining to Farm Implements. When in town call and look over the Bettendorf, Columbus, Flint and Webber Farm Wagons.

Swift's Animal Bone Fertilizers always on hand. Buckwheat Fertilizers a specialty,

R. W. Armstrong. Genoa, N. Y.

Lightning! Lightning!

Protect your lives and property with National Copper Cable Lightning Rods.

We put them on your buildings in a scientific manner and give a strong and liberal guarantee that they will protect you. Write or call on the phone for estimates,

S. S. GOODYEAR,

Miller 'Phone.

Atwater, N. Y.

Agent for Deering Machinery.

The Highest Award

at the World's fair at St. Louis was granted to the Dodd & Struthers pure copper cable lightning rods to the exclusion of all others. I am prepared to put them on your buildings at a reasonable price. Once on, always protected.

G. N. COON, Ledyard, N. Y. Cayuga Southern 'Phone.

We sell the Kemp's 20th Century Manure Spreader,

REMEMBER

we are in shape to do anything in

Tinwork and Repairing.

Several kinds of roofings always in stock. Also having tools, binder twine, paint, oil stoves and in fact anything in the hardwaae line; we are always ready to get you anything we do not carry in stock such as stove extras, etc. All orders will have our careful attention.

Peck Hardware Co., Genoa

MILLER 'PHONE,

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

To the Republican Electors of the County of Cayuga:
The Republican electors of the County of Cayuga are hereby requested to send delegates from the towns and wards of said county to a

of the Republican party, to be held at the Court house, in the city of Auburn, N.Y.. on Saturday, the 29th day of August, 1908, at 2:30 o'clock, p.m., for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican State, Congressional and Senatorial conventions for 1908, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the conventions, also to a the convention; also to a

County Convention

of the Republican party, to be held at the Court house, in the city of Auburn, N. Y., on Saturday, the 29th day of August, 1908, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for district attorney and also coroner, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention; also to an

Assembly Convention

of the Republican party, to be held at the Court house, in the city of Auburn, N.Y., on Saturday, the 29th day of August, 1908, at 11 o'clock, a.m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for member of assembly, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention; also to a

School Commissioner Convention

of the Republican party for the North District of said ounty, to be held at Weedsport, N. Y., on Saturday, the 5th day of September, 1908, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for school commissioner for gaid North District, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention; also to a

School Commissioner Convention

of the Republican party for the South District of of the Republican party for the South District of said county, to be held at Moravia, N.Y., on Saturday, the 5th day of September, 1308, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purpose of placing in nomi-nation a candidate for school commission r for said South District, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before

	Apportio	nmen	t of Delegates.
		presen	nd wards are entitled tation in each of sa
1	Auburn	Del.	D
	1st ward	. 13	Ira
	2nd ward	14	Ledyard
	3rd ward		Locke
	4th ward		Mentz
	5th ward		Montezuma
	6th ward	12	Moravia
	7th ward	7	Niles

Dated, Auburn, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1908. William C. Firth. Chairman. Republican General Committee. Arthur E. Blauvelt, Secretary.

Sempronius Sennett

Scipio .

Venice

Sciploville.

Aug. 11-Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Jorris are having a vacation of three weeks. No services will be held in the Presbyterian church during that time.

Miss Wallenfels of Brooklyn has been visiting Mrs. Warren Strong for the past week.

Stanley Ward of Cayuga was a week-end visitor at Warren Strong's

Mrs. J. M. Allen, who has been a guest of Mrs. L. S. Atwater, has returned to her home in Auburn.

Cortland for the past week. Frank Pattington, wife, and son Russell spent Sunday at Union Springs, the guests of Ledra Holt and family. Mrs. Buckhout took a spin in Mr.

Sperry's auto on Monday. Mrs. Wm. Aldrich is visiting at her father's, B. L. Watkins. Mrs. Jay DeShong spent Sunday at her father's, Wm. McCormick. Geo. Groom is seriously ill at his home and under the care of Dr. Cuddeback. Theo. Waldron and wife were guests a

Wm. Buckhout's over Sunday. Frank Buchanan and wife and daughter of Moravia were the guests at Wm. Mc-Cormick's on Monday.

