Unbiased Testimony.

Statistics prepared by either the wets or the drys are apt to viewed with suspicion because both sides are biased, says Arthur Hunter of the New York Life Insurance Company. But statistics put out by the life insurance companies are known to be absolutely without bias and the public has confidence in them. Automobile Notes.

A total of 85,785 chauffeurs are egistered in this State up to the present time. Of the number 58,977 are doing business in New York City.

Chiefs of police in all of the cities and incorporated villages in New York State have been notified the past week to apprehend all motor cycle riders whose machines do not bear the 1916 plates. Reports have reached Secretary of State Hugo to the effect that many riders are tardy in taking out the plates.

The importance of the automobile registration in this State is shown in the fact that since Feb. 1, the office of the Secretary of State has taken in $2,253,752.00 from registration of cars. Up to July 14, 265,407 owners had registered their cars, dealers numbering 2,296. The motor cycle registration up to the same date was 20,243, with receipts of $50,697.00. More motor cycles have been registered in the Buffalo district than in either of the New York or Albany

The contract has just been placed for the 1917 New York State auto license plates. They will be of an olive color with white letters, the numbers being hyphenated as are those of this year's. Approximately 300,000 sets will be required, from demand. In placing the order, Secretary of State Hugo, made provisions for a delivery of the plates next fall in order to assure a quick delivery at the opening of the automobile year, Feb. 1, and during the weeks that follow.

Uncle Sam gives out the information, through the bureau of construction of the navy department, that he now has under construction seven battleships, thirteen destroyers, two fuel ships, one supply ship, one transport, and thirty-eight submarines.

Of the battleships, three-the Arizona, New Mexico, and Tennessee -are being built in the New York navy yard; the California is under construction in the Mare Island navy yard, the Pennsylvania and Mississippi are being built by the Newport News Ship Building company, and the Idaho is being turned out in the yards of the New York Ship Building company.

Of the thirteen destroyers under construction, seven have been named. They are the Wainwright, Sampson. Rowan. Davis, Allen, Wulkes, and Shaw

The fuel ships, which are being built at the Mare Island navy yard, are the Maumee and the Cuyama. The Bridge, a supply ship, is being built in the Boston navy yard, and the Henderson, a transport, is under construction in the Philadelphia navy yard

The thirty-eight submarines being built are all known by letters and numerals, with the exception of one, which has been named the Schley. The submarines are all being constructed in private plants. with the exception of two which, following the forfeiture of contracts, are being completed in the New York navy yard.

UNCLE SAM ENTERS INTO FUR BUSINESS

GROSS RECE: PTS ARE NOT LARGE, BUT NET PROFITS IN NEW VENTURE ARE BIG.

Uncle Sam has gone into the fur business. He says the gross revenue is not yet as large as that which he obtains from his better-known business-that of selling postage stamps -but that the net profits are a whole lot bigger and, just as a side line, it's not bad at all.

Uncle Sam was forced to go into the fur business because his official hunters were turning in so many skins of predatory wild animals that they threatened to clutter up all the tific purposes.

In four months 1,399 pelts useful for manufacture into fers, muffs, or rugs. were sold in four sales for $2,552, the last sale yielding $1,155.55.

opossum, lynx, gray fox, kit fox, rac-All of these animals have been killed by employees of the biological survey in its various campaigns to rid different sections of the country of animals which are hurtful to live stock, cultivated crops or timber. As each of the official hunters is trained carefully in handling and preserving the skins of animals, the pelts reach the department in excellent shape.

The bulk of the skins sold has been coyote, or prairie wolf, pelts resulting from the very active campaigns of extermination against this animal in the cattle-raising districts of the West. Those in charge of the sales report that the coyote pelt is growing in popularity as a fur, and as a result the prices offered for these skins at the auctions have steadily been increasing.

The department reports that the needs of museums and other scientific institutions for specimens have largely been satisfied, so that practically all skins received at the department are now put on sale.

SEEKING OVERSEA MARKETS

Uncle Sam Sends Agents Into Four Corners of World to Make Investigation of Conditions.

Uncle Sam is beginning the most extensive investigations into foreign maket conditions ever undertaken at one time. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce is sending its agents to the four corners of the globe in an effort to find new markets for American-made goods. Special attention will be given to the newer and more undeveloped markets, such as those In South America, China, India, Africa and Australia. In South America these agents will study and report especially on markets for construction material and machinery, fancy groceries, furniture, glass and glassware, jewelry and silverware, motor vehicles, paper and printing supplies, railway supplies and stationery and office supplies. In the Far East, Africa and Australia attention will be given particularly to the markets for boots and shoes, electrical goods, motor vehicles and railway supplies. The work of these agents abroad is expected to open up many new markets for American goods,

North Carolina Gold Output. Uncle Sam reports that North Carolina easily retained first rank in gold output among the Eastern or Appalachian states in 1915. The total production of gold in 1915 amounted to 8,320.55 fine ounces, again 6,343,94 ounces in 1914. In 1915 the value of the North Carolina gold yield was slightly more than half of the total of the Eastern states.

