Free Seeds for Farmers.

The United States Department of Agriculture through its Bureau of Plant Industry announces that there are available for distribution to farmers of the 36th Congressional District, 40 four-pound packages of Grimm alfalfa seed, 120 four-pound packages of an improved variety of field pea and 100 two-pound packages of an improved variety of soybean. The Department is desirous of making suitable arrangements with such farmers as would be interested in planting the seed for a field test, and advises that each package contains a sufficient quantity of seed for this test, and that the size of the package has been determined as the results of the previous experience of the Department.

If any of the farmers of the District are interested in planting in the spring of 1917, any of this seed as offered, would suggest that they communicate with N. J. Gould, M. C., for the 36th District, Room 120, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

DO YOU DREAD WINTER?

If every man, woman and child in this vicinity would only take one spoonful of after meals for one month, it would put vigor in their blood to withstand the rigors of winter weather and help prevent colds, grippe and winter sickness.

SCOTT'S is a fortifying medicinal-food of particular benefit in changing seasons, and every drop yields direct returns in richer blood, stronger lungs, and greater resistive power. No alcohol in SCOTT'S.

Every phase of home gardening, including the planting and care of the home grounds, will be discussed by persons familiar with the problems upon which they speak.

The Sin of Gluttony.

Dog fanciers have long noted that when a house-dog begins to get fat and wheezy, it is pretty apt to be attacked by a stubborn skin disease. In such a case they cut down the diet and increase the open air exercise, thus relieving the over-burdened body of poisonous substances.

The sin of gluttony is common and therefore much condoned, but like every other violation of Nature's laws has a penalty. Fat inefficiency, sluggish mentality, the reddened nose, the pimply face, certain of the chronic skin eruptions, and much fatigue and nervousness are due to the abuse of the digestive apparatus. Rich, indigestible foods in large quantities, highly seasoned to stimulate the jaded palate, are forced into a body already rebellious from repletion. Exercise is largely limited to walking to and from the table and bodily deterioration proceeds rapidly. Many an overfed dyspeptic, suddenly dragged by the stern hands of circumstance from a life of physical ease and plenty and forced to work out of doors suddenly discovers that his semi-invalidism has gone, that a chronic skin derangement of many years standing has disappeared and that a new vigor and zest of life has been given him.

Not everyone can spend his whole time in the open air but a certain amount of exercise and plain wholesome food in an amount not exceeding the body's needs can be had by almost everyone. Simple moderate diet and exercise make for health. These are not faddish food theories; they are just plain common sense.

Death of Mrs. J. W. Davis.

Nora Starner, wife of John W. Davis, died at her home at East Genoa, Friday night, Jan. 5, after a long illness. She was a daughter of the late Levi and Lois Snyder Starner of Genoa, and was born in Pennsylvania on Feb. 9, 1851. She spent nearly her entire life in the town of Genoa. For a number of years she had been an invalid and suffered greatly, but bore her suffering with great patience.

Surviving are the husband and one son, J. W. Davis, three brothers and two sisters—William and Frank Starner of Genoa, Nelson Starner of Auburn, Mrs. Geo. Mack of Ithaca, and Mrs. Ella Taylor of Miami, Fla.

Funeral services were held at the M. E. church at East Genoa Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. J. Allington, the pastor, officiated. Burial was made in Genoa cemetery.

Climbing the Ladder.

"Take a good look at this ladder, my boy."

"What for?"

"And then remember that if it were possible to get to the top at a single bound there would be no need for the bottom rungs."—Detroit Free Press.

PLEADS FOR BLIND

Calls Upon American Women to Help War Victims.

PLANS TO TEACH TRADES.

With Her Unceasing Zest For Good Deeds, Mrs. Whitney Makes a Special Plea to Help Alleviate Suffering in European Countries.

One of the latest steps taken by the sympathizers of the allies is an appeal issued by the B. F. B. (British, French, Belgian) Permanent Blind Relief fund, with headquarters in New York, over the names of Lady Arthur Paget of the fund's executive committee and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, one of the honorary secretaries, calling upon the women of America for aid. The appeal says in part:

"Unless you act these thousands of women will be condemned for the rest of their lives to an existence of hopeless drudgery and hardship.

"For humanity's sake help these European women. They are your sisters, even though you have never seen them.

"Six months' training will educate the blind men dependent on them in trades not requiring sight. Even your

MRS. HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY.

A single donation alone will go far toward enabling one of these sightless men to support himself and partly support his family for the rest of his life.

"These women stretch appealing hands to you from across the ocean. Make at least one of them permanently happy and her husband, father or son particularly useful by sending us a contribution.

