League Milk for December.
League milk for the month of December has been sold for $3.68 per hundred pounds or at the rate of 7.8 cents per quart. This is the basic price for milk containing 3 percent butterfat at 200 miles from New York. The actual price to farmers will be slightly less than the basic price further than the 200 miles and slightly more than the basic price to the producers nearer than the 200 miles from New York, the variation depending on the freight rate.
At the same time when the December milk was sold the Dairymen's League and the dealers agreed upon a general price plan for selling League milk for each month until March 31, 1920. This plan is the same that has been used since last April with several modifications which will result in better winter prices to the farmer.

Victim of Typhoid Fever.
Typhoid fever and complications caused the death Saturday night of Mrs. Minnie Bowker Branch, 47, wife of Earl Branch, at her home in Dresserville. She had been ill two weeks. She is survived by her husband and four daughters, two sisters, Mrs. Otis Searles of Dresserville and Mrs. Lydia Miles of New York City, and four brothers, Frank Bowker of Auburn, Charles of Homer, Horace and Joseph of Groton.

Four Die in Fire.
Harold Hess, 21 years old, his wife Dorothy, 20 years old, and their two infant children were burned to death Sunday, Nov. 16, in a fire at their home in Endicott. Another couple, who occupied rooms in the building, were severely burned.
The youthful Hess couple and their little children lived in a two-room apartment on the second floor of the building, their only means of exit being a frail wooden stairway, which burned quickly.

Another Store Looted.
The jewelry store of Harold S. Neideck, at 223 North Aurora St., Ithaca, was broken into some time Sunday night and valuable goods and tools estimated at about $1,200 stolen, according to the story which the proprietor of the shop told the police.
The robbers entered the store, which is in a double building, through the shop of Hile & Daniels, from which establishment they also stole some articles including sets of paint brushes.
Mr. Neideck had most of his stock in a safe which was not touched by the robbers, who cleaned out the show cases, a board on which were many second hand watches belonging to the owner of the store, and the tool cases of the jeweler.
The handiwork displayed in the Neideck shop resembles the earmarks of the Trea jewelry store robbery of a recent date, which was also a Sunday night affair.

Smallpox Quarantine.
Over 4,000 cases of smallpox have recently occurred in the province of Ontario, and four cases have been found in Buffalo, according to New York State Department of Health officials, who have investigated conditions at the border under instructions from Dr. Herman M. Biggs, State Commissioner of Health.
In response to a telegram from Surgeon General Blue of the U. S. Public Health Service to Commissioner Biggs, requesting advice as to the necessity for establishing a quarantine at the border, the Commissioner replied that conditions warrant such action. A quarantine is to be established immediately at all bridges and ferries leading into the United States from the infected territory and all persons who cannot give proof of recent vaccination or of having had the disease will be turned back.

To Eliminate Curve.
The Public Service Commission has approved the plan prepared some time ago for the straightening of the tunnel near Camillus, which has frequently been called a "death trap." As the road now is, it passes through the tunnel after a sharp turn has been made in the state highway, and many fatal accidents have occurred at this point. When the new plan has been made effective this sharp turn will have been eliminated and the heavy buttresses of the bridge over the tunnel no longer conceal the roadway.

INSCRIBED ON GOLDEN BOOK

Deed of Self-Sacrifice Not Recorded on Earth, but it Will Be Found Elsewhere.

A British sergeant major, in addressing the recruits at a training station, spoke of the soldierly duties that they would be called upon to perform, and concluded by saying: "Be proud of your regiment. It's your home for the war. So stick to it and stick to your comrades. I never tire of telling recruits a story of two men of our Second battalion in the Dardanelles expedition. A blizzard and a washout swept away a lot of our chaps. The two I am talking about struggled on and found some sort of shelter, and there they sat down to rest. The younger could have got away and come to camp, but he wouldn't leave his pal alone in the storm and darkness and snow.

"The next morning they were found together, asleep for good—frozen stiff. The younger had his arms round his pal. He held a bit of broken biscuit in each hand and there were biscuit crumbs frozen into the mustache of the older man.

