North Lansing.

MARCH 7—There will be a donation for the pastor, Rev. J. O. Long, at the parsonage Wednesday evening, March 14. All are cordially invited. Moving seems to be in order even though the roads are bad. Howard Beardsley and Dana Singer have each bought an incubator of Hector Crenthers. They expect to go into the chicken business quite extensively. The ladies are meeting twice a week making quilts, comfortable aprons, etc. A bazaar in the future will be the result. The remains of Susan Van Buskirk, widow of Calvin Van Buskirk, were brought from Groton on Sunday last. Interment in our Rural cemetery. Mr. Ketchum attended the funeral of A. Chase Thompson, president of the Standard Butter Co., at Oswego. The Orpheus Jubilee Singers will be heard at North Lansing M. E. church, Saturday evening, March 10. All who have heard them will surely want to hear them again, and those who have not heard them cannot afford to miss them. Proceeds for the parsonage repair fund.

Lansingville.

MARCH 5—Townsend & Bower have a new team. Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Rippey have gone to their home at Benton to live. Important Happenings at the County Seat briefly chronicled—Personal Notes

AUBURN, March 7—Says this city's correspondent of the Syracuse Post-Standard: "The question of road improvements, as outlined in the Higbie-Armstrong act, continues to be the principal topic of discussion throughout Cayuga county. A corps of engineers, under the State Department of Public Works, has been making the preliminary surveys, and if the plans of the advocates of the improvements do not miscarry the work of construction will be commenced before long. The question has already assumed the form of a political issue. Danforth B. Lewis, one of the principal advocates of the proposed improvements, has announced himself as a candidate for Member of Assembly on this issue in opposition to Dr. Dudley, the Supervisor of the town of Genoa, who is the leader of the anti-." That's about the size of it. Nearly everybody had an idea that the scheme was more or less for politics but they didn't look for the announcement quite so soon. The Genoa railroad has been worn threadbare by county politicians of high and low degree and the anxious ones must have a new tune to dance by. The good roads question is attractive and up-to-date. Go it, boys, as long as your wind holds out.

Mayor Aiken, who is attorney for the New York, Auburn & Lansing Railroad, was at Binghamton on business for the company yesterday. Willard Battles, convicted of manslaughter for causing the death of his wife near Oswego in October, 1904, was brought to the prison to begin his sentence of ten years. L. Marshall, the clothier, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Edith Marshall, to Ludwig Wolf of Perth Amboy, N. J. The office of sheriff of Cayuga county will be on a salary of $3,000 per annum hereafter, Governor Higgins having signed the bill introduced by Senator Wilcox to that effect. This action is the resolution adopted by the board of supervisors at the last session.

Mrs. Fred K. Rich underwent an operation for appendicitis at the city hospital on Saturday morning. Dr. Creveling performed the operation and the patient rallied nicely, but the case was considered serious. The date for the walking match between Champion Hoagland and Sam Liebgold of Brooklyn has been set for Thursday evening, March 15th, at the armory. The report of County Treasurer Loughborough as transfer tax appraiser in the matter of the estate of Jane L. Williams, late of Moravia, filed with Surrogate Woodin Saturday morning. The report shows receipts $2,039.74, disbursements $648, leaving a balance for distribution of $1,391.74 as follows: Clara McNaughton $500, tax $25; Isadore S. Cole $300, tax $15; George M. Palmer $591.74, tax $29.58.

E. K. Atwater of 52 Fulton street was kicked in the left ankle by a fallen colt owned by Edward A. Patchen and Jerome Johnson, near the corner of Howard and East Genesee streets last night. The equine was being broken to harness and threw itself. Mr. Atwater stepped out to assist the drivers just in time to get one of the equine's front hoofs in the left ankle, breaking both bones. He was removed to the City hospital, where Drs. Coe and Babbitt reduced the fracture. This transcript of judgment from the court of Justice John J. Maloney of Aurora has been filed with the county clerk: Sanford G. & Lyman W. Lyon against Jos. Cuatt, $34.55.

Locke. MARCH 2—There is considerable interest in the revival meetings. Mr. Lyon of Moravia assisted last week. Fred White, who works in Ithaca was home over Sunday. J. L. White fell in his storehouse recently and is confined to the house on account of a badly sprained knee. Mrs. Chas. Cook of Groton is spending a few days with friends here in this place. Lee Winters of Gloversville is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Winters. J. F. Demmon is out on the streets again. Mrs. May Fuller is a very little better. Mrs. Geo. Robinson died Monday morning. Funeral Wednesday. She had been a great sufferer from heart trouble and dropsy. N. S. Bothwell of Groton spent Tuesday at O. Lowe's. Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Weeks left recently for Colorado, where they will make their home. Mr. Weeks has a ranch with about 1,000 sheep on it. Earl Hubert is raising R. Bush's gristmill. Mr. Bush, who was so seriously hurt a few weeks ago, is able to be around on crutches. The revival meetings are continuing. They have an evangelist, a converted prize fighter.

Rainy days and snowy days bring many long idle hours to the merchant unless he is one of the growing class that has found that newspaper advertising banishes dull days.

Robbed near Poplar Ridge.

Dennis Conklin, an aged farmer of Poplar Ridge, was held up and robbed of $1,075 at about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening in the road near Poplar Ridge. Mr. Conklin went to Auburn that day and drew the money out of a bank, expecting to make a payment on his place. On the return trip, when he was about a mile south of Sherwood, two men sprang out of a clump of bushes and into the wagon. One of them grabbed Mr. Conklin by the throat, while the other took from his pocket the wallet containing the money. The robbers told Mr. Conklin to stay where he was until they were out of sight, but as soon as they left he whipped up his horses and drove to the nearest house for help. The owner returned with him to the scene of the holdup and with lanterns searched the place. They found the wallet, but it was empty. The police of Auburn were notified and have sent word to nearby cities to be on the lookout for the thieves. Mr. Conklin can only describe them by saying that the one who held him by the throat wore a slouch hat and that the one who went through his pockets is tall.

Mr. Bowser Has Another "Spell"

He Comes Home to the Long Suffering Mrs. B. Ready to Make Things Hum.

SHE PARRIES THE BLOW

It Falls Upon the Fat Grocer, Unsuspecting and Innocent of Any Wrongdoing.

[Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.]

MRS. BOWSER didn't have to wait to catch sight of Mr. Bowser as he came home from the office the other evening to know that he had one of his old-fashioned "spells" on. She heard him kick the gate open with a vicious bang, and the way he rattled his key in the front door and twisted at the knob was proof that he was out of sorts and had a chip on his shoulder.

"It's a pretty cold night outside, isn't it?" she asked as she met him in the hall.

"You didn't imagine it was an August night, did you?" he sneered in reply.

"Well, dinner is all ready, and I've got your favorite dish—roast mutton."

"Humph! I told you the last thing before I left the house this morning that I wanted beefsteak."

"I didn't hear you."

