American Farms Will Yield $9,000,000,000 Value Based on Government Statistics

American farms will this year contribute $8,938,922,000 to the world's wealth from a yield of 5,713,000,000 bushels of corn, wheat, oats, barley and rye. The value of the corn is $4,768,475,000, wheat $2,577,420,000, oats $994,727,000, barley $354,100,000 and rye $144,800,000. These values are based on the government statistics presenting farm prices of July 1.

According to the department of agriculture there is a promise of 2,815,000,000 bushels in corn in reports received up to July 1, while small grains will approximate $2,898,000,000 bushels when the harvest is completed. Compared with the figures supplied for the previous month this is a loss of 123,000,000 bushels, of which 75,000,000 bushels is wheat and 48,000,000 bushels oats.

The corn crop is attracting more attention than wheat, and shows unusual promise. The area is 102,799,000 acres, compared with 113,835,000 acres as given in July a year ago, and the revised acreage 107,494,000 in December. The total crop is 232,000,000 bushels more than harvested last year. If present condition is maintained to harvest the crop would be around 3,250,000,000 bushels, which would set a new record.

A crop of 103,000,000 bushels rye, although cut down 4,000,000 bushels by blight, rust and drought, is a record one, and 14,000,000 bushels above last year's high mark.

Barley is somewhat of a disappointment with 231,000,000 bushels, compared with 256,000,000 bushels last year. The hay crop of 116,000,000 tons is 26,000,000 tons over last year's.

A wheat crop of 1,161,000,000 bushels is 75,000,000 bushels short of the previous month's returns, but is a record yield. The losses were due to rust and other unfavorable conditions which have made the crop a great disappointment from the early promise. The loss in winter wheat was 54,000,000 bushels, and in spring 21,000,000 bushels. The winter wheat yield will exceed all records, but the spring wheat is short, and is greatly below expectations.

Prospective yields as of July 1, compared with a year ago, and farm prices follow, yields being in millions of bushels and prices in cents:

	1919.	1918.	Price.
Winter wheat.....	839	558
Spring wheat.....	322	359

Farm reserves of wheat on July 1 were 19,644,000 bushels, compared with 8,063,000 bushels last year and a five-year average of 37,413,000 bushels. Supplies in all positions are 57,539,000 bushels compared with 22,372,000 bushels last year. This represents a carry-over into the new crop of below the average.

Who Won the War?

Pres. Wilson Says America Did. Gen. Haig Says Britain Did.

Who won the war? This is one of the questions that the peace conference failed to answer.

President Wilson gave the American answer in a speech on board the George Washington July 4.

Field Marshal Haig gave the British answer in an address in Newcastle.

President Wilson said: "Then America went in, and if it had not been for America the war would not have been won. My heart swells with pride that I cannot express when I think of the men who crossed the seas from America to fight on those battlefields."

General Haig said: "Don't forget it was the British empire that won this war. We talked a great deal about our allies. It was necessary and right that we should do so to buck them up all we could while the fighting was going on, but don't forget it was the British empire that won this war."

Ancient Chinese Poetry as "Written Pictures"

Several translations of sixteenth, eighteenth and nineteenth century Chinese poems, which have just been printed in an American magazine of verse, will strike many casual readers as being very much like occidental vers libre; and it is also noticeable that these poems, widely apart in time, are very near together in feeling and technical manner. The Chinese poet, in fact, seems to have anticipated by several centuries the "latest thing" in Western verse expression. And perhaps this is really the case. The Chinese term for such poems is, literally translated, "written pictures," which will also seem to many modern readers a good working definition for vers libre.—Christian Science Monitor.

Fighting Heart of Jack Dempsey is an Heirloom From the Days of Feuds

Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, although born in Manassa, Col., sprang from the purest type of West Virginia mountaineer stock. The champion's grandfather, Ance Dempsey, was a pioneer settler of Logan county.

The report widely circulated, that Dempsey was born near Williamson, W. Va. is incorrect. It is slightly over a quarter of a century since H. I. Dempsey and the mother of the new champion left their old home there.

Jack was born about a year after his parents arrived in the West.

The old Dempsey homestead in the mountains is located only a short distance from the abode of "Devil" Ance Hatfield, who gained widespread notoriety during the Hatfield-McCoy feud.

Although there are still many close relatives of the Dempsey family residing in that vicinity, the present champion has never visited them.

Both Dempsey's father and grandfather were farmers and woodsmen and are remembered by old residents there as fearless mountaineers who stood high in a community where courage was demanded of all.

At the present time there are two uncles and several cousins of the champion residing in Mingo county.

WILSON INVADING HOUSE OF FOES

CARRIES HIS BATTLE FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS INTO HOME OF HIS ENEMIES.

GIVES COST OF GREAT WAR

Informers Them of Lives and Treasure Poured Out to Save Civilization.

(By Mt. Clemens News Bureau)

Aboard President Wilson's Special train—Carrying his war against those who oppose the adoption by the United States of the peace treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations in to their households, President Wilson last week invaded California.

