Income Tax vs. Liquor Tax.

William H. Anderson, State Super-First Baptist church, Syracuse, on Sunday, May 25, said in part:

"We are getting tired of the stateincreased corporation tax in New were necessary to make up for the Encourages a better lunch from loss of revenue due to national prohibition. The income tax is expected to produce $40,000,000 of which half will go to the state, and the other tax is expected to produce approximately $12,000,000, making a total. of increased revenue to the state provided for of some $32,000,000. The state received last year from liquor taxes $11,000,000 in round figures. In other words, the Legislature is soaking the people for $32,000,000 of increased state revenues to make up for a loss of $11,000,000 of liquor revenue. But that is not the worst of it. The law was changed some little time ago to provide that instead of half the excise money going to the state hereafter only one-fourth goes to the state so that the people are being bled over $30,000,000 additional taxes for the future to make up for only about $5,000,000 of revenue Heavy concentrated foods, eaten that the state would have received in the future under the liquor tax law.

BANKS TO SAFEGUARD WHY -BONDS AND STAMPS

Ready to Protect Securities of Small Investor Free or for Nominal Charge.

In buying Liberty Bonds, Victory Liberty Loan Notes, Thrift and War Savings Stamps the people of the United States have done more than perform a patriotic duty-they have invested in the soundest security in the world, gold obligations of the United States of America.

But the safeguarding of these securities has become a problem for many folk. Only a few persons, relatively, have either a safe in their house or office, or a safe-deposit box in the vaults of the bank. Far too many of our patriotic citizens are keeping Bonds and Notes and Stamps about the house, in the bureau drawer, under the mattress, or on the shelf. And even if the treasure is thus hidden from thieves, there is the ever-present danger of fire, and the total loss of the money invested. There will be no further call for the people at large to subscribe to huge Bond issues, but the Government must have the little daily and weekly sums which come in from the sale of Stamps if taxes are to be kept down. And the danger of loss has deterred some people from buying as many Stamps as they might otherwise buy. Hence the question of safety will be a future question as well as a present one.

Steps have been taken, however, to meet this situation.

First, every Bond, Note or Stamp Certificate may be registered with the Treasury Department or with the Post Office Department. Registration means that the owner's name, and the number which is on his security, have been "registered" by the Government, and that nobody but himself (or herself) can possibly get the money which the Bond, Note or Stamp Certificate calls for. Certificates may be registered through the nearest post office, Bonds or Notes through the nearest bank.

And the second method for safeguarding has been provided by the banks themselves. Every bank-national bank or savings bank-and every trust company has, of course, ample and secure vaults. For the man who does not feel that he can afford to rent a safe-deposit box to keep only his Liberty Bonds in, most of the banks and trust companies have announced their willingness to keep these securities for him in their own vaults. And they will also take care of his Stamp Certificates.

Saving Made Easy.

The Government has helped us to ave even through high prices. If we hadn't been able to do it in this easy fashion a great many of us would never have been able to do it at all. So let's help the sort of a government we have. How about it? Buy W. S. S.

How Snow is Colored. A study has been made by Messrs. N. Winchell and E. R. Miller of the University of Wisconsin of a shower of dust which discolored falling snow at Madison and elsewhere. According to somewhat scanty reports, this colored snow covered an area of at least 100,000 square miles and probably much more. The total quantity of dust is estimated to have been at least 1,000,000 tons, and may have greatly exceeded this, perhaps, even amount ing to hundreds of millions of tons. A study of the character of the dust and of the attendant meteorlogical conditions leads to the belief that the dust was blown all the way from the arid regions in the far Southwestern United States, and was therefore transported 1,000 miles or more.

How Prejudice Affects Living. Prejudice plays a large part in our food purchases. Take the case of butter versus oleomargarine. Experts in the former have been known to fail in ability to distinguish the two, yet we are willing to pay 20 per cent more for butter than for the substitute. The prejudice against goods from storage helps bolster the cost of living. Were | Thursday, it not for storage facilities butter and Friday. eggs today would be luxuries for the Saturday, very rich only. The public was mecently reliably informed that storage eggs had proved fresher than fresh eggs. The rabbit would furnish food as well as fur if our "don't like" did not stand in the way. Our "can't eat" and "don't like" are mainly psychological states fixed in habit and prajudica.-Detroit Free Press.

Writings of Great Poets Linger in Memory

Hamlet's soliloguy beginning, "To be er not to be," is probably as familiar as it is possible for any words not in the Bible to be, and has certainly been declaimed and recited oftener than any others, from the boy at school to the great actor on the stage. Has its power, its philosophy, its fineness of thought and diction, its soaring imagination been thereby in any degree impaired? asks Henry Cabot Lodge in Scribner's. Where could one turn more surely at the chosen moment for noble quotation? Again, no lines in Shakespeare are probably more universally familiar than Portia's speech, beginning "The quality of mercy is not strained." Has use at all lessened its exquisite beauty? Descend in the scale of genius. Like Wolfe upon the eve of battle upon the plains of Abraham, boys and girls, men and women, have been repeating for more than a century the "Elegy in a Country Churchyard." It might be described in the words of the young man overheard by Mrs. Kemble at the theater, who remarked of "Hamlet" that "It seemed to be made up of quotations." Does all this familiarity in any way affect its beauties, the charm of the verse, the perfection in the choice of words, the soft twilight of the picture and the thoughts? There is but one possible answer to such a question.

