TEACHING THE CHICKS TO ROOST

Where a large number of chicks are being raised in one brooder house difficulty is often experienced in preventing the birds from piling up at night after the heat is removed, and causing serious losses, says T. S. Townsend of the University of Missouri college of agriculture. To prevent this overcrowding the birds should be taught to roost as early as possible. If roosts are made out of 1 by 3-inch strips placed 12 to 15 inches from the floor, the birds can easily be taught to go to roost. If the chicks do not go up on the roost of their own accord they should be gently placed on the roosts after dark for one or two nights until they get the roosting habit.

Look Out for Mites.—This season of the year a constant lookout should be kept by all poultry keepers for mites in the houses and coops. A mite is very small and difficult to see unless special search is made. They appear as minute, gray or reddish specks. When present in large numbers, the mites have the appearance of dust. Mites reproduce very rapidly and are a great source of annoyance to the hens when present in large numbers. The mites live by sucking blood from the hens. A severe attack of mites will cause the hens to lose flesh and stop laying, and will sometimes produce death. To get rid of mites the houses must be carefully cleaned and then painted or sprayed with repellent material. A heavy spraying with coal oil followed in two or three days by giving the roosts and surrounding boards a thorough painting with crude oil will clean up the mites and keep the houses free for several months. This treatment should be applied twice yearly to all poultry houses as a precautionary measure against mites.

Quaint Remedies of Past Produced From Weeds Now Most Common in the Field

In old-time Philadelphia, says the Philadelphia Ledger, some quaint remedies were used.

Thus we find pokeberries used to make plaster for a cancer. Grappvine was used for a hair tonic.

To produce a sweet tea was made from magnolia leaves. The berry of this plant was supposed to cure consumption.

For toothache the bayberry root was an accepted remedy. Berries of the cedar tree were supposed to stiffen the spine. A purge was made of elder buds or elderberries.

Goldenrod, the mullein plant and even the lowly burdock were laid upon to contribute for various maladies. It is hard to find a common weed that was not utilized by the seventeenth century pharmacopoeia.

The grandmother of all the Philadelphia quacks was a bold one by the name of Styrin Masters, who 200 years ago made a fortune by the patent and sale of "Tuscorara rice" for consumption.

It was nothing more or less, apparently, than honey made from Indian corn.

Her husband put up a water mill somewhere near the city to make it. She was an innocent practitioner compared with certain modern professors.

Cleomargarine Production Shows a Marked Increase

The production of cleomargarine in the United States is three times as great now as five years ago. This is less than three pounds per person whereas in Denmark 45 pounds is consumed per person each year. The cleomargarine is produced in the Netherlands.

NEW YORK'S POSTMASTER A THRIFT DISCIPLE

Thomas G. Fatten, postmaster of New York, is not only one of the principal salesmen of Government Savings securities, but is also one of the chief exponents of savings. He is here shown entering his personal subscription for one of the new Treasury Savings Certificates which are issued in $100 and $1,000 maturity value denominations. In addition to being distributing centers for War Savings and Thrift Stamps, the post offices under Mr. Fatten's jurisdiction are also agencies for $100 Treasury Savings Certificates. Every one of these government agents will cheerfully explain the attractive features of this investment. Postmaster Fatten is shown here explaining to his division superintendants the value of thrift.

WIDE INTEREST SEEN IN THRIFT CITIZENS' MOVE

Large Attendance of Prominent Citizens at Series of Meetings Throughout the District.

From every part of the State, reports received at headquarters of the Government Loan Organization, New York City, indicate that the intensive effort under way for the past fortnight has resulted in the enrollment of hundreds of leaders in the Thrift Citizens' Movement.

At every city where organization meetings have been held the response to the appeal to "work and save" has been spontaneous and enthusiastic. Men and women prominent in every walk of life in the several communities have come forward to volunteer their assistance by setting an example for their fellow townsfolk.

Officials of the Government Loan Organization who have toured the State have sought to emphasize the importance and necessity of concerted action on the part of the public to produce more and consume less. It is only through this method, it has been pointed out, that a solution for much of the economic disquietude and industrial unrest can be evolved.