"The sooner you act the sooner one brave, good, faithful woman will be rescued from an existence of despair and crushing slavery and the sooner the man who is tragically anxious to support her will be saved from a life of uselessness and hopelessness."

Mrs. Whitney is also a sculptor of rare achievement, and frequently her beautiful studio becomes the setting of some charity benefit. She lately voiced one of her own art axioms in these words:

"Beauty without intelligence is the beauty of an unlighted lamp. There must be brain to direct the expression of beauty."

Didn't Like Bachelors.
In antiquity citizens who remained bachelors all their lives were considered unpatriotic.

HOME LIGHTING

Brilliant Lamps Do Not Necessarily Give Good Light.

HARDSHIPS OF EYE STRAIN.

Try to illumine Your Room to Meet the Use You Put It To—Strive For a Replica of Sunlight From Overhead and Sidewise.

One American society consists of more than 1,000 members interested in lighting from various standpoints—engineering, economic, hygienic, aesthetic. These men recognize the importance of spreading knowledge about the use and misuse of light, because ignorance is apt to injure one of man's most precious possessions—good eyesight. And in order to preserve eyesight for the future it has brought together expert hints which may well be considered by the average man and woman.

Do not think that because a lamp looks glaring and brilliant it is giving good light. It may be merely giving you too much light in the wrong place. On the other hand, a well shaded table lamp may appear to be dim because it is well shaded and yet be giving first class light for working. See that your light is steady. If the light flickers, your eyes endeavor to adjust themselves to the wavering motion, with the result that the flickering light keeps the eye seesawing, and the muscles that govern the eye get tired, reacting on the nerves and causing discomfort as well as pain.

Beware of reflections that come from polished glass, metal, bright, varnished surfaces or even from glossy white paper on which a too powerful light is shining. From time immemorial man kind has received light mostly from the sky and has become accustomed to it. For this reason it is best to have artificial light come from above the head and somewhat sidewise, as it does from the sun.

It is a mistake to use a bright light against a dark background, and, while an artistic fixture is well enough as a decoration, yet lamps which in themselves are good and suitable will not be satisfactory from a hygienic standpoint unless the fixtures are in the right position. In planning the illumination of a room it is only common sense to determine just what you are going to use that room for and then to arrange the lighting. By doing this it should be possible for people of middle age to add years of excellent eyesight which otherwise would soon diminish. Where children of various ages are in a family the matter of artificial light is of great importance. The general health of a growing boy or girl may be seriously affected by careless lighting especially in rooms where children read or study their lessons.

In recent years boards of health all over the country have become so much impressed with the importance of proper lighting, even natural sunlight, that laws are enforced strictly as to the placing of windows in public schools.

pale blue linen ruffled with a bias of a darker shade, the ruffles forming the skirt of a very dressy lady done in outline stitches. The bag closes with a linen cord and tassel.

Geisha Bags.

A pretty name for a pretty bag! These delightful little bags of brightly printed Japanese silks in all sorts of patterns and colors come made in simple shapes, with bright cords run through a loosely crocheted edge at the top. The color of the design is repeated in the lining. A prettier use for scraps of Japanese silks could not be found. If you want something particularly lovely buy one of the embroidered Japanese silk bags, or if you have remnants of an embroidered kimono or silk scarf turn that into a bag for your party accessories.

Salmon Loaf.

Drain the oil from a can of salmon, pick the fish into small pieces with a fork and discard all skin and bones. Add one-half cupful of soft bread-crumbs, the beaten yolks of four eggs, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper. Mix thoroughly, fold in the stiffly beaten whites, turn into a buttered mold, surround with hot water and bake until firm in the center. Unmold and serve with white or caper sauce.

ANNUAL SPECIAL SALE

Everything at a reduction

Throughout our entire store we have made liberal reductions for one week. Nothing has escaped being marked down during this special sale and advancing prices will not be taken into consideration. All silks, dress goods, muslin underwear, corsets, white goods, table linen, napkins, hosiery, gloves, notions, blankets, comfortables, etc., at a big reduction.

Suits at Half Price

All Suits are now being offered at half the regular selling price and there is a good assortment to select from.

Coats and Dresses

Coats and Dresses are being offered regardless of the former price. Sizes for Women, Misses and Children are in stock. This sale will continue until Saturday night, Jan. 13th.

NOW IS THE TIME

Conditions in the clothing trade are abnormal—prices of everything are steadily advancing and the merchant who has more than the usual amount of stock on hand is not worrying—for it is mighty good property.

To the man who has been waiting to buy a suit or overcoat at a reduced price, we would say for prices next season are going to be higher, neither will there be much price cutting this season, if any.