Why a "Hobby," or Something to Take Its Place, Is Necessary for Women.

There is that everlasting appeal to people to get a hobby. It is all very well for the writer or speaker to pre pare his hobby sermons, but, like Portia, it is easier to tell twenty what is good to be done than to be one of the twenty to follow their own teachings.

A hobby is a most commendable thing. But most hobbles are expensive. The best thing to do is to plan out a daily routine for yourself where you know every hour where you will be and what you are going to do. There should be no idle or haphazard hours at all. These are the hours which make you nervous, allow you to think of yourself, and which the preachers of the hobbies would therefore have you fill with your "hobby."

Vacant, restless hours, if you have no hobby, can be filled with reading good books, calls on the sick, calls on the places of interest in your city, and with all such things which cost little or nothing. In this day of great needs, when letters and packages are enjoyed so much by the soldiers, there should be no woman who is idle, who can't find anything to take up her mind and is so hard pressed that she "must have a hobby."-Exchange.

NEW THRIFT STAMP BOOKS SELL FAST

1,500,000 Distributed So Far Among School Children of Reserve District.

The Penny School Savings Books have made such a "hit" among the thrifty youngsters of the Second Federal Reserve District that the War Savings Committee is soon to provide them with a new and enlarged edition. So far 1,500,000 of the books have been distributed among the small boys and girls of New York State, the ten northern counties of New Jersey and Fairfield County, Conn.

The books were devised when the sale of Thrift Stamps fell off after the signing of the armistice and people began to think that Uncle Sam was no longer in need of ready money to meet his obligations. They were originally made with eight pages and fifty spaces, allowing for savings enough to provide for the purchase of two Thrift Stamps. The coming edition will have twelve pages and seventy-five spaces for penny stamps-providing for the purchase of three Thrift Stamps.

From big cities and little hamlets come letters from teachers and principals, telling how the sale of stamps has been spurred by the use of the books. Here is what Miss Mary McNamara, Principal of Public School No. 21, Jersey City, wrote in:

"The Thrift Stamp sales were falling off considerably, and all efforts on our part failed to induce the children or their parents to continue saving when your letter, enclosing a requisition for Penny School Savings Books, reached us. Upon receipt of our order we distributed the books, and immediately the sale of stamps jumped to three times the amount it was before.

"It is very comforting to note the looks of joy and satisfaction on the faces of the little ones as they receive their second, third or fourth books. A rivalry has started among the teachers and pupils to decide which class will fill the greatest number of books this month. A little enthusiasm displayed by the teacher often does wonders toward encouraging pupils."

Some idea of the popularity of the penny books may be gained from the report of last week that Greater New York City schools called for 318,968 books and 7,419 Thrift Stamps within four days. The books are proving as salable in the parochial schools and private schools as in the public schools,

A cut-out cardboard Thrift Bank has been evolved by the War Savings Committee for use of the children in keeping together their vacation savings. These are to be distributed throughout the district before the vacation days begin. With them will go posters showing how boys and girls may earn extra money during the summer to aid in the accumulation of stamps.

Thrift Is Not Stinginess.

Thrift means economy, a lack

It doesn't mean to be stingy. It doesn't mean extravagance.

Extravagance is often very selfish, perhaps invariably so. Extravagant people have spent so much on themselves they haven't anything left for

How nice it is to be able to be unselfish and yet look out for one's future at the same time. Think of the present. Think what we can do to help others. And think, too, of the future. Think what we can do to help ourselves!

The war is over. The war is won. The great Victory Liberty Loan is over. We've seen parades, we've heard bands. We've had speeches and meetings and celebrations. But there are still some more boys to be brought back from overseas. There are still some debts to be paid for this glorious vic-

We are getting off pretty cheap! We don't have to pay a war indemnity! We merely have to lend our money for a war which we won! Isn't it rather easy after all? Let's hurry and help. Let's help regularly, steadily too. Let's buy all the W. S. S. we can and do our part as we think and rejoice over the victory. Let's not only cheer. Let's buy War Savings Stamps and finish up Uncle Sam's fine job 1

And while our money is being loaned to as strong a government as the most exacting would want to find it's adding compound interest for us too! Pretty nice, eh?—Mary Graham Bon-

Things on Which All Can Save

(Prepared by Savings Division, U. S. Treasury.)

