PUPILS ASKED TO REPORT BIG LOAN

All Schools in Second District
Supplying Stories of Victory Note Drive.

School children in every community in New York State, Northern New Jersey and Fairfield county, Connecticut, have been called upon to become reporters of Victory Liberty Loan events, and to send their stories to the Division of Schools, Publicity Department, Liberty Loan Committee, 120 Broadway, New York City, from where they will be distributed to newspapers for publication, to help boost the Victory Loan. Principals of schools are co-operating.

The underlying idea of the plan is to help sell Victory Notes. It is believed that children, many of whom are natural reporters, can gather news material acceptable to editors. Stories will be read by members of the editorial staff of the Publicity Department and then forwarded for publication, frequently in home towns of the embryo reporters. Others will be given State-wide publication. When the Victory Liberty Loan campaign is well under way, it is expected sufficient news stories will have accumulated to warrant publication of a little volume which will be a news history of the Victory Loan. This will be sent to schools to help sell Victory Notes.

Instructions sent to principals of schools explain exactly what is wanted. Nothing like this was attempted during any of the past campaigns of the Liberty Loan Committee. Children are asked to write about three hundred words or less, for each story. Teachers may be requested to decide if certain of the stories submitted should be sent by the children, but it is against the rules of the contest for a teacher to even dot an "i." News is what the Publicity Department wants, and corrections in grammar may, inadvertently, "kill" the whole story of the child. Editing will be attended to at the New York City point of mobilization of the stories.

Principals have been asked to explain to pupils that news stories are brief, concise statements of facts, of general interest, but which are not generally known. Request is made in the letter to principals that children be told that news stories are built around one or more points and that what the writer considers the most important of these usually appears in the first sentence of the first paragraph.

From the mass of stories that will be flowing into the Division of Schools, Publicity Department, it is hoped there will be many that will prove of human interest. Responsibility of school girls is just as great as that of the boys, in helping the Victory Loan by thus helping to gather news. Principals have been requested to tell the girls to jot down any item while it is still fresh. Then it is submitted to the teacher, read by her, or by a committee of older children, and sent to New York.

FINISH THEIR JOB!

The dollar-hider endangers his own funds and his personal safety, also he works against prosperity. Money buried in the ground or stowed away under carpets, in cupboards, clocks, mattresses, bureau drawers, trunks, etc., is idle money—a temptation to thieves—an incentive to crime. Money kept in your safe is never safe; it becomes a bait to the midnight marauder. Take a tip, Dollar-hider, buy a Victory Note—have it registered and sleep in peace.

Do you want prices to come down? Do I? Does everyone? Of course! Then let's each of us help bring them down. Can we? Of course! Pay our debts for this war and finish up the whole business right, and then just see how the prices come down! Buy Victory Notes—Mary Graham

Your Business and My Business

The following points are of vital interest to the people of this nation, and will be discussed in greater detail in separate advertisements appearing in this paper at intervals until the start of the Victory Liberty Loan:

1. This nation—your country and mine—owes approximately $10,000,000,000 in unpaid war bills—for a Victory that we are now enjoying.
2. The nation must pay this debt—if it is to continue to exist as a nation among the nations of the world.
3. There are only two ways that the nation can secure the money—by bonds and by taxes.
4. Taxes are already high and yet insufficient to meet our outstanding war obligations.
5. Therefore bonds must be sold.
6. Again, there are only two ways that several billions of dollars of bonds can be sold—to the banks or to the people.
7. If they are placed with the banks, industry, commerce, your business will suffer. The banks would be unable to purchase several billion dollars of Liberty Bonds and continue to loan money in sufficient quantities and at a fair rate to the business man. You cannot have your pudding and eat it, too.
8. It is, therefore, your business and my business to prepare for the Victory Liberty Loan, that we may then invest as largely as each of us individually can—for America's welfare and for our own.

THE PAINTER'S BEST FRIEND

Of all the many liquid substances which can be used for the binding of paint or dry substances which when dissolved in water are used as vehicles for pigments none fulfills necessary conditions so well as linseed oil, the king of the fixed oil, and what is of enormous importance, does it as cheaply. It is the painter's best friend because it makes his work satisfactory.

How Fake Pistol Works.
A new electric flashlight pistol of French invention for scaring criminals not only displays a bright light when the trigger is pulled, but also makes a noise like a real weapon as well.

SAVE THE SURFACE.

Save the surface and you save all. Disintegration and decay are conditions which usually start at the surface of any material. Protection against deterioration or rot of substances, therefore, should begin with care of the exterior. Provided a material does not carry within itself the element of sure decay, proper surface protection will undoubtedly lengthen its life.

Dies at Willard.

Ella May, wife of F. H. Horton, died at Willard State hospital, April 23, at the age of 34 years. Besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Laura Harris of North Lansing, a sister, Mrs. John Leonard of Union Springs and a brother, Clayton Harris of North Lansing. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. J. Williams at her late home, near the Quaker church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial at Genoa.

Victory Loan Meeting.

Two enthusiastic Victory Loan meetings were held in the town of Genoa on Thursday evening of last week. Although the town had over-subscribed its quota the first day of the loan, Chairman Atwater and assistants had hardly got well started in the work.

The meeting in Genoa was presided over by A. H. Knapp, who introduced the speakers and said a few words in behalf of the loan.