We consider ourselves fortunate in having a much larger stock of suits and overcoats than we usually have at this time and the prices are as reasonable as lots of the out-of-town sale prices, for we did not take advantage of this talk of higher prices and mark our clothing away up.

Death of Mrs. Emeline Alling.

The death of Emeline Woodford, widow of Mark Alling, occurred at her home in this village early Friday morning, Jan. 5, 1917, after a long period of ill health due to the encroachment of age. In her death, Genoa loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents—one more of the older generation which is fast passing away.

The deceased was a daughter of David and Phoebe Pierson Woodford and was born in Hector, N. Y., June 25, 1833. Later the family moved to Marcellus, and she was married to Mark Alling at that place on June 13, 1854. They made their home in Indiana for eleven years, but for the past forty years, the family have resided in or near this village. Of the five children born to Mr. and Mrs. Alling, all but one survive. A son, Omer, died in Genoa in young manhood. Mr. Alling died in 1890 in this village.

When a young girl, the deceased united with the Presbyterian church of Marcellus, and through her entire life she remained true to the Christian faith, always interested in the work of the church, and faithful in attendance upon its services as long as health permitted. A few years since, her health began to fail and she seldom left her home except to visit a daughter in Auburn. Since October, she has been gradually growing worse, and was confined to the bed several weeks. Through all her illness, she showed great patience and was appreciative of all that was done for her. Her mind remained clear to the last. Although of a quiet and unassuming nature, she possessed great strength of character and was one whose children can "call her blessed."

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Flora Alling of Genoa, and Mrs. W. W. Potter of Auburn; two sons, Milton Alling of McLean and Albert Alling of Auburn; and one brother, Henry Woodford of Auburn. There are also four grandchildren, Miss Anna Alling of McLean, Miss Beatrice Alling, Vernon Alling and Meredith Potter of Auburn.

The family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement. To the daughter, whose home has been with the mother so many years, the loss is especially severe, and she has the sincere sympathy of the community.

Funeral services were held at the family home on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. L. W. Scott, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. Miss Edith Hunter sang two selections—"Shadows" and "Breathe an Evening Blessing." A large number of very beautiful floral pieces and bouquets rested on and about the casket, expressing the loving sympathy of relatives and friends and the church and Sunday school of which the family have been members for so many years. A large wreath was given by the church and Sunday school, a wreath by the pastor and trustees, and a bouquet by the Philathea class. Burial was made in the family lot in East Venice cemetery. The bearers were the two sons, the son-in-law, W. W. Potter, and a grandson, Vernon Alling.

Among those who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tripp of Orchard Park, N. Y., Mrs. Sarah Potter, Mrs. L. W. Atwater, Mrs. E. S. Muggleton and Mrs. F. Sullivan of Auburn, and Mrs. Claude Sellen of Shelby, Ohio.

The family feel deeply grateful to all friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the illness and death of their mother.

Consider the silo—it is economical, convenient and profitable.

The snow falls upon the just and the unjust, but the righteous man keeps it off from his sidewalk.

Farmers' Week at Cornell begins on Feb. 12—a week dedicated to better farming and better country homes.

Watch out for the eggs of the tent caterpillar when you start pruning your orchard—it's easier to get them before the eggs hatch than after.

Visitors begin at home. Someone has said: "Show me a good farm anywhere around a happy farm home and I know that the owner has not only seen visitors but has lived there."

MANY BELIEVE KITCHENER LIVES

Britons Refuse to Think He Found Watery Grave.

WILL RETURN FOR VICTORY

Picture Hero of Khartum as They Do Many Other Popular Figures—"Chinese" Gordon, Parnell and Others Who Are Still Held to Be Among the Living.

A well known London clergyman said the other day that he had discovered among his parishioners an unshakable belief in a rumor that Lord Kitchener was still alive and that the report of his tragic end was a government ruse to hoodwink the enemy.

The story seems to have originated in the minds of some Indian troops, who steadfastly refuse to believe that their beloved white chief has found a watery grave and are convinced that he will again appear to lead them to victory.

General Gordon Too. It would seem that seldom does a great man die prematurely without the story that he is still alive securing a firm hold upon the popular mind, says Answers.

All over Great Britain are to be found people who refuse to accept the statement that another gallant hero, General Gordon, breathed his last under Arab spear thrusts at Khartum. They insist that he still lives—somewhere in the heart of the Sudan—the life of a sheik commanding a wandering tribe and that in his own good time he will reveal his identity to the world he has shunned so long.

Another fine fighter, Sir Henry Havelock-Allan, will never get a burial certificate from his numerous admirers at Tynteside. The canny north country man decline to believe that he died in 1897. He will turn up again when it suits his purpose, they assert with emphasis, and it is a wise policy to agree, with inward reservations, if any.

