Mrs. Fred Wood and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Wood of the Indian Field road were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Wm. B. Avery Dead.

William B. Avery, commissioner of elections for Cayuga county, and a prominent resident of Aurora, died at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon after an acute illness that lasted only two days.

Mr. Avery had been ailing since Jan. 1, but it was not until Saturday that his complaint became so serious that a fatal termination was feared. Up to Feb. 20 he had been attending to his duties as a member of the Board of Elections, and had been going to Auburn regularly.

Commissioner Avery, who would have reached his 66th birthday on May 29, was born and had always lived near Aurora.

Mr. Avery was a lifelong Republican and had always been active in local leadership of that party. He served three terms on the Board of Supervisors in 1892, '93 and '94, and during the last year of his incumbency was chairman of the board.

Mr. Avery was appointed to the Board of Elections in 1913, and he had since served continuously in that office.

Surviving are his wife, who was Jane Willits Baldwin; five sons, James Avery, William B. Avery, Jr., Benjamin F., Francis B. and D. Dudley Avery; and four daughters, Elizabeth Avery Gould, (Mrs. William H. Gould) of Burkville, Va.; Mrs. Charles G. Ward of Hingham, Mass.; Miss Lydia C. Avery and Miss Anna M. Avery of Aurora.

The funeral was held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the family residence at Aurora. Rev. G. P. Sewall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, officiated. Burial in Aurora cemetery.

Motor Vehicles in County.

Albany, March 10—Cayuga county has a car for every 14 of its residents. The ratio of car to population in this State is now 1 to 20. Official figures made public by Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo show 463,758 motor vehicles registered in New York State last year, a gain of 52,191, or 12 per cent. Pleasure cars increased 8 per cent; commercials 36 per cent. Motorcycles dropped from 28,775 to 28,597. Total receipts to the automobile bureau were $4,945,297.50, a gain of $661,183.

Cayuga county registered 4,002 pleasure cars, an increase of 366; 421 commercials, a gain of 147. The total registration for the county was 4,560. There are 20 trailers, 25 dealers, 520 chauffeurs, 209 motorcycles. Receipts to the automobile bureau from the county were $36,579.50, the sum being divided between state and county, and available for highway purposes.

Corrosive sublimate, not formaldehyde, is the disinfectant treatment for seed potatoes advocated by the plant pathologists at the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca. The college will gladly send full information regarding this treatment.

Former Lansing Resident.

Old residents of the town of Lansing will be interested to learn of the death of Clinton B. Jacobs on Feb. 25 at the Rochester General hospital.

Clinton Bowker Jacobs was born in North Lansing, N. Y., in 1841, being the eldest son of Mary and Benjamin Jacobs. He had been engaged in business in Groton, Auburn and Lincoln, Neb., where he was associated with his brother, R. W. Jacobs, in the wholesale dry goods business.

Mr. Jacobs was twice married, his first wife being Parthenia Givens of Dryden, N. Y., who died over 30 years ago. His second wife was Eliza Brokaw, who he married in Auburn, and who died five years ago in Rochester. Besides his brother, R. W. Jacobs, of Rome, he leaves a son, Fred D. Jacobs, of Rochester.

Commits Suicide.

Dewitt C. Guile, 68 years old, well known among horsemen here several years ago, committed suicide in Port Byron at 6 o'clock Saturday by hanging.

Mr. Guile had been living in Rochester but went to Port Byron several months ago and boarded with Mrs. Margaret Ridell. He was in poor health, it is stated.

He arose at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and left the house. When he did not return Mrs. Ridell went to look for him. She found his body hanging in a barn in the rear of the house. Life was extinct.

Mr. Guile is survived by a brother and sister, who reside in Rochester.

Entertains Club.

On Thursday, March 6, Mrs. George L. Ferris entertained the Birthday club in honor of Mrs. Burdella Davis who was the guest of honor.

Mrs. J. D. Todd of Ithaca, who was a former member of the club, was present, also Miss Mary Van Marter, formerly of Ithaca.

Mrs. Ruth Ferris presented the birthday cake illuminated with the requisite number of candles. The decorations were white carnations and yellow narcissus. The hostess presented the gift, which was a beautiful flower dish. All members were present except two.

One Who Was There.

Lansing Woman Dead.

Mrs. Jane Marcelle, 79, of South Lansing, was found dead Tuesday morning at her home by Mrs. Harry Herick, a neighbor. The day before she was about the house and doing her work as usual. Dr. William A. Smith of Newfield, who was notified, gave a certificate stating heart disease was the cause of death.

Besides her husband, Frank Marcelle, who is in feeble health, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Eli Conklin of Etna. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment in the Asbury cemetery.

County Growers of Wool.

Frank P. Gildersleeve, president of the Cayuga County Sheep Growers' Co-operative Association, Inc., announces a meeting of the members of the organization and others interested in wool production, in the supervisors' rooms in Auburn March 17. The meeting will be called at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and is for the purpose of ratifying the by-laws of the association, which have been drawn up by the special committee in charge.

Tompkins County Jurors.

The jury list for the next term of Supreme Court to be held in Ithaca commencing March 24 has been drawn. Following are the jurors selected from nearby towns:

GRAND JURORS.

Charles Searles, Lansing; Geo. Pitta, Groton.

TRIAL JURORS.

The most satisfactory wall paper is that which is least conspicuous. It should be quietly on the wall, not show for the attention of anyone who enters the room.

Farmers' Institute.

The weather on last Friday and Saturday was fine, so that could not have been the reason for the small attendance at the institute held in the High school building. The traveling on many country roads is very bad, however. The institute was well advertised in the local paper, two weeks in advance, and the full program given, so that the public in this and surrounding towns were not in ignorance that these meetings were to be held. The institute was pronounced a success in everything but attendance, and the farmer and poultryman who did not attend are losers thereby. The date of the institute was postponed on account of sickness in the community and perhaps this had considerable to do with the small number present, as many farmers are getting busy now.

T. H. King of Trumansburg proved to be a splendid conductor, and his addresses were full of practical information. He spoke on "Fertility Problems," "Fruit for the Family," Clover and Alfalfa."

I. F. Hall of Cortland gave two fine addresses on "Improvement of the Dairy Herd" and "Feeds for the Dairy."

Farm Bureau Manager Weatherby was present Friday afternoon and gave valuable information on "Good Seed and where to obtain it."

Chas. Huff of Moravia, an expert in raising potatoes, gave a talk on Saturday afternoon on "Soil and Seed Selection for Potatoes."

The Home-makers' conference in charge of Mrs. Monroe of Dryden was quite well attended by the women and was an interesting session. Miss Bowen, county conservation agent, was also present, and talked on the work which the women could take up as a club.

Mrs. Monroe gave suggestions for lessening the work in the home, points on health, the right foods for children and many useful ideas for the busy housekeeper. She also gave an address on Poultry at the evening session.