The first speaker was Capt. Fred S. Johnston of the Supply company of the 108th Regt. Capt. Johnston gave a description in detail of the duties of the supply company, and of their experiences. His remarks were interesting and gave the audience a good idea of the dangers encountered by his men, as well as the immense amount of labor connected with this department.

The next speaker was Corp. D. E. Borah of the Fourth Division, one of ten fellows from Camp Merritt hospital who volunteered their services for the Victory loan, and who, as he said, were lucky enough to be accepted to assist in this work. He will always carry the scars of battle, his right hand having been partially shot away and is still bandaged. He also was injured in the leg, but has recovered from that wound. His remarks were earnest and effective and were warmly applauded.

Col. E. S. Jennings, who also spoke at the King Ferry meeting, was next introduced and was given a rousing welcome as he took the platform. Col. Jennings gave a strong appeal to buy Victory notes by telling many of the experiences of his men and said he was interested to buy bonds because of the men he left in France who gave their lives in the service, and also because of the large number who are there waiting to come home. The people here must finish the job.

The last speaker was Attorney John Taber who spoke entirely for the loan, urging the people to buy Victory notes from a patriotic standpoint and as a good business proposition, as well.

Accompanying the speakers, who came from Auburn, was a quartet composed of Mrs. Lucy Taylor Aiken, Miss Jessica Cuykendall, A. L. Hemingway and Chas. G. Adams with Miss Schluter as accompanist. They rendered some splendid quartet numbers, and Mrs. Aiken favored the audience with a solo, as did also Mr. Hemingway. The members of this quartet are among Auburn's finest and best known singers, and Genoa was greatly honored by their coming here. In appreciation of their services here, the speakers and singers were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Knapp after the meeting where light refreshments were served.

Women a Help?

Yes, the women have always helped.

We reverence the spirit of America's womanhood. The Bonds they bought were precious, sacred things to them. They felt that every Bond was silent, material proof that they could fight too.

And how they have kept the faith! How they have given their boys, their husbands, their brothers!

How they have sold Bonds and how they have bought them!

And now that the Victory Liberty Loan has come, they will work and save once more.

And let every last man stand shoulder to shoulder with these women and see that the Victory debt is paid.

And you fathers and older brothers and other mothers, all the money you have in the world cannot equal the life blood those thousands gave over there. It is your obligation to the dead, that they may not have died in vain, and to the living that they may finish the work they have undertaken, to do your duty by an overwhelming subscription to the Victory Liberty Loan.

Old Genoa Resident.

The death of Emily Moreland, widow of Alburn Ives of Genoa, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bert Conklin, in Ithaca, Sunday evening. The deceased had been a resident of Genoa for many years, and about six months ago went to Ithaca to spend some time with her daughter. She had been in poor health for a long time and had been confined to her bed more or less for the past few months.

She was in her 81st year and is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Conklin and Miss Anna Ives of Ithaca and Mrs. A. L. Loomis of Genoa. Three other children—Miss Frankie Ives of Genoa, Bert and Fred Ives of Geneva—died a number of years ago. Mrs. Ives had been a member of Genoa Baptist church for many years.

The funeral services were held at 1:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Conklin in Ithaca, Rev. E. B. Hughes, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, officiating. Interment was made in the family lot in Genoa cemetery, following the arrival of the 4:24 train. R. A. Fargo of Genoa had charge of the service at the cemetery.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

Genoa is over the Top and going strong to go over again as far as money value is concerned, but there is a regrettable shortage in the number of subscriptions. There were 403 subscribers and $55,950 in the fourth loan and 217 subscribers and $58,850 on the Victory Loan. We fail to find where very many people have moved out of town since the fourth loan. We like the DOLLARS, but we like the individual loyalty better.

The boys fought for all—Now let us ALL buy VICTORY NOTES with no deserters from the ranks.

Genoa Presbyterian Church Notes

A large congregation greeted the former pastor of the church, Rev. L. W. Scott, Sunday morning. Mr. Scott preached an excellent sermon, following which the communion service was conducted. Good attendance at Sunday school. Why not be a member of some class every Sunday?

There was a good attendance of women and girls at the afternoon meeting addressed by Miss Bowden.

W. W. Rock of the seminary who has so ably filled the pulpit most of the time for the past six months, will preach next Sunday. This will probably be his farewell sermon. It is hoped there will be a large congregation.

Theater Attraction.

It is certainly good to be able to see Mutt and Jeff again and it gives us infinite pleasure to record the fact that they are to be at the Burtis Grand, Auburn, Saturday, matinee and night. The title of the new piece which will present their laugh compelling gifts is Mutt and Jeff in the Woolly West. It abounds with music, songs, pretty girls and novelities. A special matinee price, which should attract, has been made—adults 50c, children 25c, any part of the house. Seats are now on sale at the Burtis Grand.

VICTORY CLUB OF GENOA.

The following have joined the $1000 club of Genoa since last week: Francis Hollister, James Callahan, E. P. Bradley, John and Grace Witbeck.

Dies at Willard.

Ella May, wife of F. H. Horton, died at Willard State hospital, April 23, at the age of 34 years. Besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Laura Harris of North Lansing, a sister, Mrs. John Leonard of Union Springs and a brother, Clayton Harris of North Lansing. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. J. Williams at her late home, near the Quaker church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with burial at Genoa.

Victory Loan Meeting.

