HOW UNTUTORED HALF OF HUMAN BRAIN CAUSES FOOLISH DREAMS.

—Manifestly there is a part of your brain that goes on thinking while you are asleep. Were this not the case you would have no dreams. What part? Nobody knows with certainty, but there is good reason for believing that it is the untutored half of the brain—the right half.

Each one of us has really two brains, right and left, just as we have a right leg and a left leg. The left brain does our thinking for us, while the right (if we are "right handed") is uneducated and does almost no thinking at all. So uneducated is it that we cannot without great difficulty use a pen or so simple an instrument as a pair of scissors with the left hand. For it is the right brain that controls the muscles of the left half of the body, and vice versa.

Having almost no work to do, the right brain needs no rest. It does not get tired, and so stays awake or at least partly so, while we sleep. Its thoughts are what we call dreams.

Your dreams are foolish, because in sleep your thinking is being done by the foolish half of your brain. It is simple minded; at times it seems semi-diotic. Of judgment it possesses none at all, nothing being too absurd or impossible to be accepted by it without criticism.

For example, it often happens that in a dream you meet a near relative or other person who has been long dead. Are you surprised to see him or her walking about and talking? Not a bit. The foolish brain thinks in a dull and stupid way, with no exercise of the reasoning faculty. Those parts of it which have to do with vision and speech seem to be chiefly active, judging from the ever-varying motion pictures thrown upon the screen of the mind during sleep, and from the constant talking that accompanies them.

The foolish brain may perhaps be compared to that of a monkey, though probably inferior. It forms concepts, but cannot put them together and draw from them the conclusions which are the basis of judgment.

Prohibition has bred a national thirst for cider so irresistible that apple juice promises to become the great American drink, according to Dr. E. H. Porter, state commissioner of food and markets. But, says Dr. Porter, the supply is small. The present crop of cider apples is about one-third that of former years "and the big dealers are scrambling to get enough to supply their customers."

There has been a big demand for cider in Brocton and surrounding towns, and the farmers are getting the highest price for the liquid in the history of the county. Several carloads have already been shipped out of Brocton, and since federal authorities decided that cider could be sold regardless of its age, representatives from different houses in the larger cities in the East have been buying up all they could get hold of.

The big Holstein cattle sale held in Hornell under the auspices of the Allegany Holstein-Friesian Breeders' club ended with a banquet in Gibbs restaurant. The total sales amounted to $27,760 and the largest single sale was $900, paid by Snyder & Streeter of Fillmore to the Wheatfield Farms Association, Inc., of La Salle, for a seven-months' old bull. N. E. Costas of Greenwood sold two cows for $1,400 and Frank Ostrander realized $1,100 for two animals. The next sale will be held on Nov. 17 and 18, 1920, at Hornell.

BETHELEHEM

Cold was the earth and all the stars,
But Mary Mother smiled
Where in the manger of an inn
Lay warm the Holy Child.

The ox was host upon that night
Unto the King of all;
He gave for incense meadow breath,
For shelter his rude stall.

Not all the cold of earth and man
Can pierce the heaven mild,
Where warm against her leaping heart
A Mother clasps Her Child.

O miracle of utmost love,
How God grew greater when
He stooped to be a helpless babe
Beside the hearts of men.

Long ago since—and still in joy,
In loneliness and tears,
We kneel unto a Little Boy
Who smiles down through the years.
—Wilbur Underwood in Reddy's Mirror.

MAKE SOME SAD HEART GLAD

Christmas the Time for Remembering
Those Not as Fortunate as You Are.

Christmas is a sad time in some households, among the older members who miss familiar faces always associated with family gatherings—a list of missing ones which increases as the years go by. But if it is impossible to be happy one's self, it is always possible to make some one else rejoice—this is an easier task than some people imagine. So many are so foolish as to think that because they cannot give beautifully that it is not worth while to give at all. They forget that what seems very little to a person in comfortable circumstances may appear very large to those who have virtually nothing at all; while among friends a small gift, bearing some sign of thoughtfulness, is often more acceptable than a costly but ill-chosen present. This is an excellent time to go over the children's toys and select those which can be spared to go to some less fortunate little ones. Do not select only those which are too battered to be recognizable; such, of course, are not to be despised, but a little glue and a few stitches to freshen up a broken doll or torn book add much to the pleasure of a second-hand gift—for all children love fresh-looking things and it is, besides, scarcely possible to give away only such articles as would otherwise be thrown in the ash-heap.

WHERE SANTA WAS BORN
Russian Legend of Saint Klaus and How He Came to Be Known as the Children's Friend.