The committee in charge of the institute state that there was considerable expense incurred in connection with the meetings and they feel that the institute should have received better support from the community in general.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid society served a fine dinner to the public on Saturday, and were prepared for a much larger crowd. They cleared about $12 from the dinner.

Clocks Must Go Ahead.

Failure of congress before final adjournment to take any action on pending bills providing for repeal of the Daylight Saving act made certain that the nation's clocks again would be advanced an hour the last Sunday in March and set back an hour the last Sunday in October.

Opposition of farming interests to the daylight saving act on the grounds that it was of no benefit to the people of rural communities led to the introduction of several bills providing for its repeal, but all of them failed. On March 30, therefore, clocks must be set ahead an hour.

It is estimated that the provision last year saved a billion and a half tons of coal and $40,000,000 in gas and electricity.

Howell-Myers.

The marriage of Ward C. Howell, of Ludlowville, to Miss Matilda A. Myers, of Ithaca, took place at the First Methodist Episcopal parsonage at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, March 6, the Rev. John Richards performing the ceremony with the ring service. Mr. and Mrs. Howell will make their home in Ludlowville.

—The New York State Grange reports a net gain of 2,791 members during 1918, with a loss of three subordinate organizations. The total receipts of the State Grange for the year were $34,417.22. The Grange at its meeting in Ludlowville recently reported a record as opposed to Sunday banquets and Sunday movies.

WOMEN ORGANIZING FOR LOAN CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Pratt Receiving Reports From All Parts of This District Outlining Plans.

From all parts of the Second Federal Reserve District reports are being sent to Mrs. John T. Pratt, Chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee, giving an outline of the complete organization of the women's committees in all the counties for a whirlwind campaign for the Victory Loan. Mrs. Pratt has summoned her County Chairmen and Vice Chairmen for an all day conference in her New York home March 7, when the local plans will be harmonized and furthered by the District co-operation.

More than one hundred of these county leaders will assemble, and each has been particularly requested to make constructive reports, present difficulties solved, not those which continually arise in all subdivisions alike, their reiterated mental having a depressing effect. Mrs. Pratt urges the women to take time by the forelock and begin their work at once, as they, as a rule, have so many domestic demands to meet that women folk must make an early start in order to overcome the handicap of the business preparedness of the men workers.

Governor Benjamin Strong of the Second Federal Reserve Bank, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank of Chicago, member of the National Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, and Dr. George Vincent of the Rockefeller Foundation are to make addresses at the morning session. After the luncheon, which Mrs. Pratt will give for her guests, each of the Sub-District Chairmen will gather her county workers together for a special discussion of local plans and problems.

"Publicity" will be one of the main topics under consideration. Mrs. Pratt is also going to take up the matter of making the Women's Liberty Loan Organization a permanent one, which will be ready at all times to help and co-operate with the Government in any emergency. She will urge this, as it will mean a big saving in time, money and effort, and because a thoroughly organized body such as it is today can do splendid service.

You Know the Tune.

Hark to your Uncle Sam's appeal, Buy Savings Stamps, War Savings Stamps. They build our boats, from deck to keel, Do Savings Stamps, War Savings Stamps. They care for all our boys that roam in foreign lands, on-ocean's foam; They dress them, feed them, bring them home, Do Savings Stamps, War Savings Stamps.

If when you are young you take care of War Savings Stamps, when you are old they will take care of you.

A REAL WELCOME FOR 27TH DIVISION

By EARL BALDWIN THOMAS

Again they come, our sturdy sons, from deeds of valor well performed, who fought against the German guns, across the Hindenburg Line swarmed, and blasted wide the yawning breach through which the Anzacs hurled their might; and otherwise made haste to teach the Hun just how a Yank can fight. The Empire State's, the New York Guard! What welcome shall we give to these, whose hearts are battle-worn and scarred, whose comrades lie beneath the trees of Vlerstaat Ridge and Guillemont Farm and by La Selle's dark-erfused banks, to those, who answered war's alarm with full, unflinching, eager ranks? What answer shall we make when they come marching up the Avenue; shall we but cheer and faintly say, "We tried to do as much as you?" No! Lo! us, which is as we ought, say proudly to that marching mob, "Throughout the Lotus we bought and bought, and now we'll finish up the job by backing up the Victory Loan to start you on the upward track, to give you bread, and not a stone, for that's the way WE welcome back!"

No. 1. Saving and Personal Efficiency. (Prepared by Savings Division, U. S. Treasury.)

Efficiency—that is, the ability to do one's job as best it can be done by a British investigator as supplying the most practical answer to the question, "When and where should I begin to save,—whether money, food, time, or what not?" This is equally practical for the people of the United States.

This investigator finds that "saving" should begin as soon as the point of efficiency has been reached. The things to do without are those that do not directly promote efficiency—that in themselves cost much and profit little. This standard becomes more strikingly practical when we realize that efficiency is both mental and physical. We must be able to think, or to use our muscles effectively, in our work as the case may be. Happiness, proper rest, normal recreation, as well as food or shelter, all have their part in making up efficiency. The point then is to continue to spend as long as spending makes for efficiency, and to cease when it no longer contributes to personal or family ability. The British specialist points out that waste is possible in the very process of attaining efficiency and warns the public not to make efficiency a blind idol or an excuse for excess or extravagance. Putting excess into War Savings Stamps is a practical American method of maintaining efficiency, both physical and financial.

'Y' RELIEVED OF CARE OF POST EXCHANGES

In Making Requested Change Pershing Again Praises Accomplishments of Red Triangle Workers.

Paris, March 5.—General Pershing has just relieved the Y. M. C. A. of the operation of post exchanges with the American Army at the request of E. C. Carter, head of Red Triangle work abroad.

In a letter to Mr. Carter, in which he thanks the Y. M. C. A. for its service in handling the exchanges, in spite of difficulties of transportation and tonnage, General Pershing announces that the army will immediately take over and operate the exchanges, as soldiers may now be spared from other military duties to perform this work. The Y. M. C. A. asked for relief from the post exchanges in order to throw all its energy toward the educational, athletic and entertainment activities, which commandant officers and Main Headquarters have asked the "Y" to assume.

Mr. Carter wrote to General Pershing as follows:

Dear General Pershing—A year and a half ago you requested the Y. M. C. A. to undertake the operation of post exchanges for the American expeditionary force, in order that officers and enlisted men might not be taken away for that purpose from their paramount military functions of training and fighting.

Recent general orders from Main Headquarters and requests from large numbers of commanding officers have laid on the Y. M. C. A. increased responsibilities in promoting educational, athletic and entertainment activities in the American expeditionary force. This is placing a rapidly increasing burden on our personnel. The army also is now preparing for the delivery of all supplies for the post exchanges, which heretofore have been imported, manufactured and delivered by the Y. M. C. A. In view of the changed situation I wish to know whether you do not think it would be possible for the army at a very early date to assume full responsibility for the maintenance of the post exchanges throughout the American Expeditionary Force.