Charles Stewart Parnell, "the uncrowned king of Ireland," is similarly immortal. In almost any part of "the Emerald Isle" you will find many champions of the once great parliamentarian who cling to this belief with a faith that is almost pathetic. Some day Ireland is "coming to her own again," they say, and their brilliant patriot and leader will be found at the head of Irish affairs when that day dawns. Nor is the belief confined entirely to the land of the Shamrock.

Parnell Still Active? The writer remembers chatting with a London bus conductor, who seriously informed him that the "Mad Mullah," who was contesting British rule in Egypt at about that time, was none other than Parnell.

In certain rural parts of England the celebrated "Tichborne claimant" still lives, a deeply wronged man, cheated out of his inheritance, and his backers are happy in the thought that their idol is merely waiting for the death of the present holder to take possession of the estate for which he fought, long years ago, so strenuously. Such a hold has this obsession upon the rustic mind in the more remote parts of the country that an appeal for funds to prosecute afresh the claimant's "rights" has more than once since this notorious person's demise found an instant response.

"Fighting Mac." General Hector Macdonald, who died in peculiarly unhappy circumstances in Paris soon after the South African war, still lives, in every sense of the word, to his countless friends and admirers in Scotland and about the border.

Not only is he reported to be pursuing his old profession, but the extraordinary preparedness of the Chinese army today is attributed to "Fighting Mac's" genius, and there are men north of the Tweed who are prepared to swear that they have seen their old comrade in arms in the flesh at the head of the maneuvering troops near Peking.

Sometimes the notorious malefactor makes a similar appeal to the popular fancy. Go to the West Riding of Yorkshire, for instance, and you will find men and women, too, who ridicule the idea that Charles Peace, burglar and murderer, ever suffered the last dread penalty at the hands of outraged justice. Some one else, they will tell you darkly, was hanged in his stead, and Charles, with an unquenchable hatred against society at large, still wreaks vengeance on his fellow men.

He, the Yorkshireman avers, was the mysterious perpetrator of the thrilling Whitechapel horrors. At least one great tunnel tragedy lies at his door, and, in short, any crime that baffles Scotland Yard today is credited to the mystical crackman.

Breakfasts Cause Divorce.

Less than a month after Edith M. Merrithew became the bride of Vernon R. Merrithew of Lynn, Mass., in September, 1908, the husband found fault that the breakfasts she prepared were not satisfactory to him. He deserted her for that reason, according to the story told by Mrs. Merrithew recently in the Essex superior court, which granted her plea for a divorce.

$80,000,000 SPENT BY THE WARRING NATIONS

In sending his recent peace note to the warring nations President Wilson, it is said, took into consideration the enormous sums spent in prosecuting the war. Washington has been figuring the cost of the war, and it does not believe the belligerents will be able to hold out long under present conditions. The cost already reaches $80,000,000,000.

England's war bills reach $20,000,000, and her 1917 bills will add another $10,000,000,000. France has spent $14,000,000,000 and Russia, which had entirely to munition and supply her army, even more. Italy's expenditures run into billions. The war has cost Germany $12,000,000,000; Austria, $10,000,000,000; Turkey, $5,000,000,000; Bulgaria, $1,000,000,000. These figures include only actual cost of war and do not touch property or business losses.

HAS SCHEME FOR LAYING TRANSATLANTIC PIPE LINE

Tube Could Be Laid on Ocean's Bed, Work Completed in Four Months, Says Inventor.

An interesting scheme for a submarine pipe line to convey oil is proposed by an Irish inventor. The flexible pipe he has designed for the purpose is constructed of mild steel ribbon on the helical tube principle, the helicals being packed with asbestos twine. The steel ribbon is coated with a protective metallic alloy and is of such a thickness as to render the completed pipe capable of withstanding an internal pressure of 2,000 pounds and an external pressure of 10,000 pounds per square inch. Finally a cotton casing is woven over the outside of the pipe and coated with preservative compound.

To give longitudinal strength a standard steel cable or hawser is put inside the pipe. The inventor considers that a pipe line between England and America could be laid in three or four months. The course would be divided into twenty sections, and as many laying ships would be employed, so that each would have about 130 miles to lay. The ships would be provided with sufficient steel ribbon on reels, with cotton, cable and other requirements, to complete their allotted distance, and each would carry a tube forming and sleeve weaving apparatus. The former consists of a cross frame carrying reels of ribbon and asbestos and the forming and bending rollers, the whole being rotated round a steel mandrel. As the frame rotates the rollers press the steel ribbon to the required shape, inclosing the asbestos and interlocking the edges of the ribbon, and, finally, the cotton casing is woven on, the preservative compound being applied at the same time. The operations take place round the steel cable, by means of which the pipe would be fed into the water. The apparatus is designed to produce at least sixteen feet of pipe a minute. When beginning work each ship would attach its pipe cable to an anchored buoy.

