

The Genoa Tribune.

VOL XXVI NO. 48

Genoa, New York, Friday Morning, June 22, 1917.

Emma A. Waldo

DR. J. W. SKINNER,
Homeopathist and Surgeon, Genoa, N. Y.
Special attention given to diseases of women and children. Cancer removed without pain by escharotic. Office at residence.

DENTIST

J. A. Spaulding

Wheat Block, Moravia, N. Y.

Write or Phone for Appointment
Bell 40-M Miller 70

E. B. DANIELS

UNDERTAKER

Moravia, N. Y.

Telephone Connections for Day and Night Calls.

UNDERTAKING

WILLARD CUTLER

Embalmer and Funeral Director

Main St., Moravia
Bell 'Phone Miller 'Phone

J. WILL TREE,

BOOK BINDING
ITHACA.

FRED L. SWART,

Optometrist.

Masonic Temple, South St.
AUBURN, N. Y.

Shur-On Eye Glasses.

FIRE!

E. C. HILLMAN,

GENERAL FIRE INSURANCE
Levanna, N. Y.

Agent for the following companies:
Glens Falls, The Home, Fire Association of Philadelphia, The Sun of London, The Queen, Royal of Liverpool and Fidelity Underwriters, also Windstorm or Tornado insurance at low rate.
Reular trip every thirty days.

REMOVAL

CLARENCE SHERWOOD
the Optometrist is now located at
79 GENESEE STREET
OVER
HOLMES & DUNNICAN
next to the H. R. Wait Co., opposite the Trolley Ticket Office.
Eyes Examined, Glasses Fitted,
Broken Lenses Duplicated.

Wetting Spoils Eggs.

Approximately 5,000,000 dozen eggs spoil needlessly every year in cold storage simply because some one has let clean eggs get wet or has washed dirty eggs before sending them to market, according to the specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Careful investigations of large quantities of stored eggs show that from 17 to 22 per cent of washed eggs become worthless in storage, whereas only 4 to 8 per cent of dirty eggs stored unwashed spoil. The explanation is simple. Water removes from the shell of the egg a gelatinous covering which helps to keep air and germs out of the inside of the egg. Once this covering is removed by washing or rain which gets to eggs in the nest, germs and molds find ready access to the contents and spoil the eggs.

Parson—Do you, Liza, take Rastus for bethah or for wuss?

Bride—Well, if Ah got to tell the truth, pahson, Ah'm takin' him 'cause he's de fuast man what veh, axed me.—Boston Transcript.

HAVE YOU BEEN SICK?

Then you realize the utter weakness that robs ambition, destroys appetite, and makes work a burden.
To restore that strength and stamina that is so essential, nothing has ever equaled or compared with Scott's Emulsion, because its strength-sustaining nourishment invigorates the blood to distribute energy throughout the body while its tonic value sharpens the appetite and restores health in a natural, permanent way.
If you are run down, tired, nervous, overworked or lack strength, get Scott's Emulsion to-day. It is free from alcohol, Scott & Borne, Bloomfield, N. J.

From Nearby Towns.

Lansingville.

June 18—George Stout is very ill with blood poisoning, caused by cutting his finger. Symptoms of pneumonia have developed. He is attended by Dr. Allen. Mrs. Jennie Reynolds is the nurse.

Mrs. George Inman is visiting her brother, Perry Ross at Locke.

Wm. Minturn and family of Ludlowville were guests at Parke Minturn's Sunday, and attended the funeral of Mrs. Olive Smith at the home of her son, Jay Smith at Five Corners.

Those from this place who attended the funeral of Mrs. Smith were Mrs. Wm. Tucker, Parke Minturn and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bower.

Elmer Gallow of Newfield visited his brothers, Floyd and Leroy Gallow, Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Sweazey spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Jay Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Boles spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gosbee.

Those who attended the S. S. association at East Lansing Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bower, Mrs. Wm. Tucker, Mrs. Gordon Gosbee, Parke Minturn and family, Mrs. Lida Reynolds and Clayton Swazey and family.

Miss Whitman of Moravia has been sewing for Mrs. Breese, Mrs. Chas. Bower, Mrs. Wilbur Boles, Mrs. Wert Dates and Mrs. Tracy Buchanan.

North Lansing.

June 20—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Smith entertained company from Binghamton Wednesday.

Chas. Osmun left Thursday for a business trip to Michigan. Children's day exercises will be held at the usual service hour 2 p. m., July 1.

Mrs. Alice Foley has returned to her home in Rochester after spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Phillip Kilmer.

Tuesday evening the young people held an entertainment and social at the hall for the benefit of Cazenovia seminary. Six dollars was cleared. Mr. and Mrs. Benton Buck attended the funeral of the latter's mother, Mrs. Mary Benson, in King Ferry, Wednesday.

Wedding bells are soon to ring. Asbury, Lake Ridge, North Lansing and Myers W. C. T. U., are to hold their institute and group meeting at Myers June 27. An all day session will be held.

Mrs. Henry Spangler has returned to her home in Moravia, after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Benton Buck.

An all night dance at Grange hall, June 26. Music by "Happy Bill" Daniels. —adv.

Lake Ridge.

June 14—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morey and infant and Mrs. Jessie Morey of Ithaca are visiting the latter's brother, Jerry Smith.

Rev. Ralph Schlosser of Elizabethtown College, Pennsylvania, will begin a series of meetings in the church at this place, Sunday evening, June 17. Services each evening to continue for two weeks.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bower has been ill, but is slowly improving.

Mrs. William Davis returned home Sunday after spending a week with relatives in Smithville, N. Y.

Elders R. A. and E. F. Nedrow are entertaining their father and sister from Pennsylvania.

School closes this week Friday. Mrs. E. E. Woolley and daughter Laura spent Sunday with Mrs. Flora Buck.

Mrs. Cora Campbell is nursing in Ithaca for a time.

Men are not altogether forgetful. Even the man who neglects to blanket a standing horse, will wrap the blanket carefully about himself before starting up.

"Miss Anteeke has been praying for a man for years, and now she's got Percy Fitznoodle." "Oh, well she won't know the difference, perhaps."

Sherwood.

June 19—Dr. Creveling of Auburn and Dr. Hoxsie of Sherwood performed an operation on Mrs. Charles Chase on Saturday afternoon. They made an incision in the chest and took out a quantity of pus. The physicians state that they are both of the opinion that Mrs. Chase will ultimately recover her health.

Hiller Star Chapter, O. E. S., entertained the grand officers Thursday evening, June 14,—the District Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Lillian Osborn from Union Springs, and Mr. Butler from Ithaca, assistant Grand Lecturer. Mrs. Claud Ward was initiated into the chapter. Visitors were present from Union Springs, Scipio and King Ferry. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was enjoyed.

The state road is being resurfaced by convict labor, and twenty convicts are camping in a field belonging to Ray Sherman.

Miss Emily Ellis spent Sunday with her aunt, Mrs. Myron Swazey.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brewster of Geneva in company with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin of Auburn motored to Sherwood on Sunday and spent the day visiting and calling on friends in Sherwood and vicinity. Mrs. Brewster expects to stay several days visiting relatives.

Sherwood Select School commencement begins next Sunday evening. Baccalaureate sermon Sunday night, June 24 at 8 o'clock. Class night Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Commencement Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Alumnae meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and old scholars reunion Wednesday, June 27, all day.

Venice Center.

June 19—Miss Ruth Ford of Genoa visited her brother Leslie for a few days recently.

Mrs. Lavina Baldwin of Auburn visited her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Crawford, from Tuesday to Thursday of last week. Clarence Baldwin of Auburn motored out on Thursday and Mrs. Baldwin returned with him.

Mrs. Geo. Crawford received a postcard shower last Thursday from the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church in Stewart's Corners, and she is very grateful to them for their kind thoughts while she is ill. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fell and friends of Auburn were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crawford's.

A number of people from this place attended the Red Cross lecture at Stewart's Corners last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sisson and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Whitman motored to Auburn on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Wallace were Sunday guests of Wm. Wyant and family. Miss Christine Wyant returned with them for a visit.

Mrs. Warren Saxton is visiting in Moravia and attending the bridal showers of her friend, Marjorie Mead.

Miss Louise Kelley and school of West Venice joined Miss Genevieve Bowness and school of this place and had a picnic the last day of school.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Frank Mosher at 3 o'clock, June 29. Everyone come as Mrs. Frank Wood will give a report of the county meeting held in Fleming last month.

Venice.

June 18—Rev. E. E. Warner was in Auburn part of last week.

E. S. Manchester is building a new horse barn and wagon house. N. L. Stevens is also putting up a new barn.

It is rumored that wedding bells are soon to ring.

School closed last Friday for the summer vacation. It is expected that Miss Edith Putnam will teach the school next year.

Quite a number from this place attended the Children's day exercises which were held in the Universalist church at Scipio Sunday evening.

First Woman (at seance)—It ought to be ready to tell us things now.

Second Woman—Yes. Third Woman—Spirit of the table are you there? Knock once if you are there, twice if you are not there.—Ideas.

King Ferry.

June 19—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McQuigan of Auburn were in town on Saturday and attended the King reunion held at the home of Frank Brill. They also called on some of their old neighbors, Mrs. M. Crouch, Mrs. Maggie Wager, Mrs. Etta Rennyson. They also remained with relatives over Sunday on the Lake road, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich of Cortland have been visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Husted Brill.

Mrs. Mary Tilton was called to Aurora Thursday to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Baker, whose husband died very suddenly. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Baker and other relatives in their sad bereavement.

Mrs. Hartnett and daughter Julia of Merrifield were guests of the former's mother, Tuesday.

Mr. M. Flynn of Michigan was a guest of his grandmother, Mrs. M. Crouch, Sunday.

There will be a dance at Rafferty's hall on Friday evening, June 22. Music furnished by McDermott's orchestra of Cortland. A fine supper will be served. —adv.

Mrs. N. L. Miles spent Sunday with her brother at East Genoa, who is very poorly.

Horace Atwater of Groton spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Atwater. Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Atwater of Scipioville were guests at the same place.

Mrs. Augusta Starner of Auburn has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Nancy Cooen.

Misses Pearl Starrow and Harriet Van Horn of Auburn were over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Starrow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cotten are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Wm. H. Perry.

Mrs. Frank King of Boston has returned to her home here where she will now remain.

Mrs. Thomas Turney and sons were in Auburn a few days last week.

Mrs. Wm. Berrels of Auburn was in town last Friday.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

Sunday morning worship at 10:30. Sermon theme, "Mocking Jesus." Sunday school at 12.

Sunday evening worship at 7:30. Subject, "Mission Work in Our Cities." Leader of Christian Endeavor, Miss Frances Atwater.

Prayer meeting on Thursday at 7:30. "Watch and Pray" is the subject.

Philathea class tea will be at the home of Mrs. Ira Rowland next Thursday afternoon.

Let us awake to the call of the Red Cross work. Remember that if your boy or husband is called to the front, you will wish him to have the comforts and necessities that Red Cross work furnishes. The report that more sewing may be done than is needed is ridiculous. It will be impossible to do more for our army of a million and perhaps millions of men in the trenches of France, than will be needed.

Agriographs.

Shallow cultivation in that garden will get weeds but not the roots of your vegetables.

Pumpkins among the corn stalks will add to stock feed. Fill the missing hills and every sixth hill with pumpkin seed before July.

For every acre of alfalfa that New York had 18 years ago it now has 32 acres. Nearly one farm in every three now has a silo, yet this showing could be vastly improved to the advantage of the state.

It is up to the family, as well as to the housewife who plans the meals, to help break old food habits and help the nation to conserve its food supply.

Some of the unskilled labor that is to be used on farms this year could work part of the time at taking out old brush, stump, stone, or rail fences, thus enlarging fields and saving future labor in plowing and cultivating.

Always try to be cheerful — tho' nobody will expect you to shout songs of triumph in an empty coal-bin.

Five Corners.

June 18—And still it rains, while some are so anxious to plant corn even at this late period, but think buckwheat will take its place.

Mrs. Jessie Morey of Ithaca and son Paul and wife and little daughter of Elmira spent last week Tuesday and Wednesday with the former's sister, Mrs. Walter Hunt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Curtis, daughter Helen and son Joseph spent last Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Curtis at Genoa.

James E. Mahaney of Genoa spent the week-end with his grandfather, H. E. LaBar, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Barger.

Laselle Palmer went to Ithaca last Friday night returning Saturday night with a load of household goods for Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Palmer.

Mrs. Frank Algard returned to her home here last Friday and went to Pennsylvania Saturday after their little daughter Helen.

Mrs. Lyon Snyder with her three children, Hazel, Edgar and Lillian spent last Friday with Mr. Snyder's mother, Mrs. Emily Snyder, at the Forks of the Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Boles and daughter Mabel spent last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gosbee near Lansingville.

Mrs. John Snyder entertained the Birthday club this week Monday afternoon. The members were all present excepting three. It was in honor of Mrs. W. L. Ferris. She received many beautiful gifts, some cut glass, linen and some money. The supper was very fine. The afternoon was pleasantly spent by all, the hard thunder shower not preventing their having a good time.

Sidney Snyder of Sayre, Pa., and Miss Ruth Haskin of Atwater were married last Saturday at Genoa.

The members of Rebekah lodge enjoyed a fine supper at their hall last Thursday evening.

The many friends of Carmi Chaffee are pleased to learn of his improvement in health.

Mrs. Olive Smith died at Willard hospital last week Thursday where she had been for treatment for some time. Her remains were brought to her son's, Jay Smith and wife, on Friday. She had very many friends here as she had lived in this community nearly all her life. Until her health became impaired she was a regular attendant at church, being a member of the Presbyterian church here and was a consistent Christian woman. She was dearly loved by all who knew her. Her age was 81.

The funeral was held from the home of her son Jay and wife last Sunday at 3 o'clock. A large quantity of flowers were reminders of her sweet disposition before sickness overtook her. The Rev. E. L. Dresser of Ithaca officiated. Burial in the cemetery here. The heartfelt sympathy of the many friends is extended to the son and other relatives.

The regular W. C. T. U. business meeting and white ribbon tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Hunt, Five Corners, on Thursday, June 28. Supper 15 cents. A talk on Red Cross work will be given. All cordially invited. —adv.

Gray--Chamberlain.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at the rectory of St. Bernard's church, Scipio, when Bertha Winifred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chamberlain, became the bride of William Clarence Gray.

Miss Mildred E. Chamberlain, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and John O'Connor acted as best man. Only the members of the immediate families were present. The bride wore a dark blue traveling suit with hat to match.

After receiving congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Gray left at once by auto for a wedding trip to Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other western points.

"I tell ye," said Aunt Sary, proudly, "Joe's comin' right along. They've just elected him Reprhen-sible to th' Legislater."

Advertising in THE TRIBUNE brings business.

Venice Center--West Hill.