"I suppose not. It's got so nowadays that you never hear me except when you want to. There's got to be a change around this house or there'll be a calamity."

HE HEARD HIM KICK THE GATE OPEN WITH A VICIOUS BANG.

Mrs. Bowser said no more. She knew she'd catch it after dinner, and she spent the dinner hour working up her nerve to meet the situation. Mr. Bowser growled and grunted and muttered all through the meal, and when it was finished he stalked upstairs like a judge and turned on Mrs. Bowser with:

"Didn't I see a gas bill around here somewhere last night?"

"You did. I went down and paid it today. The amount is $2.80."

"What? You have let those highway-men rob me again! You sneak down there and hand over the money without saying a word to me!"

"I have paid the gas bills every month for the last three years. I don't know where the sneaking comes in."

"But you paid $2.80, and you knew that it was nothing short of extortion."

"The bill is only 30 cents more than for last month, and I'm sure we have burned the additional gas. There was nothing to raise a row about."

"Oh, there wasn't!" shouted Mr. Bowser, as he looked around to see if the cat was in kicking distance. "There was nothing to raise a row about when your husband was being fleeced, black-mailed, robbed, swindled and done up! That's the kind of wife you are! This morning I looked for half an hour for that checked coat of mine, but couldn't find it. When did you sell it, and for what price?"

"I never sell any clothes out of the house," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Then you gave it away or thrust it into the furnace. That coat cost me $10 and was as good as new, and yet to spite me you have made away with it. By thunder, woman!"

"You got that coat at a bargain sale last spring for a dollar and a half. After wearing it three or four times you said it was too tight under the arms and too small in the back, and you tossed it into the storeroom. The first time we had the lawn mowed you gave it to the old man who did the work. Don't you remember saying that his face reminded you of your father's?"

"Never! Never! You either sold or burned up that coat, and it was for spite. However, we will pass that over. Look at this, Mrs. Bowser, and tell me what it is."

"It is a piece of hard coal."

"And where did it come from?"

"How can I tell?"

"I found it at the gate tonight. It came from our cellar. Whoever was carrying out coal lost it. It is living evidence, woman, living evidence to convict you!"

"Of what?"

"Of selling furnace coal out of the bins. How much did you sell? What price did you get?"

"Don't be silly, Mr. Bowser. They were getting in coal next door this afternoon, and this is one of the stray pieces. Were you going over as far as the drug store this evening?"

"Never you mind whether I am or not. There are certain things that have got to be settled, and you needn't try to sneak out of them. I give you the cash to run this house, and yet a day or two ago I saw a grocery bill lying around calling for $2.20. Explain that."

"It's right there on the mantel now. You will see that it is made out to Brown and left here by mistake."

Mr. Bowser was caught again, but, drawing a long breath, he continued: "I am told by Brown and Green and Jones that their wives get help in the kitchen at $18 per month, while you have been paying $20 right along. Is it that you don't care how soon we bring up in the poorhouse?"

"Are you sure that the women you spoke of pay only $18 per month?" asked Mrs. Bowser.

"Only $18."

"Well, I haven't paid but $16 for the last three years, and I have had even better girls than they have!"

Mr. Bowser turned pale and clinched his fingers, and it was half a minute before he said in husky tones:

"Everybody around here quit taking ice daily a full month ago, but in your desire to make the house cost as much as possible you—"

"Only take it three times a week," she finished. "I made the change the 1st of October."

"But during the summer the iceman has beaten you out of at least 1,000 pounds of ice, and you have supinely submitted to be robbed."

"He has weighed the ice every morning this summer, and on many occasions he has given me three or four pounds over. Anything else, Mr. Bowser?"

"There was, but it took him three or four minutes to think it up. Then he said:

"Two months ago I attended a bargain sale and bought me four pairs of suspenders. This morning I wanted to put on one of the new pair, and I hunted all through the house and could not find hide or hair of them. I said nothing at the breakfast table, but now I demand an explanation. Did you send those suspenders to your brother Dan or sell them to some junkman?"

"If you will go upstairs you will find them just where you put them. They are hanging on a hook in your closet under a coat."

There was one more thing. Mr. Bowser had been saving it for a solar plexus blow.

"Come here," he said as he advanced to one of the back windows and pulled aside the curtain.

"Well, what is it?"

"That—alley—gate! It's down!"

"Yes, it's lying flat."

"And you went out and jumped on it and tore it down to make me cost! Don't deny it, woman! I have caught you red handed."

"Two months ago," explained Mrs. Bowser, "you found the top hinge broken. I wanted to get a man to fix it at once, but you said the job was to be left for you. The gate has been yawning and sagging ever since, and the high wind of this forenoon finally blew it down. Shall we sit down now and have a game of cards?"

Mr. Bowser stalked down the hall to the hatrack and put on his overcoat and hat, and when he went out into the night he was gritting his teeth. He had lost his case, and he was ready to make somebody sweat for it. He leaned over the gate and looked up and down, and after a moment he espied the fat grocer delivering a late order. Then Mrs. Bowser heard a whoop and a yell, a clattering of heels on the icy sidewalk, and she sat down and drew a long breath of relief. It was the windup, and next morning Mr. Bowser would be all right again.

IS A LEARNED HINDU

HON. P. RAMANATHAN, K. C., TO LECTURE IN AMERICA.

Is Solicitor General of Ceylon, India, and Regarded as One of the Wise Men of the East—Will Expound the Bible.

Washington.—The other day one of the most eminent and interesting foreigners who ever arrived in this country, came to Washington as the invited guest of Mr. Albert S. Dulin, regent of the Vedanta university. This distinguished personage is none other than the Hon. P. Ramanathan, K. C., C. M. G., solicitor general of Ceylon, India—a great Jnana Yogi, or sage, and reputed to be one of the "Wise Men of the East." Mr. Ramanathan has other marks of distinction besides being knighted by Queen Victoria, solicitor general and Jnana Yogi. He is considered to be the most learned jurist, philosopher and master of the English language in India. His works on jurisprudence are considered the best legal collation ever compiled by a Hindu scholar. His commentaries on religion and philosophy are voluminous—the most celebrated of which, in his wonderful works entitled, "An Eastern Exposition of the Gospels of Jesus." Unlike many orientals who have visited England and America for the purpose of proselyting Brahmanism and Buddhism, Mr. Ramanathan finds in our own Bible the essence of all religion and philosophy, and expounds its marvelous spiritual teachings as only a Jnana Yogi can. The light he has thrown upon the gospels of St. Matthew and St. John stands out in brilliant and luminous contrast with the exposition of these gospels as presented by our Christian theologians, either ancient or modern.

While in England, Mr. Ramanathan was called to the English bar honoris causa—a concession which has been granted only to the prince of Wales and to Mr. Benjamin, the great American lawyer. Mr. Ramanathan comes from what has long been the chief Hindu family, both in wealth and position, of the island of Ceylon, India.

