BUT THE 77TH DID IT!

Not the least of the accomplishments of the 77th Division, "New York's Own," which has returned in time to boom the Victory Loan, was the blazing of a way through the Argonne Forest, one of the most treacherous stretches of terrain in the world. Until the march of the 77th, after the "Forest" had been won, the region was never crossed by any considerable body of men, civilian or soldier.

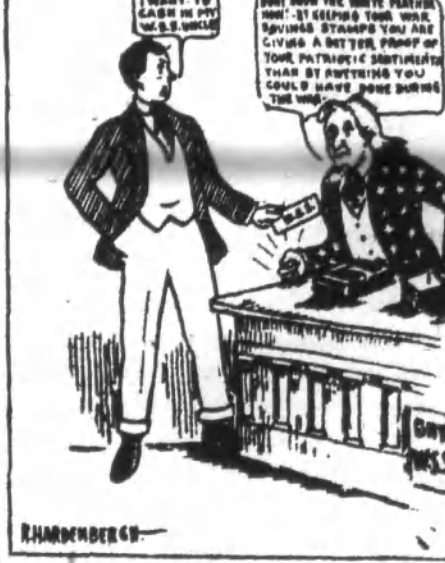

Private J. F. Furrer of the 305th Infantry, in a letter home, has the following to say about the conquering of the Argonne:

"I might state for the benefit of those who may have no idea of the kind of forest the Argonne was that in previous wars Napoleon sent his army around it, as he feared to attempt going through it, as did the Germans in a previous war. They went around it; but, claiming no praise for ourselves, we, the 77th Division, went through it, much to the astonishment of the French, as they said no army in the world could go through it; so now when you hear the 77th Division sing the words of a song, 'They didn't think we'd do it, but we did,' you will know why the song was a hit."

W. S. S. PAMPHLETS READY.

District leaders throughout the Second Federal Reserve District, under the direction of Mrs. John T. Pratt, have received more than a million pamphlets dealing with the necessity of properly investing in War Savings Stamps. These pamphlets, "Making Your Dreams Come True," will be distributed to every householder in the entire district—New York State, twelve counties of New Jersey and Fairfield county, Conn.

Uncle Sam Got 'Em.

"Five German U-boats headed for the United States!"

This warning has been sent out from Washington. The submarines are actually coming, too. But they are bent on a peace raid—in the interest of the Victory Loan campaign. The U-boats, which participated in the war against America and her allies, are manned by American crews, and will be exhibited during the campaign beginning April 21.

One of the boats, the U-117, was engaged in planting German mines off the Atlantic coast last year. The other boats are the U-111, UB-88, UB-97 and UB-148.

Seventy-nine captured German guns, taken by our soldiers at Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, in the Argonne and on the Hindenburg line, have arrived in New York aboard a transport and will be exhibited throughout New York state during the Victory Loan Campaign.

VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN.

In England there are childless parents, because the enemy swooped down upon little children sleeping or at school and shattered their little bodies.

In France, in Belgium, they did the same. They took their homes, too. They destroyed their gardens, they stole what the people had worked for and saved.

We had nothing like this over here. And yet we are going to be misers or are we going to say:

"After all, we didn't have to put up with what they did—over there. Here, Uncle Sam, here is our money. We want to see our job through."—Mary Graham Bonner.

Poverty and illness travel hand in hand. Ward off the team by investing in W. S. S.!

"Spend-Thrift"—Something New

By Ellis Parker Butler

INE was the first liquid put in bottles, and soap was the first solid put in cakes, and oatmeal was the first cereal put in paper packages. Nearly everyone uses soap now. It would not be half as popular if we had to stick a hand into a tube of sloshy soft-soap and smear the stuff on our necks. The man who first sold soap in cakes ought to be canonized and have his picture in stained glass in the cathedrals. He made bathing a pleasure—as nearly a pleasure as bathing ever can be—for a whole world that formerly looked on a bath as one of the forms of torture, a little pleasanter than the rack, but about on a par with being boiled in hot oil.