General Pershing replied as follows: As you correctly state, the Y. M. C. A. undertook the management of the post exchanges at my request at a time when it was of the greatest importance that no available soldier should be taken away from the vital military functions of training and fighting. As the reasons which impelled me at that time to request you to undertake this work no longer exist, I am glad to approve your suggestion. In reaching this conclusion consideration has been given to the new burdens that you have assumed. I have accordingly given directions that the army units themselves take over and operate their own post exchanges.

In making this change, permit me to thank you for the very valuable services and assistance which the Y. M. C. A. has rendered to the American Expeditionary Force in handling these exchanges. Handicapped by a shortage of tonnage and land transportation the Y. M. C. A. has by extra exertion served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army.

PERSHING ESTABLISHES ARMY UNIVERSITY

General Pershing has signed an order establishing an American army university in France to accommodate from 15,000 to 20,000 soldier students, according to a cable message received by the Y. M. C. A. War Work Council. Col. Ira L. Reeves has been assigned to the post of military commander at the school, which will be opened in a few days at Beune. At the same time the main office of the Y. M. C. A. Army Educational Commission will be moved from Paris to Beune. General Pershing states in his order that this university is to provide three months' courses for soldiers who cannot attend European universities. Courses in engineering, liberal and fine arts, science, music and the like will be offered. The Y. M. C. A. War Work Council announced that the cost of the educational program in the A. E. F. had now reached $700,000 a month. Books and supplies costing $1,300,000 have been sent overseas. The army pays for the books and distributes them to the soldier students.

DOUGHBOYS WENT OVER TOP FOR HUN PIANO

There was no piano in the trenches where a Pennsylvania Signal Corps detachment had held their advanced post in France for months, but there was one in a dugout behind the Hun lines. So, in order to have the Y. M. C. A. show that was to come the next night to amuse the tired men, a raiding party was sent out to the German side to take the piano captive. The squad detailed to the job killed 28 Boches and brought in 14 prisoners. In addition to the upright, which was waiting for the "Y" entertainers when they arrived at the post.

When one of the German prisoners saw the Y. M. C. A. performers and learned that the object of the raid had been the piano and not their own precious bodies, he cried out, "Ach, Gott! Der Krieg ist fertig!" That was on November 4, and one week later his lament came true.

FREE DAY IS BIG DAY FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Following its policy of combining with its free distribution of athletic supplies, its free entertainments, etc., the Y. M. C. A. in France has set apart certain days when the inner man may be satisfied without cost at "Y" huts. Reports from one camp, that at Pontzenen, show that on a recent "free day" 12,500 soldiers were served at seven different centers. It happened to be "hot chocolate day" and they stowed away 280 pounds of cocoa. With it they used 1,207 cans of milk and 600 pounds of sugar.

AUBURN'S DRESS-UP WEEK

The members of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce extend to the people of Cayuga County an invitation to visit Auburn during Dress-Up Week—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 19, 20, 21 and 22.

This occasion will afford out-of-town people an excellent opportunity to view the beautiful window displays of seasonable and up-to-date merchandise, which in all probability will surpass anything ever seen here before.

You are especially urged to visit the stores and inspect the new styles—every attention and courtesy will be shown you.

See next week's paper for complete list of Merchants entered in Dress-Up Week.

Mother's Cook Book

"Thrift and economy in the kitchen mean painstaking treatment of supplies from start to finish. In cooking, nutritive value and flavor are to be retained; flour is to be intensified or added when absent; succulence and juiciness must be present; the food must taste so good that the gospel of the clean plate needs no teaching." —Janet M. Hill.

Seasonable Foods.

A nice way to prepare a thick slice of ham is to sear it well on both sides in a hot iron frying pan, then add a cupful of cider and let it simmer until the cider is nearly absorbed, using care not to scorch it. Serve with the cider sauce and finely minced parsley.

Cider Sauce.

Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add four of flour and two cupfuls of the ham liquor, all fat removed. Bring to boiling point, add four tablespoonfuls of cider and pepper to taste.

Hot Roast Ham, Cider Sauce.

Soak ham in cold water, wash and put into a kettle with one-half cup each of chopped onion, carrot and two sprigs of parsley and four cloves. Cover with cold water, bring to the boiling point and simmer until tender. After two hours, add one quart of cider. Allow the ham to cool in the liquor, remove, take off skin and bake one hour.

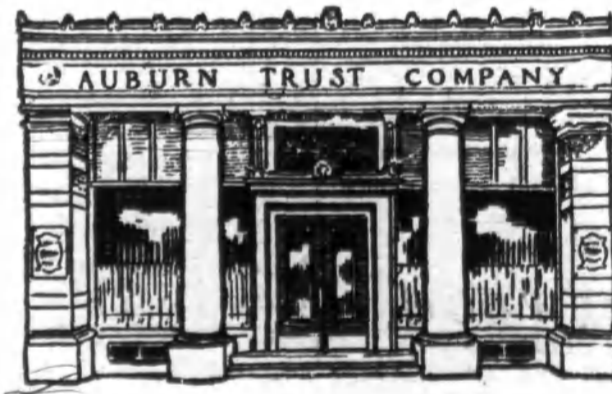

Bread Pudding.

Pour one quart of scalded milk over two cupfuls of stale bread crumbs, cover and let stand fifteen minutes. Add the yolks of four eggs, well beaten, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, a few gratings of nutmeg, and one-fourth teaspoonful of soda dissolved in two teaspoonfuls of hot water; then fold in the whites of four eggs, beaten stiff. Turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes.

Baked Larded Liver.

Tie and lard upper surface of calf's liver. Place in a pan and spread with the following mixture: Cream three tablespoonfuls of butter and add one and one-fourth teaspoonfuls each of ground cloves and pepper. Pour around one-half cup of boiling water and cook in a moderate oven one hour, basting every ten minutes. Remove to serving dish, skim off fat from liquor and add one cupful of acid fruit juice and strain sauce around the liver.

LIBERIA IS REACHING OUT

Tribes of That Country, It is Said, Are Accepting the Teachings of the Missionaries.

Plenyono Gbe Wolo, a Liberian of the Kru tribe, who graduated from Columbia university, says:
There never has been a scientific census of Liberia, but the population is estimated at from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000, and not more than 15,000 are Americo-Liberians, the descendants of liberated slaves. The remainder belong to tribes which speak four different languages and offer only nominal submission to the government. The Kru elect their kings by the selection of the most available man of the royal house. In the Jarroway tribe the king is an absolute monarch for the reign of six years, and is then put to death. Other tribes also follow different customs.