Chance for American Goods. New Zealand offers a splendid market now for American bathing suits and footwear, says Uncle Sam. It is difficult to secure sufficient supplies mand.

ALASKAN M:NERAL OUTPUT INCREASES

PRODUCTION IN 1915 SHOWS BIG GAIN OVER THAT OF PRE-VIOUS YEAR.

The wealth of Uncle Sam's territory of Alaska is shown by its mineral production in 1915, which amounted to $32,854,229-$13,788,563 more than the value in 1914, and far more than that of any previous annual output during the 36 years that mining has been carried on in the territory. The collection of mineral statistics of Alaska for 1915, just completed by Alfred H. NOW LEADS IN SHIPBUILDING

United States, for First Time in Many Years, Takes First Place Away From British Yards.

The United States has become, tem porarily at least, the leading shipbuilding country of the world, Uncle Sam reports. During the first three months of 1916 American shipyards, for the first time in many years, took a slight lead over British yards. For the three months ended March 31 American yards launched 173 merchant vessels of 94,464 gross tons. while, according to Lloyd's shipbuilding returns, British yards launched 69 vessels of 80,561 gross tons. Merchant ships now building or under contract in American yards are approximating the British output for the future. In American yards 31 vessels between 8,000 and 12,000 gross tons are under contract, in British yards 26; in American yards 77 between 5,000 and 8,000 gross tons, in British yards 68: in American yards 39 between 3,000 and 5,000 gross tons, in British yards 74; in American yards 44 between 1,000 and 3,000 gross tons, in British yards 62.

COTTON MILLS "HOMEMADE"

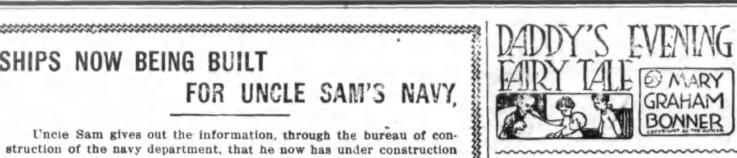

More Than 90 Per Cent of Textile Machines in American Plants Manufactured in This Country.

Practically all of the equipment of the cotton mills of the United States is "homemade," says Uncle Sam. More than 90 per cent of the cotton spinning machinery now installed in American plants is of American manufacture. There was a time when American mills were almost wholly dependent upon foreign manufacturers for machinery but these conditions have changed in recent years.

The rapid decrease in imports of cotton-spinning machinery since 1909 shows what great changes have been taking place in this industry. The number of cotton-textile machines imported at New York, Boston and Philadelphia decreased from 1,132 in 1909 to 275 in 1914.

Birmingham Industries Grow. The manufacturing industries of Birmingham, Ala., experienced a great growth between 1909 and 1914, according to a report of the bureau of the census. The number of establishments engaged in manufacturing increased 41.5 per cent during that time, while the number of persons engaged in manufactures increased 25.3 per cent. The amount of capital employed in manufacturing increased from $23, 718,000 to $55,844,000, a gain of 135.4 per cent, while the primary horse power employed showed an increase of 113.7 per cent.

HOW THE SNOW WAS KIND.

"The fairies," said daddy, "were all around today doing so many kind things that no one knew about. You see it was such a cold day, such a bitterly cold day, and quite a change from the nice spring weather that there had been lately.

"The fairies thought first of all of the little birds who had come from their warm winter homes, and of the little animals who had awakened from their winter's sleep, and they set quickly to work.

"They went to different parts of the woods and some went to the parks in the cities, and whispered to the snow which was falling fast: "Now you know, old snow, that you can be very, very cold if you want to be. You know too that you can be really quite warm if you will only fall They Didn't Feel Cold at All. a shelter from Mr. North Wind. Mr. North Wind, we know, is never warm. He is always tearing around so much himself and blowing and raging so much that he just keeps warm himself and is too selfish to care about other folks. But we will tell you what to do, Mr. Snow. Here, in the woods, you fall around the trees. Don't cover up the holes and hollows where the rabbits can get shelter, but fall around the hollows and the rabbits can crawl in and get nice and warm. Then fall in just that way around the homes of the little squirrels, and the homes of the birds who have come too early, or of the little sparrows who have such a long winter trying to keep warm.

"In the cities watch the trees where the little birds go, and be very careful, oh, so careful, not to cover up the holes. Fall so you will make a tig strong fort where the little animals can creep inside."

"Now the snow decided it would do just what the fairies had said. It fell The trees were heavy with it, the ground was covered deep with it. Little boys and girls who had put away their sleds until next winter, brought them out and began sliding down the hills as fast as they could. "But the little birds and the little animals couldn't get warm sliding down hill. They couldn't get warm like the big ladies and the big men walking fast on the streets, they didn't even have rugs thrown over them like kind masters put over their horses on cold days. As soon as they felt Mr. North Wind and saw that it was beginning to snow, they trembled and shook all over. For they thought that they would feel the cold so much after the warm weather. "But to their great surprise, they didn't feel cold at all! They found all the little holes and hollows protected from the snow. At first they went inside always looking out to see that the snow didn't bury them

DIFFERENCE IN BOYS' WORK

Country Lad's Tasks Are Useful and Man-Building, While City You.h Is Unemployed.