No one can lay down a rule of saving thich will be effective for other people. Everyone—man or woman—has to settle fer himself the question of personal econ-omy. The general basis for economy is wise spending, avoidance of waste, intelligent saving, safe investment. As the British wisely put ft, "Begin to save at the point where you have supplied your self with everything needed for efficien-The best single suggestion that the Savings Division or anyone else can make te the individual probably is to give a little time to considering what he would de if his income was suddenly reduced by have to consider where he could econe hise if he had to save.

But if all of us took care never to waste anything and not spend foolishly nearly all of us could probably effect some sav Most of us est more of something than we need or is good for us. Most of us do not think enough before we spend "Think before you buy and you will have more for your money." This means treater return for your work and more money left for thought. To quote from in English autholty: "Most of us could reduce our consumption of food without mpairing our health or efficiency. Most us could get along without alcohol without hurting ourselves at all. At least we could do with a good deal less of it We could travel less often for pleasure o to save ourselves trouble. We could walk to our places of business instead of taking a tram to go half a mile." All of which translated to America means that the average individual can by logical economy purchase additional War Savings Stamps and at the same time actually add to his health, personal efficiency and happiness.

Court-Martial British Captive for Use of Name.

Sorgeant Tells of Crueities Inflicted Upon Him by Boche Captors.

London, England-Because he referred to the Germans as "Huna," Sergt. E. A. Boyd, a British airman, who was captured, was sentenced by them to a year's imprisonment. He has now returned to England.

With a lieutenant, Boyd was patrolling off the Belgian coast in a seaplane. They were shot down by enemy destroyers, and while Boyd was in the water he wrote this message: "Shot down at 6:42 p. m. Being picked up by Huns." The pigeon to which he intrusted the message was unable to fly and fell into the hands of the Germans. The two airmen were taken to Bruges, where they were sent for by Admiral von Schroeder.

"He was frightfully angry over my message," Boyd relates, "and began to swear in broken English. The only thing we understood clearly was that on the following day one of us was to be shot. I had told him that I had written the message. Later I was court-martialed and the court held that by calling the Germans 'Huns' I had in sulted the officers and men of the German destroyers, and I was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment.

"For the first six months I was absolutely starved. I gave away my watch for a slice of bread."

MOTHER SURPRISES U.S. MEN

She is From Essen, But Her Son is in American Army in Germany.

Coblenz, Germany.-Mrs. Martha Greeff arrived here recently and preented credentials at army headquarters explaining that she wanted to see her son, and for this reason had made the journey from her home in Essen. American officers explained to her that the only German soldiers within the occupied zone were those on special duty in connection with the turning over to the American army property of the German army, and that Rolan Greeff's name did not appear on the list of these men.

"Apparently you misunderstood me," said Mrs. Greeff to an American who spoke German. "My son is in company B, 11th infantry, United States army, which will soon be stationed in the region of Treves.' Permission for Mrs. Greeff to visit her son will be granted by head-

The Walters bill providing for a Roosevelt Wild Life Experiment Station" has been made a state law. It authorizes, the State College of Forestry at Syracuse university to establish the station in which there shall be maintained records of the results of experiments and research work.

The state food commission, which was appointed Oct. 9, 1917, having completed the work for which it was created, at its final session held in Albany last week, submitted a report to the governor showing an unexpended balance of $549,227. The outstanding obligations are less than $1,000.

Farmers of Chautauqua county are strongly opposed to any further curtailing of the rural mail service in compliance with the order of Postmaster General Burleson and contend that unless the order is cancelled it will work to the disadvantage of the rural communities as well as the postal service.

Governor Smith announced that he had formulated a policy regarding the disposition of special bills conferring jurisdiction on the court of claims to hear and determine the claims of specified parties against the state. Forty-two bills of this characfor consideration.

The parcel post department at Tonawanda postoffice received 51 hives of bees from Haynesville, Ala., for Henry Klinger. This was the largest consignment of bees ever received there at a single time. The bees were said to be in good condition when delivered to the consignee and numbered about 25,000.

The Foley bill to amend the workmen's compensation law by prohibiting direct settlements except after approval by the industrial commission, was signed by Governor Smith. The governor also signed the Hewitt bill appropriating $25,000 for the employment of prisoners in the construction of state and county highways.

Secretary Donahue of the New York State Motor federation announces that the Yonker bill calling for uniform warning signs at railroad crossings has been signed by the governor and thus becomes a law. This, said Bectary Donahue, is another bill advocated, by the Motor Federation at its annual meeting Rochester last December.

This fondness of the American soldier for children impresses itself upon all who see him. The French remark upon it here along the Rhine and sometimes frown. That is because they do not understand the doughboy.

The Pollu, when he sees a German, man, woman or child, thinks of ravaged France and four years of suffering. The doughboy, when he sees a German child, thinks of a little brother or sister or son or daughter back home. He has already forgotten the suffering of the battlefield.