Two enthusiastic Victory Loan meetings were held in the town of Genoa on Thursday evening of last week. Although the town had over-subscribed its quota the first day of the loan, Chairman Atwater and assistants had hardly got well started in the work.

The meeting in Genoa was presided over by A. H. Knapp, who introduced the speakers and said a few words in behalf of the loan.

The first speaker was Capt. Fred S. Johnston of the Supply company of the 108th Regt. Capt. Johnston gave a description in detail of the duties of the supply company, and of their experiences. His remarks were interesting and gave the audience a good idea of the dangers encountered by his men, as well as the immense amount of labor connected with this department.

The next speaker was Corp. D. E. Borah of the Fourth Division, one of ten fellows from Camp Merritt hospital who volunteered their services for the Victory loan, and who, as he said, were lucky enough to be accepted to assist in this work. He will always carry the scars of battle, his right hand having been partially shot away and is still bandaged. He also was injured in the leg, but has recovered from that wound. His remarks were earnest and effective and were warmly applauded.

Col. E. S. Jennings, who also spoke at the King Ferry meeting, was next introduced and was given a rousing welcome as he took the platform. Col. Jennings gave a strong appeal to buy Victory notes by telling many of the experiences of his men and said he was interested to buy bonds because of the men he left in France who gave their lives in the service, and also because of the large number who are there waiting to come home. The people here must finish the job.

The last speaker was Attorney John Taber who spoke entirely for the loan, urging the people to buy Victory notes from a patriotic standpoint and as a good business proposition, as well.

Accompanying the speakers, who came from Auburn, was a quartet composed of Mrs. Lucy Taylor Aiken, Miss Jessica Cuykendall, A. L. Hemingway and Chas. G. Adams with Miss Schluter as accompanist. They rendered some splendid quartet numbers, and Mrs. Aiken favored the audience with a solo, as did also Mr. Hemingway. The members of this quartet are among Auburn's finest and best known singers, and Genoa was greatly honored by their coming here. In appreciation of their services here, the speakers and singers were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Knapp after the meeting where light refreshments were served.

Women a Help?

Yes, the women have always helped.

We reverence the spirit of America's womanhood. The Bonds they bought were precious, sacred things to them. They felt that every Bond was silent, material proof that they could fight too.

And how they have kept the faith! How they have given their boys, their husbands, their brothers!

How they have sold Bonds and how they have bought them!

And now that the Victory Liberty Loan has come, they will work and save once more.

And let every last man stand shoulder to shoulder with these women and see that the Victory debt is paid.

And you fathers and older brothers and other mothers, all the money you have in the world cannot equal the life blood those thousands gave over there. It is your obligation to the dead, that they may not have died in vain, and to the living that they may finish the work they have undertaken, to do your duty by an overwhelming subscription to the Victory Liberty Loan.

Old Genoa Resident.

The death of Emily Moreland, widow of Alburn Ives of Genoa, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bert Conklin, in Ithaca, Sunday evening. The deceased had been a resident of Genoa for many years, and about six months ago went to Ithaca to spend some time with her daughter. She had been in poor health for a long time and had been confined to her bed more or less for the past few months.

She was in her 81st year and is survived by three daughters—Mrs. Conklin and Miss Anna Ives of Ithaca and Mrs. A. L. Loomis of Genoa. Three other children—Miss Frankie Ives of Genoa, Bert and Fred Ives of Geneva—died a number of years ago. Mrs. Ives had been a member of Genoa Baptist church for many years.

The funeral services were held at 1:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Conklin in Ithaca, Rev. E. B. Hughes, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, officiating. Interment was made in the family lot in Genoa cemetery, following the arrival of the 4:24 train. R. A. Fargo of Genoa had charge of the service at the cemetery.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

Genoa is over the Top and going strong to go over again as far as money value is concerned, but there is a regrettable shortage in the number of subscriptions. There were 403 subscribers and $55,950 in the fourth loan and 217 subscribers and $58,850 on the Victory Loan. We fail to find where very many people have moved out of town since the fourth loan. We like the DOLLARS, but we like the individual loyalty better.

The boys fought for all—Now let us ALL buy VICTORY NOTES with no deserters from the ranks.

Genoa Presbyterian Church Notes

A large congregation greeted the former pastor of the church, Rev. L. W. Scott, Sunday morning. Mr. Scott preached an excellent sermon, following which the communion service was conducted. Good attendance at Sunday school. Why not be a member of some class every Sunday?

There was a good attendance of women and girls at the afternoon meeting addressed by Miss Bowden.

W. W. Rock of the seminary who has so ably filled the pulpit most of the time for the past six months, will preach next Sunday. This will probably be his farewell sermon. It is hoped there will be a large congregation.

Theater Attraction.

It is certainly good to be able to see Mutt and Jeff again and it gives us infinite pleasure to record the fact that they are to be at the Burtis Grand, Auburn, Saturday, matinee and night. The title of the new piece which will present their laugh compelling gifts is Mutt and Jeff in the Woolly West. It abounds with music, songs, pretty girls and novelties. A special matinee price, which should attract, has been made—adults 50c, children 25c, any part of the house. Seats are now on sale at the Burtis Grand.

VICTORY CLUB OF GENOA.

The following have joined the $1000 club of Genoa since last week: Francis Hollister, James Callahan, E. P. Bradley, John and Grace Witbeck.

You can become a member if you will buy a $1000 note.

Come—Loosen up. We want you. We need you. Get in while you can, you will be in good company.