Reunions.

The annual Peck reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marshall, at Forks of the Creek on Saturday, Aug. 29, 1908. All rel atives are cordially invited.

The sixth annual Shaw reunion will be held at the home of Mrs. Emeline and Mrs. Frances Shaw, Genoa, N. Y., Tuesday, Aug 25, 1908. A cordial invitation is extend ed to all relatives.

TO OUR READERS

A short sermon will be printed in this paper each week hereafter.

These sermons will be delivered by the greatest preachers in the world to-day. A special arrangement enables us to present this entertaining feature each week.

Sermons for the next six weeks will be by the following preachers:

CHARLES F. AKED, D. D. Dr. CYRUS T. BRADY. THEODORE L. CUYLER, D. D.

Rev. Dr. WILSON,

Rev. C. Q. WRIGHT, CHAPLAIN UNITED STATES NAVY. Canon SCOTT HOLLAND.

THE GREAT ENGLISH PRELATE

Do not miss this chance to become familiar with the current thought of the world's greatest divines.

LOOK FOR THE SERMON

Saturday Night Talks

By F. E. DAVISON - RUTLAND VT. THE STREET

THE GREEN EYED MONSTER.

Aug. 16, '08-(1, Sam. 18:6-16.)

Some people are so constituted that they look upon the success of another as a reflection upon themselves. When, in their presence someone tise is praised they take it as a personal affront. The people who can find themselves distanced in the race of life, and join in the applause for the victor are as rare as angels' visits. To see someone else succeed where we have failed without feeling a pang of jealousy is to be well nigh a saint. One of the commonest and meanest of all vices is the disposition to discount the actions of others against whom we have a prejudice He who can hear of trouble following an enemy am glad of it," crown of a conquerer. Envy is a foul bird that roosts in many a man's soul and noots in the midnight its disluscious fruit, the discord in sweetest | year. music, the shadow on fairest landscape. It is the rattlesnake coiled where little children unsus jectingly play.

One of the most striking examples in all history of the satanic character of such a disposition is that of Saul. the first king of Israel. Like many another politician, conscious that his sun has set Saul 'as madly jealous of the shepherd lad whose sun was just rising. Twilight of evening was frantic at twilight of morning. happened that, returning from skirmish in which David had proved himsel; a spierdid military leader. the people burst into plaudits at the review of the troops, and they cried out "Saul has slain his thousands. and David his ten thousands!" "Listen to that," said the king, "they ascribe ten thousand to David and to me they only ascribe thousands, what more can he have than the throne itselt?" and on account of the phrase ology of the populace, the envious ruler suried his pavelin at the un- their usefulness is prolonged. suspecting youth, intending to assassinate him on the spot. Mrs. L. S. Atwater has been visiting in prosperity of another. That envious the beginning, and nerved his arm to use the coward's weapon, the deathdealing bludgeon. The first murderer became such because his brother's offering was accepted while his own was rejected, and without stopping to investigate the reason for this selection he bathod his hands in his brother's blood. Over and over it has been demonstrated that jealousy is cruel as the grave, and that an aimost certain way of securing the enmity of others is to rise above them. There is very little attention paid to mediocrity and the average man, but the tall pine, lifting its head above all the surrounding wood, attract; the lightning.

To win the prize of political preferment assures an anvil chorus of criticism. No sooier does the victor win the prize and begin to wipe he sweat from his brow, and to nink how grand a thing it is to ride in the coach of public honor, than the disappointed candidates cry out: "Incompetency! Stupidity! Favoritism! Down with him!" And the new papers and the spellbinders get after him like a pack of hounds in full cry, And the only consolation there is, is the consideration that the same result would have been secured if any one of the defeated candidates had secured the prize. Nothing succeeds like success and nothing is so sure to become a target for envious bombardment.