He comes to this country by the invitation of Myron H. Phelps, Albert S.

Dulin and many other well-known educators distinguished for their learning and spiritual knowledge. He will be the guest of Mr. Dulin at the Vedanta university in Washington, where he will have this opportunity of expounding the Vedanta and Yoga philosophy this winter, before the literary, scientific and philosophical audiences which will greet him. He will meet President Roosevelt, the justices of the supreme court, and other eminent people in our official, secular and religious life. While here he will translate from the original Sanskrit and Tamil into English the celebrated Hindu epics, known as "The Maha-Bharata" and "The Ramayana." These two epics are justly classified as the most marvelous literary productions of these wonderful and intellectual people.

Interest in Mr. Ramanathan's visit to America is being greatly intensified by the fact that he will not only deliver many lectures while here, but that his visit is of special significance, when it is known that he comes to join hands with Albert S. Dulin, the founder of the International Vedanta, in establishing a new educational system of culture which will make for a higher individual and international civilization. It is believed by those who are familiar with the purpose that has called this great Hindu sage to America at this time, that an educational system will be evolved by these gentlemen this winter, which will contain the essence of all that is good in our present methods, but reinforced and enlarged by the learning and wisdom of the orient.

He sat on it.

On a bitterly cold morning an old man got into a carriage on the Great Western railway. The guard, who was of a humane disposition, offered the old man a hot water tin which he accepted gratefully. At the end of the journey the guard asked the old man if he had found the foot warmer comforting.

"Yes," he said, "but I should have liked another for my feet."

The old man had been sitting on the foot warmer for nearly 30 miles.

In Old London.

"It seems they don't use the ordinary transmitter on the London telephones."

"No, they talk right into the fog and take their chances."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

While here he will translate from the original Sanskrit and Tamil into English the celebrated Hindu epics, known as "The Maha-Bharata" and "The Ramayana." These two epics are justly classified as the most marvelous literary productions of these wonderful and intellectual people.

Interest in Mr. Ramanathan's visit to America is being greatly intensified by the fact that he will not only deliver many lectures while here, but that his visit is of special significance, when it is known that he comes to join hands with Albert S. Dulin, the founder of the International Vedanta, in establishing a new educational system of culture which will make for a higher individual and international civilization. It is believed by those who are familiar with the purpose that has called this great Hindu sage to America at this time, that an educational system will be evolved by these gentlemen this winter, which will contain the essence of all that is good in our present methods, but reinforced and enlarged by the learning and wisdom of the orient.

He sat on it.

On a bitterly cold morning an old man got into a carriage on the Great Western railway. The guard, who was of a humane disposition, offered the old man a hot water tin which he accepted gratefully. At the end of the journey the guard asked the old man if he had found the foot warmer comforting.

"Yes," he said, "but I should have liked another for my feet."

The old man had been sitting on the foot warmer for nearly 30 miles.

THE New York World

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

For the autumn season now at hand the most valuable paper to you will be the New York Thrice-a-week World, because it offers you more at the price than any other paper published anywhere in the world.

This is a time of great events. We are having great wars, and other changes of a stirring kind are occurring both at home and abroad. The Thrice-a-Week World comes to you every other day except Sunday with all the news fully, accurately and promptly told.

The Thrice a Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, and that is what you want.

The Thrice-a-Week World always has a serial story running and it is always a first-class story by a first-class author. It publishes better fiction than any other newspaper in the United States. Special attention is also given to markets and there are many other valuable features. The regular subscription price is only $1, and that pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together one year for only $1.65. The regular price for the two papers is $2.

DYING ENGINEER AT THROTTLE.

A Great Rock From a Precipice Had Crushed His Skull. Pittsburg, Pa., Mar. 6.—Three hundred passengers laughed and chatted on the West Newton Express as it rushed along at forty-mile speed within a mile of the Baltimore and Ohio station in this city.

When the train did not slow up as it neared the station the fireman leaped across the cab to learn the cause. He found his chief dying in his seat. His hand was working vainly with the lever, while a great rock, which had rolled down the hillside and broken through the roof of the cab and crushed his head, lay at his feet.

Had the fireman not discovered the tragedy in time the train would have plunged through the bumper blocks and out through the depot to the river shore below.

ALL CHANCE FOR REDEMPTION. Postmaster Sends Directory to Man Asking for People Not Saved.

Louisville, Mar. 7.—A letter was received by Postmaster T. H. Baker from a man at Rutland, Vt., asking him to send the names of "the unsaved men and women" in Louisville.

The writer explained that he had read in the papers of the wickedness in Louisville, and he felt called upon to do what he could to redeem its people.

Postmaster Baker was at first puzzled, but finally hit upon the plan of sending the City Directory. In his letter, sent with the directory, Postmaster said he did not desire to overlook anybody.

"GO EAST, YOUNG MAN!"

Ex-Governor Hoard of Wisconsin, publisher of what is perhaps the best known agricultural journal in the country, believes that the time has come for a reversal of the policy of Horace Greeley, with regard to young men. He is trying to persuade young farmers who want a country to grow up with to set out toward the rising instead of the setting sun.

Such a young man living in the town of Wyndham, Ohio, writes to Mr. Hoard: "I had seriously considered going West, but your article, 'Go East, Young Man,' has changed my mind entirely. I happened to live in Ohio among these farms that sell for $30 to $50 per acre and decided there was no use delaying so closed a deal for a farm with the plow land all sloping toward the South and East." He continues:

"It does seem as if these farms were worth more money. The latter figure would just about get the pick. This farm of 160 acres was keeping only 12 head of cattle, two hogs and four horses and thirty chickens. It is our intention to milk about thirty cows which, with the young stock, would make forty or forty-five head of cattle; we will then keep about twenty hogs, three or four horses and about 300 chickens. Of course we will build silos and perhaps a new barn. Dairying is to be the main factor, however, and the hogs and poultry will make good use of the skim milk during the half of the year it is returned from the creamery, and the fertilizer therefrom is no small item in our estimation."

The writer of the letter is twenty-seven years old. He has promised to let Hoard's Dairyman know what success he has on his Ohio farm.

He is not the only young man of common sense and ambition who has turned Greeley's motto to other end to and lived to be glad of it and Hoard's Dairyman is not the only agricultural authority in the country which is advising young agriculturists to take notice of the reaction from the Western craze.

There are possibilities for farmers east of the Alleghenies, and New York state, the first in the Union in value of dairy produce according to the last census, the second state in butter making alone, the first in vegetables, the first in acreage of flowers and ornamental plants and of nursery products, the superior of all other states in small fruits, beaten only by Missouri as an apple state and one of the first half dozen in total value of farm property, having more farms operated by their owners than any other state, except Missouri and Texas, is among the places of opportunity for Western young men who know how to make the earth yield her increase.

OPEN THE DOORS
FROM THE OUTLOOK.