And there, where the question on which league opponents have hampered the hardest, that of Shan Tung—is of most interest, the president found the same enthusiasm among the people for peace and for insurance against future wars. The people want the long controversy ended. They want this country to be able to again turn its undivided attention to social, economic and industrial development. Their leaders may not feel this way, but judging from the expressions which met the president on every side. The leaders have overstepped the limits of the peoples' patience in their stubborn determination to force a change in the great document.

Must Take This League.

"We must take this League of Nations," said the president, "for there is no way in which another can be obtained without compelling reconsideration by the powers. And it would sit very ill upon my stomach to take it back to Germany for consideration."

"All over the world people are looking to us with confidence our rivals along with the weaker nations. I pray God that the gentlemen who are delaying this thing may presently see it in a different light."

Germany, the president declared, is taking new courage from our delay in ratifying the treaty and her newspapers and public men were again becoming arrogantly outspoken.

Deeply impressive were the figures of the cost of the late war, in lives and dollars. It was the first time that the official statistics have been made public and the tremendous totals shocked the president's audiences.

Shows Cost of World War.

"The war," said President Wilson, cost Great Britain and her Dominions $38,000,000,000; France $26,000,000,000; the United States $22,000,000,000; Russia $18,000,000,000; Italy $13,000,000,000 and a total, including the expenditures of Japan, Belgium and other small countries, of $123,000,000,000.

"It cost the Central Powers as follows: Germany $39,000,000,000; Austria-Hungary, $21,000,000,000; Turkey and Bulgaria $3,000,000,000.

"The United States," the president said, "spent one million dollars an hour night and day for two years in its struggle to save civilization. All this, however, pales into insignificance when the deaths by battle are considered," declared the president. Russia gave 1,700,000 men; Germany 1,600,000; France 1,350,000; Great Britain 900,000; Italy 850,000; the United States 50,000. In all, almost 7,500,000 men perished in the great struggle, or 1,500,000 more men than died in all of the wars of the previous 100 years.

Should Remember Recent Horrors.

"These are terrible facts, and we ought never to forget them. We went into this war to do a thing that was fundamental for the world and what I have come out on this journey for is to determine whether the country has forgotten or not. I have found out. The country has not forgotten and it will never permit any who stands in the way of the fulfillment of our great pledges, ever to forget the sorrowful day he made the attempt."

Arbitration and discussion, the president pointed out, must replace force of arms in the settlement of world controversies. Constantly he dwells upon the fact that all the nations in the League agree to do one of two things, first to submit their differences to arbitration, in which case they agree to abide by the decision rendered, or, if unwilling to arbitrate, to have their case discussed by the Council of the League, in which case six months is granted for discussion. Three months must elapse following the result of this last step in arbitration before the nation concerned can declare war.

Holds Out Hope for Ireland.

The president took advantage of questions propounded by the San Francisco Labor Council to give the inference that he believes Ireland can bring her case before the League of Nations for settlement when the League is actually in existence.

Shan Tung, he declared, will be returned to China. Japan, he said, had given her solemn pledge to that effect. And with the League of Nations in force, said the president, we can, if occasion arises, stand forth and say, "This shall be done."

NAVAL BOATS DO PERILOUS WORK

Yanks Are Clearing Mine Field 200 Miles Long and 45 Miles Wide.

MAKE NORTH SEA SAFE AGAIN

Task Almost as Dangerous and, From Viewpoint of Shipping, as Important as Hunting Submarines.

London.—Eighty United States navy mine sweepers are busy in the North sea at a job almost as dangerous and, from the viewpoint of shipping, quite as important, as hunting submarines.

They are clearing away the largest mine barrage in the world. This barrage, nearly 80 per cent American-made and American-laid mines, is about 200 miles long and 45 miles wide. It closes the North sea from Scotland to Norway.

The task has already resulted in a casualty toll of four vessels damaged, one officer killed and others wounded. The U. S. S. Bobolink, the first victim, had her stern blown in by an exploding mine. Lieutenant Bruce was killed. Several other officers and men, knocked overboard, were rescued. The U. S. S. Patuxent was badly damaged about the stern and the U. S. S. Ball slightly damaged. All were of about 1,000 tons. The fourth was a smaller boat.

Captain Sexton, United States naval chief of staff in England, said the Americans are getting "her" to the undertaking and overcoming many of its difficulties.

Thus far the fleet has covered an area containing 4,000 mines. Of these 45 per cent have been accounted for. Where the remaining 95 per cent are nobody knows, Captain Sexton estimated the mine hunt would keep the sweepers busy until October or November. It involves a personnel of about 2,500.

When the word was first mounded around through the ranks that American gobs were going to pick up the mines they helped to lay a short time before, the general opinion was that it would be one of the most thrilling jobs yet. And no one has been disappointed. Equipped with maps showing approximately where every mine was dropped, the flotilla started out in twos, each pair dragging a cable between them.

Mines Sown in Strings.

