The horse brought here to work on the rail road was taken to the woods and killed on Monday. They led him to his death well blanketed and very tenderly, but he had served his time, being nearly 30 years old. This is not the first railroad on which he had worked. He could not eat, and it was a kindness to put him to rest, but it was hard for those who had cared for him so many years.

The above illustration represents the handsome new store of R. and H. P. Mastin in Genoa which was opened to the public on Nov. 28, 1908. The building was erected under the supervision of D. W. Gower of Genoa as head carpenter, and is first class in every respect, presenting a fine appearance on the exterior and throughout the interior. The building occupies the site of the Mastin store which was destroyed in the fire of Feb. 28, '07. It has a frontage on Main street of 52 feet and is 44 feet deep, with an addition, 16x20 feet, on the rear which is used as a packing and store room. The four large front windows are of plate glass, and add greatly to the appearance of the store. The interior is finished throughout in Georgia pine, smooth finished and oiled, and the counters and shelving are of the same material. A very attractive and pleasing arrangement of the store is the business office which is elevated about three feet above the floor, with the handsome staircase leading to the balcony above. The store is heated by a large furnace and is lighted by acetylene gas. Genoa can now boast of having the finest and most up-to-date store building of any town in this vicinity. Mastin Bros. are to be congratulated upon their enterprise in erecting such a building.

Sherwood.

Dec. 12—Quiet reigns supreme once more. Dryer is closed and the hands all gone home. The "fair" is a thing of the past and we are taking a good free breath. The "fair" was a success in every way. The room was prettily decorated with the Maccabee colors, red, black and white except the Larkin booth which looked almost like fairy land with its green decorations. Arthur Sisson and wife of Venice were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith visited at Louis Houghton's on Sunday last. How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Corn Congress at Cornell.

Under the auspices of the College of Agriculture there is to be held at the New York College of Agriculture, the Cornell Corn Congress in connection with Farmers week, February 22-27.

The feature of this Corn Congress will be a Corn Show, to be made up of ten ear exhibits of the best corn that New York state farmers can find on their farms.

Already notices of this Corn Congress have been sent to 3500 farmers throughout the state and the response has been immediate and enthusiastic. Already great numbers of exhibits have been promised and letters with more promises are coming into the College every day. The farmers of the state express themselves as thoroughly in sympathy with anything which will tend to raise the standard of the corn crop in New York state.

The exhibit is primarily educational, yet in order that the best corn in all classes may receive proper attention, a series of premiums will be awarded. There will be a grand sweepstake prize for the best ten ear exhibit of corn grown by any resident of New York State. There will be championship prizes for the best corn of each of the types of Dent, Flint, Sweet and Pop Corn as well as a series of prizes for various classes of these four types.

One of the chief features of the show will be the Grange exhibits. This competition is open to any Grange in the state and considerable interest has already been manifested in this.

There will also be a contest for the farm boys and girls clubs of the State. These clubs, organized and directed among the boys and girls in the Rural Schools of the State by the College of Agriculture, are preparing for the Corn Show at the College by having a celebration of their own on the 29th of January in honor of the "King of Crops." This will be known as "Corn Day" to hundreds of youngsters throughout the State and preparations are under way to celebrate it. One of the features of this celebration will be the Corn Show in which each member of the club will enter the ten best ears of corn he is able to find in the home granary. Farmers in the neighborhood are invited to judge this corn and the best of it is to be sent to the great Corn Show in the College.

It is planned to devote one of the big days of Farmers Week to corn. Some of the best known corn men of the Department of Agriculture, the New York State College of Agriculture and other colleges will speak upon the judging, breeding, fertilizing and harvesting of corn.

It is hoped that this Corn Congress will mean much to the improvement of the crop in New York state.

HER LIFE ONE LONG SONG OF THANKSGIVING.

Story of a Little Woman Whose Plans and Methods to Defeat Old Age Were at Once Sane and Odd.

By Rebecca Harding Davis.

I once met a little woman whose plan of life and methods to defeat old age seem to me so sane and odd that I will tell you of her.