GLASS EYE FOR CHRISTMAS.

Judge Heeds Children's Plea For Present For Their Father.

Two children, one a boy, seven years old, and the other a girl, nine, entered the Hamilton county court recently, says a report from Cincinnati, and asked to see Probate Judge Tueders. When brought before him the older child told the judge that their mother was dead and that they had inherited some property from her. They asked if they might be allowed to have a part of the income from this source to purchase a Christmas present for their father. When Judge Tueders asked the nature of the proposed gift the girl explained that her father, who had been injured and had lost thereby the sight of one eye, needed a glass eye to replace the missing optic. The judge granted their request.

The school is modeled after the University of California and will offer credits and diplomas.

He Only Wanted the Seeds.

The good natured proprietor of a Georgia seed store adopted a novel method of extracting the seeds from a special variety of watermelon which he wished to introduce and of which he had a number of specimens. The melons were cut, and a great crowd of negroes were invited in from the street to eat their favorite fruit free. All that was required of them besides eating melon was to save the seeds.

The Cataraugus Times and the Franklinville Chronicle-Journal, weeklies, have raised their subscription prices from $1 to $1.50 per year.

It is said improvements to be made by the Erie railroad to its property in Hornell during the coming summer will cost approximately $1,000,000.

Abner Brown of Watertown, the accredited agent of the Anti-Saloon League in Albany, is a distant relative of Majority Leader Brown of the senate.

McKay Brothers' alfalfa meal mill in Caledonia is out of commission temporarily. When damp hay was fed into it the milling machinery went all to pieces.

Five "movie" bills were introduced at Albany, covering Sunday performances and additional revenue for the state. A move toward a censorship was seen in the bill.

Robert S. Lansing, secretary of state, is not an enrolled voter. It became known that Mr. Lansing failed to enroll with any party when he registered last fall in Watertown.

Automobiles killed 729 persons in this state during the year 1916, compared with 663 in 1915. Of the total 392 fatalities were in New York city. Trolley cars killed 78 and wagons 74.

The city jail at Ithaca was ordered closed by the state prison commission because it was found to be inadequate. It had been charged that the jail was congested and consequently unsanitary.

The Perkins market commission reported to Governor Whitman, outlining a scheme for a single head market department and legalized cooperative buying and selling of food stuffs.

John B. Stanchfield and Judge Seabury, before the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry in New York city, urged that the fight against Sunday closing be confined to the courts.

The Anti-Saloon League sent out copies of a prohibition bill for New York state which would give women the same right as men to act on liquor licenses without bringing up the question of suffrage.

Their escape cut off by flames and smoke, three small children of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Alesver were burned to death in a fire that destroyed their home on a lonely road near Hastings, Oswego county.

New York state has lost millions a year through lack of system in buying supplies, said Eugene M. Travis, state controller, in a report to the legislature recommending the establishment of a state purchasing agency.

The Erie Railroad company presented three of its section gang at Lindon a month's wages as a Christmas present. The men have long been in the employ of the road. They are Michael Duddy, Thomas Whaley and William Kittle.

It has been decided by the Philadelphia men who own the Bath Electric & Gaslight company to discontinue its electric service, but to continue the manufacture of gas. Users of electricity will be served by the Bath municipal plant.

Thirty-five thousand clothing workers who have been on strike in New York agreed by unanimous vote at a mass meeting to accept the agreement reached between officials of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and the employers.

United States Marshal Clayton Wheeler has announced the appointment of Edward R. Kuhl of Hancock as chief office deputy marshal to succeed James Macbeth of Auburn. Kuhl was connected with the Ontario & Western Railroad company for 25 years. His headquarters will be in Hancock. He also carries a salary of $3,000.

An increase of nearly $1,500,000 has taken place in the resources of institutions under the supervision of the New York state banking department since the war began, according to the annual report of State Superintendent of Banks Eugene Lamb Richards.

Fire originating in the school laundry destroyed the two upper stories of the main building of the Oakwood Seminary, eight miles west of Auburn. The Auburn fire department assisted in extinguishing the fire, which caused $20,000 damage.

John Edward Teiper, convicted Dec. 22 of murder, second degree, for killing his mother, has been sentenced to serve not less than 20 years nor more than life in Auburn prison, the only sentence possible under the statute. Sentence was pronounced a moment or two after Justice Wheeler of Buffalo had denied Mr. O'Malley's motion for a new trial.