The mines, the map said, were sewn in strings. All the sweepers had to do was to straddle the line, pass from one end to the other, and the cable, between them, would do the rest.

Of course, the particular mine in question wouldn't be the only one to go off. The concussion would always set off others immediately adjoining, and probably still others adjoining these. These two exigencies were provided for on the map under the titles "zone of extreme danger," "zone of possible danger," and beyond that "zone of safety." In addition, there would be a few other mines free-lancing around in all three zones.

The first few days were rather disastrous. Captain Sexton and his staff in London began to dread opening the morning's dispatches. Gradually, with Yankee resourcefulness, the Americans seemed to be getting on top of the job, until now Captain Sexton is confident they are going to clean up the assignment with minimum losses.

MAN DIES FROM BITE OF CAT

Aged Pennsylvania Farmer Takes Pasture Treatment, but Hydrophobia Comes.

Pittsburgh.—Although he had received the Pasteur treatment in Mercy hospital here, Levi Kurtz, aged seventy-one, a farmer of Enon Valley, died of hydrophobia in Providence Hospital, Beaver Falls, from the bite of a cat which clung to him so tenaciously that it had to be hacked to death to release the farmer's hand.

Hearing a commotion in his chicken coop several weeks ago, Kurtz investigated and found a cat chasing the chickens. As he tried to seize the animal it turned on him and sank its teeth deep in the flesh of his left hand. The farmer struck the cat with his free hand, but was unable to dislodge it. Neighbors responded to a call for help, but they failed to force the animal's jaws apart until one man severed its head with an axe.

Kurtz, fearing hydrophobia, came here and remained two weeks, taking the Pasteur treatment. He was discharged, supposedly immune, at the end of that time.

WHY Men of Knowledge Deride "Short Cuts"

"Short cuts! Short cuts to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," comments the Journal of the American Medical Association on the contents of a certain "health fad" magazine. It continues: "Short cuts to health, of course, predominate. "One learns that he may cure himself of almost anything from soft corns to cirrhosis of the liver by means of the various 'internal baths' so plausibly presented by numerous gentlemen who wish to relieve humanity of surplus cash. You can be made a '100 per cent man' by at least six different methods of physical training, each of which is unique and entirely different from its five worthless competitors. "Are your eyes weak? There is a short cut cure for them! Are you deaf? There is a short cut to perfect hearing! Are you ruptured? There is a short cut hernia cure! Do you crave large busts? Presto, change! You may have them." Among the other short cuts cited are a method of learning shorthand in seven days, one of gaining a "thorough knowledge of law in your spare time"; others are to "increase your will power in one hour"; to learn in one evening "the secret of being a convincing talker"; to learn to play the piano in a quarter the usual time at a quarter the usual cost. "Verily, we live in an age of quackery," comments the editor. "And all the quacks are not in the medical profession." It is wise to remember that there are no short cuts to health, no short cuts to learning. You cannot become a Paderevski except by years of laborious practice; you cannot learn the Morse telegraph code in five minutes; Rome was not built in a day.

ROMANTIC STORY OF AMBER

Why Lithuanians Are Convinced 'the Sea Has Been Known to Give Up Its Dead.

Originally the earth was a white-hot mass of gaseous vapor. That was too long ago for even the oldest inhabitants to remember, because the heat was so intense that there was no such thing as an inhabitant on the earth. The only way we know it is by seeing other planets so young that they are still nothing but unbelievably hot gas. After a while the earth cooled off a bit. Instead of gas, it was a solid mass, but white-hot still—then red-hot—then cool enough to allow some primitive form of vegetable life. Before long, in about a million years or so, the earth became cool enough to have a flourishing vegetable garden on its surface. Some parts of the earth continued to develop until Adam and Eve came on the scene. Lithuania; the new Baltic republic, had just about reached the Adam-and-Eve stage when it got drowned out of sight. The whole country literally disappeared. It was covered by the sea. There is a common belief that the sea never gives up its dead. It isn't true. Any Lithuanian will tell you so. For the sea not only withdrew, but in withdrawing it left Lithuania a gift without price. Amber it was, that glowing golden jewel of delight. The Baltic coast of Lithuania, in fact, is the only place in the world where maldy can get the amber which goes into the beautiful necklace she covets so much.

Why Country Should Get Busy.

Millions and miles are the only terms big enough to measure America's exports to Europe now. Bathubs come into the mileage class with 1,183 tubs—about two miles of 'em. Then there are the ten miles of fly paper and more than a thousand miles of movie film which have gone across in the last five months. But chewing gum is at the head of the class, for if the sticks we exported since the armistice were placed end to end they would reach from here to Paris, some 3,500 miles, and approximately 735,000,000 chews. This is just a beginning of our reconstruction by the mile, for Europe wants American goods, and in the language of the doughboy, she wants them "the tooter the sweeter."—Adelaide Lyons in World Outlook.

How Rubber Industry Grows.