It is very sad, of course, the letter the country boy wrote telling what he did after school.

The boy's account of his after-school work begins with gathering eggs and carrying in stove wood, runs along a list of labors that would exhaust two men and a team, and ends with "then I go to bed."

That country boy's after-school tasks consumed long and weary hours, but every stroke was clean, useful, man-building labor and more joyful than joyless, too.

Far more sorrowful would be the letter of a city boy narrating his doings between school and bed. With too many boys a truthful letter would be a record of misemployed hours filled with mischiefs and meanness, without one stroke o' useful, bodybuilding and character-developing work or exercise.—Buffalo Enquirer.

OLD-FASHIONED DISHES.

With all the new and fancy dishes that are daily being originated and which we enjoy, there are none, no matter how tasty that quite take the place of the things we knew and liked in child-Sally Lunn.-Separate the yolks from the whites of two eggs, beat the yelks, add a tablespoonful of sugar, a tablespoonful of shortening, a cupful of milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, and one and a half cupfuls of flour, sifted, with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, beat again and fold in the wellbeaten whites of the eggs and bake in three piepans. The mixture should in each. As soon as they are baked, butter and pile them one on top of the other and send to the table piping

Popovers.-Beat two eggs without separating, add a cupful of milk, and then add this slowly to a cupful of four mixed with a teaspoonful of salt. Grease very hot gem pans and bake 40 minutes in a hot oven.

Corn Bread.-Beat two eggs very light, add a tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, a cupful of flour, sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a cupful and a half of sour milk, two tablespoonfuls of softened butter and a half teaspoonful of soda dissolved in the milk. Bake in a well greased dripping pan.

Dumplings,-Take a cupful of milk, add one egg, a little salt and flour, enough to make a stiff mixture; adding two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Drop from a spoon and cook eight minutes without removing the cover. If a teaspoon is used for dropping, eight minutes is sufficient time for cooking.

Raisin Ple.-Grate the rind and chop the pulp of a lemon, add a cupful of raisins, a pinch of salt, a half cupful of molasses, a tablespoonful of butter. Boll together one cupful of sugar (brown) a half cupful of flour and two cupfuls of water five minutes; add the other ingredients and bake in two crusts.

RAISE TURKEYS WITH PROFIT

Many a Poor Little Poult Never Comes to Be Beautiful Bird Because of Wrong Start.

Turkey hens raise much better poults than chicken hens, for the reaorder. If not, do so, for the sake of son that they never wean them, but the comfort of your family. If the hover them at night and watch over things have real value shut them them days until they are nearly away for a time at least and they grown. Many a poor little poult never will be all the more appreciated when comes to be a "beautiful Thanksgiving bird" because he has not the right start in life. He does not require we fail him. We want him to grow, only a small quantity at a time. We can use good sense if we will. A raw More than that, it is easily digested, and, like insects, it is a meat food, therefore a good substitute. Wheat bran is a bulky and bone-making food to turkeys and chicks also, and is a protein food. The three can be combined in a mash, made rather dry, never sloppy, and make an excellent starter for the little poults. This alone is their food for three weeks, fed in small quantities on a clean board. For the first three days they are better shut in the coop with the mother, but after that they should romp at will in the dry grass. Grain is given only a little at first, and gradually increased until it forms one whole feeding, preferably at night, and after they are large enough to wander over a wide range one feeding is sufficient each day. Wheat and cracked corn are perhaps the best grains.

ANIMAL FOOD FOR CHICKENS

Sour Milk Exerts Beneficial Influence on Digestion of Young Fowls, Account Its Acid.

The best animal food for chicks is sour milk. On account of the acid it contains sour milk exerts a beneficial influence on the digestion of the chick. Sour milk can safely be kept before the chicks all the time. Milk should always be supplied in fountains that will not permit the chick to get not be more than half an inch thick its down wet. A chick stuck up with milk is a sorry sight. Vessels in which milk is supplied should be scalded and aired daily.

Some poultrymen still practice and advocate the feeding of eggs tested out of incubators to baby chicks. A hard-boiled egg, when of known quaifor the chick's tender organs, but when eggs are fed that come from an incubator that has subjected them to a temperature of 103 degrees for a week, one is courting danger. Not all eggs that are tested out of incubators are infertile.

If you feed tested-out eggs to baby chicks be quite certain that they are infertile. Eggs containing blood spots or red streaks should be discarded, as they were fertile and the germs are in a state of decomposition. The infertile egg, when held before a strong light, is perfectly clear.

FEEDING CHICKS SOUR MILK

Dangers of White Diarrhea and Other Diseases Can Be Greatly Reduced by Its Use,

By feeding sour milk to chicks, the dangers of white diarrhea and other chick diseases can be greatly reduced. The feeding of sour milk has a beneficial influence for the growth of chicks and in lessening mortality from all caunes.

The milk should be fed in percelainlined pans and should be kept before the chicks at all times.