"That's the whole story. I don't know what their regimental numbers and names were, but there's a Book where their names are put down all right and forever."—New York Sun.

You will want to have all the news from our troops on European battlefields, and 1919 promises to be the most momentous year in the history of our universe. No other newspaper at so small a price will furnish such prompt and accurate news of these world-shaking events. It is not necessary to any more. THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Genoa Tribune together for one year for $2.25. THIS IS THE RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS GIRL

BEVERLY HAYES

Beverly Hayes says: "Buy Red Cross Christmas Seals. They protect little children from the ravages of tuberculosis. They build a barrier of health about the workers of the nation. They protect homes—your home. They spell hope, assurance and physical and economic rehabilitation to more than one million people in the United States who have tuberculosis. If you purchase enough Red Cross Christmas Seals, the death rate of this dread plague will be materially reduced.

"Last year 150,000 people fell victims of the disease. Twelve thousand of these were little children. Think of it! This death toll is needless. If we all do our part in the sale this year, next year's death rate will be smaller. It will be reduced year by year until eventually tuberculosis has passed into the oblivion which has already engulfed smallpox, leprosy and typhoid fever."

RED CROSS SEALS ARE HEALTH AGENTS

Idea Was Originated in This Country in 1908 by Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Del.

FIRST SALE YIELDED $3,000

National Tuberculosis Association, Which Sponsors Sale, Will Place 650,000,000 Seals on Sale to Finance the Fight Against Tuberculosis.

The Red Cross Seal—as millions of Americans know it to day, is an agent of happiness and health. It was originated in 1907 by Miss Emily P. Bissell, of Wilmington, Delaware, who learned through Jacob Riis of somewhat similar seals that were sold in Norway for the purpose of raising funds with which to fight tuberculosis.

Miss Bissell persuaded the American Red Cross to take up the idea with the result that seals were sold in a limited number of communities in 1908. The sale yielded a revenue of approximately $3,000. The Red Cross then decided to issue the seals each year and to turn the proceeds over to the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies for the purpose of financing the campaign against tuberculosis. The number of seals sold in America increased by leaps and bounds until in 1917 the total reached 180,000,000.

This year the seals are again on sale beginning December 1. More than half a billion seals have been printed for distribution to state and local agents. In addition to the seals "Health Bonds" in denominations ranging from $5.00 to $100.00 are to be sold in lieu of seals to large contributors, who do not send out a sufficient quantity of mail in December to make use of all the seals they would like to purchase. The combined quotas of all the state organizations call for more than $5,500,000 to carry out the intensive educational campaign being conducted by the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,000 affiliated societies.

The intensive sale of these seals represents a practical demonstration of every lesson that has been learned regarding scientific distribution. Experts of the highest standing in sales management have co-operated to the extent of assuring those interested that every resident of the United States will have an opportunity to buy Red Cross Christmas Seals.

WORKERS NEEDED TO FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

National Tuberculosis Association, Which Sponsors Red Cross Seal Sale, is Conducting Intensive Educational Campaign.

A call for volunteers to fight under the standard of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1000 affiliated bodies throughout the country against tuberculosis—humanity's most vicious foe—has been sounded.

A recent health survey, made by the experts of the National Tuberculosis Association, brought to light some startling statistics with regard to the prevalence of the disease. The findings of this survey have revealed a national menace, which must be eradicated. The figures show that each year 150,000 persons die of the disease and that there are approximately 2,000,000 cases of tuberculosis in the United States today.

The untaught consumptive—one who does not know the rules of health, is an indefatigable spreader of the disease. Wherever he goes, he leaves behind him a trail of the deadly germs.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies have entered upon an intensive nationwide educational campaign. The campaign will be localized and within a short time there will be ample work for many thousands of volunteers.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies are financed largely by the annual sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals. To make possible the carrying out of this campaign, more than 650,000,000 seals will be offered for sale during the holidays. State and local tuberculosis associations have at hand valuable local data regarding the disease and actual conditions in the communities where they are located. The officers of these bodies eagerly welcome inquiries.