The process of turning the milk-like sap of the rubber trees into the hard material familiar to every one is a lengthy one, but as an industry it is growing every year. In the calendar year 1918, for instance, the United States Rubber company sold more than $215,398,425 worth of rubber and rubber products, surpassing its sales of the preceding year by more than $30,000,000, according to the annual report which has just been made public, which gives some idea of what the "rubber industry" really means in the world of trade.

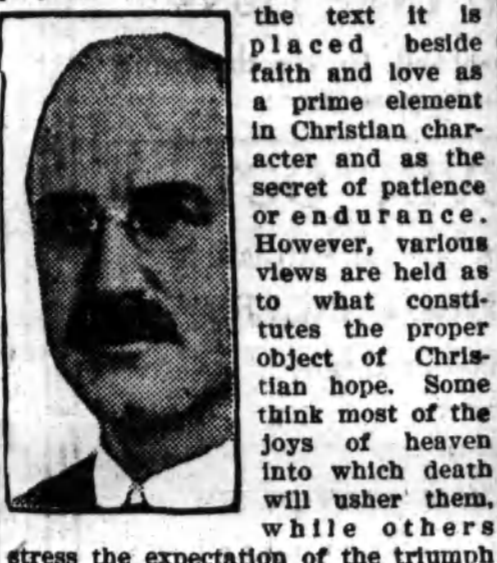

How England Honors Nurses.

Honors paid to Edith Cavell have brought to light the fact that England delights to honor women who give their best to the profession of nursing. The first statue in the country raised to a woman, other than royalty, was that of Dorothy Pattison in Wallisall, as a memorial for her work during the smallpox epidemic in Staffordshire in 1867, while a figure of Florence Nightingale stands in Waterloo place. This statue was, on the day of the homecoming of Edith Cavell's body, profusely decorated with handsome wreaths from an unknown donor.

The Christian Hope

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant Dean, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT: Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labor of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.—I Thess. 1:3.

Hope occupies a large place in the program of the Christian life. In the text it is placed beside faith and love as a prime element in Christian character and as the secret of patience or endurance. However, various views are held as to what constitutes the proper object of Christian hope. Some think most of the joys of heaven into which death will usher them, while others stress the expectation of the triumph of the gospel, which they believe will suffer in millennial blessedness. Neither of these, we venture to suggest was the distinctive hope of the early church. A competent scholar, Bishop Handley Moule, believes that wherever "hope" is used in the Greek Testament as in this text, it refers to "that blessed hope" of Christ's return. It was for that return the early church was looking, above all things. As the tenth verse of I Thessalonians 1 asserts, the Thessalonians turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God "and to wait for his Son from heaven." Prof. James Denney, a well-known scholar, says the second coming "was the great object of Christian hope. Christians not only believed Christ would come again; they not only expected him to come; they were eager for his coming. 'How long, O Lord?' they cried in their distress. 'Come Lord Jesus, come quickly,' was their prayer." He adds pertinently: "It is matter of notoriety that hope in this sense does not hold its ancient place in the heart of the church." Great loss has accrued because of the eclipse of the expectation of Christ's return. It was an incentive to Christian service, for at the coming of Christ believers expected to receive their reward. I Thessalonians 2:19-20 reads: "For what is our hope or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming? For ye are our glory and joy." "The crown of rejoicing" is the soul winner's chaplet of laurel, to be bestowed by the King when he appears. Other crowns are spoken of in scripture and will be awarded on that day; among them the "incorruptible crown," the "crown of life," the "crown of righteousness" and the "crown of glory." Christians do not "go" to their reward at death, but it comes with the coming of the Lord. He says: "Behold, I come quickly, and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be." (Rev. 22:12.) Christ's coming was an incentive to holiness in the early church. I Thessalonians 3:12-13 reads: "And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you: to the end he may establish your hearts unblemished in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints." He is praying for a love that will be expressed in holiness, and that they may be confirmed unblemished in holiness, not only now, but at the coming of the Lord. What a day of manifestation that will be—before God our Father, in the presence of the Lord Jesus, before all the saints! Is it not clear that a man in whose heart the hope of Christ's coming is a living power, will purify himself even as Christ is pure (I John 3:2-3)? The following words of Dr. Robert E. Speer suggest the practical value of this hope: "I want to speak this word to the man who would be free from unclean personal sin: The next time the temptation comes, fix your mind on the hope of his coming. No man can easily do an unclean and unholy thing expecting at that moment that Jesus Christ might come. Can I cross the threshold of the questionable place? Can I read the questionable book? Can I be found with that questionable story on my lips? Can I be caught on the verge of that sin if I am expecting that at that very moment Jesus Christ may come?" The Lord's coming brought comfort to the early Christians when their loved ones fell asleep. Our space permits us only to quote I Thessalonians 5:13-18, but no comment is needed: "But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope. For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him. For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent (precede) them which are asleep. For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first."

"S. O. S." CALL FOR DENTIST

Residents of Alaskan Island Need Services of Man Skilled with Drills and Forceps.