One of the most striking and fruitful of modern discoveries in medicine is the restorative power of fresh air; and the out-of-doors cure is now widely adopted for a great variety of diseases. What medicine cannot do fresh air does with rapid and astonishing effectiveness. This is another step, not in the direction of the discovery of remedies, but of a rational and normal way of life; it is as a preventive of disease even more than as a healing agent that out-of-door living assumes increasing importance in the experience of men. There is no doubt that the scourge of tuberculosis, which is a plague far more destructive than cholera or yellow fever, and nervous troubles of all kinds which sap the vitality, pervert the judgment, and blur the joy of life for multitudes of men and women, have their source or occasion chiefly in living too much indoors and breathing the vitiated air of close, overheated rooms. Simply to throw the windows open is to invite health to come in, and to go out-of-doors and live is to take health by the hand. "Give me health and a day," said Emerson, "and I will make the pomp of emperors ridiculous."

Dr. Johnson once declared that a sick man is a rascal. The world has been well served by sick men, and their fortitude, resolution, and mastery of pain have written some of the most inspiring chapters in the history of human achievement. There is no doubt, on the other hand, that much of the crime in the world is due to disease; that half the misery has its root in physical infirmities; and that to the same cause is due a vast number of harsh judgments, false and depressing views of life, misconceptions of motives, and morbid wretchedness. Health is not a luxury; it is a duty. He who lives with reckless disregard of the conditions essential to health invites disease and may, in the end, incur the guilt of suicide. Parting company with nature in over-eagerness to make a fortune or a reputation involves not only the loss of one of the great resources of life, but a diminution of the vital energy and, in many cases, the premature ending of life itself.

If living out-of-doors is essential to physical health, it is even more essential to moral health. A vast amount of the moral illness in the world is caused by too much indoor life; by keeping too much within ourselves, walking endlessly around the little circle of our own experience, questioning our own motives, trying to settle the problems of the universe from our own individual standpoint, and treating our personal conditions as if they were the general conditions under which all men live. These and a thousand other forms the disease of egoism takes on, and disqualifies men and women not only from exercising sound judgment and seeing things as they are, but from winning contentment, happiness, and sanity. The man who is perplexed by questions about his own fitness to discharge a duty or perform a task cannot solve it by thinking about it; let him set his hand to the work, put his strength in it, and he will soon discover whether he has blundered or not. And a multitude of people who are allowing their thoughts to brood continuously over their own misfortunes would find a great lifting of the weight if they would get out of themselves. The quickest and most effective way of helping one's self is to help somebody else. When the invisible house in which every man lives begins to darken, open the windows, set the doors wide, and escape at once into the great world. The remedy for egoism is a greater interest in the affairs, fortunes, and happiness of some one else. The world is full of opportunities for getting out-of-doors and escaping from the prison-house of our own experience; to take the sting out of your personal misfortunes, share the misfortunes of others.

NATIONAL PURE FOOD LAW AT LAST.

The United States Senate has passed the McCumber bill against food adulteration and the House will undoubtedly make it a law. The long-continued crusade by Dr. Wiley, the government expert on foods, is responsible for legislative action at last. Dr. Wiley has shown pretty conclusively that the average American citizen gets glucose in place of honey, cane sugar for maple syrup, sulphuric acid for vinegar, pulp for jam, coal tar dyes for fruit extracts, starch for baking powder, ground corn meal for cloves, pepper and allspice, burned peas for coffee, deodorized rotten meat for fresh meat, white earth for flour, and lots of other stuff not good enough for a horse. When you sit down tired and hungry you get without asking salicylic acid, benzoic acid, saltpeter, copper salts, arsenic and many other useful chemicals and poisons. Peas, being cheap, are mixed with a few coffee beans and sold to you for 20 cents a pound. What's the difference—you don't know.

Quite likely you have relished a fine line of jelly extensively sold by a certain company. They build it of gelatine, made of hoots of horses and cows, a little saccharine to sweeten it, a few drops of plain dye, and some chemical flavoring. Copper salts are largely used to color preserved fruits and meats.

The United States is the last country in the world to protect its people by national law against food adulteration. The Senate has always stood against it because so many of its members represent special interests, especially interests manufacturing food products. Pooling their issues these Senators always managed to keep a bill from reaching a vote.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.
 Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Years ago, business firms followed strange customs in advertising their wares for sale. Weekly Compendium of Local Happenings—
Various Items of Interest to Genoa People.

He used to stay up all night long
Upon some foolish frolic,
But now he frets when he must watch
The baby with the colic.

—Miss Mamie Driscoll is home from Auburn for a few weeks.

—L. E. Wood of Cortland was in this vicinity on business last week.

—Mrs. L. B. Norman was the guest of friends at Auburn over Sunday.

—Mrs. N. R. Sellen has returned from a recent visit to her daughters at Atwater.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillespie arrived in town Wednesday evening from Mount Vernon.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. O'Hara entertained a number of neighbors and friends Saturday evening.

—One of W. D. Norman's stage horses is suffering from lockjaw and is scarcely expected to live.

—Genoa people have one more chance to hear the jubilee singers, at North Lansing tomorrow evening. Better go down.

—Charles R. Bower has transferred to Clayton Bower a farm of 62 acres in the town of Lansing, for a nominal consideration.

—With 63,000,000 cold storage eggs unsold and the great American hen all ready for a rush of business, is it any wonder that eggs took a drop?

—Abel J. West and Miss C. R. Townsend, young people of this city, were married last Monday at North Danby, by Rev. R. F. Ruch, pastor of the M. E. church there.—Weekly Ithacan.

—Remember the TRIBUNE office with your auction posters and all other job printing. In the settlement of estates or mortgages, ask your attorney to send the necessary printing to this office.

—Elsewhere will be found the announcement of M. G. Shapero & Son, clothiers and furnishers. They have opened a new stock of first-class goods, and are here to stay, and should be favored with a good share of the trade of this vicinity.

—From the Iowa Citizen, published at Iowa City, Ia., we note that Leroy Rundell, a former resident of Genoa, read a very practical paper on dirt roads at a recent Farmers' Institute held at that place.

—The town board held a meeting Tuesday to apportion the highway funds. The amount available for this year aggregates about $3,720, being $1,250 from the State, $1,556 town tax, $486 poll tax and a balance from last year's fund of $428. The town tax for highway purposes has not been increased, as some profess to believe, and the general condition of the roads in the town is certainly improved. We can have good roads under the present system but they are not to be made in one year or two. The chronic kickers who sit around and grum because they are obliged to pay their tax in cash can't be expected to entirely agree with these sentiments, though they have the proof before their eyes.

To wed, or not to wed;
That is the question.
Whether 'tis better
To remain single
And disappoint a few women—
For a time
Or marry
And disappoint one woman—
For life.

—Walter Pulitzer.

—E. J. Haven of Fleming is in town this week.

—E. B. Whitten of Auburn was in town on business Wednesday.