June 20—School in Dist. No. 6 closed with a very enjoyable picnic last Friday. That evening the teacher, Miss Louise Kelly, returned to her home in Port Byron.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Streeter and daughters, Mildred and Gertrude motored to Moravia Thursday last to see their sister, Mrs. George Anthony, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. Victor Andrews visited her daughters, Mrs. Clarence Baker and Mrs. Fred Clark of Genoa, a few days last week.

Miss Elizabeth Connell is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. M. Cannon, while she is trying Regents at Venice Center.

George Dennis of Syracuse was a week-end guest of his uncle, Albert Ames, at the home of Richard Clark.

Miss Alzina Dickerson, who has been attending the university in Upland, Indiana, is spending her summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dickerson.

Mrs. A. Fritz, Mrs. Louie Tuttle and Mrs. Roy Fritz of Aurora and Miss Luella Steele of Genoa were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clark.

Bernard Dickerson spent Sunday with his wife and son at the home of Richard Clark.

William and John Solesbury of Syracuse called on Albert Ames, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beebe and Mrs. J. P. Dickerson and daughter Alzina called on Mrs. Bernard Dickerson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark have moved to Auburn. Mr. Clark is employed at the Neis Bros. garage.

Floyd Patten was a week-end guest of his parents at Auburn.

Misses Marie Guindon and Marion Locke of Poplar Ridge were Sunday callers on Miss Florence Atwater.

Mrs. M. Cannon was a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Connell at Auburn a couple of days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leader and daughter Hazel were Sunday guests of their sister, Mrs. Clay Schenck of Union Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beebe of Union Springs visited their son, John a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Andrews and son Ralph were Sunday callers on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark at Genoa.

Mrs. Jennie Platt was a caller at her sister's, Mrs. Eben Rowland, at King Ferry, Sunday.

Resolutions.

Whereas: God in his mysterious Providence has lately taken from our number our worthy brother, Jesse A. Burrows, in the midst of his usefulness.

Resolved, That we, the members of Five Corners Grange, No. 1000, P. of H., do humbly bow to the will of our Heavenly Father, who we believe doeth all things well; and although we regret his loss, we believe his soul has gone to God who gave it and if we are faithful we shall meet him again in the better world.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved wife and daughters in this time of sad affliction and trust they will find comfort in Him who has said "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."

Resolved, That we drape our charter in his memory for the next thirty days; that a copy of these resolutions be left with the bereaved wife, also that they be placed on the records of our Grange, and a copy sent to the GENOA TRIBUNE for publication.

J. Delbert Todd,
E. Delos Cheesman,
Walter D. Hunt.

Do You Know That

Civilian health is the rock upon which military efficiency rests?

The little house fly is a dangerous thing. The time to "swat 'em" is in spring?

The ingestion of wood alcohol may produce blindness?

Swimming is a healthful exercise?

Human beings are the great agencies in the spread of human diseases?

No community can be really successful without safe waste disposal?

MAYORS ENDORSE EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Buffalo Conference Adopts Enfranchisement Resolution.

AVES ARE ALMOST UNANIMOUS

Chief Executives of N. Y. Cities Recommend That Government Profit by Experiences of Other Nations at War.

Woman Suffrage was endorsed almost unanimously by the New York State Mayors in conference in Buffalo on Wednesday, June 13th, when the report of the Resolution Committee was adopted. This report declared: "We have carefully considered the matter of Woman Suffrage because of its far-reaching effect and beg to report that a poll of the mayors of the state shows that of the forty-seven voting, forty-one favor Woman Suffrage."

The conference, in its suffrage resolution, recommends that this government profit by the experience of other governments now at war, and by granting equal suffrage, avail itself of the services of its women as well as of its men in the full efficiency of citizenship.

Mayor Mitchell of New York City, Mayor Fuhrmann of Buffalo, Mayor Stone of Syracuse, Mayor Stevens of Albany, Mayor Lunn of Schenectady, Mayor Truitt of Binghamton, Mayor Frank of Ogdensburg, are among the leading mayors who are polled in favor of Woman Suffrage.

On hearing of the action taken by the conference, Mrs. Norman deR. Whitehouse, chairman of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, wired a telegram of appreciation to the Hon. W. C. Capes, secretary of the conference, in which she said:

"The voters of New York State cannot fail to be impressed by the action of the Mayors' Conference in approving Woman Suffrage."

SUFFRAGISTS OF NASSAU WIN HIGH PRAISE.

Frank L. Crocker, director of the census for Nassau County, wired on Wednesday to G. G. Henry, director of the military census at Albany, the following message:

"Expect complete Nassau County census this week. Few mistakes, and little disorder, thanks to efficiency of the Woman Suffrage Party in charge. (Signed) Frank L. Crocker."

The women of Nassau County, under the supervision of the suffrage leader, Mrs. Frederick Stuart Greene are in full charge of the census work in that county.

Novelist Sees Advance in Women's Age Attitude

MRS. KATHLEEN NORRIS.

"In not one case have we found that a woman has taken advantage of the leeway that is given her in the matter of disclosing her age," said Mrs. Kathleen Norris on Friday, after spending a week in charge of the registration desk in the census-taking offices at Port Washington, Nassau County.

The distinguished novelist has given up her own work to assist with the Nassau County census taking, of which the suffragists are in complete charge. "This willingness of women to tell their right age," says Mrs. Norris, "seems to me typical of the change in the status of women, toward which suffrage has done so much."

"For a long time woman was dependent almost entirely on her sex attraction. The attracting of men, with marriage as an ultimate hope, was her only way of fulfilling her destiny. Hence, she was afraid to grow old or rather, to admit that she was growing old. It is a splendid manifestation of the modern woman, that independent intellectually, spiritually, and in many cases economically, she dares to tell her age."

Congregationalists Favor Equal Suffrage

The East Washington and North Idaho Association of Congregational Churches in Session at Colfax, Washington, has passed the following resolution:

"Resolved: That in our opinion the enfranchisement of women has been an unqualified blessing in our state and that we believe that National Woman Suffrage will be an advanced step, bringing us nearer the Kingdom of God, for which we pray."

Numerous Bonds Sold Through Suffrage

Two prominent suffragists, Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, chairman of the Ninth Campaign District of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, and Mrs. Fredrick L. Cranford, treasurer of the Brooklyn Woman Suffrage Party, have reported the greatest number of Liberty Loan Bonds sold by women. Mrs. Vanderlip, alone, has over $1,500,000 worth of bonds to her credit, while the Brooklyn Suffrage Party, through Mrs. Cranford has reported the sale of $107,200 worth of bonds.

DON'T LET MILK SPOIL

ON THE FARM, IN TRANSIT, OR IN THE HOME

Whole milk, skim milk, and buttermilk are highly nourishing and valuable foods. These foods spoil quickly when allowed to get warm or when exposed to bacteria and molds present in the dust and the air.

Keep Milk Continuously Clean, Cold and Covered.

This injunction applies equally to the producer, the wholesaler, the dealer, the consumer.

Unclean milk sent from the farm sours and spoils more quickly than clean milk. Pasteurization makes milk safer.

Milk, to keep properly, should never get warmer than 50° F. until it is consumed. The lower the temperature the better the milk will keep.

Bacteria—such as those which cause milk to sour—develop very slowly and cause little change in milk kept at such low temperatures.

A slight rise in temperature, even for a short time, permits these bacteria to multiply rapidly and bring about rapid deterioration of the milk, which may render it unfit for ordinary use.

Don't leave your milk bottles on a hot porch or doorstep. A short exposure in the sun or a warm place hastens the spoiling even of cold, bottled milk.

Have the milkman put your milk into the refrigerator. If this is impossible provide, in warm weather, a box with ice, or a bucket of water in a shady place for the milk.

At any rate, have the bottles left in the coolest and shadiest place about your premises.

Don't leave milk in bottles or vessels in a warm room for a moment longer than is necessary.

Never pour milk, which has been exposed to the air, back into a bottle containing other milk. Keep such milk cold and covered in another clean utensil.

Keep Milk Clean

Milk, when warm, is an ideal cultural medium for bacteria. Keep milk clean. You can keep it clean only by keeping it covered so that the bacteria and molds from the air will not get into it.

Keep your milk bottles covered either with caps or by placing glasses over them. Keep them covered in the refrigerator and in the kitchen or dining room.

Never pour milk into an unsterile bowl or pitcher. Scald all vessels into which milk is poured for keeping or serving. Cool these utensils after scalding, before you put milk into them.

Before you open a bottle of milk, wash and wipe the outside of the cap with water and a clean cloth. The little depression at the top of the bottle collects dust or water, or milk, which may attract flies. Lift out the cap with a pointed instrument, so that the outside of the cap, which may be contaminated, will not be pushed down into the milk.

Clean and scald the refrigerator where milk is stored, regularly with hot sal-soda solution. See that the drip pipe is kept open and clean.

Even in the cleanest refrigerator, never keep milk in an open vessel. Milk absorbs odors easily.

If there are babies or little children in your home, clean, cold, covered milk is absolutely essential.

Clean Empty Bottles

Finally, clean empty bottles. Rinse thoroughly with cold water every milk bottle, as soon as emptied, and then wash with hot water. This helps your milkman to give you clean milk.

Never take milk bottles into a sick room. If you have an infectious or contagious disease in your home, boil the milk bottles, and do not return them without the express sanction of your local health officer or attending physician.

Don't Throw Out Skim or Sour Milk

Clean skim milk is a valuable food, containing all the nourishing elements of whole milk except the fat or cream. It is useful in cooking cereals, soups, sauces, cocoa, etc., and is a palatable, nourishing beverage.

Sour milk and buttermilk can be used with soda in making hot breads, or sour milk can be easily turned into cottage cheese, or clabber. Sour cream is a good shortening for cakes and cookies, and is useful for salad dressings and gravies for meat.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will be glad to send you additional information about the care and use of milk.

DEMONSTRATE THRIFT IN YOUR HOME

Decided Reductions

on all Wool Suits, Silk Suits, Jersey Cloth Suits, Coats, etc.

Following our usual custom at this time of the year we have gone over our ready-to-wear spring and summer garments and made radical reductions in price to effect a quick clearance.

All Suits have been included and all the Coats except a few blacks and blues.

Many of these garments are Wooltex make and they are all of excellent quality and absolutely correct styles.

This is an opportunity to secure a Coat or Suit at practically cost and we advise an early selection while the sizes and styles are here for you to choose from. Telephone and mail orders will receive prompt attention.

BUSH & DEAN 151 EAST STATE ST. ITHACA, N. Y.

NEW YORK STATE MEN CONGRATULATE GOVERNORS

Following the announcement that Rhode Island and Michigan had granted presidential suffrage to women, to be followed almost immediately by Nebraska, the Men's Advisory Board sent a congratulatory telegram to the Governors of these other States reading as follows:

"At this time when at the call of the President we are going to war for the cause of a greater democracy and a greater suffrage the action of Rhode Island in granting suffrage to women especially commends itself to all true Americans interested in building up a united America. As American citizens we accordingly send you our sincere congratulations. We feel that the men of Rhode Island are entitled to special gratitude because without waiting to suffer the terrible experiences of warfare, they have given to the women of their state the right to vote—the right to make themselves heard in the councils of the nation."

The telegram was signed by the Men's Advisory Board of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party as follows: Frank A. Vanderlip, Chairman, Judge E. H. Gary, James Byrne, Wm. M. Chadbourn, Franklin W. M. Catechon, Adolph Lewisohn, V. Everitt Macy, Herbert Parsons, George W. Perkins, and Victor Morawetz.

VOTING STRENGTH OF WOMEN

Of the forty-one legislatures that have convened or are scheduled to convene in 1917 thirteen have already taken favorable action, seven (North Dakota, Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, Rhode Island, Michigan and Nebraska) have passed Presidential Suffrage, five (Vermont, Indiana, North Dakota, Arkansas, at primaries, and Nebraska) have passed municipal suffrage measures, six (Iowa, North Dakota, Oklahoma, New York, South Dakota and Maine) passed constitutional amendment measures.

In two of these, New York and Maine, the measure goes to the voters this autumn. In Oklahoma and South Dakota it goes to the voters in 1918. Iowa's measure and North Dakota's measure must pass the next legislature before the voters get it. Florida's legislature, which convened in April, has suffrage measures before it.

Georgia's legislature, which convenes in June, still has a chance.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S FRIEND HOPES FOR LIBERTY AND EQUALITY OF SUFFRAGE

COLONEL E. M. HOUSE.

SORRY AMERICA DOES NOT LEAD

Colonel E. M. House Gives His Views on Woman Suffrage.

In a letter regretting his inability to attend the meeting of the men's advisory committee of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party Colonel E. M. House, friend and adviser of President Wilson, says:

"It gives me pleasure to express my deep interest in the cause which you and your associates have done so much to further. I am sorry that America could not have led the way in this great movement for liberty and equality, and I hope she will not lag too far behind the forward-looking nations."

FOR A GREATER DEMOCRACY THE WORLD OVER

The Genoa Tribune
Established 1890
A LOCAL FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Published every Friday
Tribune Building, Genoa, N. Y. E. A. Waldo

Subscription.
One year $1.00
Six months75
Three months50
Single copies05

If no orders are received to discontinue the paper at the expiration of the time paid for, the publisher assumes that the subscriber desires the paper and intends to pay for it. No subscription will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid. Rates for space advertising made known on application. Readers 50 per line. Specials 40 per line. Cards of thanks 25c.
Job Printing. This office is well equipped to do first class printing of every description at moderate prices.

Friday Morning, June 22, 1917

"Only the Half Witted Remain Mute," Writes Robert W. Chambers.

STAND UP AND ANSWER 'HERE.'

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS
Of the Vigilantes.
Author of "The Common Law" and Other Famous Works.

To fill out the state census blanks is the first bit of service which your country asks of you. And it may be the only service you can render to your native land.

Unless you are ignorant, selfish and ungrateful to your country and your Maker you will fill out these blanks promptly, accurately and cheerfully, glad and proud of an opportunity to do something for your country in return for the freedom and protection which she has always afforded you.

It would be well if communities, villages, towns, cities, would make this occasion a patriotic holiday—take a day off to discuss the meaning of this military census and fill in the blanks promptly, so that no delay may embarrass the government in its desire to take stock of the resources of the land before active business begins.

This active business is war. The war is undertaken for one reason only—to defend the liberty which our ancestors fought for, to secure it so that imperial tyrants shall not destroy democracy and wipe it from the face of the globe; so that government for the people and by the people shall continue to exist in America, in France, in Great Britain and not be replaced by a dictatorship and militarism like the arrogant and triumphant German empire.

All the signing of these blanks means is that our republic desires to know upon what it can count in the crisis of necessity; who are fit to serve her, who unfit; what material aid you may have to offer those who are defending you.

Surely it is asking very little of loyal Americans to fill in and sign these information blanks. Few will refuse, there being very few really bad citizens among us. But the main thing is to do it promptly, cheerfully and to find a high order of happiness in being able to render this small service to the motherland.