Hew Some of Our Ancestore Lived. According to James Curle, who has discovered some old caves and houses in Scotland, life in a two-by-four flat, with the janitor on a strike, is bliss compared to what people used to put up with. He has found several large caves in Scotland which were used as houses, a couple of thousand years ago, before modern conveniences were invented. In other places the houses were built underground. Many relies have been left in these dwellings. There are weaving combs, whorls, and spindles used by the women, enameled brooches, pins, and colored glass armter have been sent to the governor lets with which they decked themselves. Women's and children's shoes were also found. Besides these are spoons, stone lamps and platters, and pottery of various kinds. The men have left tools and weapons, plows, picks, and rakes, made of deer antiers, wheels of carts, harness mountings, and large decorated swords. Prof. Carle declares that the Romans who were once in possession of the country taught the people to make all these

The Sheep Breeders' association of Orleans county will make its second shipment of about 45,000 pounds of wool. The average price obtained for 80,000 pounds of wool sold in the first shipment was 57.7 cents a pound.

Governor Smith has definitely ar ranged to attend the Cornell University's 50th anniversay celebration at Ithaca on Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21 and will probably visit a number of other places in the vicinity of Ithaca

There has been such general complaint among the agricultural resi dents of Wavne county in reference to the daylight saving law that the executive committee of the Wayne county farm and bureau has passed a resolution against such a law.

Governor Smith has signed Senator Knight's bill providing for cancellation and completion of highway contracts. It appropriated $3,000,000. It is the intention of the highway de partment, now that this bill has been signed, to commence at once to readvertise and relet cancelled contracts.

The 1919 legislature broke all records so far as the number of bills in troduced was concerned. There were 1.512 measures introduced in the senate and 1,507 in the assembly. Of these 981 weer amended and reprinted, making a total of 4,000 bills pre sented for the legislature's considera-

A large majority of the teachers of New York state, approximately 53,000 will receive an increase of at least $100 and further increases later under the bill to establish uniform schedules and salaries for all members of the supervising and teaching staff, signed by Governor Smith. The measure carries an appropriation of $5,300,000.

Much anxiety is felt over the corn sown this year around Dansville, because of the persistent rains. It is feared that much of it will rot in the Acres of plowed ground are under water on the flats and even in the town the gardens look like mud Houses, hitherto weatherproof, have started leaking and plaster is falling from the walls on account of dampuess.

A fund of $25,000,000 soon will be available to assist in the construction of dwellings in New York city to overcome the housing problems there, Abram I. Elkus, chairman of the state reconstruction commission, stated at a luncheon given the commission by the Albany chamber of commerce. The commission plans, he said, to have similar funds created in other parts of the state where the housing situa Atty, for Administratrix, tion is found to be acute,

How It Happened to Entertain Only A. E. F. Mother Who Visited Army of Occupation.

Black.

Cohlenz, Germany, March 28 (By Mail.)

It happened right here in Coblenz. A big corporal came into the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House and asked for the director, Miss Ruth Woodsmall, who comes from Colorado Springs, Colo.

"Could my mother stay here?" he began at once, trying his best to cover his excitement. "Your mother!" gasped Miss Wood-small. "How did your mother ever get here?"

"Well, she isn't here yet, but if she comes will you keep her?" "Of course I will, but-"

She didn't finish, for the boy had amashed his cap back on his head and was out of the door on a run.

The corporal's visit remained a mystery for two days. Then one evening just at dusk a little white haired woman dressed exquisitely in black appeared in the sitting room of the Hostess House, and the corporal was hovering behind her, trying to be beside her and back of her and in front of her all at once. He was carrying her coat-a big fur one. With them were three doughboys, pals of the corporal. They tried to keep in the background, but their eyes were glued on her face. attention. There are no English speaking men or women out of uniform in the Third Army area. Yet here was a woman in civilian clothes. Mothers are unheard of with the army. But this was a mother, everyone knew + After swhile someone found out about this mother, meaning War.

Bhe and her husband, who were born in Germany, but had been natbralized, lived in San Francisco. Before the war they left for Welsbaden, Germany, that their invalid daughter health resort.

They brought their other children with them. One was Walter, a small boy, and the other was Ralph, now

Corporal Stepp of the American Army. When the war was declared they sent Ralph back to America, because he was of military age, and they did not want him to fight for the kalser. Then America entered the war,

Mrs. Stepp-Mrs. Anna Stepp she is -told this part of the story:

"Until a month ago I hadn't heard from Ralph for two years and a halfeven before America got in the war mail was held up. I didn't know whether he was in the army or notbut I was sure he was, because well, because he is an American." Here she stopped a minute to smile up at him.

"After awhile we heard from some friends that he was in the army-and that he had come over here. That was all I ever knew. It's nearly five years mince I have seen him!

"Of course it was awfully hard-I couldn't get word to him and he couldn't to me. My husband used to tell me it wouldn't help Ralph any for me to cry. . tried not to-before the rest of them anyway. My daughter got worse steadily—she is no better. We couldn't get the proper food for her after awhile. And she hated to see me worried about Ralph, so I used to try to keep up before them,

"Last January my husband came to Coblenz about his citizen papers. An American soldier in Ralph's company who was in the office heard his name and asked him if he was any relation to Ralph. He didn't tell him Ralph was in Coblenz, but went after Ralph. He didn't tell Ralph his father was here. When they met they couldn't believe their eyes.