She was the widow of an English physician, left with small means and two boys whom she had educated and placed one in India, the other in Melbourne. Her work for them was done. She was sixty-five. Her income was small, her lungs were weak. Most women in such a case would have settled down with drugs and doctors as their only thought and begun to prepare for the next world. Not so Jane Perry. She made her home in a hill town of Tuscany, where the air was pure and healthy, and never thereafter even mentioned her ailments. She already spoke Italian. "I have been studying languages all my life," she said; "I want to be able to talk to all of my kinsfolk." She had a sound, unpretentious knowledge of art and architecture; she eagerly studied the history of the place, and in six months there was not a legend nor a faint picture nor a bit of medieval carving in the old fortress-like palaces of the town which she did not know and love as if she had been a native. She soon made friends with the good sisters who nursed the paupers in the great Spedale or hospital; they took comfort in telling her of their patients, and she contrived to bring to them certain helpful appliances which were in use in London. One of the industries of the town was leather work. She learned to bind books, to gild and tool them, and so was able to send home beautiful gifts to her friends.

She discovered in one of the cellars where poor folk burrow a crippled girl who made fine lace, and she found regular sale for it in Rome with an English dealer. She was in the midst of the silk-raising district of Tuscany; in a year she had studied all the mysteries of the industry, knew the diseases which attack the tree and the cocoon and their remedies. She visited the contadini, or peasants, in their little farms, and was counted as their best friend. Meanwhile, she kept up her knowledge of affairs abroad, read the English and French papers daily, and you may be sure no revolution could come to the light in Russia, nor royal wedding be planned in London, and escape Jane Perry's eye. Everybody in the strange old medieval town, from the stately Podesta (chief magistrate) down to the old women shrieking and pushing their carts of onions and artichokes through the narrow lanes, knew the queer little woman with her widow's cap, and her kind, homely face and loved her. She helped everybody, if but by a friendly look, and she never meddled.

"Why," I asked her one day, "should you spend so much time in the study of the present condition of Italian emigrants? What possible use can you make of such knowledge?"

She laughed and colored. "As we grow near to the end," she said, "we are afraid to be ignorant of any work which we may be called to reach a helping hand. Our time is so short." That, it seems to me, is the kind of life which is one long, genuine thanksgiving. We may never reach the height of the great Danish Earl Brithnoll, who, with his last breath cried out: "God! I thank Thee for all the joy I have had in this good world!" but we can follow Jane Perry's humble methods of praising God daily.—From ST. NICHOLAS.

Around and In the House.

If the cellar is damp, leave an open barrel of lump lime standing in it. The lime will absorb moisture and will gradually slake, and in the fall it will be in good condition to put on the lawn or garden to sweeten the soil.

Examine the furnace and pipes. Clean soot out of all smoke pipes. Look for pin-holes, especially on the under sides of smoke-pipes, and have them repaired while you think of it.

To keep the house cool in protracted hot weather, open all the windows and doors in the cool of the morning and thoroughly air it. As the outside air becomes heated, close all the doors and windows tight except one or two in the top story or a skylight for the sake of ventilation. Be sure all cellar windows are closed and all other openings in the lower part of the house through which warm air may enter.

Screens and screen doors that show signs of rust should be painted over with black metallic paint before the wires rust through.

Preserve eggs for winter in an 8 or 10 per cent solution of sodium silicate (water glass). Used boiled soft water and sterilized stone jars.

Keep Food Hot.

An ingenious housekeeper, who often has to keep food hot for belated members of the family, has found that by placing the food between two hot plates and setting them over a sauceman of hot water in the oven it can be kept from becoming dry and tasteless for as long as may be necessary. If the oven is very hot the door is left open.

Coughs that are tight, or distressing tickling coughs, get quick and certain help from Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. On this account druggists everywhere are favoring Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And it is entirely free from Opium, Chloroform, or any other stupefying drug. The tender leaves of a harmless lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its curative properties. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing cough, and to soothe and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Mothers should, for safety's sake alone, always demand Dr. Shoop's. It can with perfect freedom be given to even the youngest babes. Test it once yourself and see! Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

"I think the country is just sweet," said the town young lady. "I love to see the peasant returning to his humble cot, his sturdy figure outlined against the setting sun, his faithful collier at his side, his pipe in his mouth and his plow upon his shoulder."—London Telegraph.