The questions themselves are perfectly simple and easily understood by anybody with a trace of brain; also their import is plain to anybody who understands what preparation for mobilization of resources includes.

On a large scale the United States government is merely doing what all business men do every six months or at least every year. The government is taking stock of its assets. Its assets are its men and women. Those who amount to anything are correspondingly valuable.

Can you speak a foreign language? Are you a stenographer? Telegrapher? Are you particularly skillful at mechanical work? The government may employ you to help it out in a thousand different ways. Those who have a trade or a profession are valuable. Those who are expert and skilled in profession or trade are even more valuable in time of need. Nobody should hesitate. Nobody should delay in answering "Here!" when the long roll is called. Only the slacker and the half witted will remain mute.

Buy It Now

The suffering of thousands of families this winter will be stopped if farmers will buy now instead of waiting until spring.

NEW YORK NEWS ITEMS IN BRIEF.

Paragraphs of Interest to Readers of Empire State

News of All Kinds Gathered From Various Points in the State and So Reduced in Size That it Will Appeal to All Classes of Readers.

Livonia subscribed for $15,000 in Liberty bonds.

Farm cadets have set up a camp near South Lima.

Holley did 90 per cent of its state census in one day.

Honeoye Falls has organized a home defense unit.

Rochester expects to raise $1,000,000 for the Red Cross.

Hay and small grain show a 40 per cent gain in Yates county.

Wayne county is planning at least 12 camps for farm cadets.

Steuben county has contracted to build a tuberculosis hospital for $29,641.10.

Rochester liquor dealers have organized to combat the anti-saloon league.

Tonawanda, as a municipality spent $214,648.78 during the last fiscal year.

After harvesting its spinach crop a canning company at Mt. Morris has put in corn.

Mt. Morris says the crop situation in the Genesee valley is more serious than ever before.

Senator Sage at a banquet to mayors in Buffalo declared the state will not encroach on the cities' revenues.

Edward J. Barcalo of Buffalo has resigned from the advisory body of the state industrial commission.

Representatives of 80 per cent of the Western New York trolley companies are in favor of six-cent fares.

Rochester is to raise three of the 12 companies for the ammunition train recently ordered by the war department.

Governor Whitman and former Governor Walsh of Massachusetts will be guests of the city of Rochester on July 4.

On the farm of Henry Morrison, four miles north of Waterloo, 13 cows were struck by lightning and killed during a storm.

Gowanda, Westfield and Le Roy are three Western New York villages that have oversubscribed allotments of Liberty bonds.

Avon women have organized a class in motor driving under the direction of the National League for Women's Service.

A Wayne county Red Cross chapter was organized in Sodus, delegations being present from most of the circles in the county.

Memorial and St. Mary's hospitals, in Niagara Falls, have raised their rates 15 per cent because of advances in the cost of supplies.

Thirty Mexican laborers employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company on construction work near Dunkirk have left for Texas.

Orleans county, having a population of less than 35,000, will not be obliged to erect a tuberculosis hospital under a law recently enacted.

Home defense corps from Canandaigua Clifton Springs and Shortsville are expected to take part in a big demonstration at Phelps on July 4.

The closing session of the conference of mayors at Buffalo re-elected Cornelius F. Burns of Troy, president, and decided to meet at Newburg next year.

William Hamlin Childs of Brooklyn, president of the Barrett company, was elected a trustee of Syracuse university at the annual meeting of the trustees.

Following his success in forming a company of 100, former Mayor Erasmus C. Knight of Buffalo has asked for permission to form a battalion for home defense.

Mrs. Jacob Nies of Dansville, a woman nearly 80 years old and the mother of 15 children, plowed her home patch of nearly an acre of land, using a horse and plow.

Niagara's "war chest," on which the county defense committee will draw to buy uniforms for the home guard corps, was voted by the board of supervisors. It totals $50,000.

The Red Cross society of Boston, N. Y., which was organized in the last winter and which now has 32 members, has collected $80 to equip a bed in the base hospital in Buffalo.

Mrs. Charlotte Schueler of Rochester plunged 125 feet to her death in the Genesee river. She was working in her little war garden and the bank gave way. She was 67 years old.

One hundred and fifty communicants of Westfield Methodist church contributed $1 each to create a fund to purchase Liberty bonds. The step was taken as a mark of patriotism and a church investment.

John McMahon and Ralph McCarthy, living in the eastern section of the town of Victor, had several valuable sheep killed by vicious dogs. The damage done was frightful, the sheep being mangled and torn.

Forestville taxpayers this spring voted to expend $15,000 in repaving that village's main street. Only one bid has been tendered. This is for $23,000. It was rejected. Indications point to no improvement at present.

That there were less than 50 cases of slackness in Niagara county on registration day is the opinion of the county registration board after checking the returns.

Although there is a demand for more crops, at least two farms in the vicinity of Lockport are idle this year, Nelson R. Peet, manager of the county farm bureau states. He has notified the state food commissioner.

Olean has set $20,000 as the minimum contribution to the Red Cross fund, during a campaign to be waged in that city from the 18th to the 25th inst. One woman, whose name is not made public, will subscribe $2,000.

Dogs raided a flock of sheep belonging to Santo Calenco of Clyde and did $150 worth of damage. The flock was surrounded by a wire fence supposed to be "dog-proof," but the dogs succeeded in making a hole through the wire.

William C. Hipmer of Tonawanda has been posted as a deserter by Captain A. M. Barager of Company H, Third regiment, New York Infantry. He is 26 years old and a plumber by trade. The notice has been turned over to the sheriff.

Rochester is said to be bone dry for all soldiers, sailors and marines.

Two large hogs squeezed out of a Central train running through Dunkirk at 20 miles an hour. The animals flopped several times and then ran, uninjured through the city.

Lewiston Presbyterians celebrated the centennial of the organization and incorporation of their society in that village. Upward of 400 attended, among whom was the Rev. John W. Ross of Cavalry Presbyterian church, Buffalo, a former Lewiston pastor.

The Troy Record has declared a one per cent dividend of $1,000 to be paid into the treasury of the Troy Red Cross. The newspaper is the first corporation in Troy to take such action, and as far as is known, is the first newspaper in the country.

The Donner Steel company of Buffalo has put in blast furnace B of the iron works at Tonawanda. This will give employment to about 150 more men. The plant has been remodeled since it was leased by the Buffalo company from the Tonawanda Iron & Steel company.

The Sanitary Can company of Fairport is rushed day and night and is turning out between 16 and 18 car loads of cans each working day. This enormous output is greater than has been made at the plant before and the number of employees is greater this year than formerly.

The Chautauqua county home defense committee, through its secretary, Henry C. Drake of Fredonia, has issued a letter to the various patriotic sub-committees in the several towns and cities of the county, asking them to arrange suitable celebrations of Independence day.

Plans for a conference to be held at Syracuse, at which food conservation, production, marketing and other agricultural problems will be taken up, have been approved by Governor Whitman, and the New York state food supply commission fixed July 5 and 6 as the date for the sessions.

Announcement was made by L. J. Steele, manager of the Orleans county farm bureau, that many peach trees in that county are infested with the peach tree borer. These insects spend the winter in burrows beneath the bark. Full growth larvae pupate in the spring and emerge as moths about July 1.

Clifford R. Pettis, superintendent of state forests, has been appointed the recruiting officer for a regiment of woodsmen and mill workers to be sent abroad for early service in France. The regiment will form a part of the engineer reserve corps and is being organized at the request of the allies.

New York's total registration, 1,036,573, according to a telegram sent by Gov. Whitman to Provost Marshal General Crowder, was divided as follows: White, 750,439; negro, 18,954; alien, 236,098; alien enemies, 31,172. The indicated possible exemptions 727,809. The state's estimated eligibles numbered 1,100,206.

The hiring of young women to act as machinist helpers in the Hornell Erie shops shows to what extent the Erie is going to supplant men with women wherever possible. One young woman has been hired as an assistant boilermaker. This is the first time in the history of the Erie that women have been engaged in such work.

Attorney General Merton E. Lewis has issued an opinion holding that women employees of the state who enlist for Red Cross work are entitled to be paid by the state the difference between their state pay and the pay they receive in the Red Cross work. Before entering the Red Cross work, however, the women must obtain consent of the governor.

The public service commission has approved the transfer of the property and franchises of the old Buffalo, Attica & Arcade railroad to the new Attica & Arcade Railroad corporation and has authorized the latter to issue $125,000 of common stock at par to take over the foreclosed property and to rehabilitate that 1 1/2 miles of the old Wellsville & Buffalo line, which it is authorized to lease for 7 1/2 years.

Seneca county fishermen received with joy the announcement that Auburn sportsmen will petition the state conservation commission for permission to dip the bass from Seneca river into the waters of Cayuga lake. It is said that bass in great numbers have come into the river hoping to get into Cayuga lake, but are held back by the six big gates. State game laws prohibit fishing within 50 feet of the locks.

"BACK TO SOIL" IN KANSAS CITY

Vacant Lot Gardening Plan Meets With Ready Response.

SCOPE OF THE CAMPAIGN

It is Expected That the Propaganda Will Result in Placing More Than a Thousand Families on Garden Plots Before the Planting Season is Over. Owners Donate Land.

That ogre, high cost of living, is due for a terrific jolt if the present plans of the real estate board of Kansas City, Mo., in the vacant lot gardening campaign are carried through to completion, says Ward C. Gifford in the Town Development Magazine.

There is every reason to believe that this propaganda, which now has the greatest promise of success, will result in placing more than 1,000 families on garden plots before the planting season is over. Already more than 200 have been assigned to vacant property, and the good work is going on.

With the help of the newspapers a degree of enthusiasm has been aroused that is bringing out the gardeners in great numbers and also has aroused property owners to the real merit of the propaganda which has resulted in generous donations of land for gardening purposes.

Land which heretofore has been the repository for cans, trash and ashes or has been permitted to grow up in weeds this year has been turned under the plow and a little later will shoot forth the first indications of what it is hoped will be a bountiful harvest. The thing that has made the campaign this year a genuine success is the influence of a strong civic organization behind the movement to back up the demand of the gardeners for the use of the vacant property. And with all the success the plan is not nearly so comprehensive as one that can be worked out for future years. Such a campaign has great possibilities.

Not only has the real estate board been brought favorably before the public eye, but the fame of the campaign has spread to other cities and has been chronicled in out of town papers. Motion pictures have been taken of the starting of the work and will be taken later on as the gardens develop.

The real estate board in this campaign took entirely upon its own shoulders the burden of acting as a clearing house for the gardeners and the property owners. It was the mission of the board to put these two in communication with each other with the ultimate object of placing the gardener on the vacant lot.

The present high cost of living, of course, helped to bring out the gardeners. It is one of the things that have given added incentive to successful gardening, and many offered to pay rent for the lots, but in no case would the board handle lots on this basis.

A call for donations of property to be used for gardening purposes was issued through the press and a circular letter sent to each member of the real estate board. This request brought a surprisingly prompt and bountiful response. Vacant lots in all parts of the city were listed, and the only requirements made by the property owners was that in case of sale or improvement of the property the gardening privilege might be revoked.

The real estate board committee in charge of the propaganda made a general rule in connection with all lots donated for gardening purposes that at least one line of flowers should be planted along the lot line fronting the street. This regulation applied to all lots except boulevard plots, where it was required that ten feet of blue grass must be cultivated from the property line back. At the point where the blue grass ends the customary row of flowers was required.

It is easy to see what a large scope the campaign is taking. The actual assignments being made by the real estate board represent only a small per cent of the real gardening that is being stimulated by the propaganda. Back yards in all parts of the city suddenly are being cleaned up. Many persons have obtained privately the privilege to garden vacant lots and have started work on them, and of hundreds of these the board has no record because the assignments were not cleared through the board office, although the garden was stimulated by the publicity attending the real estate board's work.

To Teach City Managing. The establishment of a course in city management at Hobart college, to be financed by Powell Evans, chairman of the committee to revise the city charter of Philadelphia, has been announced by President Lyman Powell of Hobart college.

The course will consist of a series of lectures by city managing experts from many parts of the country. Dr. Richard Gruenberg, director of the bureau of municipal research in Philadelphia, will go to Hobart in the fall to direct the course.

Anti-Litter Movement. The civic bureau of the Newark (O.) chamber of commerce will co-operate with city officials in ridding the streets of the unsightly and insanitary litter in the business districts.

Who Can Tell of the Morrow? Don't Delay. Go to Church Next Sunday.

SOME of the young people of today when asked why they do not GO TO CHURCH say that they are too busy having a good time; that they will GO TO CHURCH when they grow old. They'll vehemently declare their belief in God and admit that the church is all right. But they repeat that they will have plenty of time to repent and GO TO CHURCH in their declining years.

How many of these young people are sure that they will live to be old? How many of them can positively say that they will LIVE TO SEE ANOTHER DAY? Procrastination is the thief of time. Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today. If you are having a good time now and neglecting church, GOD MAY NEGLECT YOU when you need him most.

AFTER ALL, THE SO CALLED GOOD TIMES ARE MORE OR LESS EMPTY. YOU'LL HAVE A REAL GOOD TIME IN CHURCH. IT'S THE MAN WITH THE EASY CONSCIENCE WHO HAS THE REAL GOOD TIME IN THIS WORLD. TROUBLED CONSCIENCES RESULT FROM MANY OF THE SO CALLED GOOD TIMES OF TODAY. ISN'T THIS TRUE? THINK IT OVER. GOD WANTS THE YOUNG PEOPLE. THE CHURCH WANTS THE YOUNG PEOPLE. PREACHERS WANT THE YOUNG PEOPLE IN CHURCH. THE LESSONS THAT ARE TAUGHT THERE FIT A MAN OR WOMAN FOR THE BATTLE OF LIFE.

It seems that in every line of endeavor but the church YOUTH IS ENTHUSIASTIC. Why not become enthusiastic over church? Isn't the goal worth while? Every young man and young woman in this community should make it a point to GO TO CHURCH next Sunday. When you were a child you went to church. Why forget the church in the days of early manhood or womanhood? If there ever is a time when you NEED THE CHURCH MOST it is then. It is the MOST CRITICAL PERIOD of your life.

The church is the BULWARK OF THE NATION. You will have to admit that, young people. Then why not help along this grand GO TO CHURCH movement and attend divine service next Sunday? GO TO CHURCH.

Egbert Quality Clothes

Perhaps you have noticed that men who buy their clothes at this store, seldom switch to any other and this fact is full of significance.

It means that Egbert Clothes have given the satisfaction expected of them, or, in other words, Egbert Clothes have proven to be as represented.

Prices at $12.50, 15.00, 18.00, 20.00, 22.50, 25.00 and 28.00.

C. R. EGBERT,
The People's Clothier, Hatter and Furnisher
75 GENESEE ST. AUBURN, N. Y.

A Friend In Need Is a Friend Indeed

Do you need anything? READ THE HOME PAPER. It will tell you where to buy in town. It will tell you where to sell.