The tribes do not acknowledge the government of Monrovia, because they feel that it does not protect them. By treaty the United States government is required to help the Americo-Liberians against the tribes, and in 1912 this country helped put down a rebellion of the Kru.

The constitution of Liberia has a literacy test, which has heretofore excluded most of the natives from voting, as the central government is unable to undertake their education. The Girbas are being taught by Episcopal missionaries, and the Fullingos, who are Mohammedans, are also gaining the franchise. The Kru are very ambitious and are also catching up. There are more than 50 Liberians of the native tribes studying in the United States.

Louis McKinstry, one of the oldest and best-known newspapermen in the state, died at his home in Fredonia, Wednesday afternoon, March 5. He had been in failing health for a number of months, but was actively engaged in the publication of the Fredonia Censor until late in January, when he sold the newspaper to Frederick C. Bickers. Mr. McKinstry was born in Fredonia on Dec. 9, 1844.

Senator Samuel Ramsperger of Buffalo, would have the secretary of state prepare a new state map and to this end he introduced a bill in the upper house authorizing the secretary of state to prepare a base map of the state upon which may later be shown various improvements and important features by colors and symbols. It is to show boundaries, lakes, rivers, streams, railroads and highways.

Building activity in New York state took a decided upward bound from December, 1918, to January, 1919. The increased expenditures for this period, as reported by the building departments of the first and second class cities to the state industrial commission, amounted to 123 per cent. The only cities which failed to share in this rise were Albany, Troy and Utica where the amounts expended for building declined 20, 1 and 50 per cent respectively.

"How are we going to keep them on the farm after they have seen the big town?" no longer a question with farmers of Cattaraugus county. Farm hands will be paid every week hereafter. There will be no more waiting until products are sold in the fall. With the movement back to the farm of the boys who left to get big money in munition plants, Manager Crofoot of the Cattaraugus County Farm bureau association is starting a movement among farm owners to establish a regular pay day.

Service ribbons of a design to be adopted by the governor, adjutant general and chief of the bureau of war records would be provided for New York state citizens who served the colors in the world war, under the bill of Senator John J. Roylance of New York, which passed the senate. The ribbons would be purchased by those authorized to wear them. The measure also would provide for the presentation of bronze medals to families of men who died in the service.

J. Robert O'Brien was elected president of the Niagara Poultry and Poultry Stock association in Lockport.

Climb!

YOU'RE standing today on the first rung of a ladder of "Opportunity." You're standing there with both feet. You know it—and you know that it will hold all the weight you can put on it.

But one rung doesn't make a ladder. You've got to have others if you want to climb.

Shape them to fit your ladder and—drive them in!

No material? Where's your vision, Man?—it's lying all about you.

Make your next rung "Thrift" and—climb!

Don't look down; look up! Shape and place the next rung "Sensible Spending"—and the next, "Sensible Saving"—and Keep on shaping them—keep on building—buy War Savings Stamps and—climb, climb, climb!

GOVERNMENT LOAN ORGANIZATION
Second Federal Reserve District
War Savings Committee, 120 Broadway, New York

JUST WHAT IS MEANT BY "FINISH THE JOB!"

The people of the United States will be asked presently to subscribe to a Fifth Liberty Loan, the Victory Liberty Loan. And they will be asked to do so in order that the Government may "Finish the Job" of the war.

What does that mean? It means, of course, paying the war bills, bringing the troops home, clearing up the expense of demobilization, looking after the wounded and making payments to the dependents of soldiers—in short, it means wiping the war off the ledger.

But in a spiritual sense it means much more.

The call for the Loan will be another call of patriotism. Is that call to go unanswered? It will be the last chance for the people as a whole to rally in unity to a national demand. In the great work for civilization which our troops accomplished gloriously there should be found the inspiration for completing the task.

"Finish the Job" has a spiritual significance as well as a material significance. It is the only way to prosperity.

PROSPERITY'S PROSPECT.

Of immediate interest to every man in the country is the business prospect for the coming year. The war was a great upsetter of business, great and small—manufacturing, retailing and agricultural. Business covers all these fields, so that whether a man is a farmer, a manufacturer or runs a store his interest is—Business.

The war upset business in three ways—it diverted labor, it diverted goods, it diverted capital. But the supply of labor is gradually returning to normal, and goods are going to the people instead of to the army and the navy. But capital is still tied up because of the war-bills.

There will be no return to business on the vast scale of which this country has shown itself capable until the war-bills are paid, for not until then will the banks be entirely free to renew their normal activity, which is the financing of business enterprises.

As soon as the Victory Liberty Loan is taken by the people the war-bills will be swept off the ledger. If business men want to do business they must buy these bonds as willingly as they bought them during war days.

It is for the people to say whether the people's business is to prosper.

Death of Wm. F. Rundell.

William F. Rundell, a well known former resident of this vicinity, died on Thursday, March 6, at Willard hospital, where he went in January of this year. The remains were taken to Moravia, where funeral services were held at the residence of Undertaker Cutler on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. G. E. Seobey officiated. Burial was made in Genoa cemetery.

The deceased had lived for the past 25 years in Moravia. He was the last member of the family of Lockwood and Anna C. Rundell of Genoa, and was born at the Rundell farm, about a mile east of this village. He was 87 years of age, and is survived by an only son, Fred H. Rundell of West Lafayette, Ohio. His wife died many years ago in Genoa.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Tupper of East Genoa, the latter being a niece of Mr. Rundell, attended the funeral at Moravia.

The village trustees of Mount Morris have ordered the destruction of all poplar trees because of the damage they are doing by roots creeping into sewers.

Passage of 1919 Wheat Price bill will assure lower price for bread or an increase of almost 40% in size of loaves, according to Produce Exchange officials heads of bakers' organizations.

It is an interesting historical fact that New York's first monster demonstration for returning troops was in honor of the "Black Watch"—the heroic regiment of negroes who only a year ago were National Guard rookies.

"Red Hill," the historic home of Patrick Henry in Halifax county, about thirty miles from Lynchburg, Va., was destroyed recently by fire which swept the house unchecked because of frozen water pipes. Valuable furniture and many famous relics on the first floor were saved.

The Thrice-A-Week Edition
OF THE
New York World
IN 1919.

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price. The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. We have been forced to enter the great world war, and a mighty army of ours is already in France fighting great battles and winning magnificent victories. You will want to have all the news from our troops on European battlefields, and 1919 promises to be the most momentous year in the history of our universe. No other newspaper at so small a price will furnish such prompt and accurate news of these world-shaking events. It is not necessary to say more. THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Genoa Tribune together for one year for $2.25. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.50.

—Ithaca is planning for a contagious hospital to cost $20,000.

—It is probable that Ithaca will celebrate Dress-up Week, April 5 to 12.

—It is not the hours you put in that counts, it is what you put into the hours.

—Farley's point on Cayuga lake will have electric lights this season, it is expected.