VICTORY LOAN TERMS ASSURE ITS SUCCESS

4 3/4 Per Cent. Notes to Appeal to Small Investor—May Be Bought in Installments.

The terms of the Victory Liberty Loan, announced by the Secretary of the Treasury, are such as to assure the overwhelming success of the issue. The Notes, which bear 4 3/4 per cent. interest, will appeal to investors of moderate means, and the securities with 3 3/4 per cent interest will be taken eagerly by those of greater wealth.

As in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign, the new securities are issued in coupon and registered form in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 for coupon Notes and $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $50,000 and $100,000 for registered Notes.

The Victory Notes may be paid for in full or may be purchased on partial payment plans. The Government plan of payment calls for 10 per cent. with the application, 10 per cent. on July 15, 20 per cent. on August 12, 20 per cent. on September 9, 20 per cent. on October 7 and 20 per cent. on November 11.

The Victory Note bearing 4 3/4 per cent. interest is a most profitable and safe investment for the man or woman of small income, for it is exempt from normal Federal income taxes, and the provisions of the revenue law regarding super-taxes do not affect a person of moderate means. The holder may draw this interest—the highest the Government has paid in half a century—without rebate. The 4 3/4 per cent. Note, of course, is subject to estate and inheritance taxes. The 3 3/4 per cent. Note is exempt from all taxes except the estate and inheritance taxes. In this respect it is like the Bond of the First Liberty Loan, but the interest is one-fourth per cent. higher than for the first issue.

It is likely the 4 3/4 per cent. Note will appeal strongly to the great majority of people and that a large proportion of the $1,350,000,000 quota for this district will be made up of subscriptions for this class. The more 4 3/4 per cent. Notes taken by the people of this district in small amounts the fewer 3 3/4 per cent. Notes will be allotted in large subscriptions. This will mean that the people who wish to own 3 3/4 per cent. tax exempt Notes will have to buy 4 3/4 per cent. Notes from the original subscribers and then convert them. The purchase of 4 3/4 per cent. Notes in the open market will increase their value. The terms of the Victory Liberty Loan, then, are distinctly favorable to persons of moderate means who wish a profitable investment. Thus the Secretary of the Treasury, although he believes the patriotism of the American people is sturdy enough to underwrite the entire Victory Liberty Loan, offers an issue which will appeal strongly to the business sense of the people.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

America First! 'Tis the call of the day And 'tis sweet to American ears. 'Tis the rallying call at the end of the fray

While the streets are resounding with cheers, Our heroes come back from the shock of attack To the peace they have won for their own.

But our work must not stop till we're Over the Top With the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN!

America Last! When the time comes to go And our last sun sinks in the West, May all bold Yankee hearts feel the old Yankee glow

For the land ever dearest and best! As our fathers of old showed devotion untold Let our present devotion be shown! Not one Yankee should quit till he's done his full bit For the VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN!

America Ever! Though dark be the sky With the Future eluding our scope, Our dear Yankee flag to each clear Yankee eye

Is our iri-colored Rainbow of Hope! Bring laughter and cheer to each soldier so dear Coming back from privation unknown. COME INTO THE FOLD WITH YOUR HEART AND GOLD FOR THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN!

—WILLIAM F. KIRK.

"NO SAGGING BACK."

Theodore Roosevelt's message to the American public but a few hours before his death should go far towards helping to "put over" the Victory Loan drive: "There must be no sagging back in the fight for Americanism merely because the war is over."

WOULDN'T IT BE GRAND?

Wouldn't it be a grand and glorious thing if 138 out of every 134 persons felt their financial obligation to their country as keenly as did that proportion of negroes who borrowed one dollar bills from C. M. Schwab—and paid!

THEY'RE VICTORY NOTES.

There is a man in our town And he is wondrous wise. He looks the Notes right in the face And buys and buys and buys.

IF—

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IN AMERICA don't buy Victory Notes.

IF YOU DON'T WANT PROSPERITY don't buy Victory Notes.

IF YOU DON'T WANT A GOOD INVESTMENT don't buy Victory Notes.

IF YOU ARE SORRY WE WHIPPED THE HUN don't buy Victory Notes.

IF YOU ARE A PESSIMIST, AND DON'T LIKE YOURSELF, YOUR FELLOW MEN, YOUR FAMILY, OR YOUR COUNTRY, don't buy Victory Notes.

VICTORY LOAN BUTTON.

The button issued to subscribers to the Victory Liberty Loan is simple in design. On a plain dark blue background is a big white "V," signifying both Victory and the Fifth Liberty Loan. Above the "V," following the curve of the button design, is the word

"Liberty," below the "V," also following the curve, is the word "Loan."

The button is the same size as that issued for the Fourth Liberty Loan. Millions of these buttons have been prepared and distributed to various loan organizations ready for issuance to banks, booths and canvassing agents.

Each subscriber is entitled to a button as a token of his enlistment in the vast army of Note buyers. Of this button, Carter Glass has said: "Every American should consider it an honor to wear this button."

HELMETS REVEAL GREAT DREAM OF EX-KAISER

Gorgeous Headgear Reflects Plans for Triumphal Entry Into Paris on "Der Tag."

SEIZED BY AMERICAN BOYS IN COBLENZ WAREHOUSE

Supply of 85,000 to Be Used in New York's Victory Way.