BUSINESS ON SUNDAY CLOSING. Heads of the big industrial concerns of Chicago see a very direct relation between the enforcement of the Sunday-closing law and the physical and mental condition of their employees on Mondays, and naturally they are not inclined to agree with the liquorites' caustic criticism of the puritanical, undemocratic law and its enforcement. The men who manage the great industries tell us that Sunday drinking has meant lessened efficiency, decreased mental and moral stamina, depreciated physical vigor and the wasting of money and consequent worry over financial conditions. "Our workmen now come to the plants on Monday morning with clear heads and rested bodies," said a foreman of Armour and Co., the big packing house. "It was the complaint of closed that many of the men either reported with 'hangovers' that reduced their efficiency 50 per cent during the day., and affected it for several days thereafter. Now the men steady muscles, rested bodies and minds, fit for their tasks." "Our workmen were all on hand last Monday for the first time in years," said one of the foremen of the Illinois Steel company, the week after the Sunday-closing law was enforced. When we asked them what caused the change they said they had nothing to do Sunday but rest for Monday. Besides, most of them had enough of their wages left not to need to ask for advances before the next week ended." "The closing of the saloons is a boon to industry," said one of the department managers of the International Harvester works. "When the employees have had time to note its effect, they will give it their heartiest

The direct effect on the building trades is that about 25 per cent more workmen were on hand last Monday than at any time during the period I have been handling large numbers of orkmen," said a member of the Con tractors' Association of Painters and Decorators.

PROSPEROUS WITHOUT LIQUOR.

Butler, Mo., is another fown which is demonstrating that prosperity follows prohibition. It is today, says the Kansas City Star, "a better, richer and more prosperous town than ever. The merchants carry better stocks, the business houses are neater, cleaner and better; the people live in better and more attractive homes and enjoy life in more rational and healthful ways. There are fewer idle people and merchants have fewer bad debts. "When the saloons were voted out Butler had a bonded debt of something like $20,000 on its electric light plant, and notwithstanding the 'revenue' from its four saloons, it was a hard matter to meet interest payments, and the liquidation of the principal seemed a long way off. Since the closing of the saloons the debt has been paid and many needed public improvements have been made, and all without increasing the tax rate one penny. In fact the tax rate is now lower than ever before." MONEY GOES FOR GROCERIES.

An interesting bit of testimony comes from the section of Minnesota which recently became dry through what might be called an automatic application of prohibition to a region where no election was held to settle the question, namely, the enforcement of an old Indian treaty. Because of this action there is not now an open saloon in Itasca county, and as a result a marvelous reformation has taken place. One year ago seventynine tons of beer were shipped in. This year there was no beer, but the books show that seventy-nine tons more of groceries were consumed at this point than during the corresponding month of last year. The Minneapolis Journal says that the records of the mining companies, which emity, makes a rather indigestible food ploy the large population of foreigners, show fewer layoffs among the men than ever before and the stores report larger and more profitable business from these employees,

A TALE OF TURKEY.

Queer Things That Happened In the Name of the Constitution,

The ignorance of the Turkish masses concerning political questions, says Sir Edwin Pears in "Forty Years In Constantinople," is shown by certain incidents of the revolution of 1908. The hamals, or porters, in the towns, like the peasants in the country, when they heard that his majesty had sworn to be faithful to the constitution, inquired what it was. Was it a person? Was it a new caliph? 'And very few could give any clear explanation. The words "liberty" and "equality" meant something good, although they could not have said what. To some they signified general license.

Two English friends of mine were motoring outside Smyrna when a number of Turkish boys set upon them and flung stones at them. The Englishmen gave chase and caught the principal offenders. The eldest was asked why he had thrown stones.

"Hurriet var," was the reply. There's liberty. We can do what we like now."

The Englishman replied, "Hurriet var, and I am at liberty to give you a good thrashing, am I not?"

One of the boys said yes, he supposed that would be so, but he hoped the liberty would not be used. The Englishman replied that it would not be used that time, but if the offense were repeated he would use it to the fullest

The workmen on a newspaper during that time asked for a large increase of wages.

"But why?" asked the owner.

"Because there is a constitution." # The tramway men struck for higher wages, and the only justification that they put forward was that there was now a constitution. Yet men of all classes cheered in the lustiest manner for the constitution. Throughout the month of August smuggled tobacco was openly sold in the streets at a very cheap rate, buyers and sellers alike considering that the constitution allowed men to set aside the law that had made the sale of tobacco a government monopoly.

HOSPITALITY IN SYRIA.

A Custom That May Have a Bearing on a Passage In Scripture.

Approaching his hoped for guest, a Syrian engages him in something like the following dialogue, characterized by a glow of feeling which the translation can only faintly reveal:

"Ennoble us by your presence." "I would be ennobled, but I cannot accept." "That cannot be."

"Yea, yea, it must be."

"No. I swear against you by our friendship and by the life of God. I love just to acquaint you with my bread and salt."

"I swear also that I find it impossible to accept. Your bread and salt are tors at Pau. known to all."