The old-fashioned way of dosing a weak stomach, or stimulating the heart or kidneys is all wrong. Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. This is why his prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed entirely to the cause of these ailments—the weak inside or controlling nerves. It isn't so difficult, says Dr. Shoop, to strengthen a weak stomach, heart or kidneys, if one goes at it correctly. Each inside organ has its controlling or inside nerve. When these nerves fail, those organs must surely falter. These vital truths are leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Test it a few days, and see! Improvement will promptly and surely follow. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

Russia is always ready to talk about peace. It is another instance of human nature's tendency to discuss those things of which it knows very little.

Those reports from Panama may tempt Poulitney Bigelow to re-enter public life.

Preventics, the new Candy Cold Cure Tablets, are said by druggists to have four special specific advantages over all other remedies for a cold. First, they contain no Quinine, nothing harsh or "ickening." Second, they give almost instant relief. Third, pleasant to the taste, like candy. Fourth, a large box, 48 Preventics, at 25 cents. Also fine for feverish children. Sold by J. S. Banker, Genoa.

The Father—What is that book you are reading, my son? The Son—It's a story of a man who invested his money in a gold mine and lost every cent of it. The Father—Oh, that's all right, my boy. I was afraid you'd got hold of a work of fiction!—Yonkers Statesman.

Health of body and health of mind,
They're the fortunes true,
Lose 'em in the money grind,
And it's all the worse for you—
Paying the cost of the search to find
Is the best your gold can do!

The Spirit of Christmas.

Yet, after all, as Christmas dawns a change does come over men. It steals upon them gradually, taking them, as it were, by surprise. Their steps grow light, they walk briskly, laugh even, and have a cheery word for each other. Somehow the streets for that one day seem suddenly to swarm with happy people. Everybody has become tolerant, sympathetic; the groughest man in town has become agreeable, the hardest creditor lenient, the severest judge merciful. There is time for reconciliation, for forgiveness and kindly feeling toward all the world. It is seen, indeed, that a miracle has taken place, a miracle of great mystery and beauty. The hearts of men are full of love, and in their unrestrained mirth and laughter they have become somewhat like little children.—December New Idea Women's Magazine.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

To Owners of Cayuga County Farms.

We have been pleased to fit up the offices, recently occupied by Dr. Gard Foster in our real estate building, (Corner of Genesee & Green streets, opposite the Government and County Buildings,) solely for the purpose of conducting a farm department. We believe the time has come when Cayuga County farms can be sold. We have recently received inquiries as to farms, from as far north and west as Idaho, South Dakota, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, also from Pennsylvania, Mass., New York City and other places. A number of gentlemen from away, have recently visited us. Several unexpected and important sales have already been consummated. Other gentlemen write us that they contemplate buying and will visit our agency.

We therefore respectfully invite anyone, who is either interested in the selling or buying of a farm, to visit our farm department, when we will be pleased to talk over the possibilities and probabilities in creating an interest in farm properties in this section.

The three volume novel, once so popular, is now two volumes too long to suit the popular taste. But the trend of today is not altogether toward brevity. When first nominated for the presidency Lincoln's speech of acceptance contained 139 words, and in his formal letter of acceptance there were but 134 words.

Rear Admiral Sperry's fleet includes the Glacier, otherwise known as the "floating pantry," the hospital ship Relief and a number of colliers. If any more live bears, dingoes, monkeys, parrots and kangaroos are presented to officers and men as mascots, Sperry will think he has Noah's ark with him.

Such an attitude as that of Miss Elkins beats the entire navy in maintaining American dignity abroad."

—A little fire in Shapero's clothing store Saturday evening created some excitement. On his return from supper, the store being closed during the hour, Mr. Shapero discovered that the ceiling above a large lamp, which had been left lighted, had burned around the hook which held the lamp, letting it fall to the floor. A fire in this row of buildings would be rather a serious matter, and would involve a number of property owners, as it would be impossible to do anything without some kind of fire apparatus. If some interested person would start the matter, a large amount could be raised for this purpose. Every property owner and every resident of the village would do something to aid in securing an engine. Why not do it now?

Auburn to Ithaca.