Twelve hundred polished nickel, gummatal and patent leather helmets, with gorgeous trappings that eclipse the splendor of the headgear of the proudest of Roman centurions, have been pyramided in Victory Way, New York city, into a monument to the millions of Americans who shattered a mad monarch's dream of the greatest triumphal entry ever conceived in military history.

These helmets are part of a supply of 85,000 seized by the American Army of Occupation in Coblenz in December, 1918. A large warehouse, guarded by a German officer, housed the precious headgear that was to adorn the heads of the German Uhlans and infantrymen when the armed legions of the Kaiser cantered down the Champs Elysees. The scorn of the Parisian was to be tempered by amazement when "Der Tag" arrived. The world was to stand agast before the impressive spectacle.

Of all the gorgeous features of New York city's Victory Way, on the Park avenue plaza between Forty-fifth and Fiftieth streets the pyramids of helmets, with their more than ordinary significance, constitute one of the most interesting.

Back in 1916 Kaiser Wilhelm and his generals, intoxicated with repeated successes of arms, placed an order with a large German firm for the manufacture of the helmets. No grimy, unkempt German army would parade the streets of Paris. Eighty-five thousand picked soldiers, attired with scrupulous care, gleaming and glittering with military contraptions, would prove the folly of the French in opposing the will of the German "war god."

The Coblenz warehouse was selected to protect the helmets until the eventful day arrived. But months ran into years. Still the headpieces were kept oiled and shiny, each wrapped carefully in paper. Thus they were found when the Americans took over Coblenz.

It has been said France fought the war for her existence, England for sport and America for souvenirs. And the Yankee penchant for souvenirs soon asserted itself. Some thousands of the helmets were distributed to the doughboys before an order came from general headquarters that the helmets were to be saved for transportation to the United States. They have been distributed for exhibition in the Victory Liberty Loan drive.

New York city's Victory Way is studded with innovations that astound the visitor. The two pyramids of helmets will be on display throughout the Victory Liberty Loan Campaign.

HOW MANY BONDS DID THE SMITHS BUY?

A Victory Bond Puzzle by Sam Lloyd.

"Well, here we are with another Liberty Loan," remarked Mrs. Smith to Mr. Smith, "and we must not forget that while the war is in its last throes there are still a million of our boys on the other side, and Uncle Sam has simply got to have the wherewithal to take the best care of them until we get them back."

"Right you are," seconded Mr. Smith, "and I'm the sort of a patriot who doesn't quit until the job is thoroughly done."

That sounds as though the Smiths are having another bond-buying contest, so let me tell you what they did in the Fourth Loan.

Mr. Smith got in first with a tidy investment, but after that every time he added a $50 bond to his pile Mrs. Smith subscribed for a $100 one, and so it went right up to the time Mr. McAdoo rang the bell, Mrs. Smith doubling Mr. Smith's every purchase.

By how much did Mr. Smith beat Mrs. Smith? Well, you see, Mr. Smith's total was $3,000, and before buying his last $300 worth he had purchased three times as much as Mrs. Smith had bought when Mr. Smith's total stood at the amount corresponding to Mrs. Smith's final total.

Now, then, who can figure out the amount of the Smiths' total investment?

Men Responsible For U. S. Winning War

Major General Edward F. McGlachlin, commanding officer of the First Division, at his quarters during the occupation of German territory by the American troops at Conz, Germany. HISTORY'S GREATEST HERO.

By EDWARD P. BEACH.

A group of gallant fighters,
Returned from War's red hell,
Were recounting their adventures
In the land where horrors dwell.

And each one had a hero
To whose undying fame
They attributed the victory
In Freedom's gracious name.

One claimed for Foch the glory,
And one Halg's praises sang;
Another lauded "Papa" Joffre,
While cheers for Pershing rang.

And then a grizzled veteran,
Who'd seen the Marne flow red,
Bespoke an unnamed hero,
With no peer alive or dead.

"Though all the men you've named,"
Said the veteran of Mibiel,
"Are worthy of undying fame,
There's one who's greater still.

"Both potentate and peasant
Have lately learned to know
The might of this great hero
That struck the crushing blow.

"And Foch and Halg and Pershing—
May their glory never pale—
With immortal Joffre and Diaz
This name will ever hail.

"Even Ludendorff and Hindy
Every friend and foe as well,
Have felt this hero's power
And know the magic spell.

"This champion of champions
That's known from sea to sea,
Idolized by Freedom's millions,
Is the Bond of Liberty."

REVEAL WAR SECRETS IN MOTION PICTURES

What General Pershing's Army Did Show in "The Price of Peace."

Some of the most carefully guarded secrets concerning the military movements of the United States during the great war have been released by the Federal censor. The pictorial record of the war, as shown by official photographs, taken under supervision of the government, is now revealed to the public in the great war film, "THE PRICE OF PEACE."

This is the official motion picture authorized by the Treasury Department for use in the Victory Liberty Loan drive.

There is no phase of the war that is not covered by the pictures shown, from the scene in President Wilson's office when he signed the declaration of war, April 6, 1917, to a remarkable view of the Statue of Liberty in the lower New York Harbor taken when the troops were returning home.