Is any dentist hunting for a location? Here's one. It is on Afognak, an island lying east of the entrance of Cook's inlet, on the Alaskan coast. While the icebergs float around occasionally and bump one another in the sea like giant monsters in a game of water polo, yet it is comparatively warm up there now, as the summer is coming on with its flowers and mosquitoes. But whether an Arctic winter or a brief summer is on, people will have the toothache up there near the Arctic circle the same as do the sweltering residents these days along the thirty-sixth parallel of latitude.

Miss Virginia Clark, an accomplished young woman who was born and reared on the island of Afognak, and is now teaching the youth of her native land and village, sends out this cry for a dentist. The information is given in a bulletin of the Alaska Bureau of Publicity: "A dentist located here would have a snap," is the only information given by Miss Clark. She gives no clew as to the financial standing of the patients, but the lucky dentist could not doubt fight off the H. C. L. nightmare by doing a piece of dental work for an Eskimo and taking his pay in walrus meat. Miss Clark does say that potatoes and garden truck thrive there, the fishing is good, and there are plenty of clams and wild ducks. Copper also is found in paying quantities, and placer gold mining is being successfully carried on along the beaches.

The first week that Representative Venable of Mississippi was in congress a couple of years ago he made a hundred-and-fifty-word speech about a dog he used to own, and he still is getting letters telling him what a fine speech it was. The speech was a plea for preparedness, in which he pointed out that little dogs always are in hot water, but that mastiffs have only a minimum of difficulties and can enjoy afternoon stunts and such.

ADVERTISES ITS OWN WARES

Knowitall Family Shrinks From No Publicity in Pointing Out Markets to Be Patronized.

The Knowitall family is increasing here. Members of this large and important branch of the human family seem to have decided that there is no place in the world quite so fine as the national capital, judging from the large number of these busybody folk to be heard in the streets, offices and other places.

You will know a Knowitall whenever you hear him or her. It will be a mild-mannered little man discussing at great length and in a loud voice—always loud—the proper solution of the question of world peace. It will be a very young man who understands tactics, logistics and all the other branches of the military art from A to Z, and who does not hesitate to offer free advice—at several thousand miles distance—to General Foch, General Pershing et al. It will be a young woman who is quite sure—in fact, doubt never enters her head—that she is eminently qualified to speak—and, of course, loudly—upon all points of domestic economy. She gives mother and grandmother pointers on how to cook and sew and sweep, and knows all the best methods for taking care of babies. It will be—but what is the use? All that is possible is to mention a few, and listen to the others.—Washington Star.

Sandbag Exercises.

New exercises for home and gymnasium use, which can be employed in place of either dumbbells or Indian clubs, consist of long, slender sandbags of any desired weight, which are made of durable fabric and provided with rope handles at either end. On the sides of the webbing are loops into which the feet can be inserted for leg exercises. Besides serving the purpose of several types of exercisers, it is pointed out that the sandbags are preferable to Indian clubs and dumbbells in that they can be used continuously.

WHAT WAS THERE TO SAY?

Simple Prank of Fate That Caused Embarrassment Surely Hard Thing to Explain Away.

The minister of a certain small town Indiana church recently held a number of meetings for his young men members, in which he warned them against being frivolous in the choice of wives, etc. "Modest young women should always be chosen," he quoted and then delivered a heavy tirade against the prevailing short skirts and silk stockings.

Several of the young girls were rather indignant and avoided the minister for a time. But one day as he was coming home from shopping for his wife he met two who at first were rather cold, but as the conversation progressed became distinctly amused, and finally departed giggling. The younger one fired this final retort: "I'm glad you changed your mind on some things, Reverend T.—"

The minister wondered on that last speech all the way home. Then he repeated it to his wife. She looked at him closely and then burst out laughing. "No wonder," she exclaimed, and held up for him to see the magazine he was carrying. Some way, in packing his bundles together he had turned it inside out and there, facing the young women, had been an advertisement of very fancy rose-colored silk stockings on a very beautiful model.—Indianapolis News.

University to Teach Business Methods.

Four new professorships are to be established at Edinburgh university, I. e., zoology, forestry, psychiatry (mental diseases), and accounting and business methods. The salaries in the first-named two have been fixed at $5,000 and in the other two at $3,500. The sum of $75,000 has been raised by a number of citizens in Edinburgh and Leith (Scotland), to endow the chair of accounting and business methods. It is also understood that funds for a lectureship in another branch of commerce are about to be provided by the same subscribers.—Trade Commission at S. Brock, London.

If Influenza Returns.

Will there be another visitation of influenza? writes Col. George A. Soper of the Sanitary Corps, U. S. A., in Science. Nobody can positively answer this question. Influenza commonly sweeps in more than one wave over a country. America experienced an unmistakable, but mild, wave before the great one of September and October of last year and since then there have been local disturbances corresponding to fresh outbreaks in many places. In England a new and alarming prevalence has been reported. It would not be surprising if there be another epidemic in the United States.