"Yea, do it just for our own good. By coming to us you come to your own Let us repay your bounty to

"Astaghfero Allah (by the mercy of God) I have not bestowed any bounty upon you worth mentioning."

Here the host seizes his guest by the arm and with an emphatic, "I will not let you go," pulls at him and would drag him bodily into his house. Then the guest, happy in being vanquished "with honor," consents to the invita-

Lieutenant Thaw Wounded After Thrilling Fight With German.

ALLIES PRAISE AMERICANS.

Gain Further Distinction as Result of a Hot Battle-Thaw Likely to Go or Legion of Honor-Corporal Rockwell Also In Conflict, and His Exploit Attracts Attention.

Paris.-In one of the sharpest aerial battles yet fought the American squadron gained further distinction.

Lieutenant Thaw and Corporal Kiffin Rockwell flew out at 5 o'clock in the morning recently and saw a Fokker and an Aviatik close by. Lieutenant Thaw dived for the Fokker, and Corporal Rockwell followed. The Aviatik dived for Lieutenant Thaw, but, catching sight of Corporal Rockwell's machine, turned and hurried to safety. Lieutenant Thaw when fifteen yards from the Fokker fired. The German machine fell at almost the first shot.

At 8:30 on the same morning the whole American squadron went out over the German lines, its work being mainly preventive, to stop Germans from flying over to make observations Bride Hopes to Gain Pardon For of the French lines. The squadron soon found itself in the midst of a group of German aeroplanes and a general battle followed. Eight distinct duels were registered during the next two hours. Corporal Chapman engaged two Aviatiks and put them to flight. An explosive bullet hit his machine, and another grazed his arm, not wounding him. He has been proposed for men tion in the order of the army.

Lieutenant Cowdin had two fights, one resulting in the downing of a second aeropiane. He has been proposed for promotion to a second lieutenancy. Bert Hall was actively engaged in the melee and has been proposed for the military medal. The squadron's French captain and lieutenant were also hotly engaged. The fight was remarkable in that it happened for the most part at no great height-between 1,000 and 2,000 meters. Norman Prince had the bad luck to smash his machine in starting and was unable to take part in the battle.

Private Lufbury has arrived at the front to join the squadron, and Private Pavelka is under orders to join it. Fred Prince, Willis Haviland of Chicago and Robert Rockwell of Cincinnati have received brevets and have gone to finish their schooling as avia-

Son Who Cared For Father Since He Passed Century Mark Falls Victim to Measles.

Balaton, Minn.-William has the measles. He's sixty and has been taking care of papa since the latter passed the hundred year mark, but now papa is taking care of William.

William is the son of John Shequin. who soon will be 108 years old. Mr. Shequin, Sr., has been ailing a little lately, but under the care of his wife and William he is able to be up and about again.

Father and Mother Shequin celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary three years ago. Mr. Shequin, Sr., was born in Franklin, Vt., and was seven years old when the war of 1812 ended. He couldn't enlist in the civil war because he was too old. His wife was Louise Bigford of Standbridge, Canada. She is nearly ninety-eight years old. The Shequins moved here from Freeborn county, Minn., in 1873.

William, being only sixty, is expected to recover from the measles.

WEDS CONVICT; NOW WORKS TO FREE HIM

Her Husband, a "Lifer"-First Occurrence In Oklahoma.

McAlester, Okla. - "Love laughs at prison bars" is an old saying that was given practical demonstration at the Oklahoma state penitentiary. Etta Martin, a pretty young Spanish girl from St. Louis, became the bride of John Cieloha, Bohemian, who is serving a life sentence for murder.

It is the first sentence on record where a life term convict was permitted to marry and the third case of marriage in which an Oklahoma prisoner appeared as principal.

The first case was that of a trusty, who married before marriage license clerk or officiating minister knew of his record. In the other case the ceremony took place in the warden's office, but the bridegroom held a parole in one hand.

The young bride of John Cieloha expects to bring about the release of her husband through pardon or parole.

"If he hadn't escaped from the penitentiary he would have stood a much better chance," suggested a newspaper man in talking with the newlyweds shortly after their marriage.

"But if he hadn't escaped I wouldn't have found him," was the quick reply of the young wife.

The persistence with which she pursued her demand for marriage with a convict leads one to believe that she'll keep her word as to freeing him.

Cieloha was charged with being acing, wondering whether he was within cessory to the murder of David Conthe German lines until he was relieved way, an aged bridge keeper on the by seeing two French soldiers come Midland Valley railroad, near Muskorunning up. THE DRAGON FLY.

Don't be afraid of this wicked looking insect, no matter how many flerce and wild stories you have heard told about him. He isn't half so wicked as he looks. And, as for his voracious habits, the only things he eats are mos quitoes and flies and gnats, not to mention many other pests you would like the world rid of. He's called properly the dragon fly.

Maybe you know him better as the devil's darning needle. Perhaps you've been told when you were a bad boy or girl that he would get in your hair and sew your ears shut, or maybe you've been calling him snake feeder. He gets this name probably because the female dragon fly when she lays her eggs glides down on top of the stream or lake and drops them in the water, as if she were feeding water snakes.