The Home Paper Boosts Home Trade
BOOST THE BOOSTER

Try Our JOB PRINTING

THE GENOA TRIBUNE
and N. Y. World $1.65

THE GENOA TRIBUNE

Published every Friday and entered at the postoffice at Genoa, N. Y., at second class mail matter.

Friday Morning, June 22, 1917

Letter to the President.

Oh, Woody, dear, and did ye hear
The noise that's going round?
We are rising by ten thousands
And we're ploughin' of the ground!
We are droppin' in the corn and beans,
We are plantin' wheat for all,
We are mobilizin' turnips, too,
An' answerin' the call!

Your Auntie Sam is makin' jam
For all the boys to eat,
And when she gets her dander up,
You know she can't be beat!
She's bossin' all the folks about,
The farm's no home at all—
It's just a mobilizin' camp
For answerin' the call!

So, Woody, dear, ye need not fear,
The country's coming strong,
You can hear the factories' whistles,
You can hear the dummy's gong,
You can hear the crops a-sproutin',
You can hear the seedlings say,
"We're pushing up for freedom, too,
We'll do our bit to-day!"

Your Uncle Sam says "Here I am!"
We're marching everywhere;
We are plantin' beets an' bayonets,
O, we've hayseeds in our hair!
But we're marchin' to the music
Of a lasting peace for all—
With our reapers and our muskets
We are answering the call!
—Chicago Tribune.

New Boards of Education.

Below are given the boards of education elected June 12 for the towns and town units in Dist. No. 4 of Cayuga county of which G. B. Springer of Genoa is superintendent. Their term of office begins Aug. 1, 1917, and they serve for the length of time stated after each name.

Unit No. 1—
F. T. Atwater, King Ferry, one year.

Wm. Bunnell, Atwater, two years.
H. A. Bradley, King Ferry, three years.

Unit No. 2—
Warren Holden, Genoa, one year.
Bert Smith, Locke, R. D., two years.

Morell Wilson, Genoa, three years.
Town of Scipio.

A. C. Cowles, Ensenore, one year.
Robert Manchester, Merrifield, one year.

Earl Morgan, Merrifield, two years.
Jesse Otis, Venice Center, two years.

Harmon Sawyer, Ensenore, three years.
Town of Venice.

Eugene Storms, Moravia, R. D., one year.

Charles Cook, Venice Center, one year.

Fred Lester, Locke, R. D., two years.

John Corey, King Ferry, R. D., two years.

Norman Arnold, Venice Center, three years.

Not Commercial Cars.

Albany, June 11—So long as the farmers of this state do not make any actual changes in the body of their pleasure cars, they can carry their butter, eggs and produce to town without being called upon to take out a commercial license for their car, according to a bill which has just become a law. Racks along running boards, a box or platform attachment transforms a pleasure car into a commercial vehicle calling for the payment of commercial registration fees to Secretary of State Hugo's office. The amendment excluding pleasure cars so used from commercial classification will materially aid thousands of farmers.

Sympathetic Old Lady—You must find those soldier suits very hot. R. O. T. C.—I do, but it's a uniform heat.—Harvard Lampoon.

Good ideas are often like airships. We like to see 'em sail, but haven't the ambition to climb on.

Genoa Presbyterian Church Notes

Morning service at 11 o'clock. Everyone should attend some church regularly. Those not worshipping elsewhere are urged to worship with us. Whole families should come together. Make it possible for all to remain for the session of the Sunday school meeting at the close of the morning service.

Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Topic: "Mission Work in Our Cities."
Evening service at 7:30 o'clock. We particularly urge the older people of the church to attend this service and enjoy with us the song service followed by message from the pastor.

Mid-week service, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Please note the change in hour. It was felt by those in attendance last week that this hour would prove more generally satisfactory than an earlier hour. Will you not be present this week? Topic: "Watch and Pray."

The communion service will be held the second Sunday in July instead of the first. In connection with this service there is planned a reception of members into the church. Any desiring to be received at that time should consult with the pastor.

"Church Night" proved an enjoyable evening for a large number of our people last Monday night. Many expressed the hope that there would be more such gatherings for the church family.

The "Every Member Social Canvass" last Sunday afternoon brought the church into touch with practically all the families of the congregation. We hope that as a result the families will determine to come into closer relationship to the church.

Genoa Baptist Church Notes.

Sunday was a good day for this church. At the morning service, Rev. E. B. Richmond, executive secretary of the Baptist Convention of the State of New York, gave a very interesting and helpful address on the work of the Convention. Both services of the day were well attended and a fine spirit prevailed among the people.

Our services for Sunday, June 24, are as follows:
Morning service at 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 12 o'clock.
Evening service at 7:45. Subject: "Ye Must be Born Again."
Mid-week meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Bolts Corner School Picnic.

In eastern New York it has become general for the "old scholars" of the "little red school house" to hold annual reunions each year. This custom has been established at the Bolts Corner school, Merrifield, and plans are being completed for the second annual basket picnic to be held on the school grounds Saturday, June 30. Dinner will be served promptly at noon.

The officers of the association are mailing folders to all former pupils and teachers. They realize that many will fail to receive one of these announcements as there is no record of the pupils, and memory is the only means they have for compiling a mailing list. Therefore, if any pupil or teacher fails to receive an announcement they are urged to attend just the same and join with their friends in making the event a success.

Each former pupil will be requested to register on the day of the picnic as an endeavor to perfect as complete a mailing list as possible will be made and everyone is urged to leave the name and address of those whom they chance to know.

The presence of Mr. Asaph Whiting, who now lives at Moravia and taught the school 50 years ago, is looked forward to as one of the pleasing features of the day. Mr. Whiting has assured James F. Gleason, president of the association, that he plans to be present. The other officers of the association are: Vice-Pres., Anna Waring Kennedy; Sec. and Treas., Mabel Beebe Cranson; Historian, Mary Goode Cotter; Asst. Hist., Elizabeth Bowness Lacey.

A message from those who cannot attend will be appreciated. Address all communications to the secretary at Merrifield.

A sad looking man at the corner table in the restaurant had been waiting a long time for the fulfillment of his order. Finally, the waiter approached and said: "Your fish will be coming in a minute or two now, sir. The sad man looked interested. "Tell me," he said, "what bait are you using?"

Robert L. Baker.

The sudden death of Robert L. Baker of Aurora on Thursday, June 14, was a great shock to his relatives and many friends in the town of Ledyard where he had been a life-long resident.

Apparently in the best of health, Mr. Baker, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeShong, motored to Geneva Thursday, where he tried an examination for a chauffeur's license.

Shortly after taking the examination he was taken ill, but not thinking it serious the party started home. In Auburn he consulted a physician and rested for a time, and the party then came home. On reaching Aurora, he was so very ill that Mrs. Baker at once summoned Dr. Cuddeback, but before he arrived, Mr. Baker died. Dr. Andrew J. Forman, coroner, was called and he pronounced death due to acute dilation of the heart.

Mr. Baker was born in Aurora Jan. 16, 1876, the son of William and Sarah Gifford Baker. He leaves a wife, Lillian Tilton Baker, his father and three sisters, Mrs. Bert Crow, Mrs. Robert Breeze and Mrs. William Bowen.

The funeral services were held at his late residence Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Rev. G. P. Sewall officiating. Burial was made in Oak Glen cemetery, Aurora.

Special Notices.

FOR SALE—Seed buckwheat, also one good work horse.
48w1 Chas. E. Shaw, King Ferry.

Butter for sale. Call on or write John Sill, Locke, R. D. 22. 48w2

Pasture to rent on Myers place.
48w3 Seymour Parks, Genoa.

FOUND—In the road just east of this village, gentleman's umbrella. Owner can have same by calling at this office and paying for this notice.

WANTED—At once, a housekeeper for all summer, middle aged lady competent to go ahead with work; in country; family of two; work light. Inquire at TRIBUNE office.
47w2

WANTED—Sewing by the day.
Mrs. Cora Burrows, at B. F. Sigler's, North Lansing. 47w2

FOR SALE—Top buggy in good condition. Carl Reas, Genoa.
39tf

FOR SALE—Garage business. Fine opportunity for anyone with capital. Owner retiring from business. Write immediately. "Opportunity" in care this office. 45w4

Pigs for sale.
Harry S. Ferris, Atwater. 41tf Miller phone.

I pay the highest market price for poultry, eggs, veal and beef cattle.
Leo A. Smith, King Ferry. 36w13 Phone 17-F-2 Poplar Ridge.

WANTED—Hides, pelts, tallow and wool. We pay reliable quotations.
Wilbur Bros. & Starrow, King Ferry. 34tf

72 acre farm at a bargain. Known as the John Miller farm and occupied by Fred Storms, in town of Venice, Cayuga County, N. Y. Other good bargains.
C. G. Parker, Moravia, N. Y. 14tf

Cash paid for poultry delivered every Tuesday. We want your old rubber, beef and horse hides, deacon skins.
Weaver & Brogan, Genoa. 14tf

FOR SALE— $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ bu. peach baskets, grape baskets, grape trays, pear kegs and barrels, potato crates, etc.
King Ferry Mill Co., King Ferry, N. Y. 3tf

Improve the Stock

If your stock is in poor condition does not thrive or look well, it will pay you to get a 25-ct. package of Harvell's Condition Powder. There is no foodstuff in the package. It is all medicine. Every ingredient being chosen for its beneficial effect on the stomach, blood and bowels. The animal improves right from the start and quickly recovers flesh, spirits and a bright glossy coat. Price 25 cts Sold by all dealers.

YOUR PRINTING

is A Valuable Asset
of Your Business

We Help Our Customers to Success
With Presentable,
Profitable
PUBLICITY

Smith's Serve

Rochester

Ice

Cream

IT'S DELICIOUS

There's none better--if there was we'd have it.

Announcement to Subscribers.

¶ We have been considering raising the subscription price of THE TRIBUNE for some time, and it has now become a necessity to do so. The high price of paper alone is sufficient to warrant a raise in price, and everything used in the production of a paper is higher than a year ago. We believe our subscribers understand the situation too well to need any further explanation on our part.

¶ The day of the "dollar weekly" is past, but THE TRIBUNE is the last one in this section to raise above that rate. Ample opportunity will be given each subscriber to take advantage of the old rate. All subscriptions paid before July 1, 1917, will be received at $1.00. After that date it will be $1.25 per year, 65 cents for six months.

¶ We wish to call the attention of those subscribers who paid several years in advance at the time of the piano contest, to the fact that the most of those subscriptions expire in 1917 and are now due for renewal.
E. A. WALDO, Publisher.

Cabbage Growers to Meet.

June 23 will see the transplanting of cabbage in full force in Central New York fields. The growers are invited to gather under auspices of the New York State Vegetable Growers' association at Cortland at 10:30 a. m. on that day to participate in a meeting which will deal solely with this crop. There is to be a short session in Grange hall on Railroad St. in the morning and after dinner a number of farms will be visited. These are being selected to show a wide variety of methods and to show the possible stages of progress in the crop for the season. The party will disband at a point fifteen or twenty miles north of Cortland. Those who come by train will be provided with cars if they notify Mr. A. S. Merchant, Cortland, N. Y., in advance. Provision will be made for connection with trains in the late afternoon.

This is a busy season for cabbage men, but no other time is so good for a comparison of methods as when plants are being pulled and set. Those who cannot get off for the morning, may join the party at the Cortland House at 1 p. m.

Manhood was never vindicated by watching the wife wield a mop.

Old Friends Are the Best
Because they have stood the test and are known to be true. Dr. Herrick's Sugar-Coated Pills have been used by more than three generations for relieving biliousness, disordered stomach and constipation. They are to this day the main dependence in thousands upon thousands of families for keeping both adults and children healthy and vigorous. Sold by all dealers.

OLD FALSE TEETH BOUGHT

broken or in any condition. We pay up to $5 a set, according to value. Mail at once and get our offer. If unsatisfactory will return teeth.
DOMESTIC SUPPLY CO., Binghamton, N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM
A hair preparation of merit. Lotion to excite the hair. For Restoring Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair. 25c and 50c at Druggists.

AUTOMOBILES

THE SEASON IS HERE FOR ANOTHER YEAR'S ENJOYMENT. NOTHING WILL ADD TO YOUR PLEASURE AND HAPPINESS EQUAL TO THE OWNERSHIP OF A "STUDEBAKER," "OAKLAND" OR A "BRISCOE" ACCORDING TO YOUR NEEDS.

WE CARRY THE "STUDEBAKERS" IN STOCK, THE OTHERS WE OBTAIN FROM AUBURN.

COME AND MAKE YOUR REQUIREMENTS KNOWN AND LETS WORK OUT YOUR INDIVIDUAL PROPOSITION. WE HAVE A PLAN FOR EXTENDED CREDIT WHICH PUTS THE OWNERSHIP OF A CAR WITHIN YOUR REACH IF YOU DESIRE CREDIT.

... YOURS FOR SERVICE ...

Atwater--Bradley Corporation
GENOA, N. Y.

The Glorious Fourth

WILL SOON BE HERE.

I am prepared with a big line of the following goods:

SUITS FOR MEN AND BOYS Rain Coats, Dress Shirts, Sport and work Shirts, Socks in all colors, Underwear, separate and Union Suits, Hats and Caps, Gloves, Panama Hats, all kinds of Straw Hats, Overalls of the Sweat-Orr make, separate Pants and Knee Pants.	LINEN DUSTERS FOR MEN AND LADIES Douglas Shoes at old prices, Canvas Work Shoes, Tennis Shoes and Oxfords for men, boys and ladies. You will save money on your purchases while this present stock lasts.
---	--

GENOA CLOTHING STORE, M. G. SHAPERO.

FARMERS, NOTICE!

The use of Lime promotes the growth of clover, alfalfa and other leguminous plants. The direct result of which is soil improvement. "For the Land's Sake" Try It. We have a stock of Ground Lime on hand, and in a very short time, will also have the Burned Lime.

C. J. Wheeler - - - Genoa, N. Y.
Coal, Fertilizer, Cement and Farm Implements of all kinds. Please call or phone and let us know your requirements.

Village and Vicinity News.

—Frank Miller is in Seneca Falls for a week or two.

—We are having our longest days and shortest nights just now.

—Miss Van De Bogart of Ithaca spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Herbert Gay.

—Mrs. Cora Green has returned to her home in Genoa, after spending some time in Moravia.

—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. D. Harris of Genoa, in Dr. Skinner's hospital, June 16, a daughter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Callanan and son of Auburn were over-Sunday guests of Mrs. Mary Connell.

—Mrs. Frances Rundell, who has recently returned from Ithaca, is at the home of D. W. Smith and family.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warren were Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's nephew, Fred Lamkin, at Ledyard.

Nice line of Panama and white straw hats for summer. Mrs. Singer, Genoa. 48tf

—Mrs. Mary Brown of Cortland and Mrs. Edith Cutter of Lansing spent Tuesday with their aunt, Mrs. H. D. Blue.

—Mrs. W. H. Mosher and little daughter of Auburn have been spending the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Foster.