How fundamentally sound is this doctrine is indicated by the ready response from the attendants at the several meetings, the majority of them the foremost business and professional men and women in their respective communities. Not only have these people enrolled as Thrift Leaders by personally endorsing and participating in the movement through investment in Treasury Savings Certificates, but they have readily agreed to interest others to do so. Thus the Thrift Citizens' Movement augments the force of an endless chain plan, and its results are not immediately measurable.

Among the immediate results of the movement, however, may be noted that scores of business men and captains of industry who attended the regional meetings have become enthusiastic thrift disciples. Already a number have followed the suggestion of organizing their offices and plants into thrift centers, and a great array of recruits will soon become Thrift Citizens.

Meetings have been held in Albany, Syracuse, Rochester, Utica, Buffalo and Breehly, in New York, and Newark, in New Jersey.

BRITISH WAR SAVINGS SHOW LARGE INCREASE

In spite of war agencies, saving deposits in England have grown tremendously in the last five years, according to the Comptroller of the British Post Office Savings Bank. Only twice the contributions since the war of savings deposits interrupted, once by the War Loan of 1915 and once by the 5 per cent loan of 1917.

Total deposits increased despite the fact that depositors transferred over $1,000,000,000 from their postal savings into the various war issues of the government. The recent figures show conclusively, the comptroller asserts, the power of saving of the British public, for the amount directed to the government war issues has not been wasted or dissipated, but most will be included in the savings of the nation.

ARE YOU ON THE LISTS

When the six-hatted, city-tongued individual with his "million-dollar" smile tells you of 100 per cent profit in some oil or copper concern which he suggests, here's how to treat him: Give him the stink eye.

Tell him to wipe your nose off his "million-dollar" smile.

But, has he decided to invest in GOVERNMENT SAVINGS CERTIFICATES?

PEACE OFFENSIVE WILL CONTINUE

Government Loan Organization Seeks More Thrift Citizens.

A continuation of America's peace offensive inaugurated by the Government Loan Organization by an intensive effort to line up Thrift leaders has been announced. The response to the leadership campaign made the effort an unqualified success. The work has resulted in a general realization on the part of prominent citizens throughout New York and New Jersey that national thrift is the immediate and practical remedy for the high cost of living and other economic problems.

The backbone of an all-inclusive thrift movement in the territory has thus been formed. A body of real leaders actively engaged in the work and determined to push it has been established. These leaders will now proceed to line up their respective communities. Savings associations will be instituted in factories, lodges, schools, women's clubs and other appropriate places. It is expected that an official household budget will be issued which will be of practical help to the housewife in keeping track of her expenditures. Motion picture theaters, pamphlets and speakers will be used to carry the message of thrift to every man, woman and child in the district.

The slogan of the movement will be "Work and save." It is essential to the peace-time prosperity of America, say eminent economists, that production be increased and consumption decreased. Equally important is the sound investment of savings. These savings must go into really productive channels and not be squandered by investment in wildcat oil stocks and mining ventures.

The U. S. Treasury Department will continue to supply the need for safe and profitable investments by issuing Government Savings securities. The Thrift Stamp, the Government Savings Stamp and the Treasury Savings Certificate will all be continued. Thus the man, woman or child can invest any amount from twenty-five cents to $100 in securities which cannot depreciate in value and which can be realized upon without loss at any time upon demand.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Hark! Hark! I hear a distant bell,
And now a chime—they softly ring;
What joyful tidings do they tell
As back and forth they swing.

'Tis mid of night—who rings those bells?
Perhaps some doves there nesting,
And while each little bosom swells,
And warm, they touch with gentle wing
The tuneful metal, and it feels
So incubated it would swing
To life, and wake the world with peals
Of gladness as for new-crowned King.

Those midnight bells, how sweet they chime;
The welkin vibrates with their sound;
To hearts attune they are sublime,
Nor spread their dread alarm around.

Lo! now I see, from East afar
A light shines through the steeples' frame.

'Tis brighter than the brightest star,
It glides the bells with golden flame;
There, too, I see some cherubs cling
Fast hold the ropes. How fair they be!
They swing the bells and sweetly sing
"This is the Christ's nativity."

Wake every heart, join in their song
Of praise to Christ, our new-born King;
To him our sweetest strains belong,
And his, our richest offering.