The writer's idea of the most essential things to remember are embodied in the following twelve condensed rules which were prepared last year, recommended by the Surgeon-General of the Army and published by order of the Secretary of War to be given all possible publicity:

1. Avoid needless crowding—influenza is a crowd disease.
2. Smother your coughs and sneezes—others do not want the germs which you would throw away.
3. Your nose, not your mouth, was made to breathe through—get the habit.
4. Remember the three C's—clean mouth, clean skin and clean clothes.
5. Try to keep cool when you walk, and warm when you ride or sleep.
6. Open the windows—always at home at night; at the office when practicable.
7. Food will win the war if you give it a chance—help by choosing and chewing it well.
8. Your fate may be in your own hands—wash them before eating.
9. Don't let the waste products of digestion accumulate—drink a glass or two of water on getting up.
10. Don't use a napkin, towel, spoon, fork, glass or cup which has been used by another and not washed.
11. Avoid tight clothes, tight shoes, tight gloves—seek to make nature your ally, not your prisoner.
12. When the air is pure breathe all of it you can—breathe deeply.

Theater Attractions.

America's oldest and best play "The Old Homestead," will be the attraction at the Auditorium Saturday next, Sept. 27, matinee and night. It will be a brand new production with all the famous features including the wonderful double quartet, the Swanzy Band, the Salvation Army, the Grace Church choir, and the old-fashioned country dance. William Lawrence will be seen in the role of "Uncle Josh" a part which he has played 2800 times. This is the 33rd annual tour of the "Old Homestead" and it is still the biggest drawing attraction in all cities. Special prices have been made for both the matinee and night. School children will be admitted to the matinee for a special low price, giving all the children an opportunity to see this great American classic. The sale of seats now open. Phone 2345 M.

Monday, Sept. 29, the attraction at the Auditorium will be the big New York success "Gloriana." This is known as the Rainbow Division of musical comedies. It is brimful of catchy tunes, pretty girls and clever principals. Although it is a Broadway production there will be no advance in the regular Auditorium prices. The sale of seats will open at the Auditorium Friday, Sept. 26.

Genoa Presbyterian Church Notes.

The pulpit will be occupied next Sunday by Rev. W. B. Brock, who has been supplying for the past three months. Mr. Brock will take as his theme, "The Sense of Need," a spiritual lesson drawn from the failure of America's aircraft program during the war. Those who have regularly heard Mr. Brock, appreciate the unusually fine sermons which this talented preacher has been giving us, and will not want to miss hearing him next Sunday. Sunday school at the usual hour. It is about time for "Rally Day" in our school and it is hoped that the classes will begin now to increase in numbers. Young people's meeting at 6:30. All are invited.

FIRST AID COURSE TO HELP PREVENT 'WASTAGE' OF LIFE

Red Cross Plans Instruction for Industrial Establishments and Schools in America.

The First Aid Division of the American Red Cross is mapping out plans to advance proficiency in accident prevention among industrial workers and among the public at large, according to an announcement made by Ethan Allen, Manager of the Atlantic Division.

It is the hope of the Red Cross that ultimately every man, woman and child in the country will be trained in the administration of standard first aid methods. There is particular need of immediate training in this respect in industrial plants and schools, and an especially good field for this work is afforded in the great industrial centers and factory towns in the territory of the Atlantic Division of the Red Cross.

In the very recent past there were hundreds of deaths annually as the result of inattention during the first few minutes immediately following accidents in factories, mines and other industrial centers. Several of the States, recognizing this condition, have lately enacted laws providing for First Aid training in big plants, and almost weekly greater and greater numbers of establishments are voluntarily taking up the work in States where it is not compulsory by law.

Based on Modern Surgery.

The Red Cross First Aid instruction imparts the necessary knowledge to care for sudden injuries by means of lectures and practical demonstrations based on the latest findings of modern surgery, augmented by common sense. In such knowledge lies a material conservation of the industrial power of the nation, to say nothing of the humanitarian advantage.

The value of First Aid is so apparent as to need no explanation. The life of a child may often be saved by the intelligent application of simple relief methods that cannot be delayed except with fatal consequences until a doctor is summoned. Many a workman meets with a serious accident and dies on his way to a hospital who might have recovered had there been an application of First Aid in the few minutes immediately following his injury.

It has also been proved that efficient First Aid treatment shortens the time lost by disabled workmen. Hospital records have shown that patients who have received First Aid treatment at the scene of their injuries are invariably in better condition upon entering the hospital than those who have not and are discharged sooner. This has been confirmed by railroads, by mining and lumber industries and other large concerns where the employees are especially liable to accident.

There is apparent also a need for such instruction and training in schools. At a formative period of their lives children and young persons learn First Aid efficiency even more quickly than adults.

MAINED CZECH SOLDIERS OUTFITTED WITH LIMBS

One hundred Czech-Slovak veterans, the first crippled victims of the campaign against the Russian Bolshevik armies to reach New York city, sailed for Europe after being fitted for the return to their homeland as erect, walking, whole-limbed men through the Bureau of Military Relief of the Atlantic Division. To rehabilitate these fighters an appropriation of $2,500 was made from the Military Relief funds.