DOUBLE BARRED CROSS ADOPTED 17 YEARS AGO

The double barred Red Cross is seventeen years old this month. In October, 1902, the International Anti-Tuberculosis Association, then meeting in Berlin, adopted the cross as the emblem of the world-wide fight against tuberculosis. It was proposed by Dr. G. Sersiron, of Paris. It is a combination of the Croix de Lorraine and the cross of the Greek Catholic church. Both crosses are symbolic of charity and help to humanity. Their combined features were selected and adopted as the symbol of the hope of civilization. Four years later, in 1906 the double barred Red Cross was carried into this country. It was in 1906 the National Tuberculosis Association was formed, and for the three intervening years the cross has been carried over the United States by the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated bodies, which now number one thousand.

The work of these organizations is financed chiefly by the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale.

INVENTOR OF "BIG BERTHA" IS INSANE

Ghosts of Victims of Huge Gun Have Unseated His Reason.

SUCCESS BRINGS REMORSE

Men Whose Minds Failed to Stand Up Under Strain and Horrors of War His Only Companions.

Berlin.—The inventor of the "Big Bertha," which first shelled Paris on March 23, 1918, from a distance of nearly 80 miles, now is an inmate of the German state asylum in Andernach. Men whose minds failed to stand up under the strain and horrors of war are his only companions.

The inventor does not associate with the other inmates. At rare intervals he speaks with the doctors or nurses in the hospital, but then only a few words. But, once when an American soldier entered, the German's face lighted up like that of a child with a new toy. To the astonishment of the hospital attendants he at once approached the visitor and began to converse with him in English.

As he talked his interest in the young American seemed almost pathetic. He asked of America, America's part in the war, what America expected to do with Germany, and particularly was anxious to learn what America thought of the German air raids during the war and the bombardment of Paris by the "Big Bertha."

Tells Story of Life. Then, as if afraid that the young soldier from overseas was about to sentence him to some horrible punishment, he suddenly began to tell the story of his own life.

As a young man he had studied at the greatest universities in Germany. Chemistry and mechanics had been his favorite subjects, and in these he showed great aptitude. As was natural in Germany at that time, his researches soon took him into the field of perfecting weapons of war. His work in this line attracted the attention of his government. They gave him every opportunity for study. He was sent to England, America and France. In those places he studied at close range the guns used by the armies, the chemical composition of explosives and the methods of manufacturing great shells. When he returned to Germany he was given stock in the Krupp works, at Essen. Profiting by his studies and what he had learned in other lands, this man set about to develop what would eventually be the mightiest cannon in the world.

Then came August, 1914, and the war. According to the inventor, his efforts were rewarded. The big guns, which destroyed the forts of Belgium, were not sufficient. For years, the inventor said, he had dreamed and planned a weapon that would reach Paris, and when the war came he, together with the greatest scientist of Germany, began working upon the cannon.

Success Brought Only Remorse.

In the spring of 1918, the inventor said, they believed their plan had been accomplished. The great gun was finished and moved to a spot in the lines from which its shells could reach Paris. Finally came the day when it was fired on Paris for the first time. Apparently it was a success. For a few days all Germany celebrated, the inventor said. "For him, however, this joy was short-lived. Hardly had the celebration ended when the shells seemed to take on a new lease on life. Instead of discouraging them, the great gun appeared to have driven them to greater efforts.

"Then came the stories of the sufferings caused by the gun," the inventor said. "Instead of killing soldiers, they had murdered women and children. My nights became sleepless. When I did drop into a doze my dreams were terrible. I became sick with the thoughts of my work. I lost weight. I could not face my family, and the sight of women and children on the street made me faint. Then something snapped."

Sucks Poison From Snake Bite.