The world said of Daniel Webster: What a statesman! What an expounder of the constitution! A man nt for any position!" The same world burst into vociferous uenunciation, "Down with him! He is an office seeker, a sot, a traitor! He has sold out to the enemies of the Union!" Many who have expected the plaudits of men have died under its anathema. Utterly innocent of any scheme to undermine Saul or to crowd him off his throne, David was obliged to walk every day in peril of his life, and was driven to the verge of death by repeated hurlings of the king's javelin. If jealousy and rage had not distorted the king's rision, and providence had not interposed its protection, the young harpist David would never have struck another note or composed another psalm.

The fact is, envy and jealousy barms its possessor far more than its victime. The man who persecutes another for any cause, gnaws a file. The weapon which he projects toward nig foe, comes down upon his own pate. Every attempt he makes to destroy another, only lowers him in the estimation of all uecent people. Saul lost his kingdem and went down to destruction because he gave himself over to every satanic influence, and was led head long to ruin by the jealous, suspicicus, envious, hateful rope which Le. himself, had twisten about his ig-

THE CARE OF LINEN HINTS ON HOW TO PROLONG ITS USEFULNESS.

Like Everything Else It Requires a Rest Occasionally-Will Keep Longer and Look Better if this Rule is Followed.

Few housekeepers realize that all inen in constant use will keep !onger if it is allowed to "rest" at time This same principle holds good with garments and various toilet articles. Take for example the plar followed by a woman whose house linen is limited, and who likes to make it last. She has a family of three and keeps out eight sheets each week. As soiled ones come in fresh from the laundry she places them always at the bottom of the pile, so in this way the same sheet is not used two weeks in succession, but is sure of a fortnight if not three weeks' "rest. In a store closet she keeps two oth er piles of eight, and every two months the sets of sheets that have been in use are put into the store place, another set being put into the cupboard for weekly use. The arrangement takes very little time and without feeling in his heart, "I it is more than worth while in the wears already the saving of linen. Pillow cases and towels she manages in the same way. only the quantity of the latter is greater. Her table linen is used for cordant notes. It is the blight on six months and then put away for a Luxurious as it may sound to have such a quantity of linen, the gatherfor a death stroke amid the flowers ing of it is inexpensive, for the woman buys a sheet or table cover-occasionally and puts it away, thus keeping her store in condition. At the same time pieces wear out so slowly that there is never much loss to be made good at one time, and the pocketbook is saved accordingly.

Linen sheets like others wear first in the centre, and it repays to slit them down the middle to get the edges in the place. This is done by tearing them in two lengthwise. The selvages are then overhanded together with very fine cotton, that a big seam shall not be made, and then the raw edges are hemmed. The life of a sheet is greatly prolonged if this is done in time.

Tooth and nail bushes should always be had in sets of twos, if not threes, because bristles fall usually because of having become soft from constant wetting. Therefore if they are thoroughly dried fairly often

For example, a woman who keeps two tooth brushes in use at But Saul is not the only man who the same time, using one every othas ground his teeth in rage at the er day, will find that the two will last longer than two others would if spirit darkened the face of Cain in one was worn out before beginning should hang when not in use, to allow the moisture to run off.

Shoes last much longer if they are rested for a month, the leather being well oiled when put away. Underclothes like house linen, endure longer by the rotation method.

Care of the Feet.

Women do not realize the importance of changing the shoes often in caring for the welfare of the leet. Many busines women will wear the same shoes day after day, until they are thrown away, too old to wear.

Shoes, like everything else, need a rest, and if women would have at least two pairs and alternate from one to the other from day to day, the feet would be kept in much better condition and the shoes would outlast three pairs of shoes that are never changed.

Shoes need to be aired thoroughly every day, and if they are put on day after day without proper airing and drying, they will become hard and unhealthy to wear.

After a long walk it is necessary to change the shoes. The feet are tired and sore and need a change. The feet should be bathed directly after the walk in warm water and pure soap and then bathed with either alcohol or hot vinegar in the water.

It will soothe tired, aching feet, it soft slippers are put on after the heavy walking shoe. The house shoe should be soft and the heels should be lower than the walking shoe.