—Miss Millicent Sellen was home from Rochester a few days last week.

—William Beebee is moving to Union Springs from the Sherman farm in Ledyard.

—Miss Anna Cogan of Auburn has been the guest of Miss Mamie Driscoll a few days past.

—Everybody is invited to attend the Agricultural Society dance at the rink next Friday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stewart L. Purdie of Brooklyn are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Purinton.

—John Norman has leased his farm at a cash rent to Arthur Landon of Poplar Ridge. Mr. Landon is a hustler of the right sort and we are glad he is coming over here.

—While Matthew Mahaney was loading his wagon at the mill on Tuesday the horses started up and he was thrown to the ground and considerably shaken up.

—Everybody sat up and took notice at a recent teachers' institute at Binghamton, when Irving B. Smith of Warsaw advised the teachers to keep lice in their heads. He was delivering a lecture on "Teaching Spelling," and explained that the word lice would help them remember the rule that "i" should precede "e" excepting when followed by "c."

—The fact that a number of girls—one of them a 16-year-old school girl—under sentence for disorderly conduct, were among the large number of prisoners lodged in the Tompkins county jail last week, is a subject for comment and grave concern, and evidence that something is wrong in their homes. What do you think about it, you who are fortunate enough to have a daughter.

—Carry P. Lester died at Groton on Saturday, March 3, 1906, aged nearly 42 years. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church in this village on Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock, a large number of friends attending. Rev. Mr. Rodger of Moravia preached an excellent sermon from James IV:14. The deceased is survived by the aged mother and one daughter.

—At the recent banquet given for George H. Daniels, the veteran official of the New York Central, Mr. Daniels said: "If you have anything to sell you must advertise it, and the man without advertising is the man without any real foundation for his business. The railroads have discovered this and the fact that a great system of railroads decided that this was wise is an endorsement of the idea."

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sellen of Moravia were in town Monday.

—Milton Alling of McLean is spending a few days with relatives and friends in town.

—Bert Wilkins and family have been spending several days with relatives at Freeville.

—Mrs. S. Wright and Mrs. D. W. Smith were in Auburn Tuesday and Wednesday.

—Mrs. Lee Hewitt of Auburn was a guest at D. C. Hunter's on Monday and Tuesday.

—Miss Edith Hunter is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bronson at Cortland.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Banker of Chicago are spending a few weeks at the parental home in this place.

—Mrs. Ruth Avery recently spent a few days in Groton, being called there by the death of a sister.

—Rev. E. L. Dresser returned from his visit to Oberlin on Monday, after having been delayed in Ithaca over Sunday.

—Miss Manning's dancing class will hold a reception at the rink this evening. The music will be by Brock of Ithaca.

—Will Richardson was taken suddenly worse Sunday afternoon, a serious liver trouble having appeared. Dr. Dudley counseled with Dr. Skinner Monday and they considered the case critical indeed.

—R. Miller was in town on telephone business Tuesday. The Miller lines are being extended in all directions and the connection with Cortland, recently cut out by the Bell company, may now again be made on the Inter-Ocean line.

—Clay C. Tarbell, who moved with his family last fall from this village to Cortland, has moved to the farm near North Lansing owned by his grandfather, A. M. Tarbell. Mrs. E. T. Trea of Genoa is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Kostenbader. Mrs. M. Linderman is visiting relatives at Ithaca.—Groton Journal.

—E. C. Crum, N. S. Gibbs and S. H. Murdock, engineers of the New York, Auburn & Lansing Railroad Co., are in town this week setting the center-line stakes on the route of the Genoa road. It is stated that the construction work will be resumed as soon as weather conditions will permit.

—J. R. Hathaway, R. Butler, D. Sweney and Charles Randall of Homer and B. F. Lee of Cuyler are among those from a distance in town to attend the Potter auction. There was a large crowd at the sale both Wednesday and Thursday, and Auctioneer Norman was fully equal to the occasion. The property sold readily at good figures.

—The meeting of Genoa W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Wm. Harris last Friday afternoon was well attended and proved interesting and enjoyable to all present. After the business meeting, a pleasing program was given consisting of piano solos, singing, recitations, etc. Light refreshments were served from a prettily arranged table with green and white decorations, and a pleasant social hour followed.

Coming Events.

Services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at usual time. Preaching by the pastor, Rev. E. L. Dresser. On Sunday, March 18, the Lord's Supper will be observed at both Genoa and Five Corners.

West Genoa and Five Corners W. C. T. U. will give their quarterly dinner at the home of Mrs. E. D. Obeesman, Belltown, on Thursday, March 15. Business meeting will be held at 11 a. m. and dinner will be served at 1 o'clock, after which the superintendent of parlor meetings, Mrs. Jennie Palmer, will conduct a program.

The Newest Wall Papers are now here. Never before have we shown so many artistic novelties, both in design and coloring, that you will not find elsewhere. It is a pleasure to show them to you. P. T. WEYANT, King Ferry, at The Wall Paper Shop.

M. Fallieres, France's New President

THE election of M. Clement Armand Fallieres as president of the French republic directs attention to the difference between French and American methods of choosing a chief magistrate. M. Fallieres was elected by the members of the senate and chamber of deputies in joint session. The two bodies met at Versailles and balloted secretly for a successor to President Emile Loubet. Each member in turn deposited his ballot in an urn provided for the purpose. There are 591 deputies and 300 senators in France, making 891 members of the two houses, constituting together the national assembly. A candidate for president must receive a majority of the votes cast in order to be elected. Fallieres received 449 votes out of 848.

Although much popular interest pertains to the election of a president in France, no such political importance attaches to the event as in the United States. In this country the question of which party shall be in power for the coming four years hinges on the vote of a presidential election. In France it is possible for several ministers representing different parties to be in office in the course of a single presidential term. The powers of the national executive are in reality very limited. His chief duties are to entertain foreign potentates and do the honors at certain state or popular functions. Though he has considerable power in theory he does not as a matter of custom and practice exercise it. He is not elected by a popular vote or even by an electoral college representing a popular vote. Though he is supposed to have a veto on bills passed by the lawmaking body, as a matter of fact no president since MacMahon has exercised such a right. The French president may merely return an obnoxious measure with a request for further deliberation. The president of the United States selects his cabinet without any dictation from congress. In France the president merely acts as the instrument of the chamber of deputies in forming ministries, which represent the political complexion of that body, just as the king of England does in making up a cabinet when the balance of power shifts from one party to another.

The French government has been described as a centralized parliamentary

MORTIMER WHITEHEAD.

Who Made the First Argument For Rural Free Mail Delivery.