These eggs stick fast to water plants until the larvae hatch, crawl out of the water, split up the back, and, behold-other dragon flies!

It will take more time and patience than the amateur bug collector possesses to get acquainted with the whole dragon fly family. There are something like 2,200 specimens, so authorities tell us, and 300 of these fly around in North America.

What the hawks and eagles are to birds the dragon flies are to mosquitoes and flies. Imprison a dragon fly in a room and the flies and mosquitoes will disappear. So, you see, he isn't such a bad bug after all.

Semi-Annual Clearance Sale at the

Bush & Dean Store

Monday, July 17 to July 29.

The policy of this store has been just two sales each year to close out our summer and winter merchandise.

We do not buy special goods at low prices to use during these sale times but just take our regular high grade merchandise of the same quality that we have always carried and make liberal reductions in the price.

This year the price of goods has advanced so much in many lines that we ought to make no reductions, but in order to not disappoint our many customers that wait for our sales, we shall make the same liberal reductions that we have made in former years. Liberal discounts will be given on every purchase amounting to fifty cents and over.

Sale starts Monday, July 17, and continues for two weeks. No special prices for certain days but sales price for every day. Prices during this sale are for cash only.

Crop Notes for New York.

The government's mid-year crop forecasts show that New York will have unusually short crops in all the cereals, most of which will be high in price because of war demands. For example, the promised production of corn is 12,600,000 bushels against a final production last year or more than 24,000,000 bushels; wheat promises about 7½ million year. Barley promises 1,850,000 bushels as compared with 2,720,000 last year. The forecast for rye is almost equal to the production of last year, when the final estimate was 2,800,000.

In the tobacco crop, 32 million pounds is contrasted with 51 million

Potatoes, hay and pasture are somewhat better this year. In potatoes, the forecast of nearly 26 million bushels is more than the final estimate of 22 million bushels last year. Because of rains, hay and pasture are much better than the previous eight and ten year averages

The Fight Against Infantile Paralysis

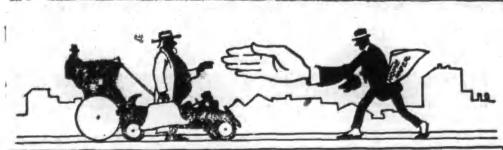

The Following Bulletin Was Issued Today by Commissioner Biggs of the State Department of Health:

INCREASING dread on the part of the public regarding the epidemic of INFANTILE PARALYSIS now prevailing in New York City and especially in the Borough of Brooklyn is largely due to the character of the disease, the apparent mystery which surrounds its method of spread and the wide publicity which, as a measure of protection to the general public, health officials throughout the country have deemed essential to utilize in the campaign against it.

A disease which kills 20 per cent or more of the persons attacked, which leaves 75 per cent more or less crippled for life, which may do its deadly work in TWENTY-FOUR HOURS from the onset of symptoms and against which previous robust health seems not the slightest protection, can only be regarded with extreme gravity, and yet, when the epidemic has run its course or has been checked, it will be found that the tell of life and permanent damage to the physical condition of patients will be far less than that which was caused during the past winter by the epidemic of grippe and pneumonia and which is being caused by the ever present scourge of tuberculosis. The degree of INFECTIOUSNESS of infantile paralysis is very much less than from many other communicable diseases, such as measles, smallpox, diphtheria and scarlet fever. or rather many more individuals are IMMUNE to it than to the latter diseases. The occurrence of more than one case in a household is the exception rather than the rule, and cases cared for in hospitals practically never infect other inmates or attendants. On the other hand, it seems to be indisputable that many persons can carry the disease germs, especially in the nose and throat, for weeks and even months and thus start up new centers of infection.

New York State, outside of the city, is now suffering from an influx of children in the incubation stage of the disease, in the acute stages or recovering from it. This unfortunate fact is DUE TO IGNORANCE on the part of mothers, to willful breaking of quarantine in New York City and sometimes, it is to be feared, with the connivance of physicians. Health officers and other physicians throughout the state have been given very DEFINITE INSTRUCTIONS regarding the protection of their communities from individuals, especially children, coming from infected districts. The railroads are co-operating in every way possible with the Department of Health. A record is being kept of every case reported in the state outside of the city and the source of infection traced if possible.

It is to be hoped that communities will use every reasonable precaution to protect themselves through their local health departments, but that they will be guided by COMMON SENSE and inflict as little hardship on arrivals as possible. On the other hand, such persons must be willing, even at the expense of considerable inconvenience and annoyance, to place themselves absolutely under control of the local authorities. The present is not the time for hysteria or panic on the part of the public, but for the exercise of calm judgment and ABSOLUTE OBEDIENCE to the rules which health authorities have seen fit to impose for the protection of the public health. The fact that in no previous epidemic of infantile paralysis of which there is record has there ever been put in motion such a vast and efficient machinery for control of the disease makes it very probable that before long there will be concrete evidence of the value of this work and a RAPID SUBSIDENCE of the number of cases. The fact that the minds of the most eminent sanitarians and research workers are directed toward measures of prevention justifies the hope of finding a specific means of prevention in the near future.