The Diligent Worker. To be diligent is to be praise-

The diligent worker never hurries, and always gets satisfaction out of her work.

She never slackens pace in her In her path that she is forced to sur-

She :: quick in debating : question and reaches a conclusion in a reasonable length of time.

Ever ready to facilitate her mode of working, she finds the easiest way out of difficulties and in this manner good work a noted by her superiors and she wins their hignest esteem.

In line of promotion it is the dillgent worker that comes first. She looked upon by her fellow-worker; as a model and all pattern after ber. To ... diligent is to be quite worth

Weigh and Measure.

Most culinary failures come from the habit of gud-ring. Weigh every thing that is to be weighed and measure carefully all other ingredients. Do this, even if you have made the article repeatedly, and you will be spaired unpleasant surprises in spoiled dishes at important moDenham Palmer Dead.

The death of Denham Palmer, well known throughout this section, occurred at his home in the town of Genoa, Friday, July 31

Mr. Palmer was 85 years of age and was born on the farm where his death occurred which had always been his home. Mr. Palmer attended the University of Michigan and was granted a diploma to practice medicine. He did not follow that profession, however, but passed fifty six years in teaching district schools. He also gave lectures on educational subjects, illustrated with lantern slides, about the country.

Of a family of eight children, Mr. Palmer is survived by one sister, Mrs. Edwin D. Reynolds of Moravia The funeral was held Sunday at 1 o'clock, Rev. E. M. Cullinan of Locke Assessors' Notice.

Notice of completion of assessment roll. Notice is hereby given that the assessors of the town of Genoa have completed their assess, ment roll for the current year, that a copy thereof has been left with the undersigned, Herbert Gay, where it may be seen and examined by any person interested therein until the third Tuesday in August next, and that on such day at 10 o'clock in the forenoon said assessors will meet at the Carson hotel in said town to here and examine all complaints in relation to such assessment on the application of any person conceiving himself aggrieved. Dated July 31, 1908.

HEBBERT GAY, SIDNEY REEVES, A. Q. STILWELL,

Remember the New England woman's epitaph: "She hath done what she couldn't."

The twentieth century is strenuous, complex and democratic One-third of the young men of this age are not wanted because of their habits; but trained, loyal, cheerful, sober-minded young men are in de-

The cheap artists continue to picture the farmer as bewhiskered and wearing long boots. That type is as rare now as long-haired poets and picture makers. The twentieth century farmer is a man of business and looks like a man of business -August Farm Journal.

Notice.

I forbid any one trusting or harboring my wife, Kate Bastedo, on my account, as she has left my bed and board. JOHN H. BASTEDO. Genoa, N. Y., Aug. 10, 1908.

5he Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E.Smith, of West Franklin. Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss." These painless purifiers sold at J. S. Banker's, Genoa and F. T. Atwater's, King Ferry drug stores. 25c.

Readers of this paper suffering with any disease of the kidneys or bladder can get a free trial bottle of Tennessee remedy prepaid by mail on request to the J. A. Crayton Co, Auburn, N. Y.

Tooth Brushes. Fairly good brushes at 10c, 15c, and 20c. At 25c, we guarantee the bristles not to come Drug Store, Auburn.

Toilet and Eath Soaps. You will find a complete line of imported and Domestic Toilet Scape here from 4c. the cake up. Sagar Drug Store, Auburn.

Served as coffee, the new coffee substitute known to grocers every-where as Dr Shoop's Health Coffee, will trick even a coffee expert. Not grain of real coffee in it either. Pure healthful toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., have been so cleverly labors unless there is some difficulty blended as to give a wonderfully satisfying coffee taste and flavor. And days, and that these resolutions be it is "made in a minute," too. No tedious 20 to 30 minutes boiling. Sold by F. C. Hagin, Genoa.