"Ever since then I have been trying to see Ralph. He couldn't come to Weisbaden because it was out of the American area, and I couldn't get through until today-more than two

They asked her if her Ralph had changed much in all that time.

"Oh, yes-very much. But do you know, I think it is because all that long time when I didn't know where he was or how he was-I got in the habit of thinking of him as he was when he was a baby-I kept seeing him as a baby and remembering the way he felt when he was little. Isn't that queer? And now look at him!" And the corporal tried not to see the adoration in her eyes. "Five years is a long time to wait to see your boy," she murmured, and kept her eyes on him. Again she had forgotten the people around her.

The corporal cleared his throat.

This is why I ask d you if you could keep my mother, Miss Woodsmall, I didn't want her to come unless she had a good place to stay. Ah, e-e-rthanks awfully."

Heatess House happened to entertain the only known A. R. F. mother who hes wisted the Army of Occupation.

"(NOWS ALL ABOUT "COOTIES"

Civil War Veteran Has Vivid Recollection of What He Calls His "Little Companions."

"A lot of people," said a veteran of the Civil war, "apparently do not like to read or hear about 'trench lice,' and the boys 'over there' don't like to have 'em on 'em, but after all, they are not so bad after a little while. I got used to 'em during the Civil war.

"Each spring, my regiment would get rid of 'em. When it was warm enough for all the men to strip off everything and cook their clothes and bathe in the river, we would kill 'em off, and would not be bothered again until winter

"The first thing we did to a new man who came into the regiment was to give him his 'little companions,' provided he had not come from another regiment that had 'em. We found that the man who didn't have 'em was likely to be uppish, and too darned particular about associating with the rest of us. So we initiated him at once, and thereby made him a part of the regiment. We would throw him down, open his shirt, and then slip a few of 'em on him. We would have to hold him while they hid-then the job was done, and he was one of us. If you give those little fellows two or three minutes' start, they can always take care of themselves."

Shades of Solomon!

If Justice Benedict of the Supreme ourt of New York were running for president of the United States and his election depended upon the woman vote, there is no doubt at all that he would win by an overwhelming majority, after the sentiments which he expressed in an opinion. "If there is any one thing in common that women are jealous of, and particularly grateful for the indulgence of, it is their precious right to change their minds," said the justice, The occasion for these wise words was a plea by a woman plaintiff to change her lawyer. The justice decided in her favor. "A party to an action," he said, "especially a woman, has the right to change her mind and her attorneys whenever the spirit moves her, for no reason or for any reason which suits her whim or fancy. This precious prerogative must be protected and preserved by the court, even against the protest of the superseded attorney."

American Tars Have a Time. During the celebration of victory in Genoa a characteristic episode occurred in front of the Garibaldi monument. A group of English sailors, surrounded by an immense crowd, held a mock trial about the effigy of Emperor Charles of Austria. They condemned him to death and hanged the effigy on a pole, afterward applying the torch. The pole and the effigy were consumed. The Americans and the English took part in all the Italian celebrations with great enthusiasm,-Italian American News Bureau.

Worth-While Home Planning.

A notable example of home-planned utilities is found upon a farm in northern Utah. By personal planning and hard work the owner of this farm gradually has equipped his house with a pressure water system, a laundry containing a power washing machine, wringer, mangle, and drying machine, a heating plant, electric lights, range, electric heaters for emergency use in chambers, and a vacuum cleaning sys-

That Salvation Army Smile

Several thousand veterans of the Argonne Forest recently entered New York harbor. Among them were several badly wounded Marines. One man, easily distinguished because of a coat sleeve that dangled empty at his side and a Croix de Guerre, was making his way slowly to the waiting ambulance when a Salvation Army girl approached him and offered doughnuts and coffee. "Now I know I am home," he said. "Those doughnuts belped a whole lot 'over there,' and, first crack out of the box when we land, we find more walting for us. The best thing about the Salvation Army work out near the front line was the smile that accompanied the gift. Those girls had a knack of wrapping up every doughput and every cup of coffee in a smile. The doughnuts were fine, but the smile—that took the place of powdered sugar." The Salvation Army Home Service Fund Campaign for $18,000,000 opens May 19, to last one week.

Decide how much you can save each month and then turn to proper column in the table below. For example, if you can save between $25 and $30 a month, Column III shows that 7 stamps in May at $4.16 each cost $29.12, 6 stamps in June at $4.17 each cost $25.02, and so on through the rest of the year till you have bought a total of 50 stamps which will have cost a total of $209.72 and which will be worth $250 when they mature, January 1, 1924. The first five columns (I-V) indicates the number of War Savings Stamps a month to buy in order to accumulate respectively $1,000, $500, $250, $100 and $50. In the last column (VI), the number of Thrift Stamps to be bought each month is indicated, in order to accumulate $25.