—The Groton chamber of commerce has 122 members, following a special drive.

—Weedsport will purchase three voting machines to be installed in time for the next election.

—The price of milk in Ithaca dropped one cent recently, while coffee cream costs the consumer 10 cents less a quart.

—The 27th Division will parade alone in New York City. No soldiers from other units will be in the line of march.

—The postoffice department has changed the abbreviation for California from Cal. to Calif., to avoid confusion with Colorado.

—Governor Smith has signed the bill of Assemblyman Hagar, increasing the salary of the Cayuga county surrogate from $2000 to $3000 a year.

After April 1, 1919, we will charge 6 per cent. interest on all unpaid accounts.

—Lieut. Paul Chappell, Cayuga county's first flying ace, arrived at his home in Cayuga recently with official war credit of bringing down a German plane.

—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius F. Keefe of New York City, March 2, 1919, a daughter—Gertrude. Mr. and Mrs. Keefe were former residents of Genoa.

—The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Hollenbeck, daughter of John Flinn of North Lansing, was held at the Catholic church in Ithaca on March 6, at 9 o'clock a. m.

—Miss M. Aubra Kelsey has resigned as teacher of the Kelloggsville school to accept a clerical position in the War Risk Insurance Department, Washington.

—District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Helen Strong of East Genoa and assistant Grand Lecturer Ira Kingsley of Cato made their official visit to Hudson-Fulton Chapter O. E. S. at Groton Monday evening last week.

—The condition of Thomas J. Ryan of Sherwood, who is at the Auburn City hospital as the result of being caught in the belt of a gasoline engine at his farm, is reported as very favorable. Mr. Ryan's left leg was so badly injured one day last week, that it was amputated at the knee by Dr. L. F. O'Neill.

—March 25 has been set for the parade of the famous 27th Division in New York. Many Auburn and Cayuga county residents are planning to see the big demonstration. Co. M is expected to reach Auburn about March 31. Definite announcement will be made later concerning the welcome home celebration.

—Private J. A. W. Ozmun of Ithaca, a member of the draft contingent which left Ithaca last August for Camp Gordon, Ga., is now one of the soldiers in the Peace Conference Guard of the American army in France, and has been guarding President Wilson on his trips to the conference hall from his hotel in Paris.

—Auburn's plans for Dress-Up Week, March 19-22, are progressing nicely and members of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce are busy arranging the last details. The merchants are entering the window dressing contest with enthusiasm and it is expected that the windows, when they are unveiled the morning of March 19, will be wonders of the decorator's art.

—We call the attention of our readers this week to the many columns of advertising in this issue. Every intelligent subscriber to a newspaper reads the advertisements—people know that it is to their advantage to do so. Business men and merchants are spending much thoughtful effort and time on the announcements which they make to the public, and the readers of the newspaper are responding to these "silent salesmen." THE TRIBUNE is one of the best country distributors of advertising information because it is read each week by thousands.

—A Rochester piano company has sold its whole factory output for a year to a London store.

—A daughter, Martha, was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Atwood, of Ithaca March 6, in the city hospital.

—The largest hotel in the world, the New Pennsylvania, was opened recently in New York, with 2,200 rooms and the same number of baths.

—A hiccough epidemic is sweeping through Cleveland and Northern Ohio. Physicians report that afflicted persons suffer for two or three days without relief.

—The court of appeals has reversed the opinion of the appellate division and holds that town and village boards have the right to fix the speed limit of automobiles.

—President J. G. Schurman of Cornell university entered a hospital in New York city Monday for a slight operation. He will have to stay in bed for two or three weeks, it is expected.

—Stephen Hays of Detroit did not realize how many short, loving blondes, not over 32, were available until he advertised for a wife of that description. They're still coming. Another proof that advertising pays.

—In order to help out the poor people in Rochester, the Rotary club of that city is going into the milk business. It is reported that they will sell milk for 10c a quart and at even a lower price during the summer.

—Rev. John A. MacIntosh, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ithaca, has under consideration the proffer of the chair of the Philosophy of Religion and Ethics in McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, to which he was elected by the Board of Directors of the institution on Friday.

—Niagara Falls barbers say that the epidemic of influenza in that city in November and December have left in their wake many baldheaded men. Fifty per cent of their patrons, the barbers claim are complaining of losing their hair. All who are afflicted this way admit having had the influenza.

—Willard A. Hoagland, state and federal deputy game warden, saw at least 8,000 canvass back ducks and 200 wild geese on Cayuga lake between Unions Springs and Levanna last week, according to a statement made by him. Hunters are forbidden to shoot them before Sept. 16, however. The federal laws passed recently are responsible for this condition, which is unprecedented in Mr. Hoagland's experience.

—Munson O. Baker, who was the first white child born in Nunda, and is now in his ninety-seventh year, attributes his good health and long life largely to his milk diet. He says that great share of his food during the first thirty years of his life was milk and now nothing is more acceptable to him for supper than a bowl of bread and milk. He also says that if milk was advanced 50 to 100 per cent. in price it would still be the cheapest food for a growing family.

PAY AND FILE INCOME TAX BEFORE MAR. 15

U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau Gives Warning That Severe Penalties Will Be Enforced.

WOMEN WITHIN LAW'S SCOPE; HOW THEY REPORT INCOME

The Income Tax drive comes to a close on Saturday night, March 15. The payments and returns due on that date under the provisions of the new Revenue Law must be in the hands of local Internal Revenue Collectors before their offices close that night.

The Income Tax is being collected to meet the war expenses. Every person who shouted and tooted his horn on Armistice Day is now called upon to contribute his share of the cost of winning the war.

The laggards and the dodgers will face severe fines and jail sentences. The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that its officers will check us all up to see that every person who comes within the scope of the Income Tax law did his share.

Where to Pay and File.

Residents of New York state should make their returns and pay their taxes to the nearest of the following collectors of Internal Revenue: Vincent H. Riordan, Buffalo; Neil Brewster, Syracuse; Roscoe Irwin, Albany; Mark Eisner, 1150 Broadway, New York City; William H. Edwards, Custom House, New York City; Bertram Gardner, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Payments sent by mail should be attached to the returns and should be in the form of check, money order or draft. Cash payments by mail are sent at the taxpayer's risk of loss.

If you are unable to make your return personally because of illness, absence or incapacity an agent or legal representative may make your return.

If there are any doubtful points as to your items of income or allowable deductions you should get in touch at once with a Revenue officer or a banker for advice.

Women Pay Tax.

Women are subject to all the requirements of the Income Tax. Whether single or married, a woman's income from all sources must be considered.

If unmarried or if living apart from her husband she must make her return for 1918 if her net income was $1,000 or over.

If married and living with her husband her income must be considered with the husband's in determining the liability for a return. Their joint income, less the credits allowed by law, is subject to normal tax. The wife's net income is considered separately in computing any surtax that may be due. Husband and wife file jointly, as a rule. If the husband does not include his wife's income in his return the wife must file a separate return.