The most brilliant setting that has attended the induction of a governor in many years characterized the inauguration of Charles Seymour Whitman of New York for a second term as chief magistrate of the state. The military display was unusually elaborate, the crowds that flocked to the capital city were the largest in a decade, and enthusiasm was marked.

The apple grading law is defective and no conviction under it is possible since it does not make violation of it a crime, according to a decision given in Lockport in the supreme court by Justice Wesley C. Dudley in the case of Burt A. Wilson, a farmer. He was sued by the state agriculture department for a $50 penalty on a charge of packing inferior apples in grade A barrels.

Bertrand H. Snell of Potsdam, representing the 31st New York congressional district, after a conference with Governor Whitman, declined to accept the chairmanship of the Republican state committee. The executive, it was understood, had desired Representative Snell to accept the chairmanship under the plan of having the chairman paid by the Republican state committee.

Frank M. Williams, state engineer and surveyor, announced that the barge canal is now 93 per cent completed. At the close of the past season, he says, fully 290 miles of the improved system were in operation. He expects that those parts of the system from tide water at Troy to Lake Champlain and from Troy to Oswego on Lake Champlain will be open for navigation next spring.

MITTENS FOR 12-YEAR-OLDS.

How to Knit a Pair That Will Wear During Toboggan Time.

Use Scotch yarn and medium sized steel needles. Cast 13 stitches on each needle and knit 2 plain and purl 1 until the wrist is 3 inches long. Then knit 5, plain, purl 1, 1 plain, widen 1, 1 plain, purl 1, knit the remainder plain, widening one more on first needle and one on each of the other two needles for this round. * Second round: Knit 5, purl 1, knit 3, purl 1, knit remainder plain. * Repeat, only every fourth row widen 2 between purls until you have 11 stitches between purls. When about two and one-half inches long, measuring from wrist, take a darning needle and a piece of yarn and slip off those stitches between and including purls, making 13 stitches, then cast on 7 stitches and knit plain until when tried on the hand it covers the end of the little finger. Put same number of stitches on each needle. To narrow off * narrow 1 each end of each needle, knitting 1 stitch before narrowing and leaving 1 to knit after narrowing at one end. * That makes six stitches narrowed. Repeat narrowings every third round until only 6 or 7 stitches are left on each needle, then knit once round between narrowings. When only 2 stitches are left on each needle break yarn and pull through stitches, thread through darning needle and fasten. For thumb, put the 13 stitches on two needles and pick up 8 stitches under thumb. Knit the required length.

Oyster Sandwiches.

These are a fine delicacy suited to the late supper party. Select large oysters, drain and dry carefully. Meanwhile soften some butter and season some cracker crumbs with salt and pepper. Then, holding each oyster on a fork, dip it into the crumbs, then into the melted butter and again into the crumbs. Arrange them in an oyster broiler (which differs from an ordinary broiler in having the wires closer together) and broil over a hot fire for about two minutes, turning every few seconds. They should not be shriveled, but plump, soft, juicy and tender. Use as a filling between buttered slices of crisp toast and dress before putting the sandwiches together with a little tartar sauce.

Chocolate Cookies.

One-half cupful of butter or three-eighths cupful of manufactured shortening, one-half cupful of sweet milk, one cupful of chopped walnuts, one cupful of brown sugar, one egg, two teaspoonfuls of cocoa, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one cupful of seeded raisins, one and one-half cupfuls of flour. Cream sugar and shortening together; add milk, egg, walnuts, raisins and flour, which has been previously mixed and sifted with the soda and cocoa. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered tins and bake in a quick oven.

Brussels Sprouts, Parmesan.

Clean the sprouts thoroughly, remove all wilted leaves and cook until tender in boiling salted water to which one saltspoonful of soda has been added. Drain, put them in a buttered baking dish, pour in one-half cupful of heavy cream, sprinkle with salt and paprika, cover with grated Parmesan and bake ten minutes in a quick oven.

You Will Need Money for Christmas.

Here is an easy way to get it. A sure way to have it. Join our Christmas Club now forming.

In class 2, pay 2c the 1st week, 4c the 2d week, 6c the 3d week, and so on for 50 weeks and you will receive a check two weeks before Christmas for $25.

Or in class 5, pay 5c the 1st week, 10c the 2d week, 15c the 3d week and so on, and you will receive a check two weeks before Christmas for $63.75.

You May Reverse the Order of Payments if You Wish to Do So.

For instance, in class 5, going up, the payments start with 5c and end with $2.50. If you desire to do so, you may start with $2.50 the first week and pay 5c less every week until the last week's payment will be 5c. You may do the same in class 2.