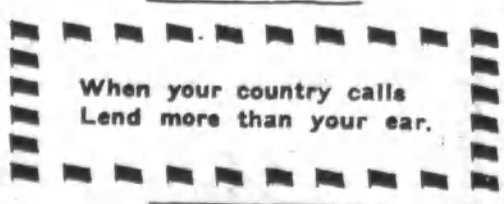

Mobilization of the great National Army, the departure of the boys on the transports from the ports of embarkation, showing such mighty ships as the Leviathan with 10,000 troops aboard, moving silently away from the piers toward France, the bustling movements of the saucy but terrible destroyers, the great battleships steaming out to meet whatever might have been in waiting, the landing in France, the march to the camp and the constant flow of the troops to the other side, conveyed by the great warships so secretly that hardly a breath of the movement reached the enemy's ears—all these are shown.

Then there are pictured also stirring scenes in Belleau Wood, where the Marine Corps checked the German charge; at Chateau Thierry, where the foe was hurled back by American bayonets, and the battle scenes around St. Mihiel, where Pershing's men drew a deadly noose around the German advance. The fighting in the Argonne, with its desperate attacks and counter attacks, is vividly portrayed. More peaceful scenes are also shown in the views of the Americans marching down the Valley of the Rhine after the armistice, their Christmas festivities and the preparations of some of the units for their home going and finally their arrival home.

One of the most thrilling views is that of the boys, after their months of intensive training, getting ready to go over the top on that eventful morning on July 18, when they deployed out into the wheat fields at 4:45 o'clock in the morning. Other impressive scenes show a fight between armies, the fall of the enemy and the destruction of a "sausage" balloon.

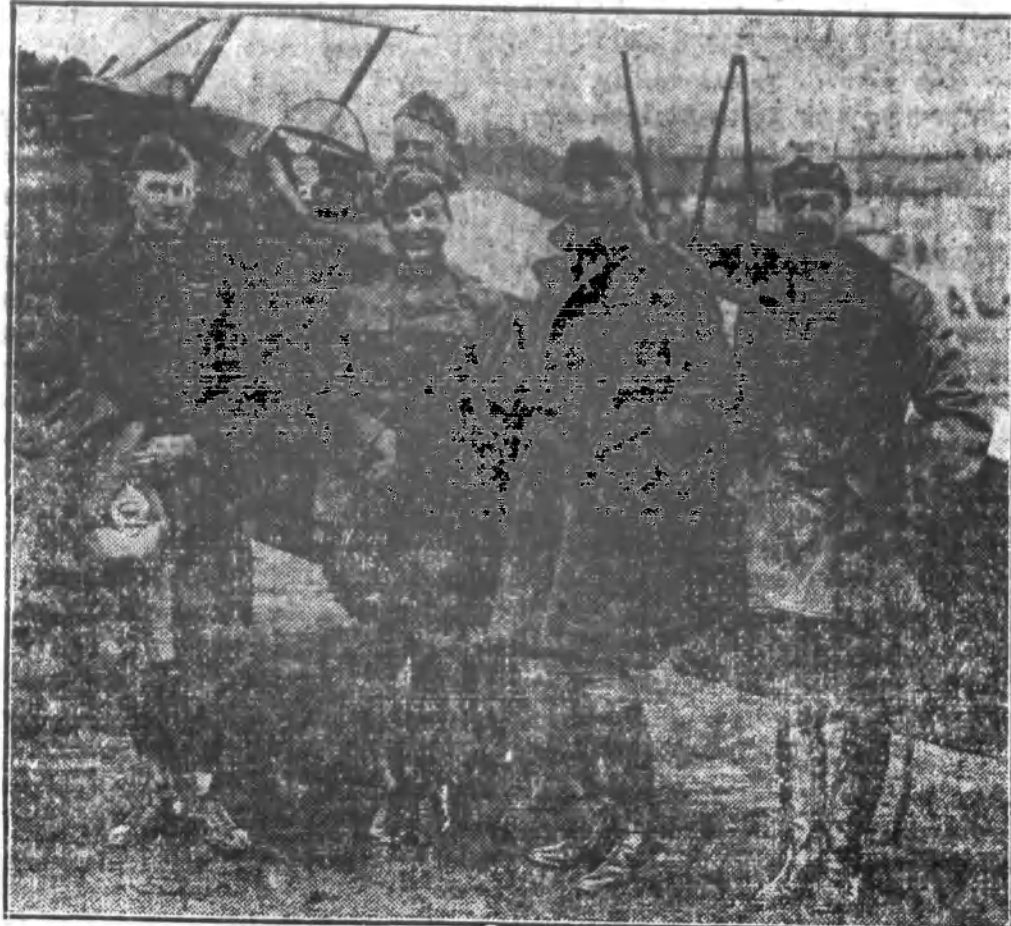

Not the least interesting are the pictures of the "Big Berthas," which failed to demoralize the French, and of the surrender of the German High Sea Fleet.

The whole comprises a complete pictorial history of the war, and the only appeal made for the loan is a brief one by Secretary Glass. It is a record of gallant deeds superbly performed, impressive and inspiring.

As the boys come back, more and more now, all the time, let's show them that we welcome them and that we are going to do our share as they did theirs abroad! Let them see our welcoming smiles, and let them feel them in the subscriptions we make to the Victory Loan!—Mary Graham Bonner

FIGHTERS LOOKING HOMEWARD

Eager for Speedy Return, Which Victory Loan Will Assure.

The speedy homecoming of Uncle Sam's best, to be assured by the Victory Loan, is the daily hope and prayer of the soldier keeping "The Watch on the Rhine" and the sailor patrolling the Baltic or the Adriatic.