The man who first thought of putting up thrift in 25-cent paper parcels, with gum on the back like a postage stamp, did a bigger thing for America than the man who invented soap cakes. He was as wise as Solomon and as shrewd as a book agent. He took old Ben Franklin's thrift idea and made it useful, just as Morse and Edison and Marconi took Ben Franklin's electricity ideas and made them useful.

Old Ben had a good idea, but it would not work in America. The American is a natural spender and a natural earner, but he is not a natural saver. Ben's idea of thrift was peeling off a penny here and a penny there and salting it down in an old sock. The Americans' idea of getting ahead in the world is to earn forty thousand dollars and spend thirty-eight of it and have two thousand left for good luck. The American thought it was cheap, European peasant stuff to save a low-down coin like a quarter or a dime. He did not like the thrift idea anyway. Thrift was "negative." It was what one did not spend. And the American is a born spender. When he is spending he is doing something. Spending is "positive."

Well, this guy that invented the thrift stamp had the biggest idea that ever hit an American. He took the old, despised thrift and put it up in twenty-five cent packages and got the government to back the business and just naturally put thrift on sale, advertising it as if it had been soap, or oatmeal, or smoking tobacco. He took thrift, as Campbell took soup, and as Van Camp took beans, and canned it. He made thrift something an American could buy. He fixed thrift so the most reckless spender could go out on a spending spree and spend his money buying thrift at twenty-five cents a throw. He took Ben Franklin's poor, old, un-American, despised "negative" thrift and put it in packages and made it "positive" and popular and the most American thing in America.

I say he was some baby. I say they ought to hang his portrait alongside of George Washington's.

That's the thrift stamp—thrift done up in small, neat parcels, so it can be sold over the counter.

The War Savings Stamp is another thing. A thrift stamp doesn't earn interest. It is the modern, American substitute for the old wool sock that held the pennies. The War Savings Stamp is an entirely different critter. It is a Government Bond chopped into pieces of the handiest possible size. Like this Domino sugar. White sugar used to come in big cones. Then it came in cubes, by the barrel. Now it comes in pound packages. You get it in the restaurants in individual dominos, each one separately wrapped. That's the War Savings Stamp idea. A War Savings Stamp is an interest-bearing security done up in the smallest, desirable package.

I estimate that putting thrift into marketable, advertiseable form has changed a nation of wasters into a nation of savers. And that, George, was no mean stunt.

SERGEANT HERMAN KORTH

(Company D, 121st Machine Gun Battalion, 32nd Division)

For extraordinary heroism in action near Juvigny, north of Soisson, 31st of August. Under heavy fire from machine guns and artillery, Sergeant Korth crawled to the crest of a hill, setting stakes to line our artillery on enemy machine-gun emplacements. He remained in this perilous position for half an hour, signaling back when our troops were endangered by the fire of the batteries."

Official Citation for Distinguished Service Cross.

Sergeant Korth was born in a little German town on the Rhine, but he was "made in America." And he kept faith with America.

He, and thousands of boys like him, have given us lessons in patriotism that we may not soon forget.

Took "Suicide" Nest Alone.

Out of the mists of war, slowly receding from the world, are now emerging stories of Americans in battle which bring home, somewhat, the fighting spirit of our men. Probably this is very timely, with the Victory Liberty Loan approaching, for it may serve as an impetus to subscription.

There is the short tale of Sydney G. Gumpertz, sergeant in the Twenty-seventh Division, and resident of New York city. He has been awarded the Congressional Medal. The citation tells briefly of a fight in the Bois de Forges on September 28. Obstructing the line of advancing Americans was a machine gun or "suicide" nest. Gumpertz and two other volunteers went out after it, through a terrific barrage. The two men were picked off early in the dash, so Sergeant Gumpertz continued alone. Single handed, he accomplished his purpose. Now he is back where he can see his wife and family again.

Corporal Bagged Ten Foes.

There were 27 men who came back from the charge. The rest of the 150 men in D Company, 106th Regiment, of the 27th Division, lay on the battlefield. Ahead of one of the survivors, as he marched in, walked ten Germans—the creditable "bag" of Corp. Harry S. Close, whose bayonet prodded them to the Yankee line. Corporal Close got the Distinguished Service Cross. Now he's getting ready to go after subscribers for the Victory Liberty Loan. He will bear watching!