When wakes the god of day, and shines
Athwart the heavens, what of glee
Will wake us well? With box and pines
And flowers gay, yon house will be
Adorned, and while the anthem swells
With organ's voice, all Christendom
Will vibrant be as are those bells
That Christ's nativity has come.
—J. William Pope.

ANCIENT CHRISTMAS TOYS

Dolls That Delighted Children of Rome and Greece in Early Days Recently Excavated.

Rag dolls are as old as the hills and so are dolls with movable arms and legs, toy dogs, rocking horses and a host of other things that bring delight to the children on Christmas morning.

Recent excavations in the ruins of ancient Rome, Greece and Egypt have placed the British museum in possession of an interesting assortment of these relics of early Christian days, some of which may possibly have been given to the children of the followers of Christ at a time when the observance of Christmas day was an innovation.

In the nursery of a newly excavated house at Behnesa, Egypt, a fairly well preserved rag doll was found with arms and legs still intact and painted face. The doll is by no means a beauty and does not compare with the Christmas dolls of today, but nevertheless it must have brought joy to a little girl's heart nearly 2,000 years ago.

The jointed dolls of long ago were made to sit down, stand up and move their arms, but they didn't close their eyes or squeak "mamma." Among the toy dogs, horses and donkeys are some made of stone and baked clay and others carved out of wood.

A CONVENIENCE

"So you think the Santa Claus myth is a good thing?"
"Yes, it's a great convenience to have some imaginary person to take the responsibility when the children are disappointed Christmas morning."

A Christmas "Supper"

We would not change the children's Christmas, but suppose all the grown-up people were to get in one another: "This year, instead of my giving you a present and your giving me a present, let us all together and give our present to some poor child who will not have an Christmas. That is a hundred times more pleasant than giving our presents to the children who give us presents for Christmas." This is to be, of course, in addition to what we usually give to charities at this season. Why could we not try this as an experiment, and see what the result would be?—Christian Register.

Touched His Heart, Not Purse.
A very ragged individual invaded the office of a millionaire one Christmas eve and started describing his woes and sorrows in so graphic a manner that the millionaire was more affected than he had ever been before in his life.

At last, with tears in his eyes, he rang the bell for his servant, and when the latter arrived, said to him in a broken voice: "John, put this poor fellow out at once. He's breaking my heart."

Their Annual Receive.

Probably the girls are getting the same thing this year that they have sold every year in the past: "Well, I'm going to start making presents right away for next Christmas."

CHINESE WOMEN STUDY HEALTH

Three Doctors Return From America to Begin Active Health Campaign Among Women.

ALL AGENCIES COMBINE. American Y. W. C. A. Will Support Women's Part of Chinese Health Campaign as Part of World Service Program.

As a result of the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, held during September and October, Chinese women are to have a far-reaching health program.

DR. IDA KAHN URGES CHINESE WOMEN TO WORK.

conference, are to take an active part in promoting this health program for women which will be the share of the Y. W. C. A. in the big health movement in China.

The funds for establishing these health centers, for demonstrations of how to care for babies, for health lectures for the women, for babies' dispensaries and for a general educational campaign, will be raised by the American Y. W. C. A. as part of its program of world service for women and girls in 1920.

Dr. Ida Kahn, in a recent appeal to modern Chinese women said, "Let our women of education in Peking and elsewhere gather themselves together to work for the schools, Red Cross and Y. W. C. A., and everything else which bespeaks the betterment of the country, instead of staying at home to play poker and 'sparrow,' and going out to attend endless dinners, tea parties and dances."

"Let us rally our forces and help the ship of state to move safely. One person cannot accomplish much, but one or two hundred millions of women can work wonders. Let us go back to a more Spartan-like simplicity of living and let us build up social service until every city in China is sanitary, every section of the town has its proper schools, and every child, whether boy or girl, is sent to such schools. True social service brings democracy in its train, and we who are citizens of a new republic can help to make it truly great by preaching and living democracy all the time. Why not learn to do our household duties, 'doebling' it off to be waited upon by maids and slave girls all the time?"