As announced last week, the laying of the rails for the New York, Auburn & Lansing railroad was completed last Friday, and the last spike, a silver one, was driven on Saturday by Capt. M. W. Murdock of Venice Center, who also drove the first spike in the railroad in September, 1906. Capt. Murdock has been one of the most interested and hardest working promoters of the road for several years past. About 60 witnessed the interesting event.

It is the intention of the company to operate the new road as a trolley line between Ithaca and South Lansing, and transfer passengers to the steam road operating between South Lansing and Auburn. The new time schedule of four trains each way will begin operation as soon as the trolley line is in readiness.

The Ithaca News of Saturday said: "The trip from this city to the Eady farm, almost directly across the lake from Glenwood, was made this morning in the private car of the Ithaca Street Railway Company. Many invited guests of the road made the trip. The car left the street railway office at the corner of State and Tioga street at 10:20 o'clock this morning."

"Among those aboard the car were Manager W. L. Post, Mayor-elect Randolph Horton, J. A. Causer, Leonard Reulein, ex-Mayor D. B. Stewart, Chief E. Schuyler Stoddard of the fire department, C. J. Rumsey, Attorney Paul K. Clymer, ex-Mayor Bradford Almy, Jacob Rothschild, J. P. Merrill, Judge Charles H. Blood, Attorney Myron N. Tompkins, Attorney Fitch Stephens, Alderman B. R. Mitchell of the Ithaca Chronicle, George Gilbert of the Ithaca Daily Journal, and Harry M. Dayton of the Ithaca Daily News.

"The car, which was in charge of Superintendent Casper Linderberry, who was at the wheel. Conductor O. W. Fox and William H. Brooks, master mechanic of the trolley company, was run slowly along the new route to allow the passengers to notice the beautiful view of the lake, hillsides and gorges.

"The car was brought to a standstill at 10:45 o'clock on the Eady farm. A short walk along the rails brought the guests to the point where the last spike was to be driven. The exact location had been marked by the presence of three American flags. As the Ithacans were walking along the track the passenger train from Auburn bearing the other officials and guests hove into sight. The large gang of Italians dropped their tools and ran for the train. Each Italian was given an American flag. The foreigners then gathered together and sang the national hymn while waving the flags.

"Aboard the passenger coach was Engineer Clarke of the New York, Auburn & Lansing Company, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan of Merrifield, Frank Tarbell and son of North Lansing, Captain M. W. Murdock, A. J. Brink of North Lansing and E. C. Aiken, former mayor of Auburn.

"Two photographs were taken of those present, after which the guests from the northern section of the line boarded the private car and with the Ithacans, returned to this city."

Church and Society Notes.

BAPTIST CHURCH—Morning worship, 11 o'clock; subject, "His Birthday." Bible school at noon. Evening worship, 7 o'clock. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, Dec. 23, at Mrs. Will Oliver's. On Tuesday evening, Dec. 22, the Ladies' Aid society will hold a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fulmer.

The children of the Stewart's Corners district school under the direction of their teacher, Miss Bonker, will give an entertainment in connection with a Christmas tree at the Baptist church, Venice, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 23. A cordial invitation is extended to all to bring presents to put on the tree for the children and friends.

Venice Center.

Dec 14—The whooping cough is quite prevalent in this vicinity. The infant daughter of Wm. Dandridge, also the little daughter of George Whyte have been severely afflicted with it.

The fair which was held by the Ladies' Aid society on Thursday evening of last week proved to be quite a success. A fine supper was served, which with the articles sold netted the society a nice sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beardley were recent guests of the latter's brother, H. H. Barber and family in Syracuse.

Preparations are being made for a Christmas tree and entertainment Christmas eve.

Much rejoicing is manifested over the connecting of the rails of the N. Y., A. & L. R. R., which was done on Saturday last, Capt. M. W. Murdock of this place driving the last spike. He also drove the first one about three years ago. It is hoped we shall soon be able to ride to Ithaca.

Miss Phebe Mosher of Poplar Ridge was a recent guest at the home of her brother, Frank Mosher.

Story of Russian Empress.

Kellogg Durland, who has spent many months in Russia, is writing for Woman's Home Companion the life story of the Russian Empress. In the December number of that magazine he writes:

"When a certain Count Tolstoy was Minister of Public Instruction he once appealed to the Empress to aid him in extending the educational advantages of the empire to the girls and young women of the country. (I have Count Tolstoy's own permission to relate this incident.)