Mortimer Whitehead comes from one of the oldest families in New Jersey. Before he was of age he was a soldier in General Sedgwick's famous Sixth army corps of the Army of the Potomac. He was a charter member of the first grange in New Jersey, organized by O. H. Kelley in 1871. Mr. Kelley calls him one of the "builders of the Order." In 1874 he was master of the New Jersey state grange. He was for two years assistant steward of the national grange, then lecturer two years, then six more years lecturer of the New Jersey state grange, then for eight years more lecturer of the national grange. He prepared the service for dedication of grange halls and designed the certificates of both the sixth and seventh degrees. The arrangement of the "double degrees" in the ritual was his work. While national lecturer in 1891 he presented a carefully prepared paper to the national grange on rural free delivery, which was adopted. He made the first argument by a farmer and a Patron before a committee of congress in the winter of 1891-92 for a $10,000 appropriation in the name of the grange for rural delivery. He represented the grange for several years on legislative committees before congress. He has traveled in every state on grange work and is still at it and says he never believed in the grange more than at the present time. No member of the Order has traveled more miles, delivered more addresses or written more papers for the grange than has Mortimer Whitehead.

PROFITABLE CO-OPERATION.

What a Grange in Orange County, N. Y., is Doing in This Line.

Grange co-operative stores are usually successful when properly managed. One such is located at Washingtonville, Orange county, N. Y., which was incorporated with $5,000 paid up capital. They employed a practical storekeeper and did $38,000 worth of business the first year, paying 5 per cent on the money invested. This was about three years ago. They have done $34,000 of business in the last six months. This grange has a membership of about 150. The first store was found insufficient, and the second year another store was opened at another place, and $1,500 was subscribed by the members without hesitation. These stores are managed by a board of directors. A purchasing agent is employed at a salary of one-half of 1 per cent on all sales. The par value of the shares is $25, and they are held by grangers only. The three essentials to success in operating a grange store, says one of the gentlemen interested, are, first, honesty and business ability; second, capital; third, co-operation.

Lecturers' Conference.

The fact that the lecturers' conference has won its place in the special order of business in many state granges is one we are justly proud of. These conferences are a part of the system of lecture work, and their stimulating influence reaches out, both directly and indirectly, to the remotest granges in the state. Here practical experiences may be related and plans discussed to the edification of all interested in advancing the lecturer's work, than which there is no more important in the grange.

Revising the Digest.

Several changes in the digest of our Order were reported to the national grange by the committee appointed a year ago for this purpose. The suggested changes are to be printed in connection with the sections or paragraphs of which they form a part and then sent to each state master for his consideration. At the next meeting of the national grange the committee will present its final report.

As It Should Be.

An announcement of the forthcoming meetings of the farmers' institutes in Maine reveals the fact that every one in the list referred to is called to meet in grange halls. The grange and the farmers' institute are working together in many ways for the advancement of the farmers' interests.

PRISON NUMBERS DECREASING:

State Prison Commission's Report Asks Change in Sentence Law. Albany, N. Y., Mar. 6.—The State Prison Commission in the recommendations of its annual report, covers much the same ground as the reports hitherto published of the State Superintendent of Prison Improvement Commission. The total prison population of the State on October 1, 1905, is thus given: State prisons, 3,452; reformatories for males, 1,656; houses of refuge for women, 480; penitentiaries, 2,227; county jails, 4,769. Total, 12,584, showing a decrease of admissions to all prisons of 88.

The figures show an increase in the State prisons of forty-three and since October 1, 1896, of 257. Recommendations of the commission include:

Amendments to the indeterminate sentence and parole law, the establishment of a State reformatory for male misdemeanants and a better enforcement of the law requiring jail prisoners to be separately confined and those serving sentence to be systematically employed.

Yuan Shih-Kai, viceroy of Chi-Li is probably the strongest and most progressive man in China. He is making every effort to arouse a strong national feeling and a military spirit among the higher classes of China, and will probably be an important factor in China.

Iceland Seeks Independence.

Copenhagen, Mar. 6.—A movement to declare Iceland independent of Denmark has caused considerable uneasiness here. The King decided to ask all members of the Iceland Legislature to visit Denmark as the guests of the nation.

Railroad Activity in Tacoma.

Tacoma, Wash., Mar. 6.—Railroad terminal property worth $8,000,000 has been purchased in this city within the last two months.

Sent Coffin Picture: Died.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Mar. 1.—Just before he fell dead in New York, John Gallagher had mailed to Miss Elizabeth Featherstone, in this city, a post card on which was pictured a coffin and on which he had written: "Do not think I am dead because I do not write. My busy hours are from 2 to 4." He died between the hours specified.

Railroad Must Pay.

Upper Sandusky, O., Mar. 4.—A jury gave John Wrenn, a grain merchant, of Deunquat, $2,000 damages against the Toledo Ohio Central Railroad for discrimination. He asserted that the railroad furnished him no cars for three months and he was unable to ship grain.

Discuss Haines in Albany.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 1.—President Haines, his friends and enemies are here to discuss before the Committee on Charitable and Religious Institutions, Assemblyman Francis's bill to enlarge the powers of the Henry Bergh Society of New York, the S. P. C. A.'s rival.

Woman and Child Labor.

Washington, Mar. 7.—The House Committee on Labor decided to report a bill appropriating $300,000 for a compilation of statistics on the condition of woman and child workers. This bill grew out of the movement inaugurated by Gov. Curtis Guild, of Massachusetts.

R. R. Oil Rate Cut by Missouri.

St. Louis, Mar. 7.—By reducing the rate on oil shipped between St. Louis and Kansas City to nine cents a hundred pounds the Missouri Railroad Commissioners have dealt a blow to the Standard Oil monopoly.

His Talk Pays Now.

Waterbury, Conn., Mar. 7.—Former Assemblyman W. Luke Henderson is appearing here in vaudeville, playing a bagpipe and telling funny stories of his legislative experience. "If you've got to talk," he says, "talk where it pays."

Ice-men in a Bad Scrape.

Wipsett, Conn., Mar. 7.—A barber in Thomaston has posted the following in his shop: "Ice-men must pay double price for a shave, owing to the long faces they wear."

17 Feet of Wire Inside Him.

Columbus, O., Mar. 7.—In an operation on Louis Thrymm, victim of a street car accident, seventeen feet of wire were used to put injured organs in place.

Favor Voting Machines.

Albany, N. Y., Mar. 7.—The Cities Committee has decided to report favorably to the Assembly the Stanley Voting Machine bill.

TORNADO CUTS DEATH LANE.

Meridian, Mississippi, is Demolished; 121 Dead. Mobile, Ala., Mar. 7.—Information was received here from Meridian, Miss., by long-distance telephone that a tornado, followed by a heavy rainstorm, had swept over that city at 6.30 P. M.

The first message to be received over the long-distance telephone from Meridian, Miss., which was literally swept into a waste of crushed debris by a tornado, told a tale of 121 persons dead in the ruins and hundreds injured and destitute.

Fire started in the ruins of the wrecked houses and public buildings. Many of the victims were consumed where they lay, still alive, but unable to extricate themselves from the heap of debris that covered them. Those who were able to get on their feet started to fight the threatened conflagration and had flames under control at one o'clock this morning.

