OWNING A HOME.

The Real Estate Man Presents His View of the Question.

The public has no better friends than the real estate agents, although individuals may sometimes think that they are a trifle persistent in their efforts to induce one to make a purchase.

In reality, however, this is where they do the greatest good, not only for the city in which they live, but for the man to whom they sell property, and this is especially true in the case of a home.

The great majority of people are too slow to realize the importance of becoming home owners, and the efforts of the real estate dealers have induced thousands to purchase who otherwise would have let splendid opportunities pass.

It is especially important that all young people become home owners at the earliest time possible, because in the strength of their youth they will have no trouble meeting the payments on a home, and in a few years they will have it paid for. On the other hand, if they fall to buy the years will pass and find them living up all they make.

Because of taxes, insurance and depreciation many people figure that it is cheaper to rent than to own a home, but since the man owning the property is willing to make that kind of investment it is pretty evident that in the long run it pays the owner.—National Real Estate Journal.

MISSED THE TRAIN.

It Was Not the Agent's Fault, Either, Only His Misfortune.

The real estate man from the city was eager to close the deal for Uncle Billy Weatherman's forty acres, which would front on a beautiful lake after the big White river dam in the Missouri Ozarks was built.

The papers lay on the table awaiting Uncle Billy's signature. The real estate man was impatient. He was in a hurry to get back to Hollister, the nearest railway station, so as to catch the only train that would get him back to Kansas City the next morning.

"Now, if you'll sign right there—on the dotted line," he said, handing a fountain pen to Uncle Billy.

Uncle Billy took out his spectacles and read the papers carefully.

"I reckon I'd better not be in too big a hurry about this year," he temporized, with the shrewdness of the Ozark mountaineer. "I don't read as peart as I used to. I b'lieve I'll have my sons read them papers, mister."

"It would be a great favor to me, Uncle Billy," remarked the Kansas City man, looking at his watch, "if you could manage to see them in time to finish up this transaction by noon. You see, I've got to get away today. How many sons have you, anyway?" Uncle Billy scratched his head a minute and said, "Eighteen."—Youth's Companion.

COMMENDS WHITMAN'S FOOD INVESTIGATION.

"A Distinct Public Service," Says the Watertown Standard.

The Watertown Standard makes the following comment on the investigation by District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of speculators in foods:

"District Attorney Whitman will render a distinct public service by the inquiry into the rise in food prices since the war started. He has assigned Assistant District Attorney William A. De Ford, who successfully investigated and prosecuted members of the so called poultry trust, to conduct the inquiry, and it promises to be a searching one.

"In announcing his determination to find out the reasons back of the boost in prices of certain necessities of life, the supply of which is not altogether affected by the European war, the district attorney said:

"Any combination of dealers in foodstuffs who, through a monopoly may conspire to advance their prices unwarrantedly is guilty of conspiracy. This office will at once begin an investigation to determine whether the advance in the price of food in the county of New York is warranted or is the result of such a conspiracy. I shall welcome the co-operation of any organized body or bodies of citizens who may be in a position to aid this inquiry."

"Mr. De Ford's inquiry will include meats, flour, sugar, eggs, coffee and other articles the prices of which have been advanced since the war started.

"The district attorney will invite wholesalers, retailers, officers of various bodies, representatives of the Housewives' league, city officials and others to visit his office and throw whatever light they can on conditions.

"If he finds evidence of conspiracy prosecution will follow."

COMMENDABLE ACTIVITY.

District Attorney Charles S. Whitman of New York has again shown his willingness to take the initiative in any movement for the welfare of the people by starting an investigation to ascertain whether dealers in foodstuff have been making the European war an excuse for raising the price of meats, groceries and other foods. Mr. Whitman's record shows that he does not do things by halves in the performance of his duty.—Fort Plain Mohawk Valley Register.

Loving hearts are like poor folks—they are contented with whatever is given to them.—Swetchine.

Twenty Years of Pleasure.

St. Michael's church, Macclesfield, England, is noted for its beauty. In "The Manchester and Glasgow Road" Charles G. Harper tells of a curious epitaph in the churchyard upon one Mary Broomfield, who died in 1755 aged eighty. It reads as follows:

"The chief concern of her life for the last twenty years was to order and provide for her funeral. Her greatest pleasure was to think and talk about it. She lived many years on a pension of sixpence a week and yet saved 50 which at her request was buried with her."—London Telegraph.

REPUBLICAN EMBLEM

Above is a representation of the new emblem of the Republican party adopted by reason of the change in the form of ballot to be used this year.