"The Tsaritsa listened to the Minister attentively as he set forth the needs of Russia in this direction, and when he had concluded, she replied that she thought all young girls should be taught to sew, to care for their homes, in short to become helpful wives and good mothers, but as for granting them the privileges of so called 'higher education,' knowledge of history, philosophy and the sciences—to this she was entirely opposed, 'because these studies, when offered to women, only resulted in such terrible times as Russia is now passing through'

"This, surely, is a remarkable tribute to the women of Russia—the Tsaritsa holding them responsible for the great movement toward liberty as a result of their education and culture!"

THE GRACEFUL GIRL.

Has an Air of Superiority That Forces Her Upon Our Notice.

Have you ever noticed the great amount of admiring attention which the graceful girl attracts? Even moderately good-looking, and not prettily or smartly dressed, there is an air of natural superiority about her which forces her upon our notice. This superiority lies in the fact that the graceful girl knows how to poise her body correctly, how to walk and sit becomingly. Consequently no matter what she wears or what her features may be like, she always appears to the best advantage.

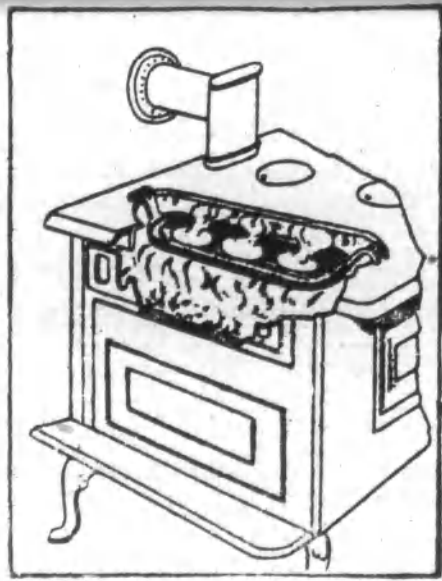

A plain girl who knows how to stand, move, and sit with ease is far more admired than the beauty who is clumsy and awkward. Some girls are naturally graceful. But there is no reason why those who are lacking in this respect should not add to their charms by carefully cultivating the art. An erect carriage, a graceful walk, a graceful manner of sitting and rising are necessary if a girl wishes to be really charming. And it is quite within her own power to acquire these virtues. In the first place she must study her own defects and the faults of other girls in order that she may avoid them.

Do not try to copy the graceful girl off hand, so to speak, by forcing yourself into what, to you would be unnatural poses and attitudes. That is not the way to cultivate gracefulness. In fact by doing so you will probably only make yourself more awkward and clumsy. By always trying to avoid the little faults which prevent a girl from becoming graceful, you will as time goes on find yourself drifting quite naturally into the ways and manners of the graceful girl.

SMOKELESS GRIDDLE.

Odors as Well. Are Carried Directly Up the Chimney.

A smokeless and odorless griddle and broiler, which has been lately patented, has advantages which will be readily recognized at a glance of the accompanying cut. The front plates of the stove being removed, the new griddle sets in and at the same time falls below the stove top. In this manner the heating surface is brought nearer to the fire and all smoke, vapors and odors are carried up the chimney. The griddle is set up at the top but for the purpose of broiling it is desirable that a greater heat should be secured, and this is brought about by making a lid over the top. When the latter is lowered, the meat being cooked gets the full benefit of the heat, but when it is raised every opportunity is offered for its examination.—Washington Star.

Cruel Fussy Mothers.

Across the aisle from me sat one of the "fussy" kind of mothers with her little girl, evidently about five years old. The mother didn't leave the child in peace for one minute. She took off her hat; smoothed her hair; she reprimed her collar; she wiped her face with her pocket-handkerchief; she took her from her seat and stood her on the floor to straighten her frock; then she sat her back again. She took off her hair ribbon and retied it; she looked in her eye to see if there was a cinder in it; then she began at the beginning and did all these things over again.

The child grimly endured. Evidently she had been accustomed to it all her short life. The world to her was a queer, tiresome place in which mothers exhausted their energies and got their nerves on edge by paying useless attention to little girls.