Whole blocks of buildings in the path of the tornado were crumpled up as if made of cardboard, then tumbled into piles of twisted iron, splintered wood and heaps of masonry and bricks.

NO COAL STRIKE!

Absolute Order of Steel Trust and George Gould.

Pittsburg, Pa., Mar. 7.—"No coal strike!" was the positive command issued by the Steel Trust to President Francis L. Robbins, of the Pittsburg Coal Company, while the latter was in New York negotiating with President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Robbins came to Pittsburg to carry out the instructions he had received from W. Ellis Corey, President of the United States Steel Corporation, in substantially the following language:

"The United States Steel Corporation will not stand for any strike at present in the bituminous coal regions, at least in that portion from which we draw our coal. We have a twenty-five year contract with the Pittsburg Coal Company which must be taken care of or given up. Give those miners their advance and keep them working, or the United States Steel Corporation will itself grant the advance where it will do good. We have one year's solid work ahead and cannot afford to have our mills shut down even for one day for lack of coal."

George Gould, as head of immense coal-carrying and coal-producing railway interests in the West and Southwest, has declared himself to the same purpose to the leading bituminous operators in his territory.

Mrs. John E. Redmond is the wife of the leader of the Irish parliamentary party in England. She is a remarkably handsome and clever woman, who holds a prominent position in political circles and is a powerful ally of her husband and of the cause which he represents.

Must Salute U. S. Printer.

Washington, D. C., Mar. 7.—Watchmen in the Bureau of Public Printing are required to stand at attention and salute Public Printer Stillings when he enters or leaves the office.

Wallace Gets His Job.

Pittsburg Mar. 7.—John F. Wallace has entered the employ of George Westinghouse at a salary of $50,000 a year. He resigned as chief engineer at Panama to accept this position.

Balfour Wins by 11,340.

London, Mar. 7.—Former Premier Balfour has been elected to the House of Commons by 11,340 majority. He was too ill to thank the electors, and was represented by his daughter, who made a remarkable speech.

No More Free Seed.

Washington, D. C., Mar. 7.—The House Committee on Agriculture has decided not to recommend the usual appropriation for free seed distribution.

New President for Brazil.

Rio Janeiro, Mar. 7.—Dr. Afonso Pena, Vice-President of the Republic, was elected President.

Doctors Are Puzzled.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McIver of Vanceboro, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the Throat and congestion of the Lungs, three doctors gave me up to die, when, as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." Cures the worst Coughs and Colds, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Weak Lungs, Hoarseness and LaGrippe. Guaranteed at J. S. Banker's, Genoa, and A. E. Clark's, King Ferry, druggists. 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free.

One would think the laxative idea in a cough syrup should have been advanced long before it was. It seems the only rational remedy for Coughs and Colds would be to move the bowels and clean the mucous membranes of the throat and lungs at the same time. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar does this. It is the original laxative cough syrup, the best known remedy for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, etc. Tastes good and harmless. Sold by J. S. Banker.

Inconsiderate Woman.

"John, have you got everything?" tenderly inquired the billionaire's wife as he started off on a journey. The billionaire burst into tears. "There you go," he exclaimed, "always saying things to give me pain! You know very well that, in spite of all my efforts, I haven't yet succeeded in getting everything."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated March 31, 1873, executed by Simon Obid and Susan, his wife, both then as now of Genoa, N. Y., to John Sill, then of the same place but now deceased, recorded in the Cayuga County clerk's office at Auburn, N. Y., April 1, 1873, at 10 o'clock a. m. in Book 84 of Mortgages at page 439, and is now held and owned by the undersigned S. Edwin Day, it having been assigned to him by Thomas Armstrong as administrator of, etc. of said John Sill, deceased, by assignment dated March 21, 1887, which assignment was duly recorded in said office, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted for the recovery of said money or any part thereof; and the amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is $1180.23, all of which is due. Now, therefore, notice is hereby given pursuant to the statute, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and duly recorded therewith, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises therein described by the undersigned assignee, on the 12th day of May, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Moravia National Bank in Moravia, N. Y., the said premises being described in said mortgage as follows: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the town of Genoa, county of Cayuga, State of New York, being a part of lot number thirty-seven and bounded as follows: Beginning in the center of the highway leading to the Forks of the Creek, at the northwest corner of lands decreed by John Sill and wife to Simon Obid and Jesse Snyder on the first day of April, 1869; running thence south fifty-two chains and eighty-seven links; thence east nine chains and nineteen links; thence north to the center of the highway; thence westerly along the center of said highway to the place of beginning, containing fifty acres of land. Dated February 16, 1906. S. EDWIN DAY, Assignee.

CLEMENT ARMAND FALLIERES.

republic. The real governing power is the chamber of deputies. In theory the ministers are appointed by the president and serve during his pleasure. As a matter of fact they are appointed by the leader of the majority in the chamber of deputies and resign when defeated. The term of the president is seven years. But it is seldom that a ministry continues in power over two or three. This is due to the number of factional divisions and party groups. Instead of two principal parties, as in the United States, there are in France the Conservatives, including the few royalists and Bonapartists still left in parliament; the Moderate Republicans, the Radicals, the Socialists and several other divisions.

President Elect Fallieres will take office on Feb. 13 and is the same type of man as the president whom he succeeds. Like M. Loubet, he has risen to distinction from the lowliest rank. His grandfather was a blacksmith and his father was clerk in a magistrate's court. He was born Nov. 8, 1841, in Mezin and as a boy at school was so dull that his father predicted he would never make a success in life. He was a lazy sort of youth until just before he reached his majority, when he seemed to awaken to a realization that to succeed he must exert all his energies, and he then began to exhibit a boundless ambition. He was called to the bar in the town of Nerae and not long afterwards became its mayor. Nerae returned him to the chamber of deputies in 1876, and he affiliated with the group known as the Republican Left. He rose to the reputation as an orator living assumes to influence. He has experience of men, of political positions, and of the scourge of tubercle he selected probably more destructive he did not retain and nervous trouble was chosen presidential in appearance he is of life for number short, and he is in their source. He is quite popular, and a much judicious, is fond of hunting and adept at killing rabbits and is noted for always carrying a rifle, rain or shine.

RAILROAD HOSPITAL CAR.

New Plan of Railroad to Care for the Injured—Employed in Mining District.
 Pittsburgh.—Perhaps because of the fact that the company employs about 15,000 men and boys in connection with the mining of coal the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad has put into service a hospital car. Under the direction of the superintendent of the mining department, special instruction is given in "first aid to the injured." This instruction is given in a series of lectures. The moving hospital service, which has been established, is as novel as it is valuable. One of the standard passenger coaches has been transformed into a miniature hospital at a comparatively small expense, though provided with all the ordinary re-requirements of the physician and surgeon.