Very many years ago there lived in Russia a nobleman and his wife, who had a little son named Klaus. He was such a good boy that everyone used to call him Saint Klaus. In course of time his parents died and left him a large fortune, not the least part of which was three large bars of gold. Saint Klaus one day happened to be passing a house, and overheard a father telling his daughters that he had lost all his money, and that he didn't even know how he was going to buy food for them. This worried Saint Klaus very much, and he wondered how he could help them. So that night he took one of the bars of gold and threw it through the window. The next night he threw the second bar, and crept quietly away, but on the third night when he was about to throw the third bar, the man who had lost all his money came out and caught him. He tried to thank Saint Klaus for his goodness to him and his daughters, but Saint Klaus told him to pay his thanks to God, whose servant he was.

And there, boys and girls, you have the story of Saint Klaus (or Santa Claus as we call him).

Offered His Friend Choice of Nice Jails.

Kansas City.—A certain saloonkeeper entered the office of Sam Hargus, assistant United States district attorney, here, and explained that he wanted to know if he could sell some liquor with his 2.75 per cent beer. Others were getting away with it, he declared, and he wanted to know if he could.
"How far would I get?" he asked.
"Well," replied Mr. Hargus, "seeing that you are an old friend I think I can fix you up—so you could get your choice of any jail in the Western district of Missouri. We have some pretty fine ones; some say they have never seen better."
"I'll stick to my near per cent beer," replied the saloonkeeper as he hurriedly left.

KILLS MORE THAN WAR

Tuberculosis Claims 150,000 Victims a Year.

Survey Indicates 2,000,000 Unsuspected Sufferers From Disease in Nation.

New York.—A survey of the country shows the United States is face to face with a condition more menacing to its people than actual warfare, according to the report of the executive committee of the National Tuberculosis association.

The survey shows an annual death rate from tuberculosis in the United States of 150,000, and more than 1,000,000 active cases of the disease in the nation.

To combat and prevent the spread of the disease, an intensive national campaign is necessary, it was asserted. Funds for the campaign will be sought by a ten-day sale of Red Cross seals, beginning December 1. The total of the several state budgets will be more than $6,500,000.

During the discussions, attention was called to the revelations of the war-time medical examination boards, made up largely of members of the association. Official figures were cited, showing that of the men called to the colors, nearly 100,000 were tuberculous.

It was pointed out that the death rate of 150,000 a year from one preventable disease means the sacrifice of more lives than the United States army lost in the year it was actively engaged in the war.

BRITISH SELL WAR STORES

Government Offers to the Public immense Quantity of Goods and Factory Plants.

Washington.—The British government is offering at public sale, either by auction or bid from private parties, an enormous amount of goods, stores and all kinds of property accumulated in the course of the war and now held in quantities far beyond the needs in time of peace.

A special publication known as "Surplus," copies of which have been received here, show that this property includes whole factories fully equipped for manufacturing all kinds of commodities.

An effort is being made to dispose of much of this property abroad and a special bureau has been established in London to interest export houses.

JUST A MATTER OF MONEY

Ontario Town Would Pay for American Coal in Own Currency.

Windsor, Ont.—Orders placed by Mayor Winter with a United States firm for 500 tons of anthracite coal, quoted at $12 a ton, including freight, and expected to be paid for in Canadian money, must now be paid for in United States currency, according to word received here.

The demand for United States money will make about 42 cents difference a ton, the mayor says. The order is held in abeyance until it can be learned whether another American company will accept Canadian money.

Cared for Town Clock.

Bucyrus, O.—Care of the town clock passed out of the hands of the Kehrer family, which has had it for more than fifty years, when George J. Kehrer Jr. was taken ill and had to delegate his task to the court house janitor. About twenty years ago the elder Kehrer died, after tending the clock for thirty years, and the clock stopped. For a month a stranger struggled with it, but it would not run more than forty-eight hours consecutively. Then his son took care of it and ever since the townspeople have set their watches by it.

Prize Fish Yarn of 1919.

Topeka, Kan.—The champion "fish tale" for 1919 was brought to this city by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lovewell, who returned with their family from Lake Koronis, Minn., where they spent two months.

The family consisting of the parents, two sons and a daughter, caught a total of 165 pikie and bass, in addition to pickereels which they did not count. They showed a map shot with a catch of 45 fish averaged

A joint meeting was held in the afternoon while in the morning the men assembled in Masonic hall, and the women gathered in the Second Presbyterian church for their own meeting.

RAT MENACES HEALTH

Costs the United States $180,000,000 a Year for Support.

Public Health Service Urges That Measures Be Taken to Destroy Them.

Washington.—You pay one-half of one cent every day for the support and sustenance of a brown rat, according to figures compiled by the United States public health service.

There is one rat, at least, for every person in the United States. This estimate is considered conservative, but coincides with that for Great Britain and Ireland, and also with authoritative figures for Denmark, France and Germany. The annual upkeep per rodent was computed by the same authorities as $1.80 in Great Britain, $1.20 in Denmark, and $1 in France. The deprivations in this country will very probably exceed the estimate for Great Britain. One-half a cent a day is considered conservative, but even on this computation, it costs the United States $180,000,000 a year to support its rat population.