—The Aldrich-Whiting reunion will be held on Wednesday, June 27, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reynolds and family in this village.

See Hagin's fine display of candy.

—Miss Jane Louw went to the home of Mrs. Angeline Osmun at North Lansing, Thursday, to assist in caring for Mrs. Osmun and her sister.

—Mrs. Ella Algert and Mrs. Rachel Sanford went to Auburn yesterday and accompanied Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Groom to their home at Willard for a visit.

—Miss Eleanor Sharp arrived home from Wellesley for the summer vacation, Saturday night, after spending a few days with a college friend on the Hudson.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Donnell and little son of Syracuse have been guests at D. C. Hunter's this week. They have also been guests at the home of Mrs. O'Donnell's uncle, Geo. Hall, east of the village.

—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sellen of Shelby, Ohio, motored to Genoa, the latter part of last week, arriving here Saturday evening. Mr. Sellen left the following day. Mrs. Sellen will spend a month in Genoa and vicinity.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Bower and daughter Lillian and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tilton and two daughters were called to Aurora to attend the funeral of Robert L. Baker on Saturday, Mrs. Baker being a sister of Mrs. Bower and Mr. Tilton. Mrs. Bower remained until Thursday.

Summer Millinery Sale, mark down. Call and see Belle Peck, Genoa. 46tf

—G. P. Brigham of Moravia, who several months ago purchased the Purdie farm on the Indian Field road, has exchanged the farm with Chester Wolford of Ithaca for the latter's rooming house in that city. Mr. Wolford and family will move to the farm about July 5. The exchange of property was made through the agency of Willard Wilcox, real estate dealer.

—The many friends of Leland W. Singer in this village and vicinity were surprised to learn of his illness and consequent operation on Wednesday, and trust that he may soon recover his health. Mr. Singer is a member of the 1917 graduating class of Cornell University, in the Arts course, and expected to go up and receive his diploma next Wednesday but he will be obliged to forego that pleasure.

—A severe electrical storm, accompanied by hail, swept over this section Wednesday at noon. The rainfall was very heavy, but no serious damage is reported in this vicinity. Hail did some damage to grape vineyards along the lake. During the storm, a portion of the new Remington salt plant near Ithaca was leveled by the high wind which prevailed in that section. The damage was estimated at between two thousand and three thousand dollars. A barn owned by L. H. VanKirk on West hill, Ithaca, was struck by lightning and burned with its contents.

—Jas. Colgan has purchased a new five-passenger Ford car.

—James Nolan's house has been newly painted. Ed Miller did the work.

—Dr. and Mrs. M. K. Willoughby of Auburn were visitors in town Sunday afternoon.

—Elsie Newman of North Lansing spent several days with Mrs. A. Lanterman this week.

—Miss Bernice McAvoy returned last week, after spending a week at the home of her uncle in Ithaca.

—Miss Vera C. Eaton, formerly of Venice, is a member of the 1917 graduating class of Cortland Normal.

—Little Sidney Landon of Poplar Ridge has been spending several days this week with Mrs. J. W. Myer.

—Commencement week at Cornell University is June 22 to 27 inclusive. Commencement day is Wednesday, June 27.

—June seems to be the month of school and family reunions in this section. No less than seven are announced in this issue.

—The Chaffee reunion will be held at the home of Clarence Hollister at Five Corners on Saturday, June 30. All relatives are invited.

—Mrs. French of Belltown has been spending a week with Mrs. H. D. Blue and other Genoa friends. She returned home Tuesday.

—Miss Ruth Haskin of Atwater and Mr. S. L. Snyder of Sayre, Pa., were married in Genoa, Saturday, June 16, by Rev. H. C. Odell.

—Mr. and Mrs. Burr Dickerson of Genoa attended the King reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brill in King Ferry Saturday last.

—Mrs. G. M. Barrows returned to her home in Pompey Thursday, after spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Sydney Smith, and family.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hagin and two sons were at Ledyard a part of the day, Sunday last, to see Mr. Hagin's sister, Mrs. Winn, who is ill.

—Mrs. Burton and two children have recently arrived from their home in Florida to spend the summer at the home of the former's father, Elmer Delap.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bruton and two children of Cortland have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan, and other relatives during the past week.

Don't delay selecting your summer hat. Styles to suit all at reasonable prices. Mrs. Singer, Genoa. 48tf

—The Sharpsteen and Bothwell reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Younglove in East Genoa on Saturday, June 23. All branches of the families will be cordially welcome.

—The "Church Night" gathering in the Presbyterian church Monday evening was largely attended and a pleasant social time was enjoyed by the company. A program of some length was rendered, including selections by Bower's orchestra, readings, vocal and piano solos, duets, etc. The piano duet by the two young members of the Sunday school, Erica Adolph and Alice Joy Wheeler, was a pleasing feature. Light refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in visiting among the members of the church family. The presence of so many people from outside the village was gratifying. Fully 125 people were present.

—Dr. Skinner's hospital is a busy place these days—there being seven patients at present. Thos. Smith of King Ferry is very critically ill with heart and liver trouble. Mrs. Peacock of Owasco, Mrs. Geo. DeWitt of Niles, Edwin Stark of King Ferry, and Mrs. D. Harris and infant child of Genoa are among those being cared for. A. L. Jenks of Genoa was taken to the hospital last Saturday afternoon for treatment. He is confined to the bed, suffering from torn ligaments of the leg. On Saturday at his home, he swallowed a pin and was obliged to undergo treatment to remove the pin from the throat. The other patient is Leland W. Singer of this village, who was taken to the hospital Wednesday morning suffering from appendicitis and peritonitis. He had been ill for several days and had previously had one or two similar attacks while at Cornell, so that an operation seemed absolutely necessary. Dr. Besemer of Ithaca, assisted by Drs. Skinner and Gard, performed an operation about noon, which is thought to have been entirely successful. He is reported as doing as well as could be expected. A special nurse from Ithaca is caring for him.

—The Cortland summer school will open June 28 and continue until Aug. 3.

—Mrs. George Anthony of Moravia who has been critically ill, is reported as improving.

—The marriage of Miss Norma Dye and Jay Conger, Jr., of Groton, took place last Saturday evening.

—The Sunday schools of Cortland county will hold a union picnic on Cortland fair grounds on Saturday, June 30.

—Cayuga Preventorium, a few miles from Ithaca, is to be opened July 5 and twenty children will be cared for during the summer.

—A house in Bath in which several persons had died of tuberculosis was burned the other day by consent of the authorities.

—In a list of fifteen Tompkins county doctors who have been accepted for the medical reserve corps is the name of Dr. J. H. Van Marter of Groton.

—The second annual picnic of the Rebekah lodge of Tompkins district was held Friday, June 15, on the campus at the College of Agriculture.

—There will be preaching service again at East Venice hall next Sunday at 3 o'clock. Preaching by Rev. Peter Gjurich of Venice Center. All are cordially invited.

—Commencement exercises at Oakwood Seminary will be held this (Friday) evening. Rev. A. W. Beaven, of Rochester, will deliver the address of the evening.

—Cayuga County Pomona Grange basket picnic and field day will be held at Ellis Park, Weedsport, on Saturday, June 30. There will be athletic sports of all kinds and prizes given.

—A new law provides that the compensation for town assessors shall be increased from $2 to $3 a day and town boards are given power to make a still further increase not to exceed $5 a day.

—The Metzgar reunion, which was to have been held with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Andrus in Pitcher on June 9, has been postponed until Saturday, June 23. Conveyances will meet the trains at Cincinnati.

—The fifteenth annual Teeter family reunion will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sperry, one mile west of Ludlowville, on Saturday, June 30. All relatives are cordially invited to attend.

—The Seneca county Courier-Journal says rightly that "this country is not a free country, if the people are not able to defend themselves from manipulation of prices of the fundamental necessities of life."

—The forty-fourth anniversary and fifth reunion of the pupils of Dr. Tillotson's Select School will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. King at King Ferry, on Saturday, June 30, 1917, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

—The 37th annual reunion of the 75th Regt., N. Y. Vols., will be held on Saturday, June 30, in the First M. E. church of Auburn. Dinners will be served to the comrades of the association by the ladies of the church. General Assembly at 10:30 a. m., when program will be announced.

—The High school pupils, who left school some time ago to work on farms and who have in the meantime left their places and still expect to claim their Regents' credit, are doomed to disappointment. The Education department at Albany has made a ruling that boys must stick to their farm work for the summer or they will not get Regents' credits for school work.

Wedding invitations and announcements neatly printed at this office.

—The school on the Indian Field road taught by Miss Bessie Reynolds and the school on Goose street taught by Miss Myra Reynolds enjoyed a picnic last Friday at the home of the two teachers in this village. Eighteen pupils were present and all had a fine time. The children enjoyed the dinner served by their hostesses, and also the games and other good things provided for their entertainment.

—Joseph Augenblick, 18, of Newark, N. J., a freshman at Cornell University, was drowned and Eddie H. Regenburt, 19, his companion, had a narrow escape, when their canoe capsized Tuesday afternoon in Cayuga lake, near McKinney's Point, two miles north of Ithaca. The accident marked the first drowning of the season at the lake which almost annually exacts a toll from Cornell student canoeists.

Wedding Silver

Were silver to be banished from the list of suitable wedding gifts, the dining room of the new home would be a barren spot indeed.

Half the charm of a wedding would be lost without silver gifts. For years the people have come to this store to buy their wedding silver. Our beautiful designs and moderate prices and quality standards give ample assurance of their worth. Come and see our big display of gifts for the bride and graduate.

A. T. HOYT,

Leading Jeweler and Optometrist,
HOYT BLOCK MORAVIA, N. Y.

—The New York State department of the Woman's Relief Corps will convene in Saratoga June 26, 27 and 28.

—David Jennings has been named superintendent of the races for the Cayuga County fair which will be held at Moravia Aug. 7-10.

—Wells college held its annual commencement exercises Tuesday. The principal speaker was Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University. The graduates numbered thirty-two.

—Rev. Stephen A. Lloyd, pastor of the First Congregational church of Cortland for the past six and a half years, has tendered his resignation to take effect Sept. 15. He has received a call from the First Congregational church of Poughkeepsie.

The Examination of the Eyes to see if glasses are necessary is a scientific piece of work which not everyone is competent. The old method of having the patient read a few letters on a chart has long since been relegated to the past by the expert EYE SPECIALIST.

If you come to us we can prove that our office is equipped with the most scientific and precise instruments known to the optical profession.

A. E. Trea, O. D.,
Eye Specialist
212 E. STATE ST., ITHACA, N. Y.

Ithaca Auburn Short Line

Central New York Southern Railroad Corporation.

In Effect Sept. 21, 1914. Corrected to Nov. 11, 1915

SOUTHBOUND—Read Down					STATIONS					NORTH BOUND—Read Up
27	23	421	21	31	31 1/2	422	22	24	28	Daily	Daily	Daily	Daily	Daily
Daily	Daily	Sunday Only	Daily Except Sun.	Daily Except Sun.	Daily Except Sun.	Sunday Only	Daily Except Sun.	Daily Except Sun.	Daily	Daily	Daily	Daily	Daily	Daily
P M	P M	A M	A M	A M	A M	A M	A M	A M	P M	P M	P M	P M	P M	P M
6 40	1 50	8 30	8 30	6 45	AUBURN	9 20	11 09	11 27	5 00	9 00
6 55	2 04	8 45	8 43	7 00	Mapleton	9 05	10 54	11 14	4 45	8 46
7 05	2 14	8 56	8 53	7 11	Merrifield	8 53	10 43	11 04	4 35	8 36
7 12	2 22	9 05	9 01	7 20	Venice Center	8 44	10 34	10 56	4 27	8 28
7 24	2 33	9 20	9 12	7 33	GENOA	8 29	10 19	10 45	4 16	8 15
7 33	2 41	9 31	9 21	7 43	North Lansing	8 18	10 08	10 36	4 06	8 06
7 45	2 50	9 50	9 32	8 05	South Lansing	8 05	9 55	10 26	3 55	7 55
8 10	3 15	10 15	9 56	8 30	ITHACA	7 30	9 20	10 00	3 30	7 15
P M	P M	A M	A M	A M		A M	A M	A M	P M	P M

Trains No. 21 and 23 going South, and No. 22 and 24 going North are the motor cars and do NOT stop at Flag stations. Sunday trains No. 422 and 421 are the motor cars and these stop at all stations.

Additional Trains between Ithaca and Rogues Harbor leave Ithaca 10:00, (daily except Sunday) 12:15, (Sunday only) 2:00 and 4:40 daily and 9:30 p. m. (Saturday only). Also leave Rogues Harbor at 10:40 a. m. (daily except Sunday) 12:50 (Sunday only) 2:35 and 5:15 p. m., daily, and 10:05 p. m. Saturday only.

This is Candy Week JUNE 18 TO 23

See Our Special Display

Take her a box of our Fine Chocolates or a pound of her favorite candy. We have a big variety.

Hagin's UP TO DATE Grocery Genoa, N. Y.

INDIAN HEAD

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
Use It Instead of Linen

Let the Youngsters Romp!

It's Indian Head, not linen, their little clothes are made of. Indian Head doesn't crush easily as linen does. Costs far less and, besides, will wash and wear and wear. Excellent for every purpose where one wants a durable white wash fabric.

For 80 years Indian Head quality has remained the same. We recommend it unhesitatingly. Ask to see the new linen finish.

Summer Is Here

And you will want those fine Gingham, Percales, Wash Poplins and the prettiest figured LINTEX in Ecru, Pink, Lavender and Blue. They are the thing for summer. Also White Goods from the finest Batiste to Butcher's Linen.

We are still doing a big business in WALL PAPER. We have filled every order without delay. Come and see them.

SHOES

Everything in Canvas from the daintiest Child's to the heavy Harvest Shoe for Men. A general line of Leather Shoes at very low prices.

A new stock of Rugs, Linoleums and Shades at Prices lower than we can duplicate them.

R. & H. P. MASTIN

Watch and Clock Repairing a Specialty.

RETURNED EXILE

'Grandmother of the Russian Revolution' Is 73 Years Old.

WOMAN WHO DEFIED A CZAR.

The New Russian Minister of Justice, M. Kerenki, has invited "Baboushka," as she is affectionately known, to return to Petrograd.

Ekaterina Breshkovskaya was only eighteen when, by her own confession she began to "think." She is now seventy-three, and she has been doing brave and noble thinking throughout the interval.

The fruit of her thinking is a message which she has received from Petrograd. That message she awaited through forty years of exile, the last few years in the frozen city of Yakutsk. The coming of democracy in Russia brought her home from exile.

Her prison place is so near the arctic circle that the daylight is only twilight for two-thirds of the year and the blazing hot summer lasts only two months. There is no spring and no autumn. The snow is on the ground up to the middle of May, and heavy frost falls in August. To this she was sent because she had learned to "think."

© Mandelkern.