Y. W. C. A. Provides Home For Actresses at Camp Dix, N. J.

Actresses who play in the Liberty Theater at Camp Dix, N. J., find a touch of home in the Players' House which the bousing committee of the Young Women's Christian Association, of which Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is chairman, operates for them. Because of the distance from any town where they might stay, it was necessary to provide some sort of living accommodations for the actresses. The Y. W. C. A. built the house, supplying it with all conveniences such as sewing machines, washtubs and ironing boards, Camp Upton, L. I., has a similar house.

Perkins Committee Reports on Recreational Work.

By GEORGE W. PERKINS, Chairman Finance Committee War Work Council Y. M. C. A.

(This is Part II. of Mr. Perkins' Report to War Work Fund contributors on his four months' investigation of Y. M. C. A. work overseas.)

At the beginning of its work in France the Y. M. C. A. organized an thletic department and took from the United States a large number of well trained athletic directors to assist the men in organizing athletic games of various kinds. During the years 1918 and 1919 it provided over 2,250,000 athletic articles. Included in this aggregate are 575,000 baseballs, 140,000 baseball bats, 65,000 fielder's gloves, $5,000 indoor baseballs and 75,000 footballs. These supplies were given to the soldiers.

The Y. M. C. A. has carried on various forms of entertainment on a colossal scale. It is operating a number of theaters in different places in France and is providing the best plays that can be secured, without charge for admission or expense of any kind to the soldiers. From February 1. 1918, to March 27, 1919, the Y. M. C. A. had 702 American entertainers and 220 French entertainers. The number estimated in attendance at the French Y. M. C. A. vaudeville shows alone was

In March, 1919, there were 95 Amercan troupes playing in different parts of France under the direct management of the Y. M. C. A. These troupes during that month.

Making Plays at St. Nazaire.

In addition to this a large number of oldier shows have been organized with the aid of the professional talent employed by the Y. M. C. A. An example of the way these shows are produced is found at St. Nazaire, where there is an establishment known as the "Play Factory." It consists of a large auditorium constructed by the Y. M. C. A., a portion of which has been divided into offices, which are used both by the Y. M. C. A. and the Army entertainment officials. There are rooms for the painting of scenery, for the manufacture of costumes and the distribution of musical instruments. In the auditorium 'rehearsals are constantly being held, and every night there is a new show, which serves as "tryout" for the unit performing.

For this play factory the Y. M. C. A. provides a part of the personnel and all of the money, while the Army provides the balance of the personnel, transportation, billets, mess for the men engaged in entertainment work and mess for the entertainers themleives. Among the articles furnished to the soldiers by the Y. M. C. A. in the month of March, 1919, are the folowing: 4,535 costumes, 18,734 song ooks, librettos and texts for plays and 1,636 musical instruments. Since the eginning of its work in France the Y. f. C. A. has purchased and distributed ever 1,000 planes.

Movies Wherever Possible.

More than 90,000 picture shows were iven in France alone between August, 1917, and April, 1919, to audiences that ggregated 50,000,000 men. Not a cent of admission has been charged. These intertainments have dispelled the reary evenings of homesick boys and ave done much to maintain their normal mental condition. These movies are given in every sort of building and the open, anywhere and everywhere that they could possibly be given, indiding abandoned chateaus, underround chambers of forts, hospital, wards, village theaters, aeroplane langars, leave area casinos, transports nd Y, M, C. A. huts, Kept Men Happy on Leave.

The English soldier in France is only tew hours from his home, and the rench soldier is very close to his me. When an English or a French idler obtains his leave he can spend is holiday at home. Not so with the nerican soldier. He is far away from ne, in a strange land, with a strange aguage, so the T. M. C. A. endeavors provide a substitute for home. The prices charged for rooms and meals are very meder ate, so that a sonalderable loss has been insurred in these hotels up to date. The importance of this service to our men when they are traveling about can hardly be overestimated in view of the overgrounded condition of these cities.

In different parts of France, England and Germany sightseeing departments are operated. When the men are on their holidays they are taken en automobile trips, walking trips, boat trips and other excursions. These departments also have charge of such matters as obtaining theater tickets and making reservations at various places of entertainment,

For instance, in the city of Paris alone during the one week ending March 22, 1919, there were motor trips provided for 2,800 men, boat trips for 300 men, walking trips for 8,700 men, out of town excursions for 3,500 men and 19,000 men were conducted through museums and historic buildings. This work is also carried on in London and other centers, including the larger cities of Germany where American troops are located, Excursion boats are being operated on the Rhine by the Army and the Y. "Y" Sent 600 Teachers to France. Toward the close of 1917 the Y. M. A, began the establishment of an educational system for the A. E. F. It drew on the American public for men and women workers who were not available for direct military service to assist the army in building up a simple educational system that would be practical during hostilities and that could be expanded rapidly when fighting ceased. During 1918 and the early part of 1919 the Y. M. C. A. sent to France 600 college professors and schoolteachers. It also bought or had manufactured in this country a very large quantity of text books and educational supplies.