It is because of this terrific economic loss and the additional fact that rats are a constant menace to the public health that the public health service has issued a warning to the country to take the necessary measures to destroy them.

There are three kinds of rats included in the survey in this country—the Norway or brown rat, the black rat, and Alexandrian rat. The Norway rat, larger and more ferocious than the others, has pretty generally killed them off, and today the black rat and the Alexandrian rat are seldom found except in garrets.

The brown or Norway rat, since he discovered America, has literally blazed a trail across the continent. Today it is conservatively estimated that there are at least one rat for every dweller in the cities, and on the farm there are at least three rats for every person. None of these rats is native to the United States.

Of many measures suggested for destroying the rat, the public health service advocates one as most effective. It is rat-proofing the buildings so that rats cannot get in for food, thereby starving them to death.

LEAVES HIS WIFE AS BAIL

Husband's Appearance Relieves Embarrassment of Police Judge in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Police Judge Chesbro was most embarrassed. A woman had been left with him in lieu of $25 bail, and he did not know what to do with her.

Walter Lincicum appeared before the court on a misdemeanor charge. Judge Chesbro fixed the bail at $25. Lincicum did not have the $25.

Mrs. Lincicum, who was in court, had a bright idea and whispered to the judge. He nodded assent and Lincicum rushed from the courtroom. His wife remained behind. She was the bail.

Everybody was happy until 5 p. m. arrived, and brought no Lincicum. It was time to close the court. The judge looked at his clock and at the bail.

Then Lincicum rushed in, just as the court was ordered closed. He had $25 in real money and walked away with his wife.

UMBRELLA AS BERRY PICKER

By Its Aid Long Island Woman Gathers Ninety Quarts in Day.

Sayville, L. I.—Mrs. Margaret Cross of Sayville, L. I., went huckleberrying. She carried an umbrella. Neighbors asked her if she feared rain, but she only smiled.

Reaching a spot where the berries grew thick, she opened it, inverted it under a bush and shook the bush vigorously. The berries fell into the umbrella and were easily transferred from it to Mrs. Cross' berry pail.

By this means she gathered 90 quarts during the day, thereby establishing a record for one day's picking. It is said.

'LOST BATTALION' HERO TO ASSIST CAMPAIGN

Colonel Whittlesey Promises Co-operation to Third Red Cross Roll Call.

Lieutenant-Col. Charles W. Whittlesey of "Lost Battalion" fame has offered his services to Major General John F. O'Ryan who is in charge of the membership campaign of the American Red Cross, according to an announcement by the campaign headquarters of the Atlantic Division of the Red Cross.

Of his own motion Colonel Whittlesey wrote to Major General O'Ryan, saying that he had heard the call that had gone forth for former service men and was willing, eager, to do his share of the work, in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, if for no other reason than to repay to a small extent the splendid services which the Red Cross rendered the Seventy-seventh Division during the fighting in France.

Accompanying the announcement from the General's headquarters that Lieutenant-Colonel Whittlesey was to be counted on in the organization of workers came the information that Borough Park Post No. 159 of the American Legion, a Brooklyn unit of the legion, had unanimously voted to exert its efforts to the success of the drive, which is to close on Armistice Day.

Commenting on the willingness of former service men to aid in the drive, General O'Ryan said:

"It is what I expected, what I know for the service men, above all others, know the worth of Red Cross work. As the campaign organization is rounded into form, the names of hundreds of their men, of former A. E. F. men will appear on the rolls of the workers."

Guarding the Health of the Family.

This Polish mother, 34 years old, has borne ten children, eight of whom are living and in the best of robust health, thanks to the care of the nurse resulting from the visits of the American Red Cross Public Health Nurse. The nurse calls regularly to instruct the mother in the proper way to guard their health. She is here shown demonstrating to the mother the best way to bathe the littlest one of the brood of busy and happy youngsters. The extension of this activity is one of the features of the present campaign which a record membership for 1921 is being sought in the Third Red Cross Roll Call.

BY MARY WELSH COOPER

ANNA CLAIRE was born in the year when Santa Claus took you would have seen the reason why, though it would not be hard for any of us to guess the reason why.

Santa Claus on the night before Christmas had stopped at the toy stores and had taken the toys which he had left there so that the children could see them and write letters telling what they wanted.

By that time he had packed and packed of toys as many as his sleigh could hold, and while his workshop was empty there was a nice, cheerful appearance about it.

There were lots of tools around, however, and there were bits of cloth left from making dresses and hats for dolls, and there were little ends of ribbons which had tied packages. There were pieces of wood, too, which had been sawed off when boats were made.

There were many other things which showed it had been a toy shop. It looked as if it had been full of toys only a little while before—and not only toys but of every sort of a Christmas present for every sort of a child.