INTERIOR OF HOSPITAL CAR.
 This car contains six beds covered with black enamel cloth, which can be washed, also four coach seats with similar covering. A capacious closet contains all necessary medicines and surgical appliances and dressings for emergency work. Four stretchers are always carried. Once a man is placed upon a stretcher he is not moved until placed upon his bed at home or in the hospital. He lies upon the stretcher while in the ambulance or on the bed in the hospital car. Ice water is constantly on hand and hot water is always available. The car is equipped with high pressure brakes and the usual windows of a passenger coach give light, while above are several ventilating windows. The interior is finished in hardwood effect, so that the entire car is easily kept scrupulously clean.
 The hospital car is employed principally in the colliery district about Kingston. If the victim of an accident requires special treatment he is conveyed in it to the Moses Taylor hospital at Scranton, Pa., but most of the cases are of such a character that they could be relieved immediately. In addition to hospital work the car has also been used to give demonstrations in "first aid to the injured," and has been of much value for this work.

NEW POST FOR PEIRCE.

Third Assistant Secretary of State Named as First Minister to Norway.
 Washington.—Herbert H. D. Peirce, third assistant secretary of state, has been selected by the president as the first American minister to Norway. Mr. Peirce entered the diplomatic service in 1894, and has since held important posts. His first appointment was as secretary of the United States embassy at St. Petersburg, where he stayed until 1898. He then retired, but shortly afterward was again appointed to the position he had just relinquished. In 1900 Mr. Peirce was representative of the American government at The Hague in the arbitration of the Russian seizure of American fishing vessels several years prior. The new minister is a Massachusetts man, and was a protege of Senator Hoar. He is 56 years old. Mr. Peirce represented the government in the peace conference at Portsmouth, Mass., between the Russian and Japanese envoys.

When Mantraps Were Used.
 A mantrap has been found in Alford, Lincolnshire, England, which shows the barbarity of less than a century ago. It is probably the largest man-trap in existence. It is 76 inches in length, and its jaws, with teeth protruding two inches, will open fully two feet two inches by 18 inches. Old-time landlords who chose to insist upon their rights in their entirety, as they often did, were at liberty to plant these barbarous engines about in the undergrowth of their inclosed land, for the benefit of any trespasser or possible poacher, who might chance to set foot near them. Their use was abolished by the law in 1827.

If you are troubled with Piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. It is the original. If you have used Witch Hazel Salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by J. S. Banker.

There is general regret in New York city over the death of "Tom" Dunn, ex-sheriff of the county. In the twenty-sixth assembly district, where Dunn resided, every boy on the street knew and was known by him. He was famous as a practical joker of the good-natured kind, and his wit was ever at command. At the ball of the Delaware club a few years ago Dunn was approached by a good-looking chap who apparently was wearing evening clothes for the first time and was very proud. "Sheriff," he said, "how do you think I look in a dress suit?" "Fine," returned Dunn. "It's a wonder you wouldn't get one of your own."

A lady clergyman tells us that in 25 years women have increased in stature 2½ inches, and men have decreased in the same degree. If the sexes are thus getting apart five inches in 25 years, it is not difficult to calculate how long it will be before men will be utilized by women merely as a lap dog or as a bangle for her bracelet.

The fact that another American girl has joined the British peerage in the usual way does not fluster the young men of this country in the least. Every one of them who cares in the least about such things knows that the only one is still with us.

Scipioville.

MARCH 7.—Wm. McCormick is having the public sitting room of his hotel newly decorated, is putting on new steel ceiling and finishing the floor in hard finish.

Mrs. James King is visiting in Rochester, Dispatch and Palmyra.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson have gone to No. One to remain for some time.

The men's supper and experience social held at McCormick's hall for the benefit of the Presbyterian church was a great success. One young man told his experience in earning a dollar in the following lines:

On a cold, stormy night,
When the stars gave no light,
And the mud was as deep as could be,
A couple out for a lark
And a genuine spark,
Ran their buggy into a tree.

Their horses felt gay,
Fed on good oats and hay,
And one kicked over the tug;
This caused a slight scream
And a change in the theme,
And promptly ended the hug.

My lantern I lent,
And with them I went
As far as the noted "Bidge road"
Then he paid me a bill,
And I wished them "good will"
As back through the darkness I strode.

MORAL.

Never drive with one hand when its late,
For horses don't always go straight,
And lanterns and pilots are apt to be high,
Though the fun we all know "It is great."

School closes for the spring vacation this week.

A game of basket ball was played between the home team and the Scipio team last Saturday evening at McCormick hall. It was a very exciting game from start to finish. A return game will be played on Saturday evening of this week at Scipio Center.

Henry Traub of Auburn was calling on friends in town last week.

James Jones is moving to Mrs. Morrison's farm in "Goose lane."

Earl Leeson will work for Alfred Simkins the coming season.

The best safeguard against head ache, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bedtime when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe. Sold by J.S. Banker.

The Prevarication Of Miss Priscilla

HE put an arm around her waist. "Shall it be soon?" he asked in a low voice.

"No! Positively not for years and years," she replied, shaking her pretty head.

"Oh, thunder!" he ejaculated. "Now, Arthur!" she said reprovingly. "I am so rough," he apologized. There was silence for a little while. Then Arthur returned to the attack. What right had she to be so decided about it? he thought.

"Priscilla," he said, "one year would be a long time."

"Well, in some ways," she admitted. "Then why," he went on, "such an awful delay?" He paused for a reply. There was a short silence, while Miss Priscilla thought how best she could put it. At last she began.

"Arthur Motley." She looked timidly at him. "We should not be rash," she urged pleadingly.

"N-o," was his monosyllabic comment. "Wouldn't a year be rash?" she persisted.

He stood up in front of her and cried to her from the fullness of his heart. Love gave him eloquence.

"Let us be rash," he said. "Make it two years," she said. "Horrible!" he muttered, with clinched teeth. Out aloud, "Priscilla, my Priscilla," dwelling lovingly upon the name.

He held out his arms to her and no longer could she resist him.

"Let it be pretty soon," she cooed. "Next month, darling?" he asked, hardly able to believe his ears.

"Yes, Arthur," she lisped.—Harper's Weekly.

Her Boy.

John S. Wise, lawyer, politician and author, who left Virginia some years ago to live in New York, took with him the old negro "mammy" who nursed him as a child. The latter persisted in regarding him as a young scapegrace who needed a tight checkrein.

On one occasion he asked some friends to a chafing dish supper in his rooms, but warned them to keep quiet. They slipped into the house, but had not been there long before some one knocked over a chair. In about a minute came the cry from a room far upstairs:

"What yo' doin' there, Mars' John? Wherefo' yo' makin' such a noise at this time o' night? Yo' ought ter been in bed long ago, sah. Tak' shame ter yo'self, tak' shame ter yo'self!"

"There!" whispered Wise. "I told you fellows to be quiet! Now you've wakened her, and I'll catch thunder in the morning!"—Woman's Home Companion.