MME. EKATERINA BRESHKOVSKAYA.

One of the first telegrams that throbbed their way across Siberia after the initial success of the upheaval at Petrograd was the message to the "Grandmother of the Russian Revolution," informing her that the cause for which she had worked since she was a young girl had triumphed; that the imperial throne had tottered to its fall and that the Russian people wanted her to return to them.

The first time Ekaterina Breshkovskaya was sent to Siberia was in 1874. She has twice been sentenced to the silver mines of Kara—the first woman who was ever sent there. The daughter of a nobleman and an official, she has swung the pick and pushed the barrow in a mine for years. Her last sentence was carried out less than three years ago, when she was transferred at seventy-one from noisome Kirensk a full 2,000 versts farther north and east to frozen Yakutsk.

Some idea of the misery to which Mme. Breshkovskaya has been condemned for more than half her long lifetime may be gathered from her own grim statement, "Every place in Siberia has its own peculiar poison."

To a friend whose affection she had gained on her visit to America in 1904 this grand old woman of Russian liberty and of world liberty wrote a few months ago a letter which breathes an indomitable spirit. It also discloses the pathos of a great tragedy. She wrote in this letter:

"Every minute when I am out of doors I am followed by a row of policemen, and one of them enters the house and even the apartments where I am staying."

"It is not difficult to wait. There are so many excellent moments in my life. They are a part of my existence. Do not be sorry for my eyes. The oculists say my eyes will serve me long enough when carefully used."

Long enough for what? Long enough to see the wonder for which she has been waiting and working since she began to "think." Long enough to see her people free—that vast gray mass which had suffered silence for so many centuries that it had sunk into a semi-stupor.

Crosswise Strips.
If a thing is worth doing at all it is worth doing right. To cut crosswise strips so that they will measure the same width throughout see that the cut edge of the material is quite even and in the case of double width material open it to its full width and place it flat on the table without a cloth. Take the cut edge and lay it evenly along the right hand selvedge in a straight line across the material and a diagonal fold running from left to right, pin to keep fold sharp and even, cut through the fold, measure the width of strip required and mark at a distance of a few inches with chalk, then cut with a pair of sharp scissors to line. It will be wise to mark width needed on a piece of cardboard and measure with this, than the width is sure to be the same throughout.

SHOE STYLES.

Tips From Paris About the New Footgear.

Every American model that went to Paris a year ago showed the extreme long, narrow shoe, but Paris boot-makers shortened the vamp when copying it for their trade. The shoe that is a la mode today and will be for spring and summer is the half short vamp with arch under the foot and the Cuban heel. If a boot, then it will be the black with colored top bordered in the patent leather around the lappings at the top, and the seam at the back will be covered. The top part is of cloth or covert and the color beige, gray or white.

If the shoe is low it will be of patent leather with a long tongue that extends above the instep and posed over the toes will be a wide black buckle—steel, if for afternoon, imitation black enamel if for morning. These two styles are the best, but there are a hundred variations.

For evening the smartest thing is the strapped slipper of brocade silk (generally yellow and white), or else the slipper is laced across with ribbons, then wound about the leg above the ankle, flet fashion. Some of the best bootmakers show the little old fashioned slipper, cut low with just one strip over or above the instep. This is for afternoon and evening wear, for it is equally pretty in black calf and white satin. Over the toes is a tiny chou of satin or leather. This model is extremely simple, in keeping with clothes, and it will be in fashion for a long time.

The toe of all footgear is neither round nor pointed, just a healthful, sculptural cut. The heel for evening slippers is high and curved, but half an inch shorter than the original Louis XVI, which means that heels are quite moderate and simple.

It took Parisiennes a long time to give up their dearly beloved buttoned shoe, but once relinquished they have taken to the laced article with enthusiasm. For elegance they admit the buttoned model is, the best, but the other article now appears so feminine to them that it is sure to remain. Frenchwomen of the old school cling to buttons on shoes, and dealers and makers have ceased trying to persuade them that the laced shoe is better than the other. When buttons are used here they are half size, and fastidious women who can afford it have the but tons of cut jet.

NOTE THIS WAR NURSE.

Have You a Good Pattern For the Hospital Fair?

War conditions will send uniforms for trained nurses into the front rank of fashion. Here's a suggestion for the hospital benefit you will give. The gown and cape are blue satin, while the huge apron, cuffs and cap are fashioned of finest white organdie.

READY TO ENLIST.

Suggestions on Pie and Pie Crust Making.

One woman states: "To prevent juice or filling from running out, trim the undercrust even with edge of plate, allow top crust to hang over half an inch after wetting the rim of pie. Press closely together, then turn the overhanging crust under the bottom part, lifting the dough from the plate little by little and tucking it under all the way around. Press down to the plate once more. This is a little more work than simply pressing the wet edges together, but your filling won't run out if you do it."

"When I was first married and getting all the information I could about cooking a friend told me to put the water into pie crust when mixing it as though it cost a dollar a drop. Too much water will make pie crust tough, no matter how much lard you have in it."

"Another friend told me that I should use a tablespoonful of lard to a cupful of flour, but if I went by guess I could tell when I had enough lard in by making a small ball of the lard and flour, and if I could toss it lightly from one hand to the other without breaking it it would be just right."

Egged Veal Hash.
Chop fine remnants of cold roast veal. Moisten with the gravy or water. When hot break into it three or four eggs, according to the quantity of veal. When the eggs are cooked stir into it a spoonful of butter and serve quickly. If to your taste shake in a little parsley. Should you lack quantity, half a cupful of stale breadcrumbs are no disadvantage.

NEW METHODS IN CITY GOVERNMENT

Sweeping Changes Have Been Made in Many Municipalities.

Within the past decade there have been sweeping changes made in the form of government in many cities throughout the United States, the old twin councilmanic rule giving way to the more modern system known as the commission plan, which has been in force in this city a little more than three years, says the Harrisburg (Pa.) Independent. While commission governed cities have shown improvement over the old style ward representation by councilmen or aldermen, there appears to be a formidable movement still further to experiment on improving municipal conditions by substituting the city manager system, which, it is claimed, is even far superior to the present commission form under which Harrisburg is now working. In Galveston, Tex., and Dayton, O., the city manager plan has been attended with practical success.

Many municipalities, like states, should be governed by laws that are best suited to the needs of the respective localities. A law that may be highly beneficial to one community may be just the opposite in another. What may be one man's meat may be another man's poison. It is claimed by those who are familiar with the conduct of a city manager form of government that all these obstacles can be averted. One thing is sure in respect to Harrisburg. Its citizens would not sanction going back to the old system in vogue when councilmen were elected by wards and two bodies made laws to govern the city. That obsolete method of governing will never be resurrected in this city.

FOR SPRING CLEANUP.

Some Useful Suggestions For Improving Civic Conditions.

Bruce Barton, editor of the Buffalo Courier, publishes some suggestions in his paper that have more than a local value and are as follows:

There are two ways to keep a man out of the mud, so some one has said. One is to punish him if he steps in.

The other is to black his boots. You have read a great deal about how a man can change his environment. Have you ever stopped to think how tremendously the environment can change the man?

We think of the Greeks as creators of wonderful statuary. It would be equally true in a sense to say that it was the wonderful statuary that created the Greeks.

It was the influence of those statues of big, muscular men and beautiful women forever before their eyes that inspired the Greeks to build themselves up toward physical perfection.

Hypnotize a man, dirty his face and hands and dress him in ragged clothes. What happens?

Instinctively he slouches; his actions become furtive, slovenly; his soul takes on the color of his hands.

Dress him in a soldier's uniform, and with no other suggestion his shoulders straighten.

Dress him like a gentleman, and his every movement betrays an increased self respect.

What is true of men is true also of organizations.

I know a certain church that was in the dumps—no enthusiasm, no spirit, no pride, everybody hopeless.

And some amateur psychologist with a little extra money determined to make an experiment.

At his own expense he treated the church building to two coats of paint.

The transforming influence of that paint was little short of miraculous.

Members for the first time in their lives began to feel a little pride in their church, and, feeling pride in it, they wanted to do something for it. Out of the pride came effort, and out of effort enthusiasm, and out of enthusiasm new life for an organization that was almost dead.

I know a town where the board of trade never met except to attend in a body the funeral of a member. No new industries came to that town; people went elsewhere to trade. It was rolling down hill with the clutch thrown out and both brakes broken.

And somebody started a spring clean up campaign. Men who had never done anything at all for the town got out and worked together on the streets. Little children competed for the tin can prize and swatted the fly with a crusader enthusiasm.

When that clean up campaign was done it had created a momentum that simply could not be stilled. Citizens who had cleaned a street for the town wanted to do something else. The whole community began to be recreated because it had washed its face and blacked its boots.

For your own sake this spring go out and clean up something, paint up something—anything.

Quit spanking the children for tramping mud into the house. Make the house shine, and they will want to take off their shoes and enter in stocking feet.

Quit scolding about your town for its lack of spirit. Get it clean for once and see what happens.

Paint the fence in front of your house.

And a surprising thing will occur. Every time you pass it in the morning on your way to work you will be so pleased with yourself that the whole day will go better.

I would not be surprised if that feeling of self satisfaction would actually register itself in your income.

If you want to lift yourself out of the mud—

Now's the time—this spring. Black your boots.

Poultry Farming

RAISING TURKEY POULTS.

Success Depends Largely on Exercise and Proper Feeding.
[Prepared by United States department of agriculture.]

The average number of poults raised under ordinary conditions is about 50 per cent of those hatched out, or about seven poults for every turkey hen. By far the greater part of this loss occurs when the poults are quite young—that is, under a week old. Seldom are any lost after they are a month old unless there is an outbreak of disease. The high mortality among young poults is mainly from the following causes:

BRONZE TURKEY MALE.

Exposure to dampness and cold, improper feeding, close confinement, lice, predatory animals and inherent weakness, the result of carelessness in selection of parent stock.

As soon as the hatch is completed and the poults begin to run around outside the nest the hen and brood are ready to be removed to the coop provided for them. The coop should be built to keep out rain. It should be well ventilated, capable of easy movement and be sufficiently roomy for a turkey hen to stand erect and walk about. There should be a separate coop for each hen and brood, and the coops should be scattered about the farm in such places as are easily drained and where natural feed, such as tender, green vegetation (grass, clover, alfalfa and other green feed), and insects, particularly grasshoppers, can be found. By moving the coop every day the ground will be kept clean and opportunity will be given the mother hen and poults to pick up fresh green feed inside the coop.

Plenty of exercise is essential if the poults are to thrive. At all times, when rain or dampness does not prevent, the poults should be allowed to run in and out of the coop at will. Too much stress cannot be given to the necessity of exercise, and the only way to provide for this is to allow the poults at every possible opportunity to range for feed outside the coop. By confining the mother hen to the coop she will always be ready to hover the poults whenever they run to her, which they will do if they become chilled. The greatest care should be taken to keep the interior of the coop dry, and for this reason it is advisable to choose a sandy slope where the water runs off quickly and where there is also protection from heavy rains.

Turkey Hen the Best Mother.

If the weather is warm and dry, as frequently happens when the poults are hatched late in the season, no shelter is required, as they do better in the open. But it is advisable to keep them within a fenced inclosure for the first three or four days until they are strong enough to follow the mother. Weather conditions being favorable, the hen and brood can be given free range after the third or fourth day, but care should be taken to keep them out of heavy dews and to protect them from rain for the first two or three weeks.

For poults the turkey hen is the best mother that can be found. She knows their needs and can talk to them in a language that they soon learn to understand.

Feeding the Poults.

When, on account of rainy weather or unfavorable range conditions, it is advisable to raise the poults by the coop method more care must be given to their feeding. For the first two days after hatching poults require no feed, the yolk of the egg which they absorb before breaking out of the shell being sufficient to maintain them for that length of time. Access to clean drinking water and a little coarse sand and green feed to pick are all that is needed until the third day. Beginning with the third day, the poults should be fed according to the quantity of natural feed they are able to pick up outside the coop. They should always be hungry. To feed all they will clean up several times a day removes the cause of searching for feed, so that little exercise is taken, and indigestion is sure to result. When natural feed is scarce or when the poults have to be kept from ranging outside they should be fed lightly about five times a day. If allowed to run outside the coop, where they can find insects, seeds and green feed, they need not be fed oftener than two or three times a day.

Successful turkey raisers use many different kinds of feed, some of the most common being as follows:

Hard boiled egg chopped fine and corn bread crumbs for the first week and then whole wheat and bulled oats.

Stale bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry for the first few days and then common chick feed.

Clabbered milk seasoned with salt and pepper, cornbread crumbs.

Equal parts "pinhead" oats, whole wheat and cracked corn.

Cracked wheat.

Cornmeal and wheat bran mixed in the proportion of three to one and baked into bread.

Bran or middlings, one-half; cracked Egyptian corn, one-quarter; wheat and bulled oats, one-quarter.

In addition to the above, skim milk and buttermilk are quite often fed, with excellent results. A good plan is to keep the milk in front of the poults during the morning and water during the afternoon. If grit and green feed cannot be picked up outside the coop they must be provided in some other way. Chopped onion tops, lettuce leaves, dandelion leaves and alfalfa make excellent green feed. Grit can be furnished in the form of coarse sand.

While confined to the coop the mother hen should be fed twice a day on a mixture of grain, such as equal parts corn, wheat and oats, and green feed, while water and grit should be kept before her all the time. An occasional feed of meat scrap or fresh, lean meat is greatly relished and helps to keep her in good condition. In feeding the hen and poults it is advisable to feed the latter outside the coop and the former inside in order to prevent her from eating the feed intended for the poults. It is seldom necessary to keep the hen and poults confined after the latter are three or four weeks old, and the sooner all can be given free range the better.

Rearing the Young Turkeys.

When about six weeks old the young turkeys are old enough to go to roost. Practically all turkey raisers allow the birds to roost in the open trees or on fences or other roosts especially provided for them. In sections where high winds prevail it is customary to build the roosts next to a barn or shed, where there is some protection. When this is done posts are driven into the ground and poles laid across them four or five feet from the ground. By driving them to the roosting place and feeding them there every evening just before dark young turkeys can be made to roost wherever desired. For the first few times it is sometimes necessary to keep them under the roost until dark, but they will finally fly up and roost on their own.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Morris Coon late of the town of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the administrator of, etc., of said deceased, at his residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 15th day of October, 1917.

Dated April 2, 1917.
Fred L. Stilwell, Administrator.
Albert H. Clark, Attorney for Administrator, Auburn, N. Y.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Andrew Q. Stilwell late of the town of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the administrator of, etc., of said deceased, at his residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, on or before the 15th day of October, 1917.

Dated March 20, 1917.
George A. Coon, Administrator.
Albert H. Clark, Attorney for Administrator, Auburn, N. Y.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Mary Ann Flinn, late of the town of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the administrator of, etc., of said deceased, at his place of residence in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, N. Y., (P. O. Address: Atwater, N. Y., R. D. 25) on or before the 1st day of December, 1917.