A fire was burning cheerfully in the big stove and was making the workshop nice and warm. But there was an open fire, too, at the end of the shop with a big chair in front of it. On a rug beside the chair sat Boy of the North, his head against the knee of Santa Claus.

He was wagging his tail from time to time and looking into his master's eyes.

"Good old Boy of the North, never forgets his master," said Santa Claus. And Boy of the North was happy that Santa Claus was so pleased by the warm wrapper and slippers which he had got for his master.

"Good old Boy of the North," said Santa Claus again, patting him, and Boy of the North smiled the air, and looked at Santa Claus as though to say:

"Who wouldn't be good if he belonged to you? You're always cheerful and happy and always thinking of others. You like children and you like to hear them laugh and you work for them all the year. You're their King, King Santa Claus, and you're my master."

"I Look at Children All Over the World."

So Boy of the North tried to talk to Santa Claus and Santa Claus understood. He stroked the dog's head, and as he smiled, looking into the fireplace, he said:

"It was a wonderful trip, Boy of the North. I love to sit down here in my easy chair on Christmas day and think about it. Oh, I saw so many lovely children. They were asleep and such nice smiles were playing around their mouths. I hoped, Boy of the North, I hoped they were thinking about me, because I like to have them fond of me."

And Boy of the North pressed nearer, as though to say:

"They're fond of you just as I am fond of you—just as fond as can be!"

"My telescope had such a good time, too. You'll have to go out and see them in their stalls soon, and hear how they had to show up whenever the made lots of noise, for I was so afraid they would awake the children."

"And now, Boy of the North, know what I must do!"

Boy of the North stretched himself and got up. He followed Santa Claus to a corner of the workshop, and then back to a window while Santa Claus carried a long, long telescope.

"This is my magic telescope which you see me use each year, Boy of the North," said Santa Claus. "It looks at children all over the world, and when they smile and I can see how happy they are then I am being thanked for my work."

"It was very hard this year to get all that the children wanted. Some years are harder than others, but the children understand and I haven't seen a single scowl. No, Boy of the North, not a single scowl."

"Oh, what thanks! Every child everywhere is smiling. Boy of the North, and every child is happy!"

And there were still in those merry twinkling eyes of Santa Claus—the tears—but tears of joy at the smiles of happy children, to be seen only by those who look through his magic telescope.

Modern Circuit Rider Uses Flivver

"THE KING'S BUSINESS REQUIRES HASTE"

CIRCUIT RIDING—OLD AND NEW

The twentieth century circuit rider who has congregations scattered over from ten to fifty square miles of territory does not travel from place to place on horseback. Instead he makes use of two of the latest methods of transportation, immeasurably faster than the slow-paced Dobbin. He either mounts a motorcycle and puts his way from one village to another or climbs into a moderate priced automobile and whirs about. Probably the only reason why he does not use an airplane is because his congregations refuse to have him risk his life by becoming a "sky pilot" literally as well as figuratively.

The number of strictly up-to-date circuit riders will be greatly increased as a result of the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church. In the surveys of the needs of the various parishes and dioceses returned to the general headquarters of the Nation-Wide Campaign at 124 East 28 Street, New York City, many requests have been included asking for aid in buying motorcycles and automobiles that the effectiveness of the rector in the sparsely populated sections of the country may be increased many times.

The Right Rev. Hugh L. Burleson of Sioux Falls, S. D., Episcopal Bishop of South Dakota, in including the item of automobiles in the survey for that diocese says: "A priest with a machine can do just four times the work out here as a priest without one."

The Right Rev. Clinton L. Quin, Bishop Coadjutor of Texas, with headquarters in Houston, asks for automobiles for the clergymen in his diocese as does Archdeacon Garner of Amarillo for the Diocese of North Texas. There the territory in charge of each clergyman is large and the distances he has to cover so great that it is deemed indispensable that he be supplied with motor transport.

The Right Rev. James Wise, Bishop of Kansas, wants motorcycles instead of automobiles for a number of his clergy. With them he will be able to supply a preacher for a number of small towns within sixty miles of Topeka every Sunday.

The Right Rev. Frank Hale Touret, Bishop of Western Colorado, also asks for automobiles while the Right Rev. Paul Matthews of the Diocese of New Jersey wants, in addition to motor cars, a motor truck large enough to transport a priest with all the accessories needed for holding any kind of a religious service—communion, funeral, morning prayer or wedding—so that out of the way communities in southern New Jersey may enjoy the religious advantages of more populous communities.

As a result of the Nation-Wide Campaign, which is to raise both money and workers for the expansion of all Episcopal activities, the dealers in automobiles, motorcycles and gasoline will find a new customer for their wares and one whose trade is entirely likely to keep on expanding as the vestries learn how much modern means of transportation add to the amount of work which their rectors can accomplish.

TO WORK WITH LEGION

League for Americanism Offers Service Order Aid in Fight Against Reds and Radical Rioters.