Ensign Walter P. Grossman, on board the old "327," at Durazzo, voices the feelings of his fellows and writes: "Now we are wondering what disposition is to be made of us and when we may return to that home, 'be it ever so humble.' The next few months are the storm months on the Atlantic, so that we will go 'way to the south via the Canaries and thence to the West Indies and from there to our own coast. The run from the Canary Islands to Porto Rico is about 2,700 miles, so we will have about an eighteen days' stretch at sea in these cockleshells. So long as we are 'home-ward bound' it has no terrors for us. So, 'Quartermaster, let her go west,' say we."

This spirit is echoed by Private Henry Dillman, with the army of occupation. He writes:

"After the armistice was signed we hiked all the way to Germany, crossing the border and the Moselle River on the first day of December and reached our guarding place on the Rhine, crossing that river on the 13th day of December. Now we are waiting for the happy words to hear that we are on our way home, which I hope will be soon."

PUBLIC SCHOOL CHILDREN WRITE "V." LOAN SLOGANS

School children are taking a keen interest in the Victory Liberty Loan drive, and they are bending their efforts to make it as big a success as its four predecessors. From now until the close of the drive on May 10 the children will conduct "Victory Loan slogan competitions."

Following are some original slogans by the pupils of 3B class in P. S. No. 25 of Brooklyn, N. Y.:

Victory loans break the Kaiser's bones.

V is for victory,
V is for five;
Are you glad
That you're alive?

Five keeps a soldier alive.

Victory loans make happy homes.

A victory loan brings a soldier home.

A victory loan builds a Belgian home.

A bond a day gives the soldiers pay.

The Only Way!

I know a wounded soldier,
Too weak to get a job,
I know a crippled hero
Who used to be a gaw;
I know the proper method
By which to help them tote
Their heavy burdens upward;

SUBMARINE U B-148 TO BE SHOWN THROUGHOUT NEW YORK STATE

THE U B-148, a small type submarine, one of the five surrendered by the Germans that are now being brought to the United States by American naval crews, will be exhibited at various places in and about New York State while the Victory Liberty Loan Campaign is in progress. The submarine will be taken up the Hudson as far as draft will permit and then will proceed to Bridgeport and lay up at New London.

The five subsuribles that will be exhibited at New York and other American ports will arrive in New York harbor the latter part of this month, probably a few days after the Victory Liberty Loan Campaign opens. Motion pictures of them will be made for display throughout the country. The submarines will then start on the itineraries mapped out by the Navy Department.

After their exhibition they will be carefully studied by construction and engineering experts of the Navy.