Should you prefer to pay an equal amount each week you can do so.

In class 50 the payments are 50c each week for 50 weeks, and two weeks before Christmas you will receive a check for $25.

In class 100, the payments are $1 each week for 50 weeks and two weeks before Christmas you will receive a check for $50.

In class 200, the payments are $2 each week for 50 weeks, and two weeks before Christmas you will receive a check for $100.

Payments must be made every week or may be made in advance for any number of weeks.

Can you think of an easier way to provide money for Christmas presents? Join yourself—get everyone in the family to join. Show this to your friends and get them to join. Everyone is welcome to join.

The Thrice-A-Week Edition OF THE New York World

Practical a Daily at the Price of a Weekly

No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

There has never been a time when newspaper was more needed in the household. The great war in Europe has now entered its second year, with no promise of an end for a long time. These are world-shaking events, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, has been compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

The Presidential contest also will soon be at hand. Already candidates for the nomination are in the field, and the campaign, owing to the extraordinary character of the times, will be of supreme interest. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together for one year for $1.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

It's real cause of Kidney and Blood troubles, by restoring right action of Stomach, Liver and Bowels, overcoming indigestion and constipation dangers (Auto-Intoxication); thus Kidneys and Bladder are aided, the blood purified. Unbroken record of wonderful success.

25 Years of Progress

This company began business in one small office twenty-five years ago last month. Since that time its growth has been steady and sure in number of depositors, in amount of deposits, in variety and amount of business done.

In 1893 on Jan. 1

One year after starting

We had in deposits $290,717.81

We had 690 depositors

We had $100,000 capital

We had 10,000 surplus

*The Cornerstone has been Conservatism
in Management
in other words SAFETY*

In 1917 on Jan. 1

25 years after starting

We had in deposits $2,720,137.42

We had 7108 depositors

We had $200,000 capital

We had $249,871.32 surplus

Our record of a quarter of a century justifies our belief that people will deposit their money where they believe it be absolutely safe, where it will be invested with an eye to safety rather than to be obliged to earn enough to pay a half per cent. more interest.

We appreciate the generous support and confidence shown this company by the citizens of Ithaca, and Tompkins and surrounding counties throughout these years and at the end of a quarter of a century extend our thanks.

We promise to continue the same conservative care as in the past for the interests of those who show their confidence by depositing their money with us as well as those who confide their estates to us for settlement.

The DAREDEVIL

By
MARIA THOMPSON DAVIESS,
the author of

"The Melting of Molly"

It is a spirited, quick moving dramatic story, deft in touch, gay with humor, strong with heart interest.

Her father had called her "Daredevil." She was tall for a woman and broad of shoulder. Her tresses clipped, the apparel of a young man secured, and Roberta, the marquise, becomes Robert Carruthers, a gay, stout hearted masquerader. And then—romance, intrigues, plots, dancing under the radiant southern moon, rides in the mountains with that flower of southern chivalry, the governor of Harpeth, and in the end—love!

THE DAREDEVIL

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Common Colds.
Two classes of common colds are recognized by Dr. F. P. Smart in a Virginia medical review.
The infectious cold gradually passes to the entire family. The vasomotor cold is due primarily to exposure—exposure which, by lowering resistance in the head, permits the normal scavenger germs of the nose to become parasitic. When the feeling that a fresh cold is coming on is experienced the simplest preventive is a little vigorous exercise or a rapid succession of deep respirations. This is often effective, but if the vasomotor cold is not promptly broken up it develops the symptoms and dangers of the other class, except the infection. The treatment suggested as probably the best includes a brisk purge, a hot foot bath at night, a glass of hot lemonade, ten grains of Dover's powder, keeping well covered and late morning rising. The complications liable to attend the cold that has become established are often overlooked or neglected and require special treatment to keep the nasal passages freely drained and ventilated and to provide for the removal of the irritating products.