The New York League for Americanism has joined in the fight against the radical meetings which have been proposed in various parts of the state, and particularly has entered into the fight at Syracuse to stop red speech-making, by offering its assistance to the American Legion, made up of former service men. The action was first taken at Syracuse, where the American Legion succeeded in preventing, by appeal to the authorities, a series of radical mass meetings. This action was the occasion for the writing to Lieut. Col. John D. Tuck, county head of the Legion, of a letter by Secretary Carleton D. Babcock of the League for Americanism, in which he said:

"The New York League for Americanism wishes to congratulate you on your success in stopping these efforts to overthrow our government. The League for Americanism wishes to assure you that it will give to the American Legion any assistance in its power to fight against the 'Red' agitators."

Women's Clubs in Fight Against Health Scheme.

Women's clubs of New York State are flocking to the standard of the New York League for Americanism, in its fight against the un-American plan to force compulsory health insurance upon the state, at a cost of nearly $100,000,000 annually. The Third District federation at Saratoga Springs which has previously voted for the proposal, upon study revealing its vicious tendencies repudiated the former approval and declared strongly against the bill. The grounds given were its enormous cost, in taxes its danger to the community, its tendency to increase sickness, and the manner in which it makes the wage earner a member of the pauper class.

Doctors Explain Strike Threat. Hornell doctors and allied professions who have declared that a strike of the medical and allied professions will result if compulsory health insurance is passed say that their strike will not affect their ordinary private practices, but that they will refuse to work under the law, which they believe would cause a slackening of medical morals.

BERMUDAS HAD HISTORY LIKE U. S.

But Revolution Failed to Gain for Them Their Independence.

PEOPLE HELPED WASHINGTON

Supplied Ammunition With Which Continental Army Forced British to Evacuate Boston—Islands Discovered as Result of Shipwreck.

Washington, D. C.—The Bermuda Islands suggest the adventures of Robinson Crusoe in their colonization and present in their later chronology a curious parallel to United States history, with the events consistently predated by a number of years.

With this statement the National Geographic society prefaces a bulletin on the Bermudas, a principal group of the British West Indies, which some Englishmen suggest should be ceded to the United States in part payment of the American war loans to Great Britain.

"The Robinson Crusoe comparison intrudes because the islands were discovered and later settled as the direct result of shipwrecks, and the settlers had to build themselves a bark to set sail again," the bulletin continues.

"As for the anticipation of American history, on a miniature scale, it may be noted that the colonization took place seven years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, Mass.; that witches were burned, Quakers were persecuted and miscreants were ducked before similar occurrences are recorded in New England, and that slavery was abolished in 1834. The Bermudians protested long before 1776 against the mother country's rule, until the island prisons were over full, but relief came, in their case, not through a declaration of freedom but by the accession of Cromwell.

Helped to Start Revolution. "But the essential point of contact of the American with the Bermudian arises from the all-but-forgotten fact that while the immortal Lafayette gallantly helped the colonies conclude their war of independence, the Bermudians supplied the ammunition to begin it.

"So acute was the need for powder in 1775 that George Washington wrote to the governor of Rhode Island that 'no quantity of powder, however small, is beneath notice.' Learning that there was a store in Bermuda, and that the islanders were anxious to have the embargo lifted upon shipment of food supplies from the colonies, Washington addressed a letter to the people of the island, who had shown themselves sympathetic with the American Revolution, promising them ample supply of provisions and every other mark of affection and friendship which the grateful citizens of a free country can bestow upon its brethren and benefactors if they would make this ammunition available for the Continental army.

"It so happened that the powder had been procured before the letter was delivered, and with it the Continental army compelled the British to evacuate Boston.

A Winthrop Joined Tories. "Not only the sale of powder but the fact that Bermuda allowed the colonies to have salt, so incensed the governor of Bermuda that he upbraided the citizens for treason, and feeling ran so high that he was removed. His successor was a native of Salem, Mass., whose loyalty to the mother country was such that he gave up large estates in the colonies rather than join the revolutionists. He was connected, both by blood and by marriage, with the Winthrop family. Under his rule the island's full allegiance to England was restored.

Browse was succeeded by Henry Hamilton, during whose administration the town of Hamilton was founded and named for him. This town today is the seat of the island government. It has a population of less than 2,000.

Hamilton is on Main Island, of Bermuda, while St. George, the former capital, is on the island of the same name. There are more than 300 small islands in the Bermuda group, of which only a score are inhabited. The total population of the islands in 1916 was little over 20,000, of whom about one-third were white. Bermudians suffered during the war by the cessation of the American tourist patronage, which had doubled the entire island population in preceding seasons.

The Bermudians attracted visitors because of their mild climate, which knew no frosts, and by their scenic beauty.

Juan Bermudez, sailing from Spain to Cuba in 1515 with a cargo of hogs, discovered the islands when a storm blew him to their shores. Apparently he left some of the hogs there, for later visitors found the animals on the island. From him the islands were named, and thus originated the 'hog money' coins stamped with a hog on one side and a ship on the other, which still are preserved in various collections.