A physician who sat behind me watched the scene. "Has the woman no sense?" he said to me in an undertone. "Every touch pushes that child nearer the sanitarium that will one day open its doors to take her in as sure as fate."

"Poor little one!" I said. "Is there no hope for her?"

"Not with that mother," grimly replied the doctor.

New Post-Standard Building.

The illustration herewith represents the new office building lately completed and now occupied by The Post-Standard newspaper of Syracuse. The structure is abundantly roomy, harmonious in pressed brick and terra cotta as to its exterior, and in its internal design one of the most attractive and most conveniently arranged daily newspaper buildings in the state.

With its new building The Post-Standard Company has supplied itself with new and up-to-date equipment in every mechanical department, and is far better prepared than ever before to give to the people in Syracuse and throughout Northern and Central New York an improved and steadily improving daily newspaper service.

Patrons and friends of The Post-Standard are given cordial invitation when in Syracuse to visit and inspect this new plant.

Good Rules to Follow.

It is a comfort to know that most persons have settled the little problems which used to go with Christmas giving. There may be, however, a few who are still unreformed or unconverted. To them we say: Do your buying early. If you put off you will get less satisfaction and less value, and you will add to the burdens and unhappiness of over-worked clerks.

Don't give beyond your means. To make a present that you cannot afford is robbing yourself and is conferring no benefit on the recipient. This is especially true in cases of friends or relatives who have more money than you have. Much of our financial trouble is due to the fact that those who have less try to make as much showing as those who have more. Always remember that anybody worth while never looks the Christmas present in the price mark. Give as many presents as you can. It is extraordinary how much of satisfaction may be found in small gifts. The fact that you remember the person is the great thing. The old Christmas card before it was overdone was a real agent of happiness. Even to-day it may be used profitably. But there are hundreds of small things that will take the place of Christmas cards and that will carry the proper message of the season.

Don't let the Christmas spirit leave you when you have sent your presents. It is a good thing to have all the year around. The happiest man we know makes it a point to do a good deed every day. It may be only a friendly letter or the seeking out of a struggling friend to say a word of encouragement. But it is a course of life that is filling his heart with sunshine and making every body glad to call him friend. If a man can do this successfully, what limits can anyone set to the possibilities of the sweet, sympathetic woman who believes that the best way to find happiness in life is to do one's best to make others happy.—The Ladies' World for December.

It is said that the juice of the pine apple contains the natural ferments of healthy digestion to a remarkable degree and if adopted by American people they would never know what dyspepsia and indigestion were. A considerable amount of the juice should be taken each day.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and so prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.
If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.
If it's painful periods with women, same cause.
If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.
Bruise your finger and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.
We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO WEAR IT

Special Correspondent of This Paper Writes Entertainingly to Women.

LATEST FROM THE METROPOLIS

Three Modes of the Latest Designs—
Blue Cloth With Striped Silk Gown Delightful for Semi-formal Wear—A Striped Zephyr and the Latest Tailored Coat.

Evening bodice have a charm all their own and if the draperies on these models are skillfully managed, they can be given an air of distinction without employing any but the simplest trimmings.

The spotted silk mull dancing frock shown here owes its beauty entirely to the bodice, for the skirt is as simple and plain as a school-girl's frock, being mounted over a silk lining without any other embellishment.

The waistline is raised to Empire height and finished with a plain fold of satin, while the bodice is cut with a very deep square neck, with large tucks of chiffon folded within its confines to form the vest effect. To bind the neck narrow hand embroidered silver braid is used, strips of this trimming extending below the girdle and over the hips, after which they are quickly terminated.

The sleeves are rather unusual, being very wide and flowing, suggesting the full, graceful Greek lines. They are slashed all the way up to the shoulder seam and outlined with the braid.

Evening coiffures are very elaborate, in striking contrast to their simple trimmings. Puffs and curls are still great favorites and coiffure ornaments used with them are just sufficiently ornate to do full justice to the beauty of the coiffure itself.

The prophecy for the season regarding sleeves is that street styles and many house effects are to be full length, with or without quantities of trimming, as the occasion requires.

A striking model occupies the center of the picture, being of soft, thin material, finely braided and trimmed with tucks. It reaches all the way to the wrist, where there is a finishing ruche of finely plaited tulle.