The ballot will be printed in sections, on which the candidates' names, emblems and political designations will be boxed in by heavy black lines in the manner indicated by the following illustration of the section for governor. A separate section is to be printed on the ballot for each office to be filled at the election.

Heart Beats. While the heart of the elephant is beating thirty times, that of a human is pulsating seventy.

TAMMANY CANNOT DEFEAT WHITMAN.

The Brooklyn Standard Union Gives One Reason Why.

The Tammany Hall cohorts schemed at Saratoga to control the Empire State treasury for two years more. But they counted without the loyal Republican masses.

If some of these Tammany leaders could see the eagerness with which the rank and file of the party sign petitions to have Charles S. Whitman made the Republican candidate for governor they might get some idea of what is in store for them on the 28th of next September. They don't see it now because they are engaged in playing the "watchful waiting" game and have abiding faith in the deals and dickers by which they as professional political manipulators seek to advantage themselves and the "following" that keeps them in office.

"Safety first" is their most dearly cherished motto.

There is such a thing, however, as playing too safely. What these men do not see is that Charles S. Whitman, splendid and fearless public official as he is, brings thousands upon thousands of Republican voters to his standard because he is the embodiment of the opposition to Rooseveltism and all the selfish personal political ambition of the Oyster Bay boss. Whitman was the victim of the treachery of Roosevelt politicians last year, and he was picked out this year for the special enmity of the bull moose boss because he would not sell his political manhood for the Roosevelt indorsement of his candidacy for governor.—Brooklyn Standard Union.

"STRAIGHTFORWARD."

Seneca Falls Paper So Describes Whitman's Candidacy.

The following editorial appeared in the Seneca Falls Courier-Journal:

"According to the Delaware Express, the facts in the governorship case are that Mr. Hinman is trying to ride two steeds—has undertaken more than he can accomplish. It is a difficult feat to ride two horses going in the same direction, but when the animals are headed for opposite horizons it means a bad spill.

"When we compare his antics with the straightforward candidacy of Charles S. Whitman the resultant estimate we get of the two men is one which is sufficient of itself to determine the choice of all concerned in the best welfare of this graft ridden state."

"THE MAN FOR THE PLACE."

The Review has been in favor of Charles S. Whitman for governor and still believes him to be the man for the place. His indefatigable efforts as district attorney for the dispensing of real justice, his unquestioned ability and now Roosevelt's bitter enmity all prove his fitness. And he could not be controlled by any man or set of men.—Roscoe Review.

The Ellenville Journal, edited by S. M. Taylor, reprinted the editorial from which the above is an extract and commented on it by saying, "To every word of it the Journal says, 'Amen!'"

To Our Patrons:

The deplorable conditions that now exist in Europe on account of the war now being waged between the largest and most civilized countries, and the conflicting reports that have been circulated regarding the prices of imported merchandise entitles the consumer to receive definite and exact knowledge regarding the situation.

We therefore wish to announce that at the present time and as long as our present stock will last we will not advance our prices one single cent on merchandise of any kind.

We shall protect our patrons during these unsettled market conditions to the fullest extent.

Our resources for obtaining merchandise is not excelled by any firm. Nearly thirty-five years of honorable dealing with manufacturers, wholesalers and importers means a great deal in a crisis like this, and there is no one better equipped to serve you for the coming fall.

At the present time there is a corps of buyers in the market to provide for you and for us and to protect both our interests to the fullest extent.

We realize that there will be scarcity of some materials and some classes of merchandise and that we will be tested to the utmost to supply you, but we are in hopes by the advice we receive that we will be able to cope with the situation.

Always prepared to serve you best.

He was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman and is desirous of resuming his relations with the Presbyterian church.

—The State Department of Agriculture estimates that eleven principal grape growing counties will average twenty per cent. more grapes than last year. The Chautauqua grape belt will see a crop at least thirty per cent. larger than last year, according to the present reports. In the Keuka lake and Hudson valley grape belts the crop will be at least ten per cent. better than the last year.—Ontario Co. Times.

—The Ithacan of last week contained the following item: "Four octogenarians, practically all hale and hearty, are living under the same roof two miles west and one mile south of North Lansing. Their ages total 346 years. Three of them are sisters, Mrs. Mary Osman, 87, Mrs. Katie Teeter, 89, and Mrs. Angeline Osman, 85. The fourth is George Gillett, 85, who is caretaker of the Osman estate. Although well beyond the four score mark, they all appear well and robust and look well and able to stand many more birthdays. The four, it is said, make the oldest quartet of citizens in Tompkins county. They have lived in Lansing practically all their lives."