"The status of women in China, while leaving much to be desired, still is quite hopeful when we consider that she is just emerging into the sisterhood of the nations. Our men can depend upon us to bear the burdens of the day, for nowhere is there a more industrious, diligent and persevering womanhood than in China."

Dr. Kahn is lecturing in this country on the needs of her fellow country women, in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Educational Campaign which plans to acquaint people with all phases of Y. W. C. A. work in the United States, South America, China, Japan, India and Europe. This educational campaign will be followed by an active effort to raise the $3,000,000 needed for service for women throughout the world.

CHINESE WOMEN HAVE FINANCIAL ABILITY.

They Carried Y. W. C. A. Campaign "Over the Top." Much has been said about the honesty and skill of the Chinese business man. The world has neglected to mention the financial ability of Chinese women. They proved this ability in the last financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Tientsin.

2,000 LEADERS ENDORSE THRIFT

Leading Citizens Throughout New York and New Jersey Join Peace Offensive.

As a result of the eight regional meetings held during the past few weeks under the auspices of the Government Loan Organization more than two thousand prominent men and women in New York and New Jersey have agreed to take an active part in America's Peace Offensive.

The eight regional meetings were held at Albany, Syracuse, Utica, Binghamton, Buffalo, Rochester, Brooklyn and Newark, N. J. Each meeting was attended by the most representative citizens of the surrounding community, including bankers, business men, labor leaders, club women, foreign language group leaders, educators, religious leaders and prominent organization members.

America's Peace Offensive is now launched, and the doctrine of "work and save" will be spread more and more broadly.

ENTIRE NATION HEARS CALL FOR THRIFTY

The people of New York State and the twelve northern counties of New Jersey are not the only patriotic residents of the United States who are showing their loyalty this month by the purchase of Treasury Savings Certificates.

And now, that America's Peace Offensive is launched, reports are piling up at the New York City office of the Government Loan Organization showing that intensive efforts by leaders in the Thrift Citizens' Movement are bringing out big enrollments.

PHILOSOPHY AND THRIFT GO HAND-IN-HAND. Thrift must be made an integral part of the philosophy of every thinking man who believes in the future of this country, in the future of his children and himself.

 The following is a portion of a letter from J. H. Cruthers, who is at Stuart, Fla., to Dr. J. W. Skinner of Genoa:
 "This is a very fine climate, every day warm and sun shining most all the time; nice ocean breeze from 9 a. m. to about sundown; morning temperature is about 66 to 70, afternoon 70 to 74. Come South for a month and enjoy some of the nice fruits. They are dandy. We have them every day—nice grape fruit, oranges, tangerines and plenty of fresh fish, oysters, fresh vegetables. Lots of fresh fish caught every day here in St. Lucie river, about 3 minutes' walk from Young's house. All kinds of fruit are grown here—grape fruit, oranges, tangerines, pineapples, bananas, kum kuats, paw paw, mulberries, coconuts and lots of other fruits that I do not know the names of. All white sand here, roads are white and the finest sidewalks I ever saw. The Dixie highway is a dandy, about 300 miles long and as smooth as marble. Say, doctor, it rides nice in an auto. Stuart is a small place of only 950 people but growing fast."

Don't Delay Another Day.
 I have now ready for you to take home the great Sonora phonograph, the phonograph that took the first prize for tone at the World's fair, the Panama Pacific exposition, from all other disc machines. Do you get what that means? They were all there at their best but the Sonora walked off with first prize. Now is not time what you are after? They are the most durable because they have longest running double spring motor, they play any record made with no changing or extra attachments, they are the handsomest machine in the world, they are the only machine that has the automatic stop and tone regulator. What more can you ask in a talking machine? Price $50 to $1000. Sold by

WOMEN EXCEED MEN IN JAPANESE FACTORIES

Praying for All Men. By REV. HOWARD W. POPE, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT—Exhort therefore, that prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men.—1 Tim. 2:1.

The importance of prayer as a preparation is seen when we consider the nature of the work.

man that he is a sinner simply because he has not accepted Christ as his Savior. Sin is so subtle, and the human heart so stubborn...

The common idea is that work is the main business of the Christian, and a little prayer is necessary to help the work along.

Prayer is the bow that supplies the force and work is the feather that guides the arrow to its destination.