Making the Little Farm Pay

By C. C. BOWSFIELD

Many farmers are throwing away profits by mismanagement of their corn crop. This most adaptable of grains should pay far better than it does, Crop statistics as regards the national output may have a big sound, but in thousands of individual cases the acreage profits are next to nothing.

Small corn crops are due to several plain defects in methods of cultivation and management. Poor seed and neglect of rotation are the more flagrant faults. Coupled with these are mistakes in preparing land and cultivatvig the soil after planting.

The time is past when progressive men will be satisfied with thirty bushels of corn per acre. They should aim at 100 bushels and count anything less than sixty bushels a failure. A corn crop is hardly worth while unless it has a market value of $40 an acre. Owners of small places are compelled by their limited areas to adopt methods which will give them fair returns. There have been many good records made in corn growing by boys and girls in their educational contests and by expert farmers who aim to produce seed grain of a quality that will command high prices. A farmer who was arranging to plant a forty acre field set apart one acre for his son on which to grow a competitive crop. The boy prepared the acre, planted high grade seed and cultivated the corn according to directions from his instructor and other reliable sources. The yield was 115 bushels. The father, using his old

There is not a doubt but that the entire forty acre tract, if it had been Would it have paid the father to go to parts of the city and to all extensions the extra trouble and some added ex of plant and service, as well as to the pense to follow his son's plan? Most assuredly. These boys' contests have farmer has little or no control, it is possible to greatly increase the crop. The leading requirements are good and well prepared soil, high grade seed, the character and amount of service proper time and manner of planting and clean cultivation. No one of these requirements can be neglected.

Keep the ground rich and full of regetable matter. The land should bear clover or field peas at regular periods. Other crops in the rotation may be planned according to the farmer's needs. Wheat, rye, clover, vetch and the various root crops work well in a rotation scheme. One year in three is often enough to use land for corn, and one year in four is better still.

H. J. Stelford of Illinois as an experiment planted a small quantity of corn which he had bought in open market side by side with some of his prize winning grain. The latter included corn of the highest quality carefully selected and properly cared for. The season being generally unfavorable to ject to public control and should be corn, the crop produced from seed of unknown merit amounted to about twenty-five bushels per acre, while that grown from his choice, thoroughly tested ears yielded seventy-five to a hundred bushels. This field presented a strange contrast while the crop was space. As science puts it, a liquid growing and even after its maturity. In one case the stocks were deficient and the ears nothing but nubbins. The grain produced from the right kind of seed was far above the average. As a result of the educational campaign for better corn crops a good dea: of ground limestone has been used by northern farmers. In many cases also they are applying potash and phosphorus to depleted soil, but it is given as a notable fact that scores of them have won success by crop rotation and thorough cultivation. Barnyard manura that has not had a chance to dry out and lose its chemical properties by evaporation or leaching provides practically all the fertilizer needed, but when the supply of this is deficient it is necessary to use commercial fertilizer where soil fertility is lost. The right course of action in cases of decussion than can be given in this article | tract it.

PUBLIC UTILITY POLICY.

Conclusions Adopted by the National Municipal League.

At a recent meeting of the committee on municipal program of the National Municipal league the following conclusions were adopted and ordered to be included in appropriate sections for of the Holy Spirit. If athletes train insertion in the league's model city charter:

The public utility and franchise policy embodied in a model city charter should be so formulated as to conserve and further the following purposes: First.-To secure to the people of the ity the best public utility service that s practicable. Second .- To secure and preserve to the city as a municipal corporation the fullest possible control of the streets and of their special uses.

Third .- To remove as far as practicable the obstacles in the way of the extension of the practice of municipal ownership and operation of public utilitles and to render practicable the success of such ownership and operation when undertaken.

Fourth.-To secure for the people of the city public utility rates as low as practicable consistent with the realization of the three purposes above set forth.

It should be no part of such policy to secure compensation for franchises or special revenues for general city, purposes by an indirect tax upon the consumers of public utility services.

In formulating a policy to carry out the four purposes above stated as desirable the following principles should be recognized: First.-Each utility serving an urban community should be treated as far as methods, secured only sixty bushels to practicable as a monopoly with the the acre on the remainder of the field. obligations of a monopoly, and its operation within the city should be based as far as practicable upon a single cared for as the boy's acre was, would comprehensive ordinance or franchise have produced the high average, grant uniform in its application to all

Third.-The control of the location and character of public utility fixtures, rendered and the rates charged therefor should be reserved to the city, subject to reasonable review by the courts or a state utilities commission where one exists.

Fourth.-The granting and enforcement of franchises and the regulation of utilities operating thereunder should be subject to adequate public scrutiny and discussion and should receive full consideration by an expert bureau of the city government established and maintained for that purpose or, in case the maintenance of such a bureau is impracticable, by an officer or committee designated for the purpose. Fifth. Private investments in public utilities should be treated as investments in aid of public credit and subsafeguarded in every possible way. and the rate of return allowed thereon should be reduced to the minimum re turn necessary in the case of safe investments with a fixed and substantially assured fair earning power.