To make possible the repair of the artificial limbs after the group of warriors has returned to its native land one of the Czech-Slovaks, Rozny Bazan, whose home is in Prague, was educated in the science of artificial limb construction during his month in New York city.

DECORATED FOR "CONSPICUOUS SERVICE"

MISS JULIA C. STIMSON.

General Pershing has conferred honors on Miss Julia C. Stimson, chief nurse of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, for "exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service," according to word which has been received by the Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross. Similar honors have been conferred upon her brother, Dr. Philip Moen Stimson, also of New York.

Miss Stimson, who recently returned to this country, was formerly head of the American Red Cross Nursing Staff in Europe and served as a delegate from the United States to the International Red Cross Conference in Cannes, France. She is a graduate of Vassar College and of the New York Hospital Training School for Nurses.

THIRD CONTINGENT REACHES SIBERIA FOR RELIEF WORK

Vladivostok, Siberia (By Mail).—Atlantic, Northern and Northwestern Divisions of the American Red Cross are represented in a group of Red Cross workers who have just arrived here and are being sent to various stations from Vladivostok to Omsk, nearly 4,000 miles.

This group is the third of a series made up of doctors, nurses, civilian relief workers, warehouse men, army camp service men and others, enrolled through Washington in response to a call from Siberia for additional help for the American Red Cross men and women who have been "carrying on" through the winter and spring. Cities as far apart as New York and Portland, Ore., have sent their representatives. A considerable group is from Seattle.

Ten of the group of twenty-two who sailed from Seattle on April 24 are now on their way to Omsk, capital of the present Siberian government. Omsk is the western headquarters of the Siberian Commission of the American Red Cross, and from this headquarters there will be a further distribution of workers. Two days after its arrival at Vladivostok the group boarded a Red Cross relief train headed for the west, which now is the scene of greatest Red Cross activity.

Hospital and camp service work are rapidly expanding in the vast territory covered by the Red Cross Siberian Commission. The commission still needs more doctors and nurses than have reached here to date. The distribution of American troops along the line of the Trans-Siberian railway almost to Lake Balkal, which is half across Siberia, expands the camp service, which heretofore has been concentrated around Vladivostok and at Habarovsk, to the north.

Red Cross Relief Workers in Siberia

The American Red Cross still has field workers in Siberia relieving distress and suffering among the non-Bolshevik population. A hospital train, known as the "White Train of Mercy," and which includes sterilizing, operating and bathing cars, is being operated by American Red Cross personnel over a large stretch of territory in Siberia.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but above all, the power of getting out of one's self, and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another.—Thomas Hughes.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

A nice way to use left-over chicken is to serve it on your table as

Chicken Hollandaise. — Cook two tablespoonfuls of butter and one teaspoonful of finely chopped onion five minutes, add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and add gradually one cupful of chicken stock. Bring to the boiling point and add one teaspoonful of lemon juice, one-half-teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of paprika, and one and one-third cupfuls of cold cooked chicken, when well heated add the yolk of one egg slightly beaten, and cook one minute.

Bread and Butter Pudding.—Cut stale loaf in half-inch slices and spread each slice generously with butter and arrange in a pudding dish, buttered side down. Beat three eggs slightly, add one-half cupful of sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and one quart of milk; strain, and pour over the bread; let stand 30 minutes. Bake one hour in a slow oven, covering the first half hour of baking. Serve with hard sauce.

Hominy, Southern Style.—Mix one cupful of boiling water with a teaspoonful of salt and add gradually while stirring constantly three-fourths cupful of fine hominy. Bring to boiling point and let boil two minutes. Then cook in double boiler until water is absorbed. Add one cupful of milk, stirring thoroughly, and cook one hour. Remove from the heat and add one-fourth cupful of butter, one tablespoonful of sugar, one egg slightly beaten and one cupful of milk. Turn into a buttered dish and bake in a slow oven one hour.

Caraway Seed Cookies.—Cream one cupful of shortening and add gradually one cupful of sugar. Add one egg, beaten well, and continue beating; then add one-fourth of a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of milk, a half teaspoonful salt, two cupfuls of flour and one tablespoonful of caraway seeds. Toss on a floured board and roll out very thin. Bake in a moderate oven.

That best portion of a good man's life, His little nameless unremembered acts of kindness and of love. —Wordsworth.

Simple Inexpensive Dishes.

The chief business of the house mother is to see that her family is well nourished and happy.

A most tasty salad may often be prepared with but a few small bits of fruit. Cut up one banana, add a diced apple, a handful of dates or raisins and a few sections of orange or grape fruit and serve with Huntington Dressing.—Beat two eggs very light and add gradually, heating constantly, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Cool, add one cup of heavy cream beaten stiff, one-fourth of a cup of powdered sugar, one-half teaspoonful of celery salt, one-half teaspoonful of vanilla, a few drops of onion juice and a dash of paprika.