Dated May 18, 1917.
Frank W. Flinn, administrator.
Stuart R. Treat, Attorney for Administrator, Auburn, N. Y.

COUNTY COURT, CAYUGA COUNTY.
Thomas P. Smith, plaintiff, against Edgar Smith et al defendants. In pursuance of a judgment in the above entitled action of partition entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of Cayuga on the 21st day of May, 1917, I, the undersigned Referee in and by said judgment for that purpose appointed will sell at public auction at the front door of the hotel known as McDermott Hotel in the village of King Ferry, town of Genoa, County of Cayuga, New York on Friday, the 6th day of July, 1917 at two o'clock in the afternoon the lands and premises in said judgment directed to be sold and therein described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga and state of New York, and being part of Lot No. 33 in said Town and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning in the west line of said lot at the northwest corner of Perian Price's land (now owned by David Price) and running thence north along the west line of said Lot, 2 chains and sixty-nine links, thence east twenty-seven chains and six links, thence south two chains and sixty-nine links to the north-east corner of Perian Price's land, thence west along the north line of said Price's land twenty-seven chains and six links to the place of beginning, containing seven acres and twenty-five hundredths of an acre of land. Also all that other certain tract or parcel of land, situate in the town of Genoa, aforesaid being part of lot No. 33 in said town and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at the northwest corner of lands heretofore conveyed by David Price and Ann M. Price, his wife, to Ann Smith and running thence north one chain and eighty-five links, thence east twenty-five chains and six links, thence south one chain and eighty-five links, thence west twenty-seven chains and six links to the place of beginning, containing five acres of land.

Dated May 21, 1917.
Oscar Tryon, Referee.
Albert H. Clark, Attorney for Plaintiff, Auburn, N. Y.

The Thrice-A-Week Edition OF THE New York World

IN 1917
Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly

No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half-way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE GENOA TRIBUNE together for one year for $1.05.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00.

POULTRY PICKINGS.

The early hatched goslings must be protected from severe cold at first.

Economy is a factor in profitable poultry keeping, but economy does not mean a saving of feed.

Early chicks won't do well if housed too closely. Give them a chance to get on the ground for awhile every sunny day.

Never hold duck eggs long. They depreciate in quality more rapidly than hens' eggs.

Early chicks will not thrive in a cold, open coop.

GOSH, THIS CENSUS ISN'T HARD AT ALL

Characteristic Yarn of Joe Lincoln Used to Prove It.

"PUTTING SENSE IN CENSUS."

By JOSEPH C. LINCOLN
Of the Vigilantes.
Author of "Cap'n Eri," "Mary-Gusta" and Other Foremost American Works.

The other evening Alonzo Larkin rambled into Caleb Rogers' postoffice and general store at Rogers' Corners, up state. The mail was distributed, and Caleb was preparing to shut up shop for the night. He noticed the expression on Larkin's face and asked:

"What's the matter with you, 'Lonzo? You look as if somebody had left your disposition settin' out in the hot sun and got it curdled. What's turned you sour?"

Mr. Larkin took a paper from his pocket and glared at it disgustedly. It was one of the blanks sent out by the military census bureau at Albany.

"Did the rest of you fellers get one of these things?" he asked, addressing the group in general. They all answered in the affirmative.

"That's to help the state government folks in findin' out who's fit to go to war," explained Ephraim Taylor condescendingly.

Larkin sniffed. "Yes, so they tell me," he sneered, "but just look at it. Will you? Just look at it! Did you ever see such foolishness? Can I run a railroad engine or a flyin' machine? Tut! Tut! Tut! Did you ever hear such rubbish? And—listen to this: How many mules do I own? Mules! That's the limit, that is! When I see that I give up! How many mules!"

Caleb came out from behind the counter.

"Don't get excited, 'Lonzo," he said calmly, taking the paper from Mr. Larkin's hand. "Course I can understand how any personal questions about mules would get you stirred up, but you mustn't let your family pride stand in the government's way. Now, look here, you 'Lonzo—yes, and all the rest of you, too—I've been lookin' that paper over, and it strikes me as about the completest, simplest, most sensible thing I've seen yet."

"Sensible!" exclaimed Larkin. "Why, I—"

"Yes, sensible. I'm runnin' store here, ain't I? Yes, well, when I want to know just what I've got on hand I take account of stock, don't I? Sure I do. And I find so much good, salable stock of different kinds, some kinds more valuable than others, but all good for somethin'. And I find some that ain't good for anything, maybe, but it's well to know that it ain't good, so's not to count on it as dependable. When I'm through with that stock takin' I can say, 'Here's so many pounds of tea, so many boxes of crackers, so many yards of gingham, so much of this and that, each kind in its right place, labeled, ticketed, ready to lay hands on when it's needed.'"

"That's what the state of New York is doin' now, as I see it, takin' account of stock."

"Now, about that 'What work do you do?' Course in your case, 'Lonzo, they'd ought to have added on, 'If any, and how often?' But never mind that now. The idea is that most of us do work, and some do one kind and some another. And in wartime—which these are, though some of you fellers don't seem to have woke up to it yet—it's goin' to be mighty convenient for the state folks to know how many blacksmiths New York has got, and how many engineers, and how many farmers and storekeepers and pick and shovelers, and land knows what all, and to know where they are and how to get hold of 'em when they want 'em."

"And, more'n that, to know how many automobiles—and flivvers, Ephraim—and motor cycles and carts and horses and everything there are to help run over Kaiser Bill, if they're needed. Yes, and mules, too, 'Lonzo. I heard a military man—a general, he was—say in a speech once that next to a man a healthy mule was the most valuable critter in the army. So there's a chance for you to serve your country yet, even if you be fifty-one. There's no age limit on mules."

"Yes, sir," concluded Caleb, "as I look at it, this military census thing is just a state stock takin' and a mighty sane, sensible idea, and every man Jack of us ought to help it along."

Larkin looked at the printed form more respectfully. Mr. Taylor, who reads the sporting page of a metropolitan newspaper, essayed a joke.

"Say, Caleb," he demanded, "what are you, the feller that puts the sense in census?"

Caleb shook his head.

"No," he said crisply; "the sense was there to start with. I'd be satisfied if I could put a little sense into the heads of fellers who are carryin' that paper around in their pockets instead of fillin' it out in a hurry and bustlin' it back to Albany."

Ephraim looked guilty. A few minutes later he sidled up to the counter and whispered:

"Say, Caleb, let me use your pen and ink a few minutes, will you?"

It is Better to Have an Ad. in the Home Than on the Fence. ADVERTISE in This Newspaper.

STRAIGHT LINES.

La Jerez in a Fetching New Model For Spring.

USEFUL ELEGANCE.

Jade green wool jersey is here fashioned into a modish topcoat, the fullness of which is box plaited in at the waist and girdled with a strip of material beaded in white and green. The hat is covered with oriental silk and finished with a gilt tassel.

IS YOUR NAME E?

How to Crochet This Initial For Insets on Towels.

Start with 23 holes and always ch to turn.

First Row—After the 23 holes is the real commencing, 8 holes, 7 solid, 8 holes.

Second Row—7 holes, 2 solid, 5 holes, 2 solid, 7 holes.

Third Row—6 holes, 2 solid, 2 holes, 2 solid, 3 holes, 3 solid, 5 holes.

Fourth Row—6 holes, 2 solid, 2 holes, 1 solid, 2 holes, 1 solid, 1 hole, 3 solid, 5 holes.

Fifth Row—5 holes, 3 solid, 4 holes, 1 solid, 2 holes, 3 solid, 5 holes.

Sixth Row—6 holes, 2 solid, 2 holes, 2 solid, 2 holes, 3 solid, 6 holes.

Seventh Row—7 holes, 5 solid, 3 holes, 3 solid, 5 holes.

Eighth Row—6 holes, 3 solid, 14 holes.

Ninth Row—9 holes, 3 solid, 1 hole, 2 solid, 8 holes.

Tenth Row—10 holes, 1 solid, 3 holes, 1 solid, 8 holes.

Eleventh Row—9 holes, 3 solid, 1 hole, 1 solid, 9 holes.

Twelfth Row—8 holes, 2 solid, 13 holes.

Thirteenth Row—8 holes, 8 solid, 8 holes.

Fourteenth Row—6 holes, 1 solid, 1 hole, 2 solid, 4 holes, 2 solid, 7 holes.

Fifteenth Row—6 holes, 2 solid, 5 holes, 2 solid, 1 hole, 1 solid, 8 holes.

Sixteenth Row—6 holes, 1 solid, 2 holes, 1 solid, 5 holes, 2 solid, 6 holes.

Seventeenth Row—7 holes, 2 solid, 3 holes, 1 solid, 2 holes, 1 solid, 7 holes.

Eighteenth Row—11 holes, 4 solid, 8 holes.

Nineteenth and Twentieth Rows—23 holes.

FIFTY JOBS.

A List of Occupations For Women During Wartime.

In Europe women are now working at all these occupations in order that men may be freed for trench service:

Nursing, canteen cooking, automobile, taxi, train and trolley driving, garage work, wireless, carpentering, shipbuilding, aeroplane construction, railway porters, baggage men, conductors, farm work, market gardening, mail carriers, truck drivers, bank clerks, street sweepers, plumbers, elevator runners, miners, huddlers, telegraph messengers, window cleaners, butchers, barbers, hotel clerks, hotel managers, taxi starters, billposters, "boot blacks, police-women, night watchmen, quarry workers, blacksmiths, metal workers, bootmakers, bakers, munition workers, coal carriers, engine cleaners, social relief work, army clerks, dentists, rent collectors, gas man, electric workers, bandage making, fire fighter and dispatch riding.

Chicken Sandwiches.

Chop cold cooked chicken, moisten with white sauce or mayonnaise dressing or season with salt and pepper and moisten with chicken stock or milk. Butter thin slices of bread, spread with the chicken mixture, then put a crisp lettuce leaf on top and cover with another slice of buttered bread. Cut into neat shapes.

Bread for sandwiches cuts better when a day old. Serve sandwiches piled on a plate or sandwich tray covered with a dolly.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

I find earth not gray, but rosy. Heaven not grim but fair of hue. Do I stoop? I pluck a posy. Do I stand and stare! All's blue.—Browning.

SAVORY DISHES.

Any roast meat, especially lamb or mutton, is improved by inserting small slices of a clove of garlic in the meat, and remove them before the roast is served, so that any member of the family who has unreasonable prejudice against garlic will not need to be disturbed. A slight flavor of garlic in many dishes will greatly improve the flavor, and if it is not overdone will not offend the most fastidious.

Onion Soup.—To four good-sized onions chopped very fine, add two thin slices of bacon, cut in small bits. Let this cook until the onions are soft and the bacon brown. Add two cupsfuls of cold water and let it come to a boil. Mash the onion with a large spoon; do not pour off the water, but add one and a half cupsfuls of rich milk; season well with salt and pepper and a tablespoonful of butter. When eggs are plentiful beat up an egg and pour the soup over it just at the time of serving. Flour and butter cooked together, using a tablespoonful of each, will make a sufficient binding. Serve without straining.

Fried Apples.—Core nice firm apples, cut them into slices, half an inch thick, dust lightly with sugar and cinnamon, roll them in flour and cook in a little hot oil; when brown on one side, turn on the other. Dish with the slices overlapping and serve with chops.

Consomme Royal.—Take a knuckle of veal and three pounds of a shin of beef; cut the meat from the bones, crack the bones. Put two tablespoonfuls of sugar and one sliced onion, over the fire, cook until brown; add the bones, meat and six quarts of water; cook at a simmering temperature for three hours, then add one carrot, one turnip, one onion, half a cupful of celery tops, all chopped; six cloves, two bay leaves and a bit of red pepper. Cook one hour longer, and strain.

Huntington Salad.—Cut pared apples into balls with a French vegetable cutter, lay them in a French dressing to season. Just before serving roll in salad dressing and chopped nuts and with a toothpick insert a small strip of green pepper or a stem of parsley for a stem in each.

Mexican Codfish.—Cook to a pale yellow a small chopped onion in three tablespoonfuls of butter, then add two tablespoonfuls of flour, half a minced green pepper and a cupful of stewed tomato pulp. When the sauce reaches the boiling point add half a pound of flaked codfish that has been freshened in cold water and parboiled. Simmer slowly for ten minutes and serve hot, garnished with triangles of toasted bread.

Rice Omelet.—Take one cupful of cold, cooked rice, one cupful of warm milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and three eggs. Melt the butter in a hot frying pan and pour in the mixture well blended. Bake in a hot oven, fold and serve on a hot platter.

Baked Apples With Marshmallows.—Wash and core tart apples and place them in baking dish with a bit of butter and a pinch of salt in each. Cover and cook until nearly done, then uncover and press into each apple a marshmallow and finish baking. Serve cold with cream. Pears may be served in the same way.

Lace Cakes.—Mix well one tablespoonful of melted butter, one cupful of granulated sugar, two well beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of vanilla and a little grated nutmeg with two and a half cupsfuls of oatmeal which has been parched; add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Drop by spoonfuls on a buttered sheet and bake until crisp in a hot oven.

Alexandra Ice.—Wash carefully half a pound of large seeded raisins, stemmed and cut in halves, and let them stand over night in a cupful of orange juice to which has been added a tablespoonful of sugar. Put through the meat chopper enough dry macarons to make a half cupful of fine crumbs. Whip two cupfuls of double cream until stiff and dry, add a half cupful of powdered sugar, the macarons, raisins and orange juice. Turn into individual molds and pack in ice and salt, at least four or five hours.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Codfish either fresh or salt is always seasonable and will, by using it in a variety of dishes, make a most palatable food.

Her Student Worshiper

Waited Long Years to Tell and Win His Love.

By ALICE LOUISE LEE
Copyright by Alice Louise Lee

Clyde Bangs sat in her favorite place in a green nook sheltered from the afternoon sun, which fell in showers of gold across the lake in front of her.

"What's done's done," she muttered. "Some way I wish, though, 'twere undone. I'm in no mood this summer to play the mother confessor."

She threw out her hands in a gesture of impatience with herself. Then she drew a letter from the pocket of her walking skirt and reread it. It bore the postmark of a distant college town and was brief.

Stoddard Parker was completing his college course and in three months would sail for Hongkong to represent the interests of a large shipping firm. In two days he would pass through Lake Castro and had found that he could wait over there two hours, catching the next train south. "Would it be possible for me to see you during that wait?" he wrote. "I shall probably never again have the opportunity, and I feel that I must express some of the gratitude I owe you from the old institute days."

"Gratitude," mused Clyde—"always gratitude! Ah, well!" Her eyes dreamily followed the train which was carrying her reply to Parker.