Empty tin cans, bottles and jars thrown into heaps in back yards or on vacant lots catch rainwater. Mosquitoes lay their eggs in stagnant water. and the water in an old tin can is just as good an incubator for mosquitoes as as is that of a pond or a puddle. Mosquitoes carry the germs of malaria. Not all mosquitoes are malaria mosquitoes, of course, but any mosquito may be. If the empty can or discarded jar incubators are eliminated the mosquitoes will have fewer breeding places; consequently there will be fewer mosquitoes. Neighborhoods where there are no ponds, puddles or stagnant streams and no piles of cans partly filled with rainwater will have no mosquitoes, because the insects fly only a limited distance from their breeding pleted fertility is given in these col places. TEXT-Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together.-Heb. 10:25.

I. The ideal prayer meeting never happens. If it is a good meeting, somebody has put prayer thought and work into it. The laws of grace are as rigid, and as reliable, too, as the laws of nature. "Heaven may be had for the asking," says the poet, but the ideal prayer meeting cannot. It is as true here as elsewhere that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he and

Hence the leader should prepare carefully. The hymns can be selected; one person can be asked to pray for the sick, another for the absent and so on. Attention to details helps immensely. But especially should the leader wait upon God in prayer until his heart burns with love, and his soul is sensitive to the faintest whisper for a boat race or a ball game, simply to secure the applause of people, surely the Christian can afford to train for a spiritual conflict where all the forces of heaven and hell are arrayed against each other, where eternal destinies are at stake, and where every part of the service is watched with keenest sclicitude by "so great a cloud of wit-

Not only the leader, but all the mem bers should prepare. Let them read, think and pray over the subject. Let them deny themselves daily, for a godly life is the best preparation for an ideal meeting. Let them gather up spiritual strength all the week and concentrate it upon this service, making it the supreme hour of the week,

When heaven comes down our souls to And glory crowns the mercy-seat,

II. The ideal prayer meeting has an object as well as a subject—a definite object, never to be forgotten by the leader or the workers.

What is that subject? It is not simply to have an interesting meeting. A service may be interesting, and yet be so devoid of spirituality as to suggest only, "sounding brass and tinkling cymbals." The real object is to awaken spiritual emotion, to bring the soul face to face with God, to kindle fires of devotion until the altar is all ablaze with the sacrifice of willing hearts, and there comes over the audience that indescribable thrill and holy of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New hush which betokens the presence of York World. God, and which makes every heart ready to say, "O God, thy will be done." This is the true object of a prayer meeting-to bring every soul to the point where it is willing to do its duty, so that decisions may be made and results may be secured, right then and there. At the close of a meeting where the theme was temperance the tide of feeling rose so high that 64 young men and women signed a totalabstinence pledge and thereby completely revolutionized the temperance sentiment of that church.

Whatever the subject of the meeting, never lose sight of the object. Feeling which does not lead to action is of questionable value.

III. The ideal meeting is cheerful, social and hearty. Have a bright carpet on the floor, appropriate pictures on the wall, flowers on the table, and the room seated with chairs. Make it look as little like a church, and as much like a home as possible. Lay off hats, wraps and overshoes.

Have a "smile-'em-up committee" at the door to welcome strangers and to distribute the audience widely-the small boys apart from each other, the workers near the unconverted, and the timid ones near the more spiritual. Into this "rest for the weary" come with your thanksgiving and rejoicing. Make the welkin ring with song. Let the most spiritual members lead in prayer until a strong devotional atmosphere has been created, which willmake it easy for anyone to confess

Christ. Be cheerful! Paul had his discouragements, but he kept them to himself. Cultivate the habit of handshaking, and do not wait for an introduction. In short, strive to be

One of the spirit chosen by heaven to The sunnyside of things to human eyes.

IV. The ideal meeting is one in which all take part. There are some things that lie within the reach of all, You can fill up the front seats, and thus support the leader. You can speak early in the meeting, and one sentence then is worth a dozen later ture, and if it is selected with care Is an Introduction In Itself and Makes it for a purpose, and expect results.

BABIES AND HOT WEATHER

ALBANY, July 13.—The following bulletin was issued today by the New York State Department of Health:

During the hot summer months all babies require careful watching, especially in regard to their feeding. RAILROAD WAGES

Shall they be determined by Industrial Warfare or Federal Inquiry?

To the American Public:

Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

The train employes on all the railroads are voting whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a 100 million dollar wage increase.

The railroads are in the public serviceyour service. This army of employes is in the public service-your service.

You pay for rail transportation 3 billion dollars a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employes.

On all the Eastern Railroads in 1915, seventy-five per cent of the train employes earned these wages (lowest, highest, and average of all) as shown by the payrolls-

	Pass	enger	Fr	eight	Yard

Conductors					. 1724	1404	1238
Firemen .					. 1033	903	844
Brakemen .					. 1018	858	990

A 100 million dollar wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employes) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been retused by the employes' representatives.

Shall a nation-wide strike or an investigation under the Government determine this issue?