The islands were settled through the efforts of Sir George Somers, who became impressed with their fertility and beauty during a sojourn enforced by the wrecking of the ship which was conveying him to Virginia.

Christmas in the Barnyard

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"CHRISTMAS is coming," crowed Mr. Rouser. "Christmas is coming," gobbled Mr. Turkey. "Don't be too happy about it, for you may be eaten, Mr. Turkey," said Miss Hen. And then she clucked. "Christmas is coming."

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," said Mr. Turkey; "you needn't be so sure that you won't be eaten yourself."

"Well, it's the best time of the year to be eaten. It's an honor."

"That's what I've always said," gobbled Mr. Turkey. "Please, Miss Hen, try to be original."

"I may try to be many things," clucked Miss Hen, "but it is impossible for me to try to be original."

"Why?" asked Mr. Turkey, who was much puzzled.

"Because I don't know what it is to be original. I don't know what the word means. How can I be something if I don't even know what that something is? I can't try to be a thing I don't know anything about."

"You could ask what it means, couldn't you?" inquired Mr. Turkey. "Are you too proud for that?"

"Not too proud," said Miss Hen, "but I don't ask favors. I like to have them handed to me without the asking. It makes me appear so superior."

"Absurd," said Mr. Turkey.

"Well, if you think so then," said Miss Hen. "I suppose I will have to swallow my pride or my superiority and be friendly at this time of the year. Yes, I will actually ask you. What does it mean to be original?"

"I will tell you," said Mr. Turkey, "but first of all let me say that you cannot swallow your pride nor your superiority. Those are not things to eat."

"You may rise above your pride, but it is impossible to swallow it."

"Now, Mr. Turkey, I may be only a poor hen, but I know a few things. It's a saying and a perfectly good saying when I speak of swallowing my pride. Everyone knows no one means to chew it and swallow it actually. Besides, as far as that is concerned, I might say to you that it was not correct to talk about rising above your pride as though pride were the ground and one took a trip in an airplane above it."

"Let us not quarrel," said Mr. Turkey, "for the joyous Christmas season is fast approaching."

"Yes," muttered Miss Hen, "and I was fast approaching victory in that argument."

Mr. Turkey pretended he hadn't heard.

"Oh, by the way," he said, after a moment's pause, "you wanted me to tell you what it meant to be original."

"Yes," clucked Miss Hen, while a smile passed over her hen face.

"Well," continued Mr. Turkey, "when a creature is original and says original things it means he is saying things he has thought up himself and hasn't copied from someone else. A person who has original ideas all his own. A creature who says original things, says things no other creature says."

"You copied me when you said it was an honor to be eaten at Christmas. That was what I have always said."

"Don't be so fussy, Mr. Gobbler," said Miss Hen; "we can't all be original, as you call it. Besides words are words and we all have to use the same ones to be understood, so what difference does it make how we put them together?"

Mr. Turkey walked proudly about, as though some creatures really hadn't enough brains to bother talking to, but soon a great noise was heard.

The pigs were all squealing and grunting.

"It is the time of the year when everyone should give me presents," squealed Pinky Pig.

"Everyone should give me presents. That is what Christmas means," said Porky Pig.

"They should all give them to me," said Brother Bacon, "or you pigs don't know the spirit of Christmas giving."

"You don't know it yourself," said Miss Ham. "Christmas is coming. I'm all ready for presents."

MAKING THE CHRISTMAS LIST

Rack Your Brain, Count 'Em Again, to See That No One's Missed.

"There, of course, is Aunt Maria, Aunt Lizzie and Aunt Jane; they're pretty old, but have to go down on the list again; and Uncle Joe and Uncle Pete and good old Uncle Lem; I wish I really could decide just what I should give them. And Cousin Nell and Cousin Kate and Cousin Belle and Sue, and Cousin May and Cousin Madge must be remembered, too. And Cousin Sam and Cousin Bill, and Cousins Jack and Ned—I'm sure if I had any more I would go off my head.

"There's Grandma Smith and Grandpa Smith, Grandma and Grandpa Jones—what shall I get for folks who have rheumatics in their bones? There's pa and ma and Brother Hal, and Sisters Maud and Grace; before I get through I think I'll be in the crazy place. Now what can I give all the girls who always give to me? Gladys, Hannah and Hortense and Lulu—let me see, and Clementine and Rose and Pearl and half a dozen more—my gracious, I must make a trip through every shop and store.

And there is Frieda, housemaid girl, and Mary Ann, the cook—ere I forget I'll put their names right down now in my book. And, Oh! what shall I give to Will? Tee hee, what shall it be? I feel sure that a diamond ring he will present to me. He says he only wants a kiss, and maybe that is so, but how to hang it on a tree there is no way I know. A nice silk four-in-hand might do, with stripes of green and white; I know he wouldn't be like pa and say it was a fright.