> Paper for vacation Stationery. correspondence. A quire box of Old English Mills with envelopes to match 10c. Sagar Drug Store, Au-

BOATS AND LAUNCHES. 25-ft, slight ly used hull s h.p. new motor, $820

20 ft. second hand canopy top hull with new s h p. motor, $375; one second hand 2 h.p. motor, good make, $45; 3 bargains in 1907 model Syracuse motors, 8, 12 and 16 h. p.; Syracuse motors always on exhibition Syracuse Gas Engine
Co., cor. 16, Genesee and Cherry Sts., Syracuse, N. Y.

Empire Phone 486-M Auto Phone 1948 IRA O. CARL Dealer in HIGH GRADE PIANOS

Organs of All Makes Piano Tuning 23 E. Genesee St., AUBURN, N. Y. New York Excursion

-VIA-

Tuesday, Aug. 25th, $8.60

Round Trip from Auburn. Return Limit

15 days.

Tickets will be good for passage between Albany and New York in either direction, without additional charge on Hudison River Steamers. For time of trains, space in Pullman cars, etc. Call on New York Central ticket agents or address H. Parry, General Agent, 377 Main St., Buffalo. N. Y.

C. R. Egbert.

The People's Clothier, Hatter & Furnisher, 75 Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

August Bargains.

You can always pick up a pretty good bargain here at this season of the year; there are odd suits in the men's that can be had away below regular price; there are also plenty of opportunities for saving money in our boys' department.

25% discount on Children's Wash Suits.

Men's and young men's two-piece suits $5.00.

$25.00 light colored Suits $20.00 22.00 18.00 and 20.00 Suits 15.00 15.00 light Suits 10.00 & 12.50 12.50 light Suits 10.00

This is Thorpe

REDUCED RATES THIS WEEK.

During the past year:

Thorpe had the largest number of students, Thorpe employed more and better teachers. Thorpe had the largest commencement exercises, Thorpe graduated the largest class, Thorpe placed more students in good positions than can be shown by records of any other business school in $200 reward to any one who will prove differently.

Thorpe's is the biggest and best; enroll this week at corner North and Genesee streets.

Resolutions.

Whereas, An All Wise Providence with short warning, having removed from works to rewards, our esteemed brother and Past Grand, William A. King, and Whereas, In this dispensation we are again reminded of the uncerout, a new one for the old if they do. tainty of life, and that sometime, That is the Sagar dealing. Sagar if not now, "we will understand," therefore Resolved, That in the death of Brother King, Poplar Ridge Lodge No. 437, I O. O. F., has lost a faithful worker, and we as members, a loving brother and kind friend.

Resolved, That we hereby extend our condolence and sympathy to the loving wife and bereaved family of our deceased brother.

Resolved, That in respect for the memory of the departed, we cause our charter to be draped for thirty recorded in our journal, published in THE GENOA TRIBUNE and a copy sent to the family of the deceased. ELIBHA COOK,

FRED W. MOSHER, Com. SIDNEY M. POWELL

When the Stomach, Heart or Kidney nerves get weak, then these organe always fail. Don't drug the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The Restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them up with Dr. Shoop's Restorative-tablets or liquid-and see how quickly help will come. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

Mooney-Faith, Oi cud die listenin' to Tom Callahan play th' poipes. Donohue-Fer meself, Ol'd prefer a paceful ind .- Judge.

TATE FAIR eptember 14th to 19th Enlarged and Improved

TROTTING RACES (Grand Circuit) Running Races Four in hand Races Tandem Races GREATEST OUT-DOOR HORSE

SHOW IN AMERICA Greater New York's Mounted Police Drills Homer Devenpert's Arabian Stallion with native attendants

LARGEST DAIRY EXHIBIT EVER in the State Butter making by farm girls and boys in Dairy Building

Butter Fat Test for all Pure Bred Cows Fruits, Flowers and Vegetables Poultry till you can't think

Cattle, Sheep and Swine FREE VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS

CONWAY'S CELEBRATED BAND Artists

Half Fare Excursions on all Roads Ask your station agent for rates. Send For Prize List to

S. C. SHAVER, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y. KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNCS

WITH Dr. King's

AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES. GUARANTEED SATISFACTORS