It would be impossible to give anything like accurate figures of the mount of literature that the Y. M. C. A. has distributed to the American sol diers in France, England, Germany and Italy, for it has been of so many different kinds, obtained wherever it could ne secured, in small or large quantities. In brief, the more important items which the Y. M. C. A. has distributed to the men up to date are over 5,000,-900 bound volumes, 4,000,000 pieces of religious literature, 2,000,000 magazines, 10,000,000 newspapers and 1,000,-)00 copies of a 96 page song book, embracing popular songs of the A. E. F. In addition the Y. M. C. A. at many points acts as distributing agent for the American Library Association,

Religious Services in "Y" Huts.

The Y. M. C. A. has been criticized for the kind of religious services it helo and for the methods used to get the men to attend them. The soldiers who went to Europe developed a spirit of service and self sacrifice. The lives they were leading were very real, and the religion they wanted to hear about was of the same sort. Some speakers dld not comprehend this and therefore failed to grip the men. As to the methods used in drawing attendance, there were instances where a scheduled entertainment of some sort would be converted into a religious meeting.

Such occurrences were not part of any organized program of the Y. M. C. . They were the actions of certain Individuals who were short sighted and overzealous, and the reason given in most cases was that the huts were in such constant use that it was impossible to avoid having one activity overlap another. On the other hand, it must be remembered that in the many places where the services have been properly conducted they have been remarkably successful. A notable example is to be found at Coblenz, where thousands of men regularly attend the Sunday evening services in the great Fest-Halle.

Sent Money Home for Soldiers.

Soon after their arrival in France our soldiers began to make inquiries as to how they could send money home. They had no way to do this, because in a majority of cases they were in small towns where there were no banking facilities. The Y. M. C. A. undertook this remittance service, and up to April 1, 1919, 323,432 separate remittances, amounting to $19,542,396,46, were made to the United States, Last winter one ship alone brought to New York a list of over 21,000 names of people to whom money was to be paid. The average payment was relatively small, but the amount of detail work incident to carrying on this business was very large. No charge whatever is made for this service.

Tribute to Women Workers.

It is impossible to overestimate the value of the work that has been performed in Europe by the women who have been engaged in Y. M.-C. A. work. This staff has been constantly increased, and on April 1, 1919, there were T. M. O. A. work in Europe. These women are in the canteens, in the on Pebruary 25, 1919, 401 T. Plans to Enlarge Work in Army of Occupation.

By GEORGE W. PERKINS, Chairman Finance Committee, War Work Council, Y. M. C. A.

(This is the last part of Mr. Perkins report to Y. M. C. A. War Fund contributors on his investigation of Y. M. C. A. work overseas.)

When our troops began to move into Germany the Y. M. C. A. went with them and as rapidly as possible opened up its activities all along the line. On the 1st of March, 1919, the Y. M. C. A. was carrying on its activities for the Army of Occupation at 487 places in Germany. It had approximately 644 people engaged in this work and was distributing large amounts of supplies to the men through its huts in Ger In many cases the Y. M. C. A. has had to manufacture right in Germany some of the articles wanted, such as hymn books, costumes for plays and the like. Five German women are constantly employed making and remodeling costumes for use in plays. During the month of February, 1919, the Y. M. C. A. entertainment department gave over 500 professional performances in Germany, with a total attendance of over 150,000. In addition to this, there were 2,500 amateur performances. During that one month it supplied the soldiers with 485 violins, mandolins, guitars, flutes and other musical instruments.

The Y. M. C. A. was very much circumscribed in its efforts to secure men for service abroad, for these men could not be taken from those who were subject to the draft; nor could they be taken from men much above the age of 45, because the work at many points was too strenuous to be performed by men much beyond midwhich men could be called into service to a comparatively few years. At the beginning of the work the need for men, was so great that it was impossible to take the time to put them through any course of training or instruction before they were sent to Europe. Later on preparatory schools were established and men were carefully instructed before sailing.

When the men arrived on the other side they were scattered far and wide to the many hundreds of points at which American soldiers were stationed. Each man had to operate more or less independently in a foreign country under conditions that were unfamiliar and constantly changing, with the result that some failed to measure up to their opportunities. At times it was well-nigh impossible to get suggestions, instructions and orders to the various secretaries, as intercommunication was frequently interrupted, mails greatly delayed and telegrams blocked. It will be readily seen that difficulties, many of which were insurmountable, constantly presented themselves and greatly hindered the formation of a well-knit, comprehensive organization. Personnel Carefully Selected.

The following shows the care with which workers were selected to be sent to the other side: Committees were formed in different parts of the United States to canvass for men and women workers. The system was something like this: In Columbus, Ohio, for instance, the committee would look up people. Those whom it selected would be referred to the Ohio headquarters in Cleveland. If they passed muster there they were referred to the Central Department office at Chicago. Such as were not eliminated there were sent to New York, investigated further and selection made.