For eight years she had been the favorite teacher and, as she styled herself, the mother confessor to the students of a college preparatory institute—young men of widely varying ages and mental equipments. It was her habit to consult her on every subject from the color of their cravats to their love affairs, to quote her as final authority on every subject, to—

Clyde abruptly ceased her reverie, stuffed the letter into her pocket and arose. Along the path above the rocks she swung with a free, graceful and independent step. She was tall and slender, with too much of the mental and spiritual and too little of the physical for perfect symmetry either in form or character. Her face was colorless, save when embarrassment touched her cheeks aflame. Her eyes, uninterested, were cold, but when the spirit of vivacity possessed her they glowed and sparkled with fun and wit, transforming her into the fascinating woman around whom the institute students grouped themselves collectively and worshiped.

The following day she received a telegram: "Will stop off from 9 to 11. STODDARD PARKER."

The hot color suddenly flooded her cheeks, but she repressed herself on it by laughing lightly and calling to her sister, "Annie, I have a caller from abroad tomorrow."

Annie came running in and dumped Baby Clyde unceremoniously into her aunt's arms. "Who is she, Clyde?"

Clyde bent over the baby to hide her cheeks, but her voice was still carefree. "It's not a 'she,' but a 'he.'"

"Oh!" Annie's eyes opened wide. "Now, Annie, don't be alarmed," teased Clyde, wholly herself again. "It's just an old student of mine, six feet

There were always so many to worship her, to sing her praises, to call her the finest teacher, the most helpful friend, the most intellectual woman, and she strove to be content with reverence, honor and adulation—and her work. The happy, upward lines on her face, the upward curve of her lips, indicated content. But sometimes a hunger for that something more which she never received beset her. She was hungry and restless now in her sister's quiet summer home at Castro.

Next morning she came down to breakfast dressed in white. She liked to wear white. It softened her face, which she imagined thirty years and the cares of teaching were sharpening.

"Auntie, you ain't a-goin' fishin' this mornin'!" exclaimed her eldest nephew, his fist plunged into his eye.

"No, my son; she's not going fishing as you understand the word," interposed his father, with a sly laugh which, to Clyde's disgust, embarrassed her.

She tried to laugh lightly and all the way across the lake took herself severely to task because the attempt had been a failure. If she should act like a self-conscious girl before Stoddard Parker! In a pause she made her boat fast to a bent tree overhanging the shore and hurried up the path through the grove to the station.

Red Cross in Venice.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Venice Baptist church Sunday afternoon last, for the purpose of organizing a Red Cross society. The pastor of the church, Rev. E. E. Warner presided and Hon. William Miller Collier of Auburn made an address, after which the following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Joseph Streeter; vice-chairman, Mrs. Nellie Mosher; secretary, Mrs. Howard Streeter; treasurer, Mrs. Lena Stevens. Arrangements were made for a week's campaign, with Mrs. Richard Thorpe as captain. Enrollment stations were fixed for the stores, the Grange hall, the railway station, the schools, and the milk stations. Several persons volunteered to make a house to house canvass, among them being N. G. Arnold, J. P. Northway, Joseph Streeter and a number of young men.

An Executive committee was chosen, composed of Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Mosher, Mrs. Coulson, Mrs. Bertha Stevens and Mrs. Norman Arnold. The two important committees on Military Relief and Civilian Relief will be organized as soon as the week's campaign for new members has been finished.

Astonishing Spectacle.

This season will see the opening to the public of an American water spectacle of such extraordinary novelty and beauty that its eventual world-wide celebrity seems an easy prophesy. The Waterwheel Falls of the Yosemite National Park have probably been seen by less than a thousand persons, all told, since their discovery by white men; no doubt they were a familiar sight to the Indians of early days who considered the Tuolumne Canyon one of the safest of their fastnesses.

The Tuolumne Canyon here is wild beyond description. The river's bed slants sharply for several miles. Rushing with gathering power, the stream leaps over precipices and foams down long, sharply tilted granite slopes. Here are found the Waterwheels. The swift current, striking rocky projections lying across the granite slopes, rises fifty feet in air and describes long sweeping arcs of foam before again joining the rushing river. The spectacle is one that fills the beholder no less with astonishment than with enthusiastic admiration. The larger Waterwheels are extremely impressive.

Jury Trial to Settle Estate.

A panel of jurors to serve at the first jury trial to come before the surrogate of this county in recent months has been drawn by County Clerk Warne in the presence of Surrogate Woodin. The jury will hear and determine the issues in the matter of the last will and testament of Henry Batten, deceased, of Auburn.

The trial term for the purpose of hearing the contest in the estate has been set for June 25 in Surrogate's Court. There are thirty-six jurors in the panel drawn. The following are from this section:

- Fleming—Frank Smith, Edward Britt, LeRoy Tyler, Clarence S. Post.
- Scipio—James Smart, Charles Chase, William L. Munger.
- Springport—Eugene Connor, Walter Webb, Coral Austin, William O. Connor.
- Moravia—C. D. Brown, William W. Shaw, Manson B. Divinney.
- Niles—George I. Dewitt, Joseph F. Helmer.
- Sempronius—Mason Wattles.

The New Dog Law.

Albany, June 20—Now that the Wicks dog bill has become a law, thousands of farmers are expected to re-enter the industry which has all but been wiped out by the ravages of predatory dogs. The most important feature of the bill is that the law is now to be enforced by State rather than local authorities as has been the case.

The act makes mandatory the licensing of dogs throughout the State by the town and city clerks and then includes provisions of the county law, in regard to the killing of unlicensed dogs with the slight modification that the fact that a dog is without a tag attached to the collar is presumptive evidence that the dog is unlicensed.

The bill calls for a license fee of two dollars for each male and three dollars for each female with special licenses of $20 for pure bred kennels. The law is effective July 1.

Advertise in THE TRIBUNE.

GERMAN LOAN PLEA PLAYED ON FEARS

Appeals For War Funds Pictured Allied Atrocities.

VICTORIES ENLARGED UPON

Success of U Boats and Overthrow of the Czar Cited as Arguments For Subscriptions—Soldiers at the Front Urge Relatives at Home to Buy War Securities.

How the German government appealed to the hopes and fears of its subjects in its calls for subscriptions to the sixth war loan of $3,570,000,000 voted by the reichstag over the opposition of the Socialist minority on Feb. 23 is brought out in items found in German newspapers recently received in New York and London. The time for subscribing to the loan officially expired on April 16, and on April 27 Count von Roedern, secretary of the imperial German treasury, is reported to have announced that the amount pledged to date was almost $3,094,000,000, with some of the men at the front still to be heard from.

Dangers Menacing German Homes.

In addition to the special references made in the appeals issued after April 6 to the necessity of "giving a straight answer to Wilson," mentioned in cablegrams to the American press, the German war loan pleas laid great emphasis upon the alleged atrocities committed by the allies and the danger menacing German homes in case the enemy succeeded in breaking the German defense lines. Here is an appeal printed in the Kolnische Zeitung:

"Remember that our foes have rejected the sincere offer of peace by our kaiser, rejected it with insolent mockery. Remember that England, who cannot conquer us with honorable weapons, engaged in a cowardly starvation war against our women, children and aged. Remember that France stirs up murderous beasts in the shape of men against you; that she sends colored beasts against your sons, brothers and fathers in the field. Remember what Russia's savage Cossack hordes have made of the flourishing East Prussian province and its peaceful inhabitants. Remember that 'neutral' America has broken off relations with us because our submarines have disturbed its 'business.' Remember the treachery of Roumania and Italy. Remember the maltreatment of our imprisoned heroes in enemy countries. Remember the bombing of peaceful, undefended towns by our foes. Remember the Baraloug.

"If you remember all this you will know what you have to expect and what you have to do. Everything is at stake. Subscribe to the sixth war loan and compel our enemies to make peace."

The Kolnische Volkszeitung, a leading organ of the Clerical party, printed the following:

"We battle in storm wind and weather turmoil; we hold out in the rain of bullets and protect the homeland with our hard, horny hands. See that we are not beaten and help us to victory. In hunger and thirst and hard necessity we obey the dictate of the hour. Help us to victory.

Optimistic Note Introduced.

In the official advertisements of the war loan an optimistic note is often found, as is evidenced by the following excerpt:

"Everything is tottering! On all the fronts we have torn away immense territories from the enemy! Our submarines have administered the deathblow to enemy commerce! The authors of the war, Grey and Asquith, Delcasse and Briand, have been hunted by their own peoples from their offices and honors!

"In Russia there is revolution! The czar has been deposed!

"Only one thing stands firm—the solid foundation of the German state fabric and the unconquerable strength of the German people. Upon this rests the absolute security of the German war loans.

"Help to win the war! Give your money to the fatherland, the safest debtor in the world!"

Letters from soldiers at the front advising their relatives to buy war securities were also prominently displayed in the press. One of these epistles, credited to "a brave landwehr soldier," writing from Roumania to his wife in a village near Osnabruck, reads:

"Today I write to you about the war loan. I know you subscribed to four out of the last five loans, but now comes the sixth and, we hope, the last. And as the end is approaching we must make a special effort. I am sure you have not got much more money at home or in the savings bank. But, as you wrote to me, we have still got a quantity of other things which we can turn into money. Sell as soon as you can our one cow and the calf, the last remaining pig and some of the geese, for it is more important for us to get money than to have a cow or a goose."

—The 1918 state convention of the Grand Council of United Commercial Travelers which met in Auburn last week, will be held in Oneonta.

—The Lincklaen House at Cazenovia is being remodeled and refurbished by a committee of public-spirited citizens and will be run as a temperance house.

—The annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, of the State was held in Binghamton on June 18, 19 and 20, as originally planned.

—The new Corona typewriter factory at Groton, which cost $250,000, and which is turning out 125 typewriters a day, was formally opened last week Thursday with a flag raising and patriotic addresses.

—L. J. Farmer of Pulaski, who planted three acres of potatoes, reports that several hills have been eaten completely by snails. He warns farmers to watch out for the new pest, which he says is worse than potato bugs.

Call at this office for all kinds of Job Printing.

—Edward J. Ryan, a Liverpool farmer, has sued the town of Cicero for $5,000. He was brushed from the top of a load of straw by the branches of an apple tree not properly trimmed. The same accident might happen in almost any town.

—While an assessor was prowling around Omaha warehouses looking for things to tax, says the Nebraska Farmer, 15,000,000 pounds of sugar was found. This sugar was bought at six cents a pound and is now worth upwards of ten cents a pound. At the same time the cold storage plants and warehouses in Chicago were packed full of provisions being held for speculation.

—Billy Sunday closed the greatest campaign he has had in his preaching career of over twenty years, in New York City last Sunday. The free will offering of $114,000 was divided equally between the Red Cross and the Army Y. M. C. A. organizations. The records show a total of 98,264 converts. Mr. Sunday left on Monday for his home at Winona Lake, Ind., to remain until September when he opens his next big campaign at Los Angeles, Calif.

—Plans for a conference to be held at Syracuse, at which food conservation, production, marketing and other agricultural problems will be taken up, have been approved by Governor Whitman, and the New York State Food Supply Commission has fixed July 5 and 6 as the dates for the sessions. The conference will open at 11 o'clock at the Onondaga hotel, with representatives of the farming interests of the State and the members of the New York State Food Supply Commission present.

A Peculiar Wrench

Of the foot or ankle may produce a very serious sprain. A sprain is more painful than a break. In all sprains, cuts, burns, bruises and scalds Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil is the best thing to use. Relieves the pain, reduces swelling, is a perfect anti-septic and heals rapidly. Effective also when taken for Cholera Morbus, Cramps and dysentery. Price 25 cts. Sold by all dealers.

Notice to Creditors.

By virtue of an order granted by the Surrogate of Cayuga County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against the estate of Sarah L. Ferris late of Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., deceased, are required to present the same with vouchers in support thereof to the undersigned, the executor of, &c., of said deceased, at his home in the town of Genoa, County of Cayuga on or before the 29th day of December, 1917. Dated June 14, 1917. Albert B. Ferris, Executor. Turner & Kerr. Attorneys for Executor.

Summer Millinery

Our Buyer has just returned from New York with all the latest creations.

Prices Lowest of the Low. Peck's Millinery, 15 South St., Auburn.

Panamas cleaned and pressed.

White Opening

Mrs. L. J. Fitzgerald has just returned from New York and has purchased everything worth while in Millinery and Apparel,

White Straw and White Satin Hats
Voile, Georgette and Crepe de Chine Dresses. Prices $9.98 and up
Gingham Dresses in large variety $5.00 and up
Blouses $1.25 and $2.50 just received

If you wish to buy the latest New York styles in Millinery and Apparel, come to this store this week.

QUINLAN'S,

145 Genesee Street

Auburn, N. Y.

CITY GARDENING.

Did it ever occur to you that those can strewn, weed grown vacant lots in various sections of your city had a more or less direct bearing on the high cost of living of which you complain? Kansas City, Mo., recently got that thought of relationship so firmly fixed in its mind that it has started a very interesting and somewhat unusual campaign to prove or disprove its theory. Kansas City believes that if it can have all the vacant lots put under cultivation this year a big step forward will have been taken toward cutting down the cost of living in Kansas City. It does not think that on the vacant lots it can raise enough green stuff to feed the entire city the coming summer and fall. But it does believe that something very definite to relieve the pressure of food cost to many families can be done through the vacant lot gardening. And in its planning Kansas City recollects that human beings are human. It knows many will gladly jump into the garden work at the start, but it also knows that as the weather grows warmer many will be inclined to fall by the wayside. To lessen the percentage of backsliders the city is already working out a plan of lectures and talks and newspaper articles and other forms of urge to be carried on right through the summer in the hope of making these vacant lot gardens fall gardens as well as spring starts.—Town Development Magazine.

A Couple of Little Allies. The pretty little children here pictured are French, and their picture was taken as they were strolling on the shore of the Mediterranean sea.

Photo by American Press Association.

SMALL BATHERS. which borders the south of France. It is of interest just now to American kiddies, because the two nations are our allies in the great war.

Buy It Now
"We know the truth not only by the reason, but by the heart." Your heart and reason both indorse "buy it now." Is this not so?

JOHN W. RICE CO.,
103 GENESEE ST.,
Auburn - N. Y.

Just Received

A big shipment of Silk and Washable Dresses. Made of superior materials and beautifully trimmed. All sizes in white voile, lace and embroidery trimmed, at $8, $10, $12 and up to $16.50. Georgette and crepe de chene dresses and an immense assortment of colored voile and linens at reasonable prices.

Waists.

You will not find it difficult to select from our big showing of shirt waists. White and colored waists are being offered as low as $1 and up to $8.50 each. The best assortment of styles we have ever offered.

Blue Serges

For Summer

Guaranteed Color Wear Value

A large assortment in the leading styles for Men and Young Men—$15, $18.50, $25.00.

Marshall's Clothing Store

131 Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y.

45 YEARS IN AUBURN.

Place your Insurance with the VENICE TOWN INSURANCE CO. $1,600,000 IN FARM RISKS!

WM. H. SHARPSTEEN, Secretary, Office, Genoa, N. Y.

THE GENOA TRIBUNE and N. Y. World $1.65