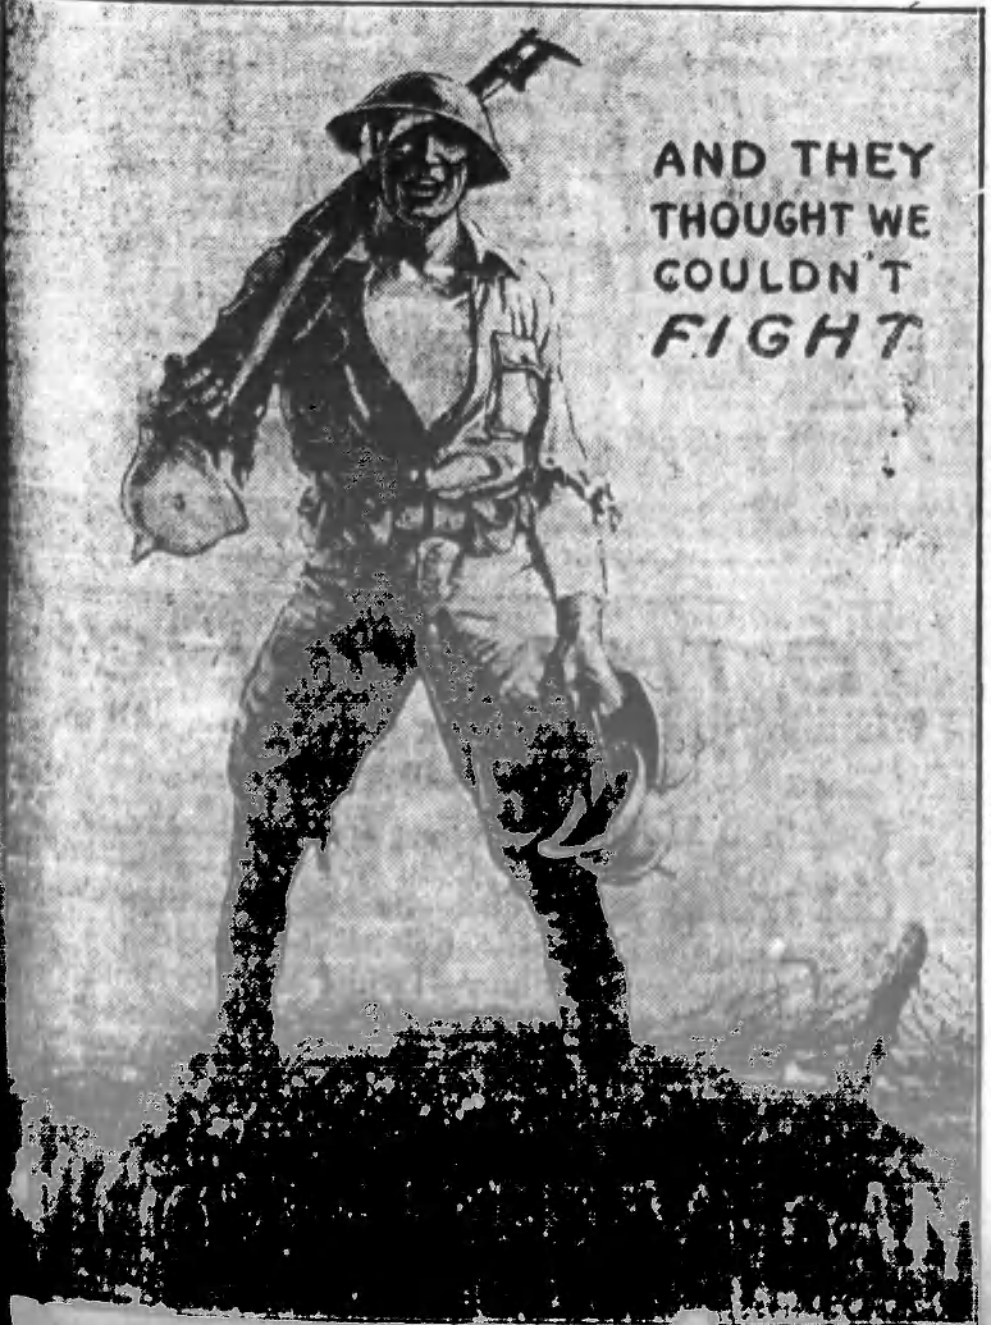

Carter Glass Says—

"While the best among us may presently witness in our own minds and hearts a singular contest between avarice and that better element of human nature which makes us willing to believe that man was created in the image of God—the right will eventually prevail."

Of all fine words of tongue or pen,
The finest are:—"I'll buy again!"
The sentiment of course applies
To Victory Notes the patriot buys!

Road Building in 1919.

William B. Reed, division engineer of the State Highway Department, announced that following a conference of road men of the state with Frederick S. Greene, state highway commissioner, it was decided to build the roads where the contracts for construction had either been broken or unfinished during the past few years.

According to J. C. Dayton, county superintendent, this will mean the early construction of several pieces of road which had been bad for some time.

The Gordon contract which included the stretch of road through Scipio Center from the Fleming town line to the Venice line was discontinued by the contractor some time ago. A stretch of about two and one-half miles of the road has been completed, leaving three and one-half miles yet to be done.

The Venice road to Genoa, which was let to Frank Malone two years ago, has never been started, but Mr. Reed stated he believed this came under the provisions of the decision of Commissioner Greene to finish what had been contracted for. The road is six miles in length and the improvement is badly needed.

The body was found less than 100 feet from where the boat overturned ending a search of 72 hours conducted by local and county authorities.

Mr. Bunn is survived by a wife and three children, his parents, and a sister.

—What was believed by many lumber men to have been the largest tree in Essex county was recently cut down near Port Henry. It was an enormous maple, and experienced woodsmen, after counting its rings, declared that it was at least 240 years old. The butt log, which was 16 feet long and measured 47 inches across, weighed 6,290 pounds. It sold for $40.

—The Hicksite Friends' meeting house at Port Chester, which had stood nearly two centuries as a landmark of New York, was destroyed by fire. Constructed in 1728, the structure was used as a hospital for American and British wounded during the battle of White Plains in the Revolutionary war, and Quakers hid escaped slaves in the cellar during the Civil war.

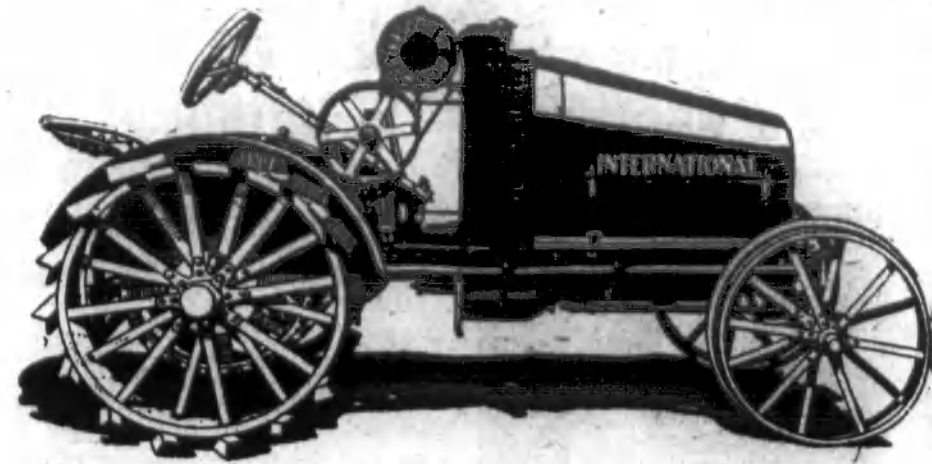

—Mrs. John Burns reports that she made a cherry pie the other day, using fruit that was put up ten years ago without sugar. The cherries thus preserved were in excellent condition.—PHELPS CITIZEN.

Agrigraphs.

Remember the farm horse is soft when he goes to work in the spring. Take particular pains to see that his collar fits well to prevent shoulder galls.

To you a square meal is only an incident in the day. In Europe there are millions to whom it would be an event to be mentioned in their prayers.

Welcome the return of the birds and remember they are friends of agriculture. Send to the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y., for Bulletin R. C. F. 78.