This same system covered all of the country. At least 150,000 people were committees. Of this number over 40,-000 were finally sifted out and seriously considered in New York. Of this number 11,229 were finally accepted and sent to Europe, in April, 1919, the Y. M. C. A. had in Europe 5,893 men and 2,657 women, making a total

Much has been said about the inefficiency of some of these workers, and without doubt a number of them were inefficient. In any form of organizadon in civilian life, whether it be public schools, chain stores or corporations, if 90 per cent, of those originally employed make good the result is regarded as highly satisfactory. If 10 per cent. of the 11,229 people operating in France for the Y. M. C. A. were more or less of a failure.

I do not believe that anything like this number of people were unsuccesssown by the fact that 14 Y, M. C. A. cont.

pooretaries were killed and 126 others

Fallures infinitesimal

As I have said, there have been individual fallures and semi-fallures in the discharge of the Y. M. C. A. work, but these have been infinitesimal com-pared with the work as a whole. It is impossible to describe the chaotic con-ditions that existed while hostilities were going on. It was impossible to keep accounts at the huts, accurate inventories, cash accounts and the like Almost absolute trust had to be placed in the honesty of the individuals who had to handle supplies and money. The money had to be collected in all sorts of ways and transmitted to Paris headquarters in any way that presented Itself.

The vast majority of T. M. C. A men and women who handled money were scrupulously honest, and the sue occe of the Y. M. C. A. work in Europe is unquestionably due to the sacrifices made by the individual men and women of the arganization and the generous manner in which they gave of their physical and mental strength. The Y. M. C. A. was confronted at every turn with the most difficult sort of practical problems of transportation, construction and supplies. These were only overcome through the ability and ingenuity of the individual workers. and too much praise cannot be accorded them for their success in this respect. The contributors to the Y. M. C. A. funds can never adequately thank these men and women for the faithful, unselfish and able service

Army Tribute to V. M. C. A. Ne higher tribute could be paid to the work of the Y. M. C. A. than that which is now being paid by the Army itself, for it is either taking over or largely co-operating in the work of continuing and enlarging the activities instituted by the Y. M. C. A. at the beginning of its work in Europe. After the armistice was signed it was neither necessary nor practical to keep the soldiers at military drill every day. Our men had not intended to enter the army as a permanent calling. They had simply gone into the war to whip Germany. When that job was finished they were through and they wanted to come home immediately and get to work at their civilian occupations.

There were more than 2,000,000 of them scattered through France and Germany. The great question was how to occupy the time of these men, how to give them healthy occupation and at the same time preparé them, at least in some degree, for the work home. The army at once turned to the Y. M. C. A. for help in solving this problem. General Headquarters assigned many high officers to co-operate in the work the Y. M. C. A. was carrying on in athletic, entertainment and educational activities.

I believe that the beneficial effects of the educational program laid down by the Y. M. C. A. and the athletic activities it has carried on have been so far-reaching that the War Department will hereafter continue these activities in our army in times of peace as well as in times of war, for many officers have told me that the beneficial effect of these activities on the morale of the army could hardly be measured. Germany had nothing of this sort in its army, and its absence caused a great loss in the morale of its men.

Service Y. M. C. A. Policy. One critic of the Y. M. C. A. in France stated that in his judgment the outstanding mistake made by the Y. M. C. A. was in trying to have too large a staff of workers; that the Y. M. C. A. should have limited itself to a staff of 500 men and women; that this number could have been so carefully selected that each one would have been a star performer; that, working in this way, the Y: M. C. A. could have made a pronounced success and would have no criticism. Had the Y. M. C. A. followed such a course it would clearly have been thinking much more of its own reputation than of the service it could render. It is obviously ridiculous to say that the Y. M. C. A. could have performed greater service with 500 very competent men and women than It performed with 11,00 or 12,000 men and women, some of whom proved incompetent.

The Y. M. C. A. undoubtedly made mistakes, but what it tried to do was to respond to every call that the Army made on it. It never hesitated to tackle any Job It was asked to underconsidered by these various district take, it did not sidestep any task it was asked to perform. It took the position that it was in Europe to do all it could as best it could; that when it was called on to render service of any kind its duty was to respond in the same spirit that the soldiers did and not hold back because adverse circumstances might make it impossible to meet with maximum success. Surely every contributor of money will approve the Y. M. C. A.'s course in this respect. Important Work With Army of Occupation.

A large number of contributors to the T. M. C. A. welfare funds felt that when the armistice was signed the work could be rapidly curtailed. This is not so. Important as the work was before November 11, it has been far were inefficient it would mean that more important since then because of there were 1,122 men and women who of the much greater amount of leisure the men now have. Relying on the payment of the money which is still due on account of the pledges made in over 2,607 women actively engaged in ful, but if under the close scrutiny the campaign of November, 1918, the which the soldiers give these welfare Y.