Easter Week

SEE the land her Easter keeping,
Rises as her Maker rose.
Seeds, so long in darkness sleeping,
Burst at last from winter snows.
Earth, with heaven above, rejoices;
Fields and gardens hail the spring;
Shaws and woodlands ring with voices,
While the wild birds build and sing.
You, to whom your Maker granted
Powers to those sweet birds unknown,
Use the craft by God implanted,
Use the reason not your own.
Here, while heaven and earth rejoice,
Each his Easter tribute bring—
Work of fingers, chant of voices,
Like the birds who build and sing.
—CHARLES KINGSLEY.

One Great Lesson That May Have Come From Stress of War

EASTER is the feast of new life, and the pledge of immortality. But the older we grow the more clearly do we see that the new life is simply the old life redeemed and purified and ennobled. For the resurrection is from the death of sin to the life of righteousness. It is precisely so with immortality. For life, if it survives the grave, will simply go on—indeed, the life that is to survive is going on now. If there is such a thing as immortality, it is a present possession. Men have been fond of dealing with Easter as a theological or metaphysical abstraction. But this is not true of the New Testament writers—to them it was a very practical thing, with a direct bearing on conduct. "If ye then be risen with Christ"—risen now—seek those things which are above," writes St. Paul, and he continues: "Mortify, therefore, your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry." It is a question of keeping the commandments that we have had from the beginning, of holding fast to the standards by which high-minded men and women have always ordered their lives. The question at bottom is one of the quality of the life. The great resurrection is that which carries a human soul from its baser nature to the very top of its capacity for goodness. Thus considered, it is not an event, but a process, and one that lasts through life. There must be a "daily proceeding in all virtue and godliness of living." "Tis a lifelong toll till our lump be leaven," but the toll is worth while, if the leaven is. And that is the point. Kipling puts the case very strongly:

One instant's toll to Thee denied
Stands all eternity's offense.
Of that I did with Thee to guide,
To Thee, through Thee, be excellence.
Men do not as a rule view life in this way, but the war, one may hope, has taught them to do so.

EASTER SONG
JOHN E. DOLSEN

Though I know the very brightness of its beauty
Makes for lightness
Of the purse, I do not care a penny for
that;
Though the times are filled with badness,
My heart is thrilled with gladness
In a way to make me wonder where "I'm at"
When I look upon the neatest, the completest
Of Ethel—when she wears her Easter hat.

HAS IMMENSE "LILY FARM"

New York Man is Probably the Greatest Grower of the Flowers in the World.

In Spring Valley, New York, the lily king of America, A. S. Burns, Jr., has the largest lily "farm" in the whole world. Mr. Burns annually plants a half million bulbs and the cuts run about 50,000 a day. During the year he cuts over 2,000,000 of the waxy white flowers.

Lilies must be grown in sandy soil, planted deeply and in a place where there is excellent drainage. Altogether, there are more than 50,000,000 lilies grown in the United States every year. The bulbs are imported from Japan.

Ends Days of Mourning.
With Saturday night Lent comes to an end, the period of mourning, of veiled altars, crucifixes and pictures is over and the ceremonies of Easter itself take on an entirely different character, that of rejoicing, gladness and splendor. It is the anniversary of Christ's Resurrection, the symbol of life everlasting.

The Hatter Makes Good.

Before he went to war he was manager of a hat store in Third avenue, New York City. Automatic in hand, he stood in No Man's Land, guarding a wounded marine, fighting an enemy patrol. Two Germans fell, the rest fled. The Gotham hatter picked up his comrade and hurried him to shelter.

For this they gave him the Distinguished Service Cross. It is the proudest possession of Albert Meyer of the Sixth Regiment of Marines, Seventy-ninth Company. It occupies an even higher place in his affections than the Prussian helmet he took from a Hun guardsman who tried to bayonet him. There are some $20,000 of Liberty Bonds in Albert Meyer's family. There will be some Victory Notes, too.

—Vernon Mastin of Moravia underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday, April 14, at the Auburn City hospital. Dr. Heazlit was the surgeon. He is reported as doing nicely.