Colome, N. D.—Heroic action of his mother in sucking poison injected from the fangs of a rattlesnake from his leg, saved the life of Gaylord Townsend, seven years old, of Mellette county. The boy was walking with his parents across the prairie near their home, when the snake, which had been concealed in a cluster of weeds, struck him as he passed. A friend of the family lanced the wound causing it to bleed freely, after which Mrs. Townsend sucked out the poison. The fangs of the snake struck the boy twice above the ankle.

Eight Shots to Kill Mad Dog.

Topeka, Kan.—"A dog-goned hard job!" exclaimed Detective Harvey Williams as he retreated from a supposed "mad dog" after having emptied his revolver at the animal. "Some dog to kill," he declared.

Then Hiram Starn, who lived nearby, arrived on the scene with a revolver and a bit. He fired three shots at the dog and finished the job with the bit.

Death of E. D. Cheesman.

Report of the death Saturday last, of E. Delos Cheesman, a well known and highly respected resident of this town, was shocking news to residents of the community where he had lived his entire life, and the many friends of the family. Mr. Cheesman had been in ill health for some time, but refused to consult a physician. On Saturday afternoon, he was found dead in a building in the rear of his home near Belltown, having ended his life by drinking carbolic acid. Dr. J. W. Gard, health officer of the town, was called and investigated the case, which was plainly one of suicide, the cause being the man's unbalanced mental condition.

The deceased was born at the farm where he died, June 1, 1854, and was a son of the late Garrison and Maria Davis Cheesman. He was married to Miss Eva Andrews of Genoa on Jan. 15, 1884. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Stoughton, who resides at the Cheesman home. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Frances Buxton of Indianola, Iowa, and a brother, George Cheesman, of Auburn.

Funeral services were largely attended at the family home on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Glenn Brewster, pastor of Belltown church of which Mr. Cheesman was a member, officiated, assisted by Rev. C. L. V. Haynes, a former pastor. Mrs. Streeter of Ledyard sang. Burial was made in King Ferry cemetery. Relatives were present from New York, Syracuse, Auburn, Ithaca, Dryden and Genoa.

Auditorium Attraction.

The attraction at the Auditorium, Saturday night, will be the beautiful Hawaiian drama "The Bird of Paradise." The name of its producer, Oliver Morasco, is enough to guarantee its quality. It is a big scenic production with an excellent cast of players and a real Hawaiian atmosphere. Among the big spectacular scenes is the realistic and awe-inspiring volcano scene in the last act showing Mt. Pele in full eruption. Owing to the fact that this play follows so closely after the big Thanksgiving attraction, Manager Hennessy has made a special scale of prices entirely eliminating the $2.00 price charged in other cities. Seats are now on sale. There will be no matinee Saturday.

A Wholesome Sport.

In some sections of the state the boys and girls are skating already. When it comes to good, clean, wholesome and invigorating sport there is nothing that can beat it. It is good for the mind as well as the muscle and the chances are that if we would do more skating and less cabereting we would be better off morally and physically. Skating, like many of the other wholesome pleasures that used to be popular, fell off somewhat, but the outlook for a return is bright.

According to recent reports, lamb chops are the most popular form of meat served in New York City hotels.

M G. SHAPERO SAYS

I am very thankful aside of all other things, for the liberal patronage of my friends and patrons since I opened my store at 34 North St., Auburn. My customers have surely listened to my request, urging them to do their purchasing early and they surely have admitted that they have saved money on their purchasing as the honest facts are that my present retail prices are what I would have to pay if I would have to buy them to-day and I still urge the rest of my customers who have not as yet bought their winter clothing not to delay in doing so, while my present stock and prices last. My stock at the present time is complete in every department; some goods I cannot duplicate at all. I will be very pleased to see all my friends and customers and I will surely give them the best possible prices.

THIS WAS ONCE A CHURCH;
IT'S NOW A MONUMENT

Here's all that's left of a little village church at Cully, Meuse, France, one of many that had the misfortune to lie across the path of the enemy. A row of eight crosses in the foreground mark the graves of American doughboys who helped to return this town unfettered to France and freedom. War Savings Stamps will help you to financial freedom.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

In Italy.