"And now I think I'll go to bed and put aside my list; tomorrow I am sure to think of some one I have missed. I will be bankrupt when I buy the things from ties to muff—yes, Christmas comes but once a year, and gracious! that's enough."—Brooklyn Standard Union.

DECORATING FOR CHRISTMAS

Holly Wreaths Help to Make the Home Cheerful—How to Keep the Tree Bright and Green.

It is not Christmas without a big, gorgeous, glittering Christmas tree and plenty of greens hung wherever possible.

Of course you have your tree chosen and ready for its great purpose. When it's time or cutting; invite your boy and girl friends to help, and make the bringing in of the Christmas tree a real ceremony. In England this is one of the big events for young and old.

The kind of tree to be used depends upon where you live. Red cedar, white pine, spruce, fir or hemlock are all good. To keep the tree bright and green set it in a deep bucket or low barrel, brace and fill the space between the tree and bucket or barrel with coal. Then pour in water until the receptacle is full.

Every home should be decorated at Christmas. Gather holly for wreaths, make ropes of laurel, and have several bowls filled with partridge berries. Mistletoe is beautiful and can be found as a growth on the top of sweetgums, live oaks and other deciduous trees in the territory south of New Jersey, southern Indiana and Missouri, and in Oregon and northern California. Other fine plants for decorating are Christmas fern and polypody. Black alder and hlex or ink-berry can also be used. Every district has some special green that is adaptable for decorating. In gathering greens, never destroy the plants; cut and pick carefully and the growth will not be injured.

THE BIRDS' CHRISTMAS TREE.

To make a birds' Christmas tree, take an evergreen, if possible, but any kind of tree will do. Cut the sheaves of wheat, corn-stalks and evergreen branches all over it to make it dense. If it is a large tree, plant it securely in a partially protected place. A smaller tree can be put on the feeding shelf outside your window. Hang on it wire baskets filled with suet, boxes with fronts removed, containing nut meats, millet, sunflower-seeds, wheat, cracked corn, bread-crumbs, rolled oats, etc. Coconut shells cut in half and filled with dates that the birds love can also be hung from the branches. Have several shelves on which place apples, lettuce, cabbage and vegetables.

In all cold districts, bare at least one or two deep boxes almost filled with cotton where the half-frozen birds can find shelter and warmth. Many birds suffer from thirst during the winter. Heat a brick or large stone and place a pan of water on it.

The Real Christmas.

The real Christmas is an invisible presence, a joyful glance of the eye, a wonderful expansion of the heart, a sense of comradeship with all mankind. It is an abandonment of ourselves to all good impulses and an almost reckless waste of good feeling and generosity and love, and no army of pessimists can banish that kind of Christmas from our hearts.

Under the Holly Bough, Ye who have scorned each other, Or injured friend or brother, In this fast-fading year; Ye who, by word or deed, Have made a hind heart bleed, Come gather here!

Let wisdom against and sinning Forget their strife's beginning, And join in brotherhood now, Be kind to all around you, Be true to all who love you, And Christmas is your own.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. In Belgium.

Hunger, disease and exposure were not all that Belgian children were subjected to, for enemy shells constantly dropped into what little of their country, the invader did not hold. In this picture Red Cross nurses are seen taking some of the fifty babies from the American Red Cross nursery at La Panne into a bomb-proof structure as the Germans opened fire from the sea.

THE CHRIST CHILD

Across the snow the home lights glow
From the myriad hearts alight,
And through the street with noiseless feet
The Christ-child walks tonight.

At silent gates, outside He waits,
To find a fitting spot.
Be thine the shame, if through thy blame
The Christ-child enters not.

Where joyous notes from children's throats
The old glad song begin,
Where love impels and kindness dwells,
The Christ-child enters in.

Where hate has room, pride sits in gloom,
And wrong invokes unrest,
Though green the walls and bright the halls,
He cannot be a guest.

But where the thought that angels brought
To earth's enraptured ears
Good will to men and peace, again
The Christ-child, listening, hears.

He turns His feet with welcome sweet,
Enters, and there abides.
Angels know best how such are blest
Through all the Christnastides.

CHRISTMAS FACTS IN BRIEF

It is Celebrated a Christian Festival for Centuries—Holly Once a Sacred Plant.

Christmas day is the anniversary of the birth of Christ, and has been celebrated as a Christian festival for several centuries. The Christnastide lasts from the 25th of December to the 6th of January, the twelfth day after Christ's nativity.

The origin of the Christmas tree is obscure; the thought of Christ as the Light of the World and the Tree of Life may have given rise to the light-bearing tree, or the popular old belief that every Christmas eve, trees blossomed and bore fruit, may have been the foundation of the custom.