Carlton Salad.—Separate French endive, wash and drain, then chill. Cut cold cooked beets in quarter-inch slices and slice in rings or fancy shapes. Arrange on crisp lettuce leaves, putting the endive in the best rings. Serve with French dressing to which has been added three tablespoonfuls of chopped walnut meats.

Oats Bread.—Add two cupfuls of boiling water to one cupful of rolled oats and let stand one hour; add one-half cup of molasses, one-half tablespoonful of salt, one-half yeast cake dissolved in one-half cupful of lukewarm water and four and three-fourths cupfuls of flour; let rise, beat thoroughly, turn into buttered bread pans, let rise again and bake.

Chocolate Bread Pudding.—Add one cupful of soft bread crumbs, one and one-half squares of grated chocolate, one cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of cold milk. Cook twelve minutes in a double boiler. Beat the yolks of three eggs, add one-half cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter and a dash of salt. Stir into the hot mixture and cook until thick. Turn into a pudding dish and bake twenty minutes. Cool, cover with a meringue and bake eight minutes.

Federal Court.

A term of Federal court will be opened in Auburn, Tuesday, Oct. 7, with Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand of New York City presiding. The following jurors from this vicinity were drawn at Utica:

Grand Jurors—Warren H. Cameron of Locke; Charles H. Carr of Union Springs; A. J. Chandler, Albert E. Foster and Thomas Ryan of Moravia; Oscar Hunt of Atwater; Jesse M. Otis of Sherwood and Robert J. Radcliff of Aurora.

Trial Jurors—Gordon Springer of Genoa; James Cotter of Merrifield; William Coulson of Ensenore; Eugene Gale and L. G. Smith of Aurora; Ray Lawrence, John F. O'Connor and Francis Ward of Moravia; Charles Shurger of Union Springs.

Homespun Yarn.

An open fire place is a family altar where home life centers.

Transplant peonies and iris now. Few other plants give such returns for a little care.

Set berry bushes this fall for home use and for sales of fruit. There is always a good market for good berries.

Plan now for next spring's flowers. Tulips and daffodils are hardy and will bring cheer after winter's snow.

No house should be without a porch. The south side is the best for it. Glassed in it makes a winter sun parlor.

School pupils will do better work if they have at least one warm dish to eat with the lunch they bring from home. Is your school equipped for preparing this warm dish? The cost of such equipment is small.

Campaign for Funds.

Plans rapidly are being completed for the drive that will be conducted from Oct. 6 to 13 in connection with the New York State Interdenominational Sunday School campaign to raise funds to extend religious education work at home and in far-off mission fields.

Division 17, comprising Cayuga, Tompkins and Seneca counties, is going into the campaign with real vigor, R. D. Webb, the educational director, declared. He said that the keenest interest is being shown in the program, and that the assurances of support which have been received from Sunday school and church workers, in addition to business men, carry the brightest prospects of success.

"The interest in better religious education for the children of the State, Nation, and World," Mr. Webb said, "is something that appeals to every person. There are in New York state about a million and a quarter Sunday school pupils. There are about 6300 Sunday schools. About 800,000 children do not attend either Jewish, Catholic or Protestant Sunday schools. The campaign, if successful, will strengthen the community effort of Sunday schools and enable them to reach out more aggressively for the children that ought to be taught such things as the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Sermon on the Mount, and by training the teachers enable them to do their part more effectively."

This community as well as every other in the 17th Division will be asked to do its share in the big campaign. In order to better conduct the work, a division organization has been perfected, with officers assigned to each of the three counties.

W. H. Dean of Auburn, is division chairman; William Clubb of Auburn, division secretary; C. A. Porter of Auburn, division treasurer, with C. C. Avery, Auburn, and Prof. H. S. Jacoby, Ithaca, as members at large.

G. W. Irwin of Auburn, heads the division speakers' bureau; Harry R. Melone, Auburn, the division press bureau, and S. Edgar George, Auburn, the division bureau on literature.

Each county has its own organization also. Dr. G. B. Stewart, Auburn, is chairman for Cayuga county and Rev. C. J. Wood of Weedsport, heads the county speakers' bureau.

Tompkins county has the following staff of officers, all of Ithaca: Charles E. Treman, honorary chairman; Prof. H. S. Jacoby, chairman; M. V. Atwood, press bureau; Dr. J. R. Crawford, speakers' bureau; J. R. Robinson, bureau on literature.

Boosts Local Paper.

The importance and value to the state of the local newspapers were emphasized in one exhibit at the State fair at Syracuse. The persons who visited the exhibit were greeted by a placard reading "Has your editor doubled the subscription price and advertising rate of his paper? If not he needs to." And this declaration was backed up by the statement that during the past four years 125 country newspapers went out of business in New York. Still another card pointed out that "if the folks of the town did half as much for the papers as the editor does for the town, fewer country weeklies would go out of business."

The exhibit was made by the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, which explained on a placard that the college believes the local newspapers are making a real contribution to the life of their towns and may be rapped with the church, the school, and the home and farm bureau as factors in the life of a community.