Severe Penalties.

The new Revenue Law places severe penalties on a person who fails to make return on time, refuses to make return or renders a fraudulent return. For failure to make return and pay tax on time a fine of not more than $1,000 is named and 25 per cent of the tax due is added to the assessment. For refusing willfully to make return or for making a false or fraudulent return there is a fine of not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both.

Farmers' Income Taxable.

Every farmer and ranchman who had a fair or a good year in 1918 must heed the Income Tax this year. He must consider all his income as taxable. He is entitled to deduct from his gross income all amounts expended in carrying on his farm. The cost of farm machinery, farm buildings and improvements cannot be deducted. The cost of live stock, either for resale or for breeding purposes, is also regarded as investment.

Overtime and Bonuses Taxed.

Salary and wage earners must consider as taxable every item received from employers and from other sources. Bonuses and overtime pay are to be reported as well as the regular payments.

Allowances for Losses.

Losses sustained in 1918 and not covered by insurance are deductible items if incurred in the taxpayer's business or trade, in any transaction undertaken for profit or arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty or from theft.

MENOHER BACKS VICTORY LOAN

Duty of People at Home Not Done Until Fighting Men Are Back, Says Commander of Rainbow Division.

Major Gen. Charles T. Menoher, whose service as former commander of the 12nd (Rainbow) Division demonstrated his fighting qualities, has placed the stamp of his approval of the W. S. S. and Victory Loan campaigns in the following statement:

"The patriotic response of the American people in the matter of the purchase of War Savings Stamps and Liberty Loan Bonds has been one of the most remarkable features of this war. From the tales we had from time to time of the enthusiastic self-sacrifice on the part of the American people at home we, who were fighting in France, knew that these good people were behind us all the time and that they would remain behind us until we had completed the task set out for us—that of beating the Hun. We were beating him, all right, when he cried 'Enough' like the Hun he is.

"Now their task is not done and will not be done until all our boys are returned home and the great machine built up for our task has been dismantled. I know that since the war has practically ended the incentive to concentrate effort is more or less lacking and that interests are again divergent, yet I believe and have faith that the American people will continue their support until the task is fully completed and that we may expect the same patriotic response in securing the coming loan as was manifest during previous loans."

Carter Glass Says—

"I know the appeal of the American Government to the American people will meet a response of which the nation will be proud."

A Test of After-War Strategy.

The wounded doughboy, once he has started along the road to recovery, requires two essentials to keep up his spirits and bring about a quick return to the amusement plenty and the companionship of sympathetic women. The trio shown in the picture consists of a Y. M. C. A. woman worker and her charges, two convalescing young American soldiers, at one of the French hospital camps, making the hours pass speedily and pleasantly through the medium of a good old fashioned game of checkers.

FIFTY-SEVEN "Y" WORKERS WENT WEST IN WAR

Thirteen Women Among Those Who Made Supreme Sacrifice.

Croix de Guerre Conferred Upon 13 of 152 Cited for Distinguished Service.

At a cost of 57 lives the Y. M. C. A. carried the Red Triangle into the camps and trenches abroad, and on many occasions right up to the front lines. This sacrifice was proportionately one-quarter as great as that of the American army overseas. Of these fatalities 39 were due to disease, and the remainder to shell-fire, bombs, gas-fever, drowning and wounds. Thirteen of those who "went west" doing their bit in the service of the "Y" were women; one of whom was killed by shell fire and another in German air raid.

There also were 55 non-fatal casualties. These were due principally to machine gun fire, gas, shell fire and motor transport accidents. Numerous cases of slight wounds and gassings, which were attended at dressing stations but were not reported to headquarters, are not included. These casualties occurred in a force which at no time exceeded 9,000 workers, of whom it is reckoned that more than one-half were sent to the front, being employed in the hundreds of units maintained throughout the training areas and the "leave" areas.

Sixty-three "Y" workers were decorated, while in all more than 152 received official recognition for distinguished service. Thirteen were decorated with the Croix de Guerre, while 10 received other decorations. Of these, three received the Distinguished Service Cross, three the Order of St. Stanislaus, five the Italian Cavaliere di Corona; thirty-eight the Italian war cross, and one the French decoration of the Corps d'Armee. Seven were cited for the Croix de Guerre, and seven for other decorations; six awarded for meritorious conduct, and twenty-nine received honorable mention in dispatches. Several units were cited in their entirety; that serving with the Third Division, consisting of thirty-four men and six women, being cited twice. More than a score reported decorations have not yet been conferred.

Not one of these men under thirty was fit for military duty, but the citations show that they carried on with the same courage and spirit that identified Americans throughout the war. These records show that they went over the top with the assaulting waves, that they exposed themselves under machine gun and shell fire to minister to the wounded, that they worked indefatigably as stretcher bearers and that they drove ambulances into the midst of battle to rescue the wounded. Others were sacrificed in the less heroic but no less necessary work behind the lines. Among these stands out Miss Winona Martin of Rockville Center, L. I., a Y. M. C. A. secretary, who was the first American woman killed in the war. She was killed by a bomb during a German air raid upon Paris and her death made a deep impression on American minds. Miss Marion G. Orandall of Alameda, Cal., killed by shell fire near Chalons March 1918, was another of the women sacrificed in helping the soldiers. Officials were quick to see and appreciate meritorious work on the part of the secretaries and prompt to recognize it officially. The citation of the Y. M. C. A. attached to the Third Division Major General Dickman, in part, reads:

ance to our medical staff in caring for wounded. While the men of the Y. M. C. A. were with the troops in the front line the young women of the Y. M. C. A. were detailed with the hospitals, and the medical staff of this division bear testimony of their most efficient help during these two weeks of great strain. The conduct of these self sacrificing and brave men and women who have so unhesitatingly given their services to their country, establishes a standard of prestige, exceptional courage, devotion and resource, which the commanding general particularly commends.

Among the Y. M. C. A. workers from the Eastern Department, which embraces the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, the following figured in the official lists sent from abroad:

Died in Service (Men)—Judson Hart Beecher, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., in hospital; R. D. Bush, Camilla, Ga., influenza; Leon A. Carey, Caldwell, N. J., accident; Hugh B. Chamber, Bardonia, N. Y., pneumonia; Raoul Chauvin, New York city, pneumonia; Hedley H. Cooper, Piermont, N. Y., gas attack; Joseph Edward Colwell, Ridgefield Park, N. J., pneumonia; Charles C. Edwards, Ellabelle, Ga., pneumonia; R. Bayard Cutting, New York city, operation; Harry S. Gibson, Avalon, Pa., shell fire; Pierre F. Guth, Allentown, Pa., pneumonia; John T. Johnson, West Point, Ga., pneumonia; Thomas B. Jones, Brooklyn, N. Y., pneumonia; John Adams Linn, New York city, shell fire; Walter Rue Murray, East Orange, N. J., shell fire; Roy B. MOTOR SERVICE OF "Y" A SHOW IN ITSELF

New York, March 5.—Purchases of automobiles and accessories to a value of $227,126.20 since the armistice show that the overseas motor transport department of the Y. M. C. A. still is one of the biggest buyers in the industry. The trucks, passenger cars and motorcycles which have just been bought will carry supplies and "Y" workers into Germany with the Army of Occupation.