—Special low prices for Youth's, Boys' and Men's Storm King and Short Rubber Boots. R. and H. P. Mastin.

—There will be a dance at North Lansing Grange hall on Wednesday evening, April 30. Music by Christman's orchestra of Cortland. Roast beef supper will be served. Bill $1.10. All rights reserved. adv.

—Be ready for a call from the woman's committee of the Victory Loan. They are selling bonds, and are enthusiastic in their efforts to give everybody a chance to invest. Why not help along in the work?

—Mrs. Lena Freeman and three sons of Cortland have been guests this week of the former's sister, Mrs. Belle Peck. With Mrs. Peck, they went to-day to spend two days at Day Goodman's at East Lansing. Sure-pop Pop Corn at Smith's.

—A card from Mrs. Frank Young at Stuart, Fla., states that they expected to leave there last Tuesday, and would arrive at their home at East Genoa about the 27th or 28th. They have spent a very pleasant winter, the weather of the past two months having been especially enjoyable. Everything is looking fine, and many flowers are now in bloom. Oleanders, red, pink and white, are everywhere and loaded with blossoms. They had more grape fruit on their young trees this year than they could eat.

—On April 16, Col. E. S. Jennings of Auburn resumed the wardenship of Auburn prison which he vacated nearly two years ago to enter the military service. At the time he left the office, it was stipulated by Gov. Whitman that the colonel was to have the position back upon his return. Gov. Smith recognized the obligation to fulfill the pledge of his predecessor, and it is said influenced Supt. Rattigan to re-appoint him. The salary is $4,000 a year with maintenance. John G. Langham of Fleming has been appointed confidential clerk to the warden at a salary of $1,800 per year.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Atwater arrived Friday evening last from their trip to New York. Mr. Atwater entertained the members of the Victory Loan campaign committee of this end of the town at dinner at the Genoa hotel that evening. Several Auburn men were present and much enthusiasm was aroused. Saturday evening, the other members of the committee were entertained at the King Ferry hotel. This also was an enthusiastic gathering. At both meetings, the quota for the town—$34,000—was more than raised, Genoa being the second town in the county to go over the top.

GENOA, OVER THE TOP? SURE!

Ang Going Again, and Then SOME MORE.

The Hearty Support Given the VICTORY Loan by the People of the Town of Genoa on the first day of the Campaign, is but a strong indication of what the rest of you will do to it on Saturday, the 26th, when the Canvassers will call on you. We invite you to join the THOUSAND DOLLAR Club if your means will allow, and if not to get in some where under this figure to your limit. There are no quitters but the GERMANS—the YANKS are still on the job. Let's finish it while the BUYING is Good.

VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEE of GENOA.

Dies Suddenly in Syracuse.

The death of Mrs. Eva Close Slocum, formerly of Genoa, occurred very suddenly at her home in Syracuse on Friday evening last. Mrs. Slocum, though not in the best of health for several years, had been usually well up to two hours before her death. She was on the street when suddenly taken ill and, going into a drug store, asked for medicine and directed them to telephone for friends. She was taken to her home at 220 Tremont St., and died in about two hours. Apoplexy is given as the cause of her death. She was 56 years of age.

She is survived by three sons, Herbert, who resided with his mother in Syracuse, Vernon of the U. S. Army now in France, and Vaughn, of the U. S. Navy. She also leaves two brothers—Arthur Close of Auburn and Herbert Close of Walnut Creek, Calif., and a sister, Miss Hettie Close, also of the latter place. The family resided in Scipio for many years and were well known in this vicinity.

Funeral services were held at the home of Arthur Close, 16 Grant Ave., Auburn, on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. I. W. Ketchum, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church, officiated and conducted an impressive service, closing with an appropriate poem. There were a large number of very beautiful floral tributes. The remains were taken to Moravia for burial in the family plot in Indian Mound cemetery.

Among those present at the funeral were Miss May Ward and Eugene Close of Moravia, Mrs. Fanny Slocum of Scipioville, Miss Mary Waldo of Genoa, Mrs. W. W. Potter of Auburn, and a number of other friends and relatives of Auburn and Syracuse.