For indoor wear gowns show a few clever short sleeves and draperies. For a dinner gown the model in the upper left hand corner is dainty, the full tucks being formed of chiffon or very soft goods under a shoulder plate of embroidered silk or linen.

Many of the very best gowns have sleeves wrinkled, with a little frill on the outside of the arm. Made in net for jumpers or for component parts of waists they are the very latest expressions of the fashions.

Rough blue serge is used for this smart and serviceable costume, which foretells the beauties of the season's tailor-made for practical purposes.

The circular skirt fits perfectly about the hips, flaring at the bottom in a number of graceful folds. It is finished only with a deep hem, stitched invisibly.

Worn over the skirt is a long, rather close fitting coat, bound with soft silk fibre braid and lined with light silk. They are going to use light mountings a great deal because they are less injurious to delicate white blouses. The coat has revers and a turn-over collar bound with braid also.

The sleeves are long, for long, close-fitting sleeves are about all we shall undoubtedly be wearing as soon as the next season's modes settle down.

For ordinary wear the simple turn-back cuff trimmed with silk braid is the usual finish, and there are also a number of other charming effects obtained without the use of the cuff, braid and braid medallions being employed instead.

The Bloodthirsty Woman.

When an English princess became the bride of King Alfonso it was predicted that the tide of popular favor would turn against bull fighting in Spain. But Queen Victoria has abandoned her moral campaign against the brutal sport because of the active opposition of the Spanish women. It has now become apparent that women are the chief support of bull fighting in Spain, as they are of the theatre in this country. At all the recent fights in Madrid and Barcelona women have been in the great majority in the audience, and not satisfied with their seats in the boxes these bloodthirsty Castilian women have organized and forced the building of special seats for their exclusive use on a level with the bull ring. From these seats they are enabled almost to reach out and touch the tortured bulls, while mere man has to be content to sit by his loneliness in the boxes. Queen Victoria has introduced English fashions in dress into Spain but she has been powerless to check the national sport. After her first taste of bull fighting, when a bride of two weeks, she vowed that she would not return again to the arena, but political expediency has forced her to appear at frequent intervals in the royal box.

Blueing.
This is especially done to improve the appearance of white clothes and bring back some of the clear color which they lose through wear and age.

Blue, which dissolves most readily and leaves least sediment after the water has stood some time, is the best.

It is impossible to lay down rules as to quantity, as it depends both upon the kind of blue used and the texture of the articles undergoing operation.

As a rule, body linen requires more blue than other articles, and table linen less. To prepare the blue water, half fill a tub with clean, cold water.

Dip the blue bag into the water and squeeze it tightly, repeating the process until the water becomes a pale blue color.

The blue water must not be too deep in color, as it spoils the appearance of the clothes. Stir the water well before immersing the clothes.

"Cabbage Day."

I have heard of a village in New York where a certain day of the week is set apart as "cabbage day," and upon that day nobody is at home to anybody else. This seems a good plan, but all villages are not so systematic, and so, despite the asseverations of the cooking teachers that there is no need for cabbages to smell at all, the dwellers in small city houses are often mortified at feeling that a caller can guess from the front door what the family dinner is to be. I have lately learned a great scheme—to set beside the cabbage cup a small cup of vinegar where it will gently simmer. This done, the lady at the front door will not preserve a delicate reticence, but will ask, in the very moment of greeting, "Oh, what good things you are cooking!" For the aroma of cabbage and boiling vinegar mingles into a fine counterfeit of the smell of pickles cooking.—Farm Journal.

Serviceable Tray Cloths.

Take some oilcloth (white preferred), and cut the size you wish; bind the edges, with suitable braid or button-hole-stitch all of them. Either looks very well, and if you spill it does not go through onto the tablecloth, and can easily be cleaned.

Stops Hair Falling

Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will certainly stop falling of the hair. Indeed, we believe it will always do this unless there is some disturbance of the general health. Then, a constitutional medicine may be necessary. Consult your physician about this.

Does not change the color of the hair.
Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

The reason why Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair is because it first destroys the germs which cause this trouble. After this is done, nature soon brings about a full recovery, restoring the hair and scalp to a perfectly healthy condition.