Over $1,756,215.13 was spent by the Y. M. C. A. for motor transport during hostilities, including expenses of drivers, garage and repairs. Much of this equipment was worn out before November 11, and to replace it and meet the new demands of the American fighting forces the additional equipment has been purchased.

In December the Y. M. C. A. bought in this country 163 cars, at a cost of $164,579.89, and accessories valued at $40,733.31. During the same period 112 trucks were purchased in England and Switzerland, for which the "Y" paid $416,500. Over $162,002 was spent for tires. It takes a lot of equipment to transport "goodies" to our doughboys, but they surely accomplished enough while fighting to be entitled to all possible comforts now.

FIBS TO GET IN ARMY

Now Old Man Has to Fight to Get Out.

Stretches Truth for Chances to Serve in the Army of Great Britain, Peace Discloses.

London—Incidents of men stretching the truth considerably to get into the British army when England needed every man and then resorting virtually to mutiny to get out after the armistice was signed have been shown at Folkestone during investigation of the first demobilization demonstrations there. After several hundred men had declined to embark for France at the end of their Christmas leave the military authorities began investigating each case separately.

One man who might be judged anywhere from 38 to 50 years of age appeared before the examining officers. "On what ground do you think you should be released now?" he was asked.

"I'm more than 41 years of age," he said, relying upon the rule that men of that age or more should be released as soon as possible.

"But your army book shows you enlisted fifteen months ago at the age of 35."

"I gave that as my age to get in, sir. I am 50 years old now."

"You will have to prove that," came a quick reply, whereupon he turned to a middle-aged woman spectator, his wife, who had anticipated the situation and produced a birth certificate. He will be released at once and the method by which he volunteered will be conveniently forgotten.

During the last year of the war no miners were allowed to join the army. Their ranks already had been depleted until barely enough coal was being produced.

Another remonstrator claimed he should be released because he was a miner. His record showed he represented himself as a fishmonger in order to join the colors. When he proves he is a miner he will be released.

MAKING A NEW FACE FOR BOY

Canadian Lad's Physiognomy, Mashed in Sleigh Wreck, Being Restored.

Winnipeg, Can.—Winnipeg hospital physicians are making a new face for 9-year-old Edgar Forbes of Rathwell, Man. The boy's face was reduced to pulp when he was run over by a sleigh. Every bone was broken.

The experiment will be a success, according to the physicians. The bones were reset and will mold, they say.

Four dentists, after days of experimenting in the hospital laboratory, completed an artificial palate for his mouth.

When the boy was brought to the hospital his face was unrecognizable. Every bone was sunk in. Both eyes were sunken. The bridge bones of his nose were smashed in many pieces, and after an X-ray examination were found lodged in his throat.

The boy will be able to see again, although at present he is blind in one eye and scarcely able to distinguish objects with the other. The eyeballs were not injured.

FINDS MODERN PIED PIPER

Minnesota Man Exterminates 682 Rats in One Day in Hotel He Just Bought.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Operator! Get the Pied Piper of Hamelin on the wire! W. A. Wittbecker, state hotel inspector, would like to tell him about the man who betrayed the rats of southern Minnesota. Here is the tale of treachery as related by Mr. Wittbecker:

"A certain man who bought a hotel was sorely troubled by an invasion of super-rats. For six interminable weeks the invasion continued. Then the proprietor had an inspiration.

"For six consecutive nights he set out the most elaborate rat banquet ever served. On the seventh night, however, he mixed strychnine with the courses and set a pall of water covered with a screen outside his hotel.

"And on the morning after the seventh he found 682 dead rats around that pall of water."

SHOW AUSTRIAN PRESS PACT

Correspondence Organization Furnished Free Propaganda to Papers During War.

Vienna.—A glimpse into the moral condition of the Austrian press during the war is contained in a revelation in the Arbeiter Zeitung, the socialist paper, which prints the secret contract between the former Austrian premier, Dr. Seydler, and the pan-German deputy, Hummer, regarding the foundation of an organization to be known as the "press correspondence."

This institution was financed by Dr. Seydler with an annual outlay equivalent to $150,000 and of $7,200 to Hummer as salary. Hummer was also made a privy counselor and put in the house of lords. His duty was to furnish, free, telephone and telegraph articles, matrices and newspaper propaganda, to the Austrian press and it was in general gladly accepted.

First Penny Postage Trial Inaugurated in England in 1840—Long After in Canada

The first trial of cheap postage was the system of penny postage inaugurated in England January 10, 1840. The idea that letters could be forwarded to any part of England and delivered for only a penny seemed absurd to most Englishmen, and they predicted speedy failure for the project. It is unnecessary to point out that they proved to be poor prophets, observes a writer in the New York World.

On this side of the Atlantic the much greater distances seemed to preclude the adoption of any such measure as a low, flat rate for letters. At the time Great Britain adopted penny postage, the rates in the United States were: For 30 miles and under, 6 cents; 30 to 60 miles, 8 cents; 60 to 100 miles, 10 cents, and over 100 miles a proportionate increase, so that a letter dispatched a distance of 450 miles cost 25 cents.

With the adoption of Rowland Hill's penny postage system, England also adopted his suggestion that the difficulties attending prepayment of postage "might be overcome by using a bit of paper large enough to bear the stamp, and covering the back with a glutinous wash, which by applying a little moisture, might be attached to the back of the letter." Thus the postage stamp was born, and there came into existence those little scraps of paper which are now collected by millions of men and boys the world over, and some of which, because of their rarity, are worth thousands of dollars.

An approach to the penny postage of Great Britain was made in 1851, when 3-cent postage was adopted in the United States. Adhesive postage stamps had previously been introduced on this side of the Atlantic in 1847. Later postage was reduced to 2 cents in the United States in 1883, but it was not until some years later that Canada followed the example of her mother country by instituting the penny postage.

THE UNKNOWN DEAD

They loved the English hedgerows
And scented English lanes;
They loved the sunlight on their downs
And the soft English rains.
And now they sleep in Flanders
Or where the sea-Marne flows,
A bleak white cross above their heads;
Their names, ah, no one knows!

They loved the life of London,
With lights that gleamed like pearls,
And theaters and taverns,
And rosy English girls.
Their youth was a brief glory
That sped too swiftly by;
They left their schools and cricket
And came out here—to die.