The Illusion.
"So you are going to get married, eh?"
"Yes; the longing for a little home where I can put my feet against the wall, brace my chair back and smoke my pipe in comfort got to be too much for me."
"That's a beautiful dream!"
"Isn't it?"
"So beautiful that it will be a shame for you to get married and spoil it!"—Atlanta Constitution.
Didn't Get It.
A man walked into a pawnbroker's shop one day and demanded $5 because there was a placard in the window that read, "Look at this watch for $5."
"I looked at it," he said, "and now I want my money."—New York Globe.
Wrong Protestation.
"Darling, I could be satisfied in a hut with you!"
"I believe you would. That's the reason I'm going to marry George. He won't!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Seek the Light.
If there is anywhere on your horizon a spot of light, fix your eyes upon it and turn your thoughts away from the clouds which may cover the rest of the sky.
A man's greatness is seldom known to the world until his weakness has become known to himself. —Youth's Companion.
Names of Flowers.
The camellia was named from a missionary in the orient, Kamel. On his return to France he brought with him some gorgeous specimens of a flower which he called the rose of Japan. His friends, however, gave it his name and called it camellia. Dahlias were brought from Peru by one Andre Dahl. Fuchsias were named for their discoverer, Leonard Fuchs. Magnolias received the name of Professor Magnol de Montpellier, who first brought the beautiful trees from Asia and America to France. Lavender is so called because the Romans put a spray of it in the water in which they washed their hands. The Latin word to wash is lavare.
Arithmetical Progression.
He had complained jealously that she had too many other young men around "The Ideal" she laughed. "Why, I can count them all on the fingers of my left hand. The index finger is Mr. Smart, the second finger is Mr. Balder, and the third finger of my left hand—the third finger is you."
Next day he got a ring for it.—Boston Transcript.
Well Rid of It.
"Oh, John," shrieked Mrs. Dorkins, "the baby has swallowed a quarter!"
Mr. Dorkins took a handful of change out of his pocket and looked it over.
"Calm yourself, Maria," he said. "It was that bad one I've been trying to get rid of."—Exchange.
Summed Up.
Do not waste your time upon social questions. What is the matter with the poor is poverty. What is the matter with the rich is uselessness.—G. Bernard Shaw.
The Style of It.
"Read my palm, please."
"Ah, you want a hand picked future, do you?"—Baltimore American.
Court Facts.
The custom of having court fools survived longest in Russia, where Peter the Great often had twelve.
Every man's a good loser when he's not losing.

Spain's Royal Palace.
From one who paid a visit not long ago to King Alfonso at Madrid comes a wonderful account of his palace. It is bigger than either Buckingham palace or Windsor and is rarely inhabited by less than 2,000 people. On entering the palace one sees some 150 lackeys flitting about in different directions, and at the foot of the stairs and on the landings stand halberdiers in their uniforms of white and black and tricorne hats. The lift that carries you to the upstairs apartments is all rose colored brocade and cut glass—quite glorious within. The room where their majesties receive the diplomatic corps is noted for the beauty of the blue silk walls and clock with a life size figure of "Time" carrying the earth—a globe which forms the clock. Here are four superb chandeliers of rock crystal, set in gold filigree. The works of art include two beautiful pictures by Goya. Queen Mary Louise of Parma and Charles IV. of Bourbon. The state dining room is famous for its frescoes and tapestries and Sevres vases that are not less than six feet high—the loveliest examples of blue china.—London Gentlemen.
Washington a Mecca of Diplomats.
In no capital are there as many foreign diplomats as there are in Washington. This is because all the Latin American states as well as European and Asiatic have embassies or legations in this country, and some of them do not maintain full missions elsewhere. Not all of these foreign representatives are kept busy by their regular duties, however, but they communicate with the state department whenever an opportunity offers, and sometimes they create the opportunity. Their notes must be treated with punctilious consideration without reference to the importance of the contents. One note may be only a request for an order to admit free of duty at a custom house a basket of champagne and another may inclose the draft of a treaty, but the state department must attend to the champagne as well as the treaty; otherwise it will irritate the representative of a friendly nation.—Galliard Hunt in Harper's Magazine.
How to Tell a Celebrity.
He always selects the most conspicuous table in a restaurant. He is always looking for some one to recognize him on the street.
He invariably leads the conversation around to his own achievements.
He generally wears clothes, hats or ties a little different from any one else's.
He's a far better talker than he is a listener.
He always laughs loudest at his own jokes.

January Clearance Sale

Starts Saturday, Jan 13th

Closes Monday, January 29th

On Saturday, January 13th, 1917, we will proceed with a unique program of Clearance Sales in every department of the store

During the season's merchandising the store fulfills its proper functions by presenting many opportunities to its customers—to participate in sales of merchandise of various kinds which it has been able to purchase, for one good reason or another, at under market valuation.

Excellent as these opportunities are, they might nevertheless (with exception) be called local, thus essentially differing from these Clearance Sales in January.

The January Clearance Sales are general throughout the entire store, covering all departments and are held for the purpose of reducing stock.

This clearing process by reducing prices, will proceed by set schedules, certain groups of merchandise being advanced for sale and final clearance every day.

For this reason we recommend a close study of our advertisements every day and to avoid disappointment, a prompt inspection of the offers advertised.

Much (not all) of the opening days' sales offers are presented on this page.