Gift-giving is, of course, the echo of the Wise Men's gifts; and mince pie, turkey and plum puddings are modern relics of the pagan feasts. Santa Claus, known to every child in every land in this old world is the personification of the spirit of loving and giving.

The holly, synonymous of Christmas, was a sacred plant, and the mistletoe a mysterious plant, supposed by the ancient Druids to have some mystic power of healing and preventing misfortune. It was never allowed to touch the ground, hence the modern superstition that it is unlucky for a mistletoe-bough to fall from its place. It was dedicated to the Goddess of Love, which explains the custom of kissing under the mistletoe.

TO TRIM A CHRISTMAS TREE

Pretty Trimmings and Decorations Can Be Made in Almost Any Home at Slight Expense.

AS to trimming the Christmas tree, first of all, don't trim your tree with cotton batting and lighted candles, as there is always danger in this combination, and "safety first" should be the slogan in all Christmas festivities.

You can purchase a whole lot of pretty decorations for your tree at the shops, and these come very cheaply, too. But almost any home can furnish the decorations for a really lovely tree without very much expense, and there is no reason why every family where there are children should not have their Christmas tree.

Strings of popcorn and red cranberries looped from the branches make an effective decoration. And strings of yellow field corn gleam beautifully in the Christmas light. Crescents, stars and hearts cut from heavy cardboard and covered with silver and gilt, or even colored paper, and cornucopias of bright colors filled with candy and popcorn are very pretty. Form cotton batting into balls the size of an orange and cover with orange-colored crepe paper, twist tightly and tie to the tree with a bit of narrow ribbon. These are pretty on the tree and look like oranges.

It is best to place all the larger packages under the tree, tying only the smaller gifts which are tied up in bright-colored paper to the branches. In this way the tree will not look frayed and denuded when the gifts are distributed, and it may be kept a long time for the children to enjoy.

USE OF EVERGREENS.

The use of evergreens at Christmas time is older than the Christmas tree, the Christians seeming to have copied it from their pagan ancestors. In a very old book we find this reference to the use of evergreens at Christmas time: "Against the feast of Christmas every man's house, as also their parish churches, were decked with holly, ivy, bayes, and whatsoever the season of the year afforded to be green. The conduits and standards of the streets were likewise garnished; among which I read that in the year 1414, by tempest of thunder and lightning, toward the morning of Candlemas day, at the Leadenhall, in Cornhill, a standard of tree, being set up in the midst of the pavement, fast in the ground, nailed full of holly and ivy, for disport of Christmas to the people, was torn up and cast down by the malignant spirit, (as was thought), and the stones of the pavement all about were cast in the streets and into divers houses, so that the people were sore agast at the great tempest."

HYMN FOR CHRISTMAS.

O! lovely voices of the sky
Which hymned the Savior's birth,
Are ye not singing still on high,
Ye that sang "Peace on earth?"
To us yet speak the strains
Wherewith in time gone by
Ye blessed the Syrian swains,
O! voices of the sky!

O! clear and shining light whose beams
That hour heaven's glory shed,
Around the palms and o'er the streams
And on the shepherd's head,
Go now, through life and death,
As in that holiest night
You came and lay and laid
Your love and shining light!

PRETTY LEGEND OF CHRIST

Old-Folk Tale Relates That Stars Danced and Birds Sang on Day of His Birth.

When the child of Nazareth was born the sun, according to the Bosnian legend, "leaped in the heavens and the stars around it danced. A peace came over mountain and forest. Even the rotten stump stood straight and healthy on the green hillside. The grass was bewitched with open blossoms, incense sweet as myrrh pervaded upland and forest, birds sang on the mountain top and all gave thanks to the great God."

It is naught but an old-folk tale, but it has truth hidden at its heart, for a strange, subtle force, a spirit of genial good will, a new-born kindness, seem to animate child and man alike when the world pays its tribute to the "heaven-sent youngling," as the poet, Drummond, calls the infant Christ.

When the three wise men rode from the east into the west on their saddle-horns were three caskets filled with gold and frankincense and myrrh, to be laid at the feet of the manger-cradled babe of Bethlehem. Beginning with this old, old journey the spirit of giving crept into the world's heart. As the magi came bearing gifts, so do we also; gifts that relieve want, gifts that are sweet and fragrant with friendship, gifts that breathe love, gifts that mean service, gifts inspired still by the star that shone over the City of David 2,000 years ago.

Then hang the green coronet of the Christmas tree with glittering baubles and jewels of flames; heap offerings on its emerald branches; bring Yule logs to the firing; deck the house with holly and mistletoe.
"And all the bells on earth shall ring
On Christmas day in the morning."
—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

A Rather Vague Order.

A Wisconsin boy wrote to Santa Claus as follows: "I would like a air rifle, a pair of Indio-ploves a mouth organ a christmas tree and some candy and nuts that is all a game of checkers for." It's a little vague, but we hope Santa will be able to fill the order.