And some were shining poets,
And some were simple boys
Who loved the Surrey fields and all
Substantial English joys.
From Eton and from Oxford,
From many an English town,
They came to save a world from shame
And lay their young lives down.

In some celestial garden
Perhaps they sit today
And laugh as once they used to laugh,
Play as they used to play.
'Tis we who weep for young lads gone;
But they—they are not dead,
Though simple crosses stand above
Each brave young English head.

They loved, and are contented
On windy wastes to sleep,
Yet when the English daisies
Begin to smile and creep,
Pluck them and take them over
To many a lonely grave;
They loved English flowers,
These young and bright, and brave,
—Charles Hanson Towne, Saturday Evening Post.

His Suicide Frustrated, Poet Wrote Famous Hymn

The origin of the well-known hymn, "God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform," was a curious incident in the life of its author, William Cowper, the English poet, notes a writer in the People's Home Journal. Cowper, a deeply religious man, was subject to attacks of the blackest melancholy. During one of these attacks he determined to end his life by throwing himself into the Thames river. He hired a cab to take him to the river, but a dense fog so confused the cabman that, after driving about for an hour, he admitted to his passenger that he was lost. Cowper, alighting from the cab in order to give the driver more careful directions, for reaching the bridge, found that his wanderings had brought him back to his own door. Strongly affected by what seemed to him almost a divine interposition, Cowper dismissed the cab, hurried to his room and wrote his famous hymn.

Spider's Web Is One of the Simplest Barometers

One of the simplest of nature's barometers is a spider's web. When there is a prospect of wind or rain the spider shortens the filaments by which its web is sustained and leaves it in this state as long as the weather is variable. If it elongates its threads it is a sign of fine, calm weather, the duration of which may be judged by the length to which the threads are let out. If the spider remains inactive it is a sign of rain; if it keeps at work during rain the downpour will not last long, and will be followed by fine weather, says an exchange. Observation has taught that the spider makes changes in its web every twenty-four hours, and that if such changes are made in the evening just before sunset the night will be clear and beautiful.

MAN BRANDED BY ORDER OF GERMAN

GHASTLY DESIGN ON HEAD

Former Circus Performer, Horribly Mutilated, Is Forced to Do Work of Oxen for Turkish Master—Made Harem Guard.

London.—Many have been the tales, exaggerated or without foundation, which have passed from mouth to mouth, and even found their way into print, of prisoners of war who have been sent home with faces disfigured by brands of the German eagle, snakes and other horrible objects. Many of these stories could not be traced by the authorities and were attributed to heated imaginations. A correspondent of Lloyd's Weekly, however, has discovered a very bad case of Hun savagery, which sufficiently testifies to this method of mutilation by branding or tattooing, being no exaggeration.

"The man's name is Roughton and he lives in a miserable slum near Waterloo, hating to go out in daylight. On his forehead was a disfigurement," says the writer, "that seems almost unbelievable in these days of so-called civilization."

"The man's head is covered with short stubby gray hair, and his naturally fine forehead gives plenty of room for a sinister sign that stretches from temple to temple and from the arch of each eyebrow to the edge of the scalp. It is a heavily tattooed design of a huge crablike creature which he afterward told me is called 'The Spider of Death' or the scorpion. Ghastly in Design."

"In some horrible frenzy of imagination this creature, which had been pricked with red, white and green inks upon his forehead, has been given three bodies. One lies over the other and each outline is clearly visible. It shows first the shield of Bulgaria, above that the military drum of Germany, and superimposed upon these, the fez, the star and the crescent of Turkey. On either side stretch eight human-booted legs, white from the middle, or head of this horror, hangs a ring showing that the man branded thus is the property of the Turks for eternity."

"Yes, that is what I have to show for my share in the great war," said the branded man. "I have seen a lot in my life. I was born fifty-seven years ago in Chicago and I guess there are a good many men there yet who remember the name of Roughton, famous for feats of strength and physical endurance right through from Maine to California."

"My life has always been one of adventure. I have been a 'strong man' and an acrobat in circuses."

"When the war broke out in 1914, I joined up with a regiment of royal engineers that was being recruited in the States, and over I came to the fighting front."

"I was at Mons, and I got the ribbon right here," and he produced a little blurred ribbon. "But I never wear it. After I'd finished with the Second army in France I was moved to Salonika, and then to Mesopotamia, and that's where I got caught."

"It was while I was doing some work with barbed wire one night alone out under the stars in that 'blessed land' of Mesopotamia that I got done in. They got me, but it took a lot of them to do it."

"I was put to work, and I tried to escape, and I was caught and put through more torture, and then one day a Turk under the direction of a German officer, put this upon me," and the man smote his forehead with a terrible gesture.

Made Guard in Harem.

"By and by, over there in Turkey, my captors realized that my physical strength was beyond the ordinary and I was turned over to a pacha who bought my body for his service. I was put to work pulling a plow, and when I didn't cover enough ground, or the furrows that I made were crooked, I was beaten with a leather cat-o'-nines-tails that had nails at the end of each thong."

"Then the great potentate for whom I worked seemed to realize that he was wasting good material in rough, unskilled labor, and after many weary punishments he placed me (with this badge of shame upon my brow and the price of 5,000 marks upon my head should I try to escape) as the guardian of his harem."

"Among the many women slaves in this place there was a young Arabian girl who had been stolen and sold to the man who was our master. She was unhappy to the verge of madness, and the horrors through which she went on many occasions nearly drove me out of my mind. By methods that are too long to tell you, this Arabian and myself plotted and planned together and succeeded in escaping. Finally we managed to get in touch with British troops."

Case Tractors

Complete, Freight Paid

This kerosene burning tractor is especially well adapted to a large variety of operations, both traction and belt work. It is practical for small, medium or large farms.

This size is rated at 9 H. P. on the draw bar and 18 on the brake, but it will develop much in excess of that.

In developing 9 H. P. on the draw bar, with the traveling at a rate of 2 1-4 miles per hour, a pull of 1500 pounds is delivered. This is more than is ordinarily required in pulling a two-bottom plow 7 or 8 in. deep. This tractor is capable of exerting a pull of 2100 pounds which at 2 1-4 miles would be over 12 H. P. This represents the overload capacity which is so essential for the successful operation of a tractor.

It will pull with ease, under ordinary conditions, the following implements, a two-bottom 14-inch plow, 8-foot binder, 24-shoe grain drill, 6 sections spike tooth harrow, 8 or 9 foot disc harrow, and all other implements that require four to six big horses to operate.

In hauling it will handle 5 to 6 tons on ordinary roads.

The Case 9-18 tractor is equally satisfactory for belt work. It will handle the ordinary 20-inch cylinder grain thresher, with hand feed and common stacker, and will operate feed mills, hay presses, small ensilage cutters, etc.