Arriving at one of the most critical stages of the war, when the Teutons were forcing the Italian army back to the Piave, the American Red Cross rushed emergency relief from Paris and revived the drooping spirits of the whole country. In addition to furnishing rations and comforts and medical attention to the fighting men, the American Red Cross instituted 42 soup kitchens, 28 children's hospitals, 10 children's dispensaries, 14 artificial limb hospitals, five homes for refugee children, 10 rest stations for refugees. This photograph shows a group of Italian refugee children being fed by American Red Cross at one of the numerous relief stations.

MARKS SPOT OF YANKS' LANDING

WALLACE PRAISES FRENCH

President Poincare Urges Both Nations to Guard Against Estrangement—Lafayette Sailed for America From Same Port.

Pointe de Grave, France.—France paid lasting tribute to American active entry into the great war by laying the cornerstone of a monument here commemorating the landing on the spot of the first contingent of American troops in 1917. Speeches by President Poincare and Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador, were the features of the exercises, appropriately held on the birthday of Lafayette, who sailed for America from this same port in 1777.

The scene was a brilliant one, numerous detachments of French and American soldiers, sailors and marines assembled among the sandy dunes of the Pointe giving color to the picture. The guard of honor, for instance, was composed of United States marines, many of whom were veterans of the fighting on the Marne in 1918.

Distinguished Gathering.

In addition to Premier Clemenceau, Marshal Foch and other distinguished Frenchmen, numbers of prominent Americans assisted in the ceremony, among them Frank L. Polk, under secretary of state; Gen. Tasker H. Bliss and Brig. Gen. W. D. Connor, now commander of the American forces in France. The French representation included also Marquis de Chambrun, a descendant of Lafayette and a member of the Joffre mission to the United States in 1917; Andre Tardieu and Deputy Maurice Damour, chairman of the committee in charge of the exercises. A band from the U. S. S. Carola played.

A crowd of some 3,000 witnessed the ceremony.

President Poincare in his speech called to America to continue that close relationship which caused the United States to come to the aid of France.

"In the plains of Picardy, Lorraine and Champagne by the side of 1,400,000 whom the war has mown down," said he, "sleep your Americans whose mothers do not know their tombs. They all sacrificed to the same ideal the French died for."

"Let us bend down over these tombs and listen. It is the same voice which everywhere arises from the depths of the earth. 'We have suffered,' they say, 'in order that the world should become free.' To you now falls the duty to watch that never again may leap up this danger which we have removed. Do not allow France and America to estrange themselves one from the other. Do not draw apart these hands which are now joined. Be on your guard that there shall never be kept between you misunderstandings which sooner or later might be transformed into disagreements."

"Tomorrow no more than yesterday can you dispense with each other. Separated you will quickly be exposed to the offensive return of violence. Side by side the peoples who have won the war will be strong enough to make such war impossible."

Praises Spirit of France.
American Ambassador Wallace said the monument would be to "victory and liberty."

The speaker praised the spirit of France and said that while "many and great are the glories of France there is none that compares with the glory of the Marne."

Ambassador Wallace, after having dwelt upon the part Lafayette had played in the Revolutionary war, said the United States was proud to have had the opportunity to cross the ocean in this case, and that General Pershing had the honor of serving under Marshal Foch. The ambassador said he also considered it a great honor to himself that the opportunity was given him to affirm what was the due of France, which, he declared, must come out of the war with added strength and prestige, as otherwise victory would have been won in vain.

This Poker Player Was Thoroughly Cleaned Out

Cohalt, Kan.—So completely cleaned out was Jess Paul Asselin after a poker game on Third St. here that when he came to E. L. O'Gorman, J. P., to swear out a warrant against a fellow player whom he suspected of stealing his roll, he could not produce the dollar fee demanded. He had to borrow ten cents from Chief of Police Bonville to make up the required sum. Asselin charges that $190 disappeared during his temporary absence from the scene of operations, and he swore a warrant for the arrest of Sam Borlich, known to the police as "Minnesota," accusing him of stealing the money.